When he kissed Mrs. Larry good-by that morning of their eighth anniversary, he said, quite casually, "How about some doughnuts?"

"I'll make some, dear," Mrs. Larry said, and Larry ran off down the steps without kissing her again—and he was going on a trip and wouldn't see her for one whole day.

That started everything wrong. Mrs. Larry brooded over it all day as she worked upon her new overhangings. She went to sleep with it tucked into her pretty head, and thought about it the first thing the next morning. She tried to remember that Larry was a busy man and had a great many things to think of but—he had had thoughts of doughnuts the last thing before leaving her and hadn't kissed her again!

"I suppose he's still thinking of doughnuts," she thought bitterly, as she munched her toast. "Well, I'll make the old things and not disappoint him."

First she went downtown and did her marketing and bought a bright, new cushion for the den and a market basket and a shining biscuit pan, to be sent up at once. She came back and made her house immaculate and then she started the doughnuts. She dropped one into the hot fat and remembered that she had forgotten the shortening. It was a bad moment, but then she remembered that her mother said some people never put shortening in their doughnuts, so she went ahead and fried them all. They came out awfully good, too, she thought.

Then the ice man came in and tracked big pieces of mud on her clean kitchen floor, which had to be cleaned up. Her dessert hardened a little too quickly; she had all those horrid pans to wash; the man came with her things from the store while she was changing her dress; she had to hurry to the door in a kimono. Then her dress, when she did get it on, didn't look right; her hands seemed to be getting rough; Larry hadn't kissed her good-by!

She began to get dinner in a very precarious state of mind, and broke one of her new plates. She put the pieces on the pantry shelf and saw that the beans weren't boiling as they should. Well, she didn't care.

Suddenly she heard Larry's quick step, but she didn't run to meet him, as usual. She stayed where she was, in the pantry, and he came out to find her. His eyes rested upon the broken plate.

"Getting careless, old kid?" he asked, and kissed her. (Gee, it was good to be back again.)

"It slipped, that's all," she said coldly. So he thought more about dishes than about her, did he?

"What have you been doing today?" he asked.

"Oh, the same thing. I bought some things this morning. There's a new pillow in the den." She kept steadily at work. He went in to look at the pillow, then came back. His little wife certainly had good taste.

"How much?" he asked. She told him. "Got stung!" he said. "When's dinner?"

"In about a half-hour," she said. "Everything's slow today."

"Well," he hesitated. She certainly acted as if he was in the way. He decided to take himself off for half an hour. "I guess I'll run over to Bill's and bat a tennis ball around. I'll be back at 6:30." He wanted to kiss her again, but she kept her back squarely towards him, because her eyes were full of nervous tears. So he went off whistling to cover up a rankling disappointment.

At 6:25 he was back and found everything ready. They sat down opposite each other, instead of side by side, but she looked so adorable there that he said nothing. She noticed that he did not seem to notice the distance between them, and put another spoonful of creamy potato viciously upon his plate.

Dinner was rather silent. After he had finished his steak he said: "Well, what have we got coming now?"

She half smiled and brought in the pudding. "It's a little bit hard, I'm afraid," she said.

"Well, be more careful next time," he said playfully, and she went into the pantry and brought in a plate of golden doughnuts.

"Gosh, doughnuts, too," he said, and almost won a half smile. She handed him his dessert and he took a doughnut and began. What a darling she was to remember about the doughnuts!

"How are the doughnuts, Larry?" she asked.

"Pretty rubbery," he answered, intent upon his dessert. He heard a spoon clatter against a plate and looked up, surprised.

Mrs. Larry stood beside her chair, white with wrath. "Larry," she said, calmly and without heat, "I think I hate you! You've found fault with everything I've done for two days and I'm going home to my mother, where I'm appreciated instead of my cooking. Not that you can appreciate anything," she finished witheringly, and left him open-mouthed.

He put down his spoon. He got up and hurried after her. He tried her door. It was locked.

"Dearest," he said.

No answer.

"Darling."

"Go away," came a dry voice. "I don't want to talk to you or see you or anything. I'm packing."

He turned away and sat down dazedly upon a chair in the hall. Mrs. Larry continued to pack. She went to her dressing table and found, among her toilet articles, a box tied in white ribbon. She opened it wonderingly and found a bar-pin that she had so often admired and wanted, with a card inscribed: "From an old married man for his wife on their eighth (week) wedding anniversary."

She stared at it. He had been thinking of her and not of the doughnuts, after all. Oh, how good! She began to cry and Larry heard her sobs. He went to the door.

"Dearest!" he cried.

Sobs.

"Darling!" he said frantically.

"Guh-go away," she said. "I'm puh-packing."

But Larry was feeling pretty bad. He put his whole weight against the door and burst into the room. She was lying huddled upon the bed, holding the jeweler's box. Larry gathered her into his arms and held her very tenderly. His heart tightened when he saw her half-packed bag.

He said all sorts of soothing words until her sobs quieted and she lay quite still.

"Little girl," he said, gently, "Will you forgive me?"

No answer.

"You know I think everything you do is perfect. You know that I think you are the most wonderful—the only—girl in the world, and that I'm thinking of you all the time."

"Even when you talk about doughnuts?" she asked from his shoulder.

He stared down at her. "Even when I talk about doughnuts. Remember that," he said savagely, "and don't tear me to pieces again like this. Will you remember that?"

She promised after some little coaxing. After awhile he said: "Wouldn't you rather stay here than go home to your mother?"

"Oh, Larry, you know I'd rather be with you than anyone else in the world."

So you see it came out all right. They all must have their little quarrels, but just ask anyone if the making-up isn't great!

THANKFUL IT WAS NO WORSE

Negress' Somewhat Peculiar Idea of Reason She Had for Congratulating Herself.

The legal formalities of marriage and divorce are matters of small concern to a certain class of negroes in the South. And sometimes the irregularity of the family relationship is disclosed by the most naively innocent expressions.

In Wilmington, N. C., there was a middle-aged negress employed as cook in a white family. At her earnest solicitation her daughter, about seventeen years of age, had been engaged as a housemaid. One morning last spring the lady of the house overheard the mother scolding her daughter for some neglect of her duties.

"You sho is one no 'count nigger," she said. "Shiftess, dat's what you is; shiftess an' onery. Lazy is what you is, nothin' else but. You is jus' zackly like your pa. I suttinly is glad I didn't marry dat nigger. I never had no use for him nohow."—Los Angeles Times.

Taught by Nature.

The poet, the orator, bred in the woods, whose senses have been nourished by their fair and appeasing changes, year after year, without design and without heed, shall not lose their lesson altogether in the roar of cities or the broil of politics. Long hereafter, amidst agitation and terror in national councils—in the hour of revolution—these solemn images shall reappear in their morning luster, as fit symbols and words of the thoughts which the passing events shall awaken. At the call of a noble sentiment again the woods wave, the pines murmur and the cattle low upon the mountains, as he saw and heard them in his infancy. And with these forms, the spells of persuasion, the keys of power are put into his hands.—Emerson.

Spectacles for Horses.

It appears that among the many odd inventions of a more or less practical nature there are spectacles for horses. The purpose is said to be not to improve the sight, but, by causing the ground in front to appear nearer than it really is, to induce the horse to take high steps. After a training with such spectacles, it is averred, the horse acquires and retains the habit of high stepping. These spectacles, it is said, are largely used in England by lovers of horses of the thoroughbred type.

No Use for Coyote-Dogs.

Wherever you keep dogs in a coyote country away from settlements you get an occasional mixed litter. I've had five such litters come under my observation in California and Arizona. I never saw a coyote-dog in my life that wasn't a pesky nuisance. You can't teach them a thing except by breaking their spirit, and they fight and steal at every opportunity.—Joseph Gray, in Adventure Magazine.

"I Now Feel Fine"

Mrs. P. G. Murdoch, Box 433, Portage la Prairie, Man., writes:

"I was troubled for years with biliousness, constipation, kidney and liver troubles. I tried many different kinds of medicine, but nothing did me much good until I tried Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills. I now feel fine, but am never without these pills in the house. Dr. Chase's Ointment has relieved my husband of piles, from which he used to suffer badly."

ERIN BOY SHOT

Harold Aikins Seriously Injured in Thanksgiving Day Accident.

Another unfortunate shooting accident occurred on Thanksgiving Day, by which Harold Aikins, son of Mr. John Aikins, of the second line, Erin, near the Grand River, narrowly escaped losing his life.

In the forenoon, accompanied by his friend, Archie Sinclair, of Ospringe, and several young men from Guelph, they went down the line to the swamp above number five sideroad, to shoot rabbits. Between one and two o'clock, when the party was in the bush on Mr. Bert McKeown's farm, a rabbit appeared and Sinclair fired at it. Unfortunately Harold Aikins was in line of the shot and received the charge in his neck, face, head and breast. Some of the pellets of shot also penetrated both arms.

Dr. J. A. McNiven was phoned for to Acton, and was on the scene before the victim was taken out from the swamp. The doctor made hurried dressings so that the young man could be removed home, and there made more careful examinations and dressings. A large number of the small shot penetrated the flesh, but no vital parts were seriously affected. Some of the shots went through the cheeks and lips and neck; one drove out a tooth.

Dr. McNiven made a second dressing of the wounds on Tuesday. Unless blood poisoning should set in the young man will make good progress toward recovery.

Naturally his friend, Archie Sinclair, feels very badly over the unfortunate accident. — Acton Free Press.

WHY YOUTHS ARE FIRED

The average boy, jauntily starting on his first job, little realizes that the odds are nine to one against his holding it. Yet such is the fact, according to Mr. A. D. White, statistian for Swift & Co., who presents analysis of the reasons for the fact, not only the fact itself, but his answers.

The reasons are five—and every boy who has a job or expects to have one should check off these five and see which of them apply to himself.

1. Lack of sense of responsibility. He neglects work and lets somebody else do all the worrying.

2. Unwillingness to work hard. He arrives late and leaves early, takes extra time at the lunch hour and wastes his employer's time in social and telephone conversations. He shirks hard and unpleasant tasks.

3. Lack of thoroughness. He is unwilling to master one thing well before going on to another.

4. False notions of salary and promotion. He doesn't realize the truth that the key to promotion is to do more than he is paid to do. Instead, he expects to be paid for more than he does—which would ruin any worker.

5. Lack of principle. This is evidenced by concealment of mistakes, untruthfulness, and constant making of excuses.

The youth who will avoid the errors here indicated will keep his first job until he is asked to take a better one.

A SHELBURNE ARREST

Arrested in Shelburne on Sunday evening last while taking supper at the Royal Hotel, a young man, who refused to divulge his proper name, was taken in charge by Constable Whitehead and lodged in the lock-up. Earlier in the afternoon Constable Whitehead received a telephone message from Barrie from the provincial police giving a description of the man wanted and adding him that in company with a Barrie everyman he was coming to Shelburne. He arrived here shortly before six o'clock and was promptly placed under arrest. About an hour later Barrie police arrived and took the man back to that town. We understand he is charged with issuing worthless cheques on liverymen and garagemen in Utterson, Bracebridge, Orillia and Barrie. Doubtless he would have endeavored to pull off a similar stunt in Shelburne, but his plans came to an abrupt ending.—Free Press.

To have a boy's knife stuck entirely through his arm was the unfortunate experience of Fred Robb, an Owen Sound Collegiate Institute student. The boy, with a classmate, Jack Beer, were fooling about, one with a compass, the other with a large knife. The boys were playing about innocently enough, with the somewhat dangerous playthings. In the fooling one of the boys was jabbed with a compass, while the other boy, Fred Robb, had a knife stuck through his arm.

SOLOMON–KIERNAN

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized Wednesday, the 7th inst., at high noon, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Kiernan, Mansfield, when their eldest daughter, Bessie Viola, became the bride of Mr. John Herman Solomon, second son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Solomon, Rosemont. The bride, who entered the parlor on the arm of her father to the strains of Wyman's wedding bells march, played by T. J. Kiernan, cousin of the bride, was becomingly gowned in white satin trimmed with radium lace and seed pearls, and large tulle veil caught up with her mother's orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses and maiden hair fern. Miss Gladys Kiernan, sister of the bride, who acted as bridesmaid, wore orchid canton crepe with large picture hat. Mr. Wilfrid Solomon, Grand Valley, acted as best man. The groom's gift to the bride was a cabinet of silverware; to the bridesmaid, a sterling silver bar pin; to the best man, engraved gold cuff links, and to the pianist, a gold vest chain. After dinner the bridal couple left for a short honeymoon by motor, the bride travelling in a brown satin crepe dress, trimmed with burnt orange, with hat and coat to match. On their return they will reside on the groom's farm in Essa. Rev. Geo. Extence, of Everett, performed the marriage ceremony.

ZAM-BUK

Beats Any Embrocation In Winter Aches & Pains

Try a Box To-Day!

Whilst Zam-Buk has long been recognised as Canada's most popular remedy in skin troubles, how many know how better it is than any poisonous liniment for relieving the sharp twinges of rheumatism, sciatica or lumbago?

Zam-Buk is equally good for aching backs, stiff joints, sore muscles, cold in the head and chest, or sore throat.

Rubbed well into the affected parts, Zam-Buk's powerful pain-soothing essences soak right into the tissues, banishing soreness, congestion and inflammation. Others prefer to treat their colds so: they rub Zam-Buk between the palms of both hands and then inhale the evaporating medicinal balsams. This does the same good in another way.

Also for COLD SORES 'CHAPS' CHILBLAINS &c.

Here and There

Fifty cars of fish were shipped this season from Lesser Slave Lake to various points in Canada and the United States, the majority going to cities in the Eastern States. These shipments were practically all whitefish, the coarser varieties being disposed of in the local markets.

Showing a record increase over the figures of last year, grain loadings in the Western Provinces since the commencement of the crop year, September 1st, aggregate 82,219 cars, representing 136,958,448 bushels, as against 80,828 cars loaded, or 130,287,194 bushels, from September 1st to October 14th, 1922.

That the future prosperity of the Maritime Provinces, as well as the whole of Canada, depended on the routing of Canadian trade over Canadian railways and through Canadian ports, was the view expressed by Dr. Murray MacLaren, M.P. for St. John, speaking recently in his constituency.

Up to the end of June, 1923, according to E. W. Beatty, President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, the Company had disposed of 18,194,737 acres of agricultural lands, for which an average price of $7.87 per acre was received. During this period the Company had, by direct effort of its own, secured the settlement of over 100,000 farmers in Western Canada.

A splendid hunting year with a late open fall is reported from British Columbia. A world's record Osborn caribou was killed by D. W. Bell, of Williamsport, Pennsylvania. Naval training at the naval bases of Esquimalt or Halifax will be given to R.C.N.V.R. rattings during the winter months.

A CLOSE CALL

Miss McQueen, teacher at Rosedale School, 11th line, Euphrasia, had a narrow escape from serious injury on a recent Friday evening while on her way to visit a sister near Craighurst. When coming near Bolton she prepared to leave the train and when it was yet going at a good rate of speed proceedsd to the platform. She lost her balance on the steps of the coach and fell to the ground, but clear of the tracks. No person saw her fall and she lay there in a semi-conscious condition until the up train came along when the engineer saw her. She was taken to the depot at Bolton and after having revived from the shock was able to proceed to her destination. She is back to her duties in the school with very little ill-effects from her mishap. It was a close shave and Miss McQueen is thankful that the results were not more serious.

The superintendent of a Sunday School was making an appeal for a collection for a shut-in society, and he said: "Can any boy or girl tell me of any shut-in person mentioned in the Bible? Ah! I see several hands raised. That is good. This little boy right in front of me may tell me. Speak up that all will hear you, Johnnie." "Jonah," shrieked Johnnie.

A Farmer Who Gave His Health for His Son

John is a big framed, heavy-handed farmer, with a gentle voice and grey eyes that beam out hopefully at you from behind steel-rimmed spectacles. John wanted his boy to be a doctor, so he worked hard, early and late, cultivating his rocky acres to save the money. He got run down, had two or three attacks of the 'Flu—until he got so weak he couldn't work and after some fainting spells and enforced medical attention he learned the dire news—tuberculosis. If Mrs John had been living probably he would have had better care and better food.

He was received at the Muskoka Hospital for Consumptives and now with skilled medical and nursing attendance, and the wonderful air of Muskoka to bring health to the tired lungs, John is actually getting better, and he is an enthusiastic booster for the Hospital.

He believes he is well enough now, after ten months, to go back to the farm, but on the doctor's "advice" he is staying on to make sure there will be no relapse. There is a lot of lost time to be made up on that farm, but maybe he can still send his boy to college.

Contributions to aid Muskoka Hospital in its work may be sent to Hon. W. A. Charlton, 111 College Street, Toronto.

MEDALS FOR PLAYERS

Cheltenham Community Do Honor to Battling Blue Jays.

Cheltenham has a lacrosse team this year of which they are very proud. While they did not win the championship of the Toronto and Suburban League this year they won the Peel group in a game, uphill fight in which they had to trounce the clever Woodhill team twice to tie up the group. They had a splendid record and the community did not forget it, for on Monday night they had prepared a royal feast for the boys, and in that district when they do a thing they do it right.

The banquet was held in the Beaver Hall and it is estimated that close to three hundred were present. The genial reeve of Chinguacousy and Prsident of the Blue Jays, T. H. Elliott, known better as Tom, was Master of Ceremonies.

There were several appetizing courses on the menu and after the gathering had done ample justice to the numberless delicacies, presentations, speech making, vocal and instrumental numbers were in order. First on the program was the presentation of handsome gold medals to each player on the team. Joseph Dinwiddie was in rare form and he expressed the pleasure of the citizens in the honors achieved by the Blue Jays on the lacrosse field and on the conclusion of his address young ladies presented each player with their medal with name inscribed. Mr. Thomas Foster replied on behalf of the team, thanking the citizens and the committee for the warm support they had given the boys the past season. He also referred to the fine ability of their chieftan, Tom Elliott, who has guided the destiny of the team since it first organized and has always been enthusiastic and active in the interests of the boys. It was Tom's turn to prepare for a surprise for the boys presented him with a handsome pipe case with twin pipes, Mr. Foster taking the initiative in the concluding remarks of his address, and making the presentation. Mr. Elliott, in a brief speech, expressed his appreciation of the gift and the well wishes behind it.

Included in the guests were members of the Brampton Lacrosse Club and on their behalf George Sproule and Wm. Warr thanked the hosts for giving them the opportunity to join with them in celebrating the success of the Blue Jays. Ben Petch, H. J. W. Taylor and Dan Kennedy also spoke. Those who assisted in the program were Campbell's orchestra, Fred Jones, Mrs. Dr. Burns, Claude; Miss Lois Meldrum and Mrs. T. Dodds, Messrs. Dinwiddie and J. A. McDonald.

The hall was gaily decorated with the club's colors, blue and white, which ran in streamers about the hall and the wall over the table accommodating the crowd. Altogether it was a real success and thoroughly enjoyed by a jolly gathering.—Peel Banner.

LASHES AND REFORMATORY

Fred Howard, Aged 17, of St. Vincent, Committed for Serious Offence.

Eighteen months in the Ontario Reformatory with five lashes one month after entry, was the term imposed by Magistrate Creasor, of Owen Sound, on Fred Howard, aged 17, residing in St. Vincent township near Meaford, for an offence against an eight year old child, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Leithby, concession 10, St. Vincent, for whom he was working as a farm laborer.

Howard appeared at Meaford for preliminary hearing, pleading guilty to the charge laid against him. He was remanded for sentence.

Magistrate Creasor, in sentencing Howard, said he did not want to send the boy to Kingston because there might be other circumstances in the case of which the court was ignorant. "I must impress upon him the seriousness of the offence," he declared.

Crown Attorney Dyer made a strong plea that Howard be sent to some institution other than the penitentiary. "It is not the intention of the law to manufactuure criminals," he said. "I am afraid if we send this boy, at the impressionable age of 17, to Kingston to herd with criminals and the offscouring of the country, it will be in effect manufacturing criminals. If this were a hardened case and the boy was older, I would urge you to send him for a long term to Kingston penitentiary."

Continuing, he said, "I regret we haven't facilities right at hand for some corporal punishment. I think it would appeal to the young man in question. If he were sent to the Reformatory for Ontario and given a whipping, it seems to me the ends of justice would be better met than to send him to Kingston."

MONO MILLS

The monthly meeting of the Anglican Women's Auxiliary was held at the home of Mrs. Wilson G. Duke on Thursday afternoon, November 15th. A number of the members were present and also some ex-members from Orangeville in the persons of Mrs. W. J. Mills, Miss Ethel Allen and Mrs. T. J. Henry. After the business part of the meeting had been concluded, a letter was read from Rev. Blevin Atkinson, of Baffin Land, also a Paper on "Friendship" by Mrs. S. J. Patterson. Following this, Mrs. W.J. Mills, who had been President of this Auxiliary for about twenty years, presented Mrs. S. J. Patterson with a Life Member's Certificate and a Pin for faithful service in the W. A. Mrs. Patterson expressed her sincere appreciation of the great honour that had been conferred on her. A social half hour was spent and then refreshments were served.

THE MAPLES

The annual social evening of The Maples Women's Institute was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Reid on Thursday evening, November 15th. A short programme was given, including Community Singing. A report of the year's work was given by the Secretary, Miss F. Bramble. The programme also included a solo by Miss C. G. Simpson, instrumental music by Miss Berniece Simpson, and a duet by Mrs. J. Menary and Mrs. J. Porterfield. The remainder of the evening was pleasantly spent in games, music and dancing. Lunch was served at midnight. About one hundred and twenty-five were present. A most enjoyable evening was spent by everyone.

CALEDON EAST

Mr and Mrs. John Cowan, of Toronto, are spending a couple of weeks with Mr. and Mrs. R. G. Cowan.

Large congregations attended the services at the three churches on Sunday.

Mrs Thos. Sanderson, of Melancthon, is a visitor at the home of her mother, Mrs. Robt. Hebden.

Mrs. Wm. Hutchinson is still confined to bed, with a lingering illness.

Mrs. John Rawn is at present on the sick list and under the physician's care.

The new community hall is making great progress towards completion.

LAUREL

The W. M. S. of the Laurel Presbyterian Church intend holding a Fowl Supper on the evening of December 4th, from 6 to 8 o'clock. Admission, 50c, and 35c. A program will be provided afterwards.

PIONEER DAYS

Recollections by Dr. Samuel Allison, of Caledon East, Lifelong Resident of the County of Peel.

Served in American Civil War as Surgeon — Father Settled Near Dixie Almost a Century Ago.

No spectator at the recent laying of the corner-stone of a memorial to the soldier dead of Caledon East, had the unique history of Dr. Samuel Allison, who came to the village 61 years ago, fresh from the battlefields of the American Civil War, where he served for two years as a surgeon.

Dr. Allison was born 85 years ago on lot 2, of the second line of Toronto Township, and is therefore a native son of Peel County. His father came from Ireland to the State of New York as a lad of 12, and later came north to the City of Toronto, where he purchased five lots on the waterfront. These he exchanged for land in Toronto Township, near Dixie, where he settled and raised a family of five sons and one daughter, of whom the only survivor is Dr. Allison. The doctor's father was a most successful farmer, before his death acquiring 700 acres of land in that rich township.

His children were all well educated, Dr. Allison choosing medicine as his profession and attending the Toronto School of Medicine. He recalls very clearly the Dean, Dr. Rolfe, Dr. Geikie, who lectured on midwifery, Dr. Canniff, surgery, Dr. Reid, physiology, and Dr. Berryman, materia medica and medical jurisprudence.

Just as clearly as he recalls his student days in Toronto does the good doctor recall his days as a student in Brampton's High School, then the Grammar School, and went to a Mr. Thompson, master in the old "tower" school, the grammar school occupying the lower floor.

With Dr. Allison in the class of that day were Messrs. Patterson, Wright, Stewart and McClelland, all of whom have passed from the earthly sphere of activity. In the upper room of the "tower," John Coyne, afterwards lawyer, and member of Parliament for Peel, was the teacher.

Graduating in medicine in 1862, the lure of war drew Dr. Allison to the United States, and going to Pittsburg, he passed the necessary military examinations in medicine and surgery. His most vivid recollection of the war centre was about the Potomac River. He tended the wounded at Richmond, where boats were kept in waiting to take the disabled soldiers to the hospitals at Philadelphia. It was on the battlefields of New York, Baltimore and Philadelphia the Republic that Dr. Allison acquired his deep knowledge of surgery, which stood him in good stead in the long and arduous practice which he carried on for over 60 years among the hills of Albion and Caledon.

Dr. Allison was stricken with typhoid while on duty, and was taken to the hospital at New York, and while there was nursed and treated by Dr. Strachan, nephew of the late Bishop Strachan. Leaving what he recalls, with a deep introspective sigh, as a "dog's life" in the army, he came north, went first to Tullamore, then to the village of Caledon East, which was to be the scene of activity of one of the busiest lives Peel has ever known. He told The Telegram that on his return trip to Canada he visited his aged grandmother in the State of New York. She was then 103 years of age, very bright and active, and ready with a host of questions about life "across the line."

When Dr. Allison arrived in Caledon East 60 years ago, there was a stone tavern standing at the rear of what is now one of the handsomest brick residences in that part of Peel. In connection with this tavern was a store, which supplied the eight or nine families in the hamlet then without a name, and the farmers pioneering in the surrounding hilly and bush-covered country. On the corner of the sixth line, upon which his farm abuts, the militia drilled every summer. Knox Presbyterian Church, on the opposite corner, was built several years after his arrival in the village. The grain trade from Mono and the northwest side of Simcoe was the impetus which decided the growth of the village, and the same vital spirit keeps the village thriving to-day. The cattle trade has always been good in Caledon East, and now, two and three carloads of cattle, with a large number of horses, are shipped every week.

Dr. Allison began his practice in the midst of the greatest difficulties. The roads were often made through swamp land, and his path on horseback through bush and creek was one of splashing mire. The roads to the north of Peel are always hard to negotiate in winter. In those days they were almost impassable. But the doughty doctor carried on, and although he is justified in again using the words, "a dog's life," to describe what he went through, he never hesitated, summer or winter, to attend the call of sickness or distress. In the early days his practice extended from Bolton, on the east side, to Claude, on the west, and as far north as Tottenham. As the roads were improved he forsook his faithful horse for a buggy and team. "The horses were always good ones," he told The Telegram. "It was safer than trying to get along with one horse, or with a poor team. Sometimes I had to travel in a hurry and I never took risks."

To Dr. Allison, there is nothing spectacular about those sixty years of service to a very large community. He was merely doing what he set out to do, in travelling from one end of this large area to the other, sacrificing rest and pleasure to the interests of an insular section, deprived of easy access to the outside world. But one or two incidents in his long and useful carreer will give the reader some idea of what he undertook for mankind.

One bright day in late summer, he was called to a home, a few miles from the village, where sorrow and consternation reigned. The father, operating the reaper, was not aware that his little daughter had toddled out into the field, where he was to cut grain. He had driven the machine over the child's body, severing her leg. "I could have cut it off with a pair of scissors," declared the doctor. "What did you do?" queried The Telegram. "I just put everything into place, bound up the limb and looked after it. The child recovered completely, is married, and walks as well as ever. Oh, yes, the bone was cut completely through, but that didn't make any difference" A statement which makes one hark back to the battlefields of the Potomac, and to realize what they learned to do for humanity in those war-stricken days.

One morning in early fall, there was a grinding and a shocking and terrible noise from the mountain side, where the C.P.R. train should have been making the descent of the Horshoe in Caledon. Dr. Allison, as coroner, hurried to the scene of the disaster, and with a volunteer corps, rendered first aid until a relief train arrived, and the dead and wounded could be removed to Toronto.

Now, expand these two incidents into the events of sixty years, throw in epidemics, sudden and fatal illnesses, accidents at threshings, in power machines, and one gets some idea of the service rendered to the pioneers of the Caledon East district by this intrepid physician.

Other service was rendered to the community by Dr. Allison, for he served in the township council, when Mitchell, of Alton, was reeve, and Allen, deputy-reeve. When there was talk of getting a line of railway through a district that needed it very badly, Dr. Allison spared neither time effort nor money, and was happily instrumental in getting a grant for what was then known as the Hamilton and Northwestern Railway, running from Hamilton to Collingwood, and which was the means of opening up the country, and developing its resources.

One incident in the doctor's life he recalls with amusement. In a bye-election in Cardwell, a constituency which was afterwards obliterated, he ran as an independent against Hon. Thomas White, who had been made a Cabinet Minister at Ottawa. Clarke Wallace came over from Woodbridge, and W. A. McCulla went up from Brampton to assist Mr. White. Although a Conservative himself, the only support Dr. Allison had was from Jno. Smith and Kenneth Chisholm, of Brampton, both well-known Liberals, and both of whom had represented Peel. He had opportunity to hold only a few meetings, and was defeated. At the next election, William Stubbs, an independent, defeated the son of the Cabinet Minister.

To-day Dr. Allison's chief pleasure is to sit in a sunny corner at his home on the sixth line, and while looking down the road, to look in retrospect down the years, and recall the events that have made history in Peel, to set in places the pieces with which life played her game in the days long gone, and to wander, as in boyhood, up and down the roads and lanes of Toronto Township, where his early days were passed.

His son, Dr. Thomas Allison, is "carrying on" in the place of his father, and there are many to-day who talk fondly of "the old doctor," as they called him, so strong are the ties which the good doctor wove in the long years of the six decades during which he served the people of North Peel.—Toronto Telegram, November 10th.

"That fellow, Jones, is a hard-headed cuss," remarked Brown.

"That so?" asked Smith.

"Yes," replied Brown. "Why, he could read a patent medicine almanac and not have a solitary symptom of some disease."

STOMACH TROUBLE DUE TO THIN BLOOD

It Usually Disappears When the Blood is Made Rich and Red.

Thin blood is one of the most common causes of stomach trouble. It affects the digestion very quickly. The glands that furnish the digestive fluids are diminished in their activity, the stomach muscles are weakened and there is a loss of nerve force. In this state of health nothing will more quickly restore the appetite, digestion and normal nutrition than good rich, red blood.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills act directly on the blood, making it rich and red, and this enriched blood strengthens weak nerves, stimulates tired muscles and awakens to normal activity the glands that supply the digestive fluids. This is shown by an improved appetite, and soon the effect of these blood enriching pills is evident throughout the whole system. You find that what you eat does not distress you, and that you are vigorous instead of irritable and listless. If your appetite is fickle, if you have any of the distressing pains and symptoms of indigestion; you should at once take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and profit by the better condition in which they will put your blood.

These pills are sold by all dealers in medicine, or you can get them by mail, at 50 cents a box, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

HOSPITAL NOTES

The I. O. D. E. wish to thank the Girl Guides and the young girls for doing so well selling poppies on November 12th. The proceeds amounted to $83.29. The cost of the poppies to the G. W. V. A. was $42.25, making a total profit of $41.04.

The Juvenile Play, entitled, "A Night in Fairyland," will be presented in the Opera House on Thursday and Friday nights of this week, Nov. 22nd and 23rd. The plan of the hall is now open at The Banner Office. Children admitted to the first two rows for 25c; reserve seats 50 cents and rush seats 35c.

The Directors of the Lord Dufferin Hospital acknowledge with thanks a cheque from the O. A. L. A. for $791.56, net receipts from the Maitlands-Dufferins lacrosse game played in Toronto on July 18, 1923. This cheque is doubly appreciated at the present time, when the hospital funds are very low after completing the new wing. We tender our sincere thanks to both teams for their kindness and generosity in making this handsome donation.

Return of the Cherniavskys—Some years ago the Cherniavsky Brothers gave a very notable recital here. These distinguished artists will again appear in our Opera House for one night only—Friday, Nov. 30th. The three brothers, Leo, Jan and Mischel, will prove of great interest to the music loving people of this community. Musical critics throughout the world have considered that the Cherniavskys as trio players are without equals. Plan will open at The Banner Office on Monday next. Tickets, 75c and $1; rush seats, 50c.

WINDFALL FOR HOSPITAL

Treasurer Receives Cheque For Net Receipts of the Dufferin-Maitlands Replay Game.

On Saturday last Mrs. C. Dahl, Treasurer of the Lord Dufferin Hospital, received a cheque from the Ontario Amateur Lacrosse Association for $761.56, the net receipts of the replayed senior lacrosse match between the Dufferins and the Maitlands, of Toronto, on July 18th last. At the time of the replay officers and players of the two teams agreed to donate the receipts of the game to some charitable or philanthropic institution. They afterwards came to an agreement to make the Lord Dufferin Hospital here the recipient of their beneficence. This furnishes the explanation for the receipt of Saturday's cheque. The donation speaks volumes for the spirit and sportsmanship of the players and officials of the two Clubs. It is unnecessary to say that the gift is keenly appreciated by the Directors of the Hospital. It has come, too, at a most opportune time, following closely after the completion and furnishing of the new wing at a cost of approximately $30,000. Mrs. Dahl has already forwarded the following letter of acknowledgment and thanks to the two Clubs:—

The directors of Lord Dufferin Hospital acknowledge with thanks a cheque from the O. A. L. A. for $761.56, being net gate receipts from the Maitland and Dufferin replayed game in Toronto on July 18, 1923. This cheque is doubly appreciated at this time, when the Hospital funds are very low after building our new wing. We tender our best thanks to both teams and clubs for the donation.

C. DAHL,
Treasurer Lord Dufferin Hospital.

WHO IS SHE?

The identity of "The Wonderful Heroine," whose amazing life story appeared in the Family Herald and Weekly Star, is causing widespread speculation. Her remarkable achievements under appalling conditions, handicapped more often than aided by her great beauty, most certainly have justified the claim that she was "One woman in ten million."

It is now announced that a beautiful portrait of "The Wonderful Heroine," reproduced in all the colors of the original masterpiece, will be given free to subscribers of the Family Herald and Weekly Star, Montreal, that is, to those who subscribe in time.

SOUVENIR PROGRAMMES

Copies of large souvenir program of Unveiling Ceremony containing a photo of the Memorial, the list of namese engraved thereon, and a complete list of men of Dufferin who enlisted may be had from Mr. C. V. Jeffers or Dr. G.H. Campbell.

ST. MARK'S PARISH GUILD

Will hold a Bazaar in the Opera House on Saturday, Dec. 8th, from 2.30 to 10 p.m. Christmas gifts, fancy and practical, dolls, aprons, candy, and in fact anything that one could wish to buy. Come and have a cup of tea in the Japanese Tea Room. Admission, free

TEETHING TROUBLES

Baby's teething time is a time of worry and anxiety to most mothers. The little ones become cross, peevish; their little stomach becomes deranged and constipation and colic sets in. To make the teething period easy on baby the stomach and bowels must be kept sweet and regular. This can be done by the use of Baby's Own Tablets—the ideal laxative for little ones. The Tablets are a sure relief for all the minor ailments of childhood, such as constipation, colic, indigestion, colds and simple fevers. They always do good—never harm. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers, or by mail, at 25 cents a box, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

MEMORIAL SUBSCRIPTIONS

The Memorial Committee wishes to acknowledge the following subscriptions, which have been handed in since the last list published. There has not yet been sufficient subscribed to meet the cost of the Memorial and any citizens who intend to contribute are asked to do so as soon as possible so that all financial obligations may be met. PERSONAL MENTION

Mr. Wm. Howard, of Toronto, visited his sister, Mrs. Geo. Fleming, over the week-end.

Miss Frances Bowles, of Toronto, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Curry over the week-end.

Mrs. W. J. Gordon, of Hamilton, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Still and other friends in town for a few days.

Mrs. Thos. Scarland, of Woodbridge, visited Laurel, Orangeville and Caledon friends last and this week.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Carson, of Ottawa, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. David Young, Prince of Wales Road.

Miss Hannah Greason, of Laurel, has returned home after spending a few weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Greason, of Cobourg.

Miss Annan, of Toronto, a graduate nurse, and Miss Stella Rutledge, of Honeywood, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Rutledge over the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. McBride, Mr. John Cameron and Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Holmes attended the funeral of the late Mrs. John McBride at Belfountain on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Leader, Hamilton, and Messrs. J. E. and W. L. Stinson, of Toronto, spent Thanksgiving as the guests of their father, Mr. W. J. Stinson, Second St.

Mr. A. McBride, Third Ave., visited his niece, Mrs. Shand, of Toronto, for a few days this week.

Mrs. (Dr.) M. Pindale, A. T. C. M., of Hamilton, was the guest of Miss Norma A. Henry, Camilla, last week.

Mr. Jas. A. Patterson was in Toronto last week spending a few days with his brother, George, who has been critically ill. We are pleased to be able to add that Mr. Patterson is now recovering.

Mr. and Mrs. B. C. Cook returned home on Monday evening from Powassan, where Mr. Cook was a member of a hunting party. Mr. Cook was successful in landing a good sized deer and reports that the wolves and bears are very plentiful in that district.

Mr. and Mrs. S. J. Simmons were in Orangeville on Monday at the unveiling ceremony of that town's fine soldiers' monument. Their only son, Arthur, was one of the Dufferin boys, who gave his life for home and country in the Great War. —Dundalk Herald.

Those in charge are also planning to have Stock-judging for the class in Agriculture on at least three afternoons the first week.

Miss Duncan will demonstrate to the girls' class the preparation of various foods and lessons will be given in laundry and house practice.

—The County Council is in session this week.

ST .ANDREW'S CHURCH

LARGE CONGREGATIONS ATTENDED ANNIVERSARY SERVICES ON SUNDAY.

Rev. A. L. Burch, a Former Pastor, Delivered Impressive Discourses Morning and Evening.

St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church held its annual Anniversary Services on Sunday last. The services attracted splendid congregations, the edifice being crowded to full seating capacity at night. The church had the good fortune to secure the services of Rev. A. L. Burch, of Scarboro, a former pastor, as the special preacher for the day. Mr. Burch, who was accorded a hearty welcome by his many friends in the congregation, was in excellent form, speaking with vigor and eloquence. His addresses were marked by earnestness, clarity of thought and beauty of diction and made a deep impression on all who hear the discourses.

In the morning Mr. Burch spoke from the text, "Deep Calleth Unto Deep," Psl. 42: 7. In his introductory remarks he stated that he desired to emphasize the thought that it is not the noisiest thing in life that carries the greatest weight. We are living in an age when people are in the gravest danger of losing one of the finest arts of humanity—the art of listening. It is the noise, the bustle, the amusements and the glamour of the world that make the strongest appeal to human nature.Too often we are disposed to measure life by the bustle, the speed and the amusements rather than by the more subtle influence of spirit upon spirit. We are inclined to learn by hearing rather than by listening. We hear noises but we only listen to the silences. No one is willing to listen in these hurrying days, but everyone is anxious to give occasion for hearing. The Bible and its blessed truths can only come to us through silence and prayer. The Scriptural injunction, "When thou prayest go into thy closet," could, the speaker thought, be very well expressed in the words, "When you commune go into the forest alone." Nature was a great teacher and interpreter. Some saw in nature only a media of merchandise, a means of setting free and exchanging the wealth of the world. To others Nature offered places of amusement, and of recuperation and restoration to health. To others again nature is a wide open book that reveals to man the need of his soul and leads him out and out until the stretches of eternity dawn upon him. Nature is in reality a revelation of God and a revealer of the great eternal principles that lie back of and around all life. In like manner the Bible, the greatest of all books, now read in nearly six hundred languages, while of great historic and biographical interest and possessing wonderful literary beauty and value, is a revelation of God and the great eternal principles of life, and it is as such that it should be read and studied.

Reverting to nature as a teacher and interpreter of the Divine, the preacher spoke of the wonderful sweet silence of the forest, so rare that it is like new wine. Out there we learned to know that nature's voices were not still, even in the silences. The reason that God does not and cannot speak to some people is that He can never find them alone. It is necessary for us to keep sensitive through the silences if we are to enjoy the possibility of speaking to and communing with God. Noise, bustle and hurrying industry must not be regarded as nonessentials. They are a very necessary part of modern life. Amusements, too, have their legitimate place in life, but the trouble is that business, amusements and everyday concerns are often given so large a place in our lives that little else seems to count or satisfy. The great purpose that God has in humanity is that man shall through life and experience so develope and purify his nature that he will reflect God in very truth. Preaching, Mr. Burch described, as often a noise or babble, at least it was too frequently received as such. Preaching and all public worship failed of its purpose unless those worshipping have some elevation from which they can be gripped and feel the thrill of the divinity of Christ. The great purpose of the Bible is the revelation of God and to the Christian believer the Bible should unfold the vision of God. The Bible is a Book for the soul, a Book with a voice that can be best heard and understood in the silences.

A keenly appreciated feature of the service was the fine work of the church choir in the service of song under the leadership of the choir master, Mr. E. C. Connop. The choir, which numbered about twenty-five voices, was assisted at both services by Mrs. Samuel Howard, soloist in St. Andrew's Church, Kitchener. Mrs. Howard is the possessor of a beautiful voice, and sings with perfect control and without apparent effort. Her numbers were inspiring and were keenly relished. Her numbers in the morning were "Teach Me How to Live" and "How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings," and in the evening, "Repent Ye," and "Callest Thou Me, O Master." The collections for the day, regular and special, amounted to the gratifying sum of $1025.

In the evening Mr. Murch delivered a forceful and impressive discourse from the text, "By faith the walls of Jericho fell down."

Monday night the congregation held an Old-Fashioned Tea Meeting, which was largely attended and gave opportunity for a delightful social time. The ladies of the church served a bountiful supper in a manner that entitles them to the hearty thanks of every other member of the church. Following the supper an excellent musical programme was provided in the body of the church. The numbers included an anthem by the church choir, solos by Mrs. Howard, of Kitchener, a solo by Mr. Malcolm Adam, violin number by Miss Clara Hulse, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. Modeland, of Winnipeg, solos by Mr. W. E. Capps, of Toronto, musical instructor in the Orangeville schools, a quartette by Messrs. Connop, Ellis and Carl and Will Hanley, and a sextette by Messrs. Connop, Ellis, Adam, Hughes and Hanley Bros. Miss Kathleen Fleming, organist of the church, performed the duties of accompanist. The artists were in their best form, the audience, frankly enthusiastic and as a result encores were quite the order of the evening. A pleasant feature of the programme was a short address by Rev. A. L. Burch, who had kindly remained over in order to meet and spend the evening with the people of his former congregation. Rev. F. W. Mahaffy, the pastor, occupied the chair. The evening's proceeds were about $160.

LEGATE—In Lord Dufferin Hospital, on Oct. 31st, 1923, to Mr. and Mrs. Milton Legate, Ballycroy, a daughter (Evelyn Doreen.)

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear wife and mother, Mrs. William Braiden, who departed this life on November 23rd, 1922.

We loved her, yes we loved her,
But Jesus loved her more,
And He has sweetly called her,
To yonder shining shore.

The golden gates were opened,
A gentle voice said, "Come,"
And with farewells unspoken,
She calmly entered home.

HUSBAND and FAMILY.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank the people of Orangeville for their kindness to me on Memorial Day. To the mothers whom I represented and whose dear sons fell on Flanders Fields I would say:—

Work on Canadian womanhood,
Our task is not complete;
Our boys have shed their precious blood,
And shall it be replete;
And shall they sacrifice in vain,
O God, we cry to Thee,
O make us worthy of the boys,
Who died for liberty.

MA AND THE AUTO

(By Edgar Guest.)

Before we take an auto ride, Pa says to Ma: "My dear,
Now just remember I don't need suggestions from the rear.
If you will just be still back there and hold in check your fright,
I'll take you where you want to go and get you back all right.
Remember that my hearing's good and also I'm not blind,
And I can drive this car without suggestions from behind."

Ma promises that she'll keep still,
then off we gaily start,
But soon she notices ahead a pedlar and his cart.
"You'd better toot your horn," says she, "to let him know we're near;
He might turn out!" And Pa replies, "Just shriek at him, my dear."
And then he adds: "Some day, some guy will make a lot of dough
By putting horns on tonneau seats for womenfolks to blow!"

A little farther on Ma cries: "He's signalled for a turn!"
And Pa says: "Did he?" in a tone that's hot enough to burn.
"Oh, there's a boy on roller skates."
cries Ma, "Now do go slow,
I'm sure he doesn't see our car."
And Pa says: "I dunno,
I think I don't need glasses yet, but really it may be
That I am blind and cannot see what's right in front of me."

If Pa should speed the car a bit some rigs to hurry past,
Ma whispers: "Do be careful now, you're driving much too fast."
And all the time she's pointing out the dangers of the street,
And keeps him posted on the roads,
where trolley cars he'll meet.
Last night when we got safely home,
Pa sighed and said: "My dear,
I'm sure we all enjoyed the drive you gave us from the rear!"

Palmerston claims to have ten radio sets installed within her boundaries. Harriston goes a lot better and the local paper says there are upwards of 30 in that town.

THE MAN WHO WINS

The man who wins is the man who does,
The man who makes things hum and buzz,
The man who works and the man who acts,
Who builds on a basis of solid facts;
Who doesn't sit down to mope and dream,
But humps ahead with the force of steam,
Who hasn't the time to fuss and fret,
But gets there every time—you bet.

The man who wins is the man who wears
A smile to cover his burden of cares;
Who knows that the sun will shine
again,
That the clouds will pass and we need the rain,
Who buckles down to a pile of work,
And never gives up and never will shirk
Till the task is done and the toil made sweet,
While the temples throb with the blood's heat.

The man who loses is he who moans
That the way is rough and he dreads
the stones,
Who is looking for something soft
to do,
Where the pay is big and the hours are few,
Who dreams of this and dreams of that,
But never sails in and throws off his hat;
Who fears the feel of a drop of sweat,
And never gets anywhere—you bet.

The man who wins is the man who climbs
The ladder of life to the cheery chimes
Of the bells of labor, the bells of toil,
And isn't afraid that his skin will spoil
If he faces the glare of the shining sun,
And works in the light till his task is done—
A human engine with triple beam
And a hundred and fifty pounds of steam.

PLAINTIFF WON

Suit on Promissory Notes in Tara Division Court.

In Tara Division Court on November 8th there were two cases brought by Daniel Strang, of Allenford, against Robt. Carson, of Amabel Tp., to recover on promissory notes aggregating over $600.00. These cases occupied the attention of the Court for most of the day. This is the third time these cases have been called. When the cases came up last spring, medical evidence was provided to show that the defendant was physically and mentally incapable of conducting his defence. At the summer Court medical evidence was produced alleging that the defendant was sufficiently recovered to conduct his defence and Dr. Laird, of Southampton, was appointed to make an independent examination and report. His report was that the defendant was capable of conducting a defence. The defendant was in Court. He is an old man, seventy years of age, of very dull mentality; the kind of a man who is very easily imposed on. He alleged in his defence that he had never signed the notes but, when he was put in the witness box, it appeared that he had been indebted to the plaintiff and admitted that, on the 24th of May, 1921, the plaintiff and his wife had visited at his home and he did sign something but he did not know what it was. He would not identify his signature on one note, but did on the other. However, the former Manager of the Merchants' Bank at Allenford was called and produced a statement which he had signed and, in that statement, in giving the amount of his indebtedness to the bank, he had stated that he owed Strang $1,000, which was about the amount of the three notes, one of which had been paid. The statement was fatal to the defence. Judgment was given for the plaintiff for the amount claimed in both cases. Both cases were tried together by consent.

TOTAL ECLIPSE OF SUN IN JANUARY

Parties of scientists from all over the world will begin to gather in Western Ontario early in January, 1924, to witness the total eclipse of the sun, which will reach its greatest depth of intensity in this district on January 25th. The sun will begin to be obscured by the moon about 8 in the morning. If the day is clear all Western Ontario will have a unique opportunity of observing one of the most spectacular of recurrent celestial marvels. Darkness will return, stars will shine in the whole of heaven, and all will be bewildered at an event they are unable to understand.

Additional transformers will give Alton Hydro station twice its present power capacity.

Have you heard about Peps? Peps is a scientific preparation put up in pastille form, which provides an entirely new and effective treatment for coughs, colds, chest and throat troubles.

Peps contain certain medicinal ingredients, which, when placed upon the tongue, immediately turn into vapor, and are breathed down the air passages to the lungs. On their journey, they soothe the inflamed and irritated membranes of the bronchial tubes, the delicate walls of the air passages, and finally enter and carry relief and healing to the lungs.

In a word, while no liquid or solid can get to the lungs and air passages, these Peps fumes get there direct, and at once commence healing.

'UR MOTHERS' ALLOWANCE LAWS

(Dr. J. G. Shearer.)

The widowed mother left penniless with small children on her hands for care and support constitutes an all too common type of domestic tragedy and an outlook grave enough to test sorely the bravest woman's heart. Until recent years the only alternatives open to her were to accept charity, which few were willing to accept, or to endeavour to be both breadwinner and mother in one. Some succeeded. Some reached physical, mental or moral shipwreck. Many others fouund their children, necessarily unmothered during the mother's absence at work, getting into bad company, bad habits and becoming violators of the law and candidates for the juvenile court, the industrial school, the reformatory and even for the prison and penitentiary. This is tragedy for the mother and the children. It is also consummate folly for the community, the province and the nation. To provide for a delinquent costs vastly more than to provide for the same child as a dependent properly mothered and cared for.

Hence in recent years various provinces have accepted the view that such children are their wards and should be provided for as such, that the mother is ordinarily the best person to care for these wards and that it pays to relieve the mother of the burdens of breadwinner, setting her free to give all her time to her natural function of mothering these children for the province and for God.

British Columbia, Alberta, Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Ontario, therefore, have enacted Mothers' Allowance laws to provide the necessaries of life—not the luxuries—for these dependent widowed mothers and their dependent children.

There are, at last report, 6,500 mothers and 22,000 children on the beneficiary lists of these provinces at an aggregate cost of $3,000,000 per year. Quebec and the Maritime Provinces have not as yet made similar provision, and dependent widows and children in these provinces in consequence are left to their own resources, to sink or swim.

Those eligible are women left dependent whose husbands are dead or permanently disabled in body or mind. In Saskatchewan widows only, in Ontario deserted wives or any other women deemed by the Superintendent properly included are eligible. The amounts granted vary in different provinces. For example in 1922 the average grant per year per family was:—

In British Columbia, $562.00
In Manitoba 728.00
In Saskatchewan 275.00

We have not the figures for Alberta and Ontario.

In British Columbia, Alberta and Saskatchewan the Act is administered by the Superintendent of Neglected Children, in Ontario and Manitoba by a Commission whose members serve without remuneration.

These marked variations in the laws suggest the desirability of a careful comparative study of these laws and their outworking that might well be undertaken by the Child Welfare Council of Canada or some similarly equipped body.

But there is no room for question as to the wisdom and desirability of such a method of dealing with a very serious social problem. It is worth while from the viewpoint of the children, the mothers and the province or nation. The financial and national loss averted is great. The personal and domestic tragedy averted is incalculable. The young lives saved from wreck and ruin are of inestimable value in the sight of God and men.

ROSEMONT NATIVE HONORED

Judge T. Cumberland, of Brandon, Manitoba, for thirty years county court judge at the Western judicial district, was honored at the fall convocation of Queen's University, Kingston, when his Alma Mater conferred upon him the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws (LL.D.) Born at Rosemont, Dufferin county, Ont., the son of John Cumberland, a pioneer farmer of this county, and a Lieutenant of the Ontario Militia, Judge Cumberland received his education in the Western Grammar School and at Queen's University. He graduated from the University in 1875 with the degree of Bachelor of Arts and was the winner of the Prince of Wales prize last year. In 1877 he went to St. Catharines to the law firm of Miller, Miller & Cox, and in 1881 he was admitted to the bar of Ontario. That same year he went to Manitoba and practiced law in Winnipeg for several years. In 1893 he was appointed county court judge of the western judicial district, which position he still holds. In 1918 he was chairman of the commission for the revision of Manitoba statutes. Moving to Brandon to reside shortly after his appointment to the Bench, Judge Cumberland has been a well-known and highly esteemed resident of that city for many years.

JOHN MORRISON

Another old and respected resident of Shelburne passed to the great beyond on Friday last in the person of John Morrison, at his home, Owen Sound St. Deceased, who was in his 85th year, was born in Longford, Ireland, and came to Canada when a child, settling near Brockville. In the year 1862 he married Sarah Eliza Jelly. He and his partner came to Shelburne 35 years ago. The intervening years were spent by the deceased in the business of shoe repairing, which he relinquished a couple of years ago owing to declining health. Besides his widow he is survied by two sons, William and John, of Toronto; and five daughters, Mrs. W. J. Jelly and Mrs. Wm. E. Reid, Shelburne; Mrs. G. W. Anderson, Bartonville; Miss Addie, Toronto, and Miss Emma, at home. Friends from a distance who attended the funeral on Monday were: Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Jelly, Smith's Falls; C. Elliott, of Mitchell, and Mrs. I. Walker, of Timmins. Interment took place in Shelburne Cemetery, Rev. A. E. Thornley, of Knox Church, officiating at the house and grave.—Free Press.

A brass tablet in the Presbyterian Church at Duntroon, to the memory of those who fell in the late war, was unveiled on Sunday, the 4th.

EX-WARDEN SIMPSON HONORED

Previous to their departure for their new home in Shelburne Ex-Warden and Mrs. T.F. Simpson and Miss Iva Simpson, of Amaranth, were made the recipients of the following addresses, accompanied by gifts. The presentation to Mr. and Mrs. Simpson was made by the members of Campania Union Church and other neighbors, while the presentation to Miss Iva was from the League of the church, and took place on Wednesday evening of last week:

Mr. and Mrs. Simpson,—We, the members of Campania Union Church and a few of your neighbors, have gathered here to-night to bid you and your family good-bye before you leave for your new home and to show in a small way our appreciation of your services during your living among us. You have ever been most willing and ready to do your part in any work that came along. You have at all times proved yourselves the best of neighbors and your smiling faces will be greatly missed by all of us. But we know that you will continue to lead lives of usefulness and service, so that which is our loss will be another's gain. Now we ask you, Mr. and Mrs. Simpson, to accept these chairs, not for their intrinsic value, but for the kindly feeling of appreciation they express. We all join in wishing you and your family every happiness in your new home and hope that you may long be spared to enjoy lives of usefulness.

Signed on behalf of your neighbors and friends—John Ewing, Wm. Graham, Garfield Elgie.

Dear Iva,—We are gathered here this evening feeling that we cannot let this occasion go by without showing in some tangible way our gratitude and appreciation of your past unselfish services and kindnesses. You have always played a willing part in whatever was for the uplift of our young people and we shall miss you from every gathering. You have indeed won our highest esteem but words are inadequate to express our sorrow in having you leave the old circle. Therefore, as a League, we are taking this opportunity to assure you that our hearts go with you, we ask you to accept this clock, not for its intrinsic value, but as a token of our regard. We trust that you will be as successful in gaining the love and respect in your new circle of friends as you have been here.

Signed on behalf of Campania League—Nellie Davis, Flossie Petch.—Free Press.

Buffalo Herds Grow Beyond Accommodation

A Few of the Superfluous Buffalo

TO nearly all Canadians the news that the buffalo, which we have been accustomed to regard as nearly extinct, have recently so increased as to necessitate the slaughter of a herd of 2,000 at the Canadian Buffalo Park, Wainwright, Alberta, will come as a very pleasant surprise. The mere existence of this surplus definitely announces that, though we will never see a large wild herd again, we yet may hope to see the prairies repopulated with numbers of buffalo, and that this magnificent animal, Monarch of the Plains, will be always with us.

The buffalo were in their glory when the construction of the first American transcontinental railroad was begun in 1866. Herds of fifty thousand head were then common on the western plains of this continent as far south as Utah and as far north as Hudson's Bay, and as many as 100,000 robes were marketed annually. So easily were these obtained that whiskey-traders could purchase a robe for one cup of liquor. In 1874 the North-West Mounted Police, on trek for the Rockies, saw several immense herds, notably near the Sweet Grass Hills, when the force marched all day through a herd of 60,000 which blackened the horizon. This romantic scene, so vividly contrasting the wilderness and its denizens with the oncoming representatives of civilization, is surely a fit subject for artists and poets.

The work of destruction, once launched, proceeded so rapidly that by 1880 only vast quantities of buffalo bones and skulls remained to show that the great herds had ever been. The mighty half-breed hunter had fallen to collecting these skulls and bones for the sugar refineries and bone dust factories of the United States. It is worthy of note that the first eastbound freight run by the Canadian Pacific Railway was loaded with such relics.

The present encouraging state of affairs is due to the foresight of the Canadian Government, which, in 1907, purchased a small herd of buffalo in Montana and brought it over the border to form the nucleus of the 6,000 head now at Wainwright. To this wise purchase we owe the fact that the buffalo has not become merely a heraldic beast as extinct as the unicorn or the dodo.

BEFORE MY BABY CAME

I Was Greatly Benefited by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Sydenham, Ont.—"I took your medicine before my baby was born, and it was a great help to me as I was very poorly until I had started to take it. I just felt as though I was tired out all the time and would have weak, faint spells. My nerves would bother me until I could get little rest, night or day. I was told by a friend to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I only took a few bottles and it helped me wonderfully. I would recommend it to any woman. I am doing what I can to recommend this good medicine. I will lend that little book you sent me to any one I can help. You can with the greatest of pleasure use my name in regard to the Vegetable Compound if it will help others take it."—Mrs. HARVEY MILLIGAN, Sydenham, Ont.

It is remarkable how many cases have been reported similar to this one. Many women are poorly at such times and get into a weakened, run-down condition, when it is essential to the mother, as well as the child, that her strength be kept up.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent tonic for the mother at this time. It is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, and does not contain any harmful drugs. It may be taken in safety by the nursing mother.

Inspector Jos. M. White visited the farm of Mr. Ed. Wittman near Chalpstow recently and found him engaged in brewing some beer. As Wittman had no permit for the manufacture of suds, as required by law, a charge was laid against him in court at Walkerton. He pleaded guilty and Magistrate McNab taxed him $50 and costs.

Following an illness of two or three weeks with heart trouble, Thos. Johnston, a respected resident of Dundalk, passed away a week ago Monday night at the home of his brother, James Johnston, Dundalk. The deceased, who was 78 years old, was born in Belmont Township near where the town of Havelock now stands.

LATE ALEXANDER HUSTON

Amaranth lost another of its earlier settlers and a much respected citizen on Sunday morning when Alexander Huston passed to the great beyond. For the past year he has been in rather poor health, particularly after suffering a stroke in the spring, which left him in a rather helpless state. Mr. Huston was a native of Mono, being born at Purple Hill almost 80 years ago, and when a young man learned the wood working trade at Charleston and followed that vocation in Orangeville for some years until he came to Amaranth, first living on the farm now owned by George Gamble. In a short time he moved up to the farm near Bowling Green which has been his home for forty years or more. In 1871 he married Eleanor Dawson, who predeceased him some four years ago. The late Mr. Huston was a man of quiet habits, content with the pleasure and joy of his own house and never sought public office. As long as the Church of England held service at Bowling Green he was regular in attendance and since then has been a consistent supporter and attendant at the Methodist Church. In politics he followed loyally the leadership of the Conservatives. He is survived by the following children; Mrs. John Johnston, of Black's Corners; Alexander, of Amaranth; Mrs. John Whaley and Ernest, at home. The funeral on Tuesday to the Union Cemetery, Grand Valley, was largely attended, a tribute of respect to the departed and his family. —Star & Vidette.

A DUNDALK FIRE

In some unaccountable way fire got started in the unoccupied dwelling over W. J. Russell's grocery on Thursday night. It was fortunate, indeed, that Mr. Russell was in the store at the time—about 8.30—with two or three other men, when they discovered the building to be on fire. On opening a stairway door leading to the rooms above, formerly occupied by the Dalton family, and which still contained household furniture, dense smoke gushed out. The alarm was soon given and citizens were quickly at work with pump and hose. In half an hour the blaze in partition and room was quenched. It was a very anxious time as the volume of smoke was ominous and the situation looked dangerous for a while. But all's well, that ends well. Outside of some hacked up wall and roof and damage from smoke and water, the place is not much the worse and the village is saved from a destructive fire, but we'd advise the Council to see that some longer hose is bought and the pumps in working order.

Besides the Russell building, the Weinert block on the east side and Champ and Union Bank and Ford garage buildings on the west side were within range of the fiery element if it had got well under way. —Duundalk Herald.

An advertisement to men in their "twenties" and "thirties"

$5,000 or $10,000 would come in mighty handy to you to-day, wouldn't it?

Think, then, how much more valuable it will be to you at forty-five or fifty.

Of course, you'll say, I'll have been successful and won't need it then. But stop! You may—and if you do, you'll need it more then than you do to-day.

Your producing years will be waning and $10,000 will mean all the difference between a dependent and an independent old age.

WARDEN'S BANQUET

Large Attendance at Festive Gathering in Queen's on Friday Night.

The popularity of Mr. Archie Vance, the genial Warden of the County of Dufferin, was reflected in the exceptionally large attendance at the Warden's Banquet in the Queen's Hotel on Friday night. Not a seat was vacant at the festive board, which, as specially arranged for the occasion, taxed the seating capacity of the dining room to the limit. The guests included members and a number of former members of the County Council, the county officials, members of the Melancthon township council and a number of representative citizens from different parts of the county. A pleasing innovation was the presence at the banquet of representatives of the Boys' County Council, which was recognized and honored with a place on the toast list. Mr. C. R. Wheelock, treasurer of the county, officiated as toastmaster, performing the duties of that responsible office in his usual gracious and witty manner and thereby contributing in an important measure to the success of the gathering. On Mr. Wheelock's right was seated Mr. R. J. Woods, M. P. for Dufferin, and to his left Dr. G. H. Campbell and Col. J. A. V. Preston. The Warden, who occupied the chair at the other end of the table, was flanked on the right by C. R. McKeown, M.L.A., and ex-Warden Hugh Falconer, of Shelburne, and on the left by Judge Fisher and T. K. Slack, ex-M.L.A.

Mr. S. L. Squire, the new Deputy Minister of Public Highways, had been invited to be the guest of honour for the evening, but unfortunately was not in a position to accept. In his letter to Mr. Wheelock in reply to the invitation Mr. Squire expressed his regret at not being able to meet the good friends of Dufferin at this time, and added, "I appreciate the good time that I am missing and hope that when another Warden's Supper is held, and if you will honour me with an invitation, I may be able to be with you."

The menu provided by Mine Host Savage and his estimable wife was of the usual high order and was keenly relished by the banqueters. That there was no reason for dissatisfaction on the part of the inner man will be evident from a perusal of the menu, which read:

Grapefruit stuffed with grapes
Cream of tomato soup
Olives Celery
Fried halibut steak Saratoga chips
Mixed pickles
Roast domestic goose Apple sauce
Roast spring chicken red currant jelly
Jellied ox tongue en horseradish
Mashed potatoes Green peas
Lettuce and beet salad
Mayonaise dressing
Boston cream and apple pie
Kraft Canadian cheese
Strawberry ice cream
Fancy cakes Season's fruits
Tea Coffee

After ample justice had been done to the formidable array of viands and delicacies served for the delectation of the festive gathering, the covers were removed and the remainder of the evening was spent in the discussion of a toast list, which was happily honored in brief and clever speeches, many of them liberally interlarded with humorous stories, and in listening to excellent music by an instrumental trio, composed of Messrs. Stewart Porter, Douglas Adamson and Crozier Price. Geo. Williams, the local step dancer, also contributed to the gayety by pulling off a couple of dances in finished manner. These were popular numbers and Mr. Williams was rewarded with rounds of the heartiest applause. A sing-song led by the boys proved another popular innovation and gave everybody with the semblance of a "voice" a chance for vocal exercise.

The toast list opened in the customary fashion, Mr. Wheelock calling for a toast to "The King," which the company responded to by rising and singing a verse of the National Anthem with great heartiness. In proposing the health of "The Warden," Mr. Wheelock paid a warm tribute to the ability with which Mr. Vance had discharged the duties of his office. He also spoke of the Warden's geniality, his sterling honesty and his popularity with the members of the council and county officials. Mr. Wheelock also made use of the opportunity to speak briefly of the good roads system, the progress made in roadmaking in recent years and the excellent financial position of the county. Mr. Vance, who was given a rousing reception, culminating in the singing of "He's a Jolly Good Fellow," and "See Him Smiling," spoke with characteristic modesty of his own public achievements and attributed his success entirely to the good-will and co-operation of his confreres, whom he thanked in a hearty manner for the efficiency with which they had carried on the work of the council during the year. He also expressed his grateful thanks to the county officials and particularly to the county treasurer for the invaluable assistance they had given him throughout his term. The Warden, who is a capital story teller, convulsed his audience by the recital of two or three humorous tales, to which he added point by giving them a local application.

"The Parliaments" was ably proposed by Dr. G. H. Campbell. Eloquent responses were made by R.J. Woods, M. P., and C. R. McKeown, M. L. A. In his address Mr. Woods referred to the pending redistribution bill and his efforts to prevent the "carving" of Dufferin County for election purposes. He had strongly and repeatedly urged the Committee to retain Dufferin as a political entity and to bring the population up to the constituency standard by the addition of surrounding municipalities. He thought the plan most favored by the Committee was the addition of part of the adjoining riding of South Simcoe. Mr. McKeown expressed his hearty sympathy with the efforts Mr. Woods had made to preserve the identity of the county and said that was a matter that should have the united action of all citizens of this county regardless of political sympathies or affiliations.

"The County of Dufferin," was aptly proposed by His Honor Judge Fisher, who spoke with convincing effect of the wealth and excellent financial standing of this "right little, tight little" county. The first response was made by Rev. Geo. Kendall, of Dundalk, who proved the champion story teller of the evening. Mr. Kendall's address was refreshingly humorous and was at the same time pointed with some eminently true observations on the essentials to real success, whether in private or public life. As one who had known Warden Vance's parents and grandparents, he was in a position to bear testimony to the sterling worth of the Warden's ancestry. This was, he declared, one of the cases where Elijah's mantle had descended to Elisha. Bright and happy responses were also made by Deputy-Reeve Hammond, of Amaranth, Reeve Dean, of Shelburne, Magistrate Hugh Falconer, ex-Warden John Bryan, T. K. Slack, ex-M.L.A., Reeve Gillespie and Deputy-Reeve Parkinson, of Orangeville Reeve W. H. Hunter, East Garafraxa, and Reeve Jas. Henderson, Mulmur.

Mayor Jeffers, of Orangeville, proposed "The Boys' County Council" in a neatly phrased address, in which he told something of the growth and importance of the movement to inform and interest the boys of Canada in the problems and government of their country. Mr. Stewart Porter, Warden of the Dufferin Boys' County Council, in his response spoke briefly of the aims of the movement, chief of which was the development of the boy along the threefold lines of the Canadian Standard Efficiency Tests.

"The Press" was proposed by A. D. McKitrick, of The Orangeville Banner, and responded to by T. F. E. Claridge, of the Shelburne Economist.

The closing toast, "Our Host and Hostess," was honored with great heartiness and the singing of "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows." In proposing the toast Mr. Wheelock referred not only to the excellence of the "spread," but to the tasteful and pleasing manner in which the dining room had been decorated for the occasion. Mr. Savage responded briefly and in response to the demands of the banquetters Mrs. Savage appeared at the door and briefly expressed her pleasure at having the honour of entertaining such a representative gathering of the men of the county.

Shortly after one o'clock the happy gathering dispersed after singing "God Save the King" in hearty fashion.

COUNTY COUNCIL NOTES

Council held its first sitting on Tuesday afternoon and concluded the business of the session on Friday afternoon.

Communications were few and relatively unimportant. The Clerk of Grey County notified the Council that students from Dufferin County were now admitted to the Owen Sound Collegiate on the same terms as local pupils. A letter from the Deputy Minister of Education set forth the proportion of the Government grant that is distributed among the schools of Dufferin County. W. W. Dunlop, Inspector of Prisons, had a communication before the Council respecting the condition of the walls enclosing the gaol yard. The Inspector thought sometime ago that the walls should be rebuilt, but is satisfied now to have the present walls strengthened by the erection of abutments.

Postmaster G. H. Harshaw addressed the Council relative to the need for enlarging the Orangeville post office. Later the Council agreed to pass a resolution asking the Department of Public Works to make the necessary additions to the building. The resolution was similar in wording and purpose to that passed by the Orangeville town council a short time ago.

A by-law was put through authorizing the purchase of gravel from Arthur Shirley, lot 6, Centre Road, Mono. The purchase price agreed on is ten cents a cubic yard.

A by-law was passed to guarantee $4500 debentures issued by the town of Orangeville to pay for the pavement laid on Broadway a year ago.

Council authorized payment of an account of $860 from the Mothers' Allowance Board.

The Finance Committee recommended that the grant of $10.00 a month to John Hubbard be continued for the present. The Committee recommended that an account of $182.50 from the Alexandra Industrial School be referred to the County Treasurer to investigate and pay if found correct.

The Council decided by unanimous vote to memorialize the House of Commons and Senate to preserve Dufferin intact as a Dominion electoral district. The memorial sets forth that as the County was set apart as a separate and independent municipality in 1881 and named after Lord Dufferin, a distinguished Governor General of Canada, it is desirable that it shall retain its identity as a Dominion electoral district. If however this is found not to be reasonably practicable on account of population or for any other reason, then the Council asks that the County be retained intact and that sections of adjoining counties be added to form an electoral district that shall be known by the name of Dufferin.

Council was interviewed by a committee from the Orangeville Memorial Committee consisting of Col. J. A. V. Preston, Dr. Campbell, Mayor Jeffers and Mr. Alex. Macdonald. As a result of the representations of the delegation, Council agreed to allow the Committee interest on Orangeville's share of the county memorial grant up to Dec. 15th, 1923, and to allow the Shelburne Committee interest on its share up to the date on which the money was paid over by the county. The Council also granted the Orangeville Committee a further sum of $75.00 to help defray the cost of inscribing on the memorial the names of Dufferin County soldiers, who resided outside of the Orangeville district.

Rev. F. W. Mahaffy, Col. Preston and Mr. H. F. Tuck addressed the Council in behalf of the Children's Aid Society. The Council subsequently made the Society a grant of $800.

Mr. C. R. McKeown, M.L.A., was invited to address the Council, but declined to take up the time of the county fathers, stating that he had nothing of practical interest to discuss.

The Committee on Roads and Bridges reported the construction of a ten ft. span concrete bridge opposite lot 30, Mono and Adjala townline, known locally as Agnew's bridge, and of a 22 ft. span concrete bridge, known as Kidd's bridge, opposite lot 23 on the Mulmur and Tossorontio townline. The cost of the former was set forth as $633.18. The Kidd bridge cost $1675.28. The Committee stated in its report that the cost of county boundary bridges this year was $2043.24, which is considerably below the average of former years.

The Special Committee, appointed to act with a similar Committee for the County of Wellington, reported that the Committees had decided that the two counties were not liable for the construction of the Rodgers bridge, East and West Luther townline, as the bridge is built over a municipal drain and was assessed as part of the cost of the drainage improvement.

The County Property Committee recommended the acceptance of tenders for coal supplies as follows:

Milk—J. C. Hirons at 10c per qt.

Meat—Wm. Passmore, flank, 10c.; necks, 10c, and shanks, 5c per lb.

Groceries—J. Kearns & Son, at the following prices: Pepper, 15c per lb.; Japan tea, No.2, 38c, and No.1, 48c per lb.; granulated sugar, 9½c per lb.; cheese, 25c per lb; onions, 4c per lb.; cabbage, 9c per lb; rolled oats, $3.15 per 90 lbs.; butter, 37c per lb.; beans, 5c per lb.; pot barley, 4c per lb.; soap, 6 3-4c; tobacco, 12c per plug; turnips, 15c per bus.; potatoes, 65c per bus.; carrots, 50c per bus.; coal oil, Canadian, 18c, American, 20c per gal.; brooms, 5 string, 40c; brooms, best quality, 75c.

Bread—Jas. Wise, 17c per 3 lb. loaf.

Gordon B. Hayes, of Orangeville, and John E. Matlby, of Laurel, were appointed county auditors. They will receive $30 each for their services.

Warden Vance was granted an honorarium of $150 in recognition of the time spent and services given to the county during the year.

At the closing session on Friday afternoon, the Warden was asked to vacate the chair and Mr. Jas. Henderson, Reeve of Mulmur, was appointed chairman pro tem. It was then moved by Messrs. Noble and Reith that the thanks of the Council be tendered to the retiring Warden for the very efficient manner in which he has conducted the business of the county during the year and for his unvarying kindness and courtesy to the members. The motion was carried unanimously after each of the members had spoken briefly in its support. Council then adjourned sine die.

CAUSE OF BACKACHES

Every muscle in the body needs a supply of rich, red blood in proportion to the work it does. The muscles of the back are under a heavy strain and have but little rest. When the blood is thin they lack nourishment and rebel. The result is a sensation of pain in these muscles.

Many people are frightened into believing that backaches are due to kidney trouble, but the best medical authorities agree that backache is very seldom due to kidney trouble. In fact not more than one backache in a hundred has anything to do with the kidneys. The whole trouble is due to thin or impure blood, and those who are troubled with pains in the back or loins, either frequent or occasional, should look to the condition of the blood. It will be found in most cases that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, by building up the blood and feeding the starved nerves and muscles, will banish the pains and make you feel better in every other way. How much better it is to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for your blood than to give way to unreasonable alarm about your kidneys. If you really suspect your kidneys any doctor can make a test in ten minutes, that will set your fears at rest, or tell you the worst.

All dealers in medicine sell Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, or you can get them by mail, at 50 cents a box, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

INSURANCE LAPSED

Adjala Barn Was Afterwards Destroyed by Fire.

What is Position of Executors of the Estate?

Executors of an estate allow insurance on the property to lapse; the buildings are destroyed by fire; these they proceed to replace. Are they entitled to be allowed for money expended on these buildings?

This is the important question now being adjudicated upon in Surrogate Court here before His Honor Judge Vance. In giving a judgment on this point, new ground will be broken in legal circles in Canada. Information given to the Examiner on the question is to the effect that, while similar points have been raised before, the circumstances surrounding this case are entirely unique in the annals of law in this country and much interest is being taken in the issue.

The case has been before the Surrogate Court upon two occasions, with extensive argument, and has again been adjourned for further argument.

Facts in the case are as follows: Samuel Gamble, in the township of Adjala, who died on Dec. 6, 1917, owned a farm consisting of 230 acres, with large barns and well equipped with horses, cattle, sheep, implements, etc. The property was valued at $14,000, approximately. John May and Hance A. Lyons were appointed executors. There was insurance on the barns when Mr. Gamble died. According to the evidence submitted in the case, it is alleged that the executors neglected to renew the insurance. On Sept. 28, 1922, the fine barns were burned, being a total loss and uninsured. The estate had been left with a life interest to the wife of deceased and the remainder to three children.

The executors are passing accounts before Judge Vance in the Surrogate Court at Barrie. They rebuilt the barns at a cost of $4,000, and the question now arises as to whether the executors are entitled to be allowed for money expended for a new barn.

Those representing the infants and one of the children now of age are claiming gross negligence on the part of the executors in permitting the insurance to lapse.

Incidentally, also, in the estate was the sum of $900 on deposit in a joint account to deceased and his wife. The question arises, "Is the wife entitled to that $900?"

Both are points of law, the outcome of which will be of great interest to members of the legal profession. The case is proceeding, it having been adjourned for further argument.—Barrie Examiner.

ORANGEVILLE PRESBYTERY

The call from the congregation of Flesherton, addressed to Mr. Joseph Harrower, B. A., a graduate of Knox College, has been accepted and the ordination and induction will take place in Chalmers' Church, Flesherton, on the 29th inst. at 1.30 p.m. The moderator of the vacancy, Rev. H. Shannon, will preside, Rev. A.E. Thornley will preach the sermon, Rev. G. W. Rose will address the people and Rev. Geo. Kendall the newly-inducted minister.

At the last regular meeting of the Presbytery on the 13th inst. Mr. Lindsay, Convener of the General Interests Committee, reported that ninety per cent. of the amount subscribed within the bounds of the Presbytery for the Forward Movement has been paid. It is to be hoped that the balance will be paid this fall.

A helpful conference was held in the afternoon and most instructive and interesting Papers were given by Rev. T. Dodds, of Cheltenham, and Dr. Spence, of Claude. Mr. Dodds' subject was, "Professor Ramsay's Contribution to the Book of the Acts," and Dr. Spence's, "The Spirit of Jesus in the Early Church"

Presbytery was pleased to learn that there are at present ten young men from within its bounds studying for the ministry.

SURPRISE FOR BRIDE

An enjoyable evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Wilson, of Elder, recently, when the members of the Relessey Methodist Church and the young people of the neighborhood, to the number of one hundred or upwards, met and pleasantly surprised their daughter, Mrs. Doran, formerly Miss Pearl Wilson, by making her the recipient of a generous shower of pretty and useful articles. The evening was happily spent in dancing and music.

—Do not miss the chance to hear and see "The Old Fashioned Mother" in Laurel Methodist Church on Friday evening, Nov. 30th.

—The Banner has on display some Peewaukee apples, grown on Mr. Geo. Abbott's farm, Blind Line, Mono. The apples have a deep red stripe down one side.

FARMER LOSES BARN

As briefly intimated in last week's Banner, the large bank barn on Frank Tate's farm on the Amaranth-East Luther townline, was mysteriously destroyed by fire between eleven and twelve o'clock on Sunday night, Nov. 18th. Mr. Tate had finished his chores about seven o'clock, leaving the place in good shape, and retired about his usual hour. Some time after eleven he was awakened by the roar of flames, which had by that time enveloped the whole of the upper part of the building. He was successful in getting out two brood sows and a cow and also managed to open the hen house door, freeing the poultry. A team of horses, six head of cattle, fourteen pigs, some implements and the season's crop were destroyed. Mr. Tate carried $2,000 insurance on the building and a further sum of $1700 on the contents. This will not be nearly sufficient to cover the loss.

JAS. F. McDONALD, Reeve.

LAUREL

Rev. A. F. Webster, pastor of Laurel Presbyterian Church, has returned from a very pleasant hunting trip in the north. He was accompanied by Mr. F. Gray.

There was a good attendance from Laurel and vicinity at the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto.

The election for the Boys' Parliament caused a pleasant excitement in our burg on Saturday. We congratulate the winner, Mr. Gordon Adamson, of Orangeville, and feel that this is a good training for the boys.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, Ruth and Jim, and Mrs. Robb, of Norwood, were motor visitors at Edward Richardson's home.

We are hoping that the Weather Man will have something fine for us next Friday, when the Play, "The Old Fashioned Mother," will be presented.

Mrs. Jas. Banks, of Toronto, is visiting her sister, Mrs. R. A. Banks, and other friends in Amaranth.

MAPLE GROVE

The old Wardell farm, comprising 100 acres, on the hill, townline, just west of here, will be offered for sale by auction at Shelburne, on Dec. 1st. This farm has an interesting history and is one of the best farms in the district. The late John Wardell raised his large family of boys and girls on it and built the present buildings years ago.

MELVILLE CROSS

Some of the farmers sold their potatoes this fall at 80 cents per bag, which, by the way, will pay the farmers for raising them, but no more.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sawden spent a few days in Toronto this and last week, taking in the sights at the stock show at the Exhibition Grounds.

Tourists say the Centre road is now good for auto driving between here and Brampton.

CAMILLA

The November W. M. S. meeting was held at the home of Mrs. A. Madill. After the business meeting a splendid programme was given, including a very instructive Paper by Mrs. David McKay, music by the hostess and a lecture by Rev. Wm. Coutts, which was greatly enjoyed by all. The meeting was closed by singing and prayer. After a short business meeting by the members of the Ladies' Aid present a very dainty lunch was served by the hostess.

The debate by the young people and the U. F. O. Club will be held in the church on Friday evening, Nov. 30th.

We are glad to note that Margaret Buchanan is able to walk around again.

Misses Margaret and Janet Moore spent the week-end with Mrs. Alex. Bell.

Mrs. Jennie Stewart is visiting her sister, Mrs. G. Muirhead, in town.

Be carefull, Lillian, it may be a Rambler Rose.

ALTON

Dr. Caldwell's sermons for next Sunday, Dec. 2nd, are "Some of the Glories of Heaven," "Where Heaven is in Space."

Many in and around Alton spent last Sunday in Toronto and were missed in the churches. The Live Stock Fair was the attraction that drew them to the city.

The road builders, who are grading the highway between the two railway crossings, deserve much commendation. They are going to dig a new channel for the Melville branch of the Credit River and build a large cement bridge.

Mrs. (Rev.) T. R. White, of Aurora, gave an excellent missionary address to a goodly number of interested listeners in the Methodist Church last Wednesday evening, Nov. 21st. Following the address all repaired to the basement of the church, where a dainty lunch was served. The many friends of Mrs. White were greatly pleased to see and have her amongst them again. We all trust that she may be prospered in her good work. Mrs. White visited Mrs. McClellan on Wednesday night, returning to Aurora on Thursday morning.

Mrs. E. H. Smith, of Orangeville, visited her sister, Mrs. McClellan, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Cameron attended the Royal Winter Fair, Toronto, last week.

The Senior Women's Institute are arranging a progressive euchre and crokinole party on Friday evening, Nov. 30th, in the Town Hall. As proceeds are for improvement on this building, we hope all who received them will accept the invitation.

Mr. A. C. Tennyson has his general store moved to W. O. Chantler's old stand. In its new coat of paint the store looks quite bright and cheery and invites custom.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb. Storey spent the week-end in Hamilton visiting relatives.

Mr. D. Lindsay, manager of the Sterling Bank here, spent the week-end in Toronto.

The regular monthly visiting day at our Public School has been cancelled for November. The pupils have been busy with examinations and have not been able to prepare the usual program, but a special day is in the making for December.

Mrs. Wm. Dorrington attended the birthday celebration of her grandfather, Mr. Ben. Ward, in Toronto last week. Mr. Ward is well up in the nineties and is still hale and hearty.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Harold Cameron are in Toronto this week.

Amongst those spending the week-end in Toronto were Misses Margaret and Gertrude Sinclair, Mildred and Dorothy Cockerill and Maude Grosskunth.

Mr. Peter Lemon, our oldest resident and highly esteemed in the community, recently celebrated his eighty-second birthday by attending the Royal Winter Fair. Mr. Lemon is remarkably active for this advanced age and we hope his good health may continue.

Mrs. Brinkman and her daughter, Mrs. Will Hilliard, paid a visit to the city last week.

Mr. Wm. Dods attended the Winter Fair.

THOS. ALLINGHAM

Thomas Allingham, an old and well-known resident of Orrwold, in the Decker district of Manitoba, passed away at the home of his son, J. E. Allingham, on Tuesday, Nov. 1st, at the age of 82 years. Death was caused by a general breakdown, due to advanced age. Deceased had been in the enjoyment of his usual health up to October 1st, being quite active considering his age.

The late Mr. Allingham, who was a son of Mr. and Mrs. James Allingham, who settled in Amaranth township about 1851, was born near Kingston, Ont., in 1841. When ten years of age he moved with his parents to lot 16, con. 1, Amaranth. When a young man he settled on a farm near Primrose in Mono township, where, with his family, he farmed for a number of years. About 1882 the family moved back to the old homestead in Amaranth, where the subject of our sketch farmed until the spring of 1899, when on account of ill-health he moved to Manitoba and settled near Orrwold, where, with the exception of a visit to Ontario, he resided until his death.

The late Mr. Allingham was of a cheerful disposition and enjoyed the goodwill of the people of the community. He was an active member of both church and Sunday School, being a regular attendant at church and school while his health permitted. He was the oldest member of the Orrwold Union Church. In politics he supported the Conservative party.

The deceased was a widower, his wife, whose maiden name was Eliza Ann Doherty, having died 38 years ago last February. He is survived by one son, James Edward, on the homestead, and three daughters, Mrs. Lillian Young, of Birtle, Man.; Mrs. J. A. Grant and Mrs. Jennie Ariss, both of Decker, Man. The surviving brothers are Frank, of Marchwell, Sask., and Samuel, of Hamilton, Ont.

The funeral, which was largely attended, was held from his late residence on Saturday afternoon following his death. After a brief service at the house the remains were taken to Isabella Union Church, where service was conducted by Rev. H. C. Harris, the family pastor, and from thence to the Isabella Cemetery, where the service was concluded. The pallbearers were Messrs. John Norton, Jos. Bedford, Wm. Decker, D. D. Ross, John Sulley and E. H. Richards. The floral tributes included a sheaf from the family, a sheaf from Mr. and Mrs. Harry McWhinney, Winnipeg, sheaf from J. L. Allingham, Winnipeg, spray Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Doherty, and a spray Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Doherty.

WALDEMAR

Miss Verna McFadzean and Miss Tena Gamble were the delegates from here to the Women's Institute Convention in Toronto last week.

Mr. Russell Black is busy shipping potatoes from this point almost every day.

Mr. Frank Tate, who was so unfortunate as to lose his barn and the season's crop by fire last week, is having a clearing auction sale of his farm stock, at his farm, the west half lot 3, con. 10, Amaranth, on Monday, Dec. 3rd. This will be a good opportunity for farmers to get a supply of well-bred young stock. Much sympathy is expressed with Mr. Tate in his loss.

Mr. W. Miller, of Fraxa Junction, is busy cutting wood at the corner of King and Queen Sts.

Our retired railroad man, Mr. Wm. Lovell, has shipped in a carload of good hardwood, which he is selling at reasonable prices.

What! Ho! Listen for wedding bells in the village before the end of December, near Trout Creek Farm.

Municipal affairs are quiet here as yet, but we expect to be able to announce the name of a candidate for the township council in our next bulletin of news.

Mr. Wm. Tate has purchased a new Sedan car and is enjoying its luxurious comfort.

"THE REMEDY YOU BREATHE"

MRS. M. L. GLOVER

Former Orangeville Girl Died in Owen Sound on Friday After Illness of Two Years.

The death of Mrs. M. L. Glover occurred early Friday morning after a long illness of two years. The end was not unexpected, hope of recovery having been given up for some time.

Mrs. Glover was formerly Margaret Isobel (Myrtle) Temple, a daughter of the late Joseph Temple, of Orangeville. She was born there 30 years ago, and lived there up to her marriage in 1917. The deceased was a particularly bright young woman, of most attractive personality. Coming to Owen Sound from Orangeville as a bride in 1917, she made many friends here during the following years, after which she removed from here with her husband.

For considerable time Mrs. Glover received treatment in a sanitarium, but when all hope for recovery was given up she returned to Owen Sound, where her husband has been in business as a member of Glover Bros. for the last year.

Mrs. Glover was a Presbyterian in religion and while in Owen Sound was identified with Knox Church.

The Daily Sun-Times joins with the citizens in general in expressing their deepest sympathy with the young husband in his sorrow.—Owen Sound Sun-Times.

A private service was held at the late residence of the departed woman, 846—5th Avenue, west, Owen Sound, on Friday evening. In the absence of her pastor, Rev. P. T. Pilkey, Rev. John Locke, formerly of Orangeville, conducted the service. The remains were taken on Friday morning by train to Fergus and placed in the family plot beside the bodies of her parents. Besides her husband she leaves to mourn three brothers and one sister, namely, Fred, of Toronto; Reuben, of Lomond, Alta.; W. G., of Detroit, and Miss Rilla, of Chicago, Ill.

The pallbearers were her two brothers, Fred and Wm. Temple, two cousins, Leo and J. White, and two brothers-in-law, C. E. Henry and Harry Glover. The floral tributes, which were numerous and beautiful, included a pillow from her husband, a wreath from her uncle, Staff Captain and Mrs. White, of Salt Lake City, Utah; sprays from Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Temple, Miss Rilla Temple, Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Temple, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Temple, Mr. and Mrs. Fraser Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Seaman, Mr. and Mrs. Fleming, Miss Bessie McGill and Miss Alicia Preston, Owen Sound; a spray of roses from Miss Minnie White, Fergus; a spray of roses from Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Henry, Toronto; a sheaf from Mr. and Mrs. W. C. McMillan, Orangeville, and a spray from Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Glover and Mr. Harry Glover, Orangeville.

WILLIAM J. DODDS

Oldtime friends hereabouts learned with a great deal of regret of the death in Toronto General Hospital on Friday morning, November 23rd, of William J. Dodds, onetime general merchant and postmaster in the village of Caledon. Deceased, who was 79 years of age, died from the effects of a stroke that he had sustained two weeks prior to his demise. The late Mr. Dodds was born near Caledon village, where he conducted a store for upwards of twenty-five years. He was a public-spirited man and a keen politician, who always took an active part in Caledon municipal and general politics. Fifteen years ago he retired from active business and moved to Toronto. Deceased was a veteran of the Fenian Raid, having served throughout the campaign as a lieutenant in the 36th Peel Regiment. His wife predeceased him. Surviving are four daughters, Mrs. H. Bailey, Mrs. A. McFarlane, Mrs. T. Milne and Mrs. J. M. McCoy, all of Toronto. The funeral was held from the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. McCoy, 84 Quebec Ave., to Prospect Cemetery, on Monday afternoon.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our darling Emily, Mrs. M. Jenkins, who passed away in Lord Dufferin Hospital, Orangeville, on Nov. 26th, 1918.

Passed beyond all grief and pain,
Death, for thee, was truest gain;
For our loss we must not weep,
Nor our loved one long to keep
From the home of rest and peace,
Where all sin and sorrow cease.

God has saved from weary strife,
In its dawn, this young, fresh life,
Which awaits us now above,
Resting in the Saviour's love,
Jesus, grant that we may meet
There, adoring at thy feet.

Always remembered and sadly missed by Mother, Brother and Sister

NEW METHODS TO WASH YOUR FACE

"Palmolive Fellowship" to Reveal Secrets of Soap at Cornell University.

Chemical authorities in the universities have decided that the people must be taught how to wash their faces and their family linen scientifically.

For the first time in history, a concerted effort to experiment with the detergent actions of soaps will be launched this autumn in the great laboratories of Cornell University, as the result of the announcement of the winner in the first "Palmolive Fellowship," by a group of leading scientists and chemical authorities here to-day.

Paul H. Fall, 5600 Drexel Boulevard, Chicago, has just been awarded the $2,000 fellowship, to be given annually by The Palmolive Company, so that he may devote himself to the purely scientific study of the chemistry, physics and colloid principles affecting soaps. Mr. Fall himself a college professor, has decided to make his experiments at Cornell University, according to an announcement to-day by Prof. Victor Lenher, professor of chemistry at the University of Wisconsin, a members of the distinguished "Palmolive Fellowship" committee.

Prof. Fall will be assisted in his research studies in soap by W. B. Bancroft, professor of chemistry at Cornell. He will attempt to uncover the secrets of soap, new ways to manufacture it so that it may be used with scientific accuracy in cleansing the skin, as well as clothing, woodwork, dishes, etc. This experimenting in the college laboratory will be of great assistance to the entire soap manufacturing industry, according to Professor Lenher.

"Scientists to-day are intensely studying the chemical effects of our daily foods, the clothes and shoes we wear, new ways to get more power out of the gasoline for our automobiles, better ways to make all our daily necessities," said Professor Lenher. "So why has there never been a concerted effort to study soap, too? We expect great things of this scientific project. It may even change the cleaning habits of our nation. But we can say nothing more until after the first year of the Fellowship has ended."

MELANCTHON STATION

Melancthon grain market is again open to purchase the various kinds of grain. Samuel McComb is in charge as usual.

We are pleased to hear that our esteemed pastor of the Gravel Road Church, Rev. Mr. Pogson, is restored to good health again and is able to resume his work at this appointment.

The hunting season is with us again but game is so scarce that it is not worth the powder and shot required to make a noise in the woods.

Mr. Wm. Barrett had a trip to the Queen City.

Real estate is again moving in our midst. Mr. Wm. Mills, we understand, has sold his 50 acres in the village to Samuel McComb. We are also informed that the S. Sawden estate, north of the village, has been sold to a Toronto purchaser, and the James Hammond farm of 200 acres is about to change hands again.

In the death of the late Mrs. Donald McLean, of Orangeville, which was reported in last week's Banner, and whose remains were interred in St. Patrick's Cemetery, Melancthon, another of Melancthon's pioneers has passed away. The deceased and her late husband, Mr. Donald McLean, were very well and favorably known in this entire district, having conducted hotels at different times in Orangeville, Shelburne, Dundalk and Markdale. The deceased lady was, however, a native of this place, having spent her girlhood days on the Back Line, Melancthon, and attended the old log school, at the time taught by Miss Blanchard.

COLDS

What They Are and What To Do For Them.

(Department of Public Health.)

The "common cold" is an inflammation of the mucous membrane, which lines the nose and throat. First there is sneezing and a dry sensation of the nose and throat, also frequently a general physical discomfort. Later there is difficulty in breathing through the nose, and a discharge from the nose, first watery and then purulent.

Colds are caused by germs, and are dangerous. The younger a child, the more dangerous is a cold. The germs, once they gain a foothold in the nose and throat, may spread to any part of the body, particularly the lungs, and set up disease there, such as bronchitis and pneumonia. A cold also weakens the child and makes it more liable to contract some other disease.

These germs come frome someone who has a cold, being passed to another in the secretions of the nose and the throat. The secretions gain entrance to the nose or throat of another individual in such a way as through the spray of a cough or sneeze, or in kissing, or by the use of improperly washed cups and spoons, pencils, in fact anything that comes in contact with the mouth.

Colds are spread in the same manner as measles and many others of the infectious diseases, and here let it be noted that measles, whooping cough, scarlet fever and diphtheria, often start off as apparently simple colds. Here is an added reason for never neglecting a cold—it may be something more serious.

If some of these germs that cause colds get into your body, they are most apt to succeed in causing a cold, if the fighting power of your body, or "resistance," as it is called, has been weakened.

The name "cold" is misleading for while it is true that the body is weakened by exposure to cold and wet, which causes a chilling, as a matter of fact, it is the overheated dry air of our homes and offices in winter time which more often does damage by injuring the delicate mucous membrane lining of the nose and throat, thus giving the germs a chance.

There are other things such as the lack of sufficient sleep, lack of fresh air, improper eating, constipation, all of which must be considered if the body is to be kept in sufficiently good condition to avoid colds.

The germs may be present in the nose and throat for some time without doing harm, but are ever ready to cause trouble if the body resistance is lowered. Adenoids and diseased tonsils are a nest for such germs, and this is one reason why they should be attended to.

Do not pass your cold on to others.

See that the discharges of your nose and throat do not reach others. Always cover your nose and mouth when you cough or sneeze. Keep away from children.

If you do not want your child to have colds:

Do not let anyone with a cold come near your baby or child. Keep up the child's general health with proper food, such as milk; fresh air during play and sleep; regular bathing; lots of sleep.

To protect your baby:

The mother of the young infant must be extremely careful if she herself has a cold. Colds are most dangerous for the infant, for the cold very often spreads down into the lungs, causing pneumonia. Therefore the mother should always wash her hands with soap and water before touching the child or its food. The baby should have his own handkerchief, not share one with its mother.

Do not kiss the baby.

While nursing the baby, be careful as to coughs and sneezes. The mother should wear a mask made of gauze or cheese cloth when nursing her babe.

RURAL SCHOOL TRUSTEES

The school trustees in the rural districts of our provinces have duties and responsibilities, the importance of which they do not always appreciate. There is no public duty more serious than that of directing the education of the children. That is not the popular estimate of the position. Nevertheless it is true. A public school trustee, especially in a rural section, has opportunities for useful service equal to representatives in municipal and other legislative bodies. But to be effective in such a capacity a man must give the best of his mind to his duties. In too many school sections all the work is left to the secretary or chairman of the board. Meetings are not held regularly and the other trustees exercise as much influence as a rubber stamp. A man who is willing to serve in that way is really of no use to the school.

Every member of a rural school board should take a live interest in all that concerns the school. And the whole community can be made to realize the high place the school fills in the lives of their families. There have been rural schools that had teachers so devoted to their task that they have sent out men and women thoroughly equipped to fight their battle in any sphere in which they may find themselves. The way to secure such results is so select the right teacher, and that will be made possible if a reasonable salary is paid. There is no real economy in paring the pay of a teacher too fine. Get a good teacher, and then give her all the encouragement that wide awake and interested trustees can supply. By kindly interest shown in the school, the trustee will find pleasure in his office and the best results will be obtained.

The mental development of children is of the highest importance. When a teacher is found who values her opportunity to render good service in that direction, she is worthy of all the assistance that the trustees can give her. And to find such a teacher is the most important and sometimes the most difficult duty a trustee has to perform. It should be remembered that the child's character is formed largely by the school environment. To make that the most helpful there must be intelligent and sympathetic co-operation between the trustees and teachers. There is also a mental stimulous for a man in devoting himself to such work that adds greatly to his pleasure in life.—Orange Sentinel.

ANNUAL MEETING

Dufferin County U. F. O. and U. F. W. O. Convene in Shelburne.

The annual meeting of the County of Dufferin U.F.O. and U.F.W.O. was held in Shelburne Town Hall, Wednesday afternoon of last week, with County Director Geo. A. Ferris in the chair.

County Secretary G. R. McWhirter read the minutes of the last annual meeting and of the meetings of the Executive during the past year, which, on motion, were confirmed.

Chairman Ferris said farmers would have to stand up for themselves if they wished to get their rights. Mr. Ferris asked any who had any grievances against Mr. Little, the co-operative shipper, to state them and have them cleared up, but no person seemed to have any grievance.

The report of Auditors Neithercut and Shields was read and adopted.

The election of officers resulted in the re-election of all the old officers, as follows: County Director U. F. O., Geo. A. Ferris, Route 4, Shelburne; County Director U. F. W. O., Mrs. M. J. Matthews, Route 1, Melancthon; Secretary - Treasurer, Gilbert R McWhirter, Route 1, Colbeck. Township Directors of U. F. O.—East Luther, G. R. McWhirter East Garafraxa, Malcolm McCormack; Mono, Ed. Small; Melancthon Geo. Hogg; Mulmur, W. Shields; Amaranth, W. J. Farnell. Township Directors of U. F. W. O.—East Luther, Mrs. Fred Bourne; East Garafraxa, Mrs. S. Price; Mono, Mrs. J. A. Marshall; Melancthon, Mrs. Rich. Mills; Mulmur, Mrs. J. A. Hambleton; Amaranth, Miss S. Gracey.

On motion of Jos. Little, seconded by Hugh Bailey, it was decided to have the election of officers in the forenoon at the next annual meeting.

A resolution was introduced and passed asking the Provincial Government to establish a branch of the Provincial Bank in Shelburne.

Mr. McMillan, of Toronto, a Director of the U.F.O. Co-operative Company, gave an address on the co-operative phase of the farm movement. The farmers, he said, had spent too much of their time in the past on production and too little on marketing, and it was time for a change. All other classes were organized for their own benefit, and the farmers should do likewise. Other classes had organized to control prices of what they had to sell, but all the farmers controlled had been their own work. The worst enemies of the farmers were found among themselves.

Mrs. M. J. Matthews, County Director of the U. F. W. O., said citizenship and co-operation were both worthy of thought. We do not think enough of our duties as citizens. As citizens we should pull together. If the hand that rocks the cradle is the hand that rules the world, women should organize. And the woman's organization that suits the town may not suit the country; but the farm women need an organization as much as any class. The home-builder and the mother has the greatest profession therein.

Mr. R. J. Woods, M.P., was convinced that there must be co-operation if marketing conditions are to be bettered. We are told that the farmers should not be in politics, but why should they not be in politics when they represent so large a percentage of the population? No other class has contributed quite so much to make this country what it is, so why should we not help to make its laws?

Chairman Ferris wished to hear from Mr. T. K. Slack, ex-M.P.P., but Mr. Slack preferred to give his time to Mr. R. H. Halbert, M. P.

Mr. Halbert said that as it was getting late he would have little to say. He would be pleased to come back at some later time when there would be time to really talk. In spite of some of the talk that was done by Mr. J. J. Morrison, the farmers could not expect to accomplish anything unless they did get in politics. As has been found out sending deputations to Parliament wouldn't accomplish anything, but sending men to Parliament to represent you will accomplish things. Mr. Halbert had some uncomplimentary things to say about Mr. J. J. Morrison and the Farmers' Sun and hinted that if he were so minded he could tell many things about inside matters at Toronto. He hoped the County of Dufferin would send men to the annual U. F. O. Convention in Toronto in December who would fight some of the things that were being done within the organization. Personally, he was going to make one more effort to save the organization.

Mr. Jos. G. Little gave some figures about the co-operative shipping business in Shelburne.

The proceedings were brought to a close by the singing of the National Anthem.—Economist.

ISAAC BOWERS

Isaac Bowers, who departed this life at his home, west half lot 2, con. 4, E. H. S., Mulmur, on Sunday, Nov. 18th, and whose demise was briefly recorded in our last issue had been a resident of the Violet Hill section all his life. He was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Bowers, early settlers of that section of the township. His father was a surveyor and to him was allotted the task of surveying the present township of Mulmur. Deceased was born on lot 1, con. 4, and continued to reside there until six years ago, when he moved to the adjoining farm, which he had acquired. About 34 years ago he married Mary Halbert, who predeceased him 26 years ago. He leaves one son, Wm. J. Bowers, of Violet Hill; and three daughters, Mrs. Gordon Gallaugher, of Perm; Mrs. Wm. Lloyd, of Honeywood, and Mrs. John Hammond, of Black's Corners. He is also survived by four brothers, James, Josiah and George, of Beeton, and Samuel, of Toronto, and one sister, Mary Jane Bowers, of Mansfield. Deceased was a member of L. O. L. No. 354, Violet Hill, and the funeral, which was held to St. Luke's Cemetery, Rosemont, on Tuesday, Nov. 13th, was conducted under their auspices. Rev. G. L. Gray, of Rosemont, officiated at the house and grave. The pallbearers were Messrs. Robt. Thistle, Samuel Liddy, Jas. Barber, Jos. J. Hand, Robt. Brinkman and Joe. Newton.—Free Press.

SEVEN YEARS OF TORTURE

Headaches and Indigestion Ended By "Fruit-a-tives"

The Marvellous Fruit Medicine

Like thousands and thousands of other sufferers, Mr. Albert Varner of Buckingham, P.Q., tried many remedies and went to doctors and specialists; but nothing did him any good.

Finally a friend advised him to try "Fruit-a-tives"—now he is well. As he says in a letter:

"For seven years, I suffered terribly from Headaches and Indigestion. I had belching gas, bitter stuff would come up in my mouth, often vomiting, and was terribly constipated. I took Fruit-a-tives and this grand fruit medicine made me well".

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. At dealers or sent by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa, Ont.

Here and There

Exports in Canada's inter-Empire trade last month exceeded imports by over $12,000,000. Against imports from 26 countries belonging to the British Empire, amounting to $15,713,000, Canada exported goods amounting to $27,888,000.

Noel Victor Fearnehough, aged seven weeks, son of a farmer of Morrin, Alberta, the youngest child on record to travel alone, left pool, England, in charge of officials of the Canadian Pacific Railway and Steamship Lines throughout the trip.

An experiment in shipping Canadian peaches to England has proven successful. The peaches were packed in small boxes and placed in cold storage, reaching London in fine condition. There is likelihood of an increased demand for Canadian peaches.

Representative of the best sheep and swine blood of Great Britain, 33 animals imported from the Old Country arrived in Regina, Saskatchewan, recently. There were 19 sheep and 16 hogs in the shipment. The animals were bought by the government for farmers in the province.

Canada's highest lookout station has been completed and will be ready for use next year. It is situated on Mount Cartier, near Revelstoke, British Columbia, and is 8,623 feet above sea-level. It will be used for the detection of forest fires and for meteorological and other observances.

The Canadian McIntosh red apple is the champion dessert apple in the British Empire, so judges at the Imperial Fruit Show, which opened in Manchester recently, adjudged. They also decided that Cox orange pippins, from British Columbia, on the whole, are the best of the sixteen exhibits from overseas, and winners, therefore, of the "Daily Mail's" fifty-guinea cup.

What is declared to be a world's record for the transportation of grain has just been achieved by the Canadian Pacific Railway. In one period of 24 hours there were moved from Winnipeg for the head of the lakes 1,776 loaded cars. The best previous record, also held by the Canadian Pacific Railway, was 579 cars, moved east on October 25th, 1921.

One thousand young buffalo will be taken from the Dominion park at Wainwright, Alberta, and turned loose in the north in the region in which wood buffalo are found, Hon. Charles Stewart, Minister of the Interior, announces. This will prevent the slaughter of these animals made necessary by the increasing size of the Wainwright herd.

A dispatch from London says that the gold medal of the British Dairy Farmers' Association has been awarded to the Government of Ontario for its collection of dairy produce, including bacon, dead poultry and eggs, at the Dairy Show held there recently. First prize in the colonial farming section, namely the silver medal was won by the Ontario Beekeepers' Association of Guelph, and the bronze medal was awarded to H. Leclere, of Montmagny, Quebec.

Details have just been announced concerning the "Aorangi," the new motor ship that is being built by the Union Steamship Company of New Zealand. The motorship is under construction at the Clyde yards of the Fairfield Shipbuilding Company and when completed will be the largest motorship in the world, having a displacement of 20,000 tons. On the Pacific she will be exceeded in size only by the "Empress of Canada" and the "Empress of Australia," of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, which is her agent.

All grain shipment records for the prairie provinces have been shattered during the past two months. Since the commencement of the crop year, September 1st, loadings totalled 221,556 cars, representing 169,053,035 bushels, against 158,795,320 bushels handled in the same period last year. Of this quantity the Canadian Pacific loaded 68,469 cars, representing 100,807,085 bushels, against 91,071,320 bushels during the 1922 period.

Is Smoking Injurious?

Authors Find Practice Helpful to Meditation

There is an old rhyme beginning

"Tobacco is a filthy weed;
(I like it.)"

And it comes to mind when reading a book by Prof. M. V. O'Shea on "Tobacco and Mental Efficiency," published by the McMillan Company. It is the fruit of the investigations of an American Committee to Study the Tobacco Problem which was organized in 1918. Speaking generally, the book is hostile to tobacco, but that does not rob it of interest. That there is a tobacco problem, however, is an assumption that will not be universally concurred in. The fact that the per capita consumption increased in the past sixty years from 1.8 pounds to 7 pounds does not constitute a problem. It may seem a problem to those who regard the use of tobacco as an immoral act, and there are such people. There are also physicians who regard it as a destroyer of youth, although we suppose the great majority of physicians smoke.

Generally speaking, the author finds that the use of tobacco is unfavorable to those mental processes which the machinery of the psychologists permits them to examine and measure. These processes are the least important. For example, the non-smokers would probably answer all the popular questionnaires more smartly than the smokers, and thus, perhaps more easily secure employment from the proprietor of some great establishment who had smoked from the age of fourteen. A great many authors, who, we are assured, stand at the head of their profession, were questioned. Practically all of them smoke, and all find the practice helpful to meditation or reflection. Their views might be received with greater respect had Prof. O'Shea been able to give their names. It would be important to know, for instance, whether the meditations of Harold Bell Wright are stimulated or retarded by smoking, and whether Amy Lowell derives any mental inspiration from a stout cigar. Knowledge of these details might alter one's views about smoking.

But if these contemporary celebrities remain anonymous, history gives us information concerning the tobacco habits of many famous men. Lincoln, Taft, Roosevelt and Wilson were non-smokers, though we entertain a private and ineradicable suspicion that Lincoln chewed tobacco. George Washington smoked. So did Gambetta. Bismarck was a notorious smoker as he was a drinker, and held that smoking was essential to statesmen, probably for the reason that it encouraged meditation. Gen. Grant was both a smoker and a drinker, and there was nothing moderate about either practice. The Duke of Marlborough was the first among famous men to be noted for chewing tobacco. For a long time tobacco was preferred in the form of snuff, and addicts included Frederick the Great, Dr. Johnson, Napoleon, George II., Talleyrand, Metternich, Gibbon, Marie Antoinette, Von Moltke and Robert Burns. Raleigh comforted himself with tobacco in the Tower while the headsman was sharpening the axe. Lord Roberts did not smoke. Kitchener did and so did Gen. Gordon, who also associated himself prominently with brandy, according to Lytton Strachey.

Paley, the philosopher, smoked and drank. Thomas Hobbes smoked thirteen pipes every evening up to the age of 92, when the practice cut short his promising career. Spurgeon was a cigar smoker, but insisted that he smoked to the glory of God. Richard Porson, perhaps the greatest of Greek scholars, not only smoked immoderately, but drank. Among English writers who were smokers are: Byron, Keats, Pope, Burns, Coleridge, Wordsworth, Browning, Rossetti, Morris, Fielding, Butler, Dryden, Goldsmith, Garrick, Addison, Johnson, Hogarth, Jenner, Steel, Swift, Moore, Scott, Lytton, Kingsley, Dickens, Tennyson and Thackeray. Can any one match this list with non-smokers since the time that tobacco was introduced into England? Here, indeed, is the very flower of English genius, and we might add later names such as those of Robert Louis Stevenson and George Meredith. We have no doubt that Thomas Hardy smokes. George Bernard Shaw does not smoke; he rather stews. The list of non-smokers of distinction presented in the book is humorous. We find, for instance, President Edward Hitchcock, Robert and William Chambers, John G. Whittier, George W. Childs and men of equal renown.

There are, however, enough men of distinction in all walks of life to prove that one does not need to smoke to become useful and honored. There are enough smokers to prove that the habit is not fatal to genius. There are enough vigorous life-long smokers to show that the practice does not invariably lead to an early and highly tubercular grave. One does not attain success by not smoking, but we believe that even smokers would not advise, except in odd cases, that a young man should cultivate the habit. If he does not smoke he probably does not feel the need of smoking, and he has to the good the money that he otherwise would spend on pipes and tobacco. On the other hand, if he is a smoker there is no reason in the world why he should suppose himself to be accurst and destined to be a drudge all his days of some more efficient non-smoker. Smoking is not vital one way or another. It agrees with some people and does not agree with others. Some could not do without tobacco in comfort. Some cannot smoke with comfort. As regards tobacco, a man should be his own doctor.

If you become disabled what about your Life Insurance?

"I HAVE always hesitated about increasing my life insurance because of the responsibility I would have to assume for the premiums," said a man who typifies a considerable class. "I always pictured myself in some situation, perhaps disabled through an accident, where I might be unable to pay the premiums."

But you may now insure against this possibility of future inability to pay your premiums. For a small additional charge the Mutual Life of Canada will issue your policy subject to a clause which provides that in case of total and permanent disability the Company will waive further premiums.

That is not all. Upon approval of proofs of disability, the Company will not only waive future premiums, but will pay $10 a month per $1,000 of assurance, so long as total disability continues.

And further, if the policyholder should die by accident the Company will pay double the amount of life insurance named in the policy. These new clauses are optional in all old or new Mutual policies if assured be over 15 or under 55 years of age.

MRS. WM. RUTHERFORD

In the passing of Mrs. William Rutherford, whose death occurred at Credit Forks on Friday, the 16th inst., Guelph loses one of her oldest citizens. The late Mrs. Rutherford, who was 69 years old, was born in Aberdeen, Scotland, coming to Guelph about 50 years ago. She had not been in very good health for some time past, but it was not until last Wednesday, while on a visit to her daughter, Mrs. T. McKinnon, Credit Forks, that she became seriously ill. She was a devout member of Chalmers' Church, and her passing is regretted by a large circle of friends. Besides her husband, she leaves to mourn her loss, two sons, William and George, of Guelph, and one daughter, Mrs. T. McKinnon, Credit Forks, four sisters, Annie, Helen and Elizabeth, of Cleveland, Ohio; Jean, California, and two brothers, Alex., Cleveland, and John, of Michigan. The funeral took place from the residence of Mrs. John Towell, 81 Duke Street E., to Guelph Cemetery. The many beautiful floral tributes testified to the esteem and respect in which the deceased was held in the community. A service at the home at 2 o'clock was conducted by Rev. J. A. Mackenzie.—Advocate.

ANIMALS IN FIRE

Most animals are afraid of fire and will fly from it in terror. To others there is a fascination about a flame, and they will walk into it, even though tortured by the heat.

A horse in a burning stable goes mad with fear, but a dog is as cool in a fire as at any time. He keeps his nose down to the floor, where the air is purest, and sets himself calmly to finding his way out. Cats in fire cry piteously. They hide their faces from the light and crouch in corners. When their rescuer lifts them they are, as a rule quite docile and subdued, never biting or scratching.

Birds seem to be hypnotized by fire, and keep perfectly still; even the loquacious parrot in a fire has nothing to say. Cows, like dogs, do not show alarm. They are easy to lead forth and often find their way out themselves.

PLAINTIFF WON SUIT

Alex. McCannell, Saugeen township, ex-Warden of Bruce County, was the plaintiff at the Bruce County Fall Assizes in an action against William Eldridge, of Amabel, near Wiarton, and F. Beumer, of London, for $1,086.74. He was awarded the full amount of his claim and costs. The case arose over a bush in Saugeen Township that Mr. McCannell had sold the defendants in 1919 for $4,200, the balance due him on this transaction being $1,086.74. Eldridge and Beumer were at that time doing business under the name of the Wiarton Lumber Co., which was later converted into a limited stock company and this firm later assigned. The defendants were alleged to have tried to show that McCannell's debt was against the insolvent company as he had accepted cheques from the latter at different times in instalments on the bush. The plaintiff, however, showed that his bargain was with the two men, who were in partnership, and, on their failing to appear, he received judgment against them in full of claim and costs.

A VERY SUCCESSFUL SALE

John Black & Sons' First Annual Sale of Purebred Herefords, held on their fine property, "Grandview Farm," lot 1, con. 7, Amaranth township, on Thursday afternoon, November 15th, was undoubtedly one of the best sales of the season, notwithstanding the fact that it was held in a very busy time. About four hundred and fifty people attended from all parts of Dufferin and surrounding counties. There was also a goodly number of breeders present, among them being Mr. Walter Readhead, President of the Canadian Hereford Breeders' Association, and Mr. H. D. Smith, Secretary-Treasurer of the same Association. The sale was opened with a short address from H. G. Smith, of Ancaster, who set forth the merits of the Hereford breed of cattle, their growing popularity in Ontario and their value as baby beef products.

Manassah Ferns & Sons, East Garafraxa; Irwin Dudgeon, Amaranth; W. E. Williams, Corbetton, and Louis McFaul, Alton, were the heaviest buyers. The top price, $230, was paid by Manassah Ferns & Sons for Miss Brummell 47th -45426-, an imported heifer with a good heifer calf at foot. W. E. Williams made a good buy in securing two beautiful heifers at $140 each. Mr. Irwin Dudgeon also did good picking, when he took the second pair of yearlings at $130 each. Louis McFaul, of Alton, and William Tate, of Waldemar, were also highly pleased with their purchases. Three year old heifers ranged from $100 to $230 each, while yearling heifers brought from $90 to $140. Bull calves under ten months of age ranged from $60 to $115, and heifer calves of the same age from $56 to $90.

The Sale was splendidly handled by Robert Amos, Moffatt, Ont., who was ably assisted on the block by Mr. J. R. Black, a graduate of Col. Reppert's Auctioneering School, Decatur, Indiana, and in the ring by Mr. H. Parr, Wellington County, and Mr. T. H. Hamilton, Grand Valley. Messrs. Black & Sons were highly pleased with the Sale and wish to express many thanks to all those who helped to make it such a good success.

—The Bolton Enterprise, one of our bright and newsy cotems, recently completed its thirty-sixth year. The Enterprise has built on safe and sound lines and to-day is more strongly entrenched in the good-will and esteem of the community it serves than at any time in its history. We wish Brer Leavens and his esteemed journal continued prosperity.

—Mr. Jas Parsons, gardener and mammoth squash grower of Caledon East, was in town on Wednesday of last week and favored The Banner with a pleasant call while here. This year Mr. Parsons was the grower of two mammoth squash, one of which scaled the beam at 76 lbs. He shipped the pair to The Nim Rehnie Co. Ltd., Toronto, and received their cheque for $3.00 in payment.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mrs. S. Allison, of Caledon East, spent the week-end with Orangeville friends.

Mrs. (Dr.) J. W. Leach will receive on Friday afternoon, December 7th, from 3 to 6 o'clock.

Mr. Lester M. Green, of Toronto, visited with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Green, over the week-end.

Mrs. J. H. Glassford, Zina St., was in Toronto last week attending the funeral of her cousin, Mrs. Samuel Campbell.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. B. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Ward Trimble and Mrs. W. M. Curry and son, Allan, were visitors at the Royal Winter Fair in Toronto last week.

Miss Sarah Hunter represented the Orangeville Women's Institute at the Provincial Convention in Toronto last week.

Murray McKitrick, of the Bank of Commerce staff, left on Tuesday night for Exeter, where he will relieve for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Henry and son, Walter, of Toronto, spent Sunday in town after attending the funeral of Mrs. M. L. Glover.

Rev. W. H. Bartlett, Presbyterian minister at Cookstown and Nicholston, has accepted a call to Elmira, to take effect shortly.

Mrs. W. M. Curry and little son, Allan, R. R. No. 3, Orangeville, spent several days last week visiting friends in Toronto and Woodbridge.

Mr. Eldridge Bowen, of Farmington, has returned home after spending three months visiting with his sister, Mrs. J. A. McElmon, in Regina.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Connop, of West Toronto, and Mr. E. R. Connop and Miss Langtree, of Aurora, visited Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Connop over Sunday.

Mrs. A. D. Glover has returned home after spending the last two weeks at the bedside of her daughter-in-law, Mrs. M. L. Glover, of Owen Sound.

Miss Mary Rayburn, of Powassan, is visiting relatives and friends in Caledon and Caledon East. Miss Rayburn is a sister of James McKinnon, of Caledon, and Allen McKinnon, of Orangeville.

Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Noble, R. R. No. 3, Shelburne, announce the engagement of their daughter, Marie Edna, to Mr. William H. Madill, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Madill. Melancthon, the marriage to take place on Dec. 5th.

Mr. J. J. Still left on his trip to California on Tuesday. He intends to visit friends in North Dakota, points in the Canadian prairie provinces and Vancouver en route. He will also make an extended stay at Blaine, Wash., where he has a summer home and property commanding a fine view of the ocean. Our townsman expects to be away nine months or longer.

Among the guests at Warden Vance's banquet on Friday night was Mr. Robert Broughton, of Melancthon, a young man in whose record as a student the people of Dufferin should take a great deal of pride. At twenty-three years of age Mr. Broughton has his degree from the University of Toronto and has two years of postgraduate work behind him. When he gave up his studies temporarily he had won the Governor General's gold medal and had the further distinction of being the most advanced student of his age in the province of Ontario. He had planned to attend Johns Hopkins this year, but the sudden death of his father, Mr. Thos. Broughton, of Corbetton, caused a change in his plans. He is now at home looking after the family affairs and incidentally giving a brother and sister a chance to continue their college studies. Mr. Broughton is a pleasant mannered young man, extremely modest and unassuming about himself and his splendid achievements as a scholar.

SETTLED IN ORANGEVILLE

Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Leach, late of Rocklyn, are now comfortably settled in their new home in Orangeville. Dr. Leach, who has taken over Dr. J. A. Macleod's practice, is a graduate of Toronto University. Almost immediately after graduation he enlisted and spent some years in overseas service, chiefly in the Orpington Military Hospital. Since his return to Canada he has been practicing his profession with marked success at Rocklyn, a village in the county of Grey. Dr. Leach was a classmate and friend of Dr. Banting, who has become world famous as the discoverer of insulin.

—38 students have registered in the Home Economics and Agricultural classes in Caledon. Those in charge would like to see the attendance doubled. Classes open at 9.30 and continue to 4 o'clock. Anyone interested is welcome at either classroom.

NIGHT IN FAIRYLAND

Children Provided Delightful Entertainment in the Opera House on Thursday and Friday Nights.

Lord Dufferin Chapter, Daughters of the Empire, presented the All Juvenile Musical Success, "A Night in Fairyland," in the Opera House on Thursday and Friday nights. The performance was staged under the personal direction of Miss E. M. Drake, of Arthur, who was responsible for the costuming, the scenic effects and the training of the children. Considering the time at her disposal Miss Drake did wonders with the children, who were selected for the various parts, and treated her audiences to two really delightful performances. Altogether some ninety young people, many of them children of seven, eight and ten years, took part in the production. The musical numbers were many and most of them were given with the unconscious grace and charm, which is associated with childhood.

The musical numbers, most of which were admirably given, were Fairy Pipers, Ho, for Fairyland, Jolly Pickaninnies, Fairy Bells, Here Jock, John Dough, Flower Dance, Gaily Carol We, Fairies' Minuet, Dance of the Butterflies, Red Head, Japanese Fan Dance, Jo San, Tripoli, On the Road to Anywhere, Merry Gipsies, Sleepy Town, Sailor Drill, Ship Ahoy, Three Jolly Sailors, Here We Are Again, Archibald and My Home Town. A Flag Drill by a number of High School girls proved a popular number. Numbers that were particularly good were Mabel Kyles' song, "Red Head," the duet, "On the Road to Anywhere," by Marguerite Arnott and Nan Marshall, the song, "Archibald," by Master Bruce Sloan, the Fairies' Minuet, the Flower Dance, Dance of the Butterflies, the Japanese Fan Dance and the Gipsies' number. Gordon Little was especially good as Puck. Leila Murdy, the Queen Isabel Connop, as the godmother and Mary Huston, who represented the mortal child, also sustained their roles in an acceptable manner.

The characters and choruses were:

Queen—Leila Murdy.

Godmother—Isabel Connop.

Mortal Child—Mary Huston.

Puck—Gordon Little.

Fairies—Marie Barber, Margaret Jessop, Lorna McLean, Jean Cameron, Helen McKitrick, Phyllis Snell, Kathleen Ellis, Ella Kentner, Aileen Smith, Helen White, Helen Partridge, Ruth Clark, Mary Rutledge, Marjorie Modeland.

Elves—Roger White, Alton Adams, Jack Campbell, Henry Modeland, Clarence Daniels, Gordon Walker, Maurice Young, Bruce Sloan, Jack Grigg, Jack Rohmer, Charles Portland.

Sailor Girls — Kathleen Hughes, Margaret Irvine, Margaret Price, Margaret Lamon, Marguerite Arnott, Bessie Anderson, Irene Sproule, Nan Marshall, Marian Cameron, Eileen Daniels, Florence Watt, Waneita Goodeve, Helen McConnell, Mabel Kyles, Isabel Price, Edith Young, Jean Burnett.

Sailor Boys—Bruce Sloan, Allan Kyles, Sidney Jessop.

Butterflies — Marguerite Arnott, Bessie Anderson, Irene Sproule, Eveline Simons.

Black Faces—Lee Johnston, Allan Kyles, Sidney Jessop, Harold Kearns, Don McMillan, Reg. Lamon, Billie McMillan, Edgar Robinson, Dan Cameron, Ted Dewar, Wilbert Arnott, Bert Barber.

Gipsies — Hazel Arnott, Nora Campbell, Mary Clark, Frances Hopkins, Ruth Hopkins, Dorothy Hopkins, Helen Hughes, Ruth Hughes, Colleen Cummings, Kathleen Little, Dorothy Mahaffy, Olive McMillan, Joyce Walker, Edna Snell.

Japanese—Doris Hopkins, Bessie Sproule, Gladys Hepton, Eveline Simons, Margaret Willoughby, Luella Johnston, Bertha Lemon, Dorothy Marshall, Mabel Huston, Gwen Parsons, Ellen Sheldon, Dorothy Barber.

BIBLE SUNDAY

The British and Foreign Bible Society, of which the Upper Canada Bible Society is a branch, is the greatest and most useful auxiliary of the Christian Church. It publishes and distributes the Gospel in over 550 different forms of speech, and Christian missions throughout the world depend on it for their yearly and daily supply of the Holy Scriptures. Christian people should support it, therefore, just as they support their Church. The local Branch of the Society has formerly raised its annual contribution by a house-to-house canvass of the town. This year a new plan will be tried. Sunday, December 9th, will be observed as Bible Sunday, and the public are asked to make their contributions on that day, through their own churches, in special envelopes which will be provided for the purpose. The amount usually raised in Orangeville is about $275.00, and it is hoped that more than that sum will be made up by voluntary contributions on Bible Sunday. Have your offering ready, and if possible let it be just a little more than formerly.

BOYS' PARLIAMENT

Gordon Adamson Elected for Dufferin County in Saturday's Contest.

Elections for the Ontario Older Boys' Parliament were held in a number of Ontario constituencies on Saturday. Dufferin had a lively contest, the candidates being Gordon Adamson, of Orangeville, and Donald Douglas, of Shelburne. We have not been able to secure a complete return of the vote polled, but the results that have come to hand indicate the election of Adamson by a majority of about 76. Some polls are still unheard from, but it is not expected that they will affect the result to any material extent. The vote so far as ascertained was as follows:—

	Adamson	Douglas
Orangeville	95	1
Grand Valley	16	0
Mono Mills	14	0
Laurel	30	4
Whitfield	9	4
Shelburne	7	40
Riverview	3	12
Horning's Mills	0	8
Corbetton	0	9
Jessopville	0	14
	168	92

Supporters of the two candidates threw themselves into the contest in an energetic manner. Polls were manned and indifferent voters were interviewed and urged to get out and exercise their franchise. A number of cars were volunteered for the day and did splendid service in getting voters to the polling places. Altogether it was a real election and was immensely enjoyed by the candidates and their friends. When the result became known Saturday night, the friends and supporters of the winning candidate cut loose and gave vent to their exuberant spirits in street parades, singing and general hilarity. The successful candidate was carried shoulder high along Broadway by a number of his enthusiastic friends.

The member-elect, who is the older son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Adamson, is a young man of fine character and excellent parts. He will make the boys of the county a worthy and an energetic representative and The Banner congratulates him unreservedly upon his election. Mr. Adamson was one of the first Tuxis Square boys in Orangeville and has held office in St. Andrew's Church Square since it was first organized. He is a High School student and has served as President of the Orangeville High School Athletic Association and of the Students' Administration Council. He is Captain of the H. S. Cadet Corps, a member of the Dufferin Boys' Council and is at present serving a second term as President of the High School Literary Society. In 1919 he spent a term at the Lake Couchiching Summer School, in 1921 attended the Beausoliel Island Tuxis Leaders' Training Camp, and this year acted as Councillor at Taylor Statten's Boys' Camp at Algonquin Park.

TEA AS A STIMULANT

President Emeritus Charles W. Elliott, of Harvard University, now in his 86th year, is quoted as having said that "tea materially facilitates the mental effort of writing and speaking." For that reason he has used tea as a stimulant for more than half a century.

It is interesting as proving that tea is pre-eminently the beverage of the man of letters, enabling him to work without fatigue, to delve somewhat into the musty times of the past, where it will be found that tea was considered the one best beverage for revivifying the intellectual activities.

Mantagazza, an Italian physiologist of high repute, confirms the claims of President Elliott by placing tea above all other stimulants, classing it as the "greatest blessing of providence to man." We all know that tea was Johnson's only stimulant. He drank it at all times and under all circumstances, in bed and out of it, with friends and alone, more particularly while compiling his famous dictionary. Boswell, his biographer, drank cup after cup of tea as if it had been the Hellconian Spring. Hazlet, like Johnson, was a prodigious tea drinker, while Bulwer's breakfast was never complete without it, and De Quincey states that he invariably drank tea from 8 o'clock at night until four in the morning when engaged in his literary labors.

All of which proves, if proofs were necessary, that the moderate use of good tea, properly prepared, is not only a benefit but a blessing to mankind.

SOLDIERS' EUCHRE

A Euchre Party will be held in the Armouries in the Town Hall on Tuesday evening, Dec. 4th, at 8.30 p.m., under the auspices of "D" Company of the Peel and Dufferin Regt. Tallies are on sale at The Banner Office. Price 50c.

COMMUNITY NURSE

All the women of Orangeville are asked to call at the Kitty Grey Parlors some time this week to sign the petition for the purpose of securing a Community Nurse for Orangeville.

GUARD THE BABY AGAINST COLDS

To guard the baby against colds nothing can equal Baby's Own Tablets. The Tablets are a mild laxative that will keep the little one's stomach and bowels working regularly. It is a recognized fact that where the stomach and bowels are in good order that colds will not exist; that the health of the little one will be good and that he will thrive and be happy. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers, or by mail, at 25 cents a box, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A GARRY FARM SALE

Mr. R. Edward Rennick has bought Mrs. A. C. Montgomery's 150 acre farm, the east half of lot 2, con. C. and part of the west half of lot 2, con. D., in the township of East Garafraxa. We understand that the purchase price is $12,000. Mr. Rennick will get possession about February 1st. The deal was put through by Geo. Wilkins, Real Estate and Insurance Agent, Orangeville.

CALEDON STORE CHANGES

Alex. McDuff, of Dundalk, and his son, Jack, who recently resigned his position on the staff of the Union Bank in Hillsburg, have bought out the general store business of McFetridge & Wittick in the village of Caledon. The new firm will take over the business on Dec. 1st. Mr. Jack McDuff, the junior member of the firm, was on the staff of the Union Bank in Caledon for two or three years.

—The Cherniavsky Brothers have been aptly described as three of the most remarkable young men in the world of music.

R. B. P. OFFICERS

At its last regular meeting on Friday evening, November 23rd, Orangeville Royal Black Preceptory, No. 621, elected the following officers for the incoming year:—

Wor. Preceptor, A. E. Phipps; Dep. Preceptor, W. E. McFadden; Chaplain, J. B. Irwin; Registrar, J. H. Loftus; Treasurer, A. C. Wilson; 1st Lecturer, Jos. Rayburn; 2nd Lecturer, Harry Simpson; 1st Censor, Jas. A. Patterson; 2nd Censor, Geo. H. Mills; Standard Bearers, Norman Flatt, W. G. McBride; Pursuivant, A. Widdis; Committee, J.J. White, Geo. Aiken, J. D. Mackenzie, Dr. A. J. Hunter, J. R. Hughes, C. R. McKeown and C. B. Matthews.

SUPPER AT HOCKLEY

A number from town drove out to Hockley on Friday night and attended the oyster supper and dance given in the Orange Hall by Mr. and Mrs. David Brown, Hockley's new general merchant and his amiable wife. The affair was a huge success. There were about three hundred people present and a delightful social time was enjoyed by everybody. Mr. and Mrs. Brown entertained their guests in hospitable fashion, leaving nothing undone that would add to the pleasure of the evening. The Barry orchestra furnished good music for the dancing.

AN IMPROVED PARSONAGE

The congregation of the Methodist Church is to be congratulated upon the successful completion of the extensive alterations to their parsonage, which have been in progress for several months. That the work was undertaken has been ascribed to the energy and enterprise of the Ladies' Aid, which, as an organization, has had this goal in view through many years of persistent and consecrated effort. Once undertaken, it received the unanimous assistance and support of all. Mr. Jas. Matthews very generously giving much time and thought to plans and supervision of work.

On Tuesday afternoon and evening, a very pleasant and informal reception was held at the parsonage when the pastor and his wife, assisted by ladies of the church, opened their home to the congregation. A large number of gentlemen, as well as ladies, accepted the invitation. After a social time, and a visit to the dining room, where Mrs. J. Kearns and Mrs. E. Clarke poured tea, the guests were given an opportunity of seeing the improvements and expressions of pleasure and approval were unanimous.

—Jerry swaps his "hitching post" at Laurel on Friday evening, Nov. 30th.

HOSPITAL NOTES

The net proceeds from the entertainment, "A Night in Fairyland," amounted to nearly $100.00. The I. O. D. E. are well pleased and wish to thank the people for their generous patronage, and also all who took part in the programme as well as the committee in charge. We were very sorry to learn that several children missed the chocolate treat after the performance for there were plenty of chocolates for all. We are also very grateful for the use of the Court Room during the practices.

Return of the Cherniavskys—Some years ago the Cherniavskys gave a very notable recital here. These distinguished artists will again appear in the Opera House for one night only, Friday, Nov. 30th. Plan is now open at The Banner Office. Tickets, 75c. and $1.00.

Our hearty thanks are due to Mr. Bert Jackson for a donation of one bag of potatoes.

PATTERSON–WATSON

The home of Mr. and Mrs. James Watson, Colgan, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Wednesday, November 14th, when their eldest daughter, Beryl, was united in marriage to Mr. Aldham Patterson, second son of Mr. and Mrs. David Patterson, of Caledon East. The bride, who looked charming in a white canton crepe dress and veil caught with orange blossoms, entered the drawing room on the arm of her father, to the strains of a wedding march sweetly played by Miss Laverda Patterson, sister of the groom. She carried a bouquet of Ophelia roses and wore the groom's gift, a string of pearls. Miss Effie Watson, gowned in sand canton crepe, acted as bridesmaid, and Mr. Arthur Ewing, of Rosemont, supported the groom. The Rev. Mr. Davidson, of Mono Mills, officiated. During the signing of the register, Miss Madeline Leggett, of Orangeville, cousin of the bride, sang "The Sunshine of Your Smile." After the ceremony a sumptuous wedding breakfast was served to about fifty guests. The bride's travelling costume was a brown moire canton crepe dress, brown coat with beaver collar and small hat with veil to match. Amid showers of confetti the happy couple left later in the day for Toronto and other points.

TOWERS OF SILENCE.

Burial Places of Parsee Community Seen In Indian Cities.

Mr. Lowell Thomas, in his fascinating volume: "Through Romantic India," shows a picture of the "Towers of Silence," the name given to the burial places of the Parsee community which are seen in some of the great Indian cities.

The Bombay Parsees are petitioning the corporation to grant them a site where an electric crematorium may be constructed to supplant the present "Towers of Silence."

As followers of Zoroaster, the Parsees do not believe in burning the dead. They are taken in solemn procession to the Towers, where the sacred fire is kept burning, and placed in positions where they remain until the vultures destroy them. The bones are then interred in the Towers with religious ceremony.

The "Towers of Silence" on Malabar Point at Bombay make a deep impression upon the Westerner. They rise between great stretches of the water, like a place from which one mounts to Heaven, and, indeed, that is the idea which the Parsees cherish.

Gaunt trees of considerable height surround the cemetery, and fearful looking vultures, birds of enormous size, hang from their branches. The effect upon the Westerner is noj good, and he is prone to forget the idea in the gruesome surroundings which it is commemorated. But the idea itself is stimulating, and marks a deep contrast between Western and Eastern minds.

For the "Towers of Silence" represent the journeying of the soul from the fret and turmoil of earthly life towards the silence and joy of the Eternal.

On Cuffe Parade, the fashionable promenade of Bombay which faces Malabar Point from the East, one sees in the rich evening hour crowds of gaily dressed Parsees flittering about like parti-colored butterflies enjoying the hues of sky and sea. The short spell between heat and evening shade is spent perambulating the promenade or squatting upon its stones in multi-colored groups.

Across the bay lies Malabar Point, and as the shades of evening deepen jets of light suddenly break out and turn the long promontory into a blue mass studded with points of brightness.

But within this place of beauty the "Towers of Silence" sleep in grim repose, and above watch the vultures with increasing vigilance. The contrast between the splash of life and the calm of death could not be given a more striking setting. One is instinctively drawn towards the silence that awaits one at the last.

The habit of seeking the calm which silence brings might well be adopted by many Westerners. For in silence and the withdrawal from fret it ensures, we shall gain refreshment and new strength.

Names of London's Outskirts.

Some districts in the outskirts of London, England, got their names in strange ways.

The district known as Soho has been called by that name since the sixteenth century. "So ho!" was the cry of the huntsmen when calling off their barriers in the days when the whole of that part of London was open country.

Smithfield is a modern perversion of "Smooth-field," an extensive stretch of meadow-land where horses were sold and tournaments were held as far back as the twelfth century.

Clerkenwell gets its name from an ancient holy well beside which the parish clerks performed their Miracle Plays.

The proper name for Bunhill Fields is Bonhill, that is, "good hill" fields, so called because the victims of the Great Plague were buried there in 1665.

Moorfields used to be a bleak moor skirting the marshy land known as Fensbury, now called Finsbury.

Haggerston is a corruption of Hergotestan, which is Saxon meaning "Our God's Town." Holloway reminds us that this was once a miry hollow between Highgate and Islington.

Kilburn owes its name to the Kil, the Celtic word for a cell, once occupied by "one Godwyne, a holy hermit," beside the bourne, or stream.

Acton is an Anglo-Saxon name for "Oak Town," meaning the town near the oak forest, and Shepperton is old English for "Shepherd's Town."

Greenwich means the green town.

Catford stands for Cattleford, where the cattle could easily cross the river Ravensbourne, and Brixton comes from the Anglo-Saxon Brigestan, or "bridge of stone."

Scotland Losing Best Blood.

Exodus of Scotsmen and boys to America has stripped the cities of Scotland until the streets of Glasgow and Edinburgh are beginning to look like they did in war time. Helping to support this statement were 139 Scottish mechanics and tradesmen seeking to enter the United States for permanent residence. "There are a lot who stay, lazy fellows, who take the dole, but the best blood of Scotland is pouring to America because of the lack of employment. The saddest thing is that the men are coming and the women are remaining. Now our women are averaging eight and nine to a man, and the single man can scarcely make enough to take a wife."

Magna Carta.

Runnymede, the Thames-swept meadowland where the Magna Carta was signed and sealed, will become the site of a magnificent Temple of Liberty, and a place of annual pilgrimage on Magna Carta Day hopes J. W. Hamilton, founder and secretary of the International Magna Carta Day Association. Every British Dominion, every state of the American republic, and the cities and towns of the British Isles will be asked to give a stone for the temple.

Last year American industry spent more than $70,000,000 in scientific research, most of it in experiments in chemistry in the laboratory.

A DARING HOLD-UP.

Young Man Saves $300 by Tossing it Away in the Dark.

Being right in the midst of one of the most daring holdups imaginable after having been shot in an attempted holdup a couple of years ago, was the Thanksgiving experience of Mr. John Robinson, of this town, who with his wife and family had driven over to Elmvale Sunday to spend the holiday at the home of Mrs. Robinson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Draper, who live on a farm just outside the village.

Sunday evening, when a late hour arrived, all the family living at home had come in, but one son, Lorne. The others were going to bed when he came in and he went away to his room. He had not proceeded very far with his disrobing when a rap was made at the door of the house and, as he was probably the only one out of bed at that moment, he pulled on a pair of boots without lacing them and went downstairs and opened the door.

A gentlemanly young fellow with a soft voice asked if he could be obliged with a gallon of gasoline. There was not a drop in his tank, the car was dead and he could not proceed to town till he got a little gasoline somewhere. "Yes," said Lorne Draper, "I can let you have enough to take you into town anyhow," and going back into the house donned his smock, put on a hat and got a lantern. As he walked towards the driving shed two men accompanied him and just as the door was reached, "Up, up, up with your hands," was the command. He thought it was only a joke being perpetrated on him and laughed when the business end of a big rifle was thrust against his chest and a stern voice commanded, "Put up your hands, you.....!" Then the young man did some swift thinking. The day before he had drawn considerable money out of the bank, and while he had walked to the driving shed with one hand in a trousers' pocket his fingers had gripped a small roll of three one hundred dollar bills. At the unmistakable order of the bandit Draper pulled the money out of his pocket, and, throwing the lantern away to one side, he threw the wad to the opposite side as he raised his hands. Four men came around him, one of them prodding him in the chest, stomach and sides with his rifle barrel, while the others went through his pockets. The robbers got a wad of $85 in bills and some change, but were satisfied there was more and, turning their flashlights on him, went all through his pockets a second time and searched for any obscure pockets that might be there.

With the rifle pointed at him and threatening something terrible, the robbers marched Draper from the driving shed to the stable door through the stable backwards up the stairs into the barn and stood him with his back against a wagon wheel. Procuring a rope, they advanced with all the gestures of intention of hanging Draper. They put his hands behind his back, bound him tightly to the wagon wheel, gagged him with a handkerchief and pulled a sack over his head.

Separating the two sticks of a flail which they found on the floor, foor men gathered roond him, while one kept watch on the stairs and threatened to spill his brains on the floor if he didn't tell them where the rest of his money was and Draper, who could see through the coarse meshes of the sack, thought they meant business as they were prodding him painful blows with the rifle and the flail. He was good stuff and answered, "Honest, boys, I haven't another cent on me," and to their query about any in the house, he answered "No." They asked how many men were in the house and on being told four, declared they would go in and "hold the whole bunch up." Four of them went down the stairs and the fifth stood to watch Lorne. The light was flashed upon him a few times and the crook began to slowly descend, which Lorne could see. As soon as the assailant's head disappeared down the steps, Draper lifted his feet out of his boots and in some way got one hand loose enough to manipulate the knot and in a moment stepped out unfettered. "Don't you stir up there," came a voice from below and just as Draper pulled the sack from his head his assailant was half way up the stairs. Draper picked him up bodily and threw him on the floor intending that the desperado should alight on his back across the wagon wheel.

Down the stairs shot Draper and out into the open. He saw the quartette ahead of him and started on a detour round the barn. Running across a plowed field with the four in hot pursuit, he reached the kitchen door, while his pursuers were calling to one of their number, to "shoot, shoot."

Draper's precipitate entrance roused the otheres, but he uttered no words. Seizing a shotgun he threw open the kitchen door, and seeing a flash light pointed at this from the door yard, fired at it. He closed the door and awaited developments. Meantime his two brothers brother-in-law and father came down. They waited twenty minutes or half an hour, Lorne Draper, forbidding the others to go out for he knew the thugs would not hesitate to shoot and feared they might be lying in wait.

Finally the two brothers cautiously ventured out. All was quiet and at the gate in a little fence, which separated the door yard from the barn yard, the big .48 calibre sporting rifle with seven shells in its magazine stood at an oblique angle the barrel some two or three inches in the ground. A hat lay on the ground and Lorne Draper's lantern was lying on its side. Further investigations led to the discovery of many footprints pointing in all directions out on the road, where an automobile had been standing. Lorne Draper said the gate was about the place he saw the light at which he had shot. The young men concluded Lorne had shot one of the thugs and that five others had carried him to the car and lifted him into it.

The little roll of three one hundred dollar bills was found lying on the ground not far from the driving shed door.

Lorne Draper does not recollect anyone watching him drawing the money from the bank at Elmvale but is satisfied from the determination of the brigands to secure more money that some one saw him get it in the bank and there determined upon the holdup that yielded the bandits but $85 when they confidently expected $400. — Alliston Herald.

FOR THE CANADIAN MOTHER

It is a matter of interest to note the relative esteem in which Canadians hold increase of Canadian population by immigration and increase by natural processes. Although everywhere lip service is given to the principle of healthy increase of Canadian population by natural processes we find, if we consider our position frankly from a detached viewpoint, that we are actually bending more effort to attract outsiders to our country than to the more important duty of making it possible for our own Canadian families to increase in healthy normality. Federal appropriations for the promotion of immigration projects are a great deal larger than the combined provincial appropriations for the conservation of health—a fact for which no one but the people of Canada themselves are to blame.

Important as our immigration problems are, it is undoubtedly more important that our problems of maternal and infant welfare be given full, immediate, and continuous attention. In the first place we find that our maternal death rate, although lower than that of the United States, is higher than that of England and Wales, higher than that of Norway, higher than that of a good number of countries which have given serious thought to the welfare of their citizen mothers. Our Canadian maternal deaths for 1922 were more in number than similar deaths for 1921. And the tragic, yet hopefuul, feature of the situation is that a large percentage of these deaths—a great deal more than half of them—were preventable. Scientific knowledge has progressed to an advanced point, so that it is now possible to say, "If men and women are given the information easily available, and if there is careful supervision during pregnancy, and proper attention during and after delivery, the maternal death rate of any country will diminish almost to the vanishing point."

Our problem in this generation then, has become one of disseminating knowledge, of insisting on the observance of the simple yet vital rules of hygiene, and of providing adequate care of the expectant mother and of the mother who has already given birth to a child. If there were to develop a strong popular demand that these necessary conditions be met, we should soon discover that our Provincial Departments of Health could extend their activities so as to reach each most ignorant and helpless parent in our crowded cities, and each most remote and fearful mother in isolated rural districts.

What has been done already?

The Federal Department of Health at Ottawa has prepared a booklet for mothers, available to any parent who wishes information. It describes simply and briefly the important things which every expectant mother should do. It tells also how to care for a very young infant. A whole series of booklets for mothers and fathers is prepared for distribution in this department, and these publications have been sent to thousands of homes.

But the Provinces have a heavier responsibility in the matter of health What are some of the plans they are following for the reduction of maternal deaths?

Some are increasing the numbers of their public health nurses. Others are establishing small hospitals in various localities where mothers may receive adequate care; Saskatchewan is training nursing housekeepeers who will enter rural homes and take efficient charge of the whole family while the mother regains her strength. The Red Croas and the Victorian Order of Nurses are saving the life and health of many mothers annually. There are good beginnings.

But yet we are losing about five mothers out of every thousand who give birth to a child, and for no reason at all except that our mothers have not been taught to observe simple health rules, or they have not received proper care before, during and after delivery. The remedy lies in our own hands. It is to be found in a demand for increased appropriations for health work by provincial governments and a determination to keep on extending government and voluntary maternity welfare schemes until every family in Canada is within reach of proper help.

Norway has reduced her maternal mortality from 8 per 1000 to 2.3 per 1000. Canada can reduce her maternal mortality from 5 per thousand to 2 per thousand if Canadians insist on it.

Exceptional Kills in Quebec and Ontario

1. A good bag from Northern Ontario hunting grounds.
2. The head of the bull which uncovered the guide's call 5.

With the coming of the frost and the "Moon of the Falling Leaf" comes also the hunting season for caribou, moose and deer. For the past ten months, thousands of sportsmen have been longing for the return of the season. And today the season in Quebec, Ontario, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Alberta and British Columbia is in full swing. Once more the naked woods are echoing with the crack of the hunter's rifle and the red blood of Canada and the United States is pitting itself against the monarchs of our native wilds.

In Quebec, good chances for deer are reported from Lake Megantic, the Laurentians, the Gatineau Valley, along the Waltham branch line of the Canadian Pacific, Timiskaming-Kipawa district and other points, while, in Ontario, Parry Sound, Byng Inlet, Pakesley, French River, Paget (for the Trout Lake Country), Lake Penage, Massey, Blind River, Thessalon, Desbarats, Mattawa, North Bay, Sturgeon Falls and Cartier are well favored. Moose are plentiful in Ontario in the country along the main line of the Canadian Pacific from Sudbury to the Manitoba boundary, especially near Metagama, Biscotasing, Chapleau, Missanable, Franz, Jack Fish, Schreiber, Rossport, Nipigon, Savanne, Ignace, Dinorwic, Wabigoon, and Kenora, and, in Quebec, in the St. Maurice, Lake Edward, Lake Megantic, Maniwaki, Timiskaming and Kipawa districts.

Caribou, in Quebec, may now be found only in the remote northern sections, and, in Ontario, on the islands of Lake Superior and round Rossport, Schreiber and Nipigon, on the mainland.

From all these districts come stories of wonderful luck which will thrill the pulses of every hunter. Take the good fortune of Dr. C. H. McCreary, of Montreal, and Mr. A. J. O'Keefe, of New Rochelle, New York, regular patrons of the Ste. Jovite district of the Laurentians, Quebec. Penetrating some days ago from Grey Rocks Inn, at Ste. Jovite, to Big Devil's Lake, sometimes referred to as Lac la Croix, they met several cow moose and an immense bull. But the climax came when another splendid bull obligingly took up a position within 50 yards of their tent. The first shot from the doctor's trusty rifle brought him down and Mr. O'Keefe finished him off.

Again, from F. W. Arnott's Two-Kip Camp, 30 miles up Lake Timiskaming from Timiskaming Station, at the mouth of Kipawa River, word comes of how Mr. J. A. Cavanagh, of New York, got his moose within an hour and a half of leaving camp, and was back within two hours and a half. Next morning while the animal was being skinned, another big moose calmly watched the operation for five minutes from a point close by.

After that, you can still keep your hand off your rifle?

A Things Are Pretty Quiet Has Nothing to Lament Over

He was an assistant chemist in a big laboratory—clever, and ambitious to succeed. His mother needed his help, there was a younger sister to be put through school and there were ambitions of his own linked with a winsome co-ed he learned to love while at college.

To long hours without proper rest; indifferent nourishment and especially the dust, the fumes and the flying particles of chemical matter, which settled in his lungs, gradually broke down his health. An attack of the 'Flu didn't help. He got so small, tired out and so weak at his work that some serious trouble was suspected.

Well, it turned out to be "T.B." and now he is taking the cure at the Muskoka Hospital for Consumptives. The doctors say he will get better, but he cannot go back to his former occupation. He smiles pluckily and says he has nothing to lament over, new plans will have to be made, but the hospital is giving him back his health, and that is the big thing.

Contributions to aid Muskoka Hospital in its work may be sent to Hon. W. A. Charlton, 112 College Street, Toronto.

BEFORE MY BABY CAME

I Was Greatly Benefited by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Sydenham, Ont.—"I took your medicine before my baby was born, and it was a great help to me as I was very poorly until I had started to take it. I just felt as though I was tired out all the time and would have weak, faint spells. My nerves would bother me until I could get little rest, night or day. I was told by a friend to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I only took a few bottles and it helped me wonderfully. I would recommend it to any woman. I am doing what I can to recommend this good medicine. I will lend that little book you sent me to any one I can help. You can with the greatest of pleasure use my name in regard to the Vegetable Compound if it will help others take it."—Mrs. HARVEY MILLIGAN, Sydenham, Ont.

It is remarkable how many cases have been reported similar to this one. Many women are poorly at such times and get into a weakened, run-down condition, when it is essential to the mother, as well as the child, that her strength be kept up.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is an excellent tonic for the mother at this time. It is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs, and does not contain any harmful drugs. It may be taken in safety by the nursing mother.

Jacobs was born and raised in Toronto, and was a "newsy" until three years ago, when he commenced to learn farming. Robert Anderson, of Milton, picked 34 barrels which is also considered good picking.

Dr. Walter Sargeson Verrall, aged 47 years, superintendent of the Toronto Orthopedic Hospital, 100 Bloor street west, Toronto, and regarded as an authority on orthopedic surgery, died within an hour a week ago Sunday afternoon after being attacked by acute indigestion while motoring through Brampton. Dr. Verrall, who had been in consultation with Dr. Thomas, of Caledon, complained to his companion, Mr. Charles N. Wheatley, sales manager for Ingram and Bell, Toronto, that he was unwell when they reached the town. They went to the office of Dr. William Brydon, but, despite the latter's efforts, Dr. Verrall died in half an hour.

You don't have to die to win

An advertisement to men in their "twenties" and "thirties"

$5,000 or $10,000 would come in mighty handy to you to-day, wouldn't it?

Think, then, how much more valuable it will be to you at forty-five or fifty.

Of course, you'll say, I'll have been successful and won't need it then. But stop! You may—and if you do, you'll need it more then than you do to-day.

Your producing years will be waning and $10,000 will mean all the difference between a dependent and an independent old age.

Man, there's a big idea back of Imperial Old Age Insurance—one that's mighty interesting to you. Let us send you particulars. Write for them now. A postal will do. Address:

MRS. WM. PATTERSON

The Mono Centre neighborhood lost an old and widely known resident last week through the death of Mrs. William Patterson, who passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. A. M. Turnbull, Mono Centre, on Saturday, in her 79th year. Mrs. Patterson had suffered from rheumatism for a number of years, but had been in her usual health until a month ago when she had the misfortune to fall. The resultant shock proved a severe strain and she had failed rapidly since the accident. Deceased, whose maiden name was Elizabeth Wilson, was a daughter of the late Peter Wilson and was born on lot 17, 1st line, east, Mono. After her marriage to Mr. Patterson 57 years ago she moved to lot 16, 2nd line, east, where she resided continuously up to a few years ago. Her husband died about three years ago. Her loss is keenly mourned by a family of three sons and six daughters, namely, William H., Rosemont Jas. E. and C. H., Orangeville, Mrs. A. M. Turnbull, Mrs. Jas. Henry and Mrs. Ernest Avison, Mono Centre, Mrs. A. K. Henry, Horning's Mills Mrs. Samuel Ewing, Toronto, and Mrs. Sydney Bateman, Baldur, Man. The late Mrs. Patterson was one of the oldest members of Burns' Church, Mono Centre. She was a kindly, warm-hearted neighbor, a loving, dutiful wife and an affectionate mother. In the community in which her life was spent she was held in the highest esteem and her passing will be keenly regretted by many old friends who extend their sympathy to the mourning family. The funeral, which was quite largely attended, was held from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Turnbull to Burns' Church Cemetery, Mono Centre, on Monday afternoon, the remains, which reposed in a rich, oak casket, being given interment in the family plot and placed close beside the grave of her husband, Rev. William Coutts, of Camilla, conducted the services. The pallbearers were the three sons and three sons-in-law Messrs. S. Ewing, A. M. Turnbull and Ernest Avison. The floral tributes included a beautiful pillow from the family. The late Mrs. Patterson is survived by one brother William Wilson, of Estevan, Sask. and two sisters, Mrs. Alex. Patterson, Camilla, and Mrs. Philip Allchin, Hamilton.

MRS. GEORGE BROWN

Another old resident of Amaranth was called home this week in the person of Bessie Mandley, widow of the late George Brown, of Laurel Deceased, who was in her 79th year was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Mandley, who resided near Farmington in the early days. She is survived by one brother, Mr. Thos. Mandley, of Southampton. The funeral will be held from the home of her stepson, Mr. Alfred G Brown, lot 18, con. 4, Amaranth this (Thursday) afternoon. Interment will take place in Greenwood Cemetery here. The late Mrs. Brown was a member of the Presbyterian Church and Rev. Webster Presbyterian clergyman at Laurel will conduct the services.

GEO. G. PATTERSON

George Gordon Patterson, a son of the late Captain John Patterson of Mono Mills, died at his home, 278 Robert St., Toronto, on Sunday November 25th, after an illness of five weeks from typhoid fever. Deceased, who was a railway mail clerk, had lived in Toronto for many years. His wife died five years ago and he is survived by one son, John. The late Mr. Patterson was held in high esteem as a neighbor and citizen and was also popular with his fellow-employees in the mail service. He was a member of Bloor St. Presbyterian Church and a Sabbath School teacher and worker. He was a member of the Canadian Order of Foresters. The funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 27th, to Prospect Cemetery. A large number of railway mail clerks attended the obsequies, six of their number acting as the pallbearers. Jas. A Patterson, of Orangeville; W. J. Patterson, Great Falls, Mo., and Miss Margaret Patterson and Mrs S. S. Richardson, Toronto, are the surviving brothers and sisters.

SOUTH BROADWAY ORANGEVILLE

MRS. ANNE WATTS

Former Caledon Woman Passes Away in Cartwright, Man.

One by one the pioneers of the Cartwright district are passing to their reward. An esteemed old-timer was called early on Tuesday morning, Nov. 20th, in the person of Anne Watts, aged 73 years, widow of the late Morris Watts. Death came at the home of her son, M. E. Watts, and followed a period of upwards of one year of failing health.

The funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock, from the residence to the United Church where Rev. W. T. D. Magwood, of Transcona, Man., a former Methodist minister of this place and an intimate friend of the deceased conducted the service. The speaker said in his opening remarks that the occasion did not seem like a funeral. He did not feel that he should preach a sermon, but talk to the audience of the life of the one who had gone. She had lived a beautiful, Christian life—the life of a disciple of God—her aim had ever been to help others and in every way possible minister to the needs of the sick and troubled hearts. He expressed the wish that others might take her life as an example for their journey along life's pathway Beautiful floral offerings found a resting place on the casket, and a crowded church bore testimony to the esteem in which the deceased was held by the people of the town and surrounding country. Interment was made in the family plot in Cartwright Cemetery.

The late Mrs. Watts was born in the county of Peel, Ontario, where she spent her youth. At the age of twenty she was married to Mr Watts, and in 1881, along with their family of four small boys, they came west to Dominion City and farmed in the Ridgeville district for a year. In the fall of 1882 they moved to the Cartwright district, taking up land and following farming for a number of years. About 22 years ago the late Mr. Watts was appointed postmaster at Cartwright, which position he held until the time of his death. At that time the appointment was transferred to his widow since when the business has been carried on under her name by her son, P. A. Watts.

In religion Mrs. Watts was a life-long Methodist and a strong supporter of her church in all the branches of its activities. She leaves a family of boys, namely, George at Vancouver; Carman, at Namaka Alta; Reuben, of Saskatoon, Sask.; and Edgar, Marvin, Herman and Austin, all of Cartwright. One son Walker, gave his life in the World War. Of the sons surviving, all except George and Carman, were at the bedside when death came Three brothers, one sister and twenty-three grandchildren also survive. —Winnipeg Free Press.

The late Mrs. Watts was born in the north end of Caledon and was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs Miles Bacon. She resided on the Second Line, west, for several years after her marriage.

JOSEPH LAWTON

Joseph Lawton, an Englishman 60 years of age, who had been employed with Mr. E. A. Parsons, the John St. florist, for the last five years and who resided with Mr. Parsons' household, was found dead in bed about eight o'clock on Sunday night. Lawton fired the greenhouse boilers at night and slept during the daytime. He usually arose about six o'clock in the evening. When he failed to appear at his accustomed hour on Sunday evening, Mr Parsons thought he had overslept and did not bother calling him until eight o'clock. When he finally called him, Lawton did not make any answer and Mr. Parsons went to his room, where he found that he was sleeping the sleep that knows no awakening in this world. The end had come so quietly and peacefully that the bed covering showed no sign of the slightest disturbance The heart action had failed while the stricken man lay asleep. Mr Parsons and family were deeply affected by the occurrence as Lawton had come to be regarded as a member of their household. He was a quiet, reserved man, industrious in his habits, faithful to the interests of his employer and scrupulously honest. So reserved was he that it was not until after his death that Mr. and Mrs. Parsons learned from letters left in his room that he had a wife living in Salford, End. He had spent part of Sunday writing to her and his papers showed that he had sent her part of his wages every week since he came to Orangeville.

As a young man deceased had engaged in newspaper work in England, acting as reporter and sub-editor on more than one English publication. He was on the staff of the London Daily Mail for a time and was an excellent shorthand writer and reporter. Rheumatism unfitted him for this work and caused him to come to Canada some twenty years ago. He was employed with a firm of Toronto florists for some years before coming to Orangeville and it was there that Mr. Parsons became acquainted with him.

The funeral was held from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Parsons to the Forest Lawn Cemetery on Tuesday afternoon, Rev. J. W. McDonald conducting services at the house and grave. The pallbearers were Messrs. T. Thompson, Geo. Fines, Jos. Dodd, Sidney Austin and Robert and Bert Parsons. The floral tributes were a wreath from the wife and a spray from the Parsons family.

MRS. JAMES CHARTERS

Word has been received by Mrs. Chas. Clegg, of Toronto, and other relatives here of the death of Mrs. Clegg's sister, Mrs. James Charters, of Reno, Mich. Mrs. Charters who was born in East Garafraxa on February 1st, 1863, was a daughter of the late James H. Smith and a sister of William Smith and the late Thomas Smith, of East Garafraxa Mrs. Latter, of Mahaska, and Mrs Philip Coulson, of Caledon. She was united in marriage to James Charters, of Shelburne, on Dec. 22nd 1880, and resided in that town until the fall of 1885, when the family moved to Reno, where they have since resided. To the union was born a family of seven children who, with the bereaved husband, are left to mourn the loss of a loving mother and a faithful wife.

MRS. MARSHALL COULSON

Former East Garafraxa neighbors and friends will regret to learn of the death of Mrs. Marshall Coulson a onetime resident of that township. Deceased, whose maiden name was Elizabeth Cody, passed away at the home of her son, Robert, at Streetsville, on Sunday, Dec. 2nd, at the ripe age of 85 years. Mrs. Coulson was born in Yorkshire, England, but came to Canada early in life. The family resided in East Garafraxa for sixteen years, living on the 17th line for a number of years. Mr Coulson died some fifteen years ago. The sons and daughters are Robert, of Streetsville; Philip, Centre Road, Caledon; Mrs. William Bailey, Campbell's Cross; Mrs. Ben Bailey, Cooksville; Mrs. Robert Maxwell, Oakville; Mrs. Harry Sawden Dixie, and Mrs. Fred Garland, Victoria, B. C. The funeral took place at Streetsville on Tuesday afternoon.

JOHN H. LEGATE

Another old settler of this section passed away on Saturday morning Nov. 24th, at his residence, Andrew Street, Shelburne, in the person of John H. Legate, in his 72nd year Deceased had been a familiar figure in this section for over forty years. Born in East Garafraxa Township he was also married in that township in 1879, moving after his marriage to Melancthon Township where he settled with his bride on lot 7, con. 2, Old Survey, which was then all bush. Here they lived until June, 1922, when they moved to Shelburne. Mrs. Legate died Sept. 8th, 1922. Two sons and two daughters survive: John J. and W Edwin, Melancthon; Mrs. D. Strome Oakville; Mabel, at home. Five brothers and two sisters also survive William, in the States; George, Toronto; Benjamin, Weston; Samuel Grand Valley; Thomas, Orangeville Mrs. T. Coutter and Miss Mary E. Legate, Orangeville. The funeral took place to Shelburne Cemetery Monday afternoon, service at the house and grave being conducted by Rev. A. E. Owen, pastor of the Methodist Church. The pallbearers were old neighbors and associates of deceased: Wm. Hudd, A. E. Rosevear, John McKibbon, Joshua Arnold, Harry Foster, Wm. Jeffers.—Economist.

MRS. ALEX. OLIVER

Mrs. Oliver, beloved wife of Mr Alex. Oliver, formerly of East Garafraxa, passed away at her home on Third Ave., early on Friday morning after a comparatively short illness. The late Mrs. Oliver had been in failing health for a year or longer, but was only taken seriously ill about a week prior to her demise. Previous to her marriage to Mr Oliver she, was Miss McGowan, a daughter of the late Hugh McGowan, one of the pioneer settlers of the township of East Garafraxa Mrs. Oliver, who was in her 62nd year, is survived by her husband three sons, Mervyn, of Toronto, and Russell and Hugh, farmers in East Garafraxa, and two daughters, Mrs. Clarence Hoare, East Garafraxa and Miss Irene, at home. Robert McGowan, of Pilot Mound, Man. James McGowan, Yorkton, Sask. and Bert McGowan, of Ardley, Alta., are brothers, and Mrs. H. K. Ames, of Duluth, Minn., is the only sister who survives.

Before retiring to Orangeville nearly three years ago, Mrs. Oliver lived on the 14th concession of East Garafraxa, where she always took an active interest in the church and social welfare work of the community, and enjoyed the confidence and regard of a large circle of friends and neighbors. She was a devoted wife and a kindly affectionate mother, whose memory will be tenderly cherished by her sons and daughters. Much sympathy is felt for Mr. Oliver and family in their time of loss and trial.

The funeral, which was largely attended, was held from her late residence to the Union Cemetery at Price's Corners on Sunday afternoon. Rev. F. W. Mahaffy, pastor of St. Andrew's Church, conducted services at the house and grave, and Rev. A. W. Hare, of Hillsburg, held service in Bethel Church, the edifice in which she had worshipped for many years. The pallbearers were the three sons, Russell, Hugh and Mervyn, the son-in-law, Mr. C Hoare, and two cousins, Messrs. Will and Jas. McGowan. Beautiful floral tributes were sent from the Women's Missionary Society of Bethel Church, the Women's Institute of Marsville and numerous relatives and friends in Orangeville and Toronto.

OLDEST ACTIVE BOWLER

Mr. David Rea, Fergus, celebrated his 85th birthday about two weeks ago. The News-Record shows him to be one of a group of five Fergus bowlers whose combined ages total 386 years. He is thought to be the oldest active bowler living. Mr. Rea was born in Eramosa Township in 1854, where his father, John Rea, settled several years before near what is now Speedside. His father was born in the County of Antrim, Ireland, and came with his brother to Quebec in 1820, and from there to Eramosa. Upon giving up farm life, Mr. David Rea moved to Fergus, where he is always interested in the welfare of the town. He is an ardent Reformer and for many years the president of the Reform Association. He is also a great reader, a justice of the peace, a Presbyterian, a booster of the Centre Wellington Agricultural Society, and in fact almost everything that is good. He is deservedly popular both in town and country and was for many years president of the Fergus Curling Club.

Mr. Rea is a brother of Mrs Alex. Cooper, Zina St.

MRS. VANCE A. STATIA

Orangeville friends of the family join in extending their sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Vance A. Statia and family in the death of Mrs. Statia, briefly noted in last week's Banner. The death occurred in Carleton Place on Tuesday of last week. Deceased, whose maiden name was Mary Susan Church, was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Church, of Brampton and Streetsville. She was born in Brampton in 1867, afterwards moving to Streetsville with her parents. She resided in Orangeville for several years, her husband being the owner and publisher of the now defunct Dufferin Post. Five years ago the family moved from here to Trenton, where they resided for four years and then moved to Carleton Place. Mrs. Statia had been ill for about a year. Her death came quite suddenly at the end. She is survived by her husband, five sons, Cecil, in Hamilton; Ernest, Calgary; Kenneth, Douglas and Perrin, at home, and three daughters, Mrs. Hedley, Derry; Mrs. Coltman, Trenton, and Miss Evelyn, at home. Another son Harold E., was killed during the Great War. The funeral was held from the home of her brother, Mr. O. R. Church, of Streetsville, Warden of the County of Peel, on Friday. Interment took place in Streetsville Cemetery.

MRS. HUGH WILKINSON

A respected resident of Chinguacousy was called home last week in the person of Mrs. Hugh Wilkinson, who died at her home near Claude after a brief illness. Deceased, who was in her 69th year, was formerly Elizabeth Giffen and was a daughter of the late Robert Giffen. She was born and had spent her lifetime in Chinguacousy. Mrs. Wilkinson is survived by her husband and five daughters, Mrs. O. Shields, of Snelgrove, Mrs. H. Lindsay, Bolton, Mrs. Joseph Spiers, Mayfield, Mrs. Jas. Duke and Mrs. R. Speers, Mono Mills. Deceased was a respected member of the Claude Presbyterian Church.

—J. J. McKenney, a former Orangeville man, died at his home, 93 Collier St., Toronto, last week, from heart failure. Deceased had been in the real estate business at 84 Victoria St. and was widely known in business and fraternal circles. He is survived by three sons.

MONO MILLS ROYAL BLACK PRECEPTORY

The regular meeting of this Preceptory was held on Tuesday, Nov. 27th, when the Royal Mark degree was conferred on one candidate. At the close of the ordinary business Sir Kt. J. J. White was asked to take the chair for the remainder of the evening. He at once called on the W. P., Sir Kt. Jas. N. McCutcheon, to read an address to Right Worshipful Sir Kt. T. H. Bullock, who is moving from Orangeville. Sir Kt. McCutcheon, whose father had initiated Sir Kt. Bullock into the Black Order, read the following address:

To R. W. Sir Kt. Bullock,—

It is with regret that we learn that you are moving away from this neighborhood. For nearly twenty years you have been connected with the Orange Order here, and by your steady perseverance and zeal have been of great value to the lodges of this district, and won the respect of everyone with whom you have been associated. As County Master you infused life into the lodges of the county, and set a new standard for that office. Since our Preceptory was revived in 1915, you have been most energetic, rarely missing a meeting, and as Registrar, and as Preceptor, you have given us of your best. Your election to the office in the Provincial Grand Chapter was well earned, and we have felt, and do feel, proud that a member of Mono Mills Preceptory has been elevated to that dignity.

We trust that in your new home you will have health and success and that the Orange and Black will continue to have the advantage of your help. As a token of the high esteem in which you are held by those who have known you so long, we ask you to accept this Red Cross Certificate, and trust that it will remind you of many happy days spent with your brother Sir Knights of Mono Mills.

Signed on behalf of the members of R. B. P. 297,

JAS. N. McCUTCHEON,
W. Preceptor

The presentation was made by Sir Kt. S. L. Island, who proposed Sir Kt. Bullock for initiation into the Preceptory.

Right Worshipful Sir Kt. Bullock, in replying, thanked the members for the kind thought which had prompted the very acceptable gift which, he assured them, would be preserved as an heirloom in his family, and asked them to persevere in the great work before them of building up, both in the immediate neighborhood and in the larger life of the nation.

The chairman and other members of the Preceptory spoke of the good work Sir Kt. Bullock had done, and the high regard all had for him, as well as their regret at losing one who was so well fitted to lead. It was remarked that during the past eighteen months, the Preceptory had lost four members by death, and eight by removal, a serious loss to a small Preceptory.

The election of officers followed: W. P., Geo. R. Lindsay; D. P., D. Whiteman; Chaplain, J. N. McCutcheon; Registrar, E. E. Stubbs; Treasurer, S. L. Island; Lecturers, J Varey and R. M. Jackson; Censors R. H. Island and G. H. Hillyard Standard Bearers, W. H. Thomas and Thos. Hewitt; Pursuivants, S. Parker and L. Cole; Committee, J. K. Parker, M. J. Varey, N. Storey, S Thompson, R. J. Cole, J. S. Ward and J. A. Robbins.

These officers will be installed on December 11th.

SAVED BABY'S LIFE

Mrs. Alfred Tranchemontagne, St Michel des Saints, Que., writes:—"Baby's Own Tablets are an excellent medicine. They saved my baby's life and I can hightly recommend them to all mothers." Mrs Tranchemontagne's experience is that of thousands of other mothers who have tested the worth of Baby's Own Tablets. The Tablets are a sure and safe medicine for little ones and never fail to regulate the bowels and stomach, thus relieving all the minor ills from which children suffer. They are sold by medicine dealers, or by mail, at 25 cents a box, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Mr. Jim Meek underwent an operation in Lord Dufferin Hospital on Sunday last. Our sympathies are with Jim as he seems to run in hard luck.

SCOTCH LASSIES FIND NEW HOMES AWAITING THEM IN CANADA

SHOULD the "hired girl" or the "maid of all work" of times gone by take a look into the present day situation, the shock would be severe and possibly fatal.

Signs of the times show conditions to be improved in relation to the "domestic." When the above group of girls from the British Isles arrived at Dorchester House, Montreal, after crossing to Quebec by the Canadian Pacific S.S. Montcalm, to take up domestic service in Canada, the street was literally lined with limousines and smart touring cars.

After the formalities of interviewing and the signing of papers, the authorities of Dorchester House might easily say "Yes! we have no maids," as all of the group of excellent Old Country lassies found immediate employment. There were approximately fifty in the consignment and there were well over fifty waiting homes for them. The Rev. John Chisholm, who is seen in the illustration is a prominent factor in bringing to Canada an excellent type of domestic servant and he follows his work up by seeing that the individual girl is placed in a house congenial to her. These girls are from all parts of the Old Country and are representative of all religious bodies. It is invariably arranged that girls are placed in homes of their own religious denominations.

FINED $200

Owen Sound Magistrate Reserved Judgment on Soliciting and Selling Charges.

In Owen Sound Police Court Sinclair H. Gibson, proprietor of the Holstein Hotel, was fined $200 and costs on a charge under the O. T. A. in connection with the finding, on October 30th, of a quantity of wine, over the required strength, in his hotel. He pleaded guilty to the charge.

The cases against the Canadian Wine Company, and the Ontario Wine Company, were adjourned, and Magistrate Creasor reserved judgment in connection with the two cases against each of the companies. The point of law, which was very prominently brought forward, was whether the Police Court in Owen Sound had the jurisdiction to try the case.

Each of the wine companies was charged with soliciting, and with selling. In the Canadian Wine Co. case Gibson, the proprietor of the hotel, stated that he could not identify the traveller who had sold him the wine, which caused the trouble. W. G. Peavoy, a representative of the company, was present, but he objected to giving evidence against his own company.

The representative of the Ontario Company stated that he had called up Gibson from Mount Forest, and during the long distance conversation Gibson had asked him to send him a barrel of native wine in about a month. C. S. Cameron, K. C., counsel for the prosecution, held that using the telephone to talk to Gibson in Holstein, was actually soliciting in Holstein. James Haverson, K. C., of Toronto, appeared for the companies concerned.

The cases required from ten o'clock in the morning until five o'clock the same afternoon.

Mr. Cameron stated during the trial of the Ontario Company that he had information from the Department that the Ontario Company had now no valid license to operate in Ontario. The license produced by Topping expired on April 30th last, but he stated that he had picked up this license supposing that it was the proper one to bring. Mr. Haverson stated that he would produce a license.

SOUL-DAMAGING CONDITIONS OF CITIES

A preacher at New York, the Rev. John Haynes Holmes, told his congregation that the people of that city were becoming something different from what humanbeings had ever been before because of the dodging of automobiles, living in inadequate cubby holes, amid dirt, noise, lack of privacy with fighting and struggling in the subways. Mr. Holmes' conclusion was that the nation was becoming one of "damaged souls" through all these inordinate methods of life.

It is one thing to condemn these conditions of modern city life, but it is quite another to change it and the people themselves are the factor that can effect the change. It requires a majority to decide that they shall pass their existence amid the so-called undesirable surroundings of which the Rev. Mr. Holmes complains. People are engaged in the fierce competition of modern business and this entails crowded districts with tendencies toward slum life. The demand for speed has brought the automobile into existence and people must like them otherwise they could not be sold. The apartment house may be in some respects a surrender to the avarice of the landlord but people want to live near where their business interests are. It is possible to go on without limit, each effect being traced back to a legitimate cause. These so-called handicaps to desirable methods of life are likely to multiply rather than to decrease, as cities grow larger. Certainly they are not likely to grow less. The element that comes to the rescue is that there always appears to be a fair percentage of human beings who, despite all disadvantages, rise to a very creditable standard of conduct. They are capable of maintaining civilization through very severe trials and it will be found that the ratio of these in the cities is just about as strong as it ever was.

FAT MEN ARE POOR RISKS.

Insurance Companies Find Lean Persons More Acceptable.

Let me have men about me that are fat,
Sleek-headed men, such as sleep o' nights;
Yon Cassius has a lean and hungry look;
He thinks too much; such men are dangerous.
—Shakespeare's "Julius Caesar."

"When the great English bard wrote these lines he apparently was not concerned about the effect of excess weight upon longevity," said Dr. George C. Ruhland, health commissioner.

Insurance companies, declared the commissioner, are convinced, through many years' of experience, that fat men are more dangerous and the lean are more desirable, from the standpoint of underwriting insurance risks.

Volumes of statistics could be brought to bear, for instance, to show that, after 35 years old, overweight has a definite and highly appreciable effect on mortality.

"Overweight, we are told, is a serious impairment among insured lives, the gravity increasing with the excess in weight over the average for the height and age," said Dr. Ruhland.

"This is true, of course, in ages over 35. In younger persons, a limited amount of overweight is an advantage, as such persons usually have a lower death rate from tuberculosis.

"Among men less than 5 feet 7 inches tall, at the age period between 40 and 44 years, an excess of 20 per cent. in weight involves an added mortality risk. A 40 per cent. increase in weight in such individuals involves an increased mortality of nearly 30 per cent.

"Among tall men, that is, those over 5 feet 10 inches in height, the adverse situation is even more marked. Among them, at ages 40 to 44, a 20 per cent. excess in weight adds to the mortality, while a 40 per cent. excess in weight doubles the mortality.

In general, underweight is an advantage unless it is too marked. Below the age of 40, tall men who are 20 per cent. underweight have a 30 per cent. increase in mortality, while those 30 per cent. underweight have a death rate of 50 per cent. greater than normal.

"But for those over 40 there are no such penalties. Underweight then is an advantage and those persons have the best mortality rates."

Occasional comparison of one's weight with recognized correct height and weight tables and consultation with a physician when a marked difference appears were suggested by the commissioner for those who are either greatly under or over weight. Moderately offweight persons need not worry particularly, the commissioner said. — Milwaukee Journal.

Alcohol From Acorns.

It has recently been stated that alcohol can be made from acorns. When shelled they contain about 40 per cent. of starch, which can be readily saccharified and then converted into alcohol. The alcohol, it is suggested, can then be used as a motor fuel.

Spider's Web Industry.

In Madagascar experiments have been made with a spider's web as a substitute for silk. The results are so encouraging that there are hopes that a great industry will be the result.

WHEREAS Section 3 of The Ontario Telephone Act provides that Part III. and Part IV. of the Public Utilities Act shall mutatis mutandis apply to a Corporation establishing and carrying on a telephone system. and the words "Public Utility" where they occur in said Parts III. and IV. shall include telephone service,

AND WHEREAS under the provisions of Part II. of The Public Utilities Act, Chapter 204, Section 26, Sub-section 1, R. S. O., 1914, Municipal Councils are empowered to pass By-laws for the collection of the rates or charges for supplying the Public Utility,

AND WHEREAS Section 27 of The Public Utilities Act provides that the sum payable by the owner or occupant of any building or lot for the Public Utility supplied to him there, or for the use thereof, and all rents, rates, costs and charges, by this Act, to be collected in the same manner as rents or rates for the supply of a Public Utility shall be a lien and charge on the building or lot and may be levied and collected in like manner as Municipal rates and taxes are recoverable,

AND WHEREAS the Municipal Council of the Corporation of the Township of Caledon is now operating the Caledon Municipal Telephone System as a Public Utility, under The Public Utilities Act,

AND WHEREAS it is desirable that the subscribers of the said Telephone System be given efficient service, and in order to do so it is necessary that the accounts for telephone rental and tolls be paid promptly,

AND WHEREAS a number of accounts of subscribers of the Telephone System have not been paid,

NOW THEREFORE THE MUNICIPAL CORPORATION OF THE TOWNSHIP OF CALEDON, BY THE COUNCIL THEREOF, ENACTS AS FOLLOWS:

THAT all accounts due the Municipal Telephone System for rental and tolls not paid by the First day of September, 1923, that the same be placed in a separate column opposite the persons name or property in the Collectors' Rolls of the Municipality and collected in like manner as Municipal rates and taxes are recoverable.

This By-law to take effect from the passing thereof.

Passed in open Council this 6th day of August, A. D., 1923.

L. H. WILLIS, Clerk. JAS. F. McDONALD, Reeve.

BY-LAW No. 841

Of the Corporation of the Township of Caledon.

WHEREAS, the taxes levied or to be levied for the current year cannot, in the opinion of the Council, be collected before the 10th day of December next;

AND WHEREAS the sum of $10,000.00 is deemed necessary to meet the ordinary current expenditure of the Corporation until such time as the said taxes can be collected, and it is desirable that such sum should meanwhile be borrowed by the Corporation to meet such current expenditure;

AND WHEREAS the estimated ordinary expenditure of the Corporation for the preceding year amounted to the sum of $35,000.00;

AND WHEREAS the Corporation may be required to pay to the Treasurers of the respective Public School Boards, from time to time, upon the requisition of the School Trustees, as provided in the Public Schools Act, the further sum of $20,000.00;

THEREFORE the Council of the Corporation of the Township of Caledon enacts as follows:—

THE Reeve and Treasuurer of the said Corporation are hereby authorized and empowered to borrow from the Union Bank of Canada the sum of Ten Thousand Dollars ($10,000.00) to meet the current expenditure of the Corporation until such time as the taxes levied, or to be levied, can be collected, and to give a note or notes, covenants or agreements, on behalf of the Corporation, signed by the Reeve and Treasurer therefor, to be payable within four months after the date of this By-law, and to bear interest at a rate not exceeding 6½ per centum per annum; and the moneys so borrowed shall be repaid out of, and shall be a first charge upon, the taxes which are collected for the current year.

DATED at the Township Hall, in the Township of Caledon, this sixth day of August, 1923.

L. H. WILLIS, Clerk. JAS. F. McDONALD, Reeve.

THIS IS TO CERTIFY that the foregoing is a true copy of By-law No. 841 of the Corporation of the Township of Caledon, in the Province of Ontario, duly enacted at a meeting of the Council of said Corporation held on and at the day and place above mentioned.

GIVEN under the seal of the said Corporation this sixth day of August, 1923.

W. J. TRATHEN, Member of Council. L. H. WILLIS, Clerk.

"I Can Now Do My Work Without Feeling Tired"

Mrs. A. Moffatt, Routon Falls, Que., writes:

"I suffered from a run-down system and nervous debility. I could not sleep or rest at night, and felt so weak I could not walk any distance. I took several tonics, but they only helped me while I was taking them. Mother advised me to take Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, and I felt great benefit from the first box, and continued taking several boxes. To-day I feel like a new woman, and am able to do my work without that dreadful tired feeling."

CHANGE C.N.R. SNOWPLOWS

A device that will take away much of the labor and danger from the working of snow plows has been put on all Stratford division snow plows at the London C. N. R. car shops.

In the past, all snow plows were followed by a small caboose, called the flanger. The purpose of this equipment was to clear all the snow away from around the rails where its accumulation would increase the danger of derailments. It worked by dropping a flanger, over the track, in front of the front truck, which fitted close around the rail and cleared its sides to a depth of the flange on the car wheels. This flanger was raised and lowered by hand from inside the cab, the operation having to take place before every crossing, as it would tear up the cattle guards and boards that protruded at the level crossings. This operation would have to be started some distance before the crossing was reached as it took considerable time.

With the new equipment, which is put on directly in front of the rear truck of the snow plow, the raising and lowering of the flangers wil be done by air pressure. When the look-out in the plow sees a crossing he will turn on the air device at his hand and the flanger will automatically be raised. This flanger will obviate the necessity of having the extra caboose on the snow plow trains and will also make the crews needed smaller as the lookout will be able to do the work done by the whole crew on the flanger. The flangers will be retained, as they will be necessary to keep the tracks clear after a light fall of snow when the snow plow is not needed.

CAR STOLEN

Mr Albert Buchanan, who attends High School here, had his Ford car stolen from the Methodist Church shed on Friday afternoon last, and up to the time of going to press no trace of it has been found. He drives in from Vandeleur each morning and leaves the car in the shed during the day. On Thursday evening when getting started for home he noticed two strangers in the shed working at an old car, which appeared to be giving trouble but thought nothing of it until after his car had disappeared. The car was noticed by Robert Brown, of Flesherton, who sold it to Buchanan, when it failed to make the hill going south out of Flesherton. The driver then turned and went east towards Maxwell, since when no trace has been discovered of it. A young man named Olmstead, who it is said is one of the five who escaped from the Ontario Reformatory at Guelph early last week, in company with another man, was seen in the village on Friday and was recognized by some of those who served overseas with him. The supposition now is that the pair are responsible for the disappearance of the car, which will no doubt be located before long. Tuesday's Toronto dailies reported Olmstead and Burns, two of those who escaped from Guelph, as having been caught at Meaford where they were attempting to break into the C. N. R. station.—Markdale Standard.

A Word Out of Season

By MARTHA M. WILLIAMS

(©, 1923, by McClure Newspaper Syndicate.)

Ettare's name was the puzzle of Brush Creek neighborhood. Why had a girl baby been afflicted with anything so affected as that final "e"? Why hadn't she been christened Rosetta or Marriette or even Clairette, all of which studded the pages of history and fiction, especially the best seller sort? Even Mrs. Conyers, the godmother, did not know; she had simply found the name upon a printed scrap, repeated it, giving "e" final full volume, then bestowing it upon the helpless brother's orphan baby—in result here was Ettare Brent.

A quicksilver girl, elusive as sunlight, always smiling, unless she frowned or pouted. No middle ways for her—things were thus and so or not thus and so. As poor young Richard Franklin was to learn to his confusion and dismay. To say—that he was her abject slave does not in any way distinguish him. Brush Creek's young men, even its outland visitors, suffered chronically that condition. How could that be helped when Ettare had such a way with her? A witch way, said Mme. Franklin. Richard had been abnormally sensible—gallant enough on the surface, but holding aloof from captivity, until he came, saw and was conquered. At first he was nearly as angry as his mother over the fact of his captivity. It was ridiculous—a country-bred girl, with freckles plain to view, who hadn't a single accomplishment save riding like a Centaur and dancing like the wind that shook the barley. Cooking, of course, was no accomplishment—rather an integral part of the feminine curriculum. But in some fashion she not only caught but so held his fancy he forgot her irregular profile and quite failed to see the freckles. Externals no longer mattered. His day began with the thought of her, night lowered when, as sometimes happened, she shut herself willfully away from his consciousness.

Brush Creek said he "had it mighty bad," rather chuckling over the situation. Still—it did not willfully conspire against him. That lies at the door of Tony Gray—plus opportunity. Tony had a sister, Ellen, of whom he greatly desired to be rid. Now Ellen chose to peak and pine for Richard, with no more justification than valentines, Christmas books and orchids when she came to the junior prom. He had given her a whirl there with the best will in the world, but with no thought of anything to follow. Since the Grays had a Brent cross it was natural enough to pay a long visit to Ettare's father. Tony had aforetime singed his wings in the flame of Ettare—and recovered. But he had not lost appreciation for her very handsome inheritance. It was her mother's money—none of the later brood could claim a share in it. Tony, who loved getting money only a little less than spending it, thought it a clear providence that it should be so.

From Halloween to Lent Bush Creek went the pace—and so breathless it set everybody gasping. The Brent house, of course, was the storm center—with two gay girls in residence, and a dozen eligible males circling moth-like about them. Tony played the game beautifully—took on himself the burden of keeping things going. Motor rides and dances that ran to daylight, private theatricals and trips to real playhouses in the nearest city came hot on the heels of one another. The Christmas dance outdid anything ever known in those rural precincts—Tony had got a band from the city and wonderful things for the tree. It was set up in the big Brent hall with a back-log glowing in the huge fireplace and pine, holly and mistletoe wherever a spray could hang. Dancing there was out of the question—with the night outside balmy as in May. But nobody could ask a better ballroom than the attic schoolroom, bare-floored, many-windowed and lit by swinging lanterns high overhead. The dancers had paired by lot for the rest of the evening—chance had given Ettare to Tony, but there had been management in the matching up of Richard and Ellen. But nobody minded—riotous fun prevailed. Around second chicken row there was something of a lull—Josy Green improved the stilling hour to say, smiling at Tony: "Never was such a party—and we may thank you for it. Say—when shall we have it over again?"

"It's nothing to what you'll see when I marry Ettare," Tony answered, smiling back lazily, adding: "Right O! Then you'll see little pigs flying with angel wings—and broomsticks hunting themselves witch partners."

Everybody laughed—but Tony said under cover of the laughing, glancing across at Richard and Ellen, "There's a happy sight. My heart sings to see it—Dick and Nell have made up—and are going to live happy ever after. They quarreled last year—had been engaged only a little while—now they've come to their senses—and I'm saying in my soul 'Bless you, my children!'" then with a deep sigh: "Real love is so rare and precious it would have been tragedy if they had been stiff-necked and ruined two lives."

"Solomon never said anything truer," Ettare countered, dropping his arm and curtaying deeply. "Shall I go offer my felicitations? I——"

"No, no! They are—so—sensitive that would spoil everything," Tony protested.

Ettare smiled oddly. "Thank you for the warning," she said, "I will not speak the word out of time that might upset beautiful things."

She was no coquette, but all through the whirl she had rather held aloof from her faithful Richard. But after New Year he felt a fine subtle change in her—she was not kinder, nor more hospitable—that would have been impossible; rather more receptive—things did not slide off her consciousness as they had seemed to do. So he gathered courage—all he had lost and more, and set manfully to a stronger wooing, but one that somehow was masked rather than open. He did not neglect Ellen—perhaps because of Ettare's imperative suggestions.

But in between he found occasion for delicate attentions, more delicate service to the lady of his heart. Also and further he obeyed her taciturn injunctions of veiling rivalry toward Tony—provided he felt it. At first that was desperately hard, but gradually he caught a merry drift in things and was a picture of hearty and overflowing good fellowship.

Thus matters came to the edge of Lent. Tony insisted upon a carnival of sports, and as usual prevailed. Again the hall was dressed in greens, again music sounded, feasting and full-throated laughter were in order everywhere. But there was no dancing—instead, games, some such as children play, others more sedate. The night went so slowly—so slowly—Ettare had promised to give him a definite answer to his wooing before midnight sounded. As the hall clock chimed the quarter he looked about for her in vain. Then the door to the library swung back. Inside, hand clasped in hand, he saw Ettare and Richard, with the minister in front of them holding his book to the light. Through the instant hush came the solemn marriage service. At the last word the clock chimed twelve times clearly. Be sure there was then riotous rejoicing—both had so many friends who had watched the winter's byplay with bated breath.

APOLLO POPULAR GREEK GOD

Mythological Character Was Prophet, Musician, Archer and Protected the Fields.

Apollo was the sun god of the ancient Greeks. He was the most popular of all the Greek gods and was a famous archer. He protected the fields and was a great musician. He was supposed to know the future and, therefore, at his shrine (Delphi) he told inquirers what was in store for them. The Greeks attributed to their gods all their own human passions such as love, hate and jealousy, says the Detroit News.

Zeus was the ancient Greek god of rain. He lived at the top of Mount Olympus and controlled the lightning.

Athene was the greatest goddess of the ancient Greeks. She was a war goddess and was usually represented with arms as the protector of Greek cities. She was said to have been born in the brain of her father Zeus and to have sprung forth full armed.

Poseidon ruled the sea; Demeter was the earth-moth that brought forth the produce of the soil; Dionysus produced the grapes and the wine; Hermes was the messenger of the gods and the god of trade and commerce. Aphrodite was the goddess of love.

Mr. Harry Mullin, son of Mr. Thos. Mullin, of Fergus, and in the employ of the Bell Telephone Co., met with a serious accident recently. He was at the top of a 35-foot pole in front of Rev. Geo. McDonald's at Elora, and upon cutting a wire, the post broke off at the ground and came down with a crash. Harry fell with it and broke his wrist and received several bruises, besides a serious shaking up.

A Pioneer Pension System

The Canadian Pacific Railway is this year celebrating the twentieth anniversary of the foundation of the Company's system of pensions for the employees.

It was in 1902 that the Board of Directors, under the Presidency of Lord Shaughnessy, looked into the future for the benefit of those who were laying the foundations of the service that was to take so large a part in the up-building of Canada.

In December, 1902, the directors passed a resolution stating that a time had come when provision should be made for officers and permanent employees who, after long years of faithful service, had reached an age when they were unequal to the further performance of their duties, and announcing that a plan of superannuation had been determined upon.

The plan was a generous one. The Company provided all the money necessary, and the employees were not called upon to contribute to it in any way whatever. In 1908 when it was first put into effect Canadian Pacific employees numbered about 40,000. To-day they approximate 90,000, and every one of them, from the humblest stenographer, office boy, or "track walker" or even the minor employee at some far-off outpost in China or in Europe, has old-age sustenance guaranteed so long as he or she stays with the Company.

Some Statistics

The Company's first contribution to the pension fund was $250,000 which was supplemented by annual grants starting at $80,000 which have, from time to time, been increased, until for some years past it has been $500,000 annually. To the end of 1922 the Company had contributed a total of $4,715,000 to the fund while payments on pensions had amounted to $3,857,802, leaving a balance to the credit of the fund of $1,640,103. In 1922 the total payments made amounted to $508,051, and at October 1st of this year the total number of the Company's pensioners was 1,182, each of whom was drawing an average of $35.92 per month. It is of interest to note that since the pension fund became operative, 877 pensions have become inoperative through the death of the beneficiaries.

Having in view conditions of increased living costs which then prevailed the world over, the Company in 1919 allowed the pensioners an additional bonus of twenty-five per cent. of their regular allowance. This went into effect on May 1st of that year, and continued until the end of 1922. In view of the modification of the condition that made it necessary, that bonus is this year set at twenty per cent.

Kept in Canada

By far the greater part of this money is of course distributed in Canada, just as is the case with the Company's vast payroll of over $100,000,000 annually, and the many millions it yearly spends on the purchase of supplies under the policy of distributing as much of its expenditure as is possible in the country it exists to serve.

The operation of the fund is simplicity itself. Upon reaching the age of 65 every employee who has joined the staff before reaching the age of forty is entitled to retirement if the Company so desires and can claim a pension of one per cent. of the average monthly pay received for the ten years preceding retirement for every year in which he has been in the Company's service. This is as the system was first devised twenty years ago, and there has been but one amendment to its provisions. In 1908 it was found that in some cases the amount of the pension so calculated was insufficient to protect the recipient against want as was intended, and it was provided that from thenceforth the minimum amount of pension paid would be $20 per month.

Fosters Efficiency

That this system has been a big factor in fostering the efficiency so largely identified with Canadian Pacific operation is undeniable. Mr. E. W. Beatty, President of the Company, speaks of it not only as a prime necessity in these days of sociological progress, and as an inherent right of those who give lives of faithful work to Canadian Pacific service, but also as one of the things that has helped to bring into existence the high standard of co-operation that exists between all branches of the Company's service. "It is helping to make contented employees," says Mr. Beatty, "and that is the first requisite of faithful, efficient service."

POLYGAMY PROBLEM

A Colonial Office report for 1922 on the British Mandated Sphere of Togoland, West Africa, states that Fetishism (the worship of inanimate objects believed to possess in themselves some kind of mysterious power) is the dominating religion, and converts to Christianity in many instances still uphold the spirit of the Fetish influences.

Polygamy, in particular, is very prevalent, and the missionaries do not seem to be able to combat it. The individual will marry in church, but in the majority of instances insists upon having more than one wife. In those cases he is permitted to attend the church, but is barred from partaking of the Lord's Supper.

The trustee of the Hercules Rubber Co., Brampton, mailed cheques last week covering a dividend of 25 per cent. of the claims. The statement shows that the total liabilities are $102,010. The plant sold for $94,507 and accounts and other assets realized a total of $98,561. It is estimated that $5,000 in accounts can still be collected. A further dividend is promised.

MULMUR BARN FIRE

A spark from a threshing engine is thought to have been responsible for the destruction of the large bank barn on the farm of George Ormsby, west half lot 12, con. 5, Mulmur, on Tuesday morning of last week. The barn, which has been rented for the past three years by Archy Greer, of Mansfield, contained the season's crop of grain which was not yet threshed. The fire was first noticed in the mow and desperate efforts were made to subdue it. For a time it was thought all danger was past, a liberal supply of water being used, but the flames broke out afresh. The barn, which was 36 by 80 feet, with a 12-foot stoop, was insured in the Dufferin Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Co. for $1500, which will about half cover the loss. The contents were insured in the Sydenham Mutual Fire Insurance Co. for $1500. Mr. Greer's estimate of his loss is $2000. The separator, the property of Messrs. Fines and Vail, was removed in safety from the barn.—Free Press.

HOT AND HEAVY

Mr. Kellogg was always teasing his wife; it was strange that she did not oftener suspect the pitfalls he prepared for her. This time he came home to dinner, and said, gravely, "Young White's wife gave it to him hot and heavy this morning!"

The Whites had been married but a few months, and Mrs. Kellogg promptly scented a scandal.

"Fighting already? How dreadful!" she continued. "Tell me about it."

"Oh, she just gave him one of the biscuits she made for breakfast," replied her husband.

NEW LAMP BURNS 95 P. C. AIR

BEATS ELECTRIC OR GAS

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 36 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 per cent. air and 6 per cent. common kerosene (coal oil.)

The inventor, F. N. Johnson, 246 Craig St. W., Montreal, is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him to-day for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

CALEDON EAST

The Methodist Church here was the scene of a pretty wedding when Miss Pearl Fleetham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Fleetham, was united in marriage to Mr. Stanley Gott, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Gott, the Rev. Alfred Laycock officiating. The church was beautifully decorated with evergreens and flowering plants. The bride, who was prettily dressed in a navy blue tricotine suit with hat to match, was given away by her father and was attended by her nieces, Betty Rambo Switzer and Doris McCartney as flowergirls. Miss Margaret Dane, of Hamilton played the wedding music and Mr. Roy McCartney sang, "O Perfect Love," during the signing of the register. After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride, where the wedding breakfast was served. The presents were numerous and showed the esteem in which the young couple are held by their friends and relatives. The happy couple took their departure on the evening train amid shower of confetti and the hearty good wishes of their many friends.

A bazaar will be held in McCartney's Hall, Caledon East, on Saturday, Dec. 8th, at 3 p.m., under the auspices of the Caesar's Ladies' Aid. Many useful things will be on sale for the Christma season.

Days of sadness still come o'er us
Years of sorrow often flow;
Memory keeps our loved one near us
Whom God claimed four years ago.

This day brings forth sad memories
Of a dear one laid to rest,
And those who think of him to-day
Are those who loved him best.

Then, dear ones, do not grieve so,
When you know he is better far,
He is shining now in Glory,
Like the bright and morning star.

Sleep on, dear father, thy labor is o'er,
Thy willing hands will toil no more
God took you home; He thought it best,
To give you everlasting rest.

To memory ever dear,
WIFE and FAMILY.

THE TOWN COUNCIL

At its meeting on Monday night the Town Council passed accounts as follows:—Orangeville Hydro Commission, $39.84, also $322.00 for street lighting; McMillan Garage, $1.00; D. A. Hogg, $18.23; Jos. Ogston, $34.30; Dominion Express Co., 40c; Bell Telephone Co., $5.21; Geo. Hogben, $7.35; T. A. Lawrence, 75c; H. B. Church, $10.00; Canadian Surety Co., treasurer's bond, $20.00; Sanderson & Robertson, 50c; Wm. Marshall, $4.00; Fred Grieves, $55.40; Wm. A. Clowes $33.20; Geo. King, $34.00; Roy Hulse, $26.35; E. Huskisson, $6.00 and $220.35.

R. Lee, of the Cataract Electric Co., addressed the Council. A motion was subsequently passed appointing the Mayor, Deputy-Reeve and Councillor McBride a Committee to confer with Mr. Lee and to grant his request re poles, provided his company adopts standard construction.

The Grand Central Sample Rooms, Myles Hambly's office, the Town Hall and the Fire Hall were designated as municipal polling booths. Deputy returning officers and poll clerks will be: East Ward, Jas. A. Patterson and Alex. Saunders; West Ward, R. B. Endacott and Jack Aiken; North Ward, William Henderson and Stewart Porter; South Ward, Gordon Hayes and Geo. Cheyne.

The Finance Committee was empowered to sell the Broadway pavement debentures at 102. The amount of the debentures is $4500. They bear 6 per cent. interest and are repayable in ten equal annual instalments.

DR. FRED FRANK

Sudbury, Dec. 4—The body of Dr. Frederick Charles Frank, aged 49 years, was found in his office this morning, with his faithful dog on guard over it. Dr. Frank had been threatened with apoplexy and went out hunting rabbits yesterday, remarking that he would try to walk it off. When he did not return, his son-in-law, Dr. Woods, went to his office this morning and found the body. Apparently he had had a stroke in the woods and had fallen, but had been able to get up and return to his office, where he sat down and a final stroke had taken him off. He came to Northern Ontario two years ago from Shelburne, where he practiced dentistry for many years. The body was taken to Orangeville to-night for interment.

The above despatch, clipped from yesterday's Globe, refers to Dr. Fred Frank, a well-known former Orangeville boy. Deceased was the only son of the late Dr. Frederick Frank, a dentist here for many years. He was educated in Orangeville High and Public Schools and after graduating in dentistry practiced his profession in Shelburne until a few years ago, when poor health caused him to sell out. Since then he has lived chiefly in Northern Ontario. Dr. Frank is survived by his wife, a married daughter, a son. The funeral was held from the home of his uncle, County Treasurer C. R. Wheelock, yesterday afternoon. Interment was made in the family plot in the Forest Lawn Cemetery. The departed man had many warm friends here, who were deeply grieved at the news of his demise.

CARD OF THANKS

Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Parsons and family wish to express their heartfelt thanks to their neighbors and the citizens of Orangeville for the sympathy manifested in the death of the late Jos. Lawton and for the attendance at his funeral on Tuesday.

M'CORMICK VS. CALEDON

The appeal case of McCormick vs. Township of Caledon was argued before Chief Justice Meredith and Justices Riddell, Latchford, Middleton and Logie of the Appeals Court on Tuesday. Their Lordships reserved judgment. Our readers will remember that at the Assize Court in Brampton before Chief Justice Mulock on April 11th last, judgment was given the plaintiff for $50 0and costs on the Supreme Court scale. The defendant municipality is now appealing from this judgment. The action was brought by Mrs. McCormick to recover $5,000 damages for the death of her son, who was killed when his automobile upset into the ditch. Plaintiff claimed that the accident was caused by the negligence of the defendants in leaving the roadway in an unsafe and unguarded condition. H. Guthrie K. C., Guelph, and H. B. Church, of Orangeville, for Mrs. McCormick and C. R. McKeown, K. C., Orangeville and W. S. Morphy, Brampton, for the municipality.

—Mr. I. R. Binkley, local plant chief for the Bell Telephone Co. has been promoted to a similar position in Hamilton and is moving his family and effects to the Ambitious City right away. The Company has introduced a change whereby the Orangeville and Arthur offices will be placed under the direct supervision of Mr. W. M. Reid, the wire chief at Brampton. Mr. Reid, who is a son of Mrs. J. C. Reid, will now visit Orangeville regularly in the course of his duties.

—Christmas Cards, Booklets, Garlands, Twine, etc., at The Banner Office.

—Mr. A. C. Price, Bell Telephone Co. manager in this district for the last two years, has been transferred to Brampton and will remove to that town this month. Mr. and Mrs. Price have been excellent citizens and their departure from town will be keenly regretted. Mr. Price will still have charge of the same district, his work covering Orangeville as heretofore, but the higher-ups of the Bell Telephone Co. have decreed that he is to move to Brampton, as they believe he can cover his district more economically by working from the Peel capital. The chief operator will now have full charge of the local business of the Company.

H. S. COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES

The Orangeville High School will hold its Annual Commencement Exercises in the Opera House on Thursday, Dec. 13th, at 7.45 p.m. Prizes diplomas and medals will be presented to the successful pupils. Choruses and folk dances will be given by the students. The program will conclude with a three-act Play, entitled "Charlie's Aunt," which will be repeated in the Opera House on Friday evening at 8 o'clock. Admission 50c and 35c. Plan of hall will open at Banner Office on Saturday, Dec. 8th, at 1 p.m.

The following students of the school have qualified for Graduation Diplomas, which will be presented on Commencement Night:—

Elizabeth Crozier, Olive Hughson Beulah Irwin, Ina Jackson, Hazel Kendrew, Reta Kendrew, Myrtle Kyles, Edith Laughlin, Helen McMurchy, May Madill, Velma Quinn Charles Rowan Lila Summerville Muriel Torrie, Kathleen Wheelock Faith Wise, Beatrice Young and Edith Young.

A WONDERFUL OPPORTUNITY

The amazing story, entitled "The Wonderful Heroine," which appeared in the Family Herald and Weekly Star, of Montreal, has caused widespread speculation as to the identity of this young and beautiful woman who, by her heroism, self-sacrifice and abounding trust and faith in God, by her sweet purity and astounding courage in the face of unspeakable horrors, came to be regarded as a living saint and the wonder woman of a great Empire.

Readers of the Family Herald and Weekly Star are indeed fortunate because it is now announced that the publishers have secured a beautiful painting of "The Wonderful Heroine," and a reproduction in the original colors, size 18 x 24 inches will be sent free to all subscribers new and renewal, who remit in time.

With this beautiful and inspiring picture added to the extraordinary value of that great national farm and home journal, it is the bargain of a lifetime. The subscription of the Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal, is only $2.00 a year.

MASONIC AT HOME

The officers and members of Harris Lodge held their annual At Home in the Arena Assembly Hall on Wednesday night of last week. The affair was a big success, some two hundred and twenty-five guests being present. During the early part of the evening, a short musical programme was provided by the Smith orchestra, of Toronto. Mrs. W. A. Dorrington, of Alton, also contributed a humorous reading in her usual excellent manner. The programme was followed by a couple of hours pleasantly spent in progressive euchre. Lunch was then served and the remainder of the night was given over to dancing to music by the Smith orchestra. It was about two o'clock when the gathering dispersed. The At Home was one of the best the Lodge has held and the guests were unanimous in the opinion that the roomy Arena Hall is an ideal place for such gatherings.

—Among the graduating nurses of the Stratford General Hospital, who will receive their diplomas at the graduation exercises to-night, is Miss Mildred Duke, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Duke, of Stratford, formerly of Grand Valley and Orangeville.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mrs. W. G. Bailey and two children are visiting friends in Brampton.

Miss Melba Coulson spent the week-end with her friend, Miss Marion Walker, of Laurel.

Mr. Harry Leach, of Toronto Dental College, visited his brother, Dr. J. W. Leach, over the week-end.

Mr. Jas. A. Patterson was in Toronto last week attending the funeral of his brother, the late Geo. Patterson.

Mrs. S. Robinson, of Toronto, spent the last week at the home of her brother, Mr. Alex. Oliver, 3rd Avenue.

Mrs. F. Marshall, of Toronto, visited Miss S. Hughson and other Orangeville friends for a couple of days this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Griffith Simpson and son, Master Irvine, visited Miss Marion Ramsay, of Toronto, for a few days last week.

Mrs. R. B. Coulter, of Alton, and little sons, Hartman and Hilton have returned home after spending a week with friends in West Toronto.

Mr. Jeremiah Skelton, of Toronto, paid Orangeville a business visit yesterday. Mr. Skelton was one of the town's prominent citizens some forty years ago.

Mrs. W. O'C. Ahern will be At Home on Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 12th, from 4 until 6 o'clock, and afterwards on the first Wednesday in each month.

Mr. and Mrs. Randall Adamson, of Toronto, attended the Masonic At Home last week and spent a few days here as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Adamson and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Smith.

The engagement is announced of Lena Victoria, youngest daughter of Mrs. and the late Robinson Dynes of Melancthon, to Elmer C., eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Dynes of Amaranth, the marriage to take place early in December.

The engagement is announced of Jeannette, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Clarke Newman, of New York City, to Mr. Douglas Macpherson, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Macpherson, of Orangeville, the marriage to take place in Moose Jaw, December 12th.

A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Crombie of Blount, on the night of Wednesday, November 28th, for Mr. and Mrs. Jos. D. Crombie, a popular young couple of newly weds. A very enjoyable time was spent in dancing and other amusements.

OVER THE TOP

Orangeville Methodists went over the top in fine style in their campaign for the Parsonage and Church Improvement Fund. $2300 was the objective aimed at and on Sunday, the day set apart for the receipt of the subscriptions, $2155 was placed on the collection plates. The remaining $145 is more than covered by pledges, that are regarded as the equivalent of cash. We understand that the bulk of the canvassing was done by Messrs. A. E. Annis and Thos. Wright, who showed themselves skilled in this very necessary part in the work of church financing. We congratulate the congregation upon the splendid success of their campaign and also upon the fact that church and parsonage are now completely out of debt.

BANK OF HAMILTON

It will be gratifying to depositors and other customers of the local branch of the Bank of Hamilton to learn that it will continue after amalgamation to do business under the same management and supervision as before. They will also be glad to have the assurance that the associations they have formed in the past will not be disturbed even by a loss of name, for the branch will be known as the Bank of Hamilton Branch of the Canadian Bank of Commerce. The identity of an institution which has served the Canadian public so well and faithfully will thus be fittingly preserved.

FREQUENT HEADACHES

A Sure Sign the Blood is Watery and Impure.

People with thin blood are more subject to headaches than full-blooded persons and the form of anaemia that afflicts growing girls is almost always accompanied by headaches, together with disturbances of the digestive organs.

Whenever you have constant or recurring headaches and pallor of the face, they show that the blood is thin and your efforts should be directed toward building up your blood. A fair treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will do this, and the rich, red blood made by these pills banishes the headache.

More disturbances to the health are caused by their blood than most people have any idea of. When your blood is impoverished, the nerves suffer from lack of nourishment, and you may be troubled with insomnia, neuritis, neuralgia or sciatica. Muscles subject to strain are undernourished and you may have muscular rheumatism or lumbago. If your blood is thin and you begin to show symptoms of any of these disorders, try building up the blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and as the blood is restored to its normal condition the trouble will disappear. There are many people who owe their present state of good health to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and most of them do not hesitate to say so.

If you are suffering from any condition due to poor, watery blood or weak nerves, begin taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills now, and note how your strength and health will improve. You can get these pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail, at 50 cents a box, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

SHOOTING MATCH

Mr. Nathaniel Kinsley, lot 22, Prince of Wales Road, Mono, will hold a Shooting Match for Chickens, Geese and Turkeys at his farm on Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 11th. Mr. Kinsley will supply the ammunition for the sport.

HOSPITAL NOTES

The regular monthly meeting of Lord Dufferin Chapter, I. O. D. E. will be held at the home of Mrs. (Capt.) W. J. Adams, Sarah St., on Friday afternoon, Dec. 14th, beginning at 3 o'clock.

The Cherniavsky Recital in the Opera House last Friday night is one that will long be remembered by local music lovers. While the hall was not filled there was a fairly large audience considering the inclemency of the night. The net proceeds amounted to nearly $40.00.

BIBLE SUNDAY

The Anglican, Baptist, Methodist and Presbyterian churches of Orangeville will observe next Sunday as Bible Sunday. Special reference will be made to the work of the Bible Society and special offerings taken in aid thereof. The latter will take the place of the former house-to-house canvass, and it is hoped that the usual total of about $275 for the town will be more than made up.

Rev. Jesse Gibson, Secretary of the Upper Canada Bible Society, will preach in St. Andrew's Church at the morning service and in the Methodist Church in the evening.

THE CHERNIAVSKYS

A fairly large audience heard the Cherniavskys in the Opera House last Friday night. The weather was very unfavorable and no doubt prevented many from driving in from points outside the town. The concert itself was one of the finest ever heard here and was keenly enjoyed by every music lover in the hall. The three brothers are musicians of extraordinary ability and brilliancy. They play in finished manner and their trio work was a revelation of unanimity in understanding and interpretation of the compositions they were heard in. The artists have a pleasing stage appearance and manner and were very kind in responding to the insistent demands for encores. The Cherniavskys appeared here under the auspices of the Daughters of the Empire, who will net about $40.00 after defraying all expenses.

—Mr. Wm. Cowie, West Broadway, is about town again after three weeks' illness from neuritis.

At the same meeting a short talk will be given on alfalfa, the king of legumes Write out your questions and bring them along.

The coming week the special lecturers will be Dr. J. A. Sinclair who will talk on the prevention and treatment of the common diseases of farm animals, and Mr. C. A. Cline of O. A.C., who will handle the important subject of soil fertility, fertilizers and their application.

Twenty-six have registered in the Home Economics class. We should like to see it doubled. Cooking demonstrations are given each day usually from 2.20 to 4. Anyone interested is welcome to come at any time.

BRAMPTON CHOIR WON

The choir of Grace Methodist Church, Brampton, won first prize at the Eisteddfod competition in Massey Hall, Toronto, on Saturday last. Citizens of Orangeville are interested in the win of the Brampton choir, owing to the fact that Mr. W. E. Capps, musical instructor in the Orangeville High and Public Schools, is the choirmaster. Mr. Capps is also in charge of the choral society that won second place in the choral society contest. In this event his society was beaten by a single point. The showing of the two organizations is a tribute to Mr. Capps' ability as an instructor.

MRS RICHARD BRETT

One of the pioneers of the Rosemont neighborhood died on the 13th inst. in the person of Mrs. Richard Brett, who had been ill a short time, though in failing health for some three years. Mrs. Brett died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Hamilton Hunter, in Mono, at the age of 87 years and during all those years had resided in the locality in which she was born. She was a member of the Little family, her father and mother having been among the first settlers in the district. Early in life she married Richard Brett and survived him nearly thirty years. Mrs. Brett was what the clergymen used to call a mother in Israel. She not only did her own domestic duties efficiently, but assisted the neighbors, worked in the church and entertained wayfarers, who, in the early days of settlement, were often overtaken by night when miles from their own homes. During her declining years, after half a century spent on one farm, she has lived with her daughter, Mrs. Hunter. Eight sons and five daughters survive—John Brett, of Alliston; Enos Brett, Shelburne; Albert Hanna, To- Richard, William, Charles, Thomas and Albert, all in British Columbia The daughters are Mrs. J. J. Hunte and Mrs. Hanna, of Toronto; Mrs. H. Hunter, Rosemont; Mrs. McNeil, of British Columbia, and Mrs. J. H. Mahon, Mansfield.—Alliston Herald. ing are 35 grandchildren and 25 great grandchildren, nine of whom were present at the funeral on Wednesday, the 14th inst. Service was conducted at the home by Rev. G. L. Gray and Rev. A. C. McCollum, after which the remains were brought to Alliston for interment in the Union Cemetery here. The pallbearers were six grandchildren—Earl Brett, Rosemont; Wycliffe Brett, Shelbuene; Albert Hanna, Toronto; Allan Hunter, Toronto; Harold Brett, Resemont, and Gerald McMahon, Mansfield.—Alliston Herald

TEACHING OF MANNERS

Parents should not entirely overlook the teaching of manners—that is, if they know what manners are themselves, for sometimes the grown ups are just about as badly deficient in this respect as any others.

Courtesy is nearly always noticed and favorably commented upon by others, and it is just about one of the best assets the young man or woman can possess. The trouble appears to be that a lot of young people who come from good homes either have never been taught good manners, or they are too indolent to demonstrate them, for they sometimes are amongst the most ill-bred in manner that we have to put up with.

The old-fashioned courtesy that men used to exercise towards women, and they to men, has mostly disappeared, but that need not excuse rudeness and coarseness. Courtesy may be expressed in a dozen different ways, and the hall mark of a gentleman is his attitude towards women. He may not feel impelled to give up his seat in a crowded street car to some woman idler who is less tired than he, but he will use judgment there as well as in other respects and give up his seat to the woman who requires one, the aged particularly. There are a dozen different ways, however, in which manners may be shown, and too often are not to-day. Let the parents spruce their young hopefuls up a bit in this respect.

Evangelina says that I ought to give a crack here at the fellows who are quick to give up their seat to a pretty girl, while they allow some plainer woman, not so well dressed, either, to remain standing. I suspect somehow that somewhere there is a hint there for me, for I have often been accused of having too keen an eye for a pretty girl and it has even been charged that I know too many of them on the street. Of course there is nothing, or next to nothing, in such talk. Evangelina tosses her head when I say it is only beauty calling to beauty when I stop to have a chat with a good-looking woman, and that I would just as soon give up my seat in a street car to a plain woman as a pretty woman. Whereat she hints that she has seen me keeping my seat when there were women standing, at which I enter a gentle disjoinder, declaring that it couldn't be so—not if I saw them standing. I am not the sort, you see, that sets up equal rights as an excuse—no sir, and if I am a long time seeing them standing that should not be blamed on me. A beautiful woman is worth looking at for some time, and it is natural we should see them soonest, even though some of our watchguards don't like to see us looking at them.

Several towns in Ontario have availed themselves of the legislation permitting of municipal elections on the first Monday in December and already election talk is waxing warm in these places. Stayner is the one in this district to make the change.

John Hollinger, known to many as Major Hollinger, died in Grand Rapids, Mich., recently. He was a former resident of Erin township and was a farmer on the 10th line. He was a veteran of the Fenian Raid. He was buiried in Hanover Ont.

What a Happy Disposition And Muskoka Can Do

Mary was one of those popular girls. Happy and busy, day and night—just hadn't time to do anything but dance and skate and frolic, no time at all to take care of her cough. Mary's father was dead—the family half suspected he died of Consumption. Suddenly and tragically. Consumption again stalked into the home. Two sisters were stricken and within a few months both rested in the family plot on a high hill overlooking Lake Erie. Mary's cold wouldn't be shaken—it grew worse, her temperature rose, and she became very weak indeed. She was sent to the Muskoka Hospital for Consumptives, where skilled treatment, fresh air and nourishing food are restoring her strength.

The Doctors say her youth and happy disposition will help her in the battle against Tuberculosis. Now and again her mother visits the hospital and she is very thankful indeed for the progress her only girl is making.

Contributions to aid Muskoka Hospital in its work may be sent to Hon. W. A. Charlton, 347 College Street, Toronto.

WAR ON RATS

Ferocious Brown Rat Spread From Asia to All Parts of World—Rats Frequent Toronto Civic Dumps.

At the suggestion of the Government, Britain has just celebrated "Rat Week," when many thousands of rodents were destroyed. Ferrets, traps, poison and chlorine gas were all employed in the warefare and followers of the cruel but useful sport of ratting with terriers were out in force. The British Ministry of Agriculture reckons that rats are just about as numerous in England as people, to wit, 40,000,000, and that they destroy each year, $75,000,000 worth of foodstuffs, besides doing much other damage. But the rat plague is just as bad in the United States, it appears, for the American Government estimates a rat population of 100,000,000, which destroys foodstuffs amounting to $200,000,000 annually. Rats, though troublesome enough in Canada, are apparently not so plentiful in proportion in this colder climate as in Britain or across the line.

Came From Central Asia.

The big brown rat is the most common the world over. Originating in Central Asia, the brown rat worked his way west, driving out the house-haunting species everywhere. Cunning and ferocious, this rodent spread over Europe in the early part of the 18th century, invaded England about 1730, was common in eastern American seaports by 1750, and by a century later had reached the Pacific Coast. Rats getting into ships' holds were carried to the four corners of the world.

Prior to the great migration of the brown rat, his cousin, the black rodent, indigenous to India and the East, was common throughout Europe, which he is supposed to have reached about the middle of the 13th century. The brown rat has however, almost exterminated him and he is rare to-day in the Northern States, though common in the South. It was the brown rat which haunted the trenches in France in such numbers during the earlier part of the war. The trench rats grew to enormous size and at night scampered in squealing hosts about the parapets. The more general use of gas decimated the rat army at the front.

Eat Anything, Very Prolific.

Rats are omnivorous in their diet, eating almost every kind of food fit for mankind. Fish, eggs, grain, vegetables and meat, all appeal to the rodent appetite. Their power of reproduction is extraordinary. From four to five litters are produced each year, each containing ten or twelve young, which, in their turn, become capable of breeding at six months. Under natural conditions this increase is kept down by the rats' natural enemies, the smaller mammal carnivories, snakes, owels, and hawks. Under artificial conditions, of course, the rat population increases at an alarming rate. Rats show much sagacity in avoiding poisoned foods and meal mixed with plaster of paris is said to be the most effective, the plaster having no poisonous taste and accomplishing its purpose by hardening inside the animal when it has been moistened in the process of mastication.

Gnawed Through Lead Pipe.

Rats are most difficult creatures to shut out. They have learned to gnaw their way through concrete floors, and will actually eat into metal. A local plumber not long ago showed The Telegram a piece of thin lead pipe which had been gnawed through by rats as neatly as though the operation had been performed with a sharp steel instrument. In their efforts to get at the water, which occasionally ran through it, the rats had gnawed right round the pipe, just as a beaver does when cutting down a tree. The pipe had been completely severd and the bevelled edge showed the fine tooth marks of the marauders.

Rats in Toronto.

As great a menace as his food and property-destroying activities are the rat's powers of spreading disease He haunts sewers and other filthy places and then carries the germs into houses. The dissemination of bubonic plague, for instance, is considered largely due to rats. Rats were evidently unknown here when Governor Simcoe made York (Toronto) the capital in 1793, and probably the first rodent arrived in the hold of some sailing vessel from Oswego or Rochester. Long years ago the old Toronto General Hospital on Gerrard street was notorious for the rats which haunted it and which for a time baffled all efforts to oust them. Modern buildings and sanitation make such conditions in hospitals impossible nowadays. But Toronto has its full share of rats, not only in the older sections, but in quite new parts of the city. Many complaints have been coming in to the city council concerning the rats from city dumps which have been invading houses. One woman exhibited eight rats which she had caught in traps. Urged by Alderman Shields, the civic authorities are taking steps to deal with the matter though Toronto is not yet faced with the necessity of having a "Rat Week."—Toronto Telegram.

WHERE DOES SANITY BEGIN

In view of the manner in which some people act without the slightest provocation, and the way in which others act with the least provocation, it begins to look at times as if there is something in the contention of certain authorities that all people are crazy on some subject or other. Perhaps if this view is correct there was not so very much wrong in the views of the old Quaker who confided to his wife, "All the world is queer but thee and me, and sometimes I think thee is a bit queer."

The theory may be carried to extremes as is shown in several recent cases of murder in our own province. A Welland man was convicted of murdering his wife. Insanity was the defense, but in this instance the jury was convinced that he was sane enough to know what he was about and pronounced judgment accordingly.

A short time ago a Hamilton youth who shot a fine, young girl in cold blood, was acquitted on the plea of insanity and is now in a provincial institution for the treatment of those criminally insane. An expert alienist gave testimony at the trial that he considered the young man sane enough to appreciate the gravity of his act. But he got off.

Now a third man, awaiting a second trial in London, is said to be in fear of an approaching brain-storm. The way is probably being paved for a similar plea at his second trial, notwithstanding the fact that many moons have elapsed since the killing and the suspect was sane enough to evade the authorities during most of the interval and to secure a living by his own wits.

Insanity seems to be a good plea when everything else fails, and things are approaching the stage where we shall have to secure a definite understanding as to where sanity stops and insanity begins.

Many are the instances going to show that the alleged perpetrator of a murder during a brainstorm did not fail to realize the efficacy of the weapons used, nor to display the utmost cleverness in trying to elude his pursuers or to escape the consequences of his action. They ought to receive little encouragement in this sort of thing, and in any event such men are a menace to society, and as such, if they escape the gallows, ought never again to be allowed the opportunity to again wreck their passion on society.

"SOONER" IS SOME DOG

Jack Anderson, of the 10th con. Sullivan, has an old hound on his farm which answers to the rather peculiar name of "Sooner." When out at his farm last summer we asked Jack what his dog's name was and when he said "Sooner," we replied "Sooner which?" and with a grin on his face, the owner of the dog jocularly remarked "Sooner sleep than work." But he really didn't mean it, for last week Jack skinned 6 fine mink and had it not been for the dog he would only have had four pelts hanging up in his woodshed, for old "Sooner" went out on his own hook and grabbed off two fine mink. He romped home with a mink between his teeth on two successive days. He made practically no objection when the first one was taken away from him, but Jack had to pry his jaws loose from the second one. Seems to us old "Sooner" would "sooner hunt than sleep."—Chesley Enterprise

Mr. J. D. Gilbertson, of Eden Mills, was found drowned in about 8 inches of water in a creek near his home. He had recently suffered a stroke and it is believed he missed the regular crossing at the creek took another stroke or fainting spell, and fell on his face in the water. He leaves a widow, three sons and two daughters.

THE CAUSE OF SICKNESS

Almost Always Due to Weak and Impoverished Blood.

Apart from accident or illness due to infection, almost all ill-health arises from one or two reasons. The mistake that people make is in not realizing that both of these have the same cause at the root, namely poor blood. Either bloodlessness or some other trouble of the nerves will be found to be the reason for almost every ailment. If you are pale, suffering from headaches, or breathlessness, with palpitation of the heart, poor appetite and weak digestion, the cause is almost always poor blood. If you have nervous headaches, neuralgia, sciatica and other nerve pains, the cause is exhausted nerves. But run-down nerves are also a result of poor blood, so that the two chief causes of illness are one and the same.

If your health is poor; if you are pale, nervous or dyspeptic, you should give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial. These pills act directly on the blood, and by enriching it give new strength to worn out nerves. Men and women alike greatly benefit through the use of this medicine. If you are weak or ailing, give Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial and you will be pleased with the beneficial results that will speedily follow.

If your dealer does not keep these pills, you can get them by mail at 50 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

You don't have to die to win

An advertisement to men in their "twenties" and "thirties"

$5,000 or $10,000 would come in mighty handy to you to-day, wouldn't it?

Think, then, how much more valuable it will be to you at forty-five or fifty.

Of course, you'll say, I'll have been successful and won't need it then. But stop! You may—and if you do, you'll need it more then than you do to-day.

Your producing years will be waning and $10,000 will mean all the difference between a dependent and an independent old age.

Man, there's a big idea back of Imperial Old Age Insurance—one that's mighty interesting to you. Let us send you particulars. Write for them now. A postal will do. Address:

Give Your Family A Maxwell Club Sedan For Christmas

If you have had in mind buying an automobile in the near future, decide now and make it a Christmas present—for yourself, your family, your friends.

The latest Maxwell triumph—the Club Sedan—is ideal for this purpose. It is a new expression of the popular Sedan idea—two-door friendliness with four-door facilities. No enclosed car on the market can excel it in usefulness and comfort.

Built on a standard Maxwell chassis, you can count on fine performance and reliability as a matter of course. And its price is little more than the cost of an open car.

A CORRECTION

To the Editor Orangeville Banner.
Dear Sir,—

Would you kindly permit me to correct a statement in your valuable paper re the article of last week on Grace Church choir, Brampton.

We have no Choral Society in Brampton (although prospects are that we will shortly have one) and the two prizes won, namely, the Toronto Welsh Eisteddfod and the Toronto Festivals, were both won by Grace Church choir.

Wishing your paper every success I am

Yours respectfully,
W. E. CAPPS

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Robert Trimble, who passed away in Orangeville on Dec. 21st, 1921.

In our hearts your memory lingers,
Sweetly tender, fond and true;
There is not a day, dear mother,
That I do not think of you.
Daughter Tillie.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of Richard Kelly, who passed away on Dec. 15th, 1922.

This day brings back to memory
A dear one gone to rest;
And those who think of him to-day
Are those who loved him best.

Death often comes to let us know
That we love more deeply than we show;
And love and death shall let us see
What love in life should always be.
Sister and Brother.

"Thou hast a few names even in Sardis, which have not defiled their garments; and they shall walk with me in white, for they are worthy."—Rev. 3:4.

IN MEMORIAM

In ever loving memory of my dear father, John Betteson, who entered into rest on Dec. 11th, 1919.

Dearest father, thou hast left me
Here thy loss I deeply feel;
But 'tis God Who hath bereft me,
He can all my sorrows heal.

'Twill only be a little while—
He has only gone before;
Then friends with friends shall meet
Where partings are no more.
Sadly missed by his daughter
Mrs. Geo. Westlake 23-2t.

NEW LAMP BURNS 95 P. C. AIR

BEATS ELECTRIC OR GAS

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 per cent. air and 6 per cent. common kerosene (coal oil.)

The inventor, F. N. Johnson, 246 Craig St. W., Montreal, is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him to-day for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

RELESSEY

Relessey S. S. will hold its Concert and Christmas Tree in the church on Friday evening, Dec. 21st. Relessey Dramatic Club will present the drama, "Mother Mine," and a programme of music, drills, dialogues, recitations, and speeches will be furnished. Admission, 35c and 20 cents.

HER ONLY FLIGHT THROUGH AIR

Little Nellie's mother was entertaining a famous aviator. After he had finished a thrilling story, little daughter sighed deeply and said:

"I've clear forgot how it feels to sail through the air."

"Why, Nellie," said her mother in a shocked voice, "you were never in the air in your life."

"Gracious, mamma! Have you forgotten that the stork brought me?"

TEN COMMANDMENTS

1. Handle the hardest job first each day. Easy ones are pleasures.
2. Don't be afraid of criticism—criticise yourself often.
3. Be glad and rejoice in the other fellow's success—study his methods.
4. Don't be mislead by dislikes. Acid ruins the finest fabrics.
5. Be enthusiastic—it is contagious.
6. Do not have the notion that success means simply money making.
7. Be fair, and do at least one decent act every day in the year.
8. Honor the chief. There must be a head to everything.
9. Have confidence, and make yourself it.
10. Harmonize your work. Let sunshine radiate and penetrate.

DEATH VISITS HOME TWICE WITHIN A WEEK

That dread disease, pneumonia, is responsible for the lives of two men from the home of Wm. G. Gott, of Proton, near Inistioge, and deep sympathy is felt in the community for the stricken family.

On Wednesday of last week John Irwin, who lived with the Gott family for a number of years, passed away after a short illness. He was 60 years old and had spent the most of his life in that vicinity. He is survived by one brother, Alex. Irwin, who resides in Collingwood. The funeral was held on Friday afternoon to Inistioge Cemetery, Rev. W. G. Blackwell officiating.

During the illness of Mr. Irwin a cold settled on Mr. Gott, the head of the house, and pneumonia soon developed, with fatal results, in spite of all that medical attention and faithful nursing could do. Mr. Gott passed away on Monday at the age of 45 years. He was born on the present Gott homestead and followed the occupation of farming and threshing.

He is survived by his wife and four children, a son and three daughters. He was a member of the Anglican Church.—Dundalk Herald.

RESCUED DOG FROM ICY WATERS

Mr. Frank Seeley, of the Collingwood gravel, did an act one day last week that stamps him a friend of dumb animals and a man whose sympathy goes out to suffering wherever he finds it. One day last week when driving to the station he saw a collie dog struggling in the ice and water at the Flesher pond, some distance from shore, where it had broken through the ice. Mr. Seeley unhesitatingly waded in, breaking the ice while he went, until he had waded up to his waist, and succeeded in carrying the drowning animal to shore. The dog could never have saved itself owing to the ice. Mr. Seeley carried the animal, which was a stray one, to the Park House, where it was warmed. Mr. Seeley secured a change of clothing from Mr. Robt. Down. Neither man nor dog suffered any evil effects from the cold douche.

We doff our hat to a man who would do an act of this nature.—Flesherton Advance.

BATTLE IN ENGINE CAB

As the C. P. R. mid-day passenger train speeded its way from Linwood to Listowel on Thursday last, passengers and rear officials were all unconscious of the battle being staged in the engine cab ahead between the fireman and the engineer, who, for long years, had been pals through cloudy and shiny weather. The fireman was a brawny native son of Caledonia and on gala days his tunic was clustered with medals that he had received in hard won competition at caber tossing, hammer throwing, shot putting, and other games that require strength and endurance and is a prince of good fellows, save when he encircles too much "hooch"

His mate was a man some years his senior, who is weighted with many more pounds of avoirdupois, physical qualities which do not contribute to one's staying powers. In the unequal contest he went down badly beaten, suffering several fractured ribs, but still tenacious enough to remain in the cab, until the engine, through gradually falling steam, came to a standstill at Dorking. His perilous plight being observed by the crew, he was removed to the baggage car. The fireman still remained in a pugnacious mood and it required the combined effort of three of the crew to reduce him to submission, when the conductor took charge of the throttle, no doubt in violation of union rules, and brought the train into Listowel over an hour late. The superintendent of the road was on the ground next morning and the fireman is now having holidays and will be fortunate if he does not lose his chance of preferment after being on the road for over a quarter of a century. His friends, and even all his crew mates with whom he was popular, would like to see him reinstated.

MADE HIM HOMESICK

"Shut that door!" yelled the rough man. "Where were you raised—in a barn?"

The man addressed complied, but the speaker, looking at him a moment later, observed that he was in tears. Going over to his victim, he apologized.

"Oh, come," he said soothingly "you shouldn't take it to heart because I asked you if you were raised in a barn."

"That's it, that's it," sobbed the other man. "I was raised in a barn and it makes me homesick every time I hear an ass bray."

"Hallo, Jimkins, I saw you carrying home a couple of fine-looking cucumbers last night. How much did they cost you?"

"I don't know yet, old man. The doctor is still up at the house."

George Harris, a well-known resident of Owen Sound, was fined $350 and costs, in all $356.60, in police court on a charge laid under the Ontario Temperance Act. He pleaded guilty to having, keeping or giving liquor in other than the private dwelling house in which he resides.

Dime Novelist's Fate

Author of 650 Tales

Inmate of Poor-house

A few days ago the doors of an Ohio poor house opened and received a mild, quiet, white-haired old gentleman who has probably caused more hair to stand on end, more flesh to creep and more cold chills to scuttle along the spine than any other living author. The aged inmate was no less a person than Thomas C. Harbaugh, the creator of old "Cap' Collier" and the author of 650 dime novels. He is 74 years old, in straitened circumstances, and intending to spend the remainder of his life as a paying guest at the above public institution.

Many a middle-aged man will recall the joy with which he surreptitiously devoured Harbaugh's thrillers. Their blood curdling titles and frontispieces were familiar thirty and forty years ago. The following are a few of the names of his acknowledged masterpieces: "Arkansas, the Man with the Knife, or The Queen of Fate's Revenge"; "The Condor Killers, or Wild Adventures of the Equator"; "Capt. Velvet's Big Stake, or, the Gold Goths of No Man's Land"; "Silk Hand the Mojave Ferret, or the Marked Man of Arizona"; "Red Pard and Yellow, or, the Nabobs of Centipede"; "Judge Lynch, Jr., or, The Boy Vigilante"; "Bill Bravo and His Bear Pards, or, The Roughs of the Rockies."

Though he did know Buffalo Bill personally, the dime novelist created his characters and their adventures principally from the depths of his imagination. This shy, retiring citizen, sitting in his study, allowed his mind to wander across Siberian steppes, Arizona deserts, through tropical jungles, and over Rocky Mountain trails, ruthlessly sacrificing the personages of his melodramas. In his 28 years of strenuous authorship he found it necessary to take thousands of lives. The right always prevailed, but at what a cost. In some of his dime and half-dime novels the hero and heroine were about the only survivors of the original company, and they were badly carved up and perforated.

Harbaugh had only six months schooling in his whole life. His lack of academic training, however, was never noticed by his readers. He was 19 years old when he started to write. Then he turned to dime novel writing and between 1869 and 1897, it is estimated that he wrote 5,000,000 words. Harbaugh's lurid depiction of Indians and desperadoes, and wild animals, earned him a nice income, but he was a free spender, and ere he left his home for the poor house he was glad to have a sale and take $1,000 for curios, etc., he possessed, among them letters he had from Mark Twain, Roosevelt, and a host of notables. That $1,000 was essential if he wanted to rank as a paying guest.

Harbaugh's style of fiction is as dead as the dodo to-day, but the old novels are valuable as curiosities of former American literature. New York Public Library has a set and Dr. Frank O'Brien of New York has just sold a set of 1,500 of Harbaugh's and his contemporaries to Huntington the collector. A single copy of "Grizzly Adams," by Dr. Frank Powell, a colleague of Harbaugh's, lately sold for $61 and another shocker, translated into seven different languages and of which 450,000 copies were sold, can be found to-day only in a museum.

Though its greatest exponent, Harbaugh was not the father of the dime novel. "Malesaska, the Indian Wife of the White Hunter," written by Mrs. Ann S. Stevens in 1860, is said to have been the first of that variety. It was an enormous success, and dime novels became very popular with the soldiers in the Civil War. To-day the average bright boy would laugh them to scorn. Times and tastes have changed. But 30 or 40 years ago, notes a writer in the New York Times, there was a real Wild West. Indians were more than a memory. The frontier was alive. The gun-wielding, bronco-busting cowboy and the stage coach robber were vivid realties which gave point to the tales. But to-day the boy finds his romance in the bicycle, the automobile, the movies, the airplane and the radio. He dreams of flying, not potting redskins. He has made Jules Verne the rule rather than the exception, and time has made the Verne sort of thing real.

Harbaugh, who never married, got $250 each for the longer and $150 each for the shorter of his multitudinous stories, of which the dimes averaged 60,000 words and the half-dimes less. But prosperity had been slipping fast when in 1913 he wrote "Kit Carson's Chum" and the last of his long list "The Czar's Spy," written when the great war was under way, found a public which had long outgrown that type of literature.

Fined For a Fashion!

As far back as the reign of Edward I. there was a form of jumper in vogue which was known as the cote-hardie.

In Henry IV.'s time the scalloping of ladies' skirts was not allowed, for in 1463 a law was passed against "the cutting of the edges of sleeves or the borders of gown into the form of letter, leaves, or other devices."

Even handkerchiefs were once regulated by law. There was an edict dated June 2nd, 1785, and issued by Louis XVI., at the request of Marie Antoinette, which decreed that "the length of handkerchiefs shall be equal to their width." Since then they have been square; and it seems likely that they will remain so.

The top-hat was first introduced in England by a Strand haberdasher named Hetherington. Such a large crowd was attracted that he was summoned on a charge of breach of the peace, and was required to give bonds to the value of $500.

BANQUET – PRESENTATION

Mr. and Mrs. Willoughby Honored Guests of Georgetown Golfers.

One of the most pleasant social events held in Georgetown for some time was the banquet tendered to Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Willoughby by Georgetown golfers last evening in the Oddfellows' assembly rooms in the Arena building. Over one hundred and fifty golfers sat down to artistically arranged and beautifully decorated tables, bountifully laden with roast chicken and all the necessary attributes that go to make up a delicious repast.

During the serving of the menu Mr. Codling led the chorus singing which added much to the pleasure of the evening.

A long toast list followed, during which Mr. J. L. Thompson read the following address, while Major Grant and Mr. Wm. McKay, two of our oldest and most revered golfers, presented Mr. Willoughby with a purse of gold and Mrs. Willoughby with a beautiful bouquet:

To Mr. and Mrs. Willoughby,—

It is with deep feeling of appreciation that the golfers of Georgetown and vicinity are gathered here to-night as hosts, deeming it a great pleasure to have you with us as guests of the evening.

Your attractive and magnificent golf course is one of beauty and pride to the citizens of Georgetown and visiting golfers. It is one of varying charms and holds the interest unbroken from first to final green. The idea or dream of this course came to you, who saw the wonderful possibilities of this former rough, wooded and hilly farm. Your dream has come true and by your liberal generosity are we privileged to enjoy this most fascinating game on such a course, which is not excelled anywhere in this fair Dominion of ours.

Praises on many occasions you have received from golfers of other places, but ours are given to you with deepest feeling and sincerity. It is now some four years since we have formed the true spirit of friendship as golfers. You both, by your public spirit and genial disposition, occupy a place of esteem and affection in our hearts.

Our sincere wish is that you may live long to enjoy the fruits of your labors and the ancient game on your lovely course which you so richly deserve.

We ask you to accept this purse and these flowers as a slight recognition of our appreciation.

Georgetown Golfers.

Mr. Willoughby very feelingly responded on behalf of himself and Mrs. Willoughby, thanking the golfers for their kind words and splendid gifts, which would long be cherished as fond recollections of the happy days spent with the golfers of Georgetown and vicinity.

Solos and instrumentals were rendered during the evening by Mrs. Codling, Miss Leavitt, J. B. Wallace, C. Codling, R. Y. Weymss, A. Herbert, A. Thurston and others.

The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing and social intercourse.

Much thanks is due the ladies who were responsible for the splendid menu provided.—Georgetown Herald.

LIQUOR SEIZURE

A. J. Tuohy, of Meaford, Arrested, But Allowed Out on Bail of $1,000.

Tuesday morning of last week Provincial Constable Jones, Inspector Matthew C. Beckett, Inland Revenue Officer Col. W. N. Chisholm and County Constable Gordon swooped down on the Queen's Hotel, Meaford, searched the hotel and hotel stables, and discovered over one hundred bottles of whiskey, White Horse, Imperial, Gin and some without labels at all. A. J. Tuohy, proprietor of the hotel, was arrested by Constable Jones and taken to Owen Sound, where he appeared before Justice of the Peace Menzies, and was allowed out on bail, $500 by himself, and $250 each by two friends from Meaford.

It was about 7.30 o'clock in the morning when the officers called at the hotel, and told the proprietor that it was their intention to conduct a search of the premises. Inspector Beckett and Col. Chisholm remained inside the hotel, while the search outside was left to Constable Jones and Constable Gordon. The searchers inside returned with nothing. The hotel stable, with the exception of two locked stalls or stalls, was searched without success. The officers demanded that the doors of the rooms be unlocked, and inside the cache under the floor was discovered. There was whisky of all sorts. The whole was confiscated and taken to Owen Sound where it was stored in the room kept for the purpose by the Inland Revenue Department at the Post Office.

The haul is one of the largest that has been made in Grey County for some time, and the loss to the owner of the liquor will be about $700. Tuohy was brought before Justice of the Peace Menzies, who remanded him.

A WEIGHTY ENQUIRY

A very stout man mounted the scales of a weighing machine and dropped a penny in the slot.

There was a clanking and ratting, and finally the pointer came to a standstill somewhere not far from the 250 pound mark

There was an unseen witness to the ceremony, and as the big man woefully contemplated the result, the voice of a small boy piped up from behind him:

"Say, Mister, how many times did it go round?"

This year the Welland canal may remain open longer than usual. The canal closed December 14 in 1922

"I Had Bilious Attacks and Stomach Weakness"

Mrs. Wm. Robinson, Tonkar, Sask., writes:

"I suffered from stomach and liver trouble, and used to have bilious attacks so bad that I could do nothing for weeks at a time. My stomach would be so weak that not even a drink of water would stay on it. On my sister's advice, I began to use Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and must say that they have made me feel like a new woman."

The New Ford Coupe

An entirely new body design of remarkable beauty as well as practical utility, is the distinguishing feature of the new Ford Coupe.

The body lines follow in one graceful sweep from the new high radiator to the "Turtle-back" curve of the rear deck, which has been enlarged to conveniently accommodate bulky grips and packages.

Upholstering is luxuriously deep both in the seat and back, the covering being of rich brown broadcloth with mahogany stripe. A recess shelf is provided behind the seat, for parcels.

Interior fittings include revolving window regulators, and door locks and handles finished in nickel. The large rear window is fitted with silk poplin shade in dull silvered mountings.

The windshield is surmounted by a broad sun-visor, which protects the eyes from glare.

As a handsome and practical all-weather car for town or country, the new Ford Coupe cannot be surpassed.

FIVE YEARS' AGONY ENDED

When He Took "Fruit-a-tives" For Rheumatism

The Medicine Made From Fruit

There can be no doubt that "Fruit-a-tives" is the long sought remedy for Rheumatism and Lumbago. From all over Canada come letters testifying to this fact.

Mr. John E. Guilderson of Parrsboro, N.S. writes: "I suffered badly with Rheumatism for five years—tried different medicines—was treated by doctors in Amherst—and here at home—but the Rheumatism came back.

In 1916, I saw an advertisement for "Fruit-a-tives" and took a box and got relief, so I took them for about six months and the Rheumatism was all gone and I have never felt it since".

FUR BUGLARIES IN DUNDALK

At Goldman's Early Saturday Morning and at Tinianov's Monday Morning.

Double burglary within two days is a rare occurrence in this great raw fur shipping point. Dundalk was all agog on Saturday morning, when it was reported that Sam Goldman's house was broken into and furs stolen to the value of $300. A ladder belonging to Wesley Lonsway, a near neighbor, was borrowed for the purpose of getting in an upstair window at Goldman's. Furs, consisting mostly of red fox in a parcel belonging to Max Woonsch, of Toronto, a fur buyer who was sleeping in the house, were taken and exit made by a back door. Mrs. Goldman was awakened by a noise in the house and Sam being away from home she raised an alarm and knocked on the door of the room where Woonsch was sleeping. He woke up but was in a stupor and fell asleep again. On arising for the day he discovered that his furs were missing. He got into communication with the authorities at Owen Sound and Provincial Constable Jones motored here Sunday morning and with Constable Rice made an examination of the Goldman premises under a search warrant without result. The fur buyer was intimating that Mrs. Goldman knew something of the furs. This Mrs. Goldman flatly denies.

The second chapter of this burglary story had a change of scene. Woonsch didn't stay at Goldman's any more but went over to stay at I. Tianianov's, the other Jewish fur-dealer in town. He bought the latter's stock of mink, numbering 189 pelts, for which he tendered a cheque on a Toronto bank for $2000 signed by Isaac Fisher and M. Woonsch. The deal was to be completed on Monday when the cheque would be verified by the bank. In the meantime Tinianov's house was broken into in a similar manner to that of the Goldman house two nights before—a ladder and an upstair window. The whole stock of mink, 89 coon and 7 fox pelts, part of which were in the stable at the rear, were stolen. Access to the stable was gained by breaking a heavy lock. There is apparently no clue left by the robbers. Woonsch left on Monday for Owen Sound to get a detective and has not yet returned. Tinianov's loss is estimated at $3,000.

Here's a case now on which any of the followers of Sherlock Holmes or Deadeye Dick can puzzle their brains.—Dundalk Herald.

THE VOLTAGE OF A LIGHTNING FLASH

When a great storm is raging, with flashes of lightning illuminating the sky and thunder crashes deafening our ears, we realize something of the stupendous powers of electricity.

If a cat's back is rubbed in the dark during hot, dry weather, sparks will often fly from it. They are perfectly harmless, though they are identical with lightning flashes, and the crackling that accompanies them is thunder on a small scale.

In a thunderstorm the earth represents your hand, and the clouds are the cat's back. The pressure that causes a flash of lightning may be as much as 1,000,000,000 volts—is 5,000,000 times greater than that which is used for household lighting.

Could we collect and harness the power set free by a single flash of lightning we should have at our disposal a force greater than anything that can be produced by man.

In a famous scientist's laboratory the experiment was tried of producing a million-volt spark. It leapt a ten-foot gap with a noise like the explosion of a bomb, and came near to wrecking the entire building. This is the highest pressure that has so far been produced artificially.

Most of the lightning in a thunderstorm does not come near the earth, but flashes from cloud to cloud. Occasionally a fork tongue leaps from cloud to earth, and then anything in its path is destroyed.

CRIME AND THE MENTAL DEFECTIVE

(Dr. J. G. Shearer.)

All Canada was shocked at the bungled and twice attempted execution of a young man who had been convicted of a brutal murder in an Eastern Province in the recent past.

The bungled execution by a drunken hangman was shocking enough. But the more shocking thing was the murder because Society itself was really more to blame than the poor mentally defective murderer. He should have been, from his early years, a ward of society, protected from the terrible perils of liberty among normal people whose competition, temptations, and taunts led him to fall into illicit sexual association, fits of temper, and finally a frenzy of jealousy which drove him to his awful deed and to end his life on the gallows.

His is by no means an exceptional case. A great many of the most brutal murders and other shocking deeds of violence are committed by irresponsible feeble-minded men or women, who, instead of being exposed to unfair competition and overpowering temptation at the hands of normal and unscrupulous fellow-citizens, ought to have been discovered in childhood as subnormal and to have been cared for in the protected atmosphere of a rural and industrial training school adapted to their peculiar needs, such as we have now in some provinces of Canada, and in many American States and in the United Kingdom.

Dr. H. H. Goddard, of Vineland, N. J., gives three selected feeble-minded murderers in his book on "The Criminal Imbecile."

One of these, Jean Gianini, a youth of sixteen, a fairly high grade moron, because he had been placed in the dunce's corner by his teacher for some breach of discipline or failure in his lesson, in a spirit of revenge enticed his teacher outside the village and with an old monkey wrench with which he had armed himself brutally beat her to death and gloried in the publicity his terrible deed had given him.

Another, Roland Pennington, a farm hand, of imbecile mental status, led on by the farm manager who was jealous of the farm owner, brutally attacked the latter and with the help of the manager did the victim to death in horrible fashion. Both manager and boy were convicted and executed—which was gravely unjust to this poor boy.

The third, Fred Tronson, an elevator man, was attracted to a stenographer, whom his elevator carried up and down daily, proposed marriage, was refused, bought two revolvers, followed the young lady on the street car to her home, again proposed and being again refused opened fire and finished his brutal deed inside the girl's home into which she fled. He too was an imbecile. Being convicted he was given a life sentence in the penitentiary. His life should have been, from early years, spent in a training school or colony for the feeble-minded, where he would have been happy, contented and safe in this protected atmosphere and the community safe from the crimes he was liable to commit. Dr. C. K. Clark, the great alienist, is quoted as saying that probably one half of all crime in general is due to the non-care of these well-intentioned, weak-minded but dangerous potential criminals.

When will governments learn the wisdom of discovering and properly caring for these unfortunate creatures and so protecting them and the public from the very serious dangers to which they are constantly exposed? Probably not until the public gets to know the alarming facts and insistently presses for action. Even in money it costs less to care for these potential criminals before they become actual assaulters, murderers, prostitutes, incendiaries and the like.

The discovery at Orillia recently of 36 human skulls, unearthed while workmen were engaged in digging a drain, recalls the massacre of Huron braves almost three hundred years ago at the time of the Great Iroquois invasion in March, 1649. Orillia is the site of the ancient Huron village of Cahiague. The scene of the discovery is in the western suburbs of the town, on the lot of Bert Milne. A sewer was being constructed across the property and in making the excavation workmen came across no less than three dozen skeletons.

William Sproat, a native of Ceylon, who went to New Ontario and later to the West, has made his mark in Hollywood, California, in the movie business. He was at Matico when the American balloonists made a sort of sensation, acting as a fur buyer for the Hudson Bay Co. He met Lawrence Trimble, a movie man who was there to film "Baron of the North," engaging Sproat and his wonderful team of dogs. So well did young Sproat acquit himself that he found a new job at a big salary and is now doing similar work for movie land.

35 Years of Protection Yielded $426.94 Profit

TAKE the Mutual Life Endowment policy number 17631, which matured last year. Premiums, during the period of 35 years which the policy ran, totalled $590.64. The Mutual Life of Canada paid $1,017.58. That means that after 35 years of insurance protection, during the whole of which the company was responsible for the full face value of the policy, this policyholder received his money back, plus $426.94. In other words, for every $100 he paid in to the company, the company paid him back $172.28.

This case is not exceptional.

If you wish to know more about the Mutual Profit-Participating Endowment Policy, the coupon below is ready at your hand. Fill in, mail to us, and the information will be forwarded promptly.

FARMER ESCAPES, BUT HIS BARN BURNS

Alex. Stewart, Sydenham, Falls Over Lantern During Weak Spell.

That Alex Stewart, a farmer residing on the Lake Shore Line, Sydenham, between Bothwell's Corners and Annan, escaped with his life in a fire which destroyed a barn on his property Sunday evening, is quite miraculous.

Mr. Stewart had gone to the barn 40 rods from the house, shortly after 5 o'clock to pitch down some hay for the stock, taking along with him a lighted lantern. He was otherwise unaccompanied. Stricken on the barn-floor with a weak spell, he fell forward on top of the lantern in an unconscious state, putting himself in a very precarious position.

The hay and straw on the floor of the barn caught fire immediately from the overturned lantern and the blaze spread. And all this time Mr Stewart was lying on the floor no knowing what was going on around him. When he came to the fire was raging quite fiercely, and, although burned about the hands, arms and side, he made his way through the smoke to the door, went down to the stable below and let out the cattle tied there.

Despite everything that was done to save the barn and its contents all was lost in the blaze. The whole of Mr. Stewart's grain crop, between 800 and 1000 bushels, was destroyed, together with hay and straw, which filled the mows. A buggy was the only implement or vehicle burned, as these were kept in the other barn near the house, as well as horses and other stock.

The barn and contents were only one-quarter covered by insurance and Mr. Stewart estimates his loss as being in the neighborhood of $2500. Owing to the direction in which the wind was blowing a slaughter-house and another outbuilding situated nearby, were saved, as well as the house.

Mr. Stewart does not know whether or not he will replace the barn which was 36 by 42 feet, and was situated one and one-half miles north of Bothwell's Corners. — Owen Sound Sun-Times.

EAST GARAFRAXA COUNCIL

Marsville, Nov. 17, 1923.

The Council met on the above date as a Court of Revision on Drains Nos. 1 and 2, East Luther, and Drain No. 7, East Garafraxa, and for the transaction of other business. Members present: Reeve Hunter, Councillors Heath, Hoare, Haws and McCormick.

The members signed the necessary declaration and took their seats as a Court of Revision.

As there were no appeals the Court rose and proceeded with other business.

Hoare-McCormick—That the Engineer's assessment on Drains Nos. 1 and 2, East Luther, and Drain No. 7, East Garafraxa, be adopted and confirmed.—Carried.

Haws-Hoare—That By-law No. 270 to provide for improvement of Drains Nos. 1 and 2, East Luther, and No. 7, East Garafraxa, be now read a third time, passed, signed, sealed and engrossed in By-law Book.—Carried.

Heath-Haws—That the following accounts be paid:—Wheelock and Christie, work in connection with the Wilson and Curtis bridges, $125; A. Henderson, lumber, $27.97; R. Batho, contractor on Curtis bridge, $740.25; John Kidd, contractor, balance on contract, 11th line river bridge, $620.00; Burlington Steel Co., $66.95; R. J. Gillespie, dragging 8th line, $5.00; H. Ferns, gravel, $29.10; J. G. Brown, wire fence bonus, $3.00; Ingot Iron Co., for culverts, $517.40; Thos. Taylor, 1 sheep killed by dogs, $12.00; N. Thompson, putting in two culverts on 13th line, $10.00; Wm. Haws, to pay award for land damages and bridges over Drain No. 8, $158.00; L. Boggs, fees for work on Drains, $50.00; Jas. Byers, removing logs and repairing culvert on 13th line, $14.50.—Carried.

Hoare-Heath—That this Council do now adjourn to meet again on Saturday, Dec. 15th, at the hour of 10 o'clock a.m.—Carried.

W. H. HUNTER, Reeve. L. BOGGS, Clerk.

Joseph Woods has sold his pasture farm on the 4th concession East Luther, to Irvine Carter, who lives on the adjoining property, for a sum around $4,200. Mr. Carter in turn sold a 50-acre property at the rear of his farm to Mr. Alex. J. Blair.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Reid visited in Toronto last week.

Mr. S. H. Langford and son, of Owen Sound, spent Tuesday in town.

Mrs. Jas. Dodds is visiting her sister, Mrs. Geo. Dodds, of Primrose.

Miss Jessie Mossop, of Toronto is visiting her cousin, Miss Viola Gilmore.

Miss Alma Gallaugher, of Alliston, is holidaying with Miss Helena Rawn, of Orangeville.

Miss Lorna Bracken returned home on Saturday night after spending a week with Alliston and Barrie friends.

Mr. Allan Marshall, Guelph, and Mr. Milton Stewart spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. W. N. McKinnon, Kitchener.

Miss L. Bell has returned home after visiting her brothers in London and Hamilton for a month.

Mr. Clarence McConnell, of Toronto, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John McConnell, for a few days last week.

Messrs. R. A., George and Thos Irwin, of Toronto, were in town on Friday attending the funeral of the late Mrs. William Irwin.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. McCarthy and daughter, Irene, of Orangeville, are spending a three weeks' vacation visiting friends and relatives at Mactier, Sudbury and other point.

Mrs. H. S. Farnell, of Laurel wishes to announce the engagement of her youngest daughter, Jessie Maude, to George Herbert Kinsley only son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kinsley, 3rd line, Amaranth. The marriage will take place early in January.

The Banner had a pleasant call on Tuesday afternoon from an old and valued subscriber in the person of Mr. R. G. Canning, of Jarlsberg Parry Sound, formerly of Mono. Mr. Canning and his sons are in the lumbering business on a large scale in the Parry Sound district and he was called to Toronto on business last week and took the opportunity to pay former friends here a few days' visit. Our visitor says that this has been a very good year in the lumber business and he considers the outlook favorable for the coming year. Mr. Canning started sawmilling when barely nineteen years of age. At that one would never suspect that he had followed this business for almost fifty years so well has he withstood the inevitable inroads of time.

HOSPITAL NOTES

The regular monthly meeting of Lord Dufferin Chapter, I. O. D. E. will be held at the home of Mrs W. J. Adams, Sarah St., on Friday afternoon, Dec. 14th, at 3 o'clock.

BLACK'S MAJORITY 1,794

Conservatives Score Big Win in Halifax Bye-election.

William A. Black, by a majority of 1,794, is the Conservative member-elect for Halifax, winning over George A. Redmond, the Liberal candidate in the bye-election on Dec. 5th to fill the vacancy created by the elevation of Hon. A. K. Maclean to the Exchequer Court bench. Mr. Black had a majority in all the city divisions.

Halifax Herald: The victory yesterday is the triumph of the people. Under the leadership of W. A. Black the independent and conscientious electors of this constituency marched to the poll in battalions to rebuke a government that has been faithless in performance and whose only recourse was the making of more delusive promises. The victory is not a mere party triumph. It is a triumph of principles over partisan opportunism and deception.

Halifax Chronicle: Against a constructive program such as Halifax has not had the opportunity of supporting in many a year, the opposition carried the day on a campaign of blue ruin.

SCHOOL TEACHER HONOR'D

The people of S. S. No. 1, Caledon, spent an enjoyable evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Heard on Thursday evening, Nov. 28th, when Miss Pearl Fleetham, former teacher in that school, was presented with a beautiful dark oak wicker chair and table. The following address was read by one of her former pupils:

To Miss Pearl Fleetham,—

We, the people of S. S. No. 1, have assembled this evening to express our interest in you, and appreciation of your work as our teacher. For the six years you have been the teacher in our school you have evidenced remarkable energy. You gave yourself devotedly to the work of teaching. You were deeply interested in each individual pupil, endeavoring in every possible way to understand the different temperaments and dispositions and to meet the requirements of each member of your school. As education is a leading out and development of the inherent powers of the individual you have proven yourself a success in your profession, for there are many to bear testimony to the fact that you have inspired, enthused, and led them forth through such development into a larger life.

You have greatly endeared yourself to the people of the section, being an ever welcome guest in our homes, and we would now assure you that that same welcome continues.

And now, having learned that you are about to become mistress of a home, we herewith ask you to accept this chair and stand as a further token of our esteem for you. And as we think of that eventful day of your life so near, the prayer of our hearts is well expressed in the words of a beautiful hymn:

Be present, Holy Saviour,
To join their loving hands,
As Thou didst bind two natures
In thine eternal bands.

Be present, Holy Spirit,
To bless them as they kneel;
As Thou for Christ, the Bridegroom,
The heavenly spouse dost seal.

O spread Thy pure wings o'er them,
Let no ill power find place,
While onward to Thy presence,
The hallowed path they trace.

Trapped in bin of blaking cotton in Hamilton cotton plant, William Murray and Robert Hotrum were severely, if not fatally, burned.

Mr. Thorpe Wright, a pioneer at Flesherton, and a former well-known and very highly respected old resident of Artemesia, died at his home at West Toronto at midnight on Wednesday, November 28th, in his 89th year.

CANADIAN WHEAT IS WINNER

First Prize at Chicago is Awarded to Alberta Farmer.

Canadian Boys Are Among the Best in the World.

At the big stock and grain exhibition in Chicago last week an Alberta farmer won first prize for hard, red spring wheat. That's the kind of wheat we have been mixing with our softer Ontario fall wheat to produce the flour that makes the toothsome flaky bread that the people of this province have been enjoying for so many years. The wheat of India, Russia, the Argentine and United States feeds a large part of the world who don't know what they are missing by never getting a taste of bread made from flour from Western-grown wheat. Then, too we have only one real competitor for Canadian butter, the Danish, and the supply of beef, pork and mutton seems unlimited in this country. If Canadian farmers are not getting rich quick on the prices they get for their produce, they are faring sumptuously on the best bread butter and meat in the world, so it might easily be a great deal worse. In the judging class at this big world show students from the Ontario Agricultural College took second prize in stock-judging, showing that our young men from the old farms are among the best posted in the world on the fine points of stock raising. A graduate of the Ontario Agricultural College also won the championship for the best individual collegiate judge of all classes of livestock. Hurrah! Who says our Canadian farmers are spending their days like the prodigal son in riotous living or gallivanting around the country in the mad automobile race! Bring such an one into our sanctum till we stick his nose in our ink keg until he consents to sign a retraction of such a defamatory libel. Canadian boys are among the best in the world; the world isn't growing worse as some anivelling old pessimists contend, because so many young farmers of to-day do not like growing peas because it is claimed to be a hard crop to handle. That's not the reason at all. The pea weevil has made pea-growing unprofitable We feel optimistic enough as we write this to go on a farm and neighbor with that young man, John Jackson, but for the fact that our legs wouldn't stand the strain. After handling the pen for 32 years we had better stick to it for a few years longer instead of entering a ploughing competition. — Chesley Enterprise.

DOGS GREATER THAN GODS

One day when Zalim Singh, a Christian convert, was crossing the Ganges in the same boat with two Brahmans, they began to reproach him for having become a Christian. What do you know, you ignorant fellow, of your own religion or of Christianity?"

Zalim replied: What you have said, pundits, about my ignorance is all true, but whether I have acted foolishly in ceasing to worship my thakur (household idol) in another thing. I have a capital god at my house; he was beautifully made and cost me some money, for the man who made him was a skilled workman, and I paid him handsomely. But, look here, pundits, suppose I had my thakur here in this boat, and in my right hand I took my thakur and in my left hand this little dog, and cast them both in the Ganges, what would become of them?"

The pundits were silent, but the people said: "Why, the god, being of stone, would sink, and the dog would swim ashore."

"If so," the Christian replied, "then the dog must be greater than the god, for he san save himself, which the god cannot do! Do not expect me, pundits, to worship a god which is inferior to a dog. No! I will no longer worship a stone, but I will worship Him who made the stone. I worship the Lord Jesus, who died for me, and Him only will I serve." He knew that the service of Jesus was one of peace and joy for Jesus says, "Take my yoke upon you and learn of me. My yoke is easy, and my burden is light." Have you entered upon this service?

Three owners of garages and one pool room proprietor at Thornbury were prosecuted for carrying on business without a Provincial license. All four were summoned to appear before a presiding Justice of the Peace, who imposed a stiff fine and costs in each case.

MAN FINED $300 WOMAN $100 UNDER NEW HOTELS ACT

Frank Ross and Woman Brought to Owen Sound From Meaford Hotel.

Frank Ross, whose permanent place of residence is Niagara Falls, Ont., and who has been living in Meaford for several months past, was convicted in Police Court in Owen Sound under the new Standard Hotels Registration Act of 1923 which came into force on May 8 last.

Ross and the woman with whom he had been living were fined $300 and costs and $100 and costs respectively, by Magistrate Creasor upon pleading guilty to the charges laid against them.

Provincial Constable Jones and License Inspector Beckett visited Meaford Wednesday afternoon and brought the pair back to Owen Sound. They appeared in court upon their arrival with the result that they pleaded guilty and were fined.

The charge was laid under section five of the Act, which states that a man may not procure lodging in a standard hotel for himself and a woman not his wife, and that both man and woman are liable for such an offence. It is new legislation with which the public has not become entirely familiar.

Ross denied that he was married. The woman in the case is said to be a member of a respected family in Hamilton.

Kitchener plant of Dominion Sugar Co., at Kitchener, lately closed will not be reopened.

Mother Had to Be Parted From Baby Boy

Little Jack is in a distant city. His mother is many miles away, and true to the old saying about distance making the heart grow fonder, Jackie's mother longs and longs for a sight of her little man. Now if it were only a case of miles and dollars she might somehow or other come home occasionally, but it's more than that. She has consumption.

When she thinks of the once happy triangle—mother, father and child—its mighty hard to keep from tears. She won't let Daddy bring Jack down to see her, despite the tug at the heart strings. "No," she says, "Jackie must not come, he might get consumption, too." So Jack lives with his grandmother, Daddy works in a machine shop, and mother is faithfully obeying doctor's and nurse's orders at the Muskoka Hospital for Consumptives. She hopes to be home for Christmas—healthy and happy.

Contributions to aid Muskoka Hospital in its work may be sent to Hon. W. A. Charlton, 223 College Street, Toronto.

THE MYSTERY OF CHINA

The most inscrutable of all peoples are the Chinese; no one can say exactly what was the past history of this mysterious race, though there can be little doubt that they were civilized whilst we of the western world were still barbarians.

We always ascribe the invention of printing from type to a Dutchman, who taught the art to William Caxton, the first English printer. Caxton has been dead only three and a half centuries, but the Chinese undoubtedly used type of the most modern kind more than two thousand years ago.

There is not a shadow of doubt that they used the mariner's compass ages before it came to the west and their ancient records show that they possessed quite a good working knowledge of electricity. They had something very like the telephone ages before Edison was thought of. Gunpowder came into use in Europe about 600 years ago, when the Chinese had been using it for centuries They were the first users of poison gas, which they employed in warfare a thousand years before the Huns re-invented it in 1914.

The Chinese were making the most perfect pottery at a time when our ancestors ate and drank from the crudest clay vessels. Bu whereas we have advanced by leap and bounds, China has stood still or even gone backward. Many of her old secrets are lost; she is glad to-day to re-learn from the west the art of making things which were produced thousands of years ago within her own borders.

CHILDHOOD CONSTIPATION

Constipated children can find prompt relief through the use of Baby's Own Tablets. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which never fail to regulate the bowels and stomach, thus driving out constipation and indigestion; colds and simple fevers. Concerning them Mrs. Gaspard Daigle, Demain, Que., writes: "Baby's Own Tablets have been of great benefit to my little boy, who was suffering from constipation and indigestion. They quickly relieved him and now he is in the best of health." The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers, or by mail, at 25 cents a box, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

While walking home from the Cumnock Methodist Church on a recent Sunday, Mrs. Emery Flewelling was surprised to see a fine large frog hopping about in a field on Mrs. Muir's farm, apparently in full confidence that the frost, which usually puts an end to the activities of his family much earlier in the season was still a long way off.

THREE HOME HINTS

When the knob comes off a kettle, run a screw of suitable size up through the hole. Take a good-sized cork and gently, but firmly, press it downward, "threading" it on to the screw. You will thus have an excellent new knob, which has the advantage of never growing too hot and of being easily replaced at any time.

Instead of stitching the fourth side of a cushion cover, sew on a few press-stud fasteners. The cover can then be removed and slipped on again at any time, for laundry purposes, without trouble of unpicking and restitching.

Keep near the sink in the pantry and kitchen a cork at least two inches in diameter, and a cleanser ordinarily used for scouring. Dip one end of the cork in the cleanser and rub it over any knives to be cleaned. In this way they are quickly and easily scoured.

SOUVENIR PROGRAMMES

NEW LAMP BURNS 95 P. C. AIR

BEATS ELECTRIC OR GAS

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 per cent. air and 6 per cent. common kerosene (coal oil.)

The inventor, F. N. Johnson, 246 Craig St. W., Montreal, is offering to send a lamp on 10 days FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him to-day for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

BUY A BRUNSWICK!

FACTS AND FIGURES THAT TELL WHY THE BRUNSWICK IS THE ONLY COMPLETE PHONOGRAPH

The Brunswick Phonograph is manufactured from top to bottom under ONE roof.

Are probably the only phonograph manufacturers actually doing this.

Have at present eight factories in which Brunswick Phonographs and Parts are manufactured, and three factories devoted to the pressing of Brunswick Records.

Operate their own Timber Lands.

Cut their own veneer logs and slice their own veneer.

Manufacture their own panels.

Manufacture their own shipping cases for phonographs.

Are capitalized for $56,000,000.00.

The Brunswick is made by the Brunswick-Balke-Collender Co., at their factory, Toronto.

The Brunswick Phonograph is guaranteed for one year by the manufacturers.

In the light of these facts the notable confidence and enthusiasm which, shared alike by all connected with the Brunswick Phonograph in any capacity, are easily understandable.

You don't have to die to win

An advertisement to men in their "twenties" and "thirties"

$5,000 or $10,000 would come in mighty handy to you to-day, wouldn't it?

Think, then, how much more valuable it will be to you at forty-five or fifty.

Of course, you'll say, I'll have been successful and won't need it then. But stop! You may—and if you do, you'll need it more then than you do to-day.

Your producing years will be waning and $10,000 will mean all the difference between a dependent and an independent old age.

Man, there's a big idea back of Imperial Old Age Insurance—one that's mighty interesting to you. Let us send you particulars. Write for them now. A postal will do. Address:

WM. ERSKINE DEAD

William Erskine, for many years a prominent druggist in St. Catharines and one of the city's ex-Aldermen, died in Hamilton last week following an illness of some considerable duration. Deceased, who was born in the neighboring village of Alton 66 years ago, was a druggist in Orangeville for several years moving from this town to St. Catharines. He was a prominent member of the Orange Order and was a Past County Master of Lincoln County L. O. L. He was also a member of Arabs Preceptory Royal Black Knights and of St. George's Lodge, A. F. & A. M., and had served on St. Catharines Library Board. He is survived by a family of grown-up sons and daughters.

MRS. HONORA ELGIE

Tuesday of last week Mrs. Honora Elgie passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. M. E. Daly, 54 Sparkhall Ave., Toronto, at the ripe age of 96 years. Born in Ireland, deceased came to Canada at the age of 3 years and resided in Mono for over fifty years, before removing to Toronto 23 years ago. She was a member of the Roman Catholic church and is survived by four sons, John T., Mono, and Joseph, George and William, in Western Canada, two daughters, Mrs. Daly and Mrs. M. J. Parry, of Toronto, twenty-three grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. Her husband, Thos. Elgie, died thirty years ago.

MRS. ROBERT SOUTH

Mrs. Robert G. South, a former well-known resident of the Camilla neighborhood, passed away in St. Joseph's Hospital, Guelph, on Sunday, December 9th, at the age of 59 years, 7 months and 21 days. Heart trouble was the immediate cause of death. Although in the hospital only a week, Mrs. South had been in failing health for the last year or longer. Deceased, whose maiden name was Elizabeth Hilliard, was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hilliard, of Mono and Caledon. She was married to Robert South about 38 years ago and lived in the Camilla district until three years ago, when her husband disposed of his property and moved to Guelph. Mr. South died on September 15th, 1922, a little over one year ago. The surviving sons and daughters are:—Robert E. and W. H. South, of Guelph; William P. and Manuel, of Toronto; John Edward and Misses Annie and Minnie, of Guelph; Mrs. Alex Buchanan, of Mono, and Mrs. J. E. Patterson, of Orangeville. Mrs. Alex. Lundy, of Palgrave, is the only sister living and Messrs. Jas. and Thos. Hilliard, of Alton, are the brothers. The late Mrs. South was a consistent member of St. Andrew's Church, Camilla. As a neighbor she enjoyed the confidence and esteem of the people amongst whom she lived. Her memory will be tenderly cherished by the members of her family circle, to whom she was a tender, affectionate and thoughtful mother, who found one of the chief joys of life in the happiness and welfare of her children. The remains were brought to Orangeville for burial, the funeral taking place from the home of her son-in-law, Mr. J.E. Patterson, First Ave., to the Forest Lawn Cemetery, on Tuesday afternoon, Dec. 11th. Rev. Wm. Coutts, of Camilla, conducted the service at the house and grave and was assisted by Rev. F. W. Mahaffy, of Orangeville. The pallbearers were the five sons and a son-in-law, Mr. Alex. Buchanan. The floral tributes included a wreath from the family, a spray from the brothers and sister, pillow from the Daylight Electric Co. employees, Guelph; wreath from the Tolton employees, Guelph; wreath from the Plant Council Bell employees, Guelph; a sheaf from Mr. F. Sumpkins, Guelph, and sprays from Mr. and Mrs. Jas. South and Miss Danby, Toronto, Camilla friends, Bell employees, Weston, Mrs. Camps and Mrs. Sharland, Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. Foxhall, Guelph, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart, Guelph, Mrs. Neish, Bertha and Eva, Guelph, and Mr. A. Hignall, Guelph.

RICHARD W. PERRY

Richard W. Perry, a highly respected citizen of Victoria, B. C., passed away on Thursday, December 6th, 1923, in his 68th year. The late Mr. Perry was the eldest son of the late Henry and Elizabeth Perry, of Lloydtown, Ont. He leaves to mourn his loss, his wife, Margaret Perry, a daughter, Gertrude Rice of Richmond, Virginia; five sisters, and one brother, namely: Mrs. John Amey, Schomberg; Mrs. (Dr.) Banting, Cookstown; Mrs. R. S. Bond, Toronto; Mrs. Edward Marchant, Schomberg; Mrs. J. J. Hulse, Orangeville; Frederick J. Perry, Winnipeg. Politically the late Mr. Perry was a staunch Conservative, was an active member of the Anglican Church and held the office of Alderman in the city of Victoria.

BIG SHOOTING MATCH

A Big Shooting Match for Geese and Chickens will be held on the farm of Norman M. Parks, lot 16, Centre Road, Mono, one mile east of Camilla, on Christmas Day. Three ranges provided. 25 Geese at 40c a shot, eight shooting, and 25 chickens at 20 cents a shot, five shooting. Shotgun ammunition must be procured at the ranges. Shooting starts at 1.30.

—Mr. Jack Curry has resigned his position with the Cataract Electric Company. The Company wishes him every success in the future.

ALTON

Alton Presbyterian Sunday School are holding an entertainment in the church on Friday night, Dec. 21st. The programme will commence at 8 o'clock. Admission, 15c and 10c.

The Bazaar held under the auspices of the ladies of the Methodist Church on Saturday, Dec. 8th, was a great success, attracting a large crowd who bought liberally of the inviting array of useful and pretty articles prepared for the occasion. From a financial standpoint the Bazaar realized all that was expected from it, the proceeds amounting to the handsome sum of $225. Mrs. E. D. Barber, President of the Ladies' Aid, worked hard for the success of the enterprise and was ably assisted by the ladies of the church, who assumed a large amount of voluntary work in cheerful and willing manner, thereby assuring the fullest success of the undertaking. The ladies in charge of the various booths, etc., were:—Candy and Flowers, Mrs. John Erskine, Mrs. Jos. Hackett, Mrs. Wm. Shaw; Homemade Baking, Mrs. Wm. Trimble, Mrs. Yokom and Mrs. Walter McConnell; Fancy Work and Sewing Mrs. Jos. McClellan, Mrs. Herb Storey and Mrs. E. D. Barber; Remembrance, Mrs. (Dr.) Caldwell and Miss Tone Gibbs. Tea Room Mrs. John Patterson Mrs. A. G. Patterson; Oysters, Mrs. Geo. Cameron, Mrs. S. J. Babcock; Cashiers, Mrs. T. W. Meek and Mrs. Simpson. Mrs. Geo. Ward looked after the contest for the beautiful large doll, kindly donated by Mrs. J. M. Dods, of Toronto. Mr. Ernie Smith, of Orangeville, was fortunate enough to win the doll. Mrs. L. H. Lemon was in charge of the fish pond, which proved an excellent revenue producer. The ladies are to be heartily congratulated on the success of the Bazaar.

Mr. D. L. Lindsay, Manager of the Sterling Bank, is in the General Hospital, Toronto, where he was obliged to undergo an operation. We understand he is progressing favorably, but will not be able to resume his duties for some time yet. Mr Malcolm Adam, accountant in the Orangeville branch, is acting manager during the absence of Mr Lindsay.

The Methodists are busy preparing for their Sunday School Cantata or Christmas night.

The Presbyterian Sunday School will give an entertainment in the Church on Friday evening of this week, Dec. 21st, commencing at 8 o'clock. An admission fee of 15c will be charged for adults and 10c for children not connected with the Sunday School.

Dr. Caldwell's Christmas sermons will be:—Alton Methodist Church at 7 p.m., "The Wise Men, the Babe and the Star;" In Caledon Methodist Church at 11 a.m. he will preach a Thanksgiving sermon. In Caledon Methodist Church at 7 p.m. Rev. T. W. Mills, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, will preach the Christmas Anniversary Thanksgiving sermon.

The Epworth League meets on Monday evenings at 8 o'clock. The programmes have been growing in interest.

Santa Claus is to be seen in all the stores with his loads of fancy presents. Happy faces are to be seen everywhere. Chickens and geese are much in evidence, but the old-fashioned turkey is scarce.

The Junior Women's Institute will meet in the Amusement Club Rooms on Thursday evening, Dec. 20th, at 8 o'clock sharp, Mrs. S. Lowe and Mrs. McArthur acting as hostesses. The Senior Institute will meet at the home of Mrs. Dorrington at 2.30 p.m. A report of the twenty-second annual convention held in Toronto recently will be given at both meetings.

The Methodist S. S. Cantata, entitled "When Santa Listens in," will be given in the Town Hall on Christmas night. Curtain rises at 8.15 sharp. Silver collection in aid of the S. S. The children are working hard and expect that this will be one of the best Cantatas yet given by the members of the S. S.

The Presbyterian Sunday School will give an entertainment in the church on Friday night of this week, Dec. 21st, commencing at 8 o'clock. An admission fee of 15 cents will be charged for adults and 10 cents for children not connected with the Sunday School.

HOSPITAL NOTES

The regular meeting of the Board of Directors of the Lord Dufferin Hospital will be held in the Auditorium of the Public Library at seven o'clock on Friday evening, Dec. 21st.

We are very grateful to Mrs. John White, of Camilla, for a gift of apples; also to Mrs. Lemon for a Christmas gift of $10.00, to a gentleman friend in Shelburne for a donation of $10.00, and to a friends of the hospital for $4.00.

We hope our friends will remember the hospital with good cheer for Christmas.

—See Torrie's advt. It will help you pick out your Christmas gifts.

HOCKLEY

The young people of Hockley are presenting a play entitled "Farm Folk" in the Orange Hall here on Friday night, Dec. 28th. This promises to furnish a good night's entertainment and should draw a capacity house. Admission, 25 cents and 15 cents.

PUBLIC SCHOOL BOARD

At a meeting of the Public School Board on Friday night Miss Mildred Hanna, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. Hanna, Wellington St., was engaged to fill the vacancy created on the teaching staff by the resignation of Miss Dorothy Briant, who is taking a school in Toronto. The Board, by a unanimous vote, passed a resolution conveying its thanks to Principal Hartmier and his staff and to the Secretary-Treasurer, Mr. W. C. Hopkins, for their very satisfactory work during the year.

PRESENTATION TO P. C. M

At the last regular meeting of L. O. L. 635, Orangeville, on Friday night, Dec. 7, Past County Master T.H. Bullock, who is moving away from Dufferin County shortly, was presented with a valuable gold ring and the following appreciative address:

To Worshipful Bro. Thos. H. Bullock

Pastmaster the Orange Association for the County of Dufferin

Dear Sir and Worshipful Bro.,—

To our very great regret we have learned that you are about to leave this part of the Province of Ontario and take up your residence at such a distance from us as will render it impossible for you to become actively engaged in the administration of our local affairs as touching the Orange Association.

Your own particular lodge (No 427) cannot well dispense with your services, and as one who confined your energies, not to any particular Lodge but rather felt that the different lodges constituted but one Great Brotherhood, the members of 635 recognize in your consistent attendance at their gatherings that you were indeed imbued with those principles which enable you to gather with Brother Orangemen, no matter under what particular number or lodge denomination they might be called together.

Your earnest solicitation for the welfare of the Order, and your abilities in the discharge of the many duties which have from time to time fallen upon you have been appreciated by your Brethren by the fact that you have been called upon from time to time to fill almost every office of honor that is in the hands of the Brethren in this locality to offer. In the Royal Black Preceptory you have not only advanced to the highest position in our midst, but by being selected as an exalted officer in the Grand Black Chapter of Ontario West, you have thereby brought honour and distinction to the Black Preceptories in this particular locality.

It is indeed with deep regret we accept the fact that one so earnest, enthusiastic and useful should find it necessary, in the ever recurring events of life, to remove from the midst of the Brethren who have learned to look upon you as an absolute necessity, but we hope that your sojourn may be limited and that before many years kind Providence may so direct the affairs that govern us that you may be enabled to return to our midst and again take up the work in which you have been so successful and which has been to us so great an advantage.

We cannot attempt to express our appreciation of your services but would only hope that you might take with you this ring as a small emblem of our appreciation and as a token of remembrance that whether in this country or across the seas you may ever know that in the County of Dufferin and its surroundings there is a ring of Loyal Brother Orangemen, joined in a circle of Companions of the Royal Black Preceptory who will never forget the splendid work for the Orange Order—for the uplift of humanity—and for the maintenance of the British Empire that have been accomplished during the past years by you, our highly esteemed Brother.

Signed on behalf of the Royal Black Preceptory, No. 621—A. E. PHIPPS, Worshipful Preceptor.

Signed on behalf of Loyal Orange Lodge No. 427—S. L. ISLAND, Worshipful Master.

Signed on behalf of Loyal Orange Lodge No. 635—W. G. McBRIDE Worshipful Master.

"When my little son was three months old he broke out in sores on his chest and arms. We did all we could to heal those terrible sores, but nothing did him much good. Finally I ventured on a box of Dr. Chase's Ointment and kept on using it. At last we were rewarded by the steady healing of the sores, and finally he was completely relieved of them. He is now three years old, and has had no return of the trouble since."

ROYAL ARCH MEETING

L. O. L. 635, Orangeville, held a very successful Royal Arch Purple meeting on the night of Nov. 19th W. Bro. W. G. McBride was in the Master's chair and five members were advanced to the Royal Arch degree. A number of visiting members who were present, were introduced and were heartily welcomed by the W. M. The secret work of the degree was very ably given by Bro. F. Crisp. W. Bro. McBride was honored by the presentation of a Past Master's jewel, the presentation being made by W. Bro. C. R. McKeown, P. M. of L. O. L. No 427, in a very able address. Success and devotion to the Lodge and the Orange institution are testimonials that are not bestowed on every Past Master, but are given for special merit and success. The event was one that was in keeping with the passing of L. O. L. 635, an amalgamation of the two town lodges 427 and 635, being on the eve of consummation. W. Bro. McBride in a few well-chosen words, thanked the givers of the beautiful jewel for the appreciation of his work during the term of his office. He made it clear at the same time that he realized that without the hearty assistance and co-operation of the brethren he could not have done anything. W. Bro. C. R. McKeown gave a very interesting address to the newly advanced members, which was also good for all. He explained and emphasized the significance of the work of the different degrees up to the Royal Arch. Much appreciated speeches were also given by P. C. M. T. H. Bullock, present C. M. J. J. White, Bros. Jas. A Patterson, S. L. Island, E. Lavery, Palgrave, W. E. McFadden, Wilson Holmes, J. McCutcheon, Thompson Lyons and others. W. Bro. A. Macdonald, Past Master of Shelburne L. O. L., in a few well-chosen words congratulated the young members and the newly exalted candidates on attaining to the Royal Arch degree and said that he looked forward with confidence and trust in them to carry on the work that is being handed down to them, ever holding high the torch of light and liberty to humanity and zealously maintaining the principles of the Orange Order. Bro. A. Phipps, who so ably delivered the Arch lecture, with the assistance of Bro. Crisp, made a plea for the Sentinel, urging the brethren to subscribe. Why should it be necessary to plead with the brethren to do their duty, yet it is often the case. He hoped that the suggestion thrown out to give the Sentinel to every newly initiated member would be acted upon and in this way start the new members off right. A motion was unanimously passed thanking the visiting brethren for their attendance and assistance in the work.

Two million bushels of grain were unloaded into Goderich elevator the last week of November.

MRS. WILLIAM RAINEY

There passed away to the better home near Marquis, Sask., on Thursday last, Margaret J. McCulloch wife of William Rainey, in her 60th year. She was born in Chinguacousy Township, Peel County, being a daughter of the late John McCulloch. She married early in life and came to the Amaranth-East Luther townline, where they lived for a time, moving to the 4th line of Luther, where they spent some years. Then they went West, where they prospered very well. She was the youngest of a family of eleven and leaves to mourn her loss, her husband and two sons, six brothers and two sisters: James, of Stonewall Man.; George, on the homestead; Thos. J. and Mrs. S. Graydon, of St. Catharines; Robert, of East Luther and E. Weir, William and Mrs. John Nicholl, of Grand Valley. Her only daughter died about twenty months ago.—Star & Vidette.

SAMUEL ELDER

After a lingering illness covering a period of two months, Samuel Elder, a highly respected citizen of this town, passed away on Wednesday morning at his residence on Francis Street, in his 81st year. The deceased was born in the township of Mono in the year 1843, but when a young man he moved to the township of Mulmur, where he was a resident for over sixty years, on the farm, lot 27, con. 7. About two years ago he decided to give up the duties of farming, as he was failing in health. On retiring he came to Creemore and purchased a residence on Francis Street. His retirement did not afford much liberty for his remaining years, as poor health conditions prevailed throughout his short career as a citizen of Creemore. The late Mr. Elder, who was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Elder, of Mono township, was an ardent member of the Presbyterian Church and in politics a staunch Conservative. The deceased is survived by his wife who was Margaret Lane, and one brother, Daniel Elder, of Mono township. The funeral took place from his late residence, Francis Street, on Friday afternoon at 2 p.m. Interment will be made in the Union Cemetery, Creemore. — Creemore Star.

Thieves broke into the club house at the Collingwood Golf Club a few days ago and carried off a number of balls. The building was carefully locked, hence entrance was made by forcing a door.

Ernie Newell, formerly of Terra Nova, who for the past 10 years has been in Western Canada, has returned to Ontario. He intends spending the winter with friends in Mulmur.

On Tuesday evening, November 23rd, the above Preceptory held a very successful Red Cross night five members of the Preceptory being exalted to that sublime final degree. The work of the degree was put on in a very able and efficient manner, the gavel being handled by Wor.Sir Knight G. McNicholl Preceptor of King Solomon Preceptory, Toronto. Sir Knight T. H. Bullock, Associate Deputy Grand Master of Ontario West, gave the charge in his usual clear and collected manner, all of which was done without the ritual. The lecture was very ably and correctly repeated by Sir Knights Bullock and J. Rayburn. Sir Knight Rayburn is to be congratulated upon his energetic work along this line. Though one of the youngest members of the Preceptory, yet well advanced in years as time goes, he has memorized the eleven lectures, thereby proving what determination and ambition can do when applied to some worthy object. The lantern and slides were handled by Sir Knights W. G. McBride and Norman Flatt. This feature added greatly to the impressiveness of the work. Sir Kt. Dr. A. J Hunter acted as chaplain, filling that office with ability and dignity. After the degrees were completed speeches were in order, Sir Knights McNicoll and McKeown both making very appropriate remarks befitting the occasion. Words of wisdom and thanks from Sir Knight McKeown and words of praise and encouragement coming from Sir Kt. McNicoll as Preceptor of King Solomon Preceptory, Toronto, a Preceptory that is par excellence in its work, were indeed appreciated by the Sir Knights, especially by those who have worked so hard to make 621 the success it is to-day. Previous to the Red Cross degree the election and installation of officers for 1924 was conducted by Ass't. Dep. G. M T. H. Bullock. The following are the new officers:—

W. P., A. E. Phipps; D. P., W. E McFadden; Chap., J. B. Irwin; Reg. C. J. Loftus; Treas., A. C. Wilson 1st Lecturer, J. E. Rayburn; 2nd Lecturer, H. Simpson; 1st Censor Jas. A. Patterson; 2nd Censor, G. H. Mills; Standard Bearers, N. Flatt W. G. McBride; Pursuivant, A Widdis; Outside Tyler, B. McGuire Committee, J. J. White, G. Aiken J. D. McKenzie, Dr. A. J. Hunter. J. R. Hughes, C. R. McKeown and C. B. Matthews.

The report of the auditors was found to be very favorable and too much praise cannot be given to Sir Knight A. C. Wilson for the able and efficient manner in which he has conducted the affairs of his office as Treasurer. Happily we have him again in that office. The finances of the Preceptory are in a very healthy condition. The Worshipful Preceptor, Sir Knight A Phipps, has established a precedent by giving a Master's address at an annual meeting, that is in Primary Preceptories. In fact his was a retiring Master's address, but the Sir Knights decided unanimously to re-elect him to the highest office in the gift of the Preceptory, namely that of Worshipful Preceptor. So now we are off to a good start for another twelve months. God willing and helping us to carry on, we may make a better record even than in the present year.

When He Took "Fruit-a-tives" For Rheumatism

The Medicine Made From Fruit

There can be no doubt that "Fruit-a-tives" is the long sought remedy for Rheumatism and Lumbago. From all over Canada come letters testifying to this fact.

Mr. John E. Guilderson of Parrsboro, N.S. writes: "I suffered badly with Rheumatism for five years—tried different medicines—was treated by doctors in Amherst—and here at home—but the Rheumatism came back.

In 1916, I saw an advertisement for "Fruit-a-tives" and took a box and got relief, so I took them for about six months and the Rheumatism was all gone and I have never felt it since".

MRS. MARTHA REID

The death of Mrs. Martha Reid widow of the late Jeremiah Reid, of Mono, occurred in Hamilton on Wednesday, Dec. 5th, at the ripe age of 82 years. Deceased, whose maiden name was Martha Allen, was a daughter of the late Richard Allen of Mono. She was born and spent the greater part of her life in that township. After her marriage to Jeremiah Reid, the young couple settled on lot 14, con. 5, east, Mono where her husband died comparatively early in life. Mrs. Reid is survived by one daughter, Mrs. F. H Doherty, Orangeville, two sisters Mrs. Robt. I. Barnett, also of Orangeville, and Mrs. Geo. McNabb in Saskatchewan, and two brothers Thos. Allen, of Collingwood, and Richard Allen living in the West During her residence in Mono the deceased was a member of Burns' Presbyterian Church at Mono Centre. The remains were brought to Orangeville for burial, the funeral taking place from the home of Mr. J. Doherty, Second St., to Mono Centre Cemetrey on Friday afternoon last. Rev. F. W. Maharffy conducted the services.

MRS. ROBERT WATSON

It is our sad duty this week to record the death of one of the most popular ladies of this part of the country in the person of Ida Florence Heatherington, beloved wife of Mr. Robert Watson, of Adjala. She had been ill for a considerable time and spent the last three months in Guelph Hospital and passed away there on Saturday. She came home a few days ago, but was only able to remain four days and then had to return to the hospital. It seems hard to see a happy, cheerful mother such as she was, cut off in her prime, she being in her 36th year Her pleasing manner made her a general favorite and was an inspiration to all with whom she came in contact. In community affairs and church work she took a leading part and the gap caused by her passing will be hard to fill. To the husband and the two little girls the loss will be irreparable and to them and the other members of the family we extend our sincere sympathy. Deceased was born at Sheldon and thirteen years ago became the bride of Mr Watson and came to reside on their farm just south of Piper's Hill. The funeral to Raney's Church on Monday was conducted by Rev. Mr. Davidson, of Mono Mills, and was attended by a large number of friends and acquaintances from far and near.—Tottenham Sentinel.

MARSVILLE

(Intended for last week.)

Court Marsville 351, C. O. F. held its annual social event on Friday evening of last week. The affair proved quite as successful as those of previous years. The members and their wives, to the number of sixty, assembled to participate in the friendly function. A dainty supper, consisting of oysters and other good things, was served. When ample justice was done to these good things Bro. Jas. Byers, C. R., presided while an interesting program was given. Instrumental music was generously provided by Miss Nina Nodwell and Messrs. N. McCormick and Elgin Nodwell. Recitations and songs were given by the younger guests and short speeches were made by some of the brethren. It was after midnight when the National Anthem brought the happy event to a close.

The regular monthly meeting of the Marsville Branch of the Women's Institute was held last Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Jas. Edwards The attendance was very satisfactory, being one of the largest of the year. Mrs. S. Price and Mrs. D Jestin gave their report of the Provincial Convention recently held in Toronto. Other items were also given and the meeting proved interesting throughout.

The young people are busily engaded in preparing for the Christmas entertainments. The Presbyterian S. S. will hold its entertainment on Wednesday, Dec. 19th, and the

MRS. WILLIAM IRWIN

Her many friends in Orangeville and Mono were shocked and saddened last week, when they learned of the sudden death of Mrs. William Irwin at her home, 13 Sarnia Ave. Toronto. The end came very suddenly on Wednesday, Dec. 5th, following a very short illness. Mrs. Irwin was apparently in her usual health on Saturday before her death but was taken ill on Sunday and by Tuesday her condition had grown alarming. Deceased, whose maiden name was Eliza Agnes Hewson, was 62 years of age and was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Hewson, Centre Road, Mono. She was born in Etobicoke township but came to Mono when a young girl. After her marriage about forty years ago she took up her residence on the 2nd line, west, Mono, where her husband died 13 years ago. Last year Mrs. Irwin and her son, George gave up farming and moved to Toronto. The surviving family are four sons and three daughters namely, W. J., Amaranth; George and Thomas, Toronto; Garfield Mono; Mrs. Wilmer Rowan, Delisle Sask.; Mrs. J. A. Island, and Mrs Chas. F. McArthur, Toronto. Mrs Jas. Duncan, Orangeville, is the only sister and ex-Mayor Thos. S Hewson, Orangeville, and Messrs Hugh and Fred Hewson on the homestead in Mono are the brothers There is general sympathy for the family in their unexpected and trying sorrow. Mrs. Irwin was a woman of kindly heart and ready sympathies and was highly esteemed as a neighbor. She took an active interest in the work of St. Mark's Church, of which she was a valued member. The remains were brought to Orangeville on Friday morning the funeral being held from the C P. R. station to the family plot in the Forest Lawn Cemetery. Rev Dunn conducted a short service in the stricken home on Friday morning and Rev. J. W. McDonald officiated at the grave. The pallbearers were the three brothers and Messrs Jas. Duncan, James Irwin and Robt A. Irwin. The floral tributes consisted of a wreath from the Graham Nail Works, Toronto; a wreath from Mrs. Fleming and Mrs. Courts next door neighbors, a spray from Mono College Women's Institute, a spray from the D. Howden Co., Toronto, and a wreath from the family.

Orillia Council has passed a by-law granting the Board of Education $65,000 for enlargement of the Collegiate.

Hospital for Sick Children

COLLEGE ST., TORONTO.

Dear Mr. Editor:—

Recent discoveries in medical science have called attention to the great service rendered by an up-to-date hospital through facilities provided for research. Probably few laymen appreciate the amount of this work conducted under the auspices of the Hospital for Sick Children Yet it is only by intensive study of the causes of children's diseases that the hospital staff has been able to establish a world-famous record for cures Statistics show that the rate of infant mortality in this Province has been steadily decreasing, until it is now among the lowest in the world. What that means is that hundreds of Ontario parents owe their children's lives to the research work in the laboratories of the Hospital for Sick Children

Although the doctors give their services freely, the bills for equipment add up annually to a good many thousands of dollars. But in view of the results attained, I feel that not one of your readers will cavil at the money so spent, and I confidently venture the hope that many of them at this Christmas season will wish to enrol themselves in the Hospital's campaign on behalf of Ontario's childhood.

To carry on this research work there is not one cent except what comes in from voluntary subscriptions. For the care of the children occupying hospital cots there are certain statutory grants, but these represent scarcely more than half what the Hospital needs. Last year, for instance, the Hospital doctors looked after an average of 253 in-patients and 192 out-patients daily. Quite a colony of ailing youngsters! And the expenditure — although whittled down to the minimum commensurate with efficiency — was $318,917. The income to the extent of at least $100,000 depends upon the regard which the people of Ontario have for the Hospital's work and the generosity with which they express that regard.

May I ask you, Mr. Editor, to point out to your readers that since the establishment of the Hospital for Sick Children, at least four more Ontario youngsters in every hundred have survived the trials of childhood? For with that simple statement of fact brought to their attention I feel sure that many of them will bestow their benediction upon the work of the Hospital for Sick Children by sending some Christmas gift, according to their means, in care of the Secretary-Treasurer, at 67 College Street, Toronto.

Faithfully yours,

IRVING E. ROBERTSON,

Chairman of Appeal Committee

Since the Hospital Opened its Doors in 1875, 69,231 In-Patients Treated — 603,055 Attendances of Out-Patients.

IN MEMORIAM

COURTNEY—In loving memory of our dear daughter, Pearl Porterfield, beloved wife of Samuel E Courtney, who departed this life on Dec. 16th, 1919:

Four years have gone and still we miss her,
Friends may think the sore has healed;
But they little know the sorrow,
That lies within our hearts concealed.

Peacefully sleeping, resting at last
Earth's weary troubles and trials are past;
In silence she suffered, in patience she bore,
Till God called her home to suffer no more.

So gentle in nature, so patient in pain,
Our dear Pearl left us, Heaven to gain;
With her cheery ways and actions so kind,
'Tis hard in this world her equal to find.

His Honour C. T. Sutherland, Local Judge:
In Chambers: day, the day of Dec. A.D. 1923
Between:—
Sydenham Mutual Fire Insurance Company, Limited, Plaintiff and
James H. Hammond, Martha Hammond, Henry Magrath and The Great Northern Oil Company, Defendants

UPON motion made unto this Court this day on behalf of the above named plaintiff; upon hearing read the affidavit of Thomas John Harkness filed and the exhibits therein referred to, upon hearing what was alleged by counsel for the plaintiff aforesaid;

1. IT IS ORDERED that service upon the defendant Henry Magrath of the writ of summons in this action by publishing this Order together with the Notice hereon endorsed once a week for three weeks preceding the seventh day of January, 1924, in The Orangeville Banner, a newspaper published at Orangeville, be deemed good and sufficient service of the said writ of summons.

2. AND IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the said defendant do enter an appearance to the said writ of summons in the office of this Court at Owen Sound on or before the seventh day of January, 1924.

3. IT IS FURTHER ORDERED that the costs of this application be costs in the cause.

C. T. SUTHERLAND,
Local Judge

This action is brought on a mortgage dated the Twenty-ninth day of August, 1919, made between Jas. H Hammond and Martha Hammond his wife, to the London and Western Trusts Company, Limited, and assigned to the plaintiff by assignment dated March First, 1923, and that the mortgage may be enforced by foreclosure. 24-3t

ARCHIVES OF ONTARIO
TORONTO

The Banner wishes its many readers and friends every happiness, all the joy of the Christmas season and contentment and prosperity in the untrodden months of the New Year.

LOCAL NEWS

—Ice making has started on the Arena, but it is proving slow work on account of the unseasonably mild weather There is not likely to be any Christmas skating this year, unless the temperature takes a decided drop very shortly.

—Do not overlook the Sunday School Concert and Christmas Tree in the Town Hall, Caledon, on Friday evening, Dec. 21st. A good programme will be provided, commencing at 8 o'clock.

—Mrs. Margaret Nicholson, widow of the late Isaac Nicholson, of the Mono Quarries, passed away at Murraydale, Sask., on Monday, at the age of 73 years. She had been living in the West for 17 years or longer. Mrs Arthur Shirley, of Monoville, is a daughter, and Messrs. John and Jos Nicholson are sons.

—At the meeting of the shareholders of The Farmers' Sun in Toronto last week, Mr. Jos. G. Little of Shelburne, was elected to the Board of Directors. There are nine Directors on the Board and Mr. Little was fourth on the list, receiving 150 votes. Hon. Manning Doherty was first and Hon. E. C. Drury second with 237 and 203 votes respectively.

—Mr. A. C. Price, district manager for the Bell Telephone Co., and Mrs. Price are removing to their new home in Brampton to-day. Their departure is keenly regretted by our citizens. They had made many warm friends since coming to town. Mr. Price will be seriously missed in St. Andrew's Church, where he was a member of the church choir and Board of Managers and an energetic church worker.

A SAFE INVESTMENT

It is a peculiarity about readers of that wonderful farm and family journal, The Family Herald and Weekly Star, of Montreal, that they do not look upon the $2.00 subscription as an expense, but as a safe investment which yields them huge dividends each year. They will tell you, and we do not doubt it, that each issue contains money-saving and money-making ideas which would pay the subscription price over and over. Considering the value and the remarkable qualities of that great national journal, it should be a difficult matter to find a single home where it is not known and read regularly..

And now, heaped upon the phenomenal value already contained in the journal itself, the publishers of the Family Herald and Weekly Star are giving free to each new subscriber who remits in time, and to present subscribers who renew their subscription for another year, a most beautiful picture entitled, "The Wonderful Heroine." The reproduction of the original masterpiece in colors has been done to perfection In size the picture is 18 x 24 inches on rich, heavy paper.

The life story of the Wonderful Heroine has been printed in booklet form and a copy can be obtained cost free by any of our readers who send a postal card to the Family Herald and Weekly Star, Montreal —Magistrate Falconer gave judgment last Friday in the liquor case against Jimmy O'Brien. The Magistrate held that there was not sufficient evidence to convict.

—Poultry is plentiful this Christmas and prices are low compared with former years. Turkeys were less than 30c a lb. this week and geese dropped to 14c on Tuesday. The mild weather has something to do with the low prices.

FAREWELL TO TEACHER

The students of the Orangeville High School met in the Assembly Hall on Tuesday afternoon and presented Mr. Chas. D. Jones, a member of the teaching staff, with an address and a pair of gold cuff links. Miss Lulu Wise made the presentation and James Marshall read the address. Mr. Jones made a suitable reply. Mr. Jones, who has been on the High School staff here since September, 1922, has accepted a position on the teaching staff of the Aurora High School.

PERSONAL MENTION

H. S. COMMENCEMENT

The High School Commencement attracted a large audience to the Opera House on Thursday night. The play, "Charlie's Aunt," was repeated before a capacity house on Friday night. Owing to Christmas advertising demands on this week's space, we are regretfully obliged to hold over our report of the Commencement until next issue.

A MONO FIRE

Fire destroyed the barns on Mr. J. J Leighton's farm on the Centre Road, Mono, between 6 and 7 o'clock on Monday morning. Mr. Leighton had been in the stable attending to a sick horse and went to the house to get some hot water, leaving the lantern standing on an ox box. When he returned a few minutes later he found the building in flames. He thinks the lantern must have exploded or upset in some manner. The main barn, 40 by 56, with stabling underneath, and an addition, 38 by 60, were completely destroyed, together with the season's crop and some implements. Three horses, two cows and seven pigs perished in the flames. Building and contents were insured for $7,000, but it is estimated that the loss will reach $8,000. The loss is very unfortunate, particularly at this time of the year, when there is little opportunity to make provision for feeding and housing stock through the winter.

FARMERS' ADVOCATE CONTEST

Mrs Roy Smith, of Waldemar, is one of the leading candidates in the Farmers' Advocate Subscription Contest. Five touring cars and 25 chests of community plate in solid mahogany cabinets are among the prizes offered to the successful contestants. Mrs. Smith is so near the top at the present time, that she has an excellent chance of landing one of the five touring cars, which form the five big prizes in the drive. Mrs. Smith has made arrangements with The Banner to receive Advocate subscriptions in her behalf. Subscriptions turned in at this office will therefore be credited to her account and will add to the total of her votes. Banner readers who would like to see Dufferin County represented in the winners are invited to turn in their Advocate subscriptions while the contest is in progress. The contest is timed to close late in January.

CAMILLA

Miss Annie Parks, Nurse-in-Training in the Western Hospital, is improving after a severe case of scarlet fever.

H. R. Gemmill attended the recent Farmers' Convention in Massey Hall, Toronto, and reports it a huge success. He will give his report at the Club Rooms on Thursday night of this week.

The New Ford Touring Car

For the motorist who requires a good-looking car of unusual serviceability, the new Ford Touring Car is a splendid investment.

To the sturdiness and endurance for which the Ford is universally famous have been added new features which materially enhance the appearance of the car and add to the comfort of the passengers.

The new radiator is higher, giving greater cooling efficiency—the hood and cowl are larger affording increased leg-room, and the steering-post is braced for easier driving. With roomy accommodations for five passengers, the new Ford Touring Car is undoubtedly the most practical general utility car on the market.

The New Runabout

The new Ford Runabout is as smart and business-like a car as you will find on the road today.

The new arrangement of the rear deck gives abundant storage capacity, allowing a considerable load to be carried in its lock tight compartment.

This is the logical car for those who require a good looking, sturdy and economical car at the lowest possible cost.

New Ford Prices

Touring Car, $445 Runabout, $405 Truck, $495

Electric Starting and Lighting Equipment $85.00 extra.

Coupe, $665 Fordor Sedan, $895

Electric Starting and Lighting Equipment Standard on these models.

All prices f. o. b. Ford, Ontario. Government Taxes extra.

MONO MILLS

(Intended for last week.)

The annual Christmas Tree and Entertainment in connection with the Union Sunday School will be held in the hall on Friday evening December 21st. A good program is being prepared and everyone is invited.

The Young People's meetings will be discontinued until after the new year.

The Tuxis Boys are making preparation for a skating rink.

Mrs. W. G. Duke and Miss Inglehart spent the week-end in Toronto.

Our local general merchants Messrs. Dredge and Stork, have taken an agency for the Renfrew Co. and have in stock a full line of their products, including scales, cream separators, and kitchen ranges, and are giving the very best values in these articles.

At the last meeting of L. O. L No. 192 the following officers were elected for the ensuing year:—W M., Thos. McCandless; D. M., J. K Parker; Chap., Geo. Speers; Rec.-Sec., John A. Vance; Fin.-Sec., R J. Donaldson; Treasurer, W. G Duke; Lecturers, John Atkinson and Cecil Wellwood; D. of C., W. A Donaldson; In. Tyler, Reggie Jackson; O. Tyler, D. Whiteman; 1st Committee Man, James Taylor; 2nd Com. Man, Ernest Miles; 3rd Com Man, Jos. Varey; 4th Com. Man, R J. Donaldson; 5th Com. Man, D Whiteman; Trustees, Jas. Taylor, T McCandless and R. Speers.

We are sorry to learn that Rev J. A. Matheson has not yet fully recovered from his recent serious illness.

DUFFERIN CLYDESDALES WIN HIGH HONORS

Geo. Thompson, of Orangeville the prominent Mono township horseman, won signal honours in the Clydesdale and Heavy Draught classes at the recent Ontario Provincial Winter Fair at Guelph. Mr Thompson had a string of four animals and made what constitutes almost a record, in that, as a first-time exhibitor, he won a first prize on each animal exhibited, and also won a reserve championship. The winnings included 1st on "Salem Lass," Clydesdale mare foaled in 1921; 1st on "Salem Queen," Clydesdale mare foaled in 1920; 1st on "Lady Corinthian," Heavy Draught mare over three years, and 1st on "Maryfield Queen" in class for Purebred Heavy Draught Mare and in Championship Class was reserve champion on "Salem Queen." Competition in the various classes was exceptionally strong, which makes these winnings the more creditable The prizes won by Mr. Thompson at this show, and at the recent Canadian National Exhibition, made a very enviable record. Mr. Thompson is to be congratulated on the honour that he has won for himself as an exhibitor, and the district in which he lives, and his example should prove an incentive to others in the locality to help maintain the reputation of this district as a producer of high class live stock.

CAMILLA

(Intended for last week.)

The Y. P. S. held a successful social evening last Friday. The program included a debate, "Resolved that higher education makes a better citizen than home training." The affirmative speakers were two of the shining stars of the Y. P. S., Misses Evelyn Gallaugher and Lillian Rayfield, who had the hearty support of many enthusiasts. The negative arguments were advanced by two stalwart and valued members of the U. F. O. in the persons of Messrs. Robert Reid and Harold Gemmill who also were backed strongly by a large number of enthusiastic U. F O. rooters. The judges, after lengthy consideration and careful weighing of the arguments, decided that the negative had the better of the debate and gave the decision in their favor.

Last Tuesday evening the choir of St. Andrew's Church held an enjoyable and entertaining banquet in the church basement.

We are sorry to report the death of Mrs. Robert South, of Guelph. The late Mrs. South was a valued citizen of the Camilla and Mono Centre neighborhoods for many years prior to her removal to Guelph a few years ago.

After a very serious illness, Mrs (Rev.) Coutts has almost recovered her former health.

Mr. H. Thompson has been taking advantage of the mild weather and is making splendid use of his car this fall.

1923 Christmas Seals

The National Sanitarium Association is to be congratulated on the handsome Christmas Seals now on sale in aid of the Muskoka Hospital for Consumptives.

To meet a persistent demand for a real Christmas Seal, not merely an advertising sticker, quite a new departure has been made this year, in that they are printed in ten different designs, each packet containing a full assortment. The seals are all very attractive.

The Hospital is in need of funds to carry on its work. Why not buy these seals in lieu of others? Not only will you get good value in return, but your money will be made to serve a greater end, for it will go to help someone in distress.

For sale by school children, and banks, or direct from Xmas Seal Department, Gage Institute, Toronto, Ont.

NEW LAMP BURNS 95 P. C. AIR

BEATS ELECTRIC OR GAS

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 per cent. air and 6 per cent. common kerosene (coal oil.)

The inventor, F. N. Johnson, 246 Craig St. W., Montreal, is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him to-day for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

That small but important section of our fair Province of Ontario known as Wallace Township, was introduced to Scotland, and in fact the whole British Empire recently when a cheese made by Wesley Krotz, cheesemaker at the Marion Beaver Cheese Factory, won second prize in the colonial exhibit at Glasgow, Scotland, where cheese from every part of the Empire was shown.

A distressing accident occurred in Toronto recently when Walter Lawrence, 12 year old grandson of Mr. and Mrs. John Nunn, of Flesherton, had three fingers on his right hand blown off by a stick of dynamite. He and a chum were playing in a brick yard when they came upon the dynamite and in the handling of it it exploded in some way and tore two fingers and lacerated another so badly that it had to be amputated.

Aubrey Boyce and Albert Fleetham, two Caledon East boys, met with an accident that might have resulted more seriously. The auto which young Boyce was driving, got into a rut and when trying to get it on the level road, it jumped to the side, into a ditch, and turned turtle. Both boys were pinned beneath the car. Boyce had his collar bone broken and Fleetham was badly bruised. The accident happened on the sixth line, east, Albion about a mile north of Caledon East.

NEW SALES TAX

Will Come Into Force on January First and Can Only be Changed by Act of Parliament.

Comparison of the New System and the Old.

Despite strong representation from manufacturing and other interests the consumption or sales tax, as amended at the last session of Parliament, will become effective on January 1 next, for the simple reason that it is an Act of Parliament and cannot be changed except by Parliament. Whether or not any further alterations in the measure will be suggested by the Government in the coming session of Parliament or compelled by a majority of Parliament remains to be seen.

The amended sales tax as it will become effective on January 1 differs from the legislation now in force inasmuch as the tax will be all collected at the source, instead of partly from the manufacturer and partly from the wholesaler, as at present. The old tax, from both sources, totalled 4½ per cent. and the new tax is a direct tax of 6 per cent. On the face of it the new tax should yield more revenue to the Dominion Treasury, but many who have made representations to the Customs Department argue the opposite might be the result. Again on the face of it the direct 6 p.c impost will be more easily applied than the present combined tax, but on this, too, there is a difference of opinion.

Under the old legislation still in force there were anomalous situations from which escape was difficult. There were manufacturers who were also wholesalers and jobbers. There were also merchants who might be classed either as manufacturers or retailers, and there were cases where a "manufacturer" went direct to the consuming public, but in all these interpretations had been simplified. Under the new tax just as difficult puzzles are likely to develop.

The Two Systems Compared.

Reduced to simple form the sales tax system now in force and the system to come into force on January 1 next are as follows: By the present plan, on goods sold by a manufacturer to a wholesaler, 2 1-4 per cent. is collected, and on goods sold by a wholesaler to a retailer 2 1-4 is collected making a total of 4½ per cent. on imports to manufacturers or wholesalers, 3 3-4 per cent; on imports from a manufacturer or wholesaler to a retailer, 2 1-4 per cent.; on imports to a retailer or consumer, 6 per cent.

According to the sales tax plan to become effective on January 1 on all goods 6 per cent. will be collected on the sale price produced or manufactured in Canada, payable by the producer or manufacturer at the time of sale by him. On imports on the duty paid value of the goods by the importer 6 per cent. will be collected; but no tax will be imposed on goods exported, and no tax on goods sold to a manufacturer which are to be used or attached to articles to be manufactured for sale, which articles will be subject to the sales tax.

The annual fee for a license under the new act will be $2, payable on April 1 in each fiscal year, but it is especially provided that in the present case, with the act going into effect at the beginning of the calendar instead of the fiscal year that the license fee shall be 50 cents from January 1 to April 1 when the license will be extended for a year on payment of $2. Everyone subject to the sales tax must make a monthly return showing the total amount of taxable sales, and the tax payable thereon and each return must be delivered to the Collector of Customs and Excise, and the amount of the tax paid to him on or before the last day of the month next succeeding the month covered by the return.

Newsprint to Pay $600,000.

It has been estimated that under the sales tax to come into effect on January 1 newsprint manufacturers will pay about $600,000 per year more than under the present tax. Under the present act the manufacturer charges 2 1-4 per cent. to cover the tax. In the ordinary course of business the wholesaler would charge another 2 1-4 p.c. when he resells to the retailer, but in the paper business the paper manufacturers sell to the newspapers, and the Government collects its first 2 1-4 per cent.

There is, however, no place from which the second 2 1-4 could be collected. Under the act as amended, and to come into force in a few days, the paper manufacturers will charge 6 per cent. on the price of the paper for the Government tax, and the newspapers must absorb the entire charge. This will mean an increase in revenue to the Government.

In another business, the leather industry, it has been shown that the revenues from the new tax would be less than under the measure now in force. The 6 per cent. is collected on practically the first selling price of the goods, while under the present act 2 1-4 per cent. is collected after the goods have become enhanced in value, that is after the wholesaler's or jobber's profit has been added to the manufacturer's price plus 2 14 per cent.

At present a tax is paid on the price of hides sold to the tannery. The tannery sells to the shoe manufacturer, and another tax is paid. The manufacturer makes shoes, and sells to the wholesaler, and a third tax is paid; the wholesaler or jobber sells to the retailer, and a fourth tax is imposed. Under the new act there is no tax on articles sold to a manufacturer to be manufactured into goods on which a tax is collectable, so that there will be only one tax of 6 per cent. instead of the fourfold tax paid under the present measure.

NOT EVERYONE JOYFUL

While Christmas brought joy and happiness to most homes there were those to whom the Christmas of 1923 was a day of sadness. There were homes visited by death, in which the general atmosphere of happiness and rejoicing served to make more poignant the grief with which they have been visited. One such home was that of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hulse, West Broadway, from which a loved child was suddenly snatched on Saturday night. Another was that of Councillor Geo Patterson, of Adjala, where a loved and loving wife closed her eyes on earth's scenes after an illness of three years, during which she bore the burden of physical weakness and pain with a courage and cheerfulness that bespoke full faith and confidence in the benign love of the great Providence that overrules the destinies of all human kind. These were homes that were visited by the great sorrows of life, but to many others Christmas was saddened by the lesser sorrows and disappointments that seem to be the inevitable lot of every son and daughter of Adam at some stage or other of their earthly pilgrimage.

The failure of the Home Bank was responsible for sorrow in many homes in Canada this Christmas. To readers of The Banner who were not touched by the collapse of this institution, the failure of a bank may not seem to be a serious matter, but to the hundreds and thousands of people, many of them well advanced in years, who saw the savings of years of toil and industry imperilled if not altogether destroyed by the collapse, the failure was a real tragedy and furnished good reason for worry and sorrow. If our legislators could only visit some of the homes touched by these bank collapses that for one reason or another come every few years and could learn firsthand of the misery that follows in their wake, we imagine they would not be long in devising some system of public inspection that would effectually safeguard bank depositors from any repetition of these disasters. Fortunately the people of Orangeville and immediate district were not directly interested in the fortunes of the Home Bank, but this cannot be said of the neighboring villages of Alliston and Shelburne, where the Bank had branches and many depositors, who appear to be in a fair way to lose a large part of the money which they had entrusted to the keeping of the institution.

Many citizens of Orangeville and district have, however, been hard hit in another way and in their cases too Christmas brought its anxieties and sorrow, because of an unexpected change in the conditions relating to provision that they had made for the comfort of the wives and families who depend upon them for support. What we are now referring to is the recent raise in the insurance rates of the Canadian Order of Foresters and the pending increase in the rates of the Canadian Order of Chosen Friends. The two societies have courts and a large membership in Orangeville. Some years ago the local court of the Canadian Foresters had a membership of 175. The present membership is about 130. A few years ago the Chosen Friends had 300 members in Orangeville and neighborhood. At the present time there is a membership of 140. Younger members of the two Orders are not complaining greatly over the advance in rates, but in the case of the older members the new rates are in many instances practically prohibitive, being so high that the member is unable to meet his payments and is compelled to drop his insurance. As one member put the matter in conversation with The Banner he is simply frozen out. It requires no serious mental effort to understand how seriously the increase in rates affects men now past the years of their earning power, who find themselves confronted with the necessity of dropping the $1000 or $2000 policy that they have been carrying for year for the protection of their wives and children when they are called away. They imagined, and they had been told and retold, that they were laying up something certain for those who depended on them, and now they find that they must either let this protection go by the board or pay rates that they cannot afford to pay and that, even if they were paid, are so high that in a few years they will eat up the whole principal of their policies. Such a situation is surely real reason for sorrow and worrying even in this gladsome Christmas season.

To come down to individual cases, we are told of one policy holder a man along in his seventies, who must now pay $7.00 a month if he is to continue his $1,000 policy. In another case a citizen of Orangeville, well advanced in years, has a life policy of $2,000 that will cost him $14.00 a month under the new rates. He will probably be obliged to drop the policy. These two cases are typical instances and will give our readers a fair idea of the plight in which hundreds of people here and elsewhere are finding themselves at the present moment. The writer is not a member of either society, but he has no hesitation in expressing the opinion that this freezing out of the old members of the two Orders, whether deliberate or otherwise, is a most shameless proceeding. If there is anything of the fraternal spirit in the Foresters and the Chosen Friends, and what we are saying will apply to any other fraternal society with equal force then fraternalism should protect the old members, men and women now nearing the end of life, and should do everything possible to safeguard and perpetuate the protection they fondly thought they were making for their loved ones when they took out their policies. If old members are to be treated in the way that aged Foresters and Chosen Friends are being treated under the new rates, then so-called fraternal societies had better drop all pretence of being actuated by the spirit of fraternalism. To call themselves fraternal societies is to make a sham and mockery of the beautiful spirit of alterism that finds its expression in provision for the care and comfort of the widowed and the orphaned. Insurance experts may be able to excuse the new rates as they apply to old members, but we do not think there is any justification for making these rates prohibitive. If the rate paid by these old members must be increased in order to insure the solvency of the Order, why not increase to the rate which members who join the Order today, must pay at the ages which the old members were when they joined. No great objection could be made to this and it would place the aged members in a position where they would possibly be able to continue their policies. Granted that the rates in these and other fraternal societies were too low at the commencement whose fault was it? Assuredly the fault cannot be laid at the doors of the policy holders, who paid all they were asked to pay when they took out their policies. Fault, if there was any, must be charged to the persons, who were active in organizing the societies, and to the Government, which foolishly allowed fraternal organizations to do an insurance business on rates that were inadequate and insufficient to insure permanent solvency. Yet it is the policy holders, who joined these societies in the early days of their organization and whose membership and money contributed to their growth, that are being made the chief sufferers, now that the day of inevitable reorganization and readjustment has finally arrived. It is unbrotherly and unfair and the old policy holders of the two societies and other societies where rates have been advanced are entitled to something more than empty sympathy in the unfortunate plight in which they find themselves.

MUNICIPAL NOTES

Mr. Thos. Goodeve, Reeve of Adjala, is spoken of as a likely candidate for the Wardenship of Simcoe County, in the event of his re-election next year.

Ex-Reeve Thos. W. Reid is spoken of as a possible candidate for the Amaranth Reeveship. Mr. Reid is a municipal veteran, who should know all about the ins and outs of municipal electioneering.

Reeve Jas. Henderson, of Mulmur is regarded as reasonably sure of re-election without a contest. Mr. Henderson seems to be right in line for the Wardenship of Dufferin, should he come back to the County Council in 1924.

East Luther expects to have an oldtime contest. Councillor George Bruce has declared that he is in the field for the Reeveship. It is thought quite possible that Reeve Platz may stand for another term and there is a probability that ex-Councillor Alex. McFarland may decide to take a hand in the fray.

Municipal nominations do not take place until Monday, December 31st, the last day of the year. The nomination date is fixed by statute for the last Monday of December which this year happens to be the last day of the month. Elections wherever they are necessary, will be held on Monday, January 7th, one week later.

The lengthy interval between the last council meetings on December 15th and this year's nomination meetings on December 31st has suited the municipal officials and newspaper publishers very well indeed. It gave the former more time to prepare the financial statements and other necessary end of the year work and also gave the printers additional time for the printing that must be got out before the nomination meetings.

Archie Vance, Reeve of Melancthon and Warden of Dufferin, is retiring from municipal politics. It cannot be said that Mr. Vance is "full of years" for he is still a young man, but it can be truthfully averred that he is "full or honors" as municipal honors go. It is expected that W. G. Noble, the present Deputy-Reeve, will stand for Reeve. Melancthon is seldom without a municipal contest and it will occasion no surprise if Mr. J. A. Russell, a former Deputy-Reeve should decide to give Mr. Noble a race for the Reeveship.

Grand Valley reports little or no municipal excitement. Reeve John G. Reith has just completed his first term and naturally looks to his constituents to send him back for another year. Reith is spoken of as a good man in the county council and it is therefore reasonable to assume that he has been active and vigilant in looking after the affairs of his home municipality. There is not likely to be any change in the council if the present members are willing to act for another term.

A gentleman who is usually well-informed on what is doing in Caledon municipal politics predicts an all-round acclamation in that township. He says that the members of this year's council are content to retain their present positions for another year and that there is little talk of any opposition from outside the council. There is of course the possibility that Jack Martin, of Inglewood, who was defeated by "Billy" Wilson for deputy-reeve a year ago, may decide to have another round out of his successful opponent. In that event there is no telling how matters would shape.

Although municipal nominations are less than a week away it can scarcely be said that the municipal pot is boiling in the surrounding townships. Municipal matters are unusually quiet for this time of the year. This may be due in part to the open season, which has kept the farmers occupied with outdoors work, that is at an end about the middle of November in normal years. Then, too, help is scarce and hard to get on the farms, so that the average farmer does not have the time to devote to municipal politics that farmers of a couple of decades ago were wont to give to this and other public matters. It is not to be inferred that this quietness is particular to the townships, for in Orangeville, Shelburne, Grand Valley and other urban municipalities the same state of unusual quietude exists.

East Garafraxa is looking forward to an acclamation, although there is the possibility that a contest may develope on nomination day. Reeve W. H. Hunter has announced that he is retiring. He has made a first-rate Reeve and his withdrawal will be regretted. Harvey Heath, the senior member of the council, is definitely in the field for the Reeveship. Councillor William Haws has been mentioned as a likely candidate, but we understand that he has stated that he will not oppose Heath. Councillors Hoare and McCormick have both expressed a desire to withdraw from the Council, but their constituents are unwilling to lose their services at the Board and strong efforts are being made to induce them to remain for another year. They are young men of energy and ability and their retirement would be a distinct loss to the municipality. If they consent to stand again the Council seats will likely be filled without a contest.

In Orangeville there is a strong probability that Mayor Jeffers and his colleagues will be returned by acclamation. The Mayor has given freely of his time and energy during the year and there is a feeling that he should be given the customary second term without a contest. We understand that the two Reeves and the six councillors are content to remain in their present places for another term, so that if there is a contest it will be caused by aspirants outside the council. There is of course the possibility that Ex-Mayor Thos. Hewson will attempt to stage a come-back for the Mayoralty. Mr. Hewson feels that he was done out of a second term a year ago and under the circumstances it is safe to assume that he will not feel bound to respect the two year custom, if he thinks the time opportune to run. Orangeville has had a stronger council than usual this year and we do not imagine that our citizens would object greatly to an all-round acclamation.

Reeve Bower, of Mono, has done the municipality good service as Reeve for the last three years and has back of that a record of useful work as deputy-reeve and councillor. He thinks he should be allowed to drop out, but has many friends in the township who would like to see him at the helm for another year. Mr. Bower has made it plain that he will not contest the office although it is quite possible that he would consent to remain for another year if he were offered an acclamation. Deputy-Reeve Archie McQuilken would like another year's seasoning in the Deputy-Reeve's chair and would be quite satisfied to have Bower continue as Reeve. It is said that Councillor Parks is likely to run for Deputy-Reeve and there is also the possibility that Councillor Fines may decide that it is time to take a step up. In either case McQuilken would have to decide whether to stand a contest for Deputy-Reeve or try for the Reeve's chair. Councillor McNaughton is not enamured of municipal life. He wanted to retire a year ago, but was persuaded to stay with the job for another term. We learn that he is likely to persist in being allowed to drop out this year.

In Amaranth there is a strong likelihood that Deputy-Reeve W. F. Hammond will get the Reeve's chair without a contest. Reeve Simpson, who has left the township and is now a citizen of Shelburne will retire and by many people Mr Hammond is looked upon as his logical successor. It has been persistently rumored for several weeks that Ex-Reeve John Bryan would contest the Reeveship with Mr. Hammond, but friends who are in Mr. Bryan's confidence do not think he has any intention of offering himself. Should he decide to come out for the office he would have a strong following and Hammond would have to do some tall hustling to win out. There is also a persistent rumour that Reuben West of the Waldemar division is likely to throw his hat in the ring and endeavor to take a fall out of Hammond. West has had a good deal of municipal experience and is an ardent campaigner. There will be plenty of excitement in Amaranth should he decide to run. For the Deputy-Reeveship it seems to be generally understood that there will be a contest with Councillors W. H. Whaley and W. J. Farnell figuring as the candidates. It should make a pretty fight and the result will probably depend largely on the way the vote goes in the Laurel division. It may be that Councillor Trimble, who headed the poll for the Council a year ago, will decide to make the fight a three-cornered one. If he does it will take a wise man to pick the winner. It looks as if Amaranth will have to find 2 if not three new men for the council seats. At time of writing they are not in sight, but there will probably be a number of aspirants by the time nomination day comes.

H. S. COMMENCEMENT

Large Audience Attended Exercises in the Opera House on Thursday Night.

Three Act Play, "Charlie's Aunt," Repeated Before Capacity House on Friday Night.

Practically every seat in the Opera House was occupied for the Annual Commencement Exercises of the Orangeville High School a week ago Thursday night. The students and their friends were out in large numbers and townspeople generally made up the remainder of the audience. The large attendance reflected the pride and interest that the people of Orangeville and district take in the school and its success. The programme opened with a couple of pleasing folk dances by girls of the school, Mayor Jeffers, who presided, spoke of the pride which citizens take in the school and its work and paid a deserved tribute to the zeal and efficiency of Principal Hackett and the members of his staff. He also spoke favorably of the work of the school board, which he said was composed of citizens who gave freely of their time and energy for the good of the school.

Following the chairman's address Principal Hackett called the winners of the diplomas and certificates to the platform. The presentations were made by Dr. W. J. Price, one of the members of the School Board. The names of the pupils thus honored are:—

GRADUATION DIPLOMAS

Elizabeth Crozier, Olive Hughson, Beulah Irwin, Ina Jackson, Hazel Kendrew, Reta Kendrew, Helen McMurchy, May Madill, Velma Quinn, Charles Rowan, Muriel Torrie, Kathleen Wheelock, Faith Wise, Beatrice Young.

COMMERCIAL DEPARTMENT

Commercial Diplomas

Muriel Webb, Winnie Clowes, Alva McKim, Myrtle McKinney, Muriel Ellis, Beatrice Hopkins, Annie May Rowan, Reta Sherman. (All the above got their diplomas with honours.)

Certificates of Proficiency from the Underwood Company.

Beatrice Hopkins, Myrtle McKinney, Muriel Webb, Winnie Clowes, Muriel Ellis, Gwen Sproule, Myrtle Corbett.

Medals

Myrtle McKinney, Beatrice Hopkins, Alva McKim (medal and bar.)

ATHLETICS

BOYS—Senior Championship, Ford Lindsay; Intermediate Championship, Harold Stubbs; Junior Championship, Ross Robertson.

GIRLS—Senior Championship, Gladys Torrance; Intermediate Championship, Bessie Anderson; Junior Championship, Eileen Daniels.

An interesting and pleasing feature was the presentation of four special prizes to the fortunate winners. About a year ago Dr. and Mrs. R. N. Kyles offered a special prize to the student who obtained the highest standing for the year in Form I. John Kyles, a son of the donors, came first, but was declared ineligible owing to the conditions under which the prize was given. The award thereupon reverted to Miss Marion Cameron, to whom it was formally presented on Thursday night. Both of these students made a remarkably good showing, having obtained an average of over 83 per cent. on eighteen examinations. It is to be hoped that other citizens will follow the example of Dr. Kyles in offering prizes to students who excel in their school work. Recognizing the splendid work done by the two students already mentioned the High School Board decided to award special prizes to John Kyles and also to Lulu Wise and Irene Harrison, each of whom obtained eight honors at the Junior Matriculation examinations last June. These prizes were also presented by Dr. Price, who made a fitting reference to the fine work of the students and the honours they had won. We understand that Dr. and Mrs. Kyles have signified their intention of offering two prizes this year for the students who obtain highest standing in Forms I. and II.

At the conclusion of the presentations Principal Hackett spoke briefly of the work of the school paying a warm tribute to the ability and industry of the students and also to the hearty and earnest co-operation of the members of the teaching staff, without whose efforts the excellent showing made by the school would have been impossible. The Principal referred to the work of the different departments and declared that the showing made at the examinations last midsummer was the best for many years. He stressed particularly the large number of honours obtained as an evidence of the excellent work of the school. Mr. Hackett also made reference to the excellent showing in the Commercial Department and commended the Trustee Board for making the necessary provision for the addition of this Department as part of the school work.

Another folk dance by the girls was followed by the presentation of a three act play entitled "Charlie's Aunt" by a student cast under the direction of Miss E. W. Mason, of the teaching staff. The Play is a real mirth provoking comedy and at times the actors had the whole audience nearly convulsed with laughter. The forced impersonation of the real Charlie's Aunt by a College boy, who is induced to adopt the role in order to help his chums along with their love making plans leads to a number of misunderstandings and amusing situations that are not cleared up until the last few minutes of the play. The parts were admirably sustained, a number of the actors showing interpretative skill and ability that did them a great deal of credit. Fred Warsborough as Jack Chesney Douglas Adamson as Charlie Wykeham, Clayton Connell as Sir Francis Babberley and later as the fictitious "Charlie's Aunt," Arthur Henry as Sir Francis Chesney and Jamieson Anderson as that important personage, Stephen Spettigue were all particularly good and acted their parts in finished manner. Jack Marshall was inimitable in the role of Brasset, the Valet, and Will Edwards was also good as the footman. The quiet, self-possessed manner and the delightfully clear enunciation of Florence Partridge in the role of Donna Lucia D'Alvadorez, appealed strongly to the audience. Alice McGuire was charming in the role of Ella Delahey and the same may be said of Kathleen Wheelock and Aileen Preston, who essayed the roles of Amy Spettigue and Kitty Verdon, with credit to themselves and in a manner highly pleasing to their audience. Altogether the play was a big success and was keenly enjoyed by all who saw and heard the production. The students had gone to a good deal of trouble to secure suitable stage scenery. In this too, they were very successful, the setting for the different acts being marked by good taste and judgment.

The Play was given again on Friday night, when the success of the previous evening was more than repeated. A capacity house was in attendance and the efforts of the student actors were repeatedly rewarded with rounds of appreciative appaluse. There were a couple of extra numbers on the programme which, judging from the applause evidently met with the approval of the audience. Those taking part excelled even their work of Thursday night, each member of the cast sustaining his or her part in a manner that would do credit to many professionals.

The success of the Play is due in a great measure to the excellent training of Miss Mason, who had the complete charge and responsibility of its presentation. The School is to be congratulated upon having a teacher who can make such a success in dramatic art.

RELESSEY

The Sunday School concert held in Relessey Methodist Church on Friday evening, December 21st, was very much enjoyed by all those who attended, as was the three act drama, "Mother Mine," presented by the young people of the neighborhood. The cast of characters was as follows:—Cynthia Whitcomb, the Deacon's wife, Myrtle Coleman; Miranda Peasley, Mother Mine, Emily McCutcheon; Martha Tisdale, a neighbor, Olive Coleman; Lettie Holcomb, with a nose for news, Mary Beckstead; Lillian Whitcomb, the Deacon's daughter, May Laverty Mary Tisdale, Martha's daughter Bessie Anderson; John Whitcomb the Deacon, Harold Awison; Jack Payson, the Merchant's son, Bert McCutcheon; Joe Payson, the Merchant, Harold McCutcheon; Jerry McConnell, the Newcomer, Clare McCutcheon; Officer Lewis, from Boston, Herb. Leader; Sam Blunt the Constable, Sheldon Anderson. The play was given in excellent style, the performers sustaining their roles with ability and judgment. The proceeds of the evening amounted to about $37.00. We understand that arrangements are under way to present "Mother Mine" in some of the neighboring burgs in the near future.

ALTON

Amongst the holiday visitors were noticed Misses Ina McLachlan, Eveline Thomas, Bertha Lowe, Nell and Agnes Meek, Margaret Dods, Ada Lemon and Coral Barber. Mrs. John M. Dods, Mr. James Dods and Mr. James Barber, from Toronto; Miss Grace Barber from Boston; Miss Dorothy Dods from Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Palmer Jr. and Mr. Ross Cowison from Guelph; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Sibbald, Toronto, and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Somerville, of London; Dr. Fred Babcock, Milton and Mr. Hilton Cameron, Oshawa.

We are pleased to see Mr. D. Lindsay home again after a serious operation in Toronto. Mr. James Meek arrived home on Monday from Orangeville Hospital.

The annual school meeting of S. S. No. 15, Caledon, (Alton P.S.) will be held in the Library on Thursday evening at 8 o.m. sharp.

Messrs. Elwin and Jim Smart, of Brampton, are spending a few days with Mr. Everton Barber.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lovell and baby, from Mt. Forest, spent Christmas with relatives in town.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb. Storey spent the week-end in Hamilton.

Mr. and Mrs. Levern Moulder and baby, Blanche, were the Christmas guests of Mrs. Trimble.

The annual cantata entitled "When Santa Listened In," was given by the children of the Methodist S. S. on the evening of Dec. 25th, in the Town Hall, to a crowded house. Dr. Caldwell occupied the chair in an admirable manner. The children had their parts up well and are to be congratulated on the splendid manner in which they presented them. Community singing of Christmas hymns and a solo by Mr. Adam took up a few moments at the beginning of the program. A silver collection was taken up at the door and amounted to the gratifying sum of $28.00.

Mr. Bill Alexander, of Buffalo arrived home on Friday for the Christmas holiday.

Mr. Wilfred Sinclair, of Cleveland, is spending a few holidays at his home here.

Mr. Herb. Strong was the week-end guest of Mr. Geo. Ward.

Dr. Caldwell's subjects for Sunday, Dec. 30th, will be: "New Year's Praise," and "Pharaoh's Question to Jacob."

Many people are thinking seriously of a noted Indian's prophecy that this winter will be the mildest since 1875.

Mrs. Martha McPhilomy, widow of the late Charles McPhilomy, of Alton and Credit Forks, died in Lord Dufferin Hospital, Orangeville, on Thursday last, December 20th. The funeral was held from Robert Clark's Undertaking Parlors on Saturday Dec. 22nd. Rev. Dr. Caldwell officiated at the house and grave.

In our report of the Methodist Church Bazaar in last week's Banner we inadvertently omitted to mention the names of two of the ladies who helped in the booths. These were Mrs. David Patterson one of the ladies in charge of the tea room, and Mrs. M. Gooderham We regret the oversight, which was purely an accident. We are pleased to add that Mrs. Patterson, who was taken quite seriously ill during the Bazaar, has recovered and is now feeling quite well again. This we are sure will be welcome news to her many friends.

CALEDON EAST

The Women's Missionary Society of Knox Church, Caledon East, met at the home of Mrs. Alex. McElwain on Dec. 14th. Life membership certificates were presented to Mrs. T. Matthews and Mrs. John McFarlane. Election of officers for the coming year were held and resulted as follows:—Mrs. Jas. Stewart President; Mrs. A. McElwain, Treasurer; Mrs. H. Berney, Secretary Miss McFarlane, Home Helpers' Secretary; Miss Walker, Organist; Mrs R. J. Cranston, Strangers' Secretary Mrs. W. Smith, Messenger and Supply Secretary. Luncheon was served at the close of the meeting.

MELANCTHON STATION

Considerable grain is coming into Melancthon grain market this season. At present writing prices are as follows: Oats 36c to 38c, barley 50c to 55c, peas about $1.25.

The hunting season is with us once more, but game is so scarce that it hardly pays for the powder and shot—and time.

Our local produce dealer, Mr. Abraham Katzman, is spending a few days in Toronto combining business with pleasure.

Rumor says that Melancthon oil wells are to be further developed in the very near future, when drilling will commence on some of the farms on the Gravel Road, north.

We are pleased to hear that our esteemed pastor, Rev. G. H. Pogson who was indisposed a short time ago, is now able to take the work on the Corbetton circuit regularly.

Mr. Arthur Dobson, of Toronto has returned to the city after spending a week in Melancthon attending to the pressing and shipping of the hay that grew on the farm that he recently sold just north of the village—the old Laveile farm. As an instance of what some men can make off a farm that others say is "little or no good," Mr. Dobson has just sold his hay for the handsome sum of $600.00. This farm is one of several in this locality that people as a rule back up at the thought of working it and making it pay. Besides this large yield of hay Mr Dobson also had a considerable portion of the farm in grain crop. When we take into consideration the fact that more than half of the 150 acres in the whole farm is still in woods Mr. Dobson has certainly made it pay pretty well for a man residing in the city and only spending some two weeks last summer and one week now on the premises. The fact of the matter is, even the very poorest of Melancthon farms can be made a good paying proposition if the farmer will only put his shoulder to the wheel and work and manage his farm properly. Where they don't succeed the fault is not in the farm, but in the farmer himself. Mr Dobson sold this farm only about two months ago and we understand it has now just been sold again to a Toronto purchaser who will possibly move up here soon and live on the farm. We welcome Toronto people up here in this healthful climate, where they can have free fuel for the cutting of it when it is so expensive in the city.

Charlie O'Neil Jr. has secured a lucrative position in Toronto.

Quite a number from this burg and vicinity are spending Christmas holidays at distant points, while others are visiting their former homes here.

Municipal matters is the chief topic throughout the township just now. 25 years ago now the method of electing the county council as a separate body instead of being the Reeves and Deputy-Reeves of the various municipalities as at present, was in vogue, and Division No. 4, consisting of Melancthon and Shelburne, nomination was held in the town hall here, the late John S Allen being nominating officer, and the candidates nominated were Messrs. George Bailey, Samuel McDowell, R. A. Riley, H. H. Walker Wm. Gray, N. B. Allin, Dr. Barr and G. M. Vance.

HOCKLEY

Having been away from the old home village for a long time, it came to my mind what a pleasure it would be to visit it once more especially during the Christmas season. Coming in from the east the first change I noticed was the big cut in Dunn's bill. I was standing there viewing the fine grade when I was joined by an oldtime friend in the person of John Cole. How I did enjoy his company as he explained everything in detail relating to the big work. He then invited me to dine with him, explaining first that his boy had been away for a couple of days and came home with the measles. However he thought the malady was past the infectious stage. Despite the caution about the measles, I decided to accept the invitation. After tea I resumed my journey and met Milford Cole before I had travelled very far. I asked him if he was hauling gravel, and he answered "sure." I was next overtaken by Stanley Thompson, who was driving a very slow horse, but informed me that he was going to trade the equine off for a new "Lizzie." When we arrived at the village we found Jack Lee weighing out geese for the storekeeper. I gave him a lift with one, which he declared weighed fifty pounds. Jack seemed inclined to talk and through him I received a lot of news concerning the happenings of the neighborhood. He told me that M. J. is still making regular trips to Bolton and that Joe Irwin is still looking for the cage but he has grave fears that the bird may go south. Joe Varey is very anxious to reorganize the lacrosse team if the weather will only continue fine. Bob McKelvie has the same old motto, "Opposition is the life of trade." Ted says he doesn't mind the winter so much now as he makes occasional visits to Summerville. As I was enjoying Jack's chat, Wilson Irwin came along and I spent an enjoyable night with him entertaining a couple of young gentlemen who were introduced to me as Messrs. Herman and Harold McFarland. The former told me that by saving he thought he would have a Ford and the latter gave me the impression that he was rather dissatisfied with life on the farm.

The lowered "cut prices" we are now making on our standard, reliable overcoats, suits, underwear and all kinds of furnishings will absolutely COMPEL you to buy when you come into our store.

We want to move out quickly every piece of winter goods we have left and we are making the CUT PRICES which will do the job in a "jiffy."

Better hurry while the picking is good.

We have had a splendid Christmas business, but there are always some LEFT-OVERS, which are real snaps this year. In every line we have bargains. At $10.00 we have some small sized men's overcoats, which are less than half price, sizes 34, 35 and 36. If you are a wee man, don't overlook these coats.

If you require a Suit, Underwear, or anything in Men's Furnishings, we have lots of reduced lines. Be sure and see them before buying.

BROADWAY - - ORANGEVILLE

CAMILLA

(Intended for last week.)

Very few from this burg attended the usual December fair in Orangeville.

The shooting match held at N. Kinsley's supplied all the "lucky shots" with plenty of goose and turkey for Christmas. If all were not satisfied they had a chance to stock up with Fred Buchanan's turkeys on Friday.

We wonder if 1924 will break that League of Bachelors along 20 sideroad? Now girls go easy at them.

The debate held in the basement of the church on the 7th inst. between the Young People and U. F. O. created much discussion. The triumvirate decided in favor of the U. F. O.

The rising generation bless the alarm clock every morning.

The party given in Shepherd's Hall was enjoyed by all. As we want another before the year is out you'll have to hustle up boys.

The tax collector took all the crow out of our crown for the taxes.

We are very sorry to report the sudden death of one of our old neighbors in the person of Mrs. Robt. South. Our sympathy goes to the members of the family.

George thinks Leap Year is a long time coming.

Charlie Scott (Dr.) has gone to Toronto for the balance of 1923 Upon his return he intends to practice in Alton. Success, Charlie.

Harris seems to think Lundy's Lane is on the road since the fence was moved in.

Mrs. Bremner has returned to the city after spending the summer with us.

We wonder if Harold's Charlie will stay on for another year.

Harold Gemmill went as a delegate to the U.F.O. Convention held in Toronto.

Andrew thinks his Sandy will "stick on" if Harold's Charlie does.

Mrs. Coutts has almost fully recovered from her severe illness.

The farming class for once surely got all their fall work completed.

Does Fred think everything he wants is in one store in Orangeville?

Does Clifford M. think it's a sadder shop they're building in Glenn School?

We wonder:—

If Elmer thinks Lilys would be better on the east place?

If Wilfrid thinks he could sing?

If Tom thinks he'd sooner have one girl to live with?

If we're here to help others, what the dickens are others here for?

If Pete thinks the girls might think the house too small. Look out, Pete.

A. O. Scott motored from the city on Saturday and spent the week-end on the old homestead, returning back to the Queen City on Tuesday.

Arthur Curtis spent the past week at Whittington.

We have a problem to solve in this neighborhood. If we don't go to church on Sunday we feel that we are not doing our duty, and if we do go and tie our horse in that cold shed we are in danger of getting in trouble with the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

ALTON MONO ROAD CIRCUIT

Special Christmas service in the Mono Road church next Sabbath at 11 a.m. Special Christmas music. Subject, "The Message of Christmas."

Special Christmas service in Caesar's Church next Sabbath at 3 p.m. Special Christmas music. Subject "The Message of Christmas."

A special Christmas service in Caledon East Methodist Church next Sabbath at 7 p.m. Special music by the choir. Subject, "The Message of Christmas."

THE TIME ELEMENT

When James A. Garfield was president of Hiram College, a man brought up his son to be entered as a student. He wanted the boy to take a course shorter than the regular one.

"My son can never take all those studies," said the father. "He wants to get through more quickly. Can't you arrange it for him?"

"Oh, yes," said Mr. Garfield. "He can take a short course; it all depends on what you want to make of him. When God wants to make an oak, He takes a hundred years, but He takes only two months to make a squash."

BANQUET LACROSSE TEAM

The Inglewood Athletic Association tendered a banquet to its lacrosse team on Thursday night. The colors of the club, red and white were used in carnations for decorating the banquetting hall. Members of the team, who were runners-up in the Caledon-Erin League were each presented with a group photo of the members and officers of the Club.

DID NOT CHARGE

Jas. H. Hilliard is a barber at Alton. In a room adjoining his shop he put in two billiard tables. Alton is a Police Village and the trustees got after Hilliard for conducting a billiard room without a license. The efforts to have Hilliard fined failed because they couldn't show that he had ever charged a player a fee. P. M. Crawford dismissed the complaint. Hilliard talks of organizing an Athletic Club to operate the room.

COXWORTH—ARNOLD

On Wednesday, December 5th, 1923, at 12 o'clock noon, the marriage was solemnized at the home of the bride's parents, Ivy, Ont., of Estella Marion Arnold, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. W. R. Arnold, and Arthur Henry Coxworth, also of Ivy. The bride was given away by her father and wore white canton crepe draped and caught up at the side with a rhinestone ornament. She also wore the customary bridal veil. The wedding music was played by Miss Lorna Bracken, of Orangeville, a cousin of the bride. Miss Lorna Fletcher, also a cousin of the bride, sang "Love Sends a Little Gift of Roses" during the signing of the register. After the wedding breakfast the happy young couple left for Toronto, Hamilton and other points, the bride travelling in delf blue crepe with hat to match and a fur coat. The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome wrist watch and to the pianiste a string of pearls.

MADILL—NOBLE

Wednesday, Dec. 5th, the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Noble was the scene of a very pretty wedding when their eldest daughter, Mary Edna was united in marriage to William H. Madill, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Madill, of Melancthon. At one o'clock, to the strains of the Lohengrin wedding march, played by Miss Annie McGhee, the bride, becomingly dressed in brown duchess satin and carrying a bouquet of Columbia roses and lily of the valley mingled with fern entered the drawing room. She was given away by her father in the presence of about sixty guests. The marriage was solemnized under an arch of evergreens by the Rev. Jas Brown, of Horning's Mills. The drawing room was tastefully decorated in pink and white. The groom's gift to the bride was a handsome hand bag and to the pianist a gold brooch. After the signing of the register the bridal couple led the way to the dining room where a dainty luncheon was served. The presents were numerous and useful showing the high esteem in which the bride is held by her many friends. The happy couple left on the evening train showered with confetti for their wedding tour. On their return they will reside on the groom' farm, 4th line, Melancthon.—Free Press.

DYNES—DYNES

On Dec. 5th a pretty wedding took place at the home of Mrs. and the late Robinson Dynes, when her youngest daughter, Lena V., was united in holy matrimony to Elmer C. Dynes, oldest son of Wm. Dynes of Amaranth. Promptly at the hour of 2 p.m., to Lohengrin's wedding march, rendered by Willie Dynes brother of the groom, the groom took his place under an arch of evergreens trimmed with bells and roses and was joined by the bride, who was given in marriage by her mother Rev. A. F. Bamford officiated in the presence of immediate relatives. The bride looked pretty gowned in silk canton crepe trimmed with radium lace and carried a bouquet of roses lily of the valley and fern. She was attended by little Mabel McDonald niece of the bride, who wore a gown of pink crepe de chine and carried a basket of 'mums, lily of the valley and fern. After congratulations the bride led the way to the dining room where a dainty repast was served by Misses Birdie Dynes and Edith Bell. The groom's gift to the bride was a rope of pearls, to the flower girl a gold necklace set with pearls and to the pianist gold cuff links The bride received some beautiful presents, amongst them being a muskrat coat from her mother. The young couple left on the 5.25 train for Toronto and other points, the bride travelling in a navy blue tailored tricotine suit with hat to match On their return they will reside on the groom's farm, lot 29, Melancthon.—Free Press.

LATE JOS. SYMINGTON'S WILL

An issue was tried before Judge Widdifield in the Surrogate Court of the County of York to establish the Will of the late Joseph Symington which has been attacked by a son of the Testator, Joseph G. Symington.

Under this Will the son had been left a legacy of $50.00 while in a previous Will made over twenty years ago a legacy of $200.00 had been left to him. He claimed that through the undue influence of his step-mother, the applicant for probate, the amount of this legacy had been cut down.

Judge Widdifield, however, held that there was no evidence of any undue influence and that the widow had acted in a perfectly right and proper manner throughout and ordered that probate of the Will be issued to her. The late Joseph Symington was for many years station agent at Dundalk.

Earl Cameron and Bert Hales, Tecumseth young men, were charged before Police Magistrate Jeffs in police court in Alliston with the petty theft of a goose. The goose which was the property of William Prince, also of Tecumseth, had been shot by these young men.

LOVELL—TATE

A very pretty wedding took place in the Presbyterian Manse in Grand Valley on Wednesday, November 28th, at four o'clock, when Miss Eva Tate and Mr. Harry Lovell, of Waldemar, were quietly married, the Rev. Samuel Lundie officiating. The bride looked very pretty, wearing a navy blue suit with grey hat and willow plume. After the ceremony the happy couple left on the evening train amid showers of good wishes and confetti. They are spending their honeymoon in Toronto, Niagara and New York. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Lovell will reside at Waldemar, where they will be at home to their many friends.

MACPHERSON—NEWMAN

In St. Andrew's Church, on Wednesday evening, Dec. 12th, at 5 o'clock the marriage of Miss Jeanette Newman, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Newman, of New York City, and Mr. Douglas Macpherson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dougald Macpherson, of Orangeville Ont., was solemnized by Rev. J. A. MacKeigan. The bride was given in marriage by her brother-in-law. Mr. O. W. Martyn, and was attended by Miss Maude Kern. Dr. J. A. Plunkett supported the groom. The bride was attired in a gown of nigger brown satin in canton crepe trimmed with Kolinsky fur, with hat of French model in nigger brown Lyons velvet, with facing of faille silk in the same shade and trimmed with velvet flowers and fruit in corresponding shades. Her bouquet was of sunburst roses and lily of the valley with maidenhair fern. The bridesmaid wore a gown of navy blue brocaded crepe with hat of black model and carried Columbia roses and carnations with ferns. Mr. Cyril Hampshire presided at the organ, playing the Lohengrin wedding march as the bride entered the edifice, and Mendelssohn's wedding march as the bridal party passed out. During the signing of the register, Mr. Angus Macpherson brother of the groom, sang "For You Alone," Henry E. Geere's composition. Immediately following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Macpherson left via the C. P. R. to spend a holiday in Winnipeg. On their return they will reside at 667 Hochelaga St. W.—Moose Jaw, Sask. Evening Times.

NEWHOUSE—FAULKNER

A very pretty wedding was solemnized Wednesday afternoon, December 5th, at three o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Faulkner, Inglewood at which forty guests were present when their youngest daughter Hazel Irene, became the bride of Elmore Newhouse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Newhouse, Snelgrove Rev. Dr. P. W. Spence conducted the ceremony, which took place beneath a canopy of white chrysanthemums and suspending bell. The dining rom was decrated with pink and white 'mums. The bride was becoming gowned in white crepe her veil being caught with orange blossoms, and she carried a bouquet of pink roses. She was unattended and was given away by her father The wedding music was sweetly rendered by Mrs. W. J. Jackson, of Mono, a sister of the bride. After a dainty wedding dejeuner the happy couple left on a honeymoon trip to Toronto and Eastern Ontario the bride wearing brown canton crepe dress, hat to match and coat of muskrat fur. They were the recipients of many valuable presents The groom's gift to the bride was a pearl necklace and to the pianiste an onyx ring. On their return Mr. and Mrs. Newhouse will reside in Adjaia

LOVELY WEATHER IN B. C

With his renewal subscription to The Banner, Mr. V. Dynes, of Penticton, B. C., formerly of Mono sends us the following note:

"We have not had any winter here yet and the weather is lovely. Penticton is a delightful place to live in and is steadily growing. In 1911 we had four teachers and now we have twenty-six; a population then of 1100 and now it is 4000. We appreciate the visits of The Banner. We are both in the best of health."

FAILED TO WIN SUIT

At the December Sessions in Brampton last week, Miss Birdie Glassford, of Caledon East, sued E. C. Forster, of Bolton, for $1500 damages for injuries sustained in an automobile accident on Sunday, July 28th last. The case was tried before Judge Justin and a jury and resulted in a non-suit for the plaintiff. Miss Glassford, who was driving in a car with Mr. A. W. Campbell, of Toronto, met Mr. Forster, who was returning to Bolton. In passing Campbell turned out too far, got into the ditch, ran along the ditch until he struck the wing walls of a cement culvert, which stopped and smashed his car. Miss Glassford had her right arm injured in the mixup. The plaintiff claimed that Mr. Forster did not give Campbell room in passing and that the latter was forced to take to the ditch. Both autos were travelling at a moderate speed. It was dark and the lights confused the drivers. Witnesses who examined the tracks afterwards testified that there was room for another car to pass between. The jury retired at 8.30 p. m. and returned at 10 o'clock with a verdict favorable to Forster. Some time ago Campbell sued Forster in the Division Court for damages to his car, but judgment was reserved and has not yet been given.

DR THOMAS' ECLECTRIC OIL

A SURE, SAFE AND SIMPLE REMEDY FOR ALL THE COMMON AILMENTS OF MAN AND BEAST. IT SHOULD ALWAYS BE KEPT ON HAND, AS A MORE SEVICEABLE PREPARATION FOR SUCH USES CANNOT BE FOUND. GET A BOTTLE TO-DAY AND HAVE IT READY FOR THE TIME WHEN YOU WILL NEED IT.

CAMILLA

(Intended for last week.)

About 150 attended the dance on Wednesday night last and report a good time, although the success of the affair was marred to some extent by the conduct of a few Orangeville boys, who came out and tried to act clever. We would have overlooked their ignorance, had they not come in a semi-drunken condition and brought their booze with them. Fortunately they were put out and started home to the great relief of the rest of the guests. The next time this occurs we will publish the names of the culprits. Our dances have always been decent and respectable and for the good of our young people we hope to have them continue thit way.

Mr. W. H. Gemmill returned home on Monday after a week's visit in the Queen City.

Mr. James McDonald, Mr. George Rayfield and Miss Lillian Rayfield visited Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Howard, of Brampton, on Sunday.

Mr. Alex. Scott, of Toronto, spent the week-end with his mother, Mrs. John Scott.

The choir of St. Andrew's Church held a very successful banquet in the basement of the Church on Tuesday night, Dec. 4th.

The debate which was held in the school room of the church by the Young People and U. F. O. Club was very good. The subject was, "Resolved that Higher Education makes a Better Citizen than Home Training." The affirmative side was taken by Misses E. Gallaugher and Lillian Rayfield and the negative by Messrs. H. R. Gemmill and Robert Reid, the negative side winning by a six point margin. Had the critic criticized the affirmative side and not praised them so much he would have displayed the benefits of higher education to better advantage. After the debate there was singing by Arthur Curtis and Albert Clowes. The young people served a delicious lunch. The meeting was closed by singing God Save the King.

CAR WENT OVER BANK

John Beer, a thresher who lives near Cataract, and his companion, Roy Anderson, had a close call one morning last week, when a Ford coupe in which they were riding went over the Credit River embankment a short distance east of Bell's mill. The two men were on their way to Caledon village, when something went wrong with the steering gear of their car, causing it to plunge over the 40 foot embankment. The car turned over several times before it came to a standstill at the bottom of the bank. It was badly wrecked, but Beer had the rare good fortune to escape with a few bruises and a bad shaking up. Anderson had his nose broken.

Mysterious shooting took place in a St. Catharines cafe in which a Beamsville man, Henry Miller, received two bullet wounds.

Two beautiful English pheasants have made their home on the 10th concession of Nottawasaga. The two birds spent considerable time the other day on the farm of Norman Sampson and strutted around quite unconcernedly. It is to be hoped the birds will not be molested and allowed to propagate if they survive the winter.

WHEN DADDY'S GONE

Mamma, who is old Santa Claus—
What loves us little boys
And comes around on Christmas Eve
All loaded down with toys?

I'll bet my daddy knows him well,
'Cause Santy seemed to know
That what I wanted was a sled.
Guess daddy told him so!

But, mamma, what makes Santa Claus
Forget poor little Jim,
Just 'cause his daddy's here no more!
Don't Santy think of him?

Jim says "there aint no Santy Claus"
Not since his daddy died.
And when I showed him my new sled
Jim just set down and cried.

This made me feel so awful bad
I had to cry some, too.
And then I says to little Jim,
"There'll be a sled for you."

And so to-night when he's asleep
Ma ma I'll go and see,
And say I've fetched a sled for Jim
Like Santa gave to me.

But, mamma, s'pose my daddy died
And left just me and you!
Would Santy Claus treat us that way?
Would he forget us, too?

MOTIVES THAT CONTROL LIVES

The Cross was not a mere example of love and unselfishness to make men ashamed to do wrong and inclined to do right. Sin in the Bible is such an awful fact that it cost the blood of the son of God even to open up a way by which it might be blotted out. Repentance and religious culture are not enough. Life comes before growth. All the dews and sunshine of heaven, and all the forces and fertility of earth, could not quicken the grain of corn with a worm at its heart. The desolation of sin and helplessness of the sinner appeal to the noblest impulses planted in the redeemed soul. The memory of deliverance, the impulse to help one's own kind, and the privilege of sharing with God in the exercise of love which is His supreme glory, must constrain the church to do its utmost for the salvation of men. The exceeding sinfulness of sin, and our possession of the sovereign remedy of the grace of Christ, make plain our most urgent and our most clearly defined duty.

QUAINT SUPERSTITIONS

The dog is responsible for many quaint superstitions.

In ancient Persia, a dog was employed to drive away the demons who were supposed to wait for the soul of a dead man.

The Indians held dogs responsible for the illnesses of children, a small dog being offered up as an appeasing sacrifice.

Among Southern negroes the dog is hated. It is supposed to have been the Garden of Eden watchdog who let the devil in, and so was condemned by God to starve and hunt ever after.

If a dog rubs its nose on the door there will be windy weather. If it barks in its sleep it is a sign of impending evil.

If a dog passes between a couple it is a menace to their friendship while to give a dog away is supposed to bring bad luck.

Should a strange dog follow you wagging its tail you will receive a letter.

Nerves So Bad That She Would Sit and Cry

Mrs. Mary Hocking, Madoc, Ont., writes:—

"Dr. Chase's Nerve Food has done me a wonderful lot of good. I suffered from general weakness and was so run down and my heart and nerves were in such bad shape that I would sit down and cry and not know what I was crying about. I also used to have weak spells. Thanks to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, however, I am real well now. I shall always keep a box of the Nerve Food in the house, and recommend them to my friends; they are a wonderful medicine."

(Mr. J. W. Vince, Druggist, of Madoc, Ont., says: "I have sold Mrs. Hocking your Nerve Food, and the medicine has done her much good.")

GRADING OF DUFFERIN HOGS

The following table gives a statement of the numbers and grades of hogs shipped to the Stock Yards from Dufferin County points for the period indicated. A study of this report shows that, while there is a fairly large percentage of hogs going as selects, yet, there is room for very great improvement. It would appear that farmers do not pay sufficient attention to marketting their hogs at the proper time, the result being that many hogs, that might go as selects, are put into lower grades, on account of over-finish, or, in some cases, under-finish. Farmers would be well advised to study very carefully the feeding of hogs, especially younger animals, as observation would show that many animals are forced into lower grades on account of improper methods of feeding and handling. Reports from the Old Country show that Canadan bacon has a higher standing, at present, than for some time, and it would appear that the grading of hogs has had something to do with this. High class products can only be made from high class raw materials, and, with reasonable care and attention, Dufferin County can produce an unlimited quantity of high class hogs, and farmers should see to it that they receive the premium being paid for the quality of product.

WEATHER REPORT FOR COMING YEAR

Mr. Bowes, of Chatsworth, Publishes Annual Report.

For a great many years, with unfailing regularity, Mr. J. B. Bowes of Chatsworth, has issued a weather forecast for each year, and his forecasts have proved correct such a surprisingly large number of times that they are eagerly watched for each season. Not only are his forecasts widely read in this district but his prognostications are looked for in many sections of Ontario and even of the United States. Mr. Bowes' ability in this direction is recognized by the very wide interest which is taken each year in his work.

In almost every home, especially in the rural districts, a copy of Mr. Bowes' annual forecasts is kept for reference.

Here is what he says about 1924

January—Very mild and calm.

February—About the 5th of this month there will be quite a storm of wind and snow. The balance of the month will be mild, calm and dry.

March—Very mild.

April—First half quite mild and dry, but from the 15th to the 20th there will be a very pronounced storm of wind, rain and snow. The remainder of the month will be very mild.

May—Decidedly warm and dry.

June—In the first ten days there will be very strong and persistent winds, with heavy rain and frosts, with a strong possibility of a snow storm. The balance of the month will be desperately warm, with rain in the last week.

July—The first week there will be heavy rains and wind. The remainder of the month will be desperately warm and dry.

August—The first half of the month will be dry and warm, with the latter half cold and wet.

September—First week will be cool and later very warm and dry until the 28th, with strong winds rain may be expected.

October—Very mild and dry until the 28th with strong winds, rain snow and frost.

November—Decidedly warm and dry.

December—First week very mild wind, rain, snow, and frost about the 9th. The middle of the month will be very mild. A genuine wind rain and snow storm, and very cold about 22nd.

Not only does Mr. Bowes forecast the weather for a year ahead but he makes predictions for as far ahead as two or three years, and he made a statement regarding the weather for the first two months of the years 1925 and 1926. His predictions are:

January, 1925—Quite mild.

February, 1925—Decidedly mild.

January, 1926—Quite mild.

February, 1926—Just about as cold a February as it is possible to have.

A great many people in this district and throughout Ontario, have come to the conclusion that it would be impossible for anyone to forecast the weather as he has done and do it so correctly, and still guess at it. His theory, as he has explained it, appears to be feasible and must be correct. If there is any man in the province who is entitled to monetary assistance from the Carnegie Fund, or other such funds, it is J. B. Bowes, the weather man of Chatsworth, Ont.

Mr. Bowes' forecasts for the last four months of 1923 have been decidedly correct, with an exception the storm of wind, rain, snow and frost on the 22nd of November was not as he said it would be

NORTHERNERS BALKED

At the recent session of the Peel County Council Reeve Parkinson, of Port Credit, precipitated a lively debate when he introduced a resolution to hand over to Toronto township the sum of $500 from Port Credit's share of the Good Roads money. Northern representatives voiced strong opposition to the motion and led by Reeves Elliott, of Chinguacousy, and McDonald, of Caledon, gave the southern debaters a lively time. When voting time approached the northerners blocked the resolution by leaving the chamber. As four other members had already left for their homes, the Council found itself without a quorum and the resolution was withdrawn.

A motion by Reeve Riddell, of Albion, seconded by Reeve D. N. Lindsay, of Toronto Gore, to give Albion a grant of $1500 to be spent on the county good road between Bolton and Sandhill, was lost. Subsequently a motion was passed to give Albion $1000 for this road, half of the amount voted to be paid by Brampton and the other half by Port Credit. Following this a motion was introduced by Reeve Wegenast and Deputy-Reeve Fullerton, of Brampton, to vote Brampton $1200 out of the funds now standing to the credit of the Good Roads account. The motion also carried.

THE NEW MOTOR ACT

The new act regulating travel on highways, which comes into force the last day of this month, provides heavier penalties for exceeding the speed limit, and classes exceeding 40 miles an hour as reckless driving. A penalty is inflicted for motorists passing, or attempting to pass another car unless the travelled portion of the highway to the left and in front is free from approaching traffic.

LIFE BURDENED BY DYSPEPSIA

Health and Happiness Came With "Fruit-a-tives"

Made From Fruit Juices and Tonics

"Fruit-a-tives", the wonderful medicine made from the juices of apples, oranges, figs and prunes, is one of the greatest means of doing good that this country of ours has ever known.

"Fruit-a-tives" is bringing health to hundreds and hundreds of people who suffer with chronic Constipation, Biliousness and Dyspepsia.

Mr. Frank Hall of Wyevale, Ont., says, "I purchased a box of "Fruit-a-tives" and began the treatment. My condition improved immediately. The dyspepsia ceased to be the burden of my life as it had been, and I was freed of Constipation".

50 HEAD OF CATTLE 6 HORSES BURNED

Together With 50x100 Foot Barn. Implements and Season's Crop.

Probably the worst barn fire that ever occurred in Peel took place early Tuesday morning of last week at the farm of J. L. Clarke, fourth line, west, Chinguacousy, when his splendid barn with fifty head of very fine cattle, 6 horses and 2 colts were completely destroyed.

The hired man, Thomas Larson, was awakened about 2.45 in the morning by the glare of a light on the bedroom window, and, thinking it was a car, looked at his watch. When he found the time, he looked out and discovered that the entire 120 feet frontage of the barn was in flames, the fire appearing to be confined to the hay lofts above the stables.

The alarm was given to the neighborhood and in a remarkably short space of time 200 people were on the scene. Too late to do anything in regard to the fire, devouring everything before it, they worked with superhuman efforts to keep the fire from spreading to the other buildings, with marked success.

Mr. Clarke was preparing for a sale to have been held held Thursday, and fifty head of the finest cattle ever brought to the district were consumed in the flames. Among the cattle were a number of purebred animals, all being of a superior quality. Two horses were gotten out but 6 horses and 2 colts perished.

The season's crops, hay and a quantity of implements were also consumed in the barn. Mr. Clarke stated that it would be impossible to replace the barn for $10,000. The cattle he values at over $6,000 and the crops and implements at about $4,500, a total loss of $21,000. As nearly as he could estimate, he carries about $5,000 insurance.

No cause can be assigned for the fire, as everything was all right when the men left the barn after working until about 10 p.m. in preparation for the sale. The women of the household, assisted by some of the neighbors were working until after 11.30 p.m., also in preparation for the sale, and when they retired there was not the slightest sign of [illegible]

DECEMBER SESSIONS

At the December Sessions last week Albert Hills, an East Luther man, pleaded guilty to a charge of seducing a young girl, the daughter of one of his neighbors. He was let off on suspended sentence. We understand tsat the parties made a private settlement.

Arnold Wilson, a Toronto youth, was found guilty on a charge of having carnal knowledge of a Shelburne girl between 14 and 16 years of age. He was let off on suspended sentence. Wilson, who was 17 years of age when the offence occurred, has contributed $125 toward the support of the girl's child.

In the County Court S. H. Rutledge was given judgment against the Grills Tractor Company for the amount of stock he subscribed for in the Company a couple of years ago. Plaintiff alleged misrepresentation on the part of the Company's agents.

APPEAL DISMISSED

The McCormick vs. Township of Caledon appeal case has been dismissed with costs. Announcement of the result of the appeal was made in Monday's dailies. Justices Riddell, Latchford, Middleton and Logie were in favor of the dismissal, Chief Justice Meredith, the other Judge who sat on the appeal, dissented and would have allowed the appeal. The finding of the court means that the township of Caledon will have to pay Mrs. McCormick $500, the amount of the trial judgment in her favor, and will also be obliged to bear the costs of the case, which will amount to a very considerable sum. H. B. Church, Orangeville, and Hugh Guthrie, K. C., Guelph, acted for Mrs. McCormick, and C. R. McKeown K. C., Orangeville, and W. S. Morphy, Brampton, for the municipality.

"FIGURES NEVER LIE"

A watchmaker had in his employ an Irishman, who approached his master for a raise in wages. The employer put it up to Pat like this:

"If you are worth it I will be pleased to give it to you. Now let me see, what do you do in a year, Pat. We have 365 days in a year; you sleep 8 hours every day which makes 122 days you sleep taken from 365 days, leaves 243 days. Now you have 8 hours recreation every day, which makes 122 days, taken from 243 days leaves 121 days. We have 52 Sundays in a year which you have off, leaving 69 days. You have 14 days vacation, take this off and you have 55 days left. You don't work on Saturday afternoons, this makes 26 days in the year. Take this off and you have 29 days left. Now, Pat you allow one and one-half hours for meals, which totals in a year 28 days. Take this off and you have one day left. I always give you St. Patrick's Day off, so I ask you, Pat if you are entitled to a raise?"

Pat was a watchmaker, not a professor in mathematics, but as he turned away he was heard to murmur, "Phwat the divil have I been doin' for the past year?"

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear husband and father, John Clarke, who departed this life on December 24th 1918:

Days of sadness still come o'er us,
Tears of silence often flow;
For memory keeps you ever near us
Though you died five years ago.

Remembrance is a golden chain,
Death tries to break, but all in vain
To have, to love and then to part
Is the greatest sorrow of one's heart
From memory's page time cannot blot
These little words, "Forget him not"

MERCHANT PRINCE

Former Mono Boy Now Head of Million Dollar Store in Vancouver

Started in Business in 10 by 12 Building on Manitoulin Island.

The Vancouver Sun of September 23rd last contained a two page illustrated write up, commemorating the opening of the new building occupied by Woodward's Limited, a general merchandising concern, capitalized at one million dollars and paying seven per cent. dividends on its capital stock. With the write-up The Sun published photos of Mr. Charles Woodward, President and founder of Woodward's Limited the firm's present place of business a pretentious looking building of modern, fireproof construction fronting on Hastings, Abbott and Cordova Sts., and also of Mr. Woodward's former stores in Vancouver his first store on Manitoulin Island, where he started out in business 58 years ago; and his second store in the village of Manitowaning, Manitoulin Island.

Readers of The Banner will be interested to learn that Mr. Woodward, who was the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Woodward, was born in Orangeville and spent most of his boyhood in the township of Mono. John Woodward and Isaac Nicholson, who is still living in Orangeville and is now probably the oldest resident of the town, were the manufacturers of the first wagons made in this town. Later Mr. Woodward and his family moved to lot 7, Centre Road, Mono, where they resided for some years, afterwards selling out the place to Mrs. William Hewson, mother of Messrs. Hugh and Fred Hewson, the present owners and occupants of the property. The Woodward family then moved to lot 9, Centre Road, Mono, the farm now occupied by Mr. John Leighton. Nearly sixty years ago they sold lot 9 to the late Robert Corbett and moved to the Kenilworth neighborhood, where the father and head of the family subsequently died. Chas. Woodward, who was a young man when his father moved from Mono, afterwards went to Manitoulin Island, where he began in a humble way what was destined to be a wonderfully successful mercantile career.

In the Vancouver Sun, Mr. Woodward, who is still a keen, active looking business man, tells the story of his 53 years of merchandising in Canada. His first store in 1870 was in the township of Bidwell on Manitoulin Island. It was a small log building, 10 by 12, which Mr. Woodward used for a bedroom as well as a store. His customers were the early settlers and the Indians. He traded his goods mostly for mats baskets, furs, fish, grain, potatoes and berries. In those days one dollar went as far as ten dollars will go to-day. His next venture was in the village of Manitowaning, where he opened a store with a stock between five and six thousand dollars bought mostly on credit. Money was very scarce and business was chiefly done by trading with the settlers and Indians. From Manitowaning Mr. Woodward went to Gore Bay and later to Thessalon, where he opened larger stores. He was burnt out at Thessalon and had very little left after paying his debts. In 1891 he arrived in Vancouver and built a store at the corner of Harris and Main streets. He purchased nearly all his stock with borrowed money on which he was obliged to pay 9 per cent. interest. In spite of these and other handicaps Mr. Woodward cleaned up $72,000 in eleven years. His next move was to form an incorporated company, buy a lot 66 by 132 feet at the corner of Hastings and Abbott streets, and build a solid brick store, four storeys high and basement. The business was capitalized at $175,000 with a paid-up capital of $82,000. Mr. Woodward confesses that the Company had a debt of nearly $300,000, but says, "We had visions of the great possibilities of Vancouver and of its coming greatness. This stimulated us to greater efforts and we have at no time lost sight of this." One of Mr. Woodward's mottoes is "Advance Vancouver," and he has always taken great pride in the growth and progress of the rapidly expanding B. C. metropolis.

BOYS' PARLIAMENT

Gordon Adamson off to Opening Session in Legislative Buildings, Toronto.

The third session of the Ontario Boys' Parliament opens to-day in the Legislative Buildings in Toronto. Dufferin County is fortunate in its representative. Having always lived in the County Town, Gordon Adamson knows his constituency well. For several years closely allied with young people's Christian work and a booster of all that makes for clean, virile manhood, he is well aware of conditions and needs throughout the county

St. Andrew's Tuxis Square is justly proud of this charter member, who in such a short time has climbed to the top in C. S. E. T. work. This past summer he added to his conquests of Boys' Camps and Conferences by attending for nine weeks Taylor Statten's training quarters at Camp Amek. Elected to the position of one of the Councillors he had further opportunity of learning the work. All the various organizations which have enjoyed Gordon's interest and help join in wishing him every success in his latest adventure and are looking for bigger things yet.

WM. H. JUDGE

Wm. H. Judge died at his home 429 Marion St., Toronto, on Friday night last in his 46th year. Deceased was born and spent his boyhood in Caledon East. He was a commercial traveller and had represented Fry's Cocoa Company, the St. Lawrence Sugar Company and the Christie Brown Company and other companies since moving to Toronto 22 years ago. In addition to his wife he is survived by three children Herbert, Helen and Jack.

A. F. CAMPBELL DEAD

Word was received in Brampton last week of the death in Washington, D. C., of Alexander F. Campbell, a former Peel County newspaperman and politician. Mr. Campbell, who was born in Chinguacousy taught school when a young man and afterwards settled in Brampton where he founded the Brampton Conservator just fifty years ago. He was an active and public spirited citizen and filled many municipal offices in the town. In 1886 he contested the riding for the Ontario Legislature but was defeated. He was elected to the Legislature for Algoma in 1890, but retired at the end of the term and in 1896 contested Peel unsuccessfuly for the House of Commons. He was for many years a member of L. O. L. No 5, Brampton, and through the columns of the Conservator was an outspoken advocate of Orange and temperance principles. He was a firm believer in the policy of protection for Canada and was intensely loyal to the British Crown His wife died during the past year and he is survived by one son, who holds a position in the civil service at Ottawa, and three daughters, one of whom, Mrs. Jos. Moore, is a resident of Peel.

DORIS REID HULSE

Much sympathy is felt for Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hulse, West Broadway, in their very sad bereavement through the death of their little daughter, Doris, which occurred late on Saturday night. The child, who was a bright, attractive wee girlie of one year, 4 months and 14 days had been ill for two weeks. In spite of the best efforts of her physician, careful nursing and the watchful solicitous care of her parents, the bright young life passed to the Beyond. She will be sadly missed by her parents and brother, Warren who for a child of his tender years, had grown to love his little sister very dearly. The funeral, which was held to Greenwood Cemetery at 2.30 o'clock on Monday afternoon was largely attended by sorrowing and sympathising friends. The Revs. H. L. Partridge and J. W. McDonald conducted the services at the house and grave. The little casket, which was almost hidden by flowers, was borne to its last resting place by four nieces of little Doris, Lela Robinson, Lucille Montgomery, Clinton Robinson and Maurice Hulse. The flowers included a wreath from the parents, sprays from Grandma and Grandpa Montgomery, Grandma and Grandpa Hulse, Mr. and Mrs. Percy Hulse, Mr. and Mrs. Walker Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. Mervyn Hebden and Bessie and Gordon Robinson, and bouquets from Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Montgomery, Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Robinson, Mr. and Mrs. Dougal Reid and Mr. and Mrs. C. I. Glassford.

MRS. WM. CRUIKSHANK

Her friends in Orangeville and district learned with sorrow of the death on Wednesday, Dec. 9th, of Mrs. William Cruikshank, who lived on West Broadway a short distance beyond the John St. corner for many years. The end came quite suddenly at her home, No. 4 Waverly Apartments, 49 Victoria Ave. south, Hamilton. Deceased had not been any too strong for a number of years, but was able to be up and go about her household duties up to one day preceding her demise. Her death was caused by an affection of the heart. The late Mrs. Cruikshank, whose maiden name was Mary McDonald, was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William McDonald, of Malton. She came to Orangeville after her marriage to William Cruikshank, who conducted a blacksmithing business here for many years, and continued to reside in this town until seven or eight years ago, when the family moved to Guelph and afterwards to Hamilton. She is survived by her aged husband, who was too feeble to come to Orangeville for the funeral, and two daughters, Mrs. J. E. Gorrell, of Oklahoma, and Miss Jennie Cruikshank, who resided with her parents. A short service was held at the bereaved home on Friday evening. The remains were brought to Orangeville on Saturday morning, the funeral taking place from the C. P. R. station to the Forest Lawn Cemetery directly after the arrival of the train from Toronto. Quite a large number of friends and relatives of the departed woman were at the depot to meet the remains. Rev. H. L. Partridge conducted the service at the grave and six nephews, Messrs. Duncan Wanless (Toronto), Thompson Nesbitt, W. J. Cruikshank, S. Cruikshank (Toronto), S. J. Cruikshank and G. M. Cruikshank, were the pallbearers. During her residence here Mrs. Cruikshank was highly esteemed as a neighbor and citizen. The sympathy of all friends of the family goes out to the bereaved husband and daughters in their loss.

Friends from a distance at the funeral included Mrs. W. L. Walker Toronto, Mrs. Margaret Faulkner West Toronto; Mrs. Herbert Patterson, Brampton, and Messrs. S. Cruikshank and Duncan Wanless Toronto, as well as a number of relatives from Amaranth, Mono and Caledon.

LAUREL

Many of the Laurel friends of Mr. and Mrs. Adam Wallace, of Grand Valley, attended their twentieth wedding anniversary on Monday of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Carroll and little Miss Marjorie and Master Kenneth, of Flesherton, are visiting relatives here during the holidays.

We are pleased to know that Mr Geo. E. Gordon, who has been ill in Lord Dufferin Hospital for some time, is improving.

On Friday the children of the school here were delighted to begin their Christmas holidays. Everyone carried a smiling face, for the teacher kindly remembered each one by a treat and a little Christmas gift and the trustees also added to the Christmas cheer.

The Play, "An Old Fashioned Mother," will be given in the Laurel Methodist Church on the evening of January 8th. On the occasion of its first presentation the weather was not very favorable, yet a good ly number were present. Owing to the many who were unable to attend have asked that the Play be repeated. Admission, 25c.

To the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Grosskurth a little Miss arrived in time to hang up her stocking.

LOCAL NEWS

—New Year cards at The Banner Office.

—Magazine subscriptions looked after and renewed at The Banner Office.

—Mr. Robert Rowan, of North Erin, killed a large garter snake on the roadside near his farm on Friday.

—The "Old Fashioned Mother" will be repeated in the Laurel Methodist Church on the night of January 8th.

—Subscribers are reminded that The Banner will look after subscriptions to daily newspapers at clubbing rates.

—Do not neglect your Banner renewal. Early renewals make financing easier and are therefore doubly appreciated by the publishers.

—"Widder Bill Pindle ain't no backbiter as it were." "Old Fashioned Mother" at Laurel Methodist Church on the night of January 8.

—Camilla Women's Institute will meet at the home of Mrs. J. A. Marshall on New Year's Night. The meeting will commence at 8 o'clock.

—Mr. J. E. Patterson, First Ave. has purchased a lot on Church St. in Brampton from Mr. James Burrell, tobacconist, paying $525 for the property.

—See the Clothing and Furnishing snaps at Torrie's.

—The Banner Office did a record trade in Christmas cards this year. We are showing a line of New Year cards from the same makers as our Christmas stock.

—Subscribers can save money and trouble by renewing their dailies with The Banner. We have clubbing rates on all the dailies and the leading farm papers.

—Friends of Mr. Tomlinson Hepton, who has been quite miserable with indigestion for some weeks, will be pleased to learn that he is improving considerably.

—Christmas brought a large number of visitors to town. Passenger traffic was very heavy on this branch of the C. P. R. Saturday night and again on Monday night the Toronto to Owen Sound train was run in two heavy sections. Coaches were crowded to the doors at all stations. The Teeswater branch trains were also heavily loaded. Christmas night the Owen Sound and Toronto train was also run in two sections.

—In St. Andrew's Church next Sunday morning, Rev. P. W. Mahaffy will speak on the subject, "How Paul Became Great." The evening topic will be "Paying Our Debts Promptly."

—J. A. Marshall & Son, of Camilla, topped the Toronto market on Monday with nine butcher steers that averaged 1150 lbs. each. They sold the lot to the Harris Abattoir at 7c per lb.

—"Jerry Gosling," "the swoppiest boy ever seen," says a gal down at Hook Worm Creek, Huldy Sourapple. In "Old Fashioned Mother" in Laurel Methodist Church, night of January 8th.

—Orangeville High and Public Schools closed on Friday for the Christmas holidays. The Public School will reopen on Thursday January 3rd, but the High School will not open until Monday, the 7th.

—Knox Presbyterian Church Caledon, will celebrate its fiftieth anniversary on January 6th. Special services will be held in honor of the event and the congregation will be asked for a special Thank-Offering.

—Inglewood is going in for hockey this winter. A club has been formed and grouped in the O. H. A junior series in group 8. The officers are J. J. Robbins, manager; J. J. Carey, secretary-treasurer; Craig Smeaton, Mac Jamieson, J. A McCannell and William Stewart, executive committee.

—Mr. Reuben Temple, Manager of the Standard Bank at Lomond Alta., writes us: "As an old Orangeville boy I take this opportunity of again expressing my appreciation of The Banner and conveying you my best wishes for a Merry Christmas and that 1924 may be a bright and prosperous one for you and yours."

—A sneak thief entered the house of Walter Potter, of Tottenham one night recently and carried off a side of pork, a Christmas cake, a mince pie and several jars of fruit. The Sentinel states that he evidently bit off more than he could chew as the Christmas cake was found "cached" in a straw stack.

—Rev. H. W. Avison, M.A., B.D. of Metropolitan Church, Regina who is well-known in Orangeville has been called to Central Church Calgary, and has accepted the call subject to the usual stipulations. Next July, when the call becomes effective, Mr. Avison will have completed four years service at Metropolitan.

—Mrs. (Rev.) F. W. Mahaffy received a very pleasant surprise on Monday in the form of a Christian message from her brother, Mr. J. N. McPherson, a Winnipeg barrister in which the writer stated that he had just been elevated to the Manitoba Bench. Judge McPherson is a brother of Mr. R. U. McPherson a widely known Toronto law practitioner.

—Torrie's LEFT-OVER sale is on Drop in and see the bargains.

—Caledon village, situated in the heart of Caledon township, is 102 years old. The village was formerly known as Charleston, but of late years this name has fallen into disuse and it is now generally spoken of as Caledon. The dropping of the name Charleston is largely attributable to the fact that the postoffice was named Caledon to prevent confusion with another post office named Charleston.

—Snowfalls on Sunday and again on Monday night and Tuesday morning gave us a real Christmas. The day was beautifully bright and mild, with just enough frost to make the air healthful and invigorating. While there was enough snow to cover the ground pretty well there was hardly enough for sleighing, although at least one sleigh was seen on Broadway during the day. The frost and snow improved the roads for motoring and cars were abroad in goodly numbers.

NOT because it is an honored custom, but because of the sincerity of our appreciation, we take this opportunity to thank you for your patronage and the part you have played in our business prosperity the past twelve months. We wish you all a very happy and prosperous New Year.

ROAD BUNGLING

I wish to call public attention to the disgraceful road bungling on the 2nd line, west, Caledon, between Alton and Orangeville, part of the County Good Roads System. Up to a few weeks ago the northern end of this road was an excellent gravel road, and one of the best bits of highway in the township. Three weeks ago men and teams were set at work breaking up and widening the road. The work was started on the plea that the centre of the old road was too high. The wet weather set in and to-day we have a piece of road that is nearly impassable. I submit that it will cost the township $3,000 to put it in as good shape as it was up to a few weeks ago. In my opinion the present work was altogether unnecessary. Even if it had been necessary it should not have been started so late in the season. It would have been far better to leave the road as it was until next spring. To the ratepayers who live nearby the job looks like a piece of needless and expensive bungling that will require a lot of explaining from our township council.

Yours sincerely,
North End Ratepayer.

A PROGRAMME OF INTEREST

The parents, friends and trustees of S. S. No. 10, East Garafraxa, who assembled in the school house on Friday afternoon, Dec. 21st, were delighted with the efforts of the children, who, under the direction of their teacher, Miss Gracie Page rendered a lengthy and altogether enjoyable programme. Dialogues recitations and numbers by the school "Chorus" were features that drew hearty applause and reflect much credit on the children and the training ability of Miss Page. Mrs. G. Robinson occupied the chair and in that capacity contributed to the atmosphere of satisfaction and pleasure engendered by the programme.

Miss Page was assisted by her sister, who has been visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. Edwards. Hearty thanks were tendered to those who promoted and contributed to the success of the entertainment. The section will have a lasting reward in the future manhood and womanhood of the district, who in youth enjoyed the advantage of the wealth of the interest, work and character given so unreservedly by their teacher.

May a Bright and Profitable New Year be Yours.

As the year draws to a close we look back upon the progress we have made with a feeling of great thankfulness.

Our increased business this year has been due in a great measure to the splendid support we have received from the buying public of this community.

To our friends through the Drug Trade we extend our hearty thanks for the business given us. We trust that the connections we have made in the past will continue to be as mutually agreeable in the future, and we add our sincere wishes for a very Happy and Prosperous New Year.

"Ring out the old, ring in the new,
Ring, happy bells, across the snow:
The Year is going, let him go!"

The Year 1923 will soon belong to the ages. In some respects it has been hard and trying, and yet it had its compensations.

Taking the country as a whole, there has been a bountiful harvest, weather conditions have been most propitious, the fall plowing and other work is further advanced than ever before. There is a growing feeling of confidence, a revival of hope, and a steadfast determination to make the New Year abound with prosperity.

Let us forget the ills of 1923 and remember only its many blessings. Let us greet the New Year with a glad hand, a welcome smile, and with an abiding faith in ourselves and in our Country.

Wishing you a Merry Christmas and a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

LORNA JEAN ROBBINS

Early on Thursday morning the death occurred of Lorna Jean, the second daughter of Trueman and Minnie Robbins, of Orangeville, at the age of 1 years, 1 month and 20 days. In spite of the best of medical care and nursing the little one passed away after only a few days illness. Her loss is mourned by her parents, two brothers and two sisters. An impressive service was held in the bereaved home on Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock by the Rev. J. W. McDonald, rector of St. Mark's Church. Interment took place in the Forest Lawn Cemetery, the pallbearers being Messrs. J. Langtree, L. Robbins, M. Cole and Wm. Dean. The floral tributes were beautiful and included a wreath "To Darling Lorna" from mother and father, brothers and sisters, a spray from Mr. and Mrs. A. Reid, a spray from Grandmother Dean and a spray from Mr. and Mrs. Chaney.

This lovely bud, so young and fair,
Called hence from early doom;
Just came to show how sweet a flower
In Paradise would bloom.

NEW LAMP BURNS 95 P. C. AIR

BEATS ELECTRIC OR GAS

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 per cent. air and 6 per cent. common kerosene (coal oil.)

The inventor, F. N. Johnson, 246 Craig St. W., Montreal, is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him to-day for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

C. E. NEILL,
General Manager.

Montreal, 26th December, 1923.

We extend our hearty greetings and best wishes for a Prosperous, Happy New Year.

You, perhaps, like many others, have been waiting until the turn of 1924, before taking action on the matter of life insurance. The turn has come. To-day and now is not a moment too soon to act upon your resolution.

All we ask you to do now, however, is to take your pen in hand and write us a brief letter. This letter will commit you to nothing whatever. In it, state your age and your desire for information about Mutual insurance.

You may consider the information we will send you at leisure. Before you make any further step, it is important that you thoroughly understand the Mutual Life system of insurance at net cost. Write to-day.

The Mutual Life issues practically every approved form of life insurance practised to-day, including straight life, limited payment, endowment, children's endowment, guaranteed monthly income, etc., including conditions covering permanent disability and accident.

AN ACCLAMATION

ORANGEVILLE WILL NOT HAVE A MUNICIPAL ELECTION THIS YEAR.

Mayor Jeffers Gives Second Term Without Opposition.

Monday night's nomination meeting was the quietest Orangeville has had for many years. The attendance was very slim. It is doubtful if there were 150 people in the hall at any time. The building was dark and chilly and on that account the audience commenced to dwindle at an early hour. The meeting was not without its humorous features. Many in the audience smiled broadly when Dr. Campbell ascended the platform and proceeded to extol the hydro lighting system and its advantages to the town by the light of a lantern. A break in the system earlier in the evening had made a shutdown necessary and the hall was therefore lighted by lamps, candles and lanterns. Mr. H. B. Church received the nominations from 7.30 and 8.30 and presided over the after meeting. Nominations were made as follows:—

Mayor—T. S. Parkinson, George Hepton, W. J. Gillespie, C. V. Jeffers and T. S. Hewson.

Reeve—T. S. Parkinson, W. J. Gillespie.

Deputy-Reeve—T. S. Parkinson Dr. Hunter, Joshua Reid and James Thompson.

Councillors—J. A. McBride, Jas. A. Matthews, Alex. Dalgleish, J.A. Arnott, J. B. Irwin, W. G. Kearns Joshua Reid, J. W. South, W. J. Gillespie. Alex. Macdonald, Albert Mills, Geo. Hepton, Jas. Thompson.

P. S. Trustees—East Ward, J.R. Hughes; South Ward, W. C. Barber; North Ward, J. E. Smith; West Ward, J. Z. Henry, Dr. Hunter.

Member of Hydro Commission—Dr. G. H. Campbell.

Mayor Jeffers, who was the first speaker, dealt in detail with the receipts and expenditures for the year. He showed that of the 43 mills levied by the council, only 6.96 mills were available for purely town purposes. The expenditure of $2960.84 on roads and bridges included the cost of street oiling and about $200 of last year's accounts. By oiling the streets the Council had saved $362 on street watering. When the 1923 Council took charge it was faced with a deficit of $734.64, it had paid all liabilities except the Hydro and the salaries of the town officials which could, not be paid until the end of the month, and had a balance of $2781.07 in the bank. His Worship explained the new method of buying and paying for gravel for the streets and pointed out some of the benefits of oiling the streets He believed that 75 per cent. of the citizens approved of the steps taken to abate the dust nuisance and expressed the opinion that the laying of the dust was of more importance to the citizens generally than the maintenance of good roads for auto traffic. Orangeville had been very fortunate in its Councillors for 1923 and the Mayor stated that he was deeply indebted to the Council for its assistance during the year. If he was elected Mayor for another year he would exercise as much economy as possible and he believed that the times and the scarcity of money made it important to exercise economy in all public expenditures.

Reeve Gillespie had served on the Assessment and Good Roads Committees and had been Chairman of the County Property Committee which was entrusted with the duty of looking after the county buildings. The County Council had made an appropriation of $450 for gravelling West Broadway east of Springbrook. In the town council he had been a member of the Court of Revision, chairman of the F. & W. Committee and had charge of the cement tile account. His Committee had installed twelve new water services and had repaired ten services during the year. The expenditure on tile account was $226.78 and $123 was realized from the sale of tile. Mr. Gillespie thanked the electors for their support in the past and stated that he would announce later the office he intended to stand for.

Dr. Campbell, a member of the local Hydro Commission, spoke on Hydro affairs. With the possible exception of the waterworks system there was nothing that had proved of such benefit to the town of Orangeville as the Hydro system The number of domestic customers had grown from 144 in 1917 to 328 in 1923, commercial customers from 82 to 101 and power customers from 4 to 12. Dr. Campbell went fully into the question of rates showing that the average bill of the domestic consumer had increased from 95c in 1917 to $1.44 in 1922 This showed the increased use being made of electricity in the homes of our citizens. On the other hand the average price per killowatt had decreased from 7.2c in 1917 to 5.6c in 1922, showing clearly that the consumer was now getting his current cheaper than he did when the system was first installed. The speaker estimated that the Hydro had saved the people of Orangeville $28,565.01 in the last six years. Dr Campbell predicted still cheaper current in the near future. The Provincial Commission had already promised a reduction from $60 to $50 per h.p. just as soon as Orangeville's peak load reached 250 h.p At present the load was about 225 h.p., so that citizens could easily secure this reduction by using more hydro. In 1922 the total revenue from the system was over $17,000 in 1923 the total would be over $20,000. In 1922 the gross surplus was about $1900 and there was a net surplus of $300 after writing off $1600 for depreciation.

T. S. Parkinson referred to the satisfactory surplus, gave some details of the receipts and expenditures for the year and discussed the debenture debt of the town. The general debenture debt was about $81,000. The Dods Knitting Co. and the Hydro debentures, amounting altogether to $44,000, were self-sustaining and the net debenture debt was therefore only $37,000. A considerable amount of this debt would be retired in 1925 and 1926, so that the speaker felt there was good reason to maintain that the town was in first-class financial condition. The water supply was not sufficient for emergency purposes and Mr Parkinson thought this was one of the matters that would require the attention of the incoming council. The speaker made reference to the loss the town had sustained last year through the deaths of Mr. A. A. Hughson, the town clerk, Chief Ewing and Walter Fairbairn, a member of the Council for many years. He also refered to the excellent work of Mr. Church, the new clerk, and Chief Portland. Mr Parkinson stressed the need for retrenchment and economy in public expenditures. With a national debt of $230 per head, a Provincial debt of $80 per head and heavy county and municipal debts there was the utmost need for economy all down the line.

John A. McBride admitted that he was not as anxious to hold down his job as Councillor as he had formerly been in the township of Caledon. If the electors felt like supporting him, well and good, and if not, there would be no ill-will on his part.

As Chairman of the Town Property Committee Joshua Reid gave an account of the repairs to the exterior of the Town Hall, which he thought had been done at a very reasonable price. At the instance of the Committee the insurance on the town property had been increased $10,000. Mr. Reid thought the interior of the hall should be repainted this year and told how the Council had recovered $150 from the C. P. R. as damages for the loss of some five hundred young pines at the waterworks reservoir. The trees were destroyed bby fire caused by sectionmen burning grass along the railway right of way.

George Hepton was not awfully anxious about standing and made it plain that he would not be a candidate if there was a contest. He would however consent to act if there happened to be a vancy to fill to make up the required number of councillors.

T. S. Hewson was pleased to meet the electors of Orangeville at the annual meeting to discuss the business of the town and to take stock of what had been done during the year. Mr. Hewson declared that a year ago Mayor Jeffers had shouldered on him the whole burden for the deeds of the Council of 1922 and declared that he was going to hold Mr. Jeffers responsible for the doings of the 1923 council. The ex-Mayor then launched into a comparison of the revenues from police court fines, the O. T. A. and dog taxes for the two years, showing that in each instance there had been a falling off in 1923. His conclusion was that the municipality had lost $667 from these sources. Mr. Hewson took a fling at the night-watchman, using the Torrie burglary as the text for his remarks. He criticised Mayor Jeffers for making promises, declaring that he had never met a man who made as many promises as Carson Jeffers. If he should decide to contest the Mayoralty and thereby make an election he did not think that the people would find much fault with him for doing so.

J. J. White returned thanks for his nomination and stated in a few words that he was not a candidate.

J. W. South had been a citizen of the town for four years and had never asked for any favors. He would not be the means of making an election, but if there was going to be a contest then his hat was in the ring.

Mayor Jeffers spoke briefly in reply to Mr. Hewson and the meeting then dispersed about 10.30 o'clock

When the situation clarified at noon on Wednesday it was found that all offices had been filled by acclamation. The only change in the council is caused by the withdrawal of Mr. Hepton, whose place onith e Board is taken by Mr. South. The slate therefore stands:—

Mayor—C. V. Jeffers.
Reeve—W. J. Gillespie.
Deputy-Reeve—T.S. Parkinson.
Councillors—J. A. Arnott, Alex Dalgleish, J. A. McBride, Jas. A Matthews, Joshua Reid and J. W South.
Hylro Commission—Dr. G. H Campbell.
P. S. Trustees—West Ward, J. Z. Henry; North Ward, J. E. Smith East Ward, J. R. Hughes; South Ward, W. C. Barber.

EDITORIAL NOTES

It is interesting and satisfying to learn that the Ontario Government has placed unearned school grants for 1923 in the Consolidated Revenue Fund. These are the monies that caused such a furore in Dufferin and other strongly Protestant ridings at the time of the last Provincial election. In 1922 the Drury government decided to pay some $90,000 of unearned grants to Separate Schools into the Courts and to prepare a stated case, so that the Courts could determine if this money rightfully belonged to the Separate Schools. It was objected that in agreeing to prepare a stated case the Government of the day was simply playing into the hands of the Roman Catholic Church. At any rate nothing more was heard of the stated case once the election was over and we are now told that it is not the policy of the Ferguson government to submit a stated case on this question. The money will go into the Consolidated Revenue Fund as in the past. It is of course open to the Separate School authorities to take legal action to secure the $90,000 already paid into Court or other unearned grants to which they may profess to think they are entitled. So far they have not made any move in this direction and it will be a matter of interest to observe whether they do so or not.

It is encouraging to learn that there has been a large increase in immigration to Canada in 1923, and particularly in the immigration from the British Isles. The average Britisher may have a good deal to learn about Canada and Canadian conditions, but he has at least the advantage of speaking the same language and of being influenced by the same ideals and traditions as Canadians. This being the case he should make a better citizen than the immigrant from continental Europe. He should also round into a genuine Canadian much more quickly. In the case of the Britisher the provinces are not confronted with the complex educational problems that are presented in districts settled largely by foreign groups who cling tenaciously to their own language and the customs of their home land. The immigration authorities of this country should take full advantage of the favorable conditions existing in the British Isles at the present time. The amount of employment in the old land, the difficulty of securing employment at more than mere living wages and the grievously heavy taxation as a result of the war should make it a comparatively easy matter to attract a desirable class of immigrants to this country. Canada has the possibilities and promise of a great nation, but the Dominion must have many more people, especially people who are content to live on and till the soil, before these possibilities can be realized.

The fact that the Farmers' Sun reported a loss of $15,000 on last year's business shows how hard newspapers have been hit by the high cost of newsprint, labor and printing materials. Costs have soared in the newspaper business since 1914 and publishers have simply found it impossible to extend their business sufficiently to make revenue keep pace with the steady advance in running expenses. Not a few Ontario weeklies have been forced to the wall and in other cases newspaper proprietors have been hard set to make ends meet. Few newspapers are able to make the money they should, considering the amount of money tied up in the enterprises, even under favorable conditions. There may be a reduction in operating costs in the future, but it is not in sight at the present moment. Expenses in 1924 will be just as high as they were in 1923 and it is very doubtful if the revenue end of the newspaper business will show as good returns as it did last year.

CHARLTON HOME BEREAVED

A feeling of sadness settled over Charlton and community on Thursday last when word came from Toronto, that Mildred, dearly loved daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Smith, had passed peacefully away that morning to the Jesus she loved so well. Mr. Smith had taken his little girl to the Sick Children's Hospital in Toronto the week before for treatment. Acute nephrites had developed which her strength was unable to combat. The little one was six years and nine months old and leaves to mourn her loss her father and mother and one baby brother, Gordon. Great quantities of flowers showed the esteem in which the bereaved parents were held, and the sincere sympathy of friends. Among the flowers was a beautiful floral pillow from daddy and mamma; wreaths from Charlton Loyal Orange Lodge, Charlton Sunday School and Mr. and Mrs. Van Rassell, of Cochrane; a spray from uncle Fred, Aunt Hazel and cousins Alice, Ernest and Dorothy also sprays from grandma Harkies and uncle Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Walton, of New Liskeard, and Mr. and Mrs. Palmer and Ella. The funeral service was held in the Union Church on Saturday afternoon at 2.30, in the presence of a great number of friends, and was conducted by Rev. Jas Frazer, who gave a most comforting and sympathetic address. He spoke of the little girl's great love for her Saviour, her happiness in the Better Land to which she had gone, and the Lord's message, "Suffer the little children to come unto Me and forbid them not, for of such is the Kingdom of Heaven." The hymns were "Safe in the Arms of Jesus," "What a Friend We Have in Jesus" and "When He Cometh to Make up His Jewels." The pallbearers, boys of the school which Mildred attended about a month before, were Frank and Bert Thib, Johnnie Hough and Donald McAuley. The sincere sympathy of the entire community goes out to Mr. and Mrs. Smith in the loss of their little girl.—Charlton Corr. New Liskeard Speaker.

A CHILD

Has little means of comparing his vision with standard vision. He has no means whatever of knowing whether his eyes are right.

Many times one has apparently perfect vision, yet an eye defect is present which makes him use much more nervous energy to get that vision than he should use. In those cases the immediate result of eye strain is seen not in the eyes, but in some other part of the body, often quite remote from the eyes.

Carefully conducted vision surveys show that a large percentage of all children between the ages of six and sixteen have defective eyes.

Most of these children are being forced to do school work under the handicap of a constant nervous strain caused by neglect of eyes that need help. And too pitiful part is that the parents' ignorance of these conditions does not save the child from the penalty he or she is constantly paying.

You can get the facts about your child's eyes easily, quickly and positively. Consider your child.

CALEDON

Caledon nominations for 1924 go down in history as the quietest in the history of the township where so many noisy nominations have been held. Reeve McDonald gave a splendid account of his stewardship both in the township and county and received a growing tribute to his opponent of last year for the gentlemanly and clean campaign which he conducted and told how it had been agreed upon to have a clean contest and he was glad to say that the agreement had been lived up to the very letter. Caledon's Reeve proved so capable and efficient last year that he was accorded an acclamation without one dissenting voice, which speaks well for the way he has presided over the deliberations of the council last year.

Deputy-Reeve Wilson, in a neat speech, thanked the electors for their support in the last election and gave a splendid account of his doings in both councils. Councillors Trathen Speers and McBride secured a very sympathetic hearing and will be saved the trouble of a contest for their seats. Clerk Willis performed the duties of chairman in his usual capable manner.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Linfoot spent Sunday with Caledon relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Smith and family spent Christmas holidays with Mrs. Smith's parents at Tottenham.

Mr. and Mrs. Jas. R. Hillyard spent Christmas with the latter's parents in Toronto.

THE FAMILY HERALD'S OFFER

Many of our readers who have known and read the Family Herald and Weekly Star, of Montreal, for thirty, forty and even fifty years still marvel at the constantly increasing excellence of that remarkable farm and family journal. As each year succeeded another it seemed that as far as was humanly possible the point of perfection had been reached, but inevitably this astonishingly progressive paper would launch some new feature and make improvements here and there that would add immeasurably to its attractiveness and value. And so for the coming season all who wisely subscribe to the old reliable Family Herald and Weekly Star depend upon receiving even greater value than in the past, with many pleasant surprises thrown in. One of the nice surprises this year is a most beautiful picture of a remarkably lovely woman, entitled, "The Wonderful Heroine," which will be given free to each new subscriber and to each present subscriber who renews in time for another year. Truly this is value heaped up, pressed down and running over.

The remarkable life of the beautiful and heroic woman who is the subject of the painting has been published in booklet form, and our readers may obtain a copy free by sending a post card to the Family Herald and Weekly Star, Montreal.

LAUREL

The members of the J. F. I. A. met at the home of the President, Mr. W. H. Gray, on the evening of Dec. 27th. Each of the members took with him a young lady. After the business end of the meeting was over the rest of the evening was spent in music, dancing and taffy pulling. About midnight all sat down to a dainty lunch provided by the mistress of the house and every one went home in the best of humor.

Mr. Arthur and Miss Jennie Richardson were home over the Christmas holiday.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cooney spent the holiday with friends in Toronto.

Mrs. Stanley Allen was home to see friends at Badjeros over the Christmas week.

Miss Fanny Hamilton spent the Christmas holidays at her home here.

Mr. and Mrs. John S. Brown spent Christmas with friends in Toronto.

Miss Mina Legate spent the vacation at her home in Orangeville.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Watson and Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Reid spent New Years with Toronto and Hamilton friends.

HOCKEY MATCH

Brampton and Orangeville intermediate hockey teams will meet on the Orangeville Arena on Tuesday night next. The game is one of the championship fixtures and is sure to be keenly contested. The visitors think they have a septette that will take some beating, but the Dufferins believe they can do the trick. The game will be well worth seeing and will give our citizens a chance to size up the local puck chasers and figure their chances of landing the group honors. Game will commence at 8 o'clock. Admission, adults, 40c; children, 15c.

COMPLETED FIFTY YEARS

The Brampton Conservator completed fifty years of publication a couple of weeks ago. The paper was founded by the late A. F. Campbell, whose death was announced in last week's Banner, and the first issue appeared on Friday, the 13th day of December, 1872. In 1889 Mr. S. Charters, who is still a member of the Charters Publishing Company, became the owner of the business. During the thirty-three years that he has been identified with the business Mr. Charters has enjoyed the goodwill and support of the community to a marked degree. The Conservator has grown steadily in size and prestige until it is now ranked as one of the best town newspaper businesses in the province. On the evening of the fiftieth anniversary a very pleasant event took place when the thirty-four employees of the Conservator invaded the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charters and extended their heartiest congratulations upon the journal's attainment to its fiftieth year. During the evening Mr. and Mrs. Charters were presented with two Windsor chairs. A very pleasant hour was afterwards spent, refreshments being served shortly before the gathering dispersed.

BILLINGS–CREAMER

On Wednesday afternoon, December 26th, James Billings, of Rich Hill, Amaranth township, and Miss May Creamer, daughter of the late Reuben Creamer, of England, were quietly married at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Reid, Second Line west, Mono. Rev. William Coutts of Camilla, was the officiating clergyman. The service was followed by a dainty luncheon, after which the young couple took their departure amid showers of confetti and good wishes for their future home at Rich Hill.

On Saturday night preceding the marriage, members of the Y. P. S and choir of St. Andrew's Church Camilla, met at the home of Mr and Mrs. Reid and showered the bride-to-be with many useful articles for the kitchen.

ALTON

Mr. and Mrs. E. Smith, Orangeville, were the week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. McClellan.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Treacy spent the New Year at Brantford.

The annual meeting of the ratepayers of S. S. No. 15, Caledon, was held in the Library on Thursday evening last and was well attended. The trustees for 1924 are Mrs. Thos. Meek, Mr. E. D. Barber and Mr. Wm. Thomas.

Mrs. Island, of Orangeville was the week-end guest of her sister Mrs. Walter McConnell.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Lovell and baby Betty, spent the holiday with Mrs. Lovell's parents in Hamilton.

Miss Ina McLachlan spent New Year's at her home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Palmer, Guelph were the guests of Mr and Mrs Palmer Sr. Mrs. Palmer Jr. is remaining in town for a few days.

Mr. Cecil Lowe has returned from New York and is spending the winter at his home here.

The Amusement Club held a dance in the Club Rooms on Dec 31st, to watch the old year out. A jolly good time was enjoyed by all who attended.

Misses Grace McKinley and Maude Gresskurth returned to town on Wednesday night to take up their duties at the Public School on January 3rd.

The Junior Women's Institute purpose holding a big home talent concert on January 11th. Watch for further announcements.

Dr. Caldwell's sermon for Sunday, Jan. 6th, at 7 p.m., will be "Is It Right for Protestants or Roman Catholics or non-Christian religions to proselytyze, or take converts from one another?"

Week of prayer in Alton Presbyterian and Methodist churches as follows:

Tuesday, Jan. 8th, in the Methodist Church. Rev. W. N. Carr will give the address.

Thursday, Jan. 10th, in the Presbyterian Church. Rev. Dr. Caldwell will give the address.

Friday, January 11th, in the Methodist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Jos. E. Jardine, of the Jardine Car Repair Shop, Mount Albert, spent over Sunday visiting Dr. and Mrs. Caldwell. Dr. Caldwell was his last pastor.

Many of the Alton people are away visiting relatives over the New Year. This diminished the church attendance on Sunday.

The town fathers are urged to repair the culvert east of the town hall to check the street water and stable seepage from the well in Little Paradise Valley, from which four or five families get drinking water. Free poison is costly.

—Mr. Elijah Dynes has sold his farm, lot 6, con. 6, Amaranth, to Mr. Wilson Dyner, one of his neighbors.

NEARBY MUNICIPALITIES

Elections in Amaranth and Mono—Caledon and East Garry Councils Returned by Acclamation

Nominations passed off very quietly in the neighboring municipalities on Monday. The meetings were well attended as a rule, but were very orderly and in most instances the Councils for 1924 were returned without contests.

CALEDON

Township Clerk L. H. Willis presided at the nomination meeting in the township hall in Caledon village. The meeting was well attended. As predicted in last week's Banner the 1923 Council was returned without a contest. The members are:—

Reeve—J. F. McDonald.

Deputy-Reeve—W. J. Wilson.

Councillors—W. J. Trathen, John McBride and R. J. Speers.

MONO

Mono will have an all round contest. Reeve Bowers retired on Monday and Deputy-Reeve Arch. McQuilken and Councillor T.J. Parks are running for the Reeveship. Councillor W. N. Fines and Mr. S. Barber a municipal veteran, are in the lists for Deputy-Reeve. There are five candidates for the Council with three to be elected. The slate

Reeve—Arch. McQuilken, T. J Parks.

Deputy-Reeve—W. N. Fines, Samuel Barber.

Councillors—Jas. Armstrong, W. J. Henry, Harold Marshall, Boyd McLaine and William Wooder.

J. F. McNaughton, of the 1923 Council, retired at the nomination meeting.

AMARANTH

Reuben West, who was considered a likely candidate for the Reeveship, withdrew at the last moment and W. F. Hammond, last year's Deputy, was elected Reeve without a contest. W. J. Farnell and W. H. Whaley, of the 1923 Council, are fighting it out for the Deputy-Reeve's chair. W. H. Trimble, of the 1923 Council, and three new men are in the field for Councillors

Reeve—W. F. Hammond, accl.

Deputy-Reeve—W. J. Farnell and W. H. Whaley.

Councillors—Oliver Ewing, Alfred E. Looby, W. H. Trimble and Jos. Tindale.

EAST GARAFRAXA

Reeve and Council were elected by acclamation. Mr. W. H. Hunter last year's Reeve, withdrew and Harvey Heath, a member of the 1923 Council, takes his place.

Reeve—Harvey Heath.

Councillors—William Hawes, J R. Hoare, Malcolm McCormick and Donald Smith.

MELANCTHON

Reeve—Wm. G. Noble, accl.

Deputy-Reeve—R. B. Oldfield and John A. Russell.

Councillors—Alex. J. Elliott, Wm J. Ferris, S. Russell Hurlbut, J. Fred Stewart. Elliott and Stewart were members of last year's Council.

MULMUR

Something very unusual happened in Mulmur on Monday. Not only were the members of the 1923 Council re-elected without opposition, but they were the only candidates placed in nominations. It is very unusual to have nominations limited to the five members of a township council.

Reeve—Jas. Henderson, accl.

Deputy-Reeve—E. A. Reid, accl.

Councillors—C. R. Bradley, R. H Jamieson, Robt. Noble, accl.

SHELBURNE

Eight candidates are running for the four Council seats. Otherwise all offices were filled by acclamation.

Reeve—D. E. Dean, accl.

Councillors — Dr. S. T. White Alex. Matthews, T. J. O'Flynn, Victor G. H. Phillips, L. A. Sanderson Geo. T. Prentice, Wm. J. Loudon Wm. B. Murray.

P. S. Trustees—Harry White, J R. Layton and J. A. Hand, accl.

Sanitary Commissioner—J.J. Metcalfe.

Hydro Commissioner—M.C. Crawford

HORNING'S MILLS

Six candidates are running for Police Trustees, with three seats to filled. The names are—Ira Eby, Jas. A. Brown, Walter Yokom, Jas. H. Baxter, W. J. Fleming and R. J. McGhee.

EAST LUTHER

We understand that Reeve Platt has retired and that Alex. McFarlane and George Bruce are fighting it out for the Reeve's chair. The Council was elected by acclamation The members are:—Lorenzo Crewson, Walter Richardson, Thos. Richardson and John Smith.

GRAND VALLEY

Last year's Council reelected by acclamation. P. S. Trustees also returned by acclamation.

Reeve—John G. Reith.

Councillors—John Henderson, W J. Baker, Harry Rounding and Wm Buchanan.

P. S. Trustees—G. W. Hamilton Henry Dixon and W. L. Craig.

320 FOWL SUPPER

The members of Prince of Wales L. O. L. No. 320 will hold their Annual Fowl Supper in their Hall on Friday night, January 11th. The Supper is for the members and their families and friends. It is an enjoyable event and has always been largely attended.

—On Thursday, Dec. 27th, 1923 a baptismal service was held in the Baptist Church. Rev. W.J.H. Brown of Toronto, gave an evangelistic message on the Gospel of Righteousness, and at the close of the service immersed three candidates. The following Sunday four new members were received at the Communion.

MRS. GEO. PATTERSON

The people of the Mono Mills community were deeply grieved by the death of Mrs. George Patterson, of Adjala, who passed away on Christmas day after an illness of about three days from pernicious anaemia. The departed woman was well and favorably known in the whole neighborhood and despite the handicap of ill-health was noted for her kindness and hospitality in her own home. She was a member of St. John's Anglican Church Mono Mills, and was in every respect a devoted wife and an exemplary Christian woman. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved husband, who has been a member of the Adjala township council for a number of years, in the great sorrow that has come into his life. The late Mrs. Patterson was 40 years and 11 months of age and was therefore cut off in the very prime of life. She was married to Mr. Patterson fifteen years ago last June. Her maiden name was Emma Jane Anderson and she was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Anderson, of Creemore, where her girlhood was spent. There was an exceptionally large attendance at the funeral, which was held from her late residence, lot 2, con. 1, Adjala to St. John's Church, Cemetery Mono, on Thursday afternoon, Dec. 27th. Service was held in St. John's Church by Rev. A. C. McCollum, of Alliston, assisted by Rev. R. B. Patterson, of Woodbridge, a cousin of the bereaved husband. The pallbearers were Messrs. John Moon Enoch Snell, Wellington Darraugh Robert Orr, George Lee (Toronto) and Thomas Mason. There were a large number of beautiful floral tributes, including a pillow from the husband, "Gates Ajar" from the husband's brothers and sisters wreath from St. John's Church Mono Mills, wreath from Mr. and Mrs. Hilliard Anderson, Creemore a spray from the Mason family, a wreath from Robert Orr and John Nichol, a spray from John Butt, a spray from Rev. R. B. Patterson Woodbridge, and a spray from Mr and Mrs. H. A. Arnold, Toronto.

The obsequies were attended by friends from Creemore, Woodbridge Erin, Toronto, Tottenham, East Gwillimbury and other points at a distance.

MRS. W. J. BROWN

Our citizens extend their heartfelt sympathy to Mr. W. J. Brown Centre Street, in the great loss he has suffered through the death of his wife, who passed away Friday, December 26th, at the age of 73 years and 4 months. On the 15th of December, while going about her usual household duties, Mrs. Brown had the misfortune to fall down the cellar stairs, fracturing her thigh and leg, breaking a couple of ribs and sustaining other injuries of a painful nature. Owing to her advanced years it was recognized from the first that her recovery was extremely doubtful. She made a brave fight, but in the end succumbed to the inevitable. The late Mrs Brown, whose maiden name was Ruth Greenaway, had spent the greater part of her life on the 14th line, East Garafraxa, where her husband farmed for many years. Ten years ago they retired and came to spend their remaining years in Orangeville. She was a pleasant, kindly woman, who was held in high esteem by all her neighbors and friends. Besides her husband she is survived by a niece, Mrs. Harold McArthur, who has lived with Mr. and Mrs. Brown since childhood. She was with her aunt during her last illness and nursed her with all the affection and tenderness of a daughter. The funeral was held from her late home to Greenwood Cemetery on Monday afternoon, Rev J. W. McDonald conducting the sad services. The pallbearers were six nephews, William, James and John Brown, Elmer and Percy Greenaway and John Hall.

Among the friends present from a distance were John Hall, of Detroit, a nephew, Mrs. Robert Brown and Mr. Jas. Brown, of Teeswater sister and nephew, and Mr. and Mrs William Brown, of Arthur, nephew and niece. A number of old Garafraxa friends were also present at the funeral, which was quite largely attended.

A PERFECT CLIMATE

Mrs. Elizabeth Mills, of Orangeville, Writes of Impressions of Florida.

The Banner has received the following brief but interesting letter from Mrs. Elizabeth Mills, formerly of Church St., who is spending the winter in Florida:—

Jacksonville, Fla.,
Dec. 27th, 1923

To the Editor of The Banner.

Dear Sir,—

Will you kindly allow me space in your valuable paper to wish my friends in and around Orangeville a happy New Year and to let them know where I am. The trip from New York down the coast was delightful, with one stop of five hours at Charleston. The water was so calm that it was like a sea of glass except for the porpoises bobbing up and down. The southerners skin them in summer and tourists in winter.

The climate here is perfect, warm sunny days and cool nights. Windows and doors are open and flowers blooming every place. I am sending you a poinsetta, the southern national flower. It grows on the top of a stalk from five to ten feet high. Some of the flowers are ten inches across. I picked the smallest I could find.

This is the shipping port for the north and is a very busy city with a population of one hundred thousand. In some ways conditions here are a source of surprise. The churches are crowded on Sundays Christmas Day was observed much as in Ontario. The whites and blacks are about equally divided. I have visited some very interesting places, including the orange groves the alligator and the ostrich farms. The alligators were there in thousands, from two days to 500 years old. I have not decided which shall take back to Orangeville with me—a young alligator or a little darkey. I like the climate here so well that I don't know when I will leave to go farther south.

Yours respectfully,
Mrs. Elizabeth Mills.

WINTERING IN ONTARIO

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Keast with their sons, Clarence and Len and little daughter, Charlotte, were in town on Monday en route for Ontario to spend the winter. Mr and Mrs. Keast came west from Grand Valley district and have long had the notion to go back and visit the old place and meet old friends It was a good idea to bring the a change of scene and the opportunity of observing the way farming is done in Ontario will be an ideal outing for them and the boy will be all the more fit for work when spring comes. We wish them all a pleasant trip and a safe return.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Keast and family, of Ranching, Alta., accompanied by Len Keast, son of Robt Keast, Ranching, are making a three months' visit to their old home in Grand Valley, Ont. Mr. Keast has not been home to Ontario for fifteen years. The two young men Clarence and Len, who are the star pitchers of the Model School baseball team, expect to warm up the fingers of those Ontario baseball boys, with whom they hope to practice a little while down in Ontario. —The Independant, Stettler, Alta.

WITH THE APOSTLES

Wiarton, Dec. 26—In addition to the ordinary curriculum provided by the Department of Education, the Wiarton Public School pupils are blessed with a half-hour's instruction daily in Bible study given by the ministers of the town, which course was instituted at the commencement of the present term.

The town also has an innovation in the fact that it employs a non resident tax collector, Mr. J.J. Kelly of Owen Sound, who collects the taxes of Orangeville as well. This is an experiment on the part of the Wiarton Council, as it has had trouble in the past in getting a percentage of its ratepayers promptly to "render unto Caesar that which is Caesar's." Mr. Kelly is an expert at the business, and gets results where local collectors have failed heretofore.

Last week it fell to the lot of Rev Mr. Scott, the Presbyterian minister, to give the daily Bible instruction, and he was reviewing the lives of the Apostles. To test the memories of the children and find the results of his labors for the term he asked the class for the names of the Apostles who were brothers This was correctly answered. Next the name of the fisherman. One of the boys was well acquainted with Peter. Next the name of the doubting Apostle. One of the girls supplied Thomas to fill this role Finally he asked which of the twelve had been the tax collector Immediately a small hand was vigorously waved in the air, and a small but enthusiastic voice piped out "Mr. Kelly."

The New

Ford Touring Car

For the motorist who requires a good-looking car of unusual serviceability, the new Ford Touring Car is a splendid investment.

To the sturdiness and endurance for which the Ford is universally famous have been added new features which materially enhance the appearance of the car and add to the comfort of the passengers.

The new radiator is higher, giving greater cooling efficiency—the hood and cowl are larger affording increased leg-room, and the steering-post is braced for easier driving. With roomy accommodations for five passengers, the new Ford Touring Car is undoubtedly the most practical general utility car on the market.

The New Runabout

The new Ford Runabout is as smart and business like a car as you will find on the road today.

The new arrangement of the rear deck gives abundant storage capacity, allowing a considerable load to be carried in its lock tight compartment

This is the logical car for those who require a good looking, sturdy and economical car at the lowest possible cost.

ANOTHER GOVERNMENT LOSS

Conservative Candidate Carried Kent County by Majority of 200

Alexandre Doucet, Conservative was last Thursday returned by the electors of Kent county, New Brunswick, to fill the vacancy caused by the death of A. T. Leger, Liberal defeating his Liberal opponent, Alfred Bourgeois, by 200 votes, with one small poll to hear from. Doucet's victory involved the overcoming of an adverse majority of 1,530, a change-over in all of approximately 1,700 votes in a total vote of 7,500.

While Doucet led throughout on the returns as they were received the issue was in doubt until the last. The missing poll, Lake Stream, gave Doucet a majority of 1.

In a statement given the Canadian Press, discussing the results Alexandre Doucet, the successful candidate, said: "I ascribe my victory to the dissatisfaction among the people over the management of the Canadian National Railways and the sacrificing of Maritime interests in very many instances. Moreover the people of the county resented the hordes of campaigners brought down from Ontario and Quebec to tell them how they should vote."

Alfred Bourgeois, the defeated candidate, said he preferred not to give out a statement.

By returning a Conservative candidate Kent county remained true to its bye-election record, having returned a Conservative in all four bye-elections held in the county since Confederation. The campaign preceding the election was a most spirited one, with both sides leaving no stone unturned to ensure victory. The Halifax result, it is admitted had considerable effect on the voting.

Unless other changes occur in the interval, the Government, as a result of the Halifax and Kent bye-elections, will technically be in minority of four when it next meets Parliament, counting Progressives Conservatives, Independents and Labor as a joint Opposition the standing of the House will be:—

Progressives	62
Conservatives	52
Labor	2
Independent	3
Total Opposition	119
Government	116

Adding the Speaker, who is a Liberal, but has only a casting vote this comprises a total House membership of 235.

This means that if all the partie to the left of the Speaker should find themselves able to unite on any question, the Government would be defeated in the event of a division. So far this has not occurred and it may not occur, but it is a contingency nevertheless upon which the Government will be obliged to reckon.

The successive Government reverses have revived the rumors of a dissolution and a general election during the coming summer. While the Government may not contemplate any early appeal to the country, the Halifax and Kent elections have undoubtedly added to the political uncertainty and uneasiness at Ottawa.

Here and There

Sixty per cent of Hamilton's population own their own homes, a fact revealed by the figures of the 1923 assessment for the Ontario city, which, according to these figures, has 26,[illegible]9 dwellings and 457 apartments.

The great flour movement over the wharves at Fort William and Port Arthur this season has been unprecedented, according to reports of the Canadian Pacific Railway, which, by the end of October, had shipped 239,085 tons of flour to lower Lake ports.

Port Arthur's building permits for the ten months ending October showed a total of $2,632,055, which is the biggest building year in the history of this Ontario city, exceeding even the total for 1921, one of the real estate boom years.

Canada exported $4,778,000 worth of cheese to various countries during the month of October, an increase of $1,224,000, over the total value of cheese exported in October, 1922. The United Kingdom was by far the largest consumer, taking 215,000 cwt., valued at $4,634,000.

According to an announcement of Hon. E. H. Armstrong, Premier of Nova Scotia and Minister of Mines, the coal production of his province for this year will reach at least 6,200,000 tons, an increase over last year's production of 4,642,196 tons of more than 1,500,000 tons. The outlook for 1924 is encouraging.

The Prince of Wales, unless interfered with by affairs of state, intends to make annual visits to his Alberta ranch, William Carlyle, superintendent of the E. P. Ranch, told the members of the Canadian Society of Technical Agriculturists in addressing them at Toronto recently.

Fur traders in the distant parts of Alberta, Saskatchewan and British Columbia, ordinarily weeks and months from mail service, are now getting regular quotations on furs from the Calgary Herald's radio broadcasting service.

The annual winter carnival at Banff, which is yearly becoming more popular and is attracting sporting enthusiasts from all parts of the continent, will be held February 2-9 1924, while the Banff annual bonspiel will take place February 4-5.

According to estimates made by the Rt. Rev. Dr. G. Exton Lloyd, Bishop of Saskatchewan, that province has room for another empire north of Prince Albert and North Battleford. The bishop has just completed a six weeks' tour of the limits of settlement in his diocese, covering 2,400 miles, and estimates that homes and livings for 250,000 could be provided in the country referred to.

The adverse balance of grain shipments through Canadian as against United States ports is being steadily reduced, according to statistics compiled by the Marine Department. In 1916 only 91,082,702 bushels of Canadian grain were shipped through Dominion ports, where as 165,949,989 bushels were shipped through the States. The figures for 1923, up to September 1st, on the other hand, show that Canada now ships nearly half her grain through her own ports. During this period the amount registered has been 108,548,485 bushels despatched via Canadian ports and 126,628,438 via those of the United States.

WHITFIELD

The concert given by the pupils of the Whitfield school on Friday evening, Dec. 21st, was a decided success. The way in which the children took their parts reflected great credit on their teacher. Santa Claus came in at the end of the program and in his genial manner presented each child with gifts from the Christmas tree. The pupils then presented their teacher, Miss Olive Gallaugher, with a fountain pen and the following address:—

To Miss Olive Gallaugher.

Dear Teacher,—We, the children of Whitfield school, feel that at this social gathering at the close of the term we would not be doing justice to the sense we entertain of the great value of your services as a teacher were we to permit the occasion to pass without in some way signifying our high estimation of these services. Our relation has always been most pleasant and happy and we are very pleased to know you will still continue to be our teacher. We think, however, that we should not let mere words voice our feelings and we ask you to accept this fountain pen as a slight but more tangible expression of them.

Wishing you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Signed on behalf of the school—Evelyn Best and Rena Hill.

A Great Tribute to a Great Canadian

A new photograph of the LATE LORD SHAUGHNESSY, taken shortly before his death.

THE death of Lord Shaughnessy in Montreal, on December 10th, brought back into the public mind something of the history of those days, immediately following upon Confederation, in which Canada took her first strides towards nationhood. He was one of the last of that remarkable group of pioneers with imagination to see Canada's potential future and the force of character to give it such a start towards realization as did the building of the Canadian Pacific Railway. Great men all, Lord Shaughnessy was as great a nation builder as any, but his personality lost nothing of its humanity as his greatness became more widely recognized.

The tribute paid his memory by E. W. Beatty, President of the Canadian Pacific Railway, is a just appreciation by one who knew him as intimately as another man could. Mr. Beatty said:—

"The death of Lord Shaughnessy has removed from Canadian life its most outstanding figure. Public men have come and gone, and their respective merits as I think have been duly appreciated by the people of this country. But in no single instance, so far as my observation goes, has one man combined the achievement, the mentality, the force of character and the human qualities of generosity, charity and consideration for his fellow-men in the same degree as the late Chairman of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

"Always he was a strict disciplinarian, but his discipline was impersonal, and his warm Irish disposition reflected itself in numerous acts of kindness, which increased the loyalty he always inspired in those who were associated with him.

"He possessed in a remarkable degree an acuteness of mental reasoning which few men enjoy. Nothing was overlooked by him, and no act that was meritorious escaped his commendation. Thoroughly schooled as he was in the advantages of good reading, he became a great student of literature and a sagacious critic of public affairs. To those who knew him intimately his qualities of sympathy and charity were perhaps the most impressive.

"He had a unique career, filled with initiative, enterprise and courage. Having run the three-score years and ten he has departed with a record that few Canadians have ever made, and all his accomplishments and successes were clean. Never in his official or his personal life has a suggestion been made against the complete integrity that characterized all his actions.

"In Lord Shaughnessy, Canada loses its most distinguished, most loyal and most efficient citizen."

Mr. Beatty had a final interview with Lord Shaughnessy at his bedside a few hours before his death, and at a time when Lord Shaughnessy realized that he had only a few hours to live.

"Lord Shaughnessy's last words to me," said Mr. Beatty, "were significant of sentiments which had actuated him in his administration of the company over a long period of years. They were: "Maintain the property. It is a great Canadian property, and a great Canadian enterprise."

Here and There

In appreciation of its wonderful exhibit at the Toronto Exhibition this year, the Canadian Pacific Railway has been awarded a special medal.

The Prince of Wales' Ranch at High River, Alberta, contributed the highest priced bull at a recent fall sale in Calgary, Princeton Crusader, which fetched $285.

Canadian wheat exports for the twelve months ending September 30th, 1923, amounted to 225,747,861 bushels, valued at $259,445,816, while for the twelve months ending September, 1922, they were 160,637,-898 bushels, valued at $194,577,125, according to a report of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics.

Exports of bacon from Canada to Great Britain increased almost 3,-000,000 pounds during the first nine months of the current calendar year. For this period, during 1922, there were 70,988,000 pounds of Canadian bacon shipped to the British market, while this year the corresponding figure rose to 73,-934,000 pounds.

The value of the asbestos exports of Canada for the 12 months ended August, 1923, according to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, exceeded the value of those of the previous year by nearly $3,000,000. These exports for the last year amounted to 202,646 tons, valued at $3,375,-249, compared with 122,785 tons, valued at $5,604,551 in 1922.

The first consignment of 1,000 pounds of British Columbia Douglas fir seeds has been shipped to the British Forestry Commission, London, by the Dominion Forestry Branch, from its plant at New Westminster, British Columbia. The seeds were extracted from the cones recently gathered in the Fraser Valley districts.

The year 1923 will see a new record in Alberta coal production. It is expected the total production for the year will reach 7,000,000 tons, in comparison with less than 6,000,-000 last year. The production up to November 1st is 1,500,000 tons greater than the production for the same period last year. The record production previously was in 1920, when 6,400,000 tons were produced. The pay-roll this year is expected to exceed $18,000,000.

Great interest is being manifested in the International Dog Derby to be run at Quebec during the Winter Carnival on February 21st, 22nd and 23rd, 1924. The race is for teams of huskies driven by Indians, trappers, traders, mail carriers and others. At present ten entries have been received and others are expected from the north shore of the St. Lawrence and from the Abitibi mining district. As navigation will soon close, it will be necessary for entries from the latter district to mush 400 miles to reach Quebec. About five American teams will probably take part, their object being to regain the gold cup for the United States.

What might have resulted in a very serious train wreck was avoided in the nick of time on the Canadian Pacific Railway Parry Sound subdivision, by section foreman Conzani, who while patrolling the track near Brignall recently discovered two large iron nuts on top of the rails, securely fastened with hay wire. The foreman had just time to unfasten the wire and remove the nuts to clear the track for a train was due in five minutes. Two boys in the vicinity admitted, after questioning, that they wired the nuts to the rails. They were sentenced to the local shelter for one month and their fathers were required to give bond and report to the authorities for two years.

Evidence given by farmers before the U.S. Tariff Commission showed that under American railway rates a bushel of wheat could be hauled only 35 miles for one cent, while under Canadian rates the same amount of money would move the same amount of grain 66 miles. American farmers claim that this is a saving in favor of the Canadian producer of 44 per cent, or about 8 cents a bushel. The reason given for the difference is that in the United States grain rates are based on cost of moving it to-day, while in Canada they are based on 1897 costs, when the Crow's Nest Pass agreement was made between the Government and the Canadian Pacific.

A DUTY FOR ORANGEMEN

A Protestant clergyman, Rev. Dr. Caldwell, of Alton, Ont., sends the following highly encouraging letter:

"Dear Sir and Brother—God grant that you may long be spared to carry on your supervision of The Sentinel. The value of The Sentinel cannot be measured or weighed. When the many papers come near the close of the week The Sentinel is the first (or one of the first of papers) to be opened by my wife and myself. No wonder that through the United States, Great Britain, and even in Rome, it is praised by Protestants. Its truthfulness, integrity, loyalty, and Bible-like principles are as a Gibraltar of Protestantism that defies Romanism in any attack to crush it. People wonder how you gather weekly so much news about the activities of Rome. I preached a sermon a month ago about the hidden hand that threatens the British Empire—namely, the Papacy. It was highly such information. I shall preach about the Bible and Rome next week. In my last charge we doubled the membership of the lodge, we shall try it here."

This letter is printed with the hope that it will be an inspiration to the brethren everywhere to do all they can to get the Protestant clergy connected with the lodges, and to get the members of the Order identified with the Prostant churches. Rev. Dr. Caldwell is a tower of strength to the Order. The brethren of the lodge where he is stationed owe it to themselves to back him up in every department of his work. We feel sure they will. By regular attendance at church, and by accepting responsibilities as managers and Sunday School teachers, they can show the whole community what the Orange Association is, at its best.

Does not this case prove the great benefit that the Order receives from having clergymen reading The Sentinel? If every minister of the gospel in Canada read The Sentinel weekly there would be more sermons preached on distinctly Protestant subjects. That is what is needed in this Dominion. It would lessen the number of mixed marriages, and it would educate this generation to understand the real character of the Papacy on both the political and religious sides of its teaching. Protestantism has lost much of its virility because to a large degree the men in the pulpits have been chloroformed by the agents of Rome. All the influences that can be used to persuade clergymen to "leave Romanism alone" are constantly being employed. The largest contributors to the church funds are induced by Roman Catholic business associates and political friends to protest to the minister who preaches on such topics. On the plea that it only stirs up strife, the definite Protestant teaching has pretty well ceased in our churches. It would not be fair to condemn our ministers too harshly They are put under severe pressure, by men who, unconsciously perhaps, are the tools of Rome. It is only a man with the courage of a Joshua who can withstand it.

It is in the hands of Orangemen however, to correct this declension of Protestant teaching and preaching. If they would do their religious duty with enthusiasm, gather round their ministers as devoted helpers in his work, the pressure of Rome would be counteracted, and there would be a revival of Protestant teaching in our churches. If they put into the hands of their clergymen the organ of the Order so that he would get the news of Papal scheming, they would be equipped to preach on such subjects, and they would be aroused to the necessity of more vigorously combatting the subtle methods by which Rome seeks to rob Protestantism of its power that the evil design of world domination by the Pope may succeed.—Orange Sentinel.

JAMES CARMICHAEL

One of Hillsburg's most esteemed and highly respected citizens passed away on Tuesday morning, December 18th, in the person of Mr. Jas. Carmichael. The deceased was a long and painful sufferer from diabetes, to which he finally succumbed. The late Mr. Carmichael was born in Alton some sixty-five years ago, the son of the late Malcolm Carmichael, a native of Glasgow, Scotland. The family moved to Hillsburg when Mr. Carmichael was about two years old. He received his education in the Hillsburg Public School, after which he entered upon the tailoring business. He was one of Hillsburg's prominent business men for about forty years. He was married to Miss Mary MacMurchy, daughter of the late Donald MacMurchy. There was one child, Norman, who is now a Doctor of Dentistry and practicing in Winnipeg. Mr. Carmichael was a great admirer of fine horses and an enthusiastic lover of clean sport. He

SUICIDE WITH PARIS GREEN BACKGROUND

Walkerton Lad Smears His Face With Paris Green to Scare Granny.

The Bruce Herald and Times tells of the excitement caused by a lad faking suicide. This week's issue says:—

A 15 year old lad living near the old Biscuit factory gave his relatives and neighbors a bad scare by faking an attempt on his life by the Paris green route. Having shown a marked aversion to going to school, his grandmother, who has been looking after the lad since the death of his mother, appears on Monday night to have threatened him with some severe reprisals if he didn't pack off to school Tuesday. The youth, when the hour for heading for the academy arrived, mixed up a cup of Paris green and after smearing his lips and face generously with the potato-bug exterminator, dumped the stuff out and came into the presence of his grandmother with the dripping cup and holding his stomach like one in distress. Throwing himself on the lounge he went through some contortions that sent the aged lady screeching out to the neighbors for help. Soon a flock of scared dames were on hand and the telephones in that vicinity were shortly ringing in chorus for a doctor . In response to the call, Dr. McCue hurried to the scene, and although the patient, on seeing the physician getting ready to function, tried to stall him by whispering that he hadn't drunk the dope, operations went merrily on and soon the stomach pump was at work cleansing the lad's interior, or words to that effect. The boy got a rimming out that he will remember long after the lighter joys have passed from him, and as for pulling off any more such stunts he would as soon be lynched like a nigger shot as a horse thief and die like a dog than fake another suicide with Paris green background.

F. & A. M., Erin. For many years he was a sidesman in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, of which he was a member for over 35 years. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. Bro. A. W. Hare and the brethren of Wellington Lodge, A. F. & A. M. The beautiful ritual of the Order was repeated in a very fitting manner by Past District Deputy Worshipful Master Dr. Abbott, of Erin.

IT COSTS TO RUN A PAPER

According to a report submitted to the U. F. O. annual gathering in Toronto, the Farmers' Sun, the official organ of the Farmers and a highly creditable exponent of agricultural affairs and the latest news of the day, has been published at a loss aggregating $15,000 during the last fifteen months. It hopes to make a better showing by publishing twice a week instead of three times, but that is not at all certain.

Not many newspapers could stand such a loss as that of the Sun's for long, but it is a fact that some of the best of them have been having and are having their troubles these days. For that reason a number of them have been forced to the wall, and others have given up before it was too late. High costs are hard on the publishers, and it cannot be too strongly impressed upon people who are so frequently impelled to ask favors they require all the revenue possible to enable them to offset increased costs.

If this fact was kept in mind there would be fewer requests of the newspapers to insert straight advertisements for nothing, and to boost affairs that are in every respect money-makers. It isn't easy to refuse, but it has to be done if newspapers are to live. The sooner people understand the situation the better—Drayton Advocate.

A Tribute

Our ability, to explain in print why The Hoover excels, is dwarfed by the enthusiastic endorsement of a half million Hoover users, thousands of whom have been using Hoovers on their carpetings for the past ten or twelve years.

A Wonderful Bargain

You will be sure to admit that this is a wonderful bargain. You will wonder how it is possible to secure such splendid sweepers to sell at such a low price. It is merely another demonstration to give our patrons the advantage of every special purchase we make, having secured 25 of these sweepers from one of the largest manufacturers in the country at an exceedingly low price as a big special sale feature offering. $5.00 won't buy a better sweeper. Made of steel; light in weight, but very strong—a sanitary sweeper which harbors no germs. Far superior in every way to the old fashioned wooden sweeper with its germ collecting attributes. The HYGENO sweepers are handsome, having beautiful mahogany baked enamel finish and nickle trimmings.

Don't fail to see them on display in our window.

Judging from the intense interest being manifested in the display and the comments on the very low price of $2.98, there will be a big crowd sure. Remember only 25 of these Sweepers in this sale and if you appreciate a big bargain and want to obtain your sweeper it is essential that you be here promptly at 10 o'clock Saturday morning. Positively none sold before this time. At $2.98 they'll go like hot cakes. No 'phone orders and none sent C. O. D.

REMARKABLE PROGRESS MADE BY ROYAL BANK OF CANADA; LARGE BUSINESS HANDLED

General Deposits Show a Gain of Close to $50,000,000. Liquid Assets Equal to as Much as 50 Per Cent. of Public Liabilities. Larger Holdings of Short-term Securities.

The annual statement of The Royal Bank of Canada for the fiscal year ended November 30th, 1923, is one of the most striking banking documents presented to shareholders in recent years. In a period which has marked considerable contraction owing to the after effects of post war deflation, the Bank has been able to make noteworthy progress by an increase in total assets of close to $50,000,000, to the large total of $538,358,554.

Even more striking is the achievement in increasing general deposits to the extent of almost $50,000,000, in a period when conditions were not generally favorable. These now amount to $421,334,265 as compared with $372,003,961 in the preceding year.

Strong Cash Position.

The proportion of liquid assets are about 50 per cent. of the total liabilities to the public. They amount to $233,125,474, and indicate a position of exceptional strength. Included in them are cash resources of $81,604,539, equal to 28 per cent. of public liabilities. The corresponding figures in the previous year were $216,018,331 in liquid assets and $63,935,920 cash resources. Under the amended method of detailing cash resources this year's deposit in the Central Gold Reserves amounting to $11,500,000, is included whereas a year ago the gold deposit of $8,000,000 was given among the general list of liquid assets.

Increase in Short Term Securities

In addition to this, the general character of the Bank's holdings of higher grade securities has been greatly strengthened, with a view to fortifying its already strong position. Thus, Dominion and Provincial Government securities have been increased from $27,893,715 to $28,783,050 and Canadian Municipal securities and British, Foreign and Colonial securities, other than Canadian, have risen from $7,901,927 to $15,900,363, while Railway and Other Bonds Debentures and Stocks have decreased from $13,462,068 to $10,436,951.

Call and short loans on bonds debentures, stocks and other securities have shown a decrease of upwards of $2,000,000, from $48,510,120 to $46,372,574 there being a slight increase in such loans in Canada and a decrease elsewhere. The Bank has thus effected a distinct gain in the quality of its investments.

Larger Business Handled.

The measure of the Bank's general assistance to trade and commerce is shown in its current loans, which have risen in the year from $242,937,476 to $264,722,967, an increase of close to $22,000,000.

It is worthy of note that the profits of the year's operations were maintained at a level showing very little change from the preceding year, this showing having been effected in a period when general conditions were not so favorable as they had been in previous years. The profits amounted to $3,909,316, as against $3,958,489 for the preceding year. Together with the balance from the previous year, the total available for distribution was $4,916,830, as compared with $4,863,514 in 1922, and after dividends appropriations and taxes there was carried forward $1,058,830, as against $1,007,514 last year.

These will be resumed on Sunday next, January 6th, as follows—Mono Mills at 11 a.m., Mono East at 3 p.m., and Adjala at 7 p.m. Mr. Matheson will occupy the pulpit at the three services.

—"Owing to a big rush of job printing and for lack of space," an exchange naively remarks, "a number of births and deaths will be postponed until next week."

—In St. Andrew's Church on Sunday night a male choir of 32 voices led the singing in inspiring manner. The choir will probably lead the service on Sunday nights once a month. Mr. E. C. Connop, the choir leader is receiving hearty congratulations upon the success of the departure. Rev. F. W. Mahaffy preached an excellent sermon on the prompt payment of debts. We had planned to give our readers a synopsis of the discourse, but lack of space makes this impossible.

WEEK OF PRAYER

The different churches in Orangeville will unite in observing the week of prayer that will commence on January 7th and continue until January 11th.

On Monday evening, meeting for prayer will be held in the Baptist Church, and will be addressed by Rev. F. C. Elliott, of Toronto.

On Tuesday evening, in the Army Barracks. The meeting will be conducted by the Army officers.

Dr. Neil, of Toronto, will preach each evening for the remainder of the week, and the meetings will be held in the Methodist Church on Wednesday evening; in St. Mark's on Thursday evening, and in St. Andrew's on Friday evening.

Services will be open at 8 o'clock. Silver collection will be taken at each service.

REFORMERS WILL MEET

Dufferin Reform Association has issued posters calling a general meeting of the Reformers of this County in the Public Library Auditorium in Orangeville on Friday January 11th, at 2 p.m. The meeting is called for the purpose of effecting organization and also for the discussion of matters of interest from a party viewpoint. We understand that the redistribution bill will have a place in the discussion and that steps will be taken to make representations to Ottawa looking to the retention of the present constituency with the addition of some municipalities from surrounding counties.

A GENEROUS GIFT

Shelburne Memorial Committee is indebted to S. H. Rutledge, of Orangeville, for the gift of a beautiful memorial tablet to be placed in the memorial grounds. The tablet was received shortly before Christmas, and as the donor put it, "it is a Christmas gift to Shelburne and community." Upon the tablet is engraved the following inscription "Shelburne and Community Memorial Park, officially opened June 4th, 1923." The Shelburne newspapers voice the sentiment of the community when they state that the munificent gift is highly appreciated by everyone.

ELECTION CARDS

ELECTORS OF MONO,—

At the solicitation of a large number of the ratepayers of your township I am in the field for the office of Councillor for 1924. I have lived in Mono for 27 years and am now the owner of 100 acres of land in the township, which I work with my other farm. If you honor me with your confidence, I will undertake to serve you faithfully and to the best of my ability.

Yours sincerely,
JAS. ARMSTRONG

ELECTORS OF MONO,—

Having been asked by a number of ratepayers to allow my name to appear on the ballot, I have decided to stand for the office of Councillor for 1924. I am a young man and a returned soldier and I ask you for your votes and influence. If elected I will do my best to further the interests of the township of Mono. Wishing you a prosperous New Year I am

Respectfully yours,
HAROLD MARSHALL

ELECTORS OF MONO,—

After serving you for three years as Councillor, I am now asking you to support me for the office of Deputy-Reeve. As one of your Councillors, I have also sought to conserve your interests to the best of my ability, and if I am elected next Monday I promise you careful and vigilant service in township and county affairs. Wishing all a bright and prosperous New Year, I am

Yours sincerely,
W. NORRIS FINES.

ELECTORS OF MONO,—

In compliance with the expressed wishes of a large number of the ratepayers, I am again offering myself as a candidate for the office of Councillor. When I last ran I came within a very few votes of being elected. I trust that all my former supporters will rally to my support this year and give me their votes and see to it that I have enough new votes to ensure my election. I promise honest, active and careful service if I am returned.

Yours very truly,
BOYD McLAINE

ELECTORS OF MONO,—

In compliance with the wishes of a number of friends and ratepayers I have decided to offer myself for the office of Councillor. I am not a new man in municipal affairs as I have had several years seasoning at the Council Bord. In view of my experience I feel that I should be in a position to give you good service. Diligence in looking after the interests of the township will have first place for the coming year if I am elected to represent you. Soliciting your hearty support and wishing all a very happy New Year, I remain

Yours faithfully,
W. J. HENRY

ELECTORS OF MONO,—

I have been prevailed upon to stand for the office of Township Councillor and respectfully appeal for your hearty support in my campaign and at the polls next Monday. I have the best interests of the township at heart and will endeavor to give you vigilant and conscientious service if I am returned. I believe that the present time demands care and economy in the administration of public affairs, whether in the township, the county or the larger field of Provincial and Dominion affairs. With best wishes I am

Yours very truly,
WM. WOODER

ELECTORS OF AMARANTH,—

After two years' service as Councillor, I have decided to take a step forward and am now asking for your county support for the office of Deputy-Reeve. I have served you carefully, endeavoring at all times to get full value for every dollar of the money handled and expended by the council. If I am returned next Monday I will undertake to give you the same kind of service in township and county affairs. Trusting that you will do whatever you can to ensure my election and extending best wishes to one and all, I am

Yours faithfully,
W. J. FARNELL

ELECTORS OF AMARANTH,—

Ladies and Gentlemen,—Through the urgent request of ratepayers from the various polling divisions of this municipality, I have reconsidered my nomination and am allowing my name to appear on the ballot as a candidate for the 1924 Council. I respectfully solicit your votes and influence and in return promise you my faithful services.

Yours sincerely,
OLIVER EWING

ELECTORS OF AMARANTH,—

After serving you for some years as one of your Councillors I am now in the field for the office of Deputy-Reeve. I have always endeavored to serve your interests honestly and in an efficient manner. If I am elected on Monday I will continue to give freely of my time and energy to further the interests of the municipality. I respectfully solicit your hearty support from now until election day and at the polls on Monday. Wishing all every prosperity, I am

yours sincerely,
W. H. WHALEY

CAMILLA

Oh! Christmas; such a lot of things, n' Santa n' Christmas trees, n' people, n' nuts, n' lemons, n' girls, n' oranges, n' lots of boys n' oh! n' n' everything but you, n' all day succors.

Everyone knows when "those two" are going to be married.

Harold's Charlie must certainly understand feeding Josiah's cattle

Boys, it's Leap Year, but don't break the League, even George is cultured and our brave leader, John E. Spence, is starting to tremble odd times. Now fight, don't hide.

Everybody was home for Christmas 'cause the table was filled full everything almost buskin'.

Do all men think their mug better for shavin' than the other fellow's?

Say, Lundy, unless you've "that bird" pretty well caged, it may take its flight to Tom Cook's for awhile and you're to blame.

In 1924 I've no say, but hope it's A. Dolan comes my way.—Bol Little.

Would the 1924 Council or Rev. Coutts kindly give us the boundaries of our busy hamlet with suburbs, as we don't want any foreign 'ers.

The best party of the old year was at J. A. Marshall's on Wednesday night, Dec. 26th. Fred says everyone was there. Robert Reid's was also largely attended, even it was "showery." The best of good wishes, May.

The year 1924 is with us and as the women are going to manage the affairs of our good old banner township, we all hope they'll fearlessly enter the council room throw out those easy chairs, purchase a square table, and give it a general house-cleaning appearance to the ratepayers for the coming year.

Latest reports state that our bugler, Wallace Brett, has sent out an S. O. S. signal. Is he going to leave the ranks? Also that our "safety first" Norman Parks is going to run for council. Take this advice, Norm, and leave that idea alone, because if you try that you'll get licked sure, kindly stay with the L. O. B. and you've a fighting chance for something. We need you.

We wish all a happy and prosperous New Year.

The Banner's New Newspaper Press

THE ILLUSTRATION ABOVE SHOWS OUR NEW L. & M. TWO-REVOLUTION CYLINDER PRESS OF ENGLISH MANUFACTURE, RECENTLY INSTALLED IN OUR OFFICE, WHICH IS IN KEEPING WITH OUR ENDEAVOUR TO MAKE THE BANNER OFFICE THE BEST EQUIPPED PRINTING PLANT IN DUFFERIN COUNTY.

In this week's issue of The Banner we desire to announce to our readers the installation in our office of a new Printing Press to meet the increasing demands of our business and to bring the printing of our newspaper up to a standard in keeping with the desires of our readers. The new Press is capable, also, of doing the finest class of job printing and color work as required in modern business literature, besides being sufficiently large to produce our newspaper. Our staff are becoming more and more familiar with the operation of the new Press as time goes on, and we are rapidly approaching the point where we will be in a position to secure the best results, both in the appearance of the paper and the production of finer and better job printing.

A description of the new Press that will be sufficiently simple to enable our readers to understand its working and indicate the duty it must perform in our plant may be interesting to Banner readers inasmuch as The Banner is now being printed on the new press each week.

Probably we might make our description slightly more instructional if we start at the beginning and describe the methods used until we reach the press. Accordingly we will commence with a news item that reaches our office for publication from a correspondent, and also an advertisement that one of our merchants sends us for reproduction. In the case of the news item your Editor first reads it through, making corrections and additions, and then hands it on to the composing room, where in due course the Linotype typesetting machine operator turns it into orderly, systematic lines-of-type and hands it on to the make-up man, who places it in a certain column of a certain page, possibly its usual place. The advertisement takes much the same course, except that much time is spent in detail arrangement of many corresponding faces of type and border to complete its story, when, it too, is handed on to the make-up man, who enters it into its regular place along with the news items which, we will assume, complete the page-of-type. The wohle in turn is tightly wedged on all sides against the square steel surrounding chase, permitting us to lift the page of made-up-types without the inconvenience of having them fall apart.

Having prepared the type forms from which the paper is printed, a general description of the press will be necessary to follow its method of printing. The illustration above of our L. & M. two-revolution cylinder press is taken from the feeder side of the press and shows right hand steps leading up to the feed board stand, from which the operator functions the individual sheets down to the cylinder, which occupies a large position in the top centre of the photo. Immediately underneath the cylinder, running to both ends of the press, are the ways, or tracks, upon which the bed reciprocates backward and forward. The delivery apparatus stretches from the cylinder to the top left hand side of the exetreme left, and sheets, after being carried around the cylinder, are delivered by tape to the delivery board shown on the left. The inking apparatus, with its many rollers for inking the forms, is located immediately to the left of the cylinder in the central section of the press. Having located the various important parts of the press we can proceed with the description of the printing.

Now we hurry these pages-of-type to the press, where four are locked by clamps to its large, perfectly even, horizontal flat bed, after due consideration has been given to squaring each page and correcting any imperfections in type. With the pages in position, the top surface of the type forms a perfect relief that picks up ink from the stationary ink rollers as the bed reciprocates backward and forward under power. Each backward stroke of this bed slides under the automatically raised impression cylinder so that the type on the bed of the press comes in contact with the revolving ink rollers, where it is served with a fresh supply of ink. The forward stroke of the bed carries the freshly inked type into contact with the blank sheet of paper which was caught up on the fly from the feed board by the grippers on the lowered impression cylinder, now turning at exactly the same speed as the bed is moving. At the point where the inked type meets the blank sheet of paper an impression is started which finishes a printed sheet as the type advances under the turning cylinder with its blank sheet of paper resting against its surface of make-ready packing to accommodate any irregularities in the type.

We have now reached the point where the press, having picked up a blank sheet of paper and printed it, the sheet must be taken off the revolving cylinder and delivered to the pile at the opposite end of the press from where it started, or to what is called the delivery board. It is rather a nice turn of mechanics that solves this problem automatically, and even after having seen the press deliver the printed sheet you will be at a loss to understand how it is accomplished. However, it is quite simple. The steel grippers, that automatically close and open in picking up the blank sheet and releasing the same after it is printed, perform another duty inasmuch as they hold the blank sheet over a series of fingers that rest slightly under its leading edge and after the printing revolution of the cylinder is completed these fingers lift the sheet away from the cylinder after the grippers have opened. The result is that another set of stationary fingers, which drop down to the level of the cylinder, easily strip the printed sheet off the cylinder as it revolves, and revolving tapes stretching out to the delivery immediately carry the sheet to he delivery end of the press, where it drops on the delivery board. This type of press, viz.: Two-revolution Press, would indicate from its name that the cylinder makes two revolutions in completing one printed sheet and during this cycle of cylinder operations the bed makes one return movement. The two-revolution idea on the printing press is the development from the drum cylinder single revolution type of cylinder press manufactured first about 50 years ago and the present printing presses of high speed and perfect printing ability are built on the two-revolution principle, which, of course, is the most modern method.

Our particular press was manufactured in England by the Linotype & Machinery Co., Limited, and is sold in Canada by the Canadian Linotype, Limited, and exemplifies all the finer details of workmanship, construction and design usually expected from machines of English manufacture. The press is driven by a variable speed alternating current electric motor, which is provided with ball bearings which require little or no attention. The press is controlled by a hand manipulated switch working in conjunction with control box for varying speeds. The machine has a speed ranging from 1400 to 2400 impressions per hour. The speed at which it runs may be changed from faster to slower or vice versa by a slight movement of the control lever. The press is equipped with an automatic counting attachment, that registers with absolute accuracy the number of sheets printed on a run. As it stands in our office the new press, which is so strongly built that its makers guarantee it to last a lifetime, weighs just about 18,000 pounds. Notwithstanding its size it is so perfect in construction that it makes comparatively little noise when in operation. It is most interesting to watch it reeling off four page sheets of newsprint at the rate of thirty or thirty-five a minute. Its speed will mean an important economy in time, as The Banner can now be printed, folded, mailed and delivered at the post office in less than half the time formerly required for this work. Instead of folding the printed sheets by hand as heretofore, the folding is now done by a Mentges newspaper folder, which was installed at the same time as our new press. The folder will fold and deliver the sheets ready for the mailing table as fast as they are printed.

THE WEEKLY PRESS OF ONTARIO

(Toronto Star)

When you pick up one of the live weeklies published in one of the live towns of Ontario you cannot fail to notice the great change that has occurred in recent years in the character of the advertising done by the local merchants.

They really advertise. They advertise in the most up-to-date method, taking plenty of space, using attractive display and price-quoting freely in order to show precisely what inducements they have to offer customers. The latest issue of the Bowmanville Statesman, and any one of the leading weeklies, carries local advertising of the best kind.

When it is said that a merchant's advertising method is up-to-date, it means that he benefits from the experience of all advertisers everywhere, the slowly acqured knowledge which experts now possess, and advertises in the manner that has been found to produce the best results. It may be remarked too that no advertising can be credited with bringing the best results unless it benefits the buyer as much as it gratifies the seller.

Some of the town weeklies which now carry display advertising which vies with that in the metropolitan dailies used to find, thirty or forty years ago, that local merchants scarcely believed in advertising at all. They felt, however, that they had to take space in order to "help" the local man. Many a good man who started a small town weekly has gone to his reward in a better world than this, without ever having succeeded in convincing his town merchants that he was giving them value for what he received. They made him feel that in signing an advertising contract they were subsidizing him, and that their voluntary action in doing so ranked with the virtue they displayed when they subscribed to foreign missions or sent a turkey to a poor family at Christmas.

In those days now passed away, the town used to have rival weeklies one Conservative, the other Liberal, and each party "helped" its own paper. It sometimes happened that if a Grit merchant were to advertise in the Tory paper it was resented as an act of treachery to his own party, and resented also by political opponents as a somewhat sneaky endeavor to palm off Grit merchandise on unsuspecting Conservative customers. It would be agreed by local opinion that a man got nowhere by resorting to such sinuous methods. In most towns, though, the leading merchants took large space in the party paper, and put a smaller advertisement, which was seldom changed, in the rival journal.

The notion that the merchant advertised out of the goodness of his heart in order to help the newspaper, and ought therefore to have some thing to say about the policy of the editor, used to prevail widely. One hears little of it nowadays except from persons who know nothing of the facts. An advertiser advertises because it increases his business and if he stops advertising his business decreases. It is as simple as that and as easy demonstrable. But thirty or forty years ago this kind of advertising was done, which probably did not pay the advertiser very well. A merchant would write one advertisement for the local paper and let it run all summer and another which would run all winter. It served about as much use as a sign board. When the paper came out each week this advertisement showed that this merchant still kept store, although it showed little more than that. It gave no news of his business, no hint that he was doing something he hadn't always been doing winter and summer.

Then, sooner or later, there arrived in each town, or there grew up a young fellow, who, observing what was going on in a wider field, took space in both local papers, changed his advertisements each week—even put different ones in the rival papers to see which circulation brought him most returns. He proved to be a most disturbing person. He had trade that wasn't his own, he lured customers away from other stores. Even the editor was vexed, for others began to change their advertisements each week, which made a lot of extra work. But locally it was learned that advertising pays. The whole continent knows it, modern life marches to the tune of it.

Orillia will not have its new rink for this winter.

A KINDLY HINT

Little James, while at a neighbor's, was given a piece of bread and butter, and politely said, "Thank You."

"That's right, James," said the lady. "I like to hear little boys say 'thank you.'"

"Well," rejoined James, "if you want to hear me say it again, you might put some jam on it."

Mr. David Wilson, of Bolton, has purchased the "Evans" farm of 175 acres, which adjoins his home place. The farm was owned by the late Col. George Evans for many years.

HEADACHES FOR WEEKS

They Soon Disappear After Using Dr. Williams' Pink Pills.

Every woman, at times, finds the routine of housework irksome. But how much more difficult are the daily tasks of the home to the woman who is nervous and rundown? She prepares meals for the family but has no appetite for food. What she does eat distresses her, headaches and dizziness follow, there is a fluttering of the heart, and the complexion becomes pale. In cases of debility of this kind building up the blood is generally effective. By improving the quality of the blood and increasing its quantity, nourishment is carried to the shattered nerves. The appetite invariably improves and gradually the exhausted system is toned up and the whole outlook of life is brightened. Mrs Geo. Grant, R. R. No. 1, Markdale Ont., tells for the benefit of other the great benefit Dr. Williams' Pink Pills were to her in a run down condition. She says:—"If anyone can strongly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills I feel I can. For over four years I had been troubled with my nerves, and for weeks at a time I would suffer terribly with headaches. My blood was very thin I had no appetite, could hardly go about. I was afraid to stay alone in the house as I feared something would happen me. Finally I decided to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and they have made me a new woman, as I am now the picture of health. I have increased in weight the headaches come no more, and my nerves are as good as ever they were. Before I began taking Dr Williams' Pink Pills life was a burden; now I enjoy living, and I hope some other woman will take courage from my experience, for I feel sure that what this medicine did for me it can do for others."

You can get these Pills from any medicine dealer, or by mail, at 50 cents a box, from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

We see by the London Advertiser where a game warden gives warning that if a skunk happens to roam close to your home, no matter how much you resent his proximity, you must not shoot him, unless you wish to pay a fine. They may be nuisances, but they get the same protection as other furry creatures such as the black squirrel, says the game warden. For a sample of unjust laws, this is surely the limit. It leaves one more helpless than if attacked by a burglar for no matter how the skunk may muss up your Sunday suit, the law prohibits retaliation. This sure is a free country for bootleggers, burglars and skunks.

A RIVER'S NAME

Some of our readers have witnessed the beauty of the scenery of the Maganatawan River. To them and to those of our readers who are interested in the origin of the geographic names of our province, the following which appeared in a recent issue of a Toronto daily, contributed by Mr. J. McArthur, will be read with interest. It gives an explanation as to how the Maganatawan received its name. 'One September evening, a few years ago, I was squatting in the glare of a little campfire, near the American Camp, which marks the portage between the South Maganatawan branch and the main river. The twilight lingered over the gorgeously tinted woodlands, the sleeping waters reflected in their depths a fairyland like tracery of the overhanging rocks and trees, and it made me think. Surely this must be a river of dreams. So I asked old Michel Noganosh what Maganatawan meant or signified. Michel squatted across the little fire from me, his bronzed face with many tiny crow's feet making his eyes always seem to be twinkling and smiling. Michel was born on the Maganatawan, and was the brother of the chief (Peter Noganosh, deceased) of the Ojibways.

"Michel grunted, took the pipe from his mouth and said: "Many, many years ago, before my father's time, a party of Indians returning from the hunting and trapping trip up river, in spring, landed right here at portash, and with them was one old woman, very, very old, and her man was too old to hunt, so had stayed at home, what is now near Byng Inlet. And the old, old woman was tired and weak, and the younger Indians no wait for her, they leave her at the portash, right here, and go on. And when they get to camp lodges the old man come out and ask for his woman and they tell him they leave her way up at portash. And the old man he cry 'Maganatawan — Maganatawan.' (The place where old woman was left to die.) And so the river was named."

NEW LAMP BURNS 95 P. C. AIR

BEATS ELECTRIC OR GAS

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 per cent. air and 6 per cent. common kerosene (coal oil.)

The inventor, F. N. Johnson, 246 Craig St. W., Montreal, is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him to-day for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

REFORMERS WILL MEET

Dufferin Reform Association has issued posters calling a general meeting of the Reformers of this County in the Public Library Auditorium in Orangeville on Friday January 11th, at 2 p.m. The meeting is called for the purpose of effecting organization and also for the discussion of matters of interest from a party viewpoint. We understand that the redistribution bill will have a place in the discussion and that steps will be taken to make representations to Ottawa looking to the retention of the present constituency with the addition of some municipalities from surrounding counties.

EDITORIAL NOTES

Orangeville appears to have been well served by its 1923 council. Mayor Jeffers and his colleagues were able to show a comfortable bank balance of $2246.99 on their printed financial statement. This had grown to upwards of $2700 by nomination night and has doubtless been further increased since then by the receipt of belated taxes. Current assets amount to close to $7,000 and as the current liabilities are only $589.65, the Council should start out in 1924 with a comfortable balance in the treasury. The receipts, of course, include $4500 realized from the sale of the Broadway pavement debentures. As the contractors were paid during 1922 the sale of the debentures simply swelled this year's receipts without any corresponding increase in the payments. This was a factor which made this year's statement show to advantage when compared with the statement submitted to the ratepayers a year ago. However, the Council has done a great deal of excellent work throughout the year and seems to have secured good returns for the money expended. In initiating street oiling it introduced a departure that has been productive of good results and has also given general satisfaction. Streets have been well maintained and the town hall and other corporation property has been kept in a good state of repair. The increase in the amount of insurance carried on town property will meet with the approval of the ratepayers, even if it does mean a considerable increase in the cost of carrying the policies. The need of increasing the amount of insurance on buildings and their contents is too often overlooked by corporations and private individuals. The policies carried in the past and still carried in altogether too many cases would not go very far toward meeting replacement cost in the event of destruction of the property insured by fire. It is no more than good business to increase fire insurance policies of all kinds in these days of expensive labor and building materials. Where this is not done the insurer is bound to suffer a heavy loss in the event of fire.

In view of the efficient service given in 1923 it is a matter of satisfaction that there will be little change in the personnel of the Orangeville council for 1924. In the retirement of Mr. Geo. Hepton, the Council loses the services of a man of sound judgment and wide experience in municipal affairs. His place, however, will be taken by Mr. J. W. South, who has a favorable municipal record elsewhere. So far as Orangeville is concerned Mr. South has still to make his name in municipal affairs, but his experience elsewhere should give him a big advantage over an entirely green man. With this one exception the 1924 Council will be unchanged from last year. The members are all in intimate touch with the affairs of the town. They know, too, what revenue they may expect and just about what they will be able to do with the money that comes under their control. They should make a safe and capable governing body and that is above all what the town stands in need of at the present time. Foolish and extravagant expenditures by some of the councils in the early days of the town saddled the municipality with a heavy load of debt. In some cases the town secured an adequate return for the money voted to different enterprises, but there were unfortunately instances in which the town's money was virtually thrown away. The debt has now been worked down until it is no longer the serious loss that it was a decade or fifteen years ago. Large sums will be retired in the next two or three years and Orangeville will then be in excellent shape to grapple with the vexed sewage question and solve it by making a commencement at the construction of a modern sewerage system. When this is done we will have one of the finest residential towns in northwestern Ontario.

Deputy-Reeve Parkinson, who has earned the title of finance minister of the town council, discussed the debenture debt in an illuminating manner at the Orangeville nomination meeting. The general debenture debt of the town Mr. Parkinson told his audience amounted to $81,583.20. This is made up as follows:—Consolidated 4th issue, $1195.55; waterworks $5173.46; Library site, $121.40 High School debenture, 2nd issue $5390.38; Dods Knitting Co., $19,995.84; Hydro debenture, 1st issue $24,873.21; Hydro debentures, 2nd issue, $2300.14; Consolidated debt debentures, $5222.89; High School debentures, 3rd issue, $2310.33 Lord Dufferin Hospital, $15,000.00. The waterworks, the Dods Knitting Co. and the Hydro debentures, amounting altogether to $52,342.65 might perhaps be described as self-sustaining debentures, for the reason that they are not repaid out of the town taxes. The waterworks debentures are met out of the general receipts, but they are covered entirely by receipts from the waterworks system, which has been self-sustaining for some years. The Dods debentures were issued to provide the Company with a loan when it established here soem years ago The Company repays the principal of the loan and the municipality provides for the interest. These debentures are therefore self-sustaining as regards principal, but a charge upon the taxpayers in respect of interest. The Hydro debentures are repaid entirely by the local Hydro Commission out of the receipts of the Hydro lighting and power service, and are not in any sense a charge on the general taxpayer. This reduces the debt that must be met directly by taxation to less than $80000, a fact that serves to emphasize more strongly the favorable financial condition that Orangeville occupies. The net local improvement debt stands at a very modest figure, the total being only $7647.86. Four issues of the general debt will be retired completely in the next three years. These are the Consolidated 4th issue and the Library site, which expire this year and the Waterworks and the Consolidated debenture debt, which expire in 1926. The retirement of these issues should make an appreciable difference in the uncontrollable expenses of the municipality, provided we have no new debt creations in the meantime.

Orangeville is just beginning to reap the full fruits of municipal ownership of public utilities. The first step in the direction of public ownership and operation was taken nearly thirty years ago, when the waterworks system was constructed and set in operation. The project met with the bitterest kind of opposition on account of the heavy expenditure involved. $46,000, the cost price of the system, seemed an immense sum of money to many of the ratepayers of that time, although the system would probably cost at least $100,000, were the same work being done under present day conditions. From a health standpoint the system justified itself from the very beginning. There was a noticeable improvement in the general health of the town. Typhoid fever and other diseases that frequently originate in impure water have been virtually unknown in Orangeville for the last twenty-five years. Financially the system has also justified the hopes of the men who were instrumental in pushing through the scheme. Deficits were experienced in the early years, but for several years back the system has been self-sustaining and has sometimes shown quite a tidy surplus for the year. In 1926 the last of the debentures will be paid and thereafter the system will show a handsome surplus each year after meeting all maintenance and extension charges. It should be borne in mind too that this excellent showing has been made on rates that are very moderate in comparison with the water rates charged in other places. The success experienced with the waterworks system bids fair to be repeated with the Hydro system. The Hydro has only been in operation a little more than five years and is already able to show a surplus, despite the handicap of a privately owned competitive system. If the Hydro had the Orangeville field to itself it would be paying handsomely and the citizens who use electricity in their homes and places of business would be reaping the benefit, for it is the established policy of the Hydro to reduce rates whenever any local system shows sufficient profits to warrant a reduction. The Hydro is repaying the cost of construction in annual sums spread over a period of thirty years just as the cost of the waterworks system was repaid. The only difference is that the waterworks debentures were a direct charge on the revenues of the town, whereas the Hydro debentures must be borne directly by the revenues of the system. In time the Hydro debentures will be fully repaid and the town will then find itself the owner of a second valuable asset, which can be used to provide cheap light for domestic purposes or the cheap power that is so earnestly sought after by manufacturers. The potential value of the system to the Orangeville of the future can hardly be overestimated.

CLOSE IN MONO

T. J. Parks Had Majority of 11 Over Archie McQuilken in Reeveship Contest.

Norris Fines Had Lead of 92 in Race for Deputy's Chair—Harold Marshall Headed Poll For Council—W. J. Henry and Boyd McLaine Capture the Other Places.

A fairly large vote was polled in Mono Township on Monday. It was generally assumed beforehand that the Reeveship race would be close and this proved the case. T. J. Parks, the successful candidate, had the narrow majority of 11 over Archie McQuilken, last year's Deputy-Reeve. Parks sat in the 1923 Council as Councillor and was Reeve of the township some years ago. The candidates ran pretty much as expected, except in the Perry's School division, where supporters of McQuilken professed disappointment at the showing of their candidate. In the Camilla division the candidates were tied and at Primrose Parks had a lead of one vote.

In the race for the Deputy-Reeveship W. Norris Fines, a member of the 1923 Council, had the comfortable lead of 92 over Sam Barber, a municipal veteran. Harold Marshall, a returned soldier and a son of Mr. J. A. Marshall, an ex-Reeve of the municipality, headed the poll for Council. Marshall had a lead of 42 over W. J. Henry, another municipal veteran, who essayed a successful come-back. Boyd McLaine finished 39 votes behind Henry. William Wooder and James Armstrong, newcomers in Mono municipal affairs, were the defeated candidates. Both men were unknown outside of their home divisions and made creditable runs under the circumstances. Armstrong was further handicapped by the fact that while he owns and works land in Mono he resides on the Amaranth side of the townline. The vote follows:—

SHELBURNE

Dr. White Led Field of Eight in Race For the Council.

Mr. D. E. Dean, last year's Reeve was re-elected by acclamation. The only voting in the northern village on Monday was for the Council. Eight candidates took part in the fray and managed to stir up enough excitement to bring a heavy vote to the polls. Three of the four winners were pretty well bunched, Dr. White, who headed the poll, having 362 votes, T. J. O'Flynn, the second man, 341, and Alex. Matthews, 340. Victor G. H. Phillips the other man elected, had a total of 283. The figures are as follows:—

	North Ward	South Ward	Total
Louden	43	46	89
Matthews	212	128	340
Murray	57	63	120
O'Flynn	223	118	341
Phillips	194	89	283
Prentice	65	62	127
Sanderson	72	46	118
Dr. White	217	145	362

ADJALA

Adjala township ratepayers re-elected the 1923 Council by acclamation. The members are:—

Reeve—Thos. Goodeve.

Councillors—John C. Doyle, Jas Ronan, Geo. Patterson, Alex. Ward.

The finances of the township are in excellent shape. At the nomination meeting the council was able to show a surplus of assets over liabilities amounting to upwards of $1700.

CALEDON EAST

The three retiring Police Trustees Messrs. Joseph Proctor, Alex. McElwain and Thos. Coulter, were re-elected by acclamation.

ERIN VILLAGE

In the Reeveship contest Major Jas. Justice defeated John Wilson Reeve for the last seven years. The winner had a majority of 37. There were seven candidates for the Council. Three new men, J. P. Bush, D. L. Mundell and Chas. McMillan, and Geo. Griffin, of last year's Council, were elected. The defeated candidates were J. H. Gibson J. M. Steel and J. H. Cheeseman

IN AMARANTH

W. H. Whaley Was Really in Contest for Deputy-Reeve.

Oliver Ewing Polled Heavy Vote in Council Race—W. H. Trimble and Jas. Tindale Also Elected.

Election day passed off very quietly in Amaranth this year, although a fairly heavy vote was recorded at a number of the polls. Last year's Deputy-Reeve, Mr. W. F. Hammond, was elected to the Reeveship by acclamation, but there were contests for Deputy-Reeve and Councillors. W. H. Whaley had an easy win in the run for Deputy-Reeve, more than doubling the vote of his opponent, Mr. W. J. Farnell. The winner secured a heavy lead at Laurel and the polls in the west side of the township. Farnell had majorities at Whittington and Coleridge, but for some reason made a very poor showing in the Laurel ward. Both men were members of the 1923 Council. Oliver Ewing one of the young men of the Laurel division, proved a popular candidate and had a comfortable lead in the Council race. He was followed by W. H. Trimble, who headed the poll a year ago. Jos. Tindale, another newcomer, captured the last place defeating Alfred E. Looby by 29 votes. Ewing polled 169 votes in Laurel, his home division. The vote for Deputy-Reeve indicates that there were about 177 votes polled in this Ward. The results follow:—

Deputy-Reeve

	Whaley	Farnell
Farmington	44	24
Laurel	144	38
Waldemar	58	10
Coleridge	37	57
Maple Grove	62	19

OLDFIELD WON

Had Majority of 179 Over Russell in Fight for Melancthon Deputy-Reeveship.

Elliott, Ferris and Stewart Successful for Council Honours—Statute Labor By-law Defeated by 21 Votes.

R. B. Oldfield defeated John A. Russell for the Deputy-Reeveship of Melancthon by 179 votes. Russell who is a former Deputy-Reeve of the municipality, had a comfortable majority in Mayburne, his home polling division, but rap in second place at the other seven polls. Oldfield secured a big lead at Corbetton, his home poll, where his supporters rolled up a total of 107 votes. The winner was a member of the 1923 council. A comparatively light vote was recorded. The results by polls:—

	Oldfield	Russell
Horning's Mills	86	51
Shrigley	30	17
Mayburne	39	63
Riverview	50	30
Melancthon	41	19
Corbetton	107	33
Reddickville	42	10
Silk's School	23	15
	417	238

Maj. for Oldfield—179.

Wm. J. Ferris, a new man, headed the poll in the Council race and was closely followed by J. Fred Stewart, a member of the 1923 council. Alex. J. Elliott, another member of last year's council caught the third place, with a lead of more than a hundred over S Russell Hurlbut, the fourth man. The figures are:—

	Elliott	Ferris	Hurlbut	Stewart
Horning's M.	81	120	30	87
Shrigley	34	30	14	19
Mayburne	42	37	69	38
Riverview	35	48	41	57
Melancthon	35	52	9	56
Corbetton	72	62	46	108
Reddickville	32	47	10	22
Silk's Schl.	19	37	17	31
	350	433	236	418

The vote on the by-law to commute statute labor was fairly close. The measure was, however, defeated by a majority of 21, the vote standing 316 to 336. Five divisions recorded majorities for the by-law but these were overborne by the adverse majorities at Shrigley, Mayburne and Riverview. The vote:—

	For By-law	Against By-law
Horning's Mills	77	63
Shrigley	11	37
Mayburne	46	51
Riverview	12	68
Melancthon	30	29
Corbetton	83	54
Reddickville	32	20
Silk's School	24	14

BOYS' PARLIAMENT

The third Ontario Older Boys' Parliament held its first session in Toronto from December 26th to December 29th, the purpose of which was to enlist the older Tuxis boys of the Province in the development of the fourfold life for boys, through a better understanding, and promotion of the Trail Rangers and Tuxis Boys' programs. Ninety members were present, representing approximately one hundred thousand boys in all parts of the Province. They were given a hearty welcome by the people of Toronto, being billeted with some of the finest people of that city. The members of the Parliament were welcomed by Ex-Mayor Alfred Maguire, of the Toronto Municipal Council, and by J. Alex. Edmison, Mayor of the Toronto Boys' Council, while the Ontario Boys' Work Board and the Toronto branch of the Rotary Club entertained the young legislators at luncheons in the Central Y. M. C. A. and the King Edward Hotel respectively. His Honor, Lieut.-Gov A. O. Hogg, Joseph Thompson, M.P. P., Speaker-designate, and Premier Howard Ferguson took part in the opening exercises. The Parliament was marked throughout with all the ceremony attending the annual Provincial Parliament. The sessions were held in Convocation Hall and University West Hall.

Allan T. Van Every, of Toronto was elected Premier, while Claude Gunther, also of Toronto, by the same vote, became Leader of the Opposition. As Leader of the Ahmek or Government party, Alan addressed the members along the line of the three most important issues at stake, namely, Badgework, Training Leaders and Finances.

Most of the session was spent in the discussion and adoption of the following bills, which become law at once, and resolutions which are to be forwarded to the National Boys' Work Board as recommendations from the Third Older Boys' Parliament of Ontario.

The first bill took the form of an Act providing for an amendment to the Ontario Older Boys' Parliament Act, Statutes 1922, allowing that others besides the two leaders nominated by their respective parties should be entitled to run for Premier, provided they had filled the necessary requirements, and that the respective party leaders should not have to stand for reelection in any constituency, but should be considered members of the House on their appointment by the party. It also entitled Toronto to a representation of twelve members instead of eight formerly sent to Parliament, besides defining some constituencies and adding others which had been omitted.

Two Acts dealt with the very important need in Boys' Work—Trained leadership. One, "The Mentors' Training Class Act," made the members of Parliament responsible for organizing in as many localities as possible Mentors' Classes to carry out the course suggested under the Leadership Training Badge, these classes to be placed under capable leaders, to meet regularly and to be a gathering where Mentors might be free to discuss their individual problems. The second and most important of the two deals with the Provincial Leadership Training Camp at Beausoleil Island in Georgian Bay, where young men and leaders may study the C. S. E. T. program from the standpoint of mentor. The results of last year's camp are amazing. Every fellow who attended it is at present leading a group of boys in some part of the Province. It is urgent that every mentor, leader and older boy who can, should attend the camp next summer. The dates are July 26th to August 2nd 1924. For an all-round training in C. S. E. T. work there is none better.

Attention C. S. E. T. Boys!

The boys of Ontario must raise ($6,000.00) six thousand dollars to carry on province-wide boys' work during the year 1924. We must have absolute co-operation of all groups if we, in the county of Dufferin, are to secure our apportionment, which is one hundred dollars ($100.00). Other constituencies will double their objective—why cant we. This means that every last fellow in a group in the county must "play the game" and put this thing over "with a bang."

This information will help you:—

(1) The method employed will be a sale of $1.00 bonds through the C. S. E. T. groups of the county.

(2) The dates of the campaign will be from Saturday, January 19th to Tuesday, January 29th.

(3) Tax bonds will be done up in booklets of five.

(4) The following awards will be offered:—

(A) Individuals—(1) To every boy selling five bonds, a bronze medal; (2) To every boy selling 15 bonds, a silver medal; (3) To the boy selling greatest number of bonds in the province, a gold medal.

(B) District—(1) To the group in each of the twenty districts selected making the best showing per enrolled members, and raising at least $2500, a suitable shield.

(C) Provincial—(1) To the group making the best showing per enrolled members in the province, a suitable shield.

(D) To count in the competition returns must be in the office of the Ontario Boys' Work Board by Feb 7th, 1924.

A chart recording the daily results as far as may be compiled of the campaign in the county as a whole the town as a whole, and the different squares and camps in the town, will be posted in the Banner Office window while the campaign is in progress.

Local groups will receive the booklets about the fourteenth of this month, but the campaign does not start until the nineteenth.

It is quite probable that Mr. Rourke, the wide-awake finance minister in the Boys' Parliament will speak in Shelburne on Friday evening, January 25th, in connection with C. S. E. T. in general and the bond selling campaign in particular. Fellows, you cannot afford to miss him! He is great! He has whipped his own county, Stormont, from the morgue, as far as Tuxis Work is concerned, into one of the foremost counties in the province, in a year. Keep this date open and find some way of attending this meeting. It is more than likely that the Boys' County Council will convene on the same day in Shelburne, which affords ample opportunity for some fellows at least to hear him.

United we stand, divided we fall!

LET US MAKE OUR CONTRIBUTION FOR DUFFERIN AT LEAST TWO HUNDRED DOLLARS

And put Dufferin on the map.

A further report of the Parliament will appear in the next issue of this paper.

WITH THE CURLERS

Local curlers opened the season Monday night with the annual President vs. Vice-President match. The Vice-President's rinks won by a narrow margin of a single shot. The ice was in excellent shape and a first-rate curling was seen, notwithstanding that it was the first game of the year. The players and scores were:—

THE MAPLES

The last meeting of the Maples Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. W. H. Hunter on Friday afternoon, Dec. 14th. The programme consisted of choruses by the Institute, a report of the recent Toronto Convention by Mrs. E. R. Brown and Mrs. W. E. Prust, and an excellent reading, "Mother's Duty to Herself," by Mrs. Geo. Robinson. The Roll Call was answered by Inexpensive Christmas Gifts.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Wm. Carroll, on Thursday afternoon, January 17th at 2.30 o'clock. The program will consist of a chorus by the Institute a Paper by Mrs. Martin, a Spelling Match and Music by Miss Evelyn Lightle. The Roll Call will be answered by a verse. Meeting taken by Mrs W. H. Hunter Sr. A good attendance is requested.

ALTON

Miss Gertrude Gooderham, of Toronto, spent Christmas and New Year's at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mac Gooderham.

Miss Isabel McClellan, of Toronto, visited her cousin, Gertrude Gooderham, over New Year's.

Miss Mildred Storey and her friend, Mr. Duggan, of Toronto, spent New Year's here.

Mrs. Roy McClellan and daughter, Margaret, of Toronto, spent the New Year with her father, Mr. A. McFaul.

Mr. Dalton Brighton and Mr. Gordon McPhail spent the week-end at Mr. Mac Gooderham's.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Foley and children spent New Year's here with her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Walker and baby Gertrude, of Orangeville, spent New Year's with friends in town.

The great storm on Sunday closed the doors of the churches. Some people said it was the worst storm they had ever experienced.

Mrs. Milligan and granddaughter Mary, of Toronto, spent the week-end with Mrs. Dorrington.

Miss Agnes Meek, who had the misfortune to break an arm while skating at Varsity rink, Toronto, on Friday last, is home for a few days.

The Junior Women's Institute has postponed its concert until the 18th of this month on account of prayer services being held in the churches here.

The town trustees for 1924 are Mr. L. H. Lemon, Mr. Owen Finnegan and Mr. Arthur Lovell. We understand the trustees are considering improvements on the culvert west of "Glory Hole."

Mr. James Dods and Mr. James Barber returned to Toronto after a two weeks stay in town.

Mr. Arthur Chapman and Mr. Stewart Ladd, of Mono Centre, spent their Christmas vacation on the 4th line west, near Alton.

The Club held a dance at W. H. Martin's hall one night recently. Everybody spent a very enjoyable evening.

Dr. Carson preached a sermon in the Methodist church at 7 o'clock on Sunday evening. [illegible] will be on the subject, "[illegible] Church for Protestant or Roman Catholics to proselytize or seek converts from one another?"

Miss Florence Martin has gone to Orangeville to take a sourse in the Business College there.

Caledon mountain's summer and winter climate is delightful. Last Sunday's storm showed 16 and 22 below zero and 13 frozen to death in Chicago. St. Louis, Mo., had three frozen, St. Paul had a policeman frozen to death while on duty and a woman was frozen in Brielle New Jersey. Caledon had none frozen and it was not extremely cold although some claim that the thermometer registered as low as 3 below zero.

KINSLEY—FARNELL

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John Christian, Third Line, Amaranth was the scene of a quiet but pretty wedding at 12 o'clock noon on New Year's Day, when Mrs. Christian's sister, Jessie Maude, youngest daughter of Mrs. H. S. Farnell, of Laurel, was united in marriage to George Herbert Kinsley, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kinsley, Third Line, Amaranth. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. W. Rackham, of Laurel, under an arch of evergreens and white bells, in the presence of about thirty-five near relatives and friends.

The bride, who was unattended and who was daintily gowned in ivory crepe and radium lace, trimmed with pearls, her only ornament being a gold bar pin set with an amethyst, the gift of the groom wore the customary bridal veil caught up with orange blossoms and carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses and smilax. The wedding march from Lohengrin, to the strains of which the bride entered the drawing room, escorted by her mother, was rendered by the American Symphony orchestra on the Edison phonograph. Phonograph music was also rendered during the signing of the register.

After the usual greetings and good wishes of the assembled guests the bride led the way to the dining room, where a dainty wedding repast was in readiness, to which all did ample justice. Later on the happy couple left on the evening train for a short honeymoon trip the bride being attired in a crushed crepe gown of the fashionable brown shade with shoes to match. On their return they will reside on the groom's farm, lot 19, Third Line Amaranth. The bride and groom were the recipients of many useful and dainty gifts.

On Friday evening prior to her marriage the young bride-to-be was given a miscellaneous shower by the neighbors and young people of the community at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry May.

320 FOWL SUPPER

The members of Prince of Wales L. O. L. 320 will hold their annual Fowl Supper in their Hall on Friday night, January 11th. The Supper is for the members and their families and friends. It is an enjoyable event and has always been largely attended.

AN OLD DEED

Mr. Robert Keenan, of Guelph, formerly of Adjala, is the owner of a deed of land made in 1839, 84 years ago, when pounds, shillings and pence were current in Canada. It is for 125 acres in the Township of Adjala, County of Simcoe, purchased by his father, the late Robt. Keenan, from Wm. Hammell, grandfather of W. H. Hammell, ex-M.P.P. of Beeton, the consideration being 300 pounds. The place has been in the Keenan family for all the intervening years, and is said to be one of the best stock farms in the Province. In the early days, what is termed as "salt lick" was on the farm, and it is related that at early dawn as many as twenty deer could be seen enjoying its stimulating virtues. Many an Indian brave, too traversed the slopng hills and verdant valleys, when the County of Simcoe was an Indian stamping ground. Naturally, Mr. Keenan is stirred by sentiment as he recalls that "the old cedar grove, where once the children gathered to take part in their daily amusement has vanished, and the merry laughter which echoed over hill and dale has passed like the murmur of a summer breeze." An interesting feature is that the farm has been continually under lease for the long period of 57 years, since the spring of 1866, the year of the Fenian Raid.

IN SUNNY FLORIDA

Mr. R. W. Brett, of Shelburne who is spending the winter in Florida, writes The Banner as follows:—

Lakeland, Fla., Jan. 2, 1924

Dear Sirs,—

I am spending three months in this land of sunshine and flowers and cannot get along very well without The Banner. Arrived here with my family on Monday, Dec. 24th and found a great change had taken place in the development of the state since my last visit four years ago.

The fruit crop is a bumper one but prices are very low. The best quality of oranges and grape fruit are being bought for 75c at the grove for a two bushel field crate which really does not cover half the cost of production. The abundance of apples in the north is given as the reason for the low prices. Strawberries are very plentiful at 45c a quart and several carloads are being shipped north every week from this point. In fact everything in the fruit and vegetable line is ready for market. Now cabbage, celery, head lettuce, beans, "green" etc., are going north in train loads

The weather is very warm. The average temperature for Dec. 31st 1923, to Jan. 1st, 1924, was 76 degrees, with a high record of 88 degrees for midday on these dates. I can assure you it is quite warm enough for me, but in a few weeks I will become accustomed to it and will not mind so much. With best respects, I remain

Yours truly,
R. W. BRETT

SINGER—HUTCHINSON

A charming Christmas wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Hutchinson, 33 Owen St., on Tuesday, Dec. 25th, when their daughter, Jean, became the bride of Mr. Lawrence P. Singer, of the staff of Geo. Vickers, Ltd., son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Singer, of London England. The ceremony was performed at 4 p.m. by Rev. E. T. Douglas, of Central Methodist Church.

Miss Eva Hutchinson, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, and Mr. Jack Armstrong was groomsman.

The bride was beautifully gowned in white satin trimmed with ermine and wore a veil of silk tulle trimmed with pearls, and a wreath of orange blossoms, also a string of pearls, the groom's gift. Her bouquet was of Ophelia roses. Her attendant wore pale green silk trimmed with silver and carried violets. The groom's gift to the bridesmaid was a white gold brooch set with diamonds and sapphires, while his present to the groomsman was a pair of gold cuff links.

Many beautiful gifts were received and numerous messages of felicitation, including a cable from the groom's parents—"Good luck, best wishes from home." Mr. and Mrs Singer will reside in Barrie.—Barrie Examiner.

DOUBLE BIRTHDAY PARTY

A double birthday party was celebrated at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson G. Duke, 6th line, east Mono, on Wednesday afternoon October 10th. The party was in honor of Mr. Thomas Duke, of Vancouver, a brother, and Mrs. F. A. Forster, of Oakville, Mrs. Duke's mother.

At 6 p.m. forty guests sat down to a sumptuous repast, at the close of which were toasts and speeches for Mr. Duke and Mrs. Forster wishing them health and many more happy returns of their birthday. The evening was spent in music and games.

Guests from a distance were: Mr and Mrs. George Campbell, Mr. James Allen, Mr. and Mrs. William Snell and daughter, Dorothea, and Mrs. Rusk, of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Forster, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Luman and family and Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Fish and son, Norman, of Oakville, and Mrs. Wm. Falconer of Brampton.

Mr. Thomas Duke has since returned to Vancouver, leaving Toronto last Saturday evening.

HIS EPITAPH

It lay, hauf-buirit i' the san',
By desert het win's flappet,
Tae mark the grave on the shell-wrek't lan'
O' the Heelander's banes it happet.

Jist a wee bit cloot o' a tartan rag
Mid bits o' the shell that tore it
But surely a gran' an' a fittin' flag
Tae be shroud tae the chiel that wore it!

Only a rag o' tartan cloot,
But epitaph enev';
Tho' humble, it has without a doot
The merit o' bein' true.

Nae marble stane tae tell his name
But, matters that a jot?
The tartan rag's there tae proclaim
"Here fell a sodger Scot."

Isn' this enough for ony man,
What need o' mair ava?
"For God, his King, and auld Scotlan'
He gied—he gied his a'."

The lowered "cut prices" we are now making on our standard, reliable overcoats, suits, underwear and all kinds of furnishings will absolutely COMPEL you to buy when you come into our store.

We want to move out quickly every piece of winter goods we have left and we are making the CUT PRICES which will do the job in a "jiffy."

Better hurry while the picking is good.

We have had a splendid Christmas business, but there are always some LEFT-OVERS, which are real snaps this year. In every line we have bargains. At $10.00 we have some small sized men's overcoats, which are less than half price, sizes 34, 35 and 36. If you are a wee man, don't overlook these coats.

If you require a Suit, Underwear, or anything in Men's Furnishings, we have lots of reduced lines. Be sure and see them before buying.

A HORSE CASE

In Shelburne Division Court on Tuesday Lewis Menary, of Grand Valley, sued James Horner, a farmer living in the Primrose neighborhood, to recover $126.00, the price of a horse purchased from the defendant at the Orangeville monthly fair last March. Menary bought a team for $252 and alleged that Horner had guaranteed the horses were sound. He afterwards found that one of the team had the heaves. Horner and a neighbor named Thompson, who was with him in his sleigh when the deal was made swore positively that there was no guarantee and that Menary bought at his own risk. Mr. McKeown raised the point that it was the duty of the defendant to inform the plaintiff of the defect before making the sale. Judge Fisher reserved his decision. C. R. McKeown for plff.; I. B. Lucas, of Markdale, for deft.

Listen!

Have you heard about Peps! Peps is a scientific preparation put up in pastille form, which provides an entirely new and effective treatment for coughs, colds, chest and throat troubles.

Peps contain certain medicinal ingredients, which, when placed upon the tongue, immediately turn into vapor, and are breathed down the air passages to the lungs. On their journey, they soothe the inflamed and irritated membranes of the bronchial tubes, the delicate walls of the air passages, and finally enter and carry relief and healing to the lungs.

While no liquid or solid can get to the lungs and air passages, these Peps fumes get there direct, and healing commences.

FREE TRIAL. Cut out this article, write across it the name and date of this paper, and mail it (with 1c. stamp to pay return postage) to Peps Co. Toronto. A free trial packet will then be sent you. All druggists and stores sell Peps, 50c box.

IMPROVING COUNTY ROADS

Large Sums Expended on Construction and Maintenance in Counties of Halton and Peel.

Figures published by Halton and Peel counties demonstrate the attention that has been given to good roads construction in the two counties during the last year.

In Halton, maintenance of the provincial county roads amounted to $8,611.94, 93 per cent. of this being spent on resurfacing. A total of $84,390.81 was spent on county road construction.

A stretch of concrete 15 feet wide and 1,092 feet long was built south from the village of Bronte to the lake front north to the Grand Trunk tracks, a distance of 7,235 feet, with a 10-ft. slab and 3-foot macadam shoulders, the cost being $32,810.32. The remainder of the construction consisted of 16½ miles graded and surfaced with crushed stone. Maintenance and repair cost $12,721.04, of which $10,783.34 was spent on resurfacing.

The money spent on good roads in Peel County is as follows: Caledon, construction $16,124.40; maintenance, $2,443.72; Chinguacousy Brampton North, $9461.32 and $2,804.67; Chinguacousy, Brampton South, $2,700.66 and $225.86; Toronto, Streetsville to Cooksville $116,268.62 and $1,629.73; Cooksville West, $35,696.58, $676.31 and $418.18; village of Port Credit, maintenance only, $281.04; Toronto Township, Summerville to Cooksville, $10,107.86 and $1,573.05; Toronto to Cooksville West, $35,986.58 and $676.31; Erindale bridge, $24,[illegible] 83; Chinguacousy, Brampton West, $30,349.43 and $595.32.

NO RAISE IN MOTOR FEES

Motor car and motor truck owners are not to be required by the Ontario Government to bear the burden of increased license fees during 1924. While the Government has seriously considered and, in its platform announcements almost prepared the public for some increases, particularly on heavy motor trucks, it has now come to a different conclusion, and will make no changes for a year at least in the license fee schedules. Official assurance to this effect was given last week by Hon. Geo. S. Henry Minister of Highways, in the Provincial cabinet. During the year 1923 the revenue from motor licenses has totalled about $4,400,000. During the coming year it will, without any increase in rates as is expected, go well over the $5,000 000 mark, owing to the increased number of cars and trucks in operation. This natural increase will be made by the Government to satisfy the Department's need for increased revenue for a year at least.

Inspector Delaporte, of the Provincial Board of Health, made a survey of Durham recently, and in his report he says: "During the investigation 435 premises were inspected. Less than half (206) the premises were supplied with water from Mr. Snell's water system. One hundred and twenty-five wells were sampled. Only seven of these wells were free or comparatively free from pollution and 99 of them showed gross pollution."

HABITS

You do not have habits—habits have you. Last night you went to the show. To-night you are supposed to settle down and do some work. It is the disposition of the human animal to want to do to-night at the same hour, the thing it did last night at the same hour.

Humans possess what we call a predilection or the proclivity to repeat a performance at a given hour. The alarm sounds each day or night at a certain time. Watch yourself and you will see that this is true. Take a little nap on Sunday afternoon, at the same hour next day you will want to go to sleep. It is the natural bent of nature to repeat every twenty-four hours. Habit is an inbred, ingrained, inborn idea We are tinctured with regularity.

When night comes, back comes the spell to play—and even big men have to battle with this spell. You remember this: All big men who have made the world sit-up and take notice have employed their evenings and spent their nights with work. The little man feels that he has done his work in eight hours, and then insists on having his fling. Progress is the answer to plugging away all day, and then planning and working at night. No man ever made a distinguished success on union scale hours.

We drink from the small stream as it starts from the mountain side and if we follow the course of this stream far enough, we can drown ourselves in the same stream. Habits begin with a bubble and end with roaring billows. Habits have us from the first sip. And this is perfectly natural, perfectly normal. Most people prefer pleasure to hard work but they forget that without work, habits hold a bitter cup.

The man that does not devote at least two or three evenings a week to improve himself is on the side that leads to the armchair restaurant, and the park bench bed.—Exchange.

Two important deals were closed in Arthur recently. Mr. W. J. Brown sold his grocery business and the block in which it has been conducted to Mr. Cecil McEwen, of Cedarville. Mr. McEwen will get possession in April next. Mr. W J Goulding has purchased Charles Fuller's livery and garage business

MYSTERIOUS FIRE

Harvey Boddy's Barn and House in Sydenham Township, Entirely Destroyed by Fire Early on Christmas Morning.

Mystery surrounds the burning early on Christmas morning of the barn and house of Harvey Boddy who resides a short distance east of Knox Church, Sydenham, on the 6th concession of Sydenham. Mr. Boddy had left home about five o'clock on Monday evening, and by two o'clock the following morning the house and barn, both only recently constructed, were a total loss In fact there are no buildings now standing except an old house, which had been serving as a barn.

Neighbors, going to bed late on Christmas Eve, state that when they retired there was no fire in the direction of Mr. Boddy's farm It was between one and two o'clock that the fire was noticed, and before anything could be done, both barn and house were destroyed They were fairly well burned when they were first discovered.

The loss will be fairly heavy, although the buildings were insured for $3200. The new frame house which was built this year, was entirely destroyed and none of the furniture even was saved. The barn was originally a driving shed, but Mr. Boddy had recently placed good cement foundation under it and the stable was almost completed. A granary was burned with a large quantity of oats.

The origin of the fire is a complete mystery.

A thorough probe is to be made into the fire. Provincial Constable Jones has the matter under his supervision at the present time, and he has reported the details of the case to the Fire Marshall's Department in Toronto. As yet no reply as to future operations in connection with the investigation has arrived. The investigation may be carried on further by Constable Jones, or a member of the Fire Marshall's Department may be sent to assist in the work.

Residents of this district of Sydenham fear that the fire may have been of incendiary origin, and are anxious to see the probe go ahead to a successful conclusion. The last fire that was about the place was a noon, when a fire of light kindling wood was laid in the stove. It was between four and five o'clock when Mr. Boddy left for Owen Sound, and at that time everything about the place seemed to be all right. Between one and two o'clock the following morning the house and barn were a mass of flames, when they were discovered.

SETTLED AND SATISFIED

Declaring that he was disappointed at the outlook when he arrived in Canada under the colonization scheme for imperial ex-service men, but is now well settled and satisfied with his prospects, E. J. Comfort writes the Land Settlement Board from Silver Stream, near Tisdale, Sask., as follows:—

"I take this opportunity of expressing my appreciation of the assistance given me and also the advice by your Department.

"I came to Canada as a settler, under the colonization scheme for ex-service men. After my arrival here I cannot say that I was too favorably impressed by the conditions, so far as farming was concerned, but I decided to carry on and thoroughly investigate conditions and give it a thorough trial before quitting. I am pleased to say that my investigation and observation have quite changed my opinion and the result is that I have decided to remain here.

"I would thoroughly recommend to all ex-service men and others who cannot find any hope of advancement or betterment of their prospects of a livelihood in the Old Country to come over here where there is every prospect of success and a good living to all who are capable and not afraid of hard work. I would strongly advise any ex-service men who are contemplating settling in Canada to avail themselves of the assistance and services of the Soldier Settlement Board of Canada, through their representatives in London. Every assistance is given through the Board to ex-service men in placing them in employment and in settling them on their own selected farms, on terms which one could not obtain through any other source.

"I have finally settled in the Carrot River Valley, near to Tisdale, Sask., where there is still room for many more settlers. This district is an exceedingly good one for farming and one where you are quite likely to meet someone you know. It is a purely English speaking district and school facilities are good. The summer is fairly long and warm, and so far the winter is in no way severe.

"Trusting that my information which has been personally gained may be of some use to others who are undecided whether to make the experiment or not."

DUFFERIN COUNTY HOGS

The following statement gives the numbers and the grades of hogs shipped from Dufferin County points for the period indicated. Every hog raiser should examine this statement very carefully, since it contains a good deal of interesting information. It would appear, for comparison of the grading for this county with that of the Dominion, that our standing as producers of high class hogs is very high, but there is room for considerable improvement.

The statement shows that, during the period indicated, a very large number of hogs were marketed in an unfinished condition, and, also that a number of farmers are holding their hogs too long, making them too heavy. Market demands are clearly defined, and producers will do well to try to produce products that will meet the demands of the market, and this can be done by exercising a little more care in production.

Helping to Sell Canadian Scenery

ABOVE is a reproduction from an old print depicting an "Exciting Trial of Speed between Mr. Cooper's Locomotive 'Tom Thumb' and one of Stockton & Stokes' Horse Cars." in August 1830.
CENTRE—Exterior of latest model observation car as used by the Canadian Pacific Railway.
BELOW are interior views of the same luxurious car.

NO railroad on the Continent of America is much more than a century old, yet it seems, and is indeed, a far cry to the days of the old horse-drawn railway vehicles and the open cars drawn by the first locomotives, which superseded them. Perhaps in no country in the world has railroad engineering made such progressive strides as in Canada during the last half century. As late as 1870-73 the Quebec Government encouraged development by building railways entirely of wood. The rails were of straight grained hard maple, 12 feet in length, but the knots were weak spots which often caused the rail to break and occasion a delay of, perhaps, hours. In wet weather no progress could be made at all and there are not a few living today who remember having to help the fireman and engineer load up with wood in order to speed their travel.

What a far cry it is, from the old cars, exposed to the elements at all times, or boxed in so that fresh air was at a premium, to the luxurious parlor, sleeping, compartment and observation cars of today Canada had just as much scenery in the old days as it has now, the same glorious expanses and wooded hillsides, the same wonderful peaks and splendid rivers, yet Canadian scenery could not be "sold" then because it was almost impossible to enjoy what was going on around, or that through which the voyager was passing as he was confined to a hard, narrow seat for hours, with no comfort other than the thought that perhaps the end of the journey would bring relief.

When the operation of railroads ceased to be an experiment and it was realized that the future of the country depended upon their development, the railway companies realized that the tourist traffic was a source of revenue to be cultivated, and the first observation coaches were introduced. These were little more than glorified day coaches with an open platform at the rear. Soon, however, the demand by tourists for special accommodation became so insistent, that special equipment had to be constructed for them. During the past few years, the magnificent observation cars such as are used on the Canadian Pacific have been evolved, and these, together with the modern all steel compartment and other cars ensure the traveller such comfort that to travel is a delight.

There is now no convenience possible which the traveller does not enjoy. While traversing the Rockies he may use the regular coaches, or, during the summer, the open observation cars. The observation coaches, as used elsewhere, enable him to see the country he passes through, from a comfortable chair. Special smoking rooms are also provided.

In all things pertaining to railroad travel and convenience the railways of Canada have set the pace for those of other parts of the continent.

GUELPH HERALD DISCONTINUES

Many people in Guelph and vicinity received a great surprise when the Monday, Dec. 31st, issues of the Guelph Herald and the Guelph Mercury announced that that day's issue would be the last one of the Guelph Herald, as the goodwill of this publication and of the Weekly Herald had been disposed of to the Guelph Mercury.

The Herald was established in 1847 as a Conservative weekly newspaper, and in 1872 the publication of the Daily Herald was announced since which time both papers have been regularly issued without a single break.

In 1881, Mr. H. Gummer went to Guelph to manage the Herald, and in 1885 became proprietor. In 1915 a Company was formed with a capital of $125,000 to take over the business, when the Herald building was erected.

One long-established newspaper after another has disappeared from the field in recent years. Among all Ontario smaller cities, Kingston and Belleville are now the only ones in which there are two daily papers left. High costs of publishing have put both daily and weekly newspapers out of business everywhere, no industry being harder hit.

POSTAL AFFAIRS

Rural mail contractors were given a holiday on New Year's Day and Postmaster General Hon. Chas Murphy announces that, unless objection to this change is taken by the patrons of the rural routes, this holiday will be continued in future. It is expected that, if this proves satisfactory, the carriers will be granted all public holidays, as they have been for several years agitating for this. According to another ruling the practice of withholding one month's pay as security for service from mail contractors will be discontinued. Another important change put into effect is in connection with the money order system, and provides for a new form of money order which will do away with the advice notice, so long a source of inconvenience to those receiving money orders. The new form may be transmitted as quickly as express money orders. It bears a slip, with the amount stamped upon it, which cannot be raised by persons wishing to perpetrate fraud.

KILLED ON CROSSING

Miss Smith, a Brampton School Teacher, Struck Down by Train

This afternoon, about two o'clock Miss Tena Smith was instantly killed on the Queen St. east crossing by the west bound passenger train on the C. N. R.

Miss Smith, for the past six months, has been a school teacher in Brampton. Temporarily she has been boarding at the home of Chief Herkes, about three hundred yards east of the crossing. Formerly she lived at Mr. John Patterson's Church St., but illness there caused her to leave.

Miss Smith is said to have walked right in front of the oncoming train and to have got just in the centre of the track when struck Her body was carried on the pilot for the short distance required to bring the train to a halt.

The unfortunate woman was forty-eight years of age and came from Lindsay.

At the time of the accident she was on her way to the new school in the South Ward.

The bell at the crossing was ringing and the engineer says he gave all the crossing warnings.

It is about six years since there was a death at Queen St. crossing On that occasion an automobile was struck and three young people were killed.

Coroner Lawson has called an inquest for to-morrow with Mr. J. S Beck foreman of the jury.—Brampton Banner & Times.

PAPA NAMED THEM

"So you have twins at your house?" said Mrs. Nabor to little Jack. "Yes-sum," he said soberly "two of them." "What are they going to call them, my dear?" "Well I don't know for sure, but I think their names is Thunder and Lightnin', cause that's the name papa called them when the doctor came in and told him about them."

NOTHING DOING

A school teacher had found her class of boys reluctant in their writing of English composition. At last she conceived a great idea to stimulate their interest—to write an account of a ball game.

It seemed that she was successful. With one exception, the boys threw themselves at the task and evolved youthful masterpieces. The backward one chewed reluctantly at his pen and was then struck by a burst of genius. When the teacher opened his paper, it read:

"Rain—no game."

Price Changes of Dr. Chase's Medicines

By increasing the contents of the boxes the cost to the user remains unchanged

THIS revision of prices affects only three of Dr. Chase's Medicines—the Kidney-Liver Pills, Nerve Food and Catarrh Powder.

In spite of the constantly increasing cost of doing business ever since Dr. Chase's Medicines were placed on the market many years ago there has been no change in the prices of these three medicines to the consumer.

It has now become absolutely necessary to make some changes, but this has been worked out in such a way that the cost to the user remains the same.

The slogan for Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills will therefore remain "One pill a dose—One cent a dose," for while the price will be 35 cents instead of 25, the contents of the box will be 35 instead of 25 pills as formerly.

The same applies to Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, which will sell at 60 cents a box instead of 50 cents, since the contents of the box is now 60 pills instead of 50.

With the exception of Dr. Chase's Catarrh Powder, which is now 35 cents a box, the prices of Dr. Chase's other medicines remain unchanged.

Dr. Chase's Almanac has now been mailed and distributed to practically every home in Canada, 1,550,000 copies, if you did not receive yours kindly advise us and we shall mail you a copy free of charge. Edmanson Bates & Co., Limited, Dr. Chase Building, Toronto.

KEEP LITTLE ONES WELL IN WINTER

Winter is a dangerous season for the little ones. The days are so changeable—one bright, the next cold and stormy, and the mother is afraid to take the children out for the fresh air and exercise they need so much. In consequence they are often cooped up in overheated, badly ventilated rooms and are soon seized with colds or grippe. What is needed to keep the little ones well is Baby's Own Tablets. They will regulate the stomach and bowels and drive out colds, and by their use the baby will be able to get over the winter season in perfect safety. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers, or by mail, at 25 cents a box, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THE LIGHT THAT SOMETIMES FAILS

(Elizabeth P. MacCallum.)

"It is a case of fairly high myopia with changes in the back of the eye. Will require for some years the care provided by Sight Saving Class. Improvement not looked for." These words stared up at the reader from one of the school doctor's case history cards. And down in the second row was the eight year old girl who was myopic and would not grow better. "What are we going to do with her? Why, we shall send her to the Sight Saving Class, of course and if she can't improve, at least we can prevent her case from growing worse. An ordinary class room is no place for her." And the teacher made as if to dismiss the subject.

"But what is a Sight Saving Class?" the visitor persisted. "I never heard of one before!"

"Better see for yourself," came the reply. "It's up on the next floor, Room 10. They'll be glad to have you."

And so we went.

The teacher, a charming slip of a girl, who knew her business thoroughly, but had not professionalized a bubbling spirit out of existence, explained her work to us. The purpose of the special class was to give academic training to children of impared vision at the minimum cost of eye-strain. "That is why the colors in the room are soft, and the lighting carefully planned," she added. "And that is why we use movable desks which may be set close to any part of the blackboard as desired. Our desk-tops are adjustable too, you see, so that by regulating the slope we may ease the strain on the pupils' eyes.

"You have noticed," she went on, "how tremendously large my letters on the blackboard are? And we use large letters on our buff writing pads, and we use no books unless they have the special clear-text type. But we don't use books very much. You see," she laughed, "I do a great deal of talking myself, and often my pupils go for purely oral lessons to the classrooms where children of their own grades are taking regular work."

We stayed for over an hour to watch the children and their teacher at work and at play together and during the recess which followed learned still more about the purpose and achievements of the Sight Saving Class.

"Children having less than one-tenth vision," we were told, "are educated in our Provincial Schools for the blind. But many children who have considerably more than one-tenth vision cannot, on account of eye-defect or disease, cope with the work as set for children of normal vision. Some children also can read small print, see the blackboard and carry on with regular class work, but only at the expense of their vision, nervous system, and general health. Children from these two groups need special consideration, and it is their difficulties which Sight Saving Classes try to meet. The curriculum is adapted to individual needs. Classes are small both for this reason and because the pupils are of all grades and varying eye conditions. The teacher of the Sight Saving Class has two responsibilities—to care for the eyes of the pupils and to train the pupils to take proper care of their own eyes. An eye specialist visits the class every fortnight and advises the teachers and nurses concerning each case."

We learned also that there are only four Sight Saving Classes in existence in Canada to-day, three in Toronto and one in Halifax. The service rendered by these classes is so valuable, however, that an extension of their work is inevitable. Parents of children whose vision is impaired will second eagerly the efforts of educationists to add to the number of Sight Saving Classes in our Public Schools. What one such class has accomplished in the short space of one year has been reported in these words by the teacher in charge:—

"Seven pupils have returned to regular grades with improved vision the defects were only temporary but had severe strain continued during the time these defects were present, they would, in all probability, have become permanent. We cannot hope to see the same results each year, for many of the cases will never improve—but we can save what remains by minimizing strain and yet give such pupils the academic work which is possible only with special equipment."

SOMETHING NEW IN THE PICTURE GAME

Agents soliciting orders for the enlarging of pictures are reported to have been operating in Arthur and vicinity with a novel scheme for stimulating business. The smooth salesmen make their call, gain admission to the house and persuade the good lady to produce some of her photographs. Working to the limit the sentiment which they often find connected with a picture they secure an order to have it enlarged at a fairly reasonable price. Then the matter of a frame for the enlarged picture arises and here the new stunt is pulled off the agents point out the necessity for a handsome frame and tell of a contest which the firm is putting on by which the owner of the most beautiful likeness enlarged within a certain period is awarded a frame free of cost. The more the slick gentry look at the picture of the pride of the home about to be enlarged, the more certain do they become that it is quite safe in ordering an expensive frame as the photo is sure to win the prize, and thus relieve her of any necessity of making payment. Induced quite as much by the prospective gratification of winning the prize as by the desire for the picture frame, the order is given and the interview terminates. In the course of a couple of weeks or so the inevitable follows. The picture in its frame is delivered. The contest is over and the photograph almost but did not quite win the prize. The signed order for the expensive frame is produced and the unfortunate victim, sadder and wiser, is left no alternative but to come across with the money that could have been spent on a dozen and one things needed more around the house than enlarged pictures and gilded frames.—Arthur News-Enterprise.

HOW'S THIS ONE?

A prominent pastor tells this story:

"I visited a certain school one day where Bible instruction was part of the daily course, and in order to test the children's knowledge, asked some questions. One class of little girls looked particularly bright, and I asked the tallest one:

"What sin did Adam commit?"

"'He ate forbidden fruit.'

"Right, Who tempted Adam?

"'Eve.'

"Not really Eve, but the Serpent. And how was Adam punished?

"The little girl hesitated and looked confused. Behind her sat a little eight year old, who raised her hand and said: 'Please, pastor I know.'

"Well, tell us. How was Adam punished?

"'He had to marry Eve.'"

The returns from Brampton customs office are as follows: Customs duties, $2,079.98; sales tax on imported goods, $1,406.69; domestic sales tax, $7,945.29; stamps, $716.30; total, $12,147.96.

RELIGION AS NEEDED

The soldiers marched to the church and halted in the square outside. One wing of the edifice was undergoing repairs, so there was room for only about half the regiment.

"Sergeant," ordered the captain "tell the men who don't want to go to church to fall out."

A large number quickly availed themselves of the privilege.

"Now, sergeant," said the captain "dismiss all the men who did not fall out and march the others in—they need it most."

25 "HYGENO" STEEL CARPET SWEEPERS, WORTH $5, EACH $2.98

SEE THE Big Window DISPLAY

Only one sold to each customer.

No 'Phone orders will be accepted.

BE HERE ON TIME

A Wonderful Bargain

You will be sure to admit that this is a wonderful bargain. You will wonder how it is possible to secure such splendid sweepers to sell at such a low price. It is merely another demonstration to give our patrons the advantage of every special purchase we make, having secured 25 of these sweepers from one of the largest manufacturers in the country at an exceedingly low price as a big special sale feature offering. $5.00 won't buy a better sweeper. Made of steel; light in weight, but very strong—a sanitary sweeper which harbors no germs. Far superior in every way to the old fashioned wooden sweeper with its germ collecting attributes. The HYGENO sweepers are handsome, having beautiful mahogany baked enamel finish and nickle trimmings.

Don't fail to see them on display in our window.

Judging from the intense interest being manifested in the display and the comments on the very low price of $2.98, there will be a big crowd sure. Remember only 25 of these Sweepers in this sale and if you appreciate a big bargain and want to obtain your sweeper it is essential that you be here promptly at 10 o'clock Saturday orders

At $2.98 they'll go like hot cakes. No 'phone morning. Positively none sold before this time.

MR. ROBERT WILSON

Mr. Robert Wilson, 3rd line, east Caledon, passed away on Sunday December 30th, after a long and tedious illness. Deceased was 56 years of age and leaves a widow to mourn his loss. The funeral was held to Caledon East Cemetery on Tuesday afternoon, January 1st Rev. E. H. Lockhart, of Caledon East, the family pastor, conducted services at the house and grave, assisted by Rev. J.G. Rogers, of Toronto. Deceased was a member of Peel Masonic Lodge, Caledon East and the remains were interred with Masonic honors. The following brethren acted as the pallbearers R. J. Nelson, S. H. Nelson, Thos. Coulter, J. O. Proctor and A. McElwain, of Peel Lodge, and A. McFarlane, of Ionic Lodge, Brampton.

MILDRED SMITH

The heartfelt sympathy of this community goes out to Mr. and Mrs. Percy Smith, Charlton, New Ontario, in the loss they have sustained through the death of their little daughter, Mildred, who was a bright, attractive child and a general favorite with everyone, and will be deeply missed by her parents and playmates. Everything was done that loving hands could do to save the precious life of the little one, but to no avail. The funeral took place in Charlton, Saturday Dec. 22nd, and was largely attended by a host of sorrowing friends. The little casket was almost hidden by flowers, which she loved. Four little playmates acted as pallbearers. She leaves to mourn her loss her loving parents and one little brother, Gordon.

We little thought when leaving home,
That she in life would not return
That she in death so soon would sleep
And leave us here to mourn.
We do not know the pain she bore
We reached her as she died,
We only know she passed away
And could not say good-bye.
One heard the footsteps of the angels drawing near,
Who took from us to Heaven the one we loved so dear.

MARRIED

FOR THE CATARACT

An Open Letter to Dr. Campbell, Hydro Commissioner.

Dear Editor,—

"People in glass houses should not throw stones," yet one of our citizens, a Hydro Commissioner by the way, seems to go out of the latitude of polite ethical business to throw stones at the intelligence of many respected Orangeville citizens.

Bluntly he states, if press reports are correct, "The citizens of Orangeville have nothing to thank The Cataract Electric Company for." If this were the case, how is it that so many citizens use the Cataract service and continue to do so in spite of the pleadings of the Commissioner and his associates to the contrary?

Mr. Commissioner, it is just this that perhaps a great many citizens of Orangeville realize that willing or not they have to unfortunately pay for the Hydro, therefore use the Cataract and save enough at lower rates to pay the tax.

You no doubt realize that the citizens do not pay any Cataract tax and this they are thankful for, besides, Mr. Commissioner, your commission pays no taxes. We do and help the town along to that extent anyway.

Again on the 27th of December and NewYear 's Eve many citizens were thankful for the Cataract. Don't you think so, Mr. Commissioner?

You should show a spirit of esprit de corps and be fair in all things or someone may start looking at you with a magnifying glass, to see really how big you are.

It pays to mind one's own affairs and live at peace with everyone. If you could do that, then Orangeville would surely appreciate your efforts and help, which your enterprise so badly needs.

Yours sincerely,
R. G. LEE,
The Cataract Electric Co., Ltd.

APPEAL FAILED

On the morning of the 9th of September last William Hunter, a farmer living in the South Ward had a number of sheep worried by dogs. An Airedale, owned by E. G. Bingham, Zina St., and a yellow collie, the property of Postmaster Harshaw, were blamed for the fell deed. On December 14th Hunter brought suit against Bingham and Harshaw to recover damages for his loss. Magistrate Falconer, however, dismissed the action. Hunter appealed the case, the muncipality of Orangeville guaranteeing the costs of the appeal. The appeal was heard by Judge Fisher and a jury of five in the Orangeville Division Court on Wednesday, January 2nd Witnesses swore that they had seen the dogs worrying the sheep and afterwards on their way back to town, but their evidence did not [illegible] charmed strongly for the defence. We are informed that the jury divided, three in favor of the plaintiff and two for the defence. Eventually the two won over the majority to their way of thinking, with the result that the appeal was dismissed with costs. As the municipality is liable where the identity and ownership of the dogs is not established the town of Orangeville will now be obliged to settle Hunter's claim of $148.50 and foot the costs.

—Santa Claus was very kind to Rev. G. W. Lynd, of Grahamsville formerly of Laurel, in presenting him with a radio outfit, which he has since installed in the parsonage. The radio will admit Mr. Lynd and members of his household to many interesting gatherings at far away points, both in Canada and the United States.

—A Banner subscriber informs us that when a boy Mayor Hiltz, of Toronto, lived in the village of Belfountain for some years. He speaks of the Mayor and Mrs. Hiltz as an exceptionally fine couple and adds that they have taken a great interest in Danforth Ave. Methodist Church for several years. This is the church in which Rev. J. J. Coulter, a brother-in-law of Mrs. Lewis Johnston, of Laurel, formerly preached.

OUR HOLIDAY WEEK

Next week The Banner will take its annual mid-winter holiday, and consequently there will not be another issue of the paper until Thursday, Jan. 24th. The office will be open as usual for general business and orders for job work will receive prompt attention.

—Dufferin County Council will meet on Tuesday, January 23rd.

—Municipal Councils will meet for the first time this year on Monday next.

—Rev. J. A. Reddon, formerly of Laurel, is now pastor of the Presbyterian Church at Allenford.

—Gordon Black, of Caledon, was one of the winners in the Peel County baby beef competition.

—Dufferin County Reformers will meet in the Library Auditorium here at 2 o'clock on Friday afternoon.

—Progressive Euchre in the Library Auditorium on Wednesday night, January 16th, in aid of the hospital.

—Orangeville Citizens' Band will be in attendance at the Masquerade Carnival in the Orangeville Arena on Friday night, January 18th.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Barlett, of Kerrobert, Sask., and Mr. Grant Park, of Vauxhall, Alta., are visiting their parents Mr. and Mrs. Jno. Park

—Brampton property owners carried the by-law giving the Peel Memorial Hospital a grant of $5000 by a majority of 72. The vote was 241 for and 169 against the by-law.

—Friends of Mrs. Hackett, wife of Principal Hackett, of the High School, regret her illness. She has been in Lord Dufferin Hospital for the last week.

—You can assist the hospital by attending the Progressive Euchre in the Library Auditorium on Wednesday night, January 16th. Tallies 50 cents each, may be procured at Banner Office or at the door.

—Services will be held in Adjala Presbyterian Church on Sunday next at 11 a.m., in Mono East at 3 p.m., and in Mono Mills church at 7 p.m. Rev. J. A. Matheson will occupy the pulpit at all services.

—Sunday's storm was one of the worst winter gales experienced in many years. The wind was terrific and the driving snow was blinding. Fortunately the day was not very cold, the thermometer ranging about 10 above.

—We regret to learn that Mrs. Snell, mother of Mrs. (Dr.) W. H. Bowles, who has been in poor health for some time, has had a turn for the worse. It was thought advisable to have her taken to Lord Dufferin Hospital on Tuesday.

—Mr. Clare Hannah, a well-known Orangeville grain and coal merchant passed away at his home in the East Ward on Monday after a lengthy illness, that had confined him to the house for the greater part of a year. He was 48 years of age and leaves a widow. Further notice will appear in our next issue.

PENNY BANK DEPOSITS

"THE STORY OF A TRIP"

The Banner is indebted to Mr. J. Mercer Denholm, publisher of the News-Tribune, Blenheim, Ont., for a complimentary copy of a neat little booklet entitled "The Story of a Trip." The book is made up of a series of letters written by Mr. Denholm to his newspaper while travelling in Great Britain and Western Europe during the summer of 1923. The letters are concisely written, abound in descriptive matter and make informing and entertaining reading. Of special interest are the letters on the battlefields of France and Flanders Caring for the Great War Graves and Old Country Customs and Good Manners. Mr. Denholm has our best thanks for the booklet.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our many kind friends and neighbors in Alton Caledon and Orangeville for their thoughtful enquiries and assistance during our little son's illness. We will be pleased to have the little fellow home on Saturday next, after an absence of nearly six weeks in the hospital. We also wish to thank all the nurses of the hospital for their kindness and careful nursing.

FILM FLOOD RIVALS HISTORIC DELUGES

Man Made Torrent More Sensational Than Real Disasters.

CITY IS SWEPT AWAY

Even Johnstown, Pa., Catastrophe Not as Spectacular as Scene in Picture.

A man-made flood that will at least rival and probably surpass the greatest deluge in history will be seen in the William Fox special production, "The Town That Forgot God."

A whole town, built especially for the purpose of being destroyed by the torrent, is washed away. Everything is swept before it, houses barns, trees, inhabitants of the village and livestock of all kinds, not to mention a half dozen camera men who were swept from their platforms while the scenes were being made.

No city in history was as completely demolished as "The Town That Forgot God." Even Johnstown Pa., which was virtually destroyed by water on May 31, 1889, when a dam gave way, permitting the mass of water more than twenty feet in height to rush through the town was not wrecked in as spectacular a fashion as this typical American village.

Even if motion pictures were available of all the great floods of history, including the Johnstown deluge, the more recent Dayton, O. catastrophe, or the Galveston, Texas, disaster, it is doubtful if it would be any more thrilling or realistic than the one staged by Harry Milarde for the William Fox photodrama.

When this picture played its opening engagement at the Astor Theatre in New York City the audience actually stood and applauded the thrilling climax formed by the terrific storm and flood scenes.

In addition to the torrent of water there is a terrific storm raging throughout the time the rushing waters are tearing the village to bits. This adds greatly to the realism and forms a scene that few people will believe is not the actual raging of the elements.

The village, which is destroyed by the storm and flood, was built in a valley across the Hudson River from New York City. Underneath the ground throughout the town a concrete base was laid to prevent the water from seeping into the ground before the scenes could be completed.

Nearly a score of cameramen were used in the making of the scenes, but six of these were thrown into the torrent when the platforms upon which they were standing were toppled over by the rushing waters. In a few minutes after the dam was destroyed the temporary town was under water.

Even the most blase motion picture producer attending the spectacle admitted that it was the most realistic and thrilling sight he had ever seen staged for a photodrama.

"The Town That Forgot God" will be shown at the Gem Theatre, Orangeville, for a two days' engagement, Monday and Tuesday nights January 14th and 15th. Admission 16c and 25c.

CARDS OF THANKS

ELECTORS OF MONO:

I take this means of publicly thanking the electors of Mono Township for showing their confidence in me by electing me at the head of the poll for the 1924 Council. I will endeavor to serve every ratepayer to the best of my ability and to do everything that will further the interests of Mono township.

Respectfully yours,
HAROLD MARSHALL

THE ELECTORS OF AMARANTH:

I desire to tender you my grateful thanks for the handsome majority you gave me in the contest for Deputy-Reeve last Monday. I realize that you have done me a great honor and I shall strive to merit the confidence you have placed in me as one of your representatives in township and county affairs.

Yours sincerely,
W. H. WHALEY.

THE ELECTORS OF MONO:

I am sincerely thankful for the honor you did me on Monday by electing me to the office of Deputy-Reeve. I assure you that your interests will have my best consideration during the year and that it will be my constant aim to serve you well and faithfully in all your municipal concerns. Again thanking you, I am

Yours faithfully,
W. NORRIS FINES

THE ELECTORS OF MONO:

I desire to tender my hearty thanks to all who supported me in Monday's contest for the township council. Unfortunately, I was not elected, but it was my first trial and I have good reason to be gratified with the excellent vote polled in my behalf. I wish the new council and the people of the township a very pleasant and successful year.

Respectfully yours,
WM. WOODER

He will make the sea voyage on an excursion boat the Verde Comte, which will touch at a number of points on the south shore of the Mediterranean before reaching Genoa, the port at which the Father will land. Father Bagnasco has not been enjoying the best of health lately and the trip and change of scene will afford an excellent chance to recuperate. The Banner joins his Orangeville friends in wishing him bon voyage.

BRAMPTON WON

Brampton hockey team and a couple of hundred supporters came to town by special train for the game with the Dufferins on Tuesday night The visitors had the satisfaction of taking home the long end of an 8 to 4 score. The game was a good one to watch, play being fast and exciting the greater part of the way The visitors expected an easy win but the greenshirts proved unexpectedly strong and gave them a real argument all the time. The Brampton sextette had the advantage in team play, but individually the Dufferins were just as good as their opponents. Brampton went out in front and led by 4 to 2 at the end of the first period. The Dufferins counted two in the early part of the second and had the visitors playing a defensive game for some minutes. Finally Brampton got an easy one, which they followed with a second on a fast combination play. Score at the end of the period 6 to 4. The visitors added a pair in the final, while the Duffs were unable to beat Core, who played a fine game in the net. The visitors had a fast, well balanced team, without weak places. Dufferins were also good, but the team will stand seasoning and practice in combination work. A large crowd witnessed the game. Players were Brampton—Goal, Core; defence Zimmer and Doddemeade; centre Burrell; wings, Machell and Anderson; subs., Hillis and Cook.

Orangeville—Goal, Golden; defence, Scott and Cruikshank; centre Wilson; wings, McGrath and Ridley; subs, Myers and Beard.

HOSPITAL NOTES

The regular monthly meeting of Lord Dufferin Chapter, I. O. D. E. will take place in the Auditorium of the Public Library on Friday, January 11th, commencing at 3 o'clock. At this meeting the nominations will be made for officers for 1924. A full attendance of the members is expected.

We extend our grateful thanks to Mr. Hirons for his kindness in donating the Christmas trees for the hospital and also heartily thank the boys, who so willingly brought them in.

The Daughters are planning to hold a Progressive Euchre in the Library Auditorium on Wednesday evening, January 16th, in aid of the Hospital. Play will start at 8 o'clock. Tallies may be procured at the door at 50 cents each.

LAUREL

Winter has surely set in now. Owing to the roads and very disagreeable weather people were unable to attend church services Sunday afternoon and evening.

Congratulations Oliver! It is just what we expected.

Miss Olive Pratt spent Christmas at home.

Our play was quite a success Tuesday night.

The Black Knights and intimate friends spent a pleasant evening in the Orange Hall Friday evening.

Owing to the Christmas and New Year's rush our merchant, W. R. Grosskurth, and clerks have been working night and day.

Miss Elizabeth Ewing, of Orangeville, spent New Year's at home.

We are glad to see Miss McCrae and Miss Trowse back to our burg since the New Year.

HALTON MUTUAL WINS SUIT

At the general sessions at Guelph the case of Frank vs. the Halton Mtuual Insurance Co. was heard. This was an action brought to obtain the payment of insurance on a team of horses. It appears that at the time the insurance was issued on the team, the plaintiff lived at Caledon, but later disposed of his farm there and moved to Erin where the horses were destroyed by fire. The counsel for the plaintiff contended that a clause in the policy covered the horses in Ontario. The judge held that when plaintiff sold his farm and moved the horses it cancelled the clause in the contract. He dismissed the jury and non suited the plaintiff.

Perth County is practically out of debt. County Treasurer Geo. Hamilton, who has held the office for more than 23 years now, had the satisfaction the other day of writing out a cheque for $51,000, thereby wiping out debentures covering a debt that dated back to the year 1874 and leaving the county owing just $1,970.72, plus a month's interest on registry office debentures.

MOTOR LAWS

Many Important Changes in New Regulations for 1924.

The Highway Traffic Act Of 1923 is the short title of the Act that simplifies, co-ordinates and consolidates the provisions of the Motor Vehicle, Highway Travel and Load of Vehicle Acts in Ontario. The new Act came into force December 31st, 1923.

There are many important changes from the old Acts governing the use and operation of motor vehicles and the Ontario Motor League, in order to fully inform motorists and thereby save them much inconvenience and possibly a few fines, outlines below a few of the more important revisions and additions.

The Ontario Motor League points out that in a general sense the whole code of laws which regulates the operation of motor vehicles on the highway, will be found in one sentence of the Highway Traffic Act.

By section 25 it is enacted that any person" who drives a motor vehicle on the highway at a speed or in a manner dangerous to the public, having regard to all the circumstances, shall incur a penalty".

One principle underlies this whole subject. The law imposes upon every one who uses the highway, the duty of exercising at all times, that degree of care for the safety & convenience of others which a reasonable person would exercise under the circumstances. The rules of the law which serve as a guide to conduct under all circumstances, of travel, are known as the rules of the road.

Bicycles

Whenever on a highway after dusk and before dawn, every bicycle and tricycle shall carry on the back therof a red lighted lamp or red reflector so placed as to be clearly visible to drivers of vehicles approaching from the rear.

Parking Lights

A motor vehicle while standing upon any highway at such times as lights are required by the provisions of this section for such vehicles may, in lieu of the lighting equipment specified in this section, show one light carried on the left side of the car in such a manner as to be clearly visible to the front and rear for a distance of at least two hundred feet and to show white to the front and red to the rear of the vehicle, provided, however, that such light shall not be displayed while the motor vehicle is in motion.

Spotlights

It is unlawful to carry on any motor vehicle on a highway any lamp which revolves upon a pivot or other device so that the rays of such light uay be projected in different directions by an occupant of the vehicle.

Spotlights or searchlights shall be affixed to the left side of the vehicle only and the ray of light therefrom shall be directed to the extreme right of the travelled portion of the highway in such a manner that the beam of light shall strike the extreme right of the travelled portion of the highway within seventy-five feet of the said vehicle.

Brakes

Every motor vehicle shall be equipped with at least two brakes in good working order, and any police constable or any officer appointed for carrying out the provisions of this act may at any time inspect or cause an inspection to be made of the brakes of any motor vehicle on the highway, and may, if such brakes are not in good working order, require the driver of such motor vehicle to proceed forthwith to put or have such brakes put in good working order.

Within City, Town or Village

No motor vehicle shall be driven upon any highway within a city, town or village at a greater rate of speed than 20 miles per hour; nor at a street intersection or curve where the driver of the vehicle has not a clear view of any approaching traffic at a greater rate of speed than 10 miles per hour in a city, town or village, or 12 1-2 miles per hour outside a city, town or village.

Upon Highways Outside a City, Town or Village.

No motor vehicle shall be driven upon any highway outside of a city, town or village at a greater rate of speed than 25 miles per hour. Penalty:—Any person who violates any of the provisions of this section shall incur, for the first offence a penalty of not less than $5 and not more than $50; for the second offence a penalty of not less than $10 and not more than $100, and in addition his license or permit may be suspended for any period not exceeding three months; and for any subsequent offence shall incur a penalty of not less than $20 and not more than $200, in addition his license or permit may be suspended for any period not exceeding six months.

Reckless Driving—Penalty

Notwithstanding the provisions of the above section any person who drives a motor vehicle on a highway at a greater rate of speed than 40 miles per hour or who drives a motor vehicle on a highway recklessly or negligently, or at a speed or in a manner dangerous to the public, having regard to all the circumstances, shall incur a penalty of not less than $10 and not more than $200, and shall also be liable to imprisonment for any term not exceeding 60 days, and in addition his license or permit shall be suspended for any period not exceeding six months.

Defacing Notice or Removing Obstruction—Penalty

Any person who removes, defaces or in any manner interferes with any notice or obstruction lawfully placed on a highway shall incur, for the first offence, a penalty of not less than $25 and not more than $100, and shall also be liable to imprisonment for any term not exceeding 30 days and for any subsequent offence shall incur a penalty of not less than $100 and not more than $500 and shall also be liable to imprisonment for any term not exceeding six months.

Passing Vehicle Going in Same Direction.

No person in charge of a vehicle shall pass, or attempt to pass, another vehicle going in the same direction on a highway, unless, and until, the travelled portion of the highway in front of, and to the left of the vehicle to be passed is safely free from approaching traffic.

Intoxicated Persons not to Drive

No intoxicated person shall drive a motor vehicle. PENALTY:—The license or permit or, in case the licensee is also the owner of the motor vehicle, then both the license and permit of a person who is convicted of driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated shall be suspended by the Minister upon report to the Police Magistrate or Justice of the Peace who makes the conviction for a period—

(a) Not exceeding three months for the first offence;

(p) Not less than three months and not exceeding six months for the second offence.

And for the third or subsequent offences his license or permit,or both as the case may be, shall be cancelled and he shall be declared by such Police Magistrate or Justice of the Peace to be disqualified from holding a license or permit for a period of not less than one year and not exceeding two years.

Municipal By-laws Inconsistent

Any by-laws passed by any municipal corporation or board of police commissioners or police trustees for regulating traffic on the highways which are inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, shall be deemed to be repealed and hereafter all by-laws regulating traffic on highways shall be submitted to the Department for approval and shall not become operative until the Department shall have approved of same.

Time Limit For Serving Summonses and Instituting Civil Actions

A summons issued for a violation of any of the provisions of this Act shall be served within 10 days of the alleged offence, provided however, that the time for serving such summons may be extended by the presiding Magistrate on sufficient evidence being adduced to show that the person summonsed could not be served within the time specified.

No action shall be brought against a person for the recovery of damages occasioned by a motor vehicle after the expiration of six months from the time when the damages were sustained.

Production of Licenses

A person convicted of an offence under this Act if he holds a chauffeur's license shall forthwith produce the license for the purpose of endorsement, and if he does not hold a chauffeur's license, the owner of the vehicle with, or in, which the offence was committed shall forth with produce his permit for the purpose of endorsement.

Interpretation

Where a penalty is provided in the Act for a first, second, third or subsequent offence, the words "first," "second" or "subsequent" shall relate only to offences committed in the same calendar year but this shall not apply to offences of persons driving a motor car while in an intoxicated condition.

SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

Restored to Health By Taking "Fruit-a-tives"

Made of Fruit Juices and Tonics

The most convincing proof of the true worth of "Fruit-a-tives" as a medicine for women is found in the letters written by them to "Fruit-a-tives". For instance:

"I suffered with all the symptoms of female trouble, pains low down in the back and sides, constipation and constant headache. A doctor advised an operation. I started taking "Fruit-a-tives" and this fruit medicine completely relieved me of all my misery".

Here and There

A grizzly bear barbecue will be one of the features of the Winter Carnival at Banff in February.

Ten Canadian and three United States teams have already entered for the Eastern International Dog Derby, which will be run during the Winter Carnival in Quebec, February 21, 22 and 23.

Progress and bright prospects in the development of sodium sulphate in Saskatchewan is reported by the Bureau of Labor and Industries. Sodium sulphate recovered from Saskatchewan deposits is now being used in the manufacture of glass at Redcliff.

A report of the British Columbia Industrial Commission Department shows loans to industries amounting to $1,176,694 embracing 60 plants. Repayments have been made on principal by 55 industries. Total repayments amount to $181,428, of which $71,245 was interest.

For the purpose of extending Canadian trade in Greece, Turkey and the Eastern Mediterranean, W. McL. Clarke, Canadian Trade Commissioner at Milan, Italy, has been instructed to visit these countries and report on the opportunities for the sale of Canadian goods.

E. D. Calvert, noted guide and sportsman of Rainy River, who has done much towards bringing tourists from all parts of the United States to the Lake of the Woods, states that the tourist traffic this year has greatly exceeded all previous years and anticipates a greater increase next season.

United States grain shipped from Canadian ports during the crop year, September 1, 1922 to August 31, 1923, totalled 55,000,000 bushels. This meant total handlings of approximately 110,000,000 bushels, as it was necessary for the grain to pass through the elevators at lake ports and at ports of exit.

Miss Marion Towne, of Berlin, N.H., who in three years since she first put on a ski, has achieved fame through her daring and graceful jumping, has expressed her desire to compete with Canada's best girl ski jumpers at the winter sports carnival in Quebec on February 21, 22, 23 and 24th, during which time she will make exhibition jumps.

Further indications that the year 1923 will create a record in ocean traffic are shown by figures given out at the headquarters of the Canadian Pacific Steamships. Bookings for westbound sailings were exceptionally large, while those for sailings to the Old Country for Christmas and the New Year were in advance of the traffic of any previous year.

The Calgary Board of Trade is taking interest in the proposal of large British interests which involves the utilization of western straw for the manufacture of paper and other products, and is getting all possible information with respect to the development of industries. Hundreds of thousands of tons of straw are burned in the prairies every year, which it is claimed has a commercial value.

St. Jovite, Quebec, has been chosen once more as a movie location, and arrangements have been made by Conrad Nagle and Alma Rubens for the transportation of themselves, party of 17 and equipment to that place during the early winter. Last winter Lionel Barrymore and Seena Owen located at St. Jovite for the filming of "Snow Blind" prior to taking other parts of the picture around the Chateau Frontenac, Quebec, and Windermere, British Columbia.

Traffic through the Lachine Canal in 1923 showed an increase over that of 1922 in almost every particular, the total grain carried being 88,285,270 bushels, as compared with 87,831,212 in 1922, the best previous year; coal receipts totalling 813,591 tons, compared with 384,575 tons; the ship tonnage operated being 5,462,290, against 4,786,5[illegible]; shipments of pulpwood totalling 356,980 tons, against 313,[illegible] last year; the cargo tonnage being 4,411,183, compared with 4,360,223; and the number of passengers carried totalling 78,097, against 63,892 in 1922.

HUSBAND AND WIFE BOTH RECEIVE BENEFIT

Mr. N. St. Hilaire Recommends Dodd's Kidney Pills to All Who Suffer.

Quebec man who suffered from pains in the back got relief immediately through using Dodd's Kidney Pills.

East Angus, Que., Jan. 7th (Special)—"Both my wife and myself have obtained great relief through using Dodd's Kidney Pills."

So says Mr. N. St. Hilaire, who lives in this place. "I took 2 boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills for pains in my kidneys and back and they did me good immediately. I always keep a box in the house. My wife has also used them and they have done her much good, and she is very grateful. To-day we are quite relieved, thanks to Dodd's Kidney Pills. I recommend them to all who suffer from kidney trouble and bad back."

Dodd's Kidney Pills stimulate and strengthen weak kidneys. You will be surprised how quickly they begin to cleanse and purify, to soothe and heal the kidneys, at the same time backaches and rheumatism disappear.

Ask your neighbors if Dodd's Kidney Pills do not make sound kidneys.

LATE MRS. CHARLES ROSZELL

The funeral of Mrs. Chas. Roszell Hillaburg, Ont., whose death occurred on Dec. 27th, 1923, after several months' illness, took place from her late residence, Main St., Hillsburg, on Sunday, Dec. 30th, at 1.30 p.m. There was a large attendance of relatives and friends who came to pay a last tribute of respect to one who was justly held in high esteem by all who knew her. Rev. M. Watterworth, of the Christian Church, conducted the services. At the home one verse of "Jesus Lover of My Soul" was sang; then scripture reading and prayer, after which the cortege proceeded to the Methodist Church, Mimosa, where a very impressive service was held. The hymns sang were "Rock of Ages," "Tarry With Me" and "Asleep in Jesus." Mr. and Mrs. David Root sang a duet very tastefully, "Saved by Grace." The casket was covered with beautiful flowers, and the pallbearers were five nephews:—John Mooney, Ben. Mooney, Wilson Awrey, Albert Roszell, Wm. Nixon and James Suggett, a brother-in-law of deceased. Interment took place in the family plot at Mimosa Methodist Cemetery. The late Mrs. Roszell, whose maiden name was Hannah Awrey, daughter of the late David Awrey, was born in Erin Township 67 years and 8 months ago, and leaves to mourn her loss besides her husband, one daughter and three sons:—Mrs. R. J. Robertson, of Mimosa; Wilbert and Elwood of Toronto; George, of Vancouver B. C., who has been home with his parents for the last three months also two sisters and three brothers Mrs. Jas. B. Leslie, of Guelph; Mrs. Jas. Suggett, John Awrey and Isaiah Awrey, of Hillsburg, and B. H. Awrey, of Outlook, Sask.

A Worm That Turned.

A Jersey barnyard hen discovered that worms grow to a tremendous size in India, and as a result of its pecking a cobra, Rev. Raymond Heaf, a missionary, has one less in his flock of ten fowls that he took from Elmer to India last fall.

In a letter just received by the home folks at Elmer the Jersey missionary says that it cost him $100 to take his feathered flock from America to India. After he let the chickens out to forage at the edge of a jungle, a hen made a great ado when she spied a cobra. She ran up to take a peck at the big worm, was bitten by the reptile and died almost instantly.

The missionary is planning to cross the American hens with the India breed, which are not so strong on laying, but are faster on their legs to avoid jungle enemies.

A tiger killed a cow within fifty yards of the dooryard, the missionary also writes. He relates also that one of the native men met another tiger on a mountain path. Being without weapons of any kind, the native quickly pulled out his match box, set fire to his turban and waved it between him and the tiger. The beast and the native both fled in opposite directions.

Where Mastodons Roamed.

Mighty mastodons, infinitely larger than the largest elephant are said to have once rambled over Canada. The skeletons of one of these enormous creatures was discovered near London, Ont., with tusks eight feet long. The greatest Mastodon cemetery in North America is the valley of Red Deer in Alberta. London, Ont., is about 700 miles south of Red Deer and nearly 1,800 miles east of it. Through this enormous territory, and probably also far beyond the bounds of it, roamed these and other monsters. The general opinion of geologists is that the mastodon became extinct in the Pleistocene Age, the period before the advent of man upon earth, but that the mastodon and man were contemporary for a short period on the North American continent. It belongs to the same family as the elephant, which has survived in Africa and in Asia. What Canada looked like when it was inhabited by the mastodon must be left to conjecture.

BELFOUNTAIN HAS ARTIST CITIZEN

The following article was taken from the Chatham Planet of November 14th last. It speaks highly of Mr. A. M. Fleming, who has taken up residence at Belfountain, and who is, we are informed, an artist of considerable note.

"SANDY" FLEMING— It is not often that the most distinguished citizen in a community can slip out of it and take up his residence elsewhere without receiving a rousing send-off.

But that has just happened in Chatham.

After making his headquarters here for something like thirty years A. M. Fleming has permanently established his studio on the Credit River at Belfountain. There he will find plenty of the sort of scenery in which the true artist delights; the quiet environment so suited to his nature and disposition; and, let us hope, the substantial measure of success which should be his.

His departure from Chatham was typical of the man. There was nothing "Sandy" Fleming more keenly disliked than to have a noise made about him. He possessed that overpowering modesty, not to say shyness, that often accompanies true greatness.

Largely because of that native modesty, his fellow citizens, engrossed with the everyday cares of a busy world, hardly realized in what high repute A. M. Fleming was held by the sort of men qualified to judge his work. He was never the man to sound his own trumpet; and though others high in his profession have trumpeted his fame, we in Chatham heard only the distant echoes.

For a great many years, working diligently and with the sincere craftsmanship of the true artist, he has perfected himself in a difficult art; and in so doing he has brought fame to Chatham. He would never have claimed to be Chatham's most distinguished citizen, yet that he was. And while it is not our privilege to worry him with a banquet and much farewell speech-making the people of the community to which he brought honor will join in wishing him well."

WINTER ECZEMA

'CHAPS' & COLD-SORES

KEEN wintry weather brings a host of skin troubles. Cold-sores, chapped hands, unsightly face-sores and blotches, become a source of discomfort and annoyance. To end the trouble and make your skin clear, healthy and flexible, give the face, arms and hands, a nightly dressing with pure herbal Zam-Buk.

Zam-Buk instantly soothes the smarting irritation, it kills disease germs, and quickly heals all soreness, roughness and chafing which, neglected, often develops into eczema or other chronic skin disease. Use also Zam-Buk Medicinal Soap and enjoy real skin health.

This was an obstinate case.

Mrs. Henry Amey, 42, Lyall Avenue, Toronto, says :—"My daughter's face and neck were a mass of eczema. Her doctor prescribed treatment for over two months, but to little avail. I was about to call in a skin specialist when I heard of Zam-Buk treatment rescuing other sufferers from this dread disease. So I got a box of Zam-Buk and a tablet of Zam-Buk Medicinal Soap. In a few days these wrought a decided improvement. Day by day the sores gradually healed, and within a month my daughter's skin was thoroughly cleared of the terrible disease."

FREE SAMPLE (equal of this great skin remedy) Send 1c. stamp (for return postage), give name and date of paper, and address Zam-Buk Co., Regent St., Toronto. 50c. box, all dealers.

FEELS LIKE A NEW PERSON

Ontario Lady Satisfied With Results Received From Taking Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Mrs. Lachapelle tells how Dodd's Kidney Pills helped her.

Dill Siding, Ont., Jan. 21. (Special)—"Dodd's Kidney Pills have made me feel like a new person since I have been taking them. I suffered a lot from backache, and could hardly do my housework, but now I feel quite well." This statement is made by Mrs. J. E. Lachapelle, who lives in this place.

Backache, bearing-down pains, dizziness, headaches and depression are early symptoms of kidney weakness too often misunderstood.

Weak kidneys go from bad to worse through wrong treatment or neglect. There is always danger of rheumatism, sciatica, dropsy, and stone in the kidneys or bladder.

The moment you suspect your kidneys use Dodd's Kidney Pills to strengthen and restore them.

Dodd's Kidney Pills have built up their reputation as a kidney remedy by the relief they give. Insist upon having Dodd's, the kidney pills your neighbours use.

NEW LAMP BURNS 95 P. C. AIR

BEATS ELECTRIC OR GAS

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 per cent air and 6 per cent. common kerosene (coal oil.)

The inventor, F. N. Johnson, 246 Craig St. W., Montreal, is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him to-day for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

DUFFERIN FARMERS' MUTUAL FIRE INSURANCE CO

The annual financial statement of the Dufferin Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Co. for the year ending Dec. 31st, has just been issued in neat little book form and a copy has been sent out during the past week to each of the policy holders by the Secretary and Manager, T. Whalley. The issuing of the statement in book form is a considerable improvement over the method used in former years. The annual meeting of the Company has been advertised for the first Saturday in February in the town hall, Shelburne. The retiring directors are Messrs. J. J. Braiden, of Amaranth and Thos. Sime, of East Luther both being eligible for re-election. It will also be necessary to elect new directors to fill the places of the late Wm. McGhee, Melancthon, the late W. W. Warnock, East Garafraxa; also a Director for one year to take the place of Geo. Lyons, East Luther, resigned on account of illness.

The auditors' report, now in the hands of the policy holders, shows that during the year $11,952.01 has been paid out to policy holders through fire and lightning. The amount of insurance in force on Dec. 31st last was $7,005,230, and the number of policies 2162. The total receipts for the year aggregated $18,6[illegible]46. The expenditure for the year, including losses named above, was $14,895.78. The total assets of the Company are as follows: Cash in banks, $3,468.43, and of this amount $342.80 was deposited in the Home Bank; Victory Loan bond, $3,000; agents' balances due Company, $285.25; premium notes in force after deducting payments $218,670.97; total, $225,424.65. The Company has no liability. Owing to the advanced values of farm buildings and their contents, the losses of the Company have been annually increasing. To meet this contingency the Directors recently deemed it advisable to increase their rates four cents per $100, making the same now 25c per $100.—Free Press.

SUCCESSFUL CARNIVAL

The Arena management held a successful and enjoyable Masquerade Carnival on Friday night last upwards of two hundred skaters participating. While the attendance was not as large as at last year's carnival, the falling off is attributable entirely to the stormy night and the unsatisfactory condition of the roads, two factors that had a material effect in lessening the attendance from points outside the town. Orangeville Citizens' Band contributed music for the skating that followed the judging. The prizewinners, so far as we have been able to learn the names, were as follows:—

Ladies—Fancy, special, Miss R. Allen; Fancy, Miss M. Youmans Comic, Mrs. E. A. Parson; National Miss L. Lennox.

Men's—Fancy, Armour Robinson Comic, "Pinger" Wheelock; National J. E. Sutherland; Special, P. J. Dwyer.

Boys' — Fancy, Jack Campbell Comic, Norman McAulay.

Girls'—Fancy, Dorothy May, Richill.

CHECKER TOURNEY

Angus Crawford, of Alton, and J. Bailanyne, of Toronto, tied for second and third places and divided the second and third prizes of $125 equally. J. E. Liddy, son of Inspector V. R. Liddy, won the fourth prize of $25. Crawford and Liddy are members of the Orangeville Checker Club.

A CORRECTION

I wish to correct the unfair and misleading impression created by the circulation of the statement that Oscar Hall paid a considerable sum of money on my threshing outfit Mr. Hall did not pay one cent on the outfit. He did volunteer to go on notes that I gave for my threshing machinery, but has since been relieved from this obligation and is not now a backer or in any way interested in the purchase or payment of my threshing outfit.

TRAIL RANGERS AND TUXIS BOYS

To Raise $6,000 For Making Better Citizens.

On Saturday, January 19th, the Trail Rangers and Tuxis Boys of Ontario, started out on a bond selling campaign to raise sufficient money to finance their work of fourfold development for the next twelve months. The Ontario Older Boys' Parliament, which represents the boys, decided to undertake the responsibility for giving the leadership to the campaign during its recent session in Toronto. The members realized that it is a big responsibility but are confident that, with the hearty support of the boys, and a proper response on the part of the grown-ups, the campaign will succeed.

The Boys Will Give Themselves.

A good deal of the money will be given by the boys, themselves. They are anxious, as far as possible, to pay their own way. The proceeds are urgently required for carrying on the promotion work of Trail Ranger and Tuxis Boys' work throughout the Province. The funds will be turned over to the Ontario Boys' Work Board, which represents the Protestant forces of Ontario that are co-operating in the promotion of these programs.

During the past year, the Board has rendered splendid service to the Province by giving leadership to 850 registered Trail Ranger and Tuxis Boy groups—by assisting boys' work in 273 different communities; in promoting 10 district camps; in providing a leadership training camp for leaders, and making possible 10 Older Boys' and Leaders' Training Conferences.

The Board, also, makes possible the Older Boys' Parliament, which has made such a splendid contribution during the past two years. It has given a good deal of leadership to the Father and Son Movement and has distributed $400 worth of literature to leaders that were looking for help. Not least among the contributions that the Board has made, has been in providing the services of Mr. C. F. Plewman and Mr. Taylor Statten, who have done a good deal to make better Canadian citizens.

The money will be raised by the selling of $1.00 bonds that are duly endorsed. The boys are to be commended in undertaking to raise the budget themselves, rather than have the adults raise it for them and it is to be hoped that the citizens of Orangeville will rally to the support of the boys in making the campaign a success. The local objective is $150 and the boys are confident that they can go over the top. A good deal of rivalry exists between some of the towns, which are vying with each other to make the best showing. Brockville, for instance, challenged any town of its size to make as good a showing which was promptly taken up by Smith's Falls. Sudbury similarly challenged the Soo and was promptly accommodated. A number of individuals have also thrown down the gauntlet to others. Frank Adams of London, challenged any other boy in the Province to sell more than he. Albert Tucker, of Toronto is one of those who have taken him up.

For a Good Cause.

The money is for a good cause and not for any hair brained fantastic scheme. The work of the Provincial Board has been going on for a number of years and the work of the past well justifies the support of the public. The campaign closes on January 29th and the boys hope to be able to announce that the $6000, which is needed to carry on Trail Ranger and Tuxis Boys' work has been secured.

Mr. H. O. Hogg, President of the Board of Trade of Toronto, in speaking of the campaign, has said "It is a fine thing when boys are concerned about making better citizens of themselves." Mayor Hiltz of Toronto, who has taken a very keen interest in the work of the National Board, says, "Every dollar given to the boys is a good investment in the development of future Canadian citizenship.

The Minister of Finance, Bob Rourke, of Brockville, who is in touch with the situation, is confident that the campaign will succeed During the next fortnight he will visit a number of centres throughout the Province in connection with the carrying on of the work.

Achievement to be Recognized

The National Board had struck off a very nice little bronze medal of achievement that will be presented to each boy who makes returns for five $1.00 bonds. A shield will also be presented to the group in each district making the best showing per enrolled members.

Suggestions to Campaigners

1. Invest yourselves.

2. Start in to sell all your bonds on the first day, January 19th, so as to arouse interest, enthosiasm and competition in your own Square or Camp.

3. Keep working until January 29th, the day the campaign closes.

4. Explain to the purchasers the need of the money and the use to which it is being put.

5. Canvass all your friends and relatives and get each to help by the purchase of at least one bond.

6. If a person hesitates to buy try to induce him. If you fail, refrain from discourtesy and try someone else.

7. Sell as many bonds as you can to one person—many should take a whole book, $5.00 worth.

8. Do not be satisfied to sell just to your neighbors, but canvass the business places as well.

9. Sell as many books as you can, so that your Camp or Square may have the honor of winning either the District or Provincial Shield. A Gold Medal will be presented to the boy selling the most bonds, Sterling Silver Medals to boys selling fifteen and Bronze Medals to boys selling five.

10. Don't let anything interfere with getting your share of the work done so that your returns may be sent to the Ontario Boys' Work Board, 299 Queen St. West, Toronto, before February 7th, the date set for determining the awards.

11. Don't forget that you are doing a fine thing for your country when you make it possible to carry C. S. E. T. Work into communities where the boys are neglected. REMEMBER THE OTHER FELLOW.

A SUCCESSFUL YEAR

Dufferin Agricultural Society Finances in Flourishing Condition.

Despite the setback of an unfavorable day for the 1923 Fall Fair, the finances of the Dufferin Agricultural Society are in a healthy and flourishing condition. Reports submitted at the annual meeting on Tuesday afternoon, January 16th showed that the Society had a cash balance of $360.53 after meeting all expenditures for the year. The payments totalled $3702.86. The Society disbursed $1551.12 in general prizes, $150.00 in field crop prizes and $773.30 in special and concert attractions. A further sum of $314.70 was spent in building repairs and insurance.

There was a fairly large attendance of members at the meeting. Mr. W. A. Donaldson, President of the Society, occupied the chair. The proceedings were most harmonious and officers and members were alike optimistic over the prospects for another successful fair this year. Officers and Directors were elected as follows:—

Hon.-Pres.—Malcolm McCormick.

President—W. A. Donaldson.

1st Vice-President—John W. Ledlow.

Auditors—G. B. Hayes and W. H McGuire.

Representatives to Fairs and Exhibitions Association—W. A. Donaldson and Joshua Reid.

The usual honorarium of $50 was voted to the President in recognition of his services.

At a meeting of the Directors held immediately after the general meeting, Mr. D. B. Brown was reappointed Secretary-Treasurer.

The Society decided to secure Government Judges in light and heavy horses, cattle, sheep and swine, poultry, fruit and flowers art, ladies' work and domestic science. The dates of the 1924 Fall Fair were fixed for Tuesday and Wednesday, Sept. 16 and 17. The Society will hold another Market Lamb Fair this year along the lines of the Fair held last October. The 1923 Fair was a big success, attracting an entry of 177 lambs.

HOSPITAL NOTES

The President of the O. A. L. A has returned to the Secretary-Treasurer the cheque for $761.56, which was sent to the Association by the Board of Directors, by way of return of the proceeds of the Dufferin-Maitland lacrosse game of July 18 last, on account of misunderstanding as to the disposition of the money, and states that it is to be used 100 per cent. for the hospital His action is much appreciated.

We are very grateful for the following donations:—United Prayer Meeting collections, $53.85, with a request to buy Bibles for each room in the hospital, which is being done a comforter from Leamington Ladies Aid through Mrs. Wm. T. Hill.

The Committee in charge of the Euchre last Wednesday evening take much pleasure in announcing the proceeds, which amounted to $48.00 and thank the public for the generous patronage that helped to make it such a success. Hearty thanks are also due to Mr. Albert Walker, who kindly loaned dishes for the evening.

SO NERVOUS SHE COULD NOT SLEEP

A Quebec Woman Found Relief and Wants Others to Know.

Mrs. Donald M. McLeod, Springhill, Que., was a victim of great nervousness until she found the right remedy, and is now anxious that others shall profit by her experience. Mrs. McLeod says:—"Some years ago I became run down and grew so nervous that my life was a burden to myself and all around me. Every night I would wake up with a choking feeling, numb all over and my heart beating at an alarming rate. I would jump up and walk the floor and declare I was dying. Then I would have sinking spells, and all day long would be so dizzy that I would stagger like a drunken person. I was afraid to be left alone and my condition was terrible. I was then taken to the Sherbrooke hospital, but the treatment there did me no good and I came back home so weak that I could hardly cross the floor. I could not take care of my children, and my mother did so. Everybody thought I was dying, and I was just waiting and wondering when the end would come. At this stage my attention was directed to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I got a supply at once. I felt much better, could eat better, and sleep better, and felt almost like a new woman. I continued the pills for some time further, and am now strong and healthy woman. I advise all run-down women to try Dr Williams' Pink Pills as I am sure they will do for others what they have done for me."

The new sales tax will not increase the price of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as the company pays the tax. You can still obtain the pills through any medicine dealer at 50 cents a box or by mail, post paid, at this price from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A FARM SALE

Mr. A. H. Keys has sold his 100 acre farm, the east half lot 7, Prince of Wales Road, Mono, known locally as the McMaster homestead to Mr. William Henry Reid, The Maples. The sale includes Mr. Keys' farm stock, implements and household effects and the purchaser will get possession on February 4th. The property is a desirable one, being well-built, well fenced and very favorably situated with respect to school, markets, etc. Mr. Keys plans for the future are indefinite at present. As soon as he gives up possession he and Mrs. Keys intend to go to Lockport, N. Y., to visit their daughter, who was married a few months ago and is now living in that city. They have been excellent neighbors and the people of the Mono College community will regret their removal. Mr. Reid, the purchaser, is a son of Mr. and Mrs Isaac Reid, The Maples

MRS. RICHARD JONES

A loving wife and mother has passed away in the person of Mrs. Louisa Jones, the beloved wife of Mr. Richard Jones, of Melville Cross. Taken suddenly ill on Tuesday, the 8th of January, release came to her in the early hours of Friday, the 11th. Mr and Mrs. Jones were married in England. Sometime after their marriage Mr. Jones decided to try his fortune in Canada and Mrs. Jones and their infant daughter joined him at Belfountain in the following year. The late Mrs. Jones was always deeply interested in church work and being gifted with a lovely soprano voice sang for years in the Baptist and Methodist churches at Belfountain. In 1899 Mr. Jones became Superintendent of the Forks Quarries and moved to the Forks of the Credit. However, they still kept up their interest in the Belfountain churches, singing with the Baptist in the morning and in the Methodist at night. Services were started in Credit Forks and they sang there in the afternoon. Mrs. Jones had a wonderfully sympathetic nature bearing all who needed sympathy or assistance. When Mr. Jones was called to take charge of the plant at Melville a few years ago they moved to that place, leaving behind a large circle of loving friends in the Credit Forks and Belfountain neighborhood. During their residence at Melville they have won many new friends who join with the old in deploring the death of one who was esteemed and beloved for her social qualities, her ready sympathy and her fine character. Besides her husband she is survived by an only daughter, Mrs. Norman Nelson, of Caledon. Husband and daughter have the heartfelt sympathy of all their friends in their loneliness and sorrow. The funeral which was largely attended, was held to the Forest Lawn Cemetery on Sunday, January 13th, Rev. Dr. Caldwell, of Alton, the family pastor, officiating.

WM. J. MATSON

Friends and relatives in Orangeville and district were shocked by the unexpected news of the death of William John Matson, second son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Matson of Orangeville. Deceased went west 25 years ago and located in the city of Vancouver, where his death occurred. Full particulars have not reached his friends here, but we understand that Mr. Matson was overcome by a heart seizure while on his way home and collapsed on the street. Later on he was found lying unconscious on the sidewalk and rushed to the hospital, where he died in two hours. Mr. Ed. Armstrong, who resides in Vancouver and who had known Mr. Matson from boyhood, was informed of the sad occurrence. Mr. Armstrong immediately wired the deceased's sister, Mrs. Clare Hannah, Orangeville and made the necessary arrangements to have the remains forwarded here for burial. The late Mr. Matson was 48 years old and unmarried. He was a veteran of the Great War having served overseas for four years. He was badly gassed while at the front and the effects of the poisoning undoubtedly weakened his heart, thereby contributing to his tragically sudden death. Deceased had been very successful in Vancouver and was held in high esteem by a large circle of friends in the western metropolis. His death is mourned by two sisters, Mrs. James Warnock, Caledon, and Mrs. Hannah Orangeville.

The remains reached here on Monday morning, January 14th, and were met at the Orangeville depot by quite a large number of relatives and oldtime friends. The funeral was held from the depot to the Forest Lawn Cemetery, Rev. J. W. McDonald conducting the services. Messrs. Sam., Fraser and Earl Warnock, Joss and Thompson Nesbitt and Isaac Patterson, of Caledon were the pallbearers.

GEORGE WALKER

George Walker, a respected resident of Shelburne for the last twenty years, passed away on Sunday, January 6th, following an illness of considerable duration, at the age of 72 years, 4 months and 14 days. Before moving to Shelburne Mr. Walker had resided in the Bowling Green district in Amaranth township, where he farmed successfully for many years. Until ill-health compelled him to retire from active work he was engaged with the U. F. O. as buyer at their cream station. Besides his widow the deceased is survived by one son, Mr. Wilmer Walker, a farmer in Amaranth, and two daughters Mrs. Alexander Hughston, of Amaranth, and Mrs. Harry Orvis, of Shelburne. Mr. Walker was a staunch member of the Methodist Church. Interment took place in Shelburne Cemetery on Tuesday following his death, his pastor, Rev A. E. Owen, conducting the service

DEATH OF MRS. SNELL

The death took place in Lord Dufferin Hospital on Monday, January 14th, of Mrs. Elizabeth Evans Snell a well-known resident of Bolton for many years. Mrs. Snell, who has been making her home with her daughter, Mrs. (Dr.) W. H. Bowles has been ill for some months. The week preceding her death her condition became so serious that it was deemed advisable to have her removed to the hospital, where she would receive better care and nursing than is possible in a private home. The late Mrs. Snell, who was in her 72nd year, was a daughter of the late Col. George Evans, of Bolton. Since the death of her husband, the late Postmaster S. J. Snell, of Bolton, a number of years ago, she had spent much of her time in Orangeville and was well and favorably known to many of our citizens. She is survived by two sons, Col. Arthur E. Snell, of Ottawa, and Mr. Forest Snell, of Toronto, and two daughters, Mrs Bowles, Orangeville, and Mrs. J. S Brown, of Toronto. Mrs. Johnston of Quincy, Ill., Mrs. B. Beamish, of Viking, Alta., and Mrs. T. D. Elliott of Bolton, are sisters. The remains were taken to Bolton by C. P. R. on Wednesday morning, Jan. 16th, interment taking place in Laurel Hill Cemetery later in the day. Service was held in Christ Church, Bolton Rev. P. N. Knight officiating.

C. C. G. HANNAH

Orangeville lost a well-known and prosperous business man in the death of the late C. C. G. Hannah who passed away at his late home near the C. P. R. station on Monday evening, January 7th, after two years' illness. Mr. Hannah, who was 48 years of age, was the son of Mr and Mrs. William Hannah, of Toronto and Orangeville. He was born and spent his boyhood in Toronto coming to this town some twenty six years ago. He was in the grain business for some years as a partner in the firm of Clarke & Hannah. Later he took over Mr. Clarke's interest and subsequently enlarged the business, dealing in coal as well as grain. He was a quiet, unassuming man, but shrewd and successful in his business dealings and an excellent citizen. He is survived by his wife, formerly Miss Jennie Matson, his mother, Mrs. Wm. Hannah and a sister, Miss Annie, both living in Toronto, and two brothers, George Hannah, of Tompkins, Alta., and R. W. Hannah, of Toronto. There is general sympathy for the widow and other relatives in their loss. The funeral, which was private, was held to the Forest Lawn Cemetery on Thursday afternoon, January 10. Mr. Hannah was a member of St Mark's Church and Rev. J. W. McDonald, the rector, conducted the services. The pallbearers were Messrs. Jas., Sam and Fraser Warnock, and Jos. Nesbitt, of Caledon and Harry and John Matson, of Palgrave. The floral tributes included wreaths from James and Bert Booth Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Warnock and family, Caledon, Geo. Nelson and family, Mono Road, an anchor from Mr. and Mrs. W. G McBride, a wreath from the mother and sister, sprays from the brotner in Toronto, Mr. and Mrs. Robt Henderson. Dr. and Mrs. Coates Toronto, Wesley Nelson, Caledon Mr. J. Vanwyck and Mr. and Mrs Dalton Patterson, Mr. and Mrs Percy Trought, Toronto, Mr. and Mrs D. A. Hogg, and the Ladies of St Mark's Church, and a large wreath from the neighbors.

CALEDON

It is with keen regret that we chronicle the death of Mr. Irvine Dodds, an old and highly esteemed resident of this community, who passed away recently in his 75th year. Deceased was born and had spent his lifetime on the farm where he died. He was a brother of the late W. J. Dodds, of West Toronto who predeceased him only a few weeks ago. Mrs. George Glassford of this village, is a sister and is the last surviving member of a large family. The late Mr. Dodds is survived by his wife, two sons, Cecil and Willie, and two daughters, Mrs. Sam Warnock and Miss Margaret at home. Mr. Dodds was a veteran of the Fenian Raid and received his government scrip for his services to his country in that exciting and perilous period. The late Mr. Dodds was a singer of more than ordinary talent and was a valued member of Knox Church choir for many years. Interment took place in Knox Church Cemetery in Caledon, Rev T. W. Mills, the family pastor, conducting the services. The pallbearers were James Warnock, Robert Rayburn, John Kirke, John McKim and two nephews of the departed man. Friends present from a distance included Mr. and Mrs. Fred Linfoot, Miss Viney McCort, Mr. and Mrs. Robert McFarland and Mr. and Mrs. Bailey, all of Toronto. The sympathy of the whole neighborhood goes out to Mrs. Dodds and her family in their time of loss.

Caledon Council for 1924 held its first meeting in the Township Hall here on Monday, January 14th When Clerk Willis called the meeting to order, the members were all in their places as follows:—Reeve J. F. McDonald; Deputy-Reeve, Wm J. Wilson; Councillors, John McBride, W. J. Trathen and R. J. Speers. Reeve McDonald addressed the Council briefly, congratulating the members on their re-election without the trouble of a contest and then proceeded to outline some of the important problems that would engage the attention of the Council during the year. The Reeve spoke at some length on the cost of the Provincial Highway pointing out that the twenty per cent. that the township was called upon to contribute to this road amounted to more than the expenditure on all the other roads in the municipality. Mr. McDonald thought that the entire cost of the Provincial roads should be borne by the Province. Another problem was the telephone system, now the property of the municipality. This would require wise and careful handling if it was going to bear all operation costs and provide sufficient revenue in addition to meet the debentures issued when it was taken over by the township. Township officers were appointed as follows:—Auditors, C. H. Limebeer and Cecil Dodds; collectors, A. B. Smith, east, and Geo. Alce, west assessors, M. C. Hillock, east, and E. H. Delaney west; sanitary inspector, W. G. Morris; member of Board of Health, R. T. Nesbitt. Mr. Spence McDonald, who has collected the taxes for the west half of the township for the last fifteen years was present, but did not wish to take the appointment any longer on account of indifferent health. Mr Alce, the new collector, is a returned soldier.

Council spent considerable time listening to deputations. Messrs Jos. O. Proctor and Alex. McElwain two of the police trustees of the village of Caledon East, addressed the Council on matters relating to the government and street lighting of the busy little village on the eastern border of the municipality They were promised careful consideration of their requests. A deputation composed of Dr. Wm. Stubbs Dr. Thomas, E. E. Wilson, John Warnock and C. McFetridge asked for a grant of $200 for the purpose of placing electric lights on the streets of Caledon village. Council while impressed by the arguments of the speakers, declined to take any action at the present time, chiefly through the feeling that every other village in the township would then have a right to make a similar request and to expect similar action Members of the Council suggested as an alternative that the ratepayers of Caledon take the necessary steps to organize a police village. Owing to the fact that the village is served by a Provincial Highway running north and south and a county highway running east and west, it was pointed out that its position as a police village would be very advantageous, as it would be under little or no expense for road construction and maintenance. As a police village its citizens would be in a position to instal electric light and build sidewalks just as soon as they wished to do so.

The Caledon Agricultural Society held its annual meeting in the Township Hall here on Saturday, January 19th. There was a very good attendance of the members and a healthy interest was manifested in the proceedings of the meeting. Reports showed total receipts of $2,523.79, an improvement of $707.05 over the 1922 receipts. The expenditures amounted to $2359.61, an increase of $587.84 over the expenses of the preceding year. The total number of entries was 794, an increase of 42 over 1922. Dr. Thomas the President of the Society, and Mr. E. E. Wilson, the Secretary Treasurer, referred to these figures as a gratifying evidence of the progress that the Society was making It was felt by those present that now that the Society has come successfully through one of the critical periods of its history, there is every reason to look to the future with optimism and confidence. There does not seem to be anything serious only in the way of making Caledon Fair for 1924 bigger and better than any of its predecessors. The meeting showed its confidence in the old Board of Directors by re-electing them, as follows:—

President, Dr. J. T. Thomas; 1st Vice-President, Dr. W. F. R. Stubbs 2nd Vice-President, T. C. Glassford Secretary-Treasurer, E. E. Wilson Directors, H. McLeish, G. VanWyck A. C. Speers, C. Limebeer, N. Harrison, John Warnock, Thos. Quinn A. Lemon, Dan Sweeney, Farquhar Baxter, W. J. Hillock C. Atkinson Watson Wiggins and Robert Clark.

Lady Directors—Mrs. W. Wiggins Mrs. T. W. Meek, Miss B. McQuarrie, Mrs. Geo. A. Cameron, Mrs. T C. Glassford, Mrs. J. McEachern and Mrs. H. B. Nichol.

Auditors—C. K. Overland and W J. Warnock.

The dates of this year's Fair were fixed for Wednesday and Thursday Sept. 24th and 25th. The Directors have already set to work to make this year's Fair bigger and better than ever as this is to be Caledon Old Boys' year.

The Fiftieth Anniversary of Knox Presbyterian Church was fittingly celebrated on Sunday, January 6th. Rev. W. E. Wilson, of Toronto, a former Caledon boy, occupied the pulpit and delivered excellent addresses at both services. Unfortunately the storm prevented many of the country members from being present and the congregations were not as large as they would have been under more favorable conditions. The collections were however, very satisfactory, amounting to $274 for the day. The history of Knox congregation dates back almost one hundred years. The present church is the third occupied by the congregation. The first was built of logs and the second of split boards, the site occupied being the present cemetery grounds. There were in the early days three Presbyterian churches in the neighborhood, the old kirk on the 4th line Caledon church and a church on the 3rd line, ministered to by the pastor of the Caledon church. The two latter were "Free" Kirks. Thomas Smith, one of the oldest surviving members of the early congregation recalls hearing his mother tell of attending the church, when she walked over from the third line carrying her shoes and stockings She waded Campbell's creek, then drying her feet, put on her shoes and stockings and proceeded on her way to the House of God. Other survivors of the congregation of fifty years ago are Mr. and Mrs. W F. Clark, Powassan, Ont.; Mr. G. L Dodds, of the village, and Mrs. Malcolm Baxter, of the 3rd line, east. The names of the pastors who have been in charge of the church since it was first organized are:—Rev Alexander Lewis, Rev. Alex. McPhul who ministered to the spiritual needs of the congregation for thirty years Rev. Andrew Wilson, Rev. George McKay, Rev. J. A. Matheson, now of Mono Mills, Rev. Stanley Robinson, of Maple; Rev. Jenkins Burkholder, of Kirkfield, Ont., and Rev T. W. Mills, the present incumbent.

In Caledon Methodist Church on Sunday, January 27th, at 2.30 p.m. Dr. Caldwell will speak on the subject, "Is it Right for Protestants to Proseletyze or make Converts from the Roman Catholic Church or Vice Versa?" People will please remember the change of hour and also the arrangement that in case of storms or heavy rain there will be no service at any time.

The 41st annual meeting of the Caledon Public Library was held in the Library Building Monday evening. The meeting was well attended despite the inclement weather. The financial statement showed total receipts $162.24, and total expenditure $161.92 for the past year.

The Library consists of 3400 books, suitably housed in a neat building owned by the members of the Library. The new Board was duly elected to hold office for 1924 as follows:—

Chairman—Dr. W. F. R. Stubbs.
Sec.-Treas.—Dr. J. T. Thomas.
Librarian—Mr C. R. Rutledge.
Members—Messrs. H. Hillyard, E. E. Wilson, C. McFetridge, E. E Stubbs, Arthur Coleman, A. P. Nicholson.

LAUREL

On the evening of January 4th the annual Banquet of Laurel Royal Black Preceptory, No. 365, was held in the basement of the Methodist Church. About seventy-five guests were present and spent a delightful time together. A Fowl Dinner was served, after which a splendid program of toasts, songs and recitations was given. The toast list was as follows:—"The King," responded to by the singing of God Save the King by the entire company; "The Empire," proposed by Sir Kt. John Bryan and responded to by Rev. A F. Webster and Sir Kt. R. H. Wansbrough; "The Royal Black Knights," proposed by Sir Kt. R. H. Wansbrough and responded to by Sir Kts. John Bryan and A. E. Porterfield; "The Ladies," proposed by Sir Kt. W. R. Grosskurth and responded to by Rev. W. W. Rackham. The speechmaking was pleasingly interspersed by recitations by Lloyd Wansbrough, Miss Mabel Trowse and Miss Coulter, humorous readings by Rev. Mr. Rackham and songs by Sir Kt. W. H. Stewart, Miss Audrey Fife and Mrs. Ernest Richardson. A very enjoyable evening was spent by all present and the program was brought to a close in fitting manner by the singing of the National Anthem.

HOCKEY NOTES

So far The Dufferins are having rather hard luck in their O. H. A games. To date they have not managed to score a win but their supporters are hoping that their luck will turn to-night, when they meet Guelph, last year's runners-up, in a game on the Arena sheet. The first clash of the season was with Brampton on local ice, the visitors emerging from the conflict with the big end of an 8 to 4 score. Elora next visited The Dufferins and showed their class by winning the game by 6 to 4. It was a fast, clean played game and with a little luck in the breaks The Dufferins might have won. They looked just as good, if not a little better than their opponents, who scored a couple of counters in rather lucky manner. The greenshirts, who are just getting into their stride, made their best showing in Georgetown on Friday night, when the two teams played full time without a score. In this respect the game was somewhat of a record. Georgetown caught the Dufferin defence wide open during the extra time and ran in a couple of counters, thereby winning the game. Spectators of the game were much impressed with the speed and generally effective work of the Dufferins. Georgetown claim that they have the classy team of the district and expected an easy win on their home ice.

In its report of the recent Brampton-Orangeville game the Brampton Banner says:—"Golden turned in a nice game for Orangeville. While he was outguessed on three occasions his blocking of shots from in front and the side was a treat. During the game he stopped the proverbial 'million.' Wilson was best on the forward line, while Cruikshank and Scott, lacrosse stars, played a clever rushing game, but were wide open in their defensive style."

SOCIAL AT ALTON

The Ladies' Aid of the Alton Presbyterian Church will hold a Social at the home of Mr. W. J. Dods on Friday evening, Feb. 1st. A good program and games are being arranged for the evening. Lunch served. Silver collection. Everyone invited.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of Henry Moffit who departed this life on January 24th. 1923.

Gone, dear father, much we miss you,
As it dawns another year;
In our lonely hours of thinking,
Thoughts of you are always near.

Do not ask us if we miss you,
There is such a vacant place,
Can we forget that footstep,
And that dear familiar face?

FAMILY.

IN MEMORIAM

In memory of the late Albert Hillock, who died January 17, 1922

One precious to our hearts has gone
The voice we loved is stilled,
The place made vacant in our home
Can never more be filled.

Our Father, in His wisdom, called
The boon His love had given;
And though on earth the body lies
The soul is safe in Heaven.

"Miss America" Declares Tanlac Wonderful Health Giving Tonic

Miss Campbell in "Miss America" crown which she has won on two occasions. Photograph by Atlantic Photo Service.

Miss Mary Katherine Campbell, twice proclaimed "Miss America," has taken TANLAC and endorses it in a statement recently given to the women of America through International Proprietaries, Inc., distributors of this great tonic. In this statement, Miss America declares that Good Health is the basis of all Beauty, and advises women who would be beautiful to "first find good health."

Her complete statement as given is as follows: "I consider it a great privilege to be able to tell the thousands of women everywhere what a great tonic TANLAC is. Health is the basis of all beauty. Without good health, one is apt to be run down, nervous, underweight, high-strung, anaemic. Indigestion drives the roses from a woman's cheeks and robs her of that radiant quality of womanhood that is real beauty.

"I have taken TANLAC and I do not hesitate to say that it is a wonderful health-giving tonic. It has brought relief and good health to many women, and with good health one may have a measure of beauty that will overcome shortcomings in face and figure.

"Rosy cheeks, sparkling eyes, a well-rounded figure, a lovable disposition, go hand in hand with good health. To those searching for beauty, I would say—'First of all Find Good Health.' The TANLAC treatment has proven itself a boon to womankind, and I recommend it."

Miss Campbell has written a booklet on Health and Beauty which may be secured by filling out the coupon below.

Mr. S. J. T. McClure, 2nd line west, has sold his farm to Mr Clinton Davis, of Mayfield, for $12,000, possession to be had April 1st 1924.

Six farms below the town of Brampton are now aglow with Hydro every night, not only the farmhouse itself, but the barns and stables shining with the electric radiance.

HOUSE BURNED

The frame residence of Albert Little, lot 27, con. 2, west, Mono was destroyed by fire Thursday afternoon of last week, together with most of the contents. Mr. Little was in Shelburne at the time and Mrs. Little was in bed with her few-days' old twin babies. The fire started upstairs from a cause unknown. The alarm was quickly spread by a liberal use of the telephone and about fifty neighbors were quickly on hand. Mrs. Little and the babies were conveyed safely to a neighbor's house and a part of the contents of the downstairs was saved. By strenuous efforts and the liberal use of snow and water the frame kitchen was also saved and the fire kept from spreading to other buildings. House and contents were insured for $1,000 in the Dufferin Farmers' Mutual, and Mr. Little's loss will be quite heavy.—Economist.

DUFFERIN REFORMERS MEET

Owing to weather conditions and impassable roads in the country districts, the attendance at the general meeting of the Reformers of Dufferin at Orangeville on Friday last fell somewhat short, but it certainly did not affect the interest or spirit of those attending. The following officers were elected:

Hon. President—T. F. Brown, of Shelburne.

President—John Park, Orangeville.

Sec.-Treas.—W. L. Craig, Grand Valley.

Vice-Presidents — Orangeville John Park; Garafraxa, Wm. Fines; Grand Valley, J. A. Richardson; Shelburne, T. F. O'Flynn; Mono George Rayfield; Melancthon, Geo. McAllister; Mulmur, Geo. Lawrence Amaranth, Ed. Richardson; East Luther, A. H. Dales.

Resolutions were passed expressing confidence in the leadership of Right Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King Premier of Canada; a belief that the splendid record of the C. N. R. will soon be a cause for justification in public ownership, also suggesting that some system of proportional representation be adopted, whereby the majority of the electors will determine its representatives, instead of the minority; also that the Government be requested to retain the County of Dufferin as an electoral district, by making such additions from surrounding counties as may be necessary.—Star & Vidette.

Mr. and Mrs. Don. McArthur, of Caledon, have moved to their new home in Detroit. Prior to their departure they were given a shower and farewell at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan McLaren, The Castle.

THE BATTLE OF THE ANTS

Henry David Thoreau, the nature writer, gives the following interesting account of a battle between two rival species of ants.

One day when I went out to my woodpile, or rather to my pile of stumps, I observed two large ants, the one red, the other much larger, nearly half an inch long and black, fiercely contending with one another. Having once got hold they never let go, but struggled and wrestled and rolled on the chips incessantly.

Looking farther I was surprised to find that the chips were covred with such combatants, that it was not a duellum, but a bellum, a war between two races of ants, the red always pitted against the black, and frequently two red ones to one black.

The legions of these myrmidons covered all the hills and vales in my wood yard, and the ground was already strewn with the dead and dying, both red and black.

It was the only battle which I had ever witnessed, the only battlefield I had ever trod while the battle was raging; internecene war; the red republicans on the one hand, and the black imperialists on the other.

On every side they were engaged in deadly combat, yet without any noise that I could hear, and human soldiers never fought so resolutely.

I watched a couple that were fast locked in each other's embraces, in a sunny valley amid the chips, now on a noonday prepared to fight till the sun went down, or life went out.

The smaller red champion had fastened himself like a vice to his adversary's front, and through all the tumblings on the field never for an instant ceased to gnaw at one of his feelers near the root, having already caused the other to go to the board; while the stronger black one dashed him from side to side, and, as I saw on looking nearer, had already divested him of some of his members.

A Determined Fight.

They fought with more pertinacity than bulldogs. Neither manifested the least disposition to retreat. It was evident that their battle cry was conquer or die.

In the meantime there came along a single red ant on the hillside of this valley, evidently full of excitement, who either had dispatched his foe, or had not yet taken part in the battle, probably the later, for he had lost none of his limbs; whose mother had charged him to return with his shield upon it. Or perchance he was some Achilles, who had nursed his wrath apart, and had now come to avenge or rescue his Patroclus.

He saw this unequal combat from afar— for the blacks were nearly twice the size of the red—he drew near at rapid pace till he stood on his guard within half an inch of his combatants, then, watching his opportunity, he sprang upon the black warrior, and commenced his operations near the root of his right foreleg leaving the foe to select among his own membbers; and so there was three united for life, as if a new attraction had been invented which put all other locks and cements to shame.

I should not have wondered by this time to find that they had their respective musical bands stationed on some eminent chip, and playing their national airs the while to excite the slow and cheer the dying combatants. I was myself excited somewhat even as if they had been men. The more you think of it the less difference. And certainly there is not the fight recorded in history that will bear a moment's comparison with this, whether for number engaged in it, or for the patriotism and heroism displayed.

Examined at Close Quarters.

I took up the chip on which the three I have particularly described were struggling, carried it into my house and placed it under a tumbler on my window sill, in order to see the issue. Holding a microscope to the first mentioned red ant, I saw that, though he was assiduously gnawing at the near foreleg of his enemy, having severed his remaining feeler, his own breast was all torn away, exposing what vitals he had there to the jaws of the black warrior whose breastplate was apparently too thick for him to pierce; and the dark carbuncles of the sufferer's eyes shone with ferocity such as war only could excite.

They struggled half an hour longer under the tumbler, and when I looked again the black soldier had severed the heads of his foes from their bodies, and the still living heads were hanging on either side of him like ghastly trophies at his saddle bow, still apparently as firmly fastened as ever, and he was endeavoring with feeble struggles, being without feelers and with only the remnant of a leg, and I know not how many other wounds, to divest himself of them, which at length, after half an hour more, he accomplished.

I raised the glass, and he went off over the window sill in that crippled state. Whether he finally survived that combat and spent the rest of his days in some Hotel des Invalides, I do not know; but I thought his industry would not be worth much thereafter.

I never learned which party was victorious, nor the cause of the war; but I felt for the rest of the day as if I had my feelings excited and harrowed by witnessing the struggle the ferocity and carnage of a human battle before my door.

Mrs. Robert J. Arnott, of Grand Valley, fell down the cellar steps while on a visit to her daughter Mrs. Arias, of Toronto, and besides breaking her arm, received a very severe shaking up, and some rather painful bruises.

New Cars de Luxe Made in Canada

Of the best of modern improvements to railway service in Canada are the Canadian Pacific combination dining and parlor cars. The new all-steel cars, six in number, will operate on the more important short runs, affording every convenience and luxury, where full size dining and parlor cars are not required. They are the only Cafe Parlor Cars existant which are fitted with a smoking room, and the revolving slumber-back chairs are another distinctive feature.

Interior decoration has been given special consideration by the Company, and the new cars are an extremely well finished product. Inlaid mahogany has been used with good effect, the ceilings have a light brown finish, and the lighting has been arranged to permit reading in any part of the car without strain or glare. Lamps are arranged along the centre of the ceiling, and bracket lamps over each table and chair, all with truscan shades, diffuse a warm glow. The new cars are different from any others doing service in Canada in that they are practically divided into four separate compartments. The kitchen, fully equipped, takes up nearly 16 feet of one end, and in this are found a huge range with ovens and steam tables attached. A charcoal burning grill is placed next the range, and on the other side are the separate refrigerators for meats, fish, fruits, milk, cream and ice cream. Every available inch of flooring seems to be utilized, but there is room enough for three men to work and for the carving tables, sink, dish washer and innumerable lockers for groceries, chinaware, glass, silver, etc. A tank overhead supplies fresh and filtered water for use in the dining room and kitchen.

Leaving the kitchen one comes upon a small vestibule which opens into the dining room. Handsome china and silver cabinets can be seen here, and stowed snugly into the corner is a "bar" which will hold a surprisingly large number of bottles, and keep them cool too, because ice may be let into a chamber at the rear, through the roof.

The dining room is 19 feet long and seats 18 people. Three tables each accommodate four diners, and three tables, two. Particularly when lighted, the dining room is most beautiful. The general effect is very rich and soft.

The parlor, over 21 feet long, contains twelve chairs with swivel base and reclining back. There is a good distribution of light for reading, and the compartment is absolutely the last word in comfort.

The smoking room is reached through a short corridor, off which are the wash rooms. This is somewhat smaller, but decidedly more comfortable than the smoking rooms of the standard sleeper or first class coaches. It is over 7 feet long and the two leather sofas accommodate six people with ease.

The new Canadian Pacific cafe parlor cars have their own heating units which is another advantage. They are fitted with cooling fans and the ventilating system has been so arranged as to ensure a complete change of air every few minutes without causing draughts.

These cars are a credit to the Canadian workmanship that has gone into their makeup, and will do much to encourage travel in this part of the continent.

"My Back Aches"

It is not much wonder that the mother in the home has backaches and headaches when you think of the multiplicity of work and worries she has from morning until night and from week to week.

But pains and aches come from poisons in the system and if the kidneys and liver were doing their duty as filters of the blood the poisoning would not remain there.

This is why it is usual to blame the kidneys and the liver for backache, headache, rheumatism etc.

The way to get rid of such pains and aches, then, is by arousing the action of the kidneys and liver and this is most promptly and most certainly done by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

By using this popular medicine you can usually obtain relief in a few hours.

You will realize then the advisability of using Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills once or twice a week so as to keep these vital organs active and ensure that the poisonous waste matter is promptly removed from the system.

In most homes this medicine is kept constantly on hand for use in case of emergency. Not a bad idea, is it?

You will notice that while the price of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills has been increased to 35 cents, the box now contains 35 pills instead of 25 as formerly.

Likewise Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is 60 cents a box of 60 pills, instead of 50 cents a box for 50 pills. Edmanson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto.

ABANDONS FARM

John Lepis, for a number of years a resident of the Silverbrook settlement in Tossorontio, left Monday for Toronto, where he intends to work at his trade of moulding. Lepis was the sensation producer of Silverbrook and a chronic litigant. Business will become slack for the division court, and the bailiff, and Silverbrook will no more receive publicity through the agency of this likeable little Pole. The fact of the matter is that Lepis was on a barren farm and though a hard worker could not make the farm support his tastes and sustain his inclinations. But he was resourceful in the extreme. He has for years been a leading figure in the division court here and he has probably worn the stairs of Bell & McLean's office more than any other man in the last ten years. When haled before the judge he would present his case and though obviously a poor one he would make the best of it. Invariably the court would salt him, but his smile never faded and under pressure of the bailiff he would discharge his obligation only to be confronted with half a dozen more. Finally he decided to sell out and quit the place and finding a customer who agreed to buy the farm, the stock and equipment and all the grain recently threshed, the deal was closed and John was making preparations to get away with some boodle. He delivered large quantities of wheat oats, buckwheat and rye and gave the owner possession. But alas! Before John and his dark eyed spouse could get away the purchaser of the farm bumped the toe of his big boot against the front of a grain bin and a hollow sound came forth. The purchaser got a broom and pushing the handle into the grain, struck bottom at eight inches. Investigation revealed false bottoms in all the bins and John Lepis was in trouble again. There was no other alternative than to disgorge the receipts for all the grain he had sold. But he still had enough to dress himself and his wife up attractively and they left with a smile on their faces and a tender good-bye for everybody. It was impossible for two such genial and affable people to carry any ill will with them. Were John Lepis a millionaire he would be a generous benefactor to any community which might be graced by his presence and his place of abode —Alliston Herald.

A Polyglot Porter

John Cox, master of many languages.

The smooth-working organism of a great railway which prides itself on being able to meet any situation in an equable manner, received a rude jolt one day when two picturesquely garbed strangers strolled into the Windsor Depot of the Canadian Pacific Railway at Montreal, and, despite the most elaborate and vociferous linguistic contortions, failed in a most deplorable manner to make anyone understand what they wanted.

Someone who had travelled in the east ventured the opinion that they were Arabs, and the polyglot bombardment which had been in progress ceased in hopeless despair, for the stock of available languages did not go into Kipling's country "east of Suez" Then a "red cap," one of the colored porters who make themselves useful about the station handling baggage between the train and taxicab, stepped up. He relieved himself of what sounded like a combination of a badly-running Ford and a Sarcee war chant, and had the situation straightened out in no time at all.

Investigation revealed that the railway had on its staff of baggage hustlers a veritable Mezzofanti, a student who for sheer love of the acquisition picks up languages in the easy manner he does suitcases. He is known about the station as Number Eighteen, though this has no reference to his lingual accomplishments. His name is John Cox and his country of origin is British Guiana, though to satisfy his voracious thirst for tongues that other people employ he has strayed far from his native sugar plantations. Spanish, Italian, English, French, Greek, Hindustani and Arabic he can call into requisition at a moment's notice, while he writes most of them with equal facility. He admits not being as yet equally at home with German, though he has substantial grasp of the language.

Hindustani is his native tongue. Facile English he acquired in England in the employ of a British railway magnate. In the same employ he went to Brazil and Panama, acquiring Spanish in an effortless manner en route. Returning to England with merely his appetite whetted, he took lessons in Italian and French and speedily added them to his linguistic list. The outbreak of the war opened up possibilities of yet more interesting and extensive travel, and he joined the navy as being less likely to remain confined to an area where they spoke the same language all of the time.

Fate played into his hands when he became stationed at Mudros, in the Grecian Archipelago, near the entrance to the Dardanelles. It was not long before he had qualified to keep a fruit store and was looking round for more languages to conquer. He bethought himself of the hordes of Turkish prisoners coming in to the depot, and after hobnobbing with them for a few months, was reading the "Arabian Nights" in the original.

He was demobilized in May, 1921, his one regret being that the part he had played in the war had never given him the opportunity of seeing the interior of Germany, but this lost opportunity he has since made up for by diligent study. He came from England to Canada and has since been in the employ of the Canadian Pacific Railway at Windsor Station, Montreal. Now, when picturesquely garbed strangers from unknown lands appear at the depot, and general efforts to interpret their mouthings of weird sounds are ineffectual, officials send an S.O.S. for Number Eighteen.

HEARING THROUGH A CANE

A walking stick with a fully equipped telephone system has been devised to aid the deaf. In appearance, it is exactly similar to an ordinary walking stick, all of the instruments being concealed inside it. In the knob is a highly sensitive telephone receiver. One side of the knob is flat and perforated. This is placed against the ear when sitting at a concert or talking with a friend in the street. By turning a small silver screw, the instrument may be adjusted to the hearing capacity of the person using it. Electricity is supplied by three flashlight batters in the neck of the cane.

Marjory McFee, aged 12 years, of Milton, met instant death when she was struck by a west-bound C. P. R. passenger train while on her way to school. The child was proceeding west on Main street and had waited at the crossing for a freight train to pass. She then stepped in the path of the passenger train, which apparently she had not seen. She was the daughter of John McFee, and had lived in the town for about three years.

ORANGEVILLE BRANCH G.W.V.A

At a special meeting of the Branch, January 17th, the following officers were elected for 1924:—

Past President—J. D. Mackenzie.
President—F. J. Patterson.
1st Vice-Pres.—S. H. Porter.
2nd Vice-Pres.—M. F. Stewart.
Sec.-Treas.—G. R. Hogben.
Executive Committee—J. D. Mackenzie, G. B. Hayes, R. B. Endacott.

NINE BY ACCLAMATION

ALTON

The thirty odd electric lights of the Cataract Electric Company with their acorn shaped globes are a credit to the Company and an adornment to our village. The work is not finished yet, as the wintry weather is delaying the workmen.

Mr. James Martin is recovering from his long illness.

Mr. William Shaw, who has been in the hospital for an operation, will soon be home again.

Mr. Richard Thomas, one of our esteemed residents, has been very ill for a couple of weeks, but we are glad to be able to report that he is improving. His daughter, Miss Evelyn, was home to visit her father.

The funeral of the late Mrs Richard Jones, of Melville Cross took place a week ago Sunday, interment being made in the Forest Lawn Cemetery in Orangeville. Mrs Jones was a ripe Christian, a sweet singer and a beloved wife and neighbor. Her esteemed and bereaved husband has the sincere sympathy of all in the great loss that has overwhelmed him. Rev. Dr Caldwell conducted the funeral service.

Mr. Robert Clarke's large funeral hearse has been repainted by the Barber Carriage Co. The hearse is a magnificent piece of workmanship and it would be scarcely possible to find a finer in the city of Toronto. The repainting was done in finished manner, the work being credit to the Barber people, who have a wide reputation for finished and artistic work in their line.

Miss Agnes Meek, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Meek, had the misfortune to have the two large bones in her left arm broken while skating at the Varsity Rink in Toronto shortly after the New Year. Another skater collided with Miss Meek, knocking her down on the ice. Much sympathy is felt for the young lady, who had one of her legs badly broken in a tobogganning accident less than two years ago. Her many friends unite in hoping for a speedy recovery. Miss Meek who is a teacher on the Toronto Public Schools staff, had only returned to the city after the Christmas vacation.

Members of the Alton U. F. O. and their wives held a pleasant social evening in the Club Rooms on the night of January 3rd. Mr. J. McConnell, a delegate to the U. F. O. Convention held in Toronto, gave a brief address on the Convention. Mr. A. McArthur gave a report of the Peel County Convention held in Cheltenham. Mr. T. C. Sweeney of Caledon, a district director, gave a very interesting address on Co-operation. An enthusiastic address and an excellent report of the U.F.W.O. Convention held in Toronto was given by Mrs. G. Lemon, of Caledon. Mr. G. Lemon spoke in informing manner on the Shipping of Livestock. This was a much appreciated address. An important feature of the evening was the organization of a U. F. W. O. Club. The following officers were elected:

President, Mrs. G. McClellan; Vice-President, Mrs. W. Houston; Secretary, Miss Violetta Akitt.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. G. McClellan. Those who desire to become members are invited to attend.

that it become an annual event. After the supper the ladies carried on their regular business and gave a short program.

The parents and friends of the Public School children are reminded that Friday, Jan 25th, is the monthly visiting day at the school. Don't disappoint the children by not attending as they work faithfully to prepare the programs.

The Junior Women's Institute are giving a home talent concert in the Town Hall on Friday, Jan. 25th. The girls have a real program prepared of instrumental, vocal, humorous and classical numbers. The concert

Mrs. Robt. Houston has gone to Cobalt, to visit her son, Tom.

Mr. Ben Ward was the week-end guest of his brother, Mr. Geo. Ward.

Mr. and Mrs. Conboy were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. David Harkness.

Miss Grace McKinley spent the week-end in Toronto.

Mr. Bindsay has resumed his position as manager of the Sterling Bank here, after six weeks' absence due to illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Dean have been the guests of Mrs. Jos. Hackett for the past week.

The Senior Women's Institute gave a fowl supper for their husbands in the Amusement Club rooms on Thursday evening last. The supper was such a decided success that a resolution was passed is to start at 8.15 and after the program oysters will be served. We understand the charges are to be 25 and 15 cents, oysters extra. The objective of the J. W. I. is to install a pipeless furnace in the Town Hall. Such a purpose should meet with approval and warrant a good attendance.

Dr. Caldwell's sermon for Sunday January 27th, at 7 p.m., will be "The First Plague in Egypt, the Changing of the Nile River into Blood. Was it True or only a Myth?"

Mr. Everton Barber has been ill for some time, but we are glad to say that he is now improving.

The last two Sundays were so stormy that the churches had small congregations.

Newspaper reports show that Old Winter has been taking another whack at Chicago, the cold wave extending down into the Southern States. Around Chicago the thermometer went down to 18 below. The Northern States suffered much. In the Western provinces it was 12 below zero. Here in Alton it was 10 below. The wind was piercing. Whitefish River, as usual, was colder than any other place in Ontario.

LAUREL PLOWMEN'S ASS'N.

The annual meeting of the Laurel Branch of the Ontario Plowmen's Association was held in the Township Hall, Monday, January 21st. There was a good attendance of members present, and considerable interest was shown in the work of this Association. The President, W. H. Gray, occupied the chair and presented a very favorable report of the year's work. The Secretary-Treasurer's report showed that prizes to the extent of $63.00 had been paid in connection with the Match held last October, and the report also showed a small balance on hand to begin work for the coming year. The following officers were elected for 1924:—

President—W. H. Gray, Laurel.
Vice-Pres.—W. F. Cooney, Laurel.
Sec.-Treas.—Bert Allen, Laurel.
Directors—John S. Brown, E. Lang, L. Gray, Stanley Allen, Cecil Menary and W. H. Whaley, Laurel; Lewis Grosskurth, Amaranth Stn.; Charles Tindale, Shelburne; Ralph Hamilton, Shelburne; Ivan Potter and George Davis, Waldemar.
Auditors—Eric Gray and Jack Hamilton, Laurel.

At the conclusion of the business of the Plowmen's Association the meeting was addressed by A. B. McDonald, Director of Hog Graders for Ontario, who gave a very interesting talk on the various features connected with hog grading as now promoted on various stock yards of the country.

Why Ford Predominates

Proof that Ford predominates is to be found in the fact that 50 per cent of all cars in Canada are Fords.

Ford predominates because it supplies the essentials of adequate, economical transportation.

Ford has been the pioneer in the automotive industry; has blazed the trial in every fundamentally sound transportation principle.

Ford service is an outstanding example of Ford predominance. Authorized Ford service is to be found wherever motor cars are used—always capable, business-like and prompt.

More than 4,000 service stations in Canada are assurance of this.

LOCAL NEWS

—"Mother O' Mine," which will be presented in the Orangeville Opera House on Wednesday night Jan. 30th, is a three-act comedy that makes a universal appeal.

—"Here is still another money order for $2.00," is the message that John Emery McLean, of New York, sends The Banner. In characteristic vein he adds, "and with it goes my blessing."

—Prince of Wales L. O. L. No. 220, Mono, initiated seven new members at its last regular meeting. In Bro. Wallace Brett this Lodge has an energetic W. M., who has the support of an excellent set of officers

—Samuel Young, of Arthur formerly of Shelburne, was elected to the village council at the recent municipal election. There were seven candidates and Mr. Young who is a brother of Mr. David Young, of Orangeville, headed the poll.

—Orangeville and Alton friends are very sorry to learn of the serious illness of Mr. J. B. Smith, of Brampton, proprietor of the Alton Creamery a number of years ago Mr. Smith has had two serious operations and his condition is now such as to cause his family and relatives the gravest concern.

MOTHER O' MINE

The Sunday School of St. Andrew's Church has engaged the Shelburne Dramatic Club to present their Play "Mother O' Mine" in the Orangeville Opera House on Wednesday night, January 30th. This play has been described as a comedy of sentiment in three acts. It is a play with a universal appeal, an absorbing story, rich in comedy and contains withal many beautiful touches of exalted sentiment. The Shelburne amateurs have already given the Play in Shelburne and Alliston and won unstinted praise in both places. They will undoubtedly repeat their former successes in Orangeville and should be greeted by a bumper house when they appear here next Wednesday night. Admission, 50c and 35c; all seats reserved. Plan of hall opens at Banner Office at 10 o'clock on Saturday morning.

POSTPONED SALE

Owing to drifted roads and the inclemency of the weather, Mr Simon Kearns' Auction Sale on lot 5, con. 3, west, Caledon township (the J. A. MacLaren farm) has been postponed until Saturday afternoon January 26th, when everything will be sold as originally advertised.

HOMEMADE BAKING

A Sale of Homemade Baking will be held in the basement of St Mark's Church on Saturday afternoon, February 2nd, by the Girls W. A. Come and enjoy a cup of tea.

"FARM FOLK"

The Young People of Hockley will give their Play, "Farm Folk," at Palgrave on Wednesday evening January 30th. The Play will be followed by a Dance. Admission adults, 50c; children, 15c.

HOCKEY TO-NIGHT

Guleph Intermediates are coming to town to-night and will clash with The Dufferins on the Arena sheet at 8.15. The visitors were runners-up for the championship of the intermediate series last year. They have a speedy, well-balanced sextette that will take a lot of beating. If The Dufferins can manage to pull out a win they will have good reason to be well satisfied with themselves. The game is called for 8.15 sharp.

ORANGEVILLE PRESBYTERY

Rev. Mr. Craw, lately called to Priceville at a salary of $1800 and manse, glebe and four weeks' holidays, decided to decline the call and remain in his present charge in the Presbytery of Peterboro.

Rev. J. H. Graham's appointment to Horning's Mills for six month has been extended. Presbytery was informed of excellent work done by Mr. Graham in that field.

The question of the ordination of women, which has already been before the General Assembly, was taken up, but a decision was left in abeyance meanwhile.

Rev. Joseph Harrower, B. A., lately inducted into the united charge of Flesherton, Eugenia and Proton was welcomed by the members of the Presbytery.

Rev. H. Shannon, of McIntyre was appointed moderator for the ensuing six months.

The next regular meeting of the Presbytery will be held in St. Andrew's Church, Orangeville, on the first Tuesday in March.

TWENTY-NINE YEARS AWAY

Dr. R. G. Anderson, of Elyria Ohio, a onetime Mono boy and a brother of Mr. Hilliard Anderson, of this town, writes The Banner as follows:—

"It is now almost twenty-nine years since I left dear old Orangeville and settled here in Elyria Ohio. I remember when eggs were three dozen for 25 cents, butter 10 cents per lb. and milk 5 cents per quart. The butcher gave away liver and treated the kids to bologna; the hired girl received $2.00 per week and did the washing. Women did not powder and paint (in public), nor smoke, vote, play poker or shake the shimmie. Men wore whiskers and boots, chewed tobacco, spat on the sidewalk and cussed. Beer was 5 cents and the lunch was free. Laborers worked ten hours a day and never went on strike. No tips were given to waiters and the hat-check grafter was unknown. A kerosene hanging lamp and a stereoscope in the parlor were luxuries. No one was ever operated on for appendicitis or had monkey glands planted in their anatomy. Microbes were unheard of; folks lived to a good old age and every year walked miles to wish their friends a Merry Christmas.

To-day, you know, everybody rides in autos, or flies, plays golf shoots crap, plays the piano with feet, goes to the movies nightly smokes cigarettes, drinks rookus juice blames the H. C. of L. on the Republicans, never goes to bed the same day he gets up and thinks he is having a wonderful time. These are days of suffragetting, profiteering, excess taxes and prohibition and if you think life is worth living I wish you a Happy New Year."

PERSONAL MENTION

Mrs. W. E. Liddy and her father Mr. Thos. Wright, are spending two weeks with Dr. Norman Wright, of Detroit.

Mr. Cecil and Miss Claris Menary were among the guests who attended the Pierce-Jackson wedding, Chatsworth, recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley McMaster of Snelgrove, were the guests of Orangeville and Mono friends for a couple of days last week.

Mrs. Earl Harrison and daughter Kathleen, of Caledon, are visiting the former's sister, Mrs. G. E Matheson, Toronto, for a couple of weeks.

Mrs. Thos. Turnbull (nee Blanche McNaughton) of Melita, Man., is visiting her brothers, Messrs. J. M. and J. F. McNaughton, and other relatives in Orangeville and Mono

Dr. John Neil, of Toronto, ex-Moderator of the Presbyterian General Assembly, who assisted at several of the services in Orangeville churches during the week of prayer was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. M McNaughton while in town.

Mrs. Aaron Teeter, 9th line, Erin announces the engagement of her youngest daughter, Helen Marie, to Mr. Malcolm Carroll Sinclair, third son of Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Sinclair 10th line, Erin, the marriage to take place the latter part of January.

MISS SARAH J. COBEAN

The many friends of Miss Sarah J. Cobean, in Orangeville and Mono will regret to hear of her death which took place suddenly at her home on Munroe street, Rodney Ont., on Thursday evening, January 17th, in her 65th year. Deceased lived on Church St., Orangeville, for a great many years and after the death of her brother, Mr. Geo. A Cobean, went to reside in Rodney. The funeral took place on Monday and was private, services being conducted by Rev. E. J. Welland, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, Rodney of which deceased was an honored member, assisted by Rev. J. G Burn, of the Evangelical Church and Rev. J. W. Hisey, of the Baptist Church. Interment took place in Rodney Cemetery. Although she had been ailing for several months she was confined to her bed only one week, and all through her illness was very bright and cheerful. Miss Cobean was one of a family of ten and one brother, Mr. James Cobean of Jamestown, N. D., survives. Mr J. E. Cobean and daughter, Mary, of Jamestown, N. D., attended the funeral.

GUARD THE BABY AGAINST COLDS

To guard the baby against colds nothing can equal Baby's Own Tablets. The Tablets are a mild laxative that will keep the little one's stomach and bowels working regularly. It is a recognized fact that where the stomach and bowels are in good order that colds will not exist; that the health of the little one will be good and that he will thrive and be happy. The new sales tax will not increase the price of Baby's Own Tablets, as the company pays the tax. You can still obtain the Tablets through any medicine dealer at 25 cents a box or by mail, post paid, from The Dr Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville Ont.

CALEDON SHORT COURSE NOTES

Increased attendance has greeted the courses since the beginning of the year.

At the Home Economics Course the young ladies are taking great interest in the lectures and demonstrations in Home Nursing and First Aid, which are being so ably given by Mrs. M. E. Lowe. The course in Millinery, under the direction of Miss L. Petly, is also progressing famously, and the young milliners are showing intense interest in their prospective new bonnets.

At the Agricultural Class the special lecturer for the past two weeks has been Mr. E. Newsome, consulting engineer of Weston, who has been taking the important subjects of farm water supply and sewage disposal and farm mechanics. The boys have been busy rope splicing sharpening tools, soldering up all the old pots, pans, etc., and are highly delighted with the work.

The special lecturer from January 21st to February 1st will be Mr Fred Sinclair, who is taking up gasoline engines. This promises to be extra good and a large number of farmers in the surrounding district have declared their intention of attending.

Beginning on January 28th Miss E. Collins will be in charge of the course in sewing at the Home Economics Class and the ladies are already talking of what they are going to make after the course.

Special Swine Course

On the afternoon of January 28 and also from 9.30 a.m. to 4 p.m. on January 29th there will be a special swine course at the Township Hall This will be under the direction of the Dominion Department of Agriculture and will consist of demonstrations in grading and judging hogs, lecture on proper type of hog required to produce the Wiltshire sides, which are desired on the British market, as well as practical talks on the feeding and management of the bacon hog.

If you have any questions to ask on grading—now is your chance! All are welcome.

The Years Have Furnished Proof

MUTUAL LIFE Insurance, fifty-four years ago, was an experiment, but it has proved beyond question one of Canada's outstanding institutions likely to live as long as the nation itself.

The pioneers in Mutual Life Insurance in Canada have lived to see the Company they founded in faith develop in actuality. The Mutual Life stands, to-day, among the soundest insurance institutions in the world, with insurance in force of more than $250,000,000.

There can be no better proof required as to the strength of this Company than that it has developed its assets, income, surplus and insurance in force steadily and consistently for fifty-four years.

Mutual Life Agents are at your service to give you disinterested, friendly counsel and advice upon insurance matters. You may rely upon their recommendation as to the type of policy best suited to your needs. Consult them. For literature on Mutual Insurance, write to this office direct.

Mr. George Wilkie has purchased Mr. Wm. Farley's 140 acre farm in Arthur Township on the Owen Sound Highway, the old Cameron farm adjoining the town. Mr. Farley took on the deal Mr. Wilkie's 50 acre farm further north on the same road. The price is reported to have been $10,000.

On Wednesday, January 9th, St. Clair Ave. Methodist Church, Toronto, was the scene of a quiet wedding, when Beulah Mary Hall eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs Thos. G. Hall, of Bolton and Brampton, was married to Mr. John Harold Breedon, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Breedon, of Bond Head.

Definite Policy of Immigration for Canadian National Railways

WHEN, a little more than a year ago, Sir Henry W. Thornton, K.B.E., was chosen to head the Canadian National Railways, one of his first acts was to put into motion machinery for aiding in the colonization and development of Canada, particularly along the lines of the National System. He realized that one of the crying needs of Canada was for more population, and he has since been quoted, on several occasions, as saying that if Canada had a population of twenty-five million people, Canada would have no railway problem.

The organization of a department to look after colonization and development was entrusted by Sir Henry to Mr. W. D. Robb, Vice-President, and Mr. Robb at once proceeded to build up the necessary organization to look after this most important national work. Investigations, conferences and careful planning gradually brought into being an effective department, the effort of the year culminating in the engagement of Dr. W. J. Black, Deputy Minister of Immigration and Colonization in the Federal Government, as Manager of the Colonization and Development Department of the Canadian National Railways, with headquarters in London, England. That was early in the Fall of 1923. Dr. Black proceeded at once to Great Britain, where he spent some weeks carrying out a series of investigations. These completed, he returned to Canada, and a general conference of all officers of the department was called and a definite plan of colonization and development was drawn up and announced. This was the first definite announcement on immigration to be announced in Canada.

DR. W. J. BLACK

—Dr. Black's Career

In engaging Dr. Black, the Canadian National Railways secured an officer who is probably better acquainted with the immigration needs of Canada, and the best methods of remedying those needs, than any other man in the country. All his life he has been connected with the agricultural industry and has run the gauntlet of all its intricate phases. He was born and brought up on a farm in Dufferin County, Ontario, and in 1902 graduated from the Ontario Agricultural College with a Toronto University degree. On his graduation he was appointed editor of the Farmers Advocate, Winnipeg, and held the position for two years. In 1905 he joined the Government of Manitoba as Deputy Minister of Agriculture, a post which he held for the following year to become President of the Manitoba Agricultural College. He remained in this important position until 1910, when he became Commissioner of Agriculture for Canada. At the conclusion of the Great War in 1918 Dr. Black was appointed Chairman of the Soldiers' Settlement Board of Canada, a position he held until his appointment, in 1921, as Deputy Minister of Immigration and Colonization for Canada.

Dr. Black is a man who is thoroughly respected, both for his opinions and his achievements, throughout Canada. He carries a lasting and genuine enthusiasm into his work, and as a quiet but eloquent and convincing speaker he is well fitted to broadcast the message of his important mission.

The Policy.

There are several points to the program which has received the approval of Sir Henry W. Thornton, and the principles of policy will be placed into effect immediately. Dr. Black sailed for England again on January 5th, and on his arrival in London his department commenced to function actively. The thorough character of the policy can be judged from a recapitulation of the seven principles, which are as follows:

1—To influence the immigration and satisfactory settlement in Canada of the largest possible number of people of productive capacity that the country can absorb and assimilate.

2—To contribute to the dissemination of information concerning the vast and extensive natural resources of the Dominion and the widespread opportunities for industrial development so that capital may be attracted from other countries and invested where enterprises will be legitimately rewarded.

3—To promote the land settlement of new Canadians under conditions that will ensure the maximum possibility of success in their farming operations, and enable them to enjoy such social and religious institutions as are necessary to individual happiness and contentment.

4—To encourage improvement in agriculture, that more diversified methods may be employed in farming and that crop, livestock, and dairy production may be increased in accordance with market demands and prospects.

5—To assist by organized effort the immigration of young people of desirable type and character, especially from Great Britain and to their placement in respectable situations where they may become qualified to participate in constructive activities and acquire citizenship of distinct value to Canada.

6—To aid in the development of new opportunities of service and to facilitate every effective means of selecting immigrants physically fit and anxious for work.

7—To co-operate with the Federal and Provincial Governments and business organizations throughout the Dominion in promoting all measures calculated to contribute toward an increase in immigration of adaptable people, and in their settlement under the most favorable conditions possible.

GREAT LAKES IN THE ICE AGE

Dr. A. P. Coleman, of the Provincial University, has been addressing gatherings in the province on the history of the Great Lakes and the Chicago drainage canal, and altogether apart from the drainage canal he has created renewed interest in one of the most fascinating problems in our local geology. Geologically speaking, it is a purely temporary condition that provides for the Hydro-Electric power developments, with a steady and constant supply of water. It is also one of the most artificial things in the world, beginning probably 25,000 years ago, and if a man takes no part in it, probably certain to end in 25,000 years more. It was all on account of an event that occurred a million years ago and ended 25,000 years back—the great ice age—that we have the present state of affairs. We have to put away all our present conceptions of the geography of the province as it is to-day, and try to imagine a country in an entirely different aspect when a great river flowed down from Lake Superior and Lake Huron coming out and discharging into the sea where Toronto now is. The old channel of the river is marked by the wells dug to serve the towns along its course. The river was abolished, the lakes took its place in some respects, and these changes constitute the geological history of the last 25,000 years. The old glaciers brought vast masses of material which filled the old valleys, making dams of earth and rocks and creating moraines. The ice reached seventy miles south of us here, and in some cases hundreds of miles south. When the ice began to retreat it took 20,000 years to do it, and as it thawed it blocked the waters again.

The Father of the Lakes

There were no lakes or rivers when the ice was here. One has to think of oneself five to seven thousand feet below the clear blue ice. There was then no water to flow no movement of water at all until the ice began to melt gradually from the south. The lake first flowed out at Chicago, but as the ice retreated the waters found an outlet by the Trent valley canal, going out at the Bay of Quinte. Travellers crossing at Trenton should look out and see the insignificant little river wiggling along at the bottom of the magnificent valley, where the great river from the vast ice mass once came down. The reason it did not continue to flow in this direction was because the old shore was tilted up towards the northeast. The surface of the earth had been loaded with ice and sand below the road when the ice thawed the earth came up again. As the land was enlightened of the ice load it began to rise. This destroyed the Trent channel and the river, as the ice melted, took the Ottawa outlet. While the water flowed in that direction it seemed permanent, but as the ice melted more and more the land gradually rose till part of the water went by Ottawa and part by the St. Clair and part by Chicago. A delicate balance was maintained when the Great Lake Agassiz of 100,000 square miles, as big as all the Great Lakes, had its three outlets. Which should become the main outlet. The land continued to rise and water began to pass through the Niagara Channel. Below the Falls the gorge six and a half miles long, is more interesting than the Falls themselves. The Falls have cut their way back from Queenstown at the rate of 4.2 feet a year.

Menace to Navigation

Why are Niagara Falls just where they are and not farther north or south? A whole host of problems are involved in this question. If there were no engineer to interfere the Falls will finally cut their way back to Lake Erie, which would be drained. There would no longer be falls, but rapids ,and Lake Erie which is very shallow and easily emptied, would give place to a river running through the deepest part of its bed. A chart of the lake levels shows that they change from time to time and the line of the chart goes up and down like saw teeth, with a rise and fall of five or six feet. At the present time the level is at the bottom of the low level. If five or six inches more were drawn off it would be a serious thing for navigation, and would affect every navigable harbor on the lakes. At Welland less than a month ago some vessels were going aground. If the water sank twelve inches they would all be stuck. The low water comes at the worst time at the end of the summer, when the cargoes are going to Montreal. At the southeast side of Chicago may be seen a broad depression like that of the Trent. When Chicago was started the creek was muddy and turbid, and they decided it would be a neat thing to put affairs in the old position, and instead of draining north, to let the lake run into Des Plaines, and so into the Illinois and thence into the Mississippi. The upper lakes did at one time flow in this direction, and if the land had risen fifty feet more the whole of the lakes would have drained into the Mississippi. It would not be a difficult matter now for an engineer of the capacity Chicago possesses to deepen the canal and drain all the water that way.

Might Turn Lakes South

This is the serious aspect of the situation. It is entirely possible to drain the whole of the Upper Lakes into the Mississippi, with the result that the Niagara would be reduced to one-fifteenth of its flow. If the Niagara were reduced to the size of the Ottawa our navigation and power facilities would be ended. Already they are planning for a ship canal from Chicago to New Orleans. At first it would be a shallow canal but it would be deepened. Dr. Coleman said he had wondered why St. Louis did not protest at having the Chicago sewage flow down upon it. That was not a very desirable mixture in their water supply, but the prospect of a ship canal might explain their complacence in St. Louis. He thought all the States in the west and the provinces should combine and prevent the matter going any further. The Chicago sewage could be treated in some other way. Dr. Coleman has published a study of the lake region during the last 25,000 years, in which he summarizes the conclusion of the geological regarding the various changes that have occurred there. He tabulates the changes under the heads of the Ontario basin, the upper lake basins the Hudson Bay slope and eastern Ontario. As the ice retreated it left many great lakes, which have changed their levels and boundaries from time to time. These lakes have been named and outlined: Duluth, Chicago, Agassiz, Warren, Algonquin, Iroquois, Frontenac, Admiralty, Nipissing, and finally Ontario. Lake Iroquois beach is continuous from Quay's siding, seven miles north of Port Hope, to Hamilton. The beach deposits at the Desjardins canal cut reach a depth of 83 feet, and many fossil remains have been found.

SEVEN YEARS OF TORTURE

Headaches and Indigestion Ended By "Fruit-a-tives"

The Marvellous Fruit Medicine

Like thousands and thousands of other sufferers, Mr. Albert Varner of Buckingham, P.Q., tried many remedies and went to doctors and specialists; but nothing did him any good.

Finally a friend advised him to try "Fruit-a-tives"—now he is well. As he says in a letter:

"For seven years, I suffered terribly from Headaches and Indigestion. I had belching gas, bitter stuff would come up in my mouth, often vomiting, and was terribly constipated. I took Fruit-a-tives and this grand fruit medicine made me well".

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. At dealers or sent by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa, Ont.

A Gambler's Chance

WHEN a man delays taking insurance he is gambling on his chance of living and his expectation of life.

When a man with a wife and children gambles on his chances of life and death, he should remember that the safety of his helpless dependents constitute the stakes. If he loses, it is they who will pay. And every day adds to the risk.

There is no better time to study your insurance situation and come to a decision than today. You will never be younger than you are now. Why not go to the telephone, call up the nearest Mutual Agent and make an appointment? Let him explain the principle of Mutual life insurance. Let him give you all the details about our leading policies. Mutual insurance is insurance at net cost. The Mutual Life of Canada is a strong company—one of the strongest and most efficient insurance companies in the world. Write us for Mutual literature, and make that appointment—now.

DUFFERIN CLYDESDALES WIN PRIZES

Orangeville district received some excellent advertising in live stock circles last week at the Peninsular Winter Fair, held at Chatham, Jan. 21st to 25th. The string of Clydesdales owned by Geo. Thompson, of Mono, were on exhibition and, with five animals and eight entries, Mr. Thompson won eight first prizes, two championships, and a reserve championship. The list of winnings included first on Clydesdale stallion foaled in 1920, on "Krishna;" (this horse was made champion Clydesdale stallion of the show); 1st on aged Clydesdale mare on "Queen of Maryfield;" (this mare was champion Clydesdale mare); 1st on Clydesdale mare, foaled in 1920 on "Salem Queen;" 1st on heavy draft team on "Lady Corinthian" and "Queen of Maryfield;" 1st on heavy draft three year old on "Salem Lass;" 1st on heavy draft two year old on "Salem Queen" and 1st for best string of five horses, any breed. This is a very creditable record and was made in competition with some of the best strings of show horses in the Province, and Mr. Thompson is to be highly congratulated on his winnings. On his return from the show on Tuesday evening, a rousing reception was accorded him, his exhibit being met by the Citizens' Band and paraded on Broadway, where a very large crowd of citizens were on hand to welcome one who has brought signal honours to himself and his community.

ADDRESSED LEAGUERS

Rev. W. E. Wilson, pastor of King Street Methodist Church, Toronto, addressed the Young People's League of Orangeville Methodist Church on Tuesday night of last week. Added interest was given the visit and lecture from the fact that Mr. Wilson, a son of the late W. L. Wilson, was born in Caledon and attended High School in Orangeville. Later he entered the ministry and for a time was stationed on Manitoulin Island. For the past eleven years he has been pastor of King St. Church, Toronto, one of the downtown charges. Mr. Wilson, who is an entertaining speaker, gave an interesting talk on his work, which is largely of a missionary nature. He told many stories, some humorous and others pathetic, of the conditions existing in the homes in the neighborhood of his church. The necessaries of life are supplied to the people at very moderate cost and if they are actually destitute they are given supplies free of charge. Mr. Wilson also spoke in informing manner of his police court work—helping those who get into trouble. In many cases it is not altogether the fault of the offender that he gets into trouble and often when the facts of the case are known, the person charged with the offence is more to be pitied than a proper subject for punishment. In such cases parole is frequently granted.

MONO MILLS

The annual meeting of the Anglican Women's Auxiliary was held at the home of Mrs. Henry Speers, Caledon. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year:—Pres. Mrs. Henry Speers; Vice-Pres., Mrs R. Jackson; Secretary, Mrs. S. J. Patterson; Teasurer, Mrs. O. Potter Dorcas Secretary, Mrs. W. G. Duke Leaflet Secretary, Mrs. W. J. Jackson. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. W. J. Jackson on Thursday afternoon, Feb. 7th. All the members are cordially invited to be present.

At the regular meeting in January of the L. T. B. Lodge No. 339 the members presented the W. M. Mrs. Wilson G. Duke, with a beautiful Irish linen tablecloth and the following address:—

Dear Sister Duke,—

We, the Sisters and Brethren of Loyal True Blue Lodge No. 339 would place on record a remembrance of this, the beginning of your 5th year in the Worshipful Mistress's chair.

We feel that we are indeed fortunate in having one who is possessed of the qualities so suited and necessary to occupy this, the highest position in our Lodge.

We know that the only reason you consent to accept this office is that the work of the True Blue and all it stands for is near to your heart and your talents and ability are always placed at the disposal of anything that is intended to go good.

We know that you often carry on the arduous and at times heavy duties of your office when you are wearied with other demands on your time and attention, and yet nothing in connection with the work of the Lodge is neglected even to the minutest detail.

We trust that you may in some measure feel repaid in the knowledge that the Lodge is prospering in every way and increasing, even doubling in membership under your hands, but we feel prompted to ask you to accept this small token of our appreciation and esteem, and as we look forward to your continued co-operation with us we hope and trust that you may be abundantly blessed in your own life, even as you are giving of your time and talents to be a help and a blessing to others.

Signed in behalf of the Lodge—Margaret Lee, D. M.; John Vance R. S.

Mono Mills, Jan. 14, 1924.

An organization meeting of Ward 4, Caledon, Conservatives, will be held at the home of Mr. John Vance on Thursday evening, February 7th A full attendance is requested.

WARDEN HENDERSON

JAMES HENDERSON

Warden of the County of Dufferin for 1924, resides on lot 25, con. 1 east, Mulmur township, the farm on which he was born 42 years ago. He is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs George Henderson. His father was a member of the Mulmur township council for five or six years, filling the offices of Councillor and Deputy Reeve. Warden Hepderson is now serving his sixth term in the Mulmur council. He was Councillor for two years, Deputy-Reeve for two years and is now commencing his second year in the Reeve's chair. Coming from Mulmur, always a hotbed of Conservatism, it is hardly necessary to state that Mr. Henderson is a staunch Conservative. He is a member of Black Bank Presbyterian Church and has been actively identified with Scarlet Hill L. O L. No. 1082 for a number of years. His fraternal affiliations include the Masonic Order, his mother lodge being Nitetis, No. 444, Creemore. While serving his township as Deputy Reeve, Warden Henderson filled the responsible office of Chairman of the Education Committee of the County Council. Last year he was Chairman of the Standing Committee on Boundary Line Bridges. The new Warden is affable and genial and it is no exaggeration to say that he has always been one of the really popular members of the County Council. It was generally acknowledged that he was in line for the Wardenship this year, but it is not often that a member of the Council is given this coveted office without a contest. Mr. Henderson furnished an exception to the usual rule, as he was elected without the necessity of a ballot. Warden Henderson is a fluent speaker, has a fund of good stories that he can tell in effective manner when the occasion offers and is well informed on county affairs and county council rules and procedure. He will fill his new office impartially and with a dignity and skill that will be worthy of the best traditions associated with the Wardenship in this county. Mr Henderson is married and the home of the Warden and his gracious wife is blessed with a daughter. The Banner joins a host of friends and well-wishers in congratulating Mr Henderson upon his elevation and wishing him a pleasant and successful year in the Warden's chair.

LEAVING ORANGEVILLE

Mr. H. A. Hannington, C. P. R agent in Orangeville for the last six years, has been appointed C. P. R. agent at West Toronto and will leave town to enter on his new duties the 1st of February. Mr. Hannington has been a courteous and capable agent, always ready to do anything in his power to oblige the public doing business with the railway company. He has made many warm friends in the town and district and these will be sorry indeed to learn of his departure. The appointment at West Toronto is quite an important promotion and a fitting recognition of Mr. Hannington's services to the railway company. We understand that a new agent will not be appointed here until the middle of February or later.

KEEP LITTLE ONES WELL IN WINTER

Winter is a dangerous season for the little ones. The days are changeable—one bright, the next one cold and stormy, so that the mother is afraid to take the children out for the fresh air and exercise they need so much. In consequence they are often cooped up in overheated, badly ventilated rooms and are soon seized with colds or grippe. What is needed to keep the little ones well is Baby's Own Tablets. They will regulate the stomach and bowels and drive out colds, and by their use the baby will be able to get over the winter season in perfect safety. The new sales tax will not increase the price of Baby's Own Tablets, as the company pays the tax. You can still obtain the Tablets through any medicine dealer, at 25 cents a box, or by mail, post paid, from The Dr Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville Ont.

GROWING UNEASY

A writ for $3,000 issued by Wm Martin, of Grand Valley, against the Petrie Cream Separator Co., has caused considerable uneasiness among a number of farmers in this vicinity. During the late fall and summer a flock of high-pressure stock salesmen swept up and down the sideroads and concession lines of this vicinity, and secured, it is said, about $8,000 of cash for stock in this concern. Lately they have been confining their energies in the vicinity of Orangeville, where they arranged for a site for the proposed factory, and chose certain individuals, invariably with a good cash account, as Directors. With the issuing of this writ the local interested peopleare becoming suspicious and concerned as to the probablity of getting any return from their investment. It is quite possible good and sufficient reasons may be advanced for the issuance of the writ but that does not allay the unrest here.—Grand Valley Star & Vidette.

DEAN–MORTIMER

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at the parsonage, 255 Westmoreland Ave., Toronto, on Thursday, January 17th, when Grace Elvira, only daughter of Capt Jas. Mortimer, 81 Fermanagh, Ave. Toronto, became the bride of Mr George M Dean, son of Mr. and Mrs. S.A. Dean, 81 Melville ave., Toronto. Rev. Capt Robb, pastor of Westmoreland Methodist Church, conducted the ceremony in the presence of the immediate relatives of the contracting parties. Immediately after the ceremony the guests repaired to the home of Mr. and Mrs Dean, where a sumptuous wedding repast was served. The young couple left on the 5.05 C. P. R. train to spend a short honeymoon with friends at Alton, the groom's home town. On their return Mr. and Mrs Dean will make their home in the city, where the groom has a responsible position with the Toronto Hydro-Electric System.

GEORGETOWN TO-NIGHT

Georgetown hockey team will clash with The Dufferins on the Arena ice to-night (Thursday) at 8.30 o'clock. This will be the last of the district championship games on the home ice and should draw a fine crowd of enthusiasts. In the Georgetown game these teams went full time without a score. The fact that they are so evenly matched ensures a game that will be well worth seeing. Orangeville Band in attendance. Skating after the game. Admission, 40c and 15c.

SKATING RACES

The Orangeville Arena management is putting on an attractive program of skating races, local and open, on Friday night of this week. Miss Kathleen McRae, Ontario Indoor and Outdoor Champion, Clare Eagen and Betty Herman, Leila Brooks, 15 year old champion, Isabelle Trotter and Dorothy Price, Russell Wills, junior city and Ontario 220 yard champion, Roy Brown junior Ontario and city champion, Harry Shaw and Harley Trumbell, 14 year old champions, Chas. Bedle, a 13 year old speed marvel, and other speed skaters of the Old Orchard Skating Club, Toronto, will be here for the evening and will take part in the open races, barrel jumping and other novelty events. If the ice is in good shape a big night is looked for. Orangeville Citizens' Band in attendance. Adults, 35c; children, 20c.

ST. ANDREW'S CHURCH

The annual business meeting of the congregation of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church was held on Thursday night, January 21st, Dr. R. N. Kyles, session clerk, presiding. Reports showed the finances of the church in better shape than they have been for several years. General fund receipts amounted to $4572.97. A debit balance of $316.22 from the preceding year had been reduced to $190.62 and has since been wiped out entirely by belated contributions. In addition to the general receipts a further sum of $1273.53 was raised by special contributions. $996.31 of this was applied to wipe out a note of $875.00 and interest, leaving a substantial balance to carry forward. The Ladies' Aid reported receipts of $904.93, including a balance of $206.63 from the preceding year. Mission Fund receipts amounted to $1111.26, practically the amount allotted to the congregation. A further sum of $73.60 was raised for the Lord's Day Alliance. The Session reported 36 new members, 8 removals by death, 12 removals by certificate and a present membership of 500. Officers elected were: Board of Managers, Alex. Connell G. B. Hayes, C. E. Hanley, three years, J. M. Cunningham, two years Secretary, A. D. McKitrick; Treasurer, C. V. Jeffers; Treasurer Mission Fund, J. M. Cunningham; Envelope Secretaries—General Fund Mr. and Mrs. D. Currie; Missions, Wallace Cunningham; Auditors John Norris and J. J. White.

Motions were passed thanking the Pastor, Rev. F. W. Mahaffy, the church choir and the auxiliary organizations for their efficient services throughout the year.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The members of the Orangeville Women's Institute were entertained at the home of Mrs. Vernet Armstrong, East Broadway, on Tuesday afternoon. The programme included a reading, "The Secret of Happiness," by Mrs. T. G. Legate, and an address on "Overseas Experiences" by Rev. J. W. McDonald. The numbers were all very interesting and were very much appreciated.

SILVER WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Goddard, of Isabella St., Brampton, were the recipients of many hearty congratulations recently, on the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage Among their guests were their children, Mrs. J. W. Davis, Miss Sadie and Mr. Stanley Goddard, Mr. Jas. Johnston and family, Orangeville Mrs. Lou Johnston, Orangeville Miss Daisy Morrison, Toronto, and Mr. W. J. Stewart, Kitchener. Many handsome gifts of silver were received by the happy couple. Mr. and Mrs. Goddard were married at the home of the bride's brother, Mr. Jas. Johnston, 1st line, west, Caledon, by Rev. C. W. Reynolds, then pastor of the Alton Methodist circuit.

WILLIAM YOUNG

William H. Young, a well-known Albion farmer, passed away at his home, lot 12, con. 1, in that township, on Tuesday of last week at the age of 59 years. Deceased, who was unmarried and resided with his two sisters, had been in failing health for a considerable length of time. The late Mr. Young was a member of the Methodist Church and a Liberal in politics. He was a quiet, unassuming conscientious man, who was held in general respect by the community. The sympathy of the neighborhood is extended to the sisters in their sorrow. The funeral was held to Providence Church Cemetery on Thursday afternoon.

—Mrs. Thos. Turnbull (nee Blanche McNaughton), of Melita Man., who is visiting her brothers Messrs. J. M. and J. F. McNaughton, and other friends here, received bad news last week in the form of a message from her husband stating that their barn and stabling had been destroyed by fire. 15 horses, 15 head of cattle and other stock and implements were destroyed in the blaze.

TORTURES OF SCIATICA

Relieved by Enriching and Purifying the Blood.

Sciatica is neuralgia of the sciatic nerve and the treatment should be the same as for other forms of neuralgia. Sciatica is stubborn in resisting treatment and the patient frequently suffers for years.

So many cases of sciatica have been helped by Dr. Williams' Pink Pills that every sufferer is justified in giving this treatment a thorough trial. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do not simply relieve pain—they correct diseases caused by weak watery blood. Thus they are beneficial in the treatment of even the most severe disorders. Their value in cases of this kind is shown by the experience of Miss Lizzie Freeman Nogies Creek, Ont., who says:—"I was confined to bed for seven weeks with sciatica. What I suffered is almost impossible to realize. The doctor did all he could for me, and yet I was not getting any better and he told me the trouble was likely to leave me crippled. A neighbor who was in to see me, strongly advised me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I decided to do so and after taking them for a while found they were helping me. I continued taking the pills until I had taken nine boxes, when I was able to walk as well as ever, and felt that I was fully restored. In view of what these pills have done for me I strongly recommend them to all sufferers."

If you are suffering from any condition due to poor, watery blood or weak nerves, begin taking Dr Williams' Pink Pills now and note how your strength and health will improve.

The new sales tax will not increase the price of Dr. Williams Pink Pills, as the company pays the tax. You can still obtain the pill through any medicine dealer, at 50 cents a box, or by mail, post paid at this price, from The Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

MISSIONARY TO SPEAK

Rev. Stanley E. Annis, M. A., B. D., now home on furlough, will deliver an address on his work among the Chinese people at the annual Missionary meeting of the Young People's League in the Methodist Church on Monday evening, February 11th.

HOSPITAL NOTES

We are very grateful to Mr. Mellick, of Vineland, for a case of canned fruit.

It is the decision of the Committee in charge of the last I. O. D. E. Euchre to give the proceeds, which amounted to around $45.00, for a floor lamp for the maternity ward The balance, if any, is to go toward the maternity bed fund.

The regular monthly meeting of the I. O. D. E. will be held in the Library Auditorium on Friday afternoon, Feb. 8th, at 3 o'clock. Members will please take notice that the fees of 75c will be due and payable at this meeting.

HOUSE DESTROYED

A roughcast house south of Mono Centre, owned and occupied by the late Robert McCutcheon for many years, was destroyed by fire on Friday afternoon. Miller Gray, the tenant of the place, had gone to Mono Centre a short time before the fire broke out. Overheated stovepipes are believed to have caused the conflagration. The house is owned by Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Langford, who had a new sewing machine two cupboards, a number of dishes and other effects stored in one of the rooms. Gray lost his furniture as well. Mr. Langford had $500 insurance on the house, but nothing on contents. Gray had $200 on contents. The loss is estimated at close to $2,000.

CALEDON

The weather man seems to have settled himself again after his wild rampage of last week.

The short course has attracted a number of new pupils. Mr. Sinclair who has been instructor on gas engines, automobiles and tractors, has been very popular with the boys.

On Friday evening last a very interesting debate was staged between the boys' and girls' classes. Mr. Meredith McKim and Mr. Elgin Laughlin represented the boys, while Miss Akitt and Miss Mary Flaherty championed the cause for the girls. The subject was: "Resolved that the farmer has more assets at the end of life than the professional man." Messrs. McKim and Laughlin both showed considerable platform ability and piled up a mountain of evidence for the farmers' side. Misses Akitt and Flaherty approached their subject rather timidly, as was becoming their sex, but managed to refute a number of their opponents' arguments but the judges decided in favor of the affirmative, which seemed to be a very popular verdict with the crowd. Miss Chapman Mr. Sinclair and Mr. Homer Hillyard acted as judges.

Mr. Thomas Smith, our veteran ex-reeve, is celebrating his 82nd birthday to-day (Thursday). Mr. Smith is still hale and hearty despite his advanced years and gives many very interesting accounts of clearing land and harvesting when the cradle was the main implement for cutting the grain and the flail did the threshing. We wish him many happy returns of the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Chambers have been visited by the stork and are now the proud possessors of a daughter

HELD GUELPH

Last Year's Runners-Up Needed Overtime to Defeat Orangeville in Exciting Hockey Game.

Hockey fans had the opportunity of witnessing the finest hockey game ever played in Orangeville on the Arena ice last Thursday night. The contending teams were Guelph and Orangeville, who met in the first of home and home games in the O. H. A. intermediate district series. The visitors are admitted to have one of the fastest intermediate teams in the province. In proof of this statement it is only necessary to mention that they were runners-up in the intermediate series last season. Their team has been further strengthened for this year and hockey experts are agreed that they are going to take a lot of beating in the race for championship honors. The Royal City team and their supporters had badly underestimated the strength of The Dufferins and came to town looking for an easy victory by a score of 10 to 0 or thereabouts. Their confidence received a rude jolt in the first period, when the best they could do against the speedy Dufferins was a tie score, the period ending with one goal to the credit of each of the teams. Play was very fast and even throughout and the spectators were fairly on tiptoe with excitement Supporters of the home team were in jubilant mood when the gong rang for the rest period, as they too had figured that the Dufferins would be easy picking for the Royal City sextette. Roque tallied the first goal of the game for Guelph and Train evened the count a few minutes later. In the second period neither team was able to score, although both goaltenders had a number of close calls. Once a Guelph score seemed inevitable, but Golden blocked in wonderful style, jumping out of the goal so quickly that he intercepted the puck almost as it left the stick of the Guelph marksman. Guelph went out in front for the second time in the final period and again Orangeville tied the score on a fast combination play between Thompson and Wilson, the latter netting the puck. Guelph scored on a long lift early in the first five minutes overtime. The Dufferins tried hard for the rest of the time but their marksmen were unable to beat Hayes. The Guelph team had a real scare and were mighty pleased to pull out with their one goal lead

From the spectators' standpoint the game was a beauty. There was plenty of action and spirit from start to finish. Guelph excelled in system and combination work, but the Dufferins offset this by determination and the pertinacity with which the players stuck to their checks, thereby spoiling many a promising combination play. Several of the Guelph men were beautiful players and stick handlers and it was a treat to see them work their way down the ice with the puck Golden had a busy night in the Orangeville net, the Royal City marksmen raining shots on him from all angles. They were all alike to Fred and he stopped nearly everything that came his way. His clearing was also skilful. Cruikshank and Scott were effective on the defence and were also responsible for many dangerous forays into enemy territory; Wilson skated like a demon and was easily the pick of the forward line. He was ably supported by McGrath and Train, the latter a young player of fine promise. Thomson and Ridley also showed well and Myers was right at home in the fast travelling. A fair-sized crowd witnessed the game. The players:—

Guelph — Goal, Hayes; defence Bergault and Woods; centre, Mitchell; r. wing, Roque; l. wing, Craven; subs., Brill. Roque and Hollands.

Orangeville—Goal, Golden; defence, Cruikshank and Scott; centre Wilson; r. w., Train; l. w., McGrath subs., Ridley, Thompson and Myers Referee—Jack Carmichael Toronto.

MRS. ESTHER MACDONALD

The people of Camilla community were deeply grieved by the sudden death of Mrs. Esther MacDonald, who passed away on Saturday, January 19th., after a illness of short duration. Deceased was in her usual health up to Friday night, when she was taken suddenly ill with heart trouble. Although a doctor and trained nurse were speedily in attendance their efforts proved unavailing and she passed peacefully away on Saturday afternoon. The late Mrs. MacDonald whose maiden name was Esther Burnett, was born in 1872 in the township of Chinguacousy in the neighboring County of Peel. In 1875 she married James MacDonald who predeceased her 13 years ago and came as a bride to lot 18 on the Prince of Wales Road, and had lived in that vicinity ever since. Mrs. MacDonald was a member of Camilla Presbyterian church and was always much interested in Sunday School work. She was in every respect an exemplary Christian woman and as such, as well as for her sterling character, was highly respected by all who knew her. The funeral was held from her late residence at Camilla at 2 o'clock on Monday afternoon to the Forest Lawn Cemetery and notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, was largely attended. The service was conducted by Rev. William Coutts. The pallbearers were Messrs. Geo. Rayfield, Alex. Mann, Maura McNaughton, Miller Giffen, Alex. Ball and John Ledlow. There was a lage number of beautiful floral tributes, including a pillar from the church, a sheaf from Mr. and Mrs. Peyntz, Brampton, sheaf from Mr. and Mrs. A. White a wreat from the Ledlow family and sprays from Misses F. and C. Shain, Mr. and Mrs. A. Mann, Miss Anderson and Mr. and Mrs. Alex. Bell.

Friends from a distance were Mrs. Geo. Judge, Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Peyntz, Brampton; Mr. Miller Giffen, Cheltenham, and Mr. Andrew Giffen, Snelgrove. Mrs. MacDonald is survived by one brother, John Burnett, of Missouri, and one sister. Mrs. W. H. Norrie, of Crookstown, Minn.

MRS. (DR.) S. M. HENRY

Just one year after the death of her husband, the late Dr. S. M Henry, Mrs. Ann. J. Henry passed away on Monday at her residence 138 Howard Park Ave., Toronto, in her 71st year. Mrs. Henry had lived for many years in Harriston where her husband practiced his profession. The family moved to Toronto seven or eight years ago. She is survived by one daughter, Miss Maud, of Toronto, and three sons, Robert J., manager of the Imperial Life Assurance Co. Windsor Dr. T. H. Henry, Woodstock, and C. N. Henry, manager of the Dominion Bank, Oshawa. J. F. Mitchell, of Mono Road, is a brother. Deceased was an aunt of Dr. T. H. Henry and Mr. J. Z. Henry, Orangeville.

FARMINGTON

Owing to the efforts of our energetic teacher, Mr. H. Griggs, the young people of this vicinity organized a club a few weeks ago to be known as the Farmington Dramatic Club. At the first meeting, which was held at Mr. H. Bowen's, the following officers were elected:—President, Mr. Hugh Griggs; Vice-President, Mrs. W. E. Prust; Secretary-Treasurer, Miss Jessie Walker Manager, Miss Irene Bowen; Director, Mr. V. E. Prust. We wish the Club every success and hope to hear further fom them in the near future.

Miss Grace Fraser, Toronto, is visiting friends at The Maples and Laurel.

Liven up the dull weeks

The early weeks of 1924 will not be dull for those who go after business with special offers by Long Distance.

People have money enough and confidence enough to buy now if you will make it worth their while.

Snow, and later Spring floods, will make it difficult for travellers to call on their trade.

Long Distance will overcome the handicap.

Tells of the Good Work Dodd's Kidney Pills Are Doing.

Mrs. C. H. Laflamme tried them and is now recommending them to her friends.

Bridgeville, Que., January 28th (Special): "Dodd's Kidney Pills have done me a great deal of good. I have taken many other remedies, but none of them did what the first box of Dodd's Kidney Pills did for me I tell all my friends about them."

This statement, which speaks for itself, is made by Mrs. C. H. Laflamme, well known resident of this place.

Kidney trouble is very common amongst all classes of people, and usually a lot of valuable time is lost by using unsuitable treatments. A good plan is to watch the kidneys and keep them healthy. Dodd's Kidney Pills stimulate and strengthen weak kidneys. They are used and recommended all over the civilized world.

Dodd's Kidney Pills have restored sound health to thousands of troubled women and men.

WATERPOWER TOOTHBRUSH

An automatic toothbrush recently invented operates on the same principle as the "buffer" used by dentists in polishing tooth surfaces. The brush is driven by a small water motor attached to the faucet, power being transmitted by a flexible cable. All that is necessary is to apply the paste to the brush, turn on the faucet and the water does the rest.

MENDING CELLULOID DISHES

To mend cracked celluloid dishes apply a strong solution of celluloid in amyl acetate to the cracks; if it is necessary cement a piece of celluloid film over the crack with the solution. If the cracks are at the edges or corners they are difficult to repair effectually, and in such cases it may be necessary to buy new dishes.

EDISON'S CASH VALUE.

Its Ideas Influence the World Beyond Calculation.

There is one human brain that has a hard cash market value to-day, in the business and industrial world, of $15,000,000,000. Billions is correct, not millions. That is within 20 per cent. of equalling the value of all the gold dug from the mines of the earth since America was discovered.

The brain is that of Thomas Alva Edison, who many a time has said to his cronies, "Well, if worse comes to worst, I've ... a good trade. I can always make $75 a month as a telegraph operator and I can live comfortably on that."

The $15,000,000,000 represents the present investment in America alone in industries which are entirely based the inventions of Edison or which have been materially stimulated by his inventions. Several of the country's largest industries are included.

Here is the list, and it touches only the high spots. It shows either the capital or the total investment, according to the latest dependable estimates:

Moving pictures	$1,250,000,000
Telephones	1,000,000,000
Electric railways	6,500,000,000
Electric lighting and power	5,000,000,000
Electrical supplies	857,000,000
Fixtures	37,000,000
Phonographs	105,000,000
Electric car shops	109,000,000
Dynamos and motors	100,000,000
Edison storage batteries	5,000,000
Cement	271,000,000
Telegraph	350,000,000
Wireless telegraph	15,000,000

The total is $15,599,000,000.

It will at once be objected that Edison did not invent the telephone, for instance. True. But he did invent the carbon transmitter—he is said to have sold it for $100,000—without which the telephone would not have been commercially practicable on a large scale.

If there are items in the table which in fairness should not be entirely placed to Edison's credit, there are still others not mentioned at all which would in the aggregate run his brain value up to more than the total as given.

Take copper, for example. It came to the fore with the growth of electricity. Indirectly it was Edison who made it the spectacular metal, as a result of copper's merits as a conductor. The copper output in 1880 was 27,000 tons; in 1921 it was 593,907 tons. The smelting alone of copper represents $308,680,268 capital, thirty-four plants paying 17,345 employes $25,723,371 wages a year out of gross sales of $051,101,591.

But let copper, which is not in the fifteen billion dollar tabulation, pass as a make-weight. Pass over glass and rubber and a dozen or score of other items whose volume of sales to-day is partly the result of Edison's work. Turn to a British handbook on electrical enterprises in Great Britain, Ireland, the colonies and India, and you find that $3,000,000,000 is the aggregate investment in 1,414 electric lighting, traction, telegraph, telephone and similar enterprises, public and private. Here is a three billion dollar buffer to draw on for Edison's credit against any deductions in the American list.

All in all, Edison has taken out more patents than any other individual. In "Edison, His Life and Inventions," by Frank L. Dyer and Thomas C. Martin, a list of more than a thousand patents, complete to 1909, covers twenty-seven pages, aside from 1,239 foreign patents. By 1917, the total had passed the 1,500 mark even though in late years Edison devoted himself chiefly to perfecting his work.

Plant With Brains.

The mimosa of Brazil is a plant which reveals more "intelligence," perhaps, than any other. A football, a light torch, or any sudden disturbance will cause the leaves to close together and hang as though they had suddenly wilted.

Grazing animals are attracted by the light green leaves of the mimosa. At their approach the plant will begin to droop. The attractive fresh leaves of a moment before look dry and utterly unappetizing. The marauding animal does not fancy the dried-up dinner and so it moves on.

Should the animal, however, be particularly hungry, and inclined to investigate further, he gets some nasty pricks from the long sharp thorns with which the stems of the plant are studded. He is soon convinced that a meal in this spot would be accompanied by much pain, so he goes.

A few minutes after the danger is past the mimosa will resume its usual appearance and look as green and fresh as ever.

Religion Unites Arabs.

Every Arab tribe is self-governing. They are a law to themselves, responsible only to their own leader or chief. So far no leader has yet arisen who has had sufficient individual influence to unite all the tribes. Alone of all the Arab tribes the Kababish resisted the all-powerful, all-conquering Mahdi, Mohammed Ahmed, who overran the Sudan in 1882, utterly annihilated an army of eleven thousand men under the British General Hicks Pasha at El Obeid, captured Khartoum and slew General Gordon, and ruled the country in a welter of blood, reducing the population in three years from ten to four millions. The Arab Empire is the oldest of all empires. Records as far back as 3000 B.C. tell of a firmly founded Arab Empire, limited then to the Gizaret-el-Arab or Gardens of the Arabs—the country now known as the Arabian Peninsula.

ELLIOTT WARDEN

Reeves of Albion and Chinguacousy in Deadlock for Wardenship of Peel.

T. H. Elliott, Reeve of Chinguacousy, will be Warden for Peel County this year, but he did not get the honor without one of the hardest battles ever fought in the county council sittings. It was late yesterday afternoon when his election was assured and in the same manner as that of O. R. Church's appointment last year. Reeve Pallett, representing Toronto township, the highest assessed township in the county, was called upon to break the existing tie and he cast his second ballot in favor of Mr. Elliott.

W. N. Riddell, the defeated aspirant in the final vote, takes his defeat like the good sport he is. Last year he tied O. R. Church for the honor and Mr. Pallett's vote eliminated him. Again this year he gets a repeated dose of the same medicine. It was thought before Council went into session on Tuesday that Mr Riddell would be given the first office in the county council, but it was not to be. There is no more determined fighter than Tom Elliott of Cheltenham and his determination got him the Wardenship. All power to the fighting Chinguacousy reeve.

W. N. Riddell, to whom fate has been unkind, has had considerable municipal experience. He was first elected Councillor of Albion in 1900 and returned in 1901. He was Reeve the following two years. He retired until 1906, when he came back as reeve and served one term. Again he dropped out of municipal life until 1920 when he was returned as reeve, a position he has ably filled since, being elected every year.

On the first day of the session there was a deadlock and it continued up to Wednesday noon. Fourteen votes were taken Tuesday and always with the same result. Mr Elliott received Chinguacousy's two votes, Toronto township's four votes Port Credit and Toronto Gore. With Mr. Riddell was the Albion, Caledon and Brampton pair of representatives, Bolton and Streetsville. Mr Wegenast, a third applicant, received the same vote as Mr. Riddell with the exception of Deputy-Reeve Wilson, of Caledon.

On Wednesday afternoon other names were added and James McDonald, Caledon, almost had the good fortune to get the Wardenship However it was not on the program and last minute voters again created a tie. At this juncture an amended resolution was introduced in which the man receiving the lowest number of votes was compelled to drop out. The result was another vote was taken and Messrs. Elliott and Riddell had the field to themselves Here Mr. Pallett, who swings a wicked vote when a tie is created came through with the vote that elected T. H. Elliott.

Mr. Elliott is very popular with the electors of Chinguacousy and a general in municipal politics. He has served his township excellently ready at all times to fight their battles. He has been a member of the county council for the past five years, deputy-reeve for 1920 and 1921, and reeve for 1922, 1923 and 1924.—Peel Banner.

WHY A TOP DOES NOT FALL

When a top is spinning every part of it is trying to fly away from the centre. As each particle of the top has an equal pull none of them can upset the balance of the others. This is known as centrifugal force and as long as this force is strong enough—that is, as long as the spin lasts—it counteracts the ordinary power of gravity, which must confine itself to the peg of the top, the only point actually touching the earth. When the top slows down the centrifugal force relaxes, gravity comes into its own again, and the top falls over.

RABBIT PIE

Soak the rabbit in salt water and parboil in onion water, pour away this first water. Boil in water with one small onion until tender. Strain and thicken stock with butter and flour rubbed together. Put pieces of rabbit in baking dish, pour over gravy and cover with baking powder biscuit dough. Bake thirty minutes in a hot oven. Allow one tablespoon flour, one-half tablespoon butter and one-half teaspoon salt for every cup of stock when making gravy.

JAPANESE ART IN KYOTO.

Work of Ancient Schools Allied to Chinese Methods.

What Nara is to the sculptural tradition of Japan, Kyoto is to that of painting. And, like the now sleepy city which she succeeded as capital of the country so many centuries ago, the great human hive on the Kamogawa is blessed with a natural setting of almost incomparable beauty. Above the river plain, on the rising sun side, impends a forested ridge of hills, the Higashiyama, or Eastern Mountain, along the crest of which, remote yet intimately close, is stretched a line of ancient, historic and very beautiful temples, of which perhaps the most memorable are Chion-in and the striking Kiyomizudera on its trestles.

To lounge on its balcony at a quiet hour and from the brink of the precipitous hillside look down into and listen to the crowded city from which an incessant hum of humanity floats upwards gives a sensation to which the writer, out of much world wandering, remembers only one parallel—the sight and sound of Granada lying under the Alhambra hill.

Down in Kyoto proper, in the midst of the city and scattered here and there in its wide stretching suburbs, are scores of other temples and several palaces which preserve the country's finest traditions of painting, architecture and landscaping art on the minute scale.

Notable among these last is the garden of the Awata palace, which was built as a place of retirement for the Emperor Seiwa in A. D. 879. The enclosure is a dream of restrained loveliness where for centuries the Kerria has been blooming golden every springtime, to be followed by the azalea and wistaria, and in the fall the maples.

Like the sculpture of Nara, the painting of Kyoto dates back to the sixth century, when Buddhism brought with it from China and Corea an already highly developed art.

In the temples, palaces and museums of the city the whole course of its further growth may be traced by one who cares enough to be patient, and the gradual engrafting of Japanese inspiration on to Chinese methods may be seen.

The eleventh century work of the Kose school, with its passion for mountain scenery and its entrancing treatment of bird life, not by delineation but by suggestion and impressionism, points the way to much that became very characteristic of Japanese painting later, as does the Tosa school of the thirteenth century, with its magnificent combinations of color and remarkable skill in composition. These men were the precursors of all Japanese decorators and illustrators. They did their work largely on screens, sliding doors and historic scrolls.

In the fifteenth century, when America was barely in process of discovery, came the master regarded by Japanese as their greatest, Sesshu, "the open door through which all contemporary and subsequent artists looked into the seventh heaven of Chinese genius." And at the same time there was growing up in Kyoto that succession of unique naural painters, the artists of the Kano school, who beautified for all time the walls of several of the temples and of the Nijo castle of the Shoguns. One of them, Eitoku, with his pupils, has been credited with originating the greatest purely decorative style of painting the East has ever seen, marked by rich color harmonies and extensive use of gold.

The Sheep and the Goats.

The Rev. Amos Johnson, of the colored Baptist church, had preached a powerful sermon, stating positively that there would be no white people in heaven.

The Rev. Jesse Wise, of the First Baptist church (white,) had heard of it through his gardener, and meeting the colored preacher, he asked: "Brother Johnson, you don't really believe that, do you?"

"I does, sah."

"But I should like to have your proof, Brother Johnson. Where did you get your authority for such a statement?"

"Bruthuh Wise, I gets mah proof from de Bible, fo' in de twenty-fifth chapteh of St. Matthew an' de thirty-third verse it says de Lord set de sheep on His right hand an' de goats He sends away to eveh-lastin' punishment."

"Yes, that is true," said the pastor of the white flock, "but how do you make out that the colored people are the only sheep?

"Well, sar, I ax you, who's got de wool?"—Judge.

Fatalistic Notion of Kismet.

The fatalistic notion of kismet inculcated by the doctrine of predestination, importantly influences Turkish thought and action—or inaction—as it assumes that all events affecting mankind are absolutely preordained by Allah, who has written them down in the "Preserved Tablet," delivered to the angels on the "Night of Destiny."

Neglected of all sanitary precautions—not to say hostility to them—is one important result of kismet, notwithstanding that Moslems are enjoined by the Sacred Law to regular and careful ablutions. Quarantine regulations are officially observed at Constantinople and the other large seaports, but in towns of the interior the Moslem population manifests the greatest dislike to such sanitary regulations, which it regards as profane interference with the will of Allah.

Some Singer.

This advertisement appeared in a Midland newspaper the other day: "Wanted, a steady, respectable young man to look after a garden and milk a cow who has a good voice and is accustomed to sing in the choir."

The Lord helps them that help themselves, provided they don't help themselves to what belongs to somebody else.

OFFICERS FIND STILL NEAR MONO ROAD

A well-beaten path in the snow from railway tracks into the farm and home of Mrs. Annie Burtschell fourth line of Caledon township near Mono Road, supplied the authorities with sufficient information to base an application for a warrant charging the woman with operating a still.

Preventive Revenue Officer Edward Floody, of Toronto, drove out to Mono Road and was joined by License Inspector T. J. Robinson and Provincial Constable J. Mennie, of Orangeville. Just before the home of Mrs. Burtschell was reached the official car got stuck in a snowbank and the officers went the rest of the way on foot.

There was no answer to knocks on the door, but the officers claim they could hear the familiar noise of a still in operation. Then they saw a window blind move, indicating that the place was occupied. Another knock failing to bring an answer, the door was forced. The still, according to the officers, was in operation when they entered. The woman said, the police report, she had set it in motion at 7 o'clock, and the two gallons of liquor turned out were seized by the officers. She claimed mash had been made from sugar, molasses and yeast, the police say. The still, a modern one, was seized and taken to Brampton. The woman was told she would be summoned for operating a still. Her son was in Toronto, but she accepted full responsibility for the presence of the still in the house.

Mrs. Burtschell was tried in Brampton and fined $200 and costs.

NEW LAMP BURNS 95 P. C. AIR

BEATS ELECTRIC OR GAS

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 per cent. air and 6 per cent. common kerosene (coal oil.)

The inventor, F. N. Johnson, 246 Craig St. W., Montreal, is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him to-day for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

MAN AN ELECTRIC MACHINE

The human body is a machine driven by electricity and controlled by the strong emotions, which act as levers is a theory recently put forward. The brain and liver are described as the positive and negative poles of an electric battery, and the nerves are regarded as connecting wires. The supporter of the idea asserts there is much evidence to show that men and animals are constructed of component cells, each of which is an important "electro-chemical" part. Sleep is explained by this theory as the period when the voltage used in driving the battery is being restored.

Health and Comfort

AS age advances our wants are not many and with reasonably good health we can enjoy the peaceful period of life in comfort and happiness.

But unfortunately there are certain ills which conspire to destroy the pleasure of this time in life and they are usually of a decidedly painful nature.

The kidneys are often the first of the bodily organs to fail. Then the poisonous acids which should be eliminated by the kidneys circulate in the blood and cause backache, rheumatism, lumbago and the many ailments which make life so miserable.

There has, perhaps, never been a medicine so well suited for people of advancing years as Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills.

This statement is founded on the many thousands of cases reported to us from time to time.

The success of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver pills is due to their direct and specific action on the liver, kidneys and bowels whereby the accumulating poisons are quickly swept from the system and the cause of pains and aches promptly removed.

Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills do not lose their effect on the system as do so many medicines but can be depended on absolutely to bring about the desired results. Used one pill a dose at bedtime as often as is necessary to keep the bowels regular, they relieve indigestion, biliousness and constipation and keep the system in healthful condition.

You will notice that while the price of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills has been increased to 35 cents, the box now contains 35 pills instead of 25 as formerly.

Likewise the price of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is now 60 cents a box of 60 pills instead of 60 cents for 50 pills. Edmanson Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto.

CANADIAN NATIONAL RAILWAYS ADOPT RADIO

The announcement by Mr. W. D. Robb, Vice-President, that the Canadian National Railways will equip all their hotels and transcontinental trains with radio receiving sets and broadcast to them messages, news and programs of entertainment, marks a distinct forward step in radio development. It is the first time that radio has been adopted as a part of the regular service of a rail transportation system. Mr. Robb, who is in charge of the radio department of the National System, is completing plans for the linking-up across Canada of a number of powerful broadcasting stations to be used by the railway for the regular distribution of its radio service. The photograph shows Mr. Robb in Montreal, delivering into the microphone, the instrument which broadcasts the voice by radio waves, a message to Canadian National Railways employees and the general public. This message was heard as far south as Carolina, as far west as Chicago, and as far east as Halifax.

LEFT-HANDED PEN

Most people who write with their left hands catch the point of the pen in the paper, causing spluttering. To meet the needs of these writers a pen has been designed specially for use by left-handed writers; the pen has a turned-up point designed to prevent catching.

A very quiet wedding took place at Trinity Church Rectory, Chippawa by the Rev. Robt. H. Brett, on Jan. 16th, of Mary (Reta) Kathleen third eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Wattam, of Shelburne, and Gottlieb, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Gottlieb Schabel, of Chippawa. They will reside on the groom's farm in Willoughby township.

One of the most remarkable features of this unusual winter is reported by Martin Nichol, a farmer of the 9th concession of Beverly. He is the owner of an old hen, which hid away nine eggs in the cow stable, hatching out five chickens on January 2nd. This shatters all records for early broods. The little birds are doing well.

Dr. Martin's office and residence in Dundalk was under quarantine for a short period in rather peculiar manner. There are a few cases of scarlet fever out in the country and Dr. Martin was preparing to take the red placards out to put on the premises. Some of the cards were left on the Doctor's office table and one of the children at play put a card in the street window.

McClinton, No. 1082; 2nd Lec., James Henderson, No. 1082.

The annual meeting of the congregation of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Hillsburg, showed all departments to be in a flourishing condition. New members received were 33; by profession of faith, 16 by certificate 15; baptisms, 5 infants and 3 adults. The active membership now stands at 241. The minister's stipend was increased $100. The manse and church have been wired and are now lighted by electricity.

A FAMOUS DETECTIVE

WILLIAM ALLAN PINKERTON WAS HUMANITARIAN.

Founder of Detective Agency Was a Scottish Cooper Who Ferreted Out a Gang of Counterfeiters at Dundee, Ills.—Citizens Made Him Sheriff — Sons Carried on His Work.

William Allan Pinkerton, acclaimed as the greatest detective in the world, died the other day and it is said that while he had thousands of friends, as many mourned his death who had seen the inside of prison as those who know it only from the outside. For he was not only a famous detective; he was a great humanitarian, a leader among those who believed the repentent offender should get another chance. William A. Pinkerton is credited with having given a helping hand to hundreds of men whom he had sent to jail. One of the most notable of them was Jimmy Dunlop, who robbed a Massachusetts bank of $3,000,000. The Pinkertons convicted him. Later on they secured his pardon and when he was released furnished him with capital to start in the printing business. He made good and became a fast friend of his benefactors. William A. Pinkerton, who was a racing enthusiast, used often to take Dunlop with him on his visits to Saratoga. He said that very few men he had befriended reverted to evil ways

The founder of the Pinkerton Detective Agency, most famous private inquiry firm in the world, was Allan Pinkerton, a Scotsman. He was a cooper in Dundee, Illinois, at a time when a gang of counterfeiters was operating there. Pinkerton ferreted them out, and the citizens, impressed by his ability, elected him sheriff. But he had wider ambitions and soon moved to Chicago, where he established his detective agency. The name of Pinkerton became nationally famous a few years later when the firm arrested thieves who had stolen $40,000 from the Adams Express Company. News that there was a conspiracy to assassinate Lincoln on the way to his first inauguration led Pinkerton to organize a force to foil that conspiracy, and since the attempt was not made Pinkerton was credited with having defeated it. So he was asked by the President to go to Washington to establish the United States Secret Service.

The importance of the firm had been greatly enhanced by the war. It had a sort of semi-official standing which other firms craved in vain, and as Allan, and his two sons Robert and William, were skilled detectives themselves, shrewd judges of character, and surrounded themselves by the best intelligences (of the necessary kind) that they could find, the business of the firm rapidly increased, until branches were formed in numerous cities. Their skill not only in running down thieves but in recovering stolen property, which was regarded as of more importance by the people who employed them, was illustrated shortly in the recovery of $700,000 stolen from the Adams Express Company. They broke up the notorious Molly Maguire gang of murderers and terrorists in the Pennsylvania coal fields, and this work led to them being employed frequently by railroad and other corporations to handle great strikes, the duty of the Pinkertons being, at short notice to gather hundreds of hard-boiled strike-breakers and at the same time worm their agents into the confidence of the strikers.

When Allan Pinkerton passed away the business was inherited jointly by Robert and William, and William is credited with evolving the idea which was to prove most profitable to the firm. He succeeded in getting many of the bankers of the United States to join in a protective association, and commission the Pinkertons to guard their money. In the eighties there were, outside of a few large cities, no such massive safes as are in common use to-day. Robberies were frequent, for it was not a matter of great difficulty for the burglars to blow open a safe. The Pinkerton agents knew most of the bank robbers in the country and sent this message to them: "You leave our people alone and we'll leave you alone. If you don't, we'll follow you to the end of the earth." They kept this promise, for when a Pinkerton bank was robbed no expense was too great, no time too long to track down the robbers. After awhile these banks did not need to worry much about the old professionals. Only the ambitious green hands would tackle them.

Like nearly all real detectives William Pinkerton was impatient of Sherlock Holmes' idea. He used to say, "Detective work is a matter of attention to detail, determination, courage, a good memory and luck." His memory served him in one of the most sensational successes of his career. He was in London and about to leave for the United States. He walked round to a tailor shop to retrieve a suit that had been pressed, and while there observed a man named Bidwell whom he knew as a desperate criminal. The shop was not far from the Bank of England, so Mr. Pinkerton dropped in there and warned the cashier of his dangerous neighbor. He was laughed at, but before he had reached the United States the bank had been robbed of a fortune. Pinkerton was cabled for and empowered to hunt down the robbers. He gathered up one of the Bidwells in Cuba and the other in the United States. The Pinkertons also got the credit for recovering the famous stolen Gainsborough, in the possession of Allan Worth, and of [illegible], in the round up of the Jesse James gang. In the war the firm did important work for the Allies in the United States.

CHARLES EDWARD DAVIES

Formerly Assistant General Manager whose appointment as Acting General Manager of the Canadian National Telegraphs has been announced, following the sudden death of Mr. George C. Jones, late General Manager, December 31st, 1923.

Mr. Davies received his first telegraph experience with the Western Union Company at Helena, Montana. On January 1, 1906, he commenced his career with the Great North Western Telegraph Company, starting at Ottawa as Chief Operator. On September 20, 1909, he was made Manager at Ottawa, and two years later was given charge of the electrical equipment in addition to his other duties as Manager at the Capital city.

On January 1 of this year he was made Assistant General Manager, in charge of electrical engineering, plant work and railway service. Owing to the sudden death of Mr. Jones, however, he only held this position for one day, when he was made Acting General Manager.

Mr. Davies is a Fellow of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, and a member of the Committee of Direction of the American Railway Association. He is also an active member of the Association of Professional Engineers of Ontario.

SPLIT PEA SOUP

One cup dried split peas, two and one-half quarts cold water, one pint milk, one-half onion, two inch cube fat salt pork, three tablespoons fat two tablespoons flour, one and one-half teaspoons salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper. Pick over peas and soak several hours, drain, add cold water, pork, and onion. Simmer three or four hours, or until soft and rub through a sieve. Add to fat and flour, which has been cooked together. Also salt and pepper. Dilute with milk. The water in which a ham has been cooked may be used, in which case omit salt.

Successful business men a humorous contemporary observes, believe in all the modern improvements, including intensive advertising, and one of them proves it by the following:—

"When a duck lays an egg she just waddles off as if nothing had happened."

"When a hen lays an egg there's a whale of a noise."

"The hen advertises. Hence the demand for hens' eggs instead of ducks' eggs."

HONEY WAFERS

One-half cup butter, one-half cup sugar, grated rind of one lemon, one cup strained honey, two cups flour. Cream the butter and beat in the sugar, lemon rind, honey and flour. Spread the mixture on tin baking sheets to form very thin rounds about two inches in diameter. Use a thin knife to spread the mixture. Bake in a moderately heated oven. About one minute after removal from the oven, lift the wafers from the tins with a knife and shape them over a piece of clean broom handle. Let them remain on the handle until cool; store in tin when cold.

KEEPING STARCH PASTE

The addition to each ounce of starch paste of two or three drops of a 10 per cent. solution of thymol in alcohol will prevent it from decomposing; but it is always better to make up fresh paste as required.

AN UNHAPPY CHOICE

The Ontario Beekeepers' Association purpose installing warehouses at several points and marketing their products under the trade name of "Beeklet." It may be alright but if everybody was like the writer the title would drive customers away rather than attract. It seems to us like a very unhappy choice. We were ourselves "Beeklet" one time, and the very word makes us shudder. It is too reminiscent.—Flesherton Advance.

—Georgetown and Orangeville hockey match at the Arena to-night.

FROM FLORIDA TO THE ORIENT ALONE

FOR people to travel nine thousand miles in these days of rapid and easy transportation is a frequent occurrence, but for three children under fifteen years of age to do so unaccompanied by an adult is unusual if nothing else. More remarkable still is the fact that one trio of youngsters who covered more than this distance alone, Jack Turner, aged fifteen, Mary, his ten-year-old sister, and Richard, aged four, travelled from Jacksonville, Florida, to Shanghai, China, with but one change of cars, and one change for the steamer, making the quickest trip on record between these two points, according to the traffic experts of the Canadian Pacific Railway, officers of which company looked after the welfare of the children throughout their journey. From Jacksonville they travelled to Chicago on the Dixie Flyer. From there they travelled via Canadian Pacific to Vancouver where they transferred to the Canadian Pacific S.S. "Empress of Russia." They left Jacksonville on December 21st, arriving at Shanghai on January 12th, covering the distance of 9,123 miles in a little over twenty-one days.

"Fruit-a-tives" Relieved Both Dropsy and Sick Kidneys

The Wonder of Fruit Medicine

Those who know they have Kidney Trouble—who suffer with pain in the back—who are up frequently at night—will welcome the news that "Fruit-a-tives", the wonderful medicine made from fruit juices and tonics, will positively relieve Kidney and Bladder Troubles—as proven by this letter.

"Our little girl had Kidney Trouble and Dropsy—her limbs and body were all swollen. We decided to try "Fruit-a-tives". In a short time, the swelling went down. Now, she is the healthiest one of the family".

HILLSBURG

(Intended for last week.)

The Hillsburg Rifle Club met on Saturday, January 19th, for their first Shoot of the winter. There was a fair attendance and some good scores were made, considering the weather conditions. Jas. Johnston and Chas. Dyer were the Captains the former's side winning. There were two ranges, 40 yards offhand and 60 yards rest, 22 calibre rifles being used. The following were the prizewinners:—

60 yards, rest (8 shots each) possible score 80—1 Chas. Dyer and H. Sinclair, equal, 69 each; 2 H. A. Carmichael, 67; 3 Jas. Cox, 66.

40 yards, offhand (8 shots each) possible score 80—1 Chas. Dyer, 53 2 Jas. Johnston, 51; 3 Thos. Lang 49; 4 H. A. Carmichael and H. Sinclair, equal, 41 each.

Another Shoot will be held next Saturday, when sides will be chosen The losers will treat the winners to a supper. The Captains will be Howard Sinclair and Charlie Dyer the high men at the preceding match. A series of six matches will be shot during the winter and a grand aggregate prize will be given

Monday night, the 14th, will long be remembered in Hillsburg as a history making event. The long years of wanting and the long days of anticipation were made reality when the new lighting system of the town came into official being. The Town Hall was dimly lighted the outside a pall of gloom, yet the cold did not prevent a goodly number of Hillsburg's residents coming to see what would come over the tiny ribbons of copper ten miles away. Mr. R. G. Lee, general manager of the Cataract System, spoke briefly thanking the Trustees, the people and his staff for making the evening possible, and promised a generous service to the village. Dr. Chas. W. Davis, representing the Trustees closed the switch which flooded the hall with the soft white light and brought a hearty response from those present. A moment later the streets leapt out of darkness as the current from ten miles away raced about the streets, spreading sunlight everywhere from 40 handsome standards. Hillsburg is voted by outsiders as the best lighted village in Ontario and is an example of what can be done when determination to advance is shown. Mr. F G. Lee, father of the manager spoke on the value of electricity in the home. A tour of inspection followed, with a fowl supper at the hotel for the Trustees and the executive of the Company.

CAMILLA

(Intended for last week.)

The U. F. O. held a successful ball last Thursday night in the Hall. Evidently the worthy U. F. O. officials thought that they should show the younger set the way dances were run when they were young. Their original idea was, we believe, to show the young folks the proper time to go to a ball, the proper way to act, and the proper time to go home. Which they did. They assembled at ten o'clok and after a few hours enjoyment, dispersed shortly before daybreak. Now when young folks return home at this hour the older folks wonder what the younger generation is coming to However the party was a huge success and was conducted in a perfectly decorous manner. We feel that the U. F. O. should be encouraged in its effort to provide some wholesome amusement for the community

Mr. and Mrs. Sargent are visiting at the home of the former's sister Mrs. James Little.

Mrs. Thomas Turnbull, of Manitoba, is visiting at the home of her brother, Mr. John McNaughton.

Misses Norma and Jean Henry have gone to Toronto, the former to take a course in the Conservatory of Music, and the latter to train as a nurse.

Miss Annie Parks has returned home from Toronto. We are glad to learn that she has recovered from her recent illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Turnbull, of Eston, Sask., are visiting at the homes of the former's uncles Messrs. Robert and Josiah Marshall

Mr. Fred Buchanan has been ill with a severe cold, but we are glad to learn that he is recovering.

Another of our older citizens has crossed the Great Divide. Mrs. Macdonald has for a long time been one of our most worthy and respected citizens. She was a good neighbor and a kind friend and the community will feel her loss.

Can you imagine?
Why Pete didn't go to the ball?
Where Art spends his Sunday evenings?
Jack with nothing to say?
Why George is a bachelor?
Andrew going west?
Who Willis had for the first dance?

QUICKLY MADE MINCEMEAT

One cupful of any beef on hand (boiled beef, roast or remnants) chopped finely, three cupfuls of chopped apples, one-half cupful of chopped suet, one and one-half cupfuls of brown sugar, one cupful of seedless raisins, a very little sliced citron, one and one-half teaspoonfuls each of salt and cinnamon, one quarter teaspoonful each of cloves mace and nutmeg, juice and grating of one lemon, two or three tablespoonfuls of remnants of jelly and enough grape juice or orange juice and sweet pickle vinegar or half of each added to same amount of meat broth to moisten. Simmer one hour Instead of all brown sugar, one-half cupful of it may be omitted and one-fourth cupful of molasses added, if the flavor of molasses is preferred.

Grand Valley Fall Fair will be held on Thursday and Friday, October 2nd and 3rd.

Foot Saved in 4 Days!

"Nothing but Zam-Buk could have done it," says Mrs. A. Berryman, 190, John Street, North, Hamilton,—in describing how her right foot, crushed by a waggon wheel, was healed. "The flesh was terribly bruised, blackened and inflamed, and I fainted away with pain. When it was quite impossible for me to move about, my husband's mother got me to try Zam-Buk. It was surprising!

"Within TWO DAYS all swelling and discoloration had disappeared and pain was banished. In FOUR DAYS, through this timely use of Zam-Buk, I could get about as usual; the injured foot was thoroughly healed."

Zam-Buk is the powerful antiseptic healer which quickly frees the skin of corruption and disease and grows new healthy tissue. No common ointment or salve can possibly compare with Zam-Buk. Get a box to-day! 50c. all dealers or FREE SAMPLE for 1c. postage from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto.

CANADA'S NATURAL RESOURCES

A wealth of information on Canada's natural resources, developed industries and commercial growth has been assembled in "Canada—Natural Resources and Commerce,"—a small, compact volume issued by the Natural Resources Intelligence Service, Department of the Interior. This is not a government blue-book but an attractive publication compiled especially for the business man. It gives a condensed but thorough survey of Canada's varied resources and of the broad features they impart to the commerce of the Dominion by their limitations as well as by their diversity and abundance. It gives, in short, a bird's-eye view of Canada's physical assets, developed and latent.

Not only to the Canadian business man but to the visitor and to the student abroad this volume gives a quick grasp of the larger features of Canada's industrial and commercial life. Copies may be obtained free of charge on application to the Superintendent, Natural Resources Intelligence Service, Department of the Interior, Ottawa.

MAY BE A FALLEN PLANET

In Arizona there is a curious eminence called Coon Butte which rises about 150 ft. above the plain. At the top is a depression or crater 4000 feet wide and about 150 feet deep. Scattered far and wide around this hill are fragments resembling meteoric iron which contain microscopic diamonds and many curiously shaped boulders. It is suggested that this hill was formed by the impact of a gigantic body from the outside, and mining operations are to be started with a view to discovering whether the theory has any foundation in fact.

If it really is a fallen planet it must have landed on the earth long ages before man appeared upon the earth, for the impact of such an outsider would cause an earthquake indeed. It is known that there are countless billions of what might be called meteoric stones hurtling round the sun. These are constantly entering the earth's atmosphere but they are burnt up by the friction much more completely than the moth that flies into the candle flame.

Two microbes sat on a pantry shelf
And watched with expressions pained
The milkmaid's stunts,
And both said at once,
"Our relations are going to be strained."

(Intended for last week.)

THE MORNING AFTER

The village looks so lone and cold
There is sadness on all faces,
The people all—both young and old
Sit in sackcloth and in ashes.

Sir Knight Archie Neil McQuilken,
So loyal, British thro' and thro,'
Fell in yesterday's election,
Oh! What will Mono township do?

'Tis hard for us to courage have,
But let us not our feelings show,
We must accept the verdict of
The voters, as through life we go.

Tom Parks may not grade "select,"
But "we should worry," what's the use?
Him for our Reeve we did elect,
'Tween statesmen great, 'twas hard to choose.

Bower, no doubt, some mistakes made,
But he was a good Reeve, forsooth
He should have bought his lemonade
At Herm. Forsythe's refreshment booth.

Bill Norris Fines did win the race
Against Sam Barber, yesterday,
In way should we appeal the case?
Who call the tune, the piper pay.

Harold Marshall, son of ex-reeve sire
A college boy, a returned man
Did head the poll for councillor,
He says he'll do the best he can.

That self-made man from Primrose town,
His name is Henry, W. J.,
Dates back his start to great renown
To Thompson's ride upon his sleigh.

Young Boyd McLaine, a local sport
Church elder, scribe, sage, butcher vet
The all-round general purpose sort
Some class, "I'll say"—He'll be Reeve yet.

McNaughton was a first-rate man
But not the office-seeking kind,
So for his chair Bill Wooder ran,
And fell some sixty votes behind.

Jim Armstrong, a noted Irish wit,
Got mixed in his geography,
Why should he at our council sit?
He lives beyond our boundary.

"The tide of Empire westward flows,"
But we will for the ebb-tide stay,
The wise men from the East—their foes
Will conquer, next election day.

VIOLET HILL

(Intended for last issue)

A wholesome comedy with a moral that appealed to all, the Play entitled "An Old Fashioned Mother," was presented in the Orange Hall here on New Year's Night under the auspices of the Women's Institute and was a decided success. Haze White, as "Auntie Del" Underhill acted the part of a mother whose love triumphed over the ingratitude of her children. Isabelle Simpscot (Mabel Smith) and her husband Charlie Underhill (Wilbert Stewart) succeeded in persuading their mother to mortgage her farm that they might seek their fortune in the city. Lewizy Loving Custard (Flossie White), the romantic old maid who "eggs" Deacon Quackenbush (Henry Holmes) to propose so that she might tell Widder Bill Pindle (Flossie Sawyers), the village gossip. Enoch Rene (Sam White), an outcast and a wandered helped by aunt Deb, makes good in the village and afterwards marries Gloriana Perkins (Olive Brinkman), the ever faithful hired help of Acts I. and II Jerry Gosling (Jim Brown) the comical country boy, always wanting to "swap" something, caused roars of laughter by his funny speeches "Sukey," "the widder's mite," gave her mother much trouble at singing school. Sheriff Tedd (Alonzo Parson) caused great consternation by his appearance to arrest John Underhill (Will White) the prodigal son who later on returns in time to save his mother from the poor house

Between acts the Violet Hill orchestra rendered splendid music to an appreciative audience. The songs by Margaret Sawyer, Mabel Hogg, Emily Wake and Leslie Gabitas and the recitations by Mary White and Flora McIntosh were also enjoyed by all.

CHAIN CARVED FROM MATCH

A remarkable piece of wood carving has been executed by a Seattle man who fashioned an ordinary wooden match into a small chain with all the links joined together Less than three inches in length the chain is an exact reproduction of a large cable. As the splinter of the wood with its inflammable tip is about an eighth of an inch wide, extreme care was necessary in cut out the tiny units, one carved from within the other. Each circlet is about the size of the link of a fine watch chain.

COULD NOT WORK A WHOLE DAY

But Now He Praises Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Alfred Nadeau is enthusiastic over the remedy that brought him relief—Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Albertville, Que., Feb. 4 (Special)—"It gives me great pleasure to tell you that I am feeling very well since I started taking your Dodd's Kidney Pills. I was not able to work a whole day without severe pains in my kidneys.

"Your Dodd's Kidney Pills are a wonderful remedy for weak kidneys. Kindly publish my testimonial, so that all those who suffer may know about Dodd's Kidney Pills."

Mr. Alfred Nadeau, who lives here, makes the above statement. He feels that he owes it to other sufferers with sore kidneys, to tell them how he found relief from his suffering.

All Mr. Nadeau's troubles came from diseased kidneys. They speedily ceased when he commenced to use the one sure help for diseased kidneys—Dodd's Kidney Pills. There is no reason why anyone should continue to suffer when Dodd's Kidney Pills can be obtained from druggists everywhere or The Dodds Medicine Co., Ltd., Toronto.

One way to develop fortitude is to cultivate a reticence of speech concerning our worries. We only emphasize them by giving them expression. A habit of resistance is thus formed, which gives a moral hardness to our character that could never be acquired any other way.

The editor of the Arthur Enterprise received a very pleasant surprise one evening recently. After he had had dinner at the home of Dr. and Mrs. McFadzean, the ladies of the Memorial Workers' Association assembled and presented him with a very handsome umbrella and an address.

DANGEROUS FOR MINISTERS

In denouncing the modern dance an Ottawa preacher referred to some of the scantily clad lady dancers as not wearing sufficient cloth to make an apron for a mosquito. Though in favour with having the ladies cover up a little more, Editor William McDonald, of the Chesley Enterprise cautions against ministers resorting too freely to the ues of hyperbole. Pointing to the danger of this practice, Editor McDonald refers to Rev. Byron Stauffer, who, in one of his addresses, told the story of a man whose boots were so big that he had to go to the forks of the road to take them off. An old Pennsylvanic Dutchman, who heard the story, said he didn't think it was a joke at all but a blamed big lie.—Listowel Banner.

CANADIAN SONGS

A few days ago The Daily Post remarked upon the lack of original Canadian songs to take the place of "Old Folks at Home, "Auld Lang Syne," and other popular imported melodies.

The secretary of the Moose Jaw Kiwanis Club courteously sends us a copy of the words and music of "Lake Louise," and "Back to Saskatchewan," composed by Mr. Angus Macpherson, of that city. He writes:

I think the melody of the song "Lake Louise" is extremely attractive and therefore should provide a suitable medium to satisfy the "someone" referred to in your editorial. The melody and words of this song seem to form just the right atmosphere for the subject. This song, as you will note, is from the pen of Mr. Angus Macpherson, secretary - treasurer Southern Saskatchewan Stock Yards, Moose Jaw. The song is one of the most popular locally, and is used quite extensively by both the Rotary and Kiwanis organizations of this city.

The words and music do their author much credit; and it is gratifying to note that the principal service clubs of the Mill City are doing their best to popularize them. The success which Mr. Macpherson has attained with his songs should encourage others in this part of Canada to emulate his example.

Some day, without doubt, Canada will be singing her own songs, written by her own sons and daughters. —Regina Daily Post.

THE METHODIST CHURCH

At the Methodist Church next Sunday, February 10th, morning and evening, Rev. Stanley E. Annis, B A., will be the preacher. This will be the annual Missionary service Mr. Annis has been missionary in China for several years and is most enthusiastic in his work. He will also give an illustrated lecture to the Epworth Leaguers on Monday evening following.

HOSPITAL NOTES

The regular monthly meeting of the I. O. D. E. will be held in the Auditorium of the Public Library on Friday, February 8th, at 3 o'clock. Members will kindly take notice that the fees of 75c are due and payable at this meeting.

The Daughters of the Empire have had the rare good fortune to secure the widely known Aeolian Entertainers for a concert in the Opera House on Monday night next February 11th. These entertainers, six in number, include the Aeolian Quartette, composed of Miss Agnes Adie, soprano William McKenzie Baker, tenor, Eileen Law, contralto, and Rupert Lucas, baritone. This has been deservedly described as Canada's greatest vocal quartette. Owing to special circumstances the Daughters have been able to fix the admission at 50c and 35c, at which prices the hall should be filled to overflowing. All seats reserved. Plan opens at Banner Office on Friday morning at 10 o'clock.

RESIDENT ENGINEER'S OFFICE

The Resident Engineer's office opened in Orangeville a couple of years ago in connection with the construction of the Toronto to Owen Sound Provincial Highway was closed on February 1st. Sometime ago the Minister of Public Highways asked for and received the resignations of all the resident engineers in the Province, over twenty in number. Following this step the offices are being consolidated and reduced in number. We understand that when the reorganization is completed there will only be seven offices and the same number of resident engineers for the whole province. These we are informed will be gradually withdrawn as construction work is completed. The Department's plans are not fully settled, but we understand that an engineer will be located at Durham, who will have charge of the Toronto to Owen Sound road until construction is completed. The reorganization is said to be in the interests of economy and is to be commended on this score. It is however hard to understand how an engineer at Durham or some other remote point can look after work on the Toronto-Owen Sound Highway as economically as an engineer stationed at some central point on the highway itself. The road is far from being completed and we understand that the programme for the coming summer contemplates considerable construction work between Orangeville and Owen Sound to the north and Orangeville and Toronto to the south. If this is correct the Department might have been well advised to retain the office here for another year at least. If the closing of the local office is final it will likely mean the removal from town of Mr. C. E. Bush, the resident engineer, and Mrs. Bush, and Messrs. H. Brealey and W. Brown, members of the staff, and their families. The loss of these excellent citizens will be keenly regretted.

HEALTHY CHILDREN ALWAYS SLEEP WELL

The healthy child sleeps well and during its waking hours is never cross but always happy and laughing. It is only the sickly child that is cross and peevish. Mothers, if your children do not sleep well; if they are cross and cry a great deal, give them Baby's Own Tablets and they will soon be well and happy again. The Tablets are a mild but thorough laxative which regulate the bowels, sweeten the stomach, banish constipation, colic and indigestion and promote healthful sleep. They are absolutely guaranteed free from opiates and may be given to the new-born babe with perfect safety. The new sales tax will not increase the price of Baby's Own Tablets, as the company pays the tax. You can still obtain the Tablets through any medicine dealer at 25 cents a box, or by mail, post paid, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville Ont.

RELESSEY

The Relessey Dramatic Club presented their Three Act Drama "Mother O' Mine," at Violet Hill, on Wednesday evening, January 30th, under the auspices of the Violet Hill Dramatic Club. Quite a large crowd was in attendance and seemed to enjoy the performance. The proceeds of the evening amounted to over $28.00. The Club may present the Play at Hockley and Mono Centre later on, so watch for particulars.

Miss Emily McCutcheon is visiting with friends in Toronto for a month or longer.

Violet Hill Dramatic Club paid our town a visit on Friday night presenting their Play, "The Old-Fashioned Mother," before a large and appreciative audience. The performance was enjoyed by everybody.

GIVEN CLUB BAG

C. P. R. Terminal Staff Make Presentation to Mr. H. A. Hannington.

The Orangeville terminal staff of the C. P. R., to the number of fifty met in the C. P. R. Restaurant on Wednesday evening, January 30th and presented Mr. H. A. Hannington, who has been Agent at this station for the last six years, with a farewell address and a solid leather club bag. Mr. Hannington, who has been promoted to the position of C. P. R. Agent at West Toronto, left town on Monday to assume the duties of his new position. The address read as follows:—

Dear Mr. Hannington,—

It is with regret that the Orangeville terminal staff learn of your departure from Orangeville. While you have been here you have been held in the highest esteem, not only by the employees of the Company, but by the general public as well. We bespeak for you in your future field of work the same measure of success that has attended your efforts to advance the interests of the Company while you have been here. We ask you to accept this Club Bag as a slight token of our esteem and regard and assure you that wherever your future lot is cast you will always have the best wishes of the Orangeville terminal staff.

Mr. J. D. MacKenzie, third operator, made the presentation. Mr. Hannington made a suitable reply, thanking his fellow-employees for their good wishes and remembrance of him. The genial Division Superintendent, Mr. R. McKillop, was present and addressed the gathering and also entertained those present with songs and recitations. Refreshments were served and the remainder of the evening was spent in card playing and dancing.

SPEED SKATING

Old Orchard Skating Club Staged Fine Programme at Arena on Friday Night.

Members of the Old Orchard Skating Club, Toronto, to the number of twenty-five, visited the Orangeville Arena on Friday night and delighted a large audience with a fine programme of speed skating. The skating of the visitors, a number of whom were ice speed artists of the first order, delighted everybody and should prove a great stimulus to local skaters, who have ambitions to develope speed. Competition was keen in every event and some of the finishes were thrilling. The skating of Roy Brown, Russell Wills and Leila Brooks featured the races. Local events were also keenly contested and furnished the spectators with some excellent sport. Entries were plentiful in the juvenile events, which created no end of amusement. Owing to their eagerness to win, the youthful skaters frequently overskated themselves and came to grief through tumbling on the ice. At one stage of the boys' race nearly half the contestants were spilled at points along the course. The men's half mile local race was closely contested between Elmer Irwin, Eddie Wild and William Mills. Irwin took the lead after the first two laps and was never headed, although frequently challenged by one or other of his opponents. The finish was quite close but Irwin flashed across the wire a yard or so in front of Wild. The results follow:—

Boys 14 and under, 440 yards—1 Harry Shaw; 2 Harley Trumbull; 3 Charlie Bodle.

Local boys under 14—Fred Adair, Clarence Denny, Bill McConnell.

Senior, half mile—Geo. Pogue, Geo. Lawrence, Henry Tough.

Ladies' senior, half mile—Claire Eagan, Maggie Riley, Betty Herman.

Local ladies — Myrtle McAuley, Mrs. Frampton.

Travellers' race — George Pogue, Henry Tough.

Girls under 18, 440 yds.—Leila Brooks, Maggie Riley, Isobel Trotter.

Local girls under 18—Reta Rutledge, Mrs. Frampton.

Local girls under 14—Bertha Lemon, Isabel Connop, Margaret Adams.

Local boys under 18—Chas. Whaley, Ross Robertson, S. W. Gray.

Partners race—Claire Eagan and Bill Holland; Dot Price and Fred Brooks; Isobel Trotter and George Pogue.

Local seniors—Elmer Irwin, Ed Wild, Wm. Mills.

Ladies' open, 1 mile—Leila Brooks, Claire Eagan, Betty Herman.

Senior, mile—Roy Brown, Geo. Brown, Geo. Pogue.

Barrel jumping—Roy Brown, Geo. Lawrence.

Reverse race—Russell Wills, Roy Brown.

Orangeville Citizens' Band was in attendance and provided excellent music for the skating following the races. Later at night a dance was held in the Assembly Hall and was enjoyed by many of the young people.

ALMOST HELPLESS AFTER INFLUENZA

Left Weak, Nervous and Broken Down—Health Regained.

"A few years ago, says Miss Frances Hankla, of Plenty, Sask., "my mother, Mrs. Walter Hankla, was stricken with influenza which was then epidemic, and for a time was in a critical condition. She appeared to get over the prominent symptoms of the trouble but did not regain her strength. Some weeks later her weakness developed into sinking spells in which she would almost smother. Notwithstanding medical aid these spells continued and she was constantly growing weaker, until she was practically reduced to skin and bone. Her lips and gums were colorless, she was nervous, and suffered from indigestion and palpitation of the heart. At this stage a friend of mother's, who lived at a distance, came to see her and strongly advised her to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which, she said, had greatly helped her in a critical illness. We got these pills and mother began taking them. The improvement was slow at first, but we could see that the sinking spells were growing less frequent, and that strength was returning. The treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills was continued, and day by day health and strength returned, until she was again able to go about, and help with the work in the house. The improvement this medicine made in her case was simply remarkable.

"I may also say," adds Miss Hankla, "that in my own case these pills were of the greatest benefit. Last winter I was in a badly run-down condition, and very nervous. My appetite failed and I had no color. Knowing what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills had done for mother, I began taking them with the result that they soon made me as strong and full of vigor as the other girls of my age. I may just add that I think we owe mother's life and my good health to the pills and I hope our experience will be of benefit to some other sufferer."

You can get these pills from any medicine dealer, or by mail, at 50c a box, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

CALEDON

Everybody is going to hear and see the Mythimyst Minstrel Troupe which is to appear in the Town Hall here on Wednesday night, February 13th, in a concert and vaudeville programme. The Troupe, which is appearing under the auspices of the Caledon Lacrosse Club, has some realistic vaudeville work and a number of mirth-provoking musical stunts. Bills have been issued giving full particulars.

ALTON

Mrs. John Lovell is spending a week in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Wylie Houston, Phyllis and baby Jack have returned after a visit to Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Cameron are visiting relatives in Shelburne.

The Junior Women's Institute's home talent concert held on Monday, January 28 was a decided success. At least $25 will be cleared from the proceeds. Much credit for the success of the concert is due the President, Mrs. Harold Cameron. The entire program was well-rendered, but special mention might be made of the Grecian statue posing by five girls who were suitably dressed for the number.

Mrs. Thos. Meek has returned after a week's absence in West Bruce County where she has been addressing Institute meetings in the interests of the Department of Agriculture.

Miss Evelyn Thomas has returned to Toronto after a month's stay at her home near the village on account of the illness of her father, who is now on the way to recovery.

The Dramatic Club has started practice on a play entitled "All on account of Polly." They expect to have it ready to present in a month's time.

Dr. Caldwell's sermon for Sunday February 10th, will be "Practical Lessons from the Plagues of Egypt—Nile blood, frogs, flies and boils."

EXPROPRIATION CASE

Since the Orangeville-Fergus road was designated a Provincial County Highway a couple of years ago, the County has widened and otherwise improved sections of the road. The Council wished to set back the road fences in Con. 15, East Garafraxa, a distance of 6 feet, but was unable to come to a satisfactory agreement with Mr. W. A. Donaldson, who owns the land on both sides of the road in this concession. Failing an agreement the County took the necessary proceedings to expropriate the land. The matter came before Judge Fisher last Friday in the capacity of arbitrator under the Act. After spending the most of the afternoon hearing the evidence, the Judge decided that the County should remove the present rail fence, erect the new wire fence six feet back and pay Donaldson $125 for the strip of land expropriated. Judgment was reserved on the question of costs. Mr. H. B. Church appeared for the County and Mr. C. R. McKeown for Donaldson.

MOTHER O' MINE

The members of Knox Church Dramatic Club, Shelburne, scored a big success with their drama, "Mother O' Mine," which they presented in the Opera House here on Wednesday night of last week under the auspices of the Sunday School of St. Andrew's Church. The performance attracted a large audience, the hall being practically filled to capacity. Everyone was delighted with the work of the clever Shelburne amateurs, who gave a really finished performance. The cast was well balanced and the parts were taken in acceptable manner. The plot of the play and the manner in which its climaxes are developed affords scope for some real acting. It is no exaggeration to say that the Shelburne young people made the most of the opportunities afforded by the play. It is a long time since an Orangeville audience has heard an amateur company perform in such finished manner. Songs by Miss Lamon, of Shelburne, Mr. Adam and Mr. Connop, a selection by the Orangeville Male Quartette and a couple of readings by Miss Coulter served to round out and add to the interest of the programme.

WILLIAM M'CLUSKEY

Oldtime neighbors and friends in Mono and Orangeville were grieved to learn of the death of William McCluskey, who passed away at the home of his son, William J. McCluskey, Jefferson, Ont., Stop 21, Yonge St., on Sunday, January 27th, after a brief illness. Deceased, who was in his 80th year, had enjoyed excellent health until a very short time before his death. He visited Orangeville several times during the last year and was always keenly interested in the fortunes of his friends here and in Mono. He was an enthusiastic follower of the Dufferin lacrosse club and keenly enjoyed seeing one of the championship games. His death was the result of a stroke sustained about a week before his demise. The late Mr. McCluskey spent the greater part of his life on lot 10, con. 2, west, Mono, where he farmed successfully for many years. He was a genial, companionable man and an excellent neighbor. He took a keen interest in public affairs and was a member of the Mono Council for some years, finally serving the people of his municipality in the capacity of Reeve. He made a careful and conscientious municipal servant and enjoyed the regard and confidence of his constituents while in office. He was a member of the Methodist Church, a staunch Conservative and an enthusiastic Orangeman. Mr. McCluskey was one of the old members of Prince of Wales L. O. L. and was lodge drummer for many years. Mrs. McCluskey, whose maiden name was Katherine Wylie, died a number of years ago. The family are Dr. George McCluskey, of Alliston; William, at Jefferson; Fred, Jos. and Mrs. Lovering, in Toronto; Watson, of Belleville, and Mrs. A. D. Simmons, of New York City. The funeral was held to Mount Pleasant Cemetery in Toronto on Tuesday afternoon, January 29th, Rev. Welwood conducting services at the house and Rev. Warren officiating at the cemetery. The pallbearers were the five sons and a half brother, Mr. Isaac McCluskey.

DUFFERIN FARMERS' MUTUAL

There was an unusually large attendance of the policy holders at the annual meeting of the Dufferin Farmers' Mutual Fire Insurance Company in Shelburne on Saturday afternoon. Considerable interest was manifested in the election of Directors, as the deaths of William McGhee, of Melanethon and W. W. Warnock, of East Garafraxa and the retirement on account of illness of George Lyon, of East Luther, had created three vacancies on the Board. Alex. Hunter, Melanethon, J. K. Warnock, East Garafraxa, and Francis Lyon, of East Luther, the two latter sons of the old members, were selected for the vacancies. J. J. Braiden and Thos. Sime, whose terms had expired, were re-elected. The officers of the Company are:—

President—W. J. Jelly, Shelburne.
Vice-Pres.—Samuel Barber, Rosemont.
Adjustor—John Johnston, Laurel.
Auditors—Samuel Patterson and W. E. Reid, Shelburne.
Secretary and Manager—Thos. Whalley, Shelburne.
Directors—East Garafraxa, Wm. Park, J. K. Warnock; East Luther, Francis Lyon, Thos. Sime; Melanethon, W. J. Jelly, Alex. Hunter; Mulmur, Thos. Jennings, Thomas Best; Mono, Samuel Barber, J. A. Marshall; Amaranth, John Johnston, J. J. Braiden.

A synopsis of the Company's financial statement has already appeared in The Banner.

CANADIAN SONG WRITER

Orangeville has the honor of being the birthplace of a Canadian song writer, who is fast coming into prominence in the West. We refer to Mr. Angus Macpherson, of Moose Jaw, Sask., a son of Mr. and Mrs. D. Macpherson, First Ave. Mr. Macpherson is the writer of the words and music of "Lake Louise" and "Back to Saskatchewan," two songs that have caught the fancy of the people of the Prairie Provinces and already bid fair to win national prominence. "Lake Louise" in particular is meeting with general approval and is now on sale in music stores in Eastern Canada as well as in the West. We hear much these days about a national literature and special efforts are being made to popularize the works of Canadian authors with the Canadian reading public. Canadian songs are also deserving of the same kind of encouragement. It will be a good thing for Canada when Canadians sing the songs and cherish the sentiments expressed by Canadian song writers. Citizens of Orangeville rejoice in the prominence Mr. Macpherson is achieving in the realm of music and hope that "Lake Louise" and "Back to Saskatchewan" are but the forerunners of many other productions of similar merit.

PEEL COUNTY FINANCES

The auditors' report presented to the Peel County Council at its January sitting showed total receipts of $280,322.94 and expenditures of $241,483.14, leaving a balance of $38,839.80. The House of Refuge receipts were $10,997.62 and the expenditure $10,957.62. Good Roads expenditures amounted to $194,449.75 and the receipts to $217,818.49.

The report which will go to the Minister of Highways will show that $113,270.70 was expended by Council on good roads during the past year, made up as follows: Road construction, $62,231.08; bridge construction, $14,319.44; maintenance and repair, $30,546.90; machinery, $2,066.44; special grants $1200; superintendence, $2,917.84.

The lowered "cut prices" we are now making on our standard, reliable overcoats, suits, underwear and all kinds of furnishings will absolutely COMPEL you to buy when you come into our store.

We want to move out quickly every piece of winter goods we have left and we are making the CUT PRICES which will do the job in a "jiffy."

Better hurry while the picking is good.

We have had a splendid Christmas business, but there are always some LEFT-OVERS, which are real snaps this year. In every line we have bargains. At $10.00 we have some small sized men's overcoats, which are less than half price, sizes 34, 35 and 36. If you are a wee man, don't overlook these coats.

If you require a Suit, Underwear, or anything in Men's Furnishings, we have lots of reduced lines. Be sure and see them before buying.

Mother's Advice

NO mother ever taught her children a more valuable lesson than the necessity of keeping the bowels regular.

Health, happiness and success are more dependent on this simple rule than most of us ever realize.

This mother advises the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills because she has found this medicine to be absolutely dependable as a regulator of the liver, kidneys and bowels.

Physicians have estimated that nine-tenths of all human ills have their beginnings in the sluggish action of these eliminating organs and the consequent poisoning of the system.

Not only such ills as indigestion, constipation and biliousness but also appendicitis, Bright's disease, diabetes and high blood pressure arise from this cause.

Prevention is so much easier than relief after the disease has become settled that the value of mother's lesson is at once apparent.

In many homes the rule is one pill at the week-end as a regulator and preventative and more frequent doses when required.

The strong points for Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are their dependability to produce the desired results and their direct and combined action on liver, kidneys and bowels.

It is worth remembering that colds and other contagious diseases are quickly checked by the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills to rid the system of the accumulating poisons.

You will notice that while the price of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills has been increased to 35 cents, the box now contains 35 pills instead of 25 as formerly.

Likewise Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is 60 cents a box of 60 pills, instead of 50 cents a box for 50 pills. Edmanson Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto.

THE REDISTRIBUTION

To The Economist it looks as though the Dominion Redistribution Committee might do much worse than add South Simcoe to Dufferin for Dominion purposes.

To preserve the name of Dufferin as a Dominion constituency it would be necessary to add a number of municipalities from other and larger counties. Is it not better, then, to add a solid block, such as South Simcoe, rather than hack a piece on the east, west and perhaps north, from the surrounding large counties?

If we were to look at it purely from the Shelburne standpoint, we would incline to prefer the addition of townships from both east and west so that Shelburne would be the centre of the new constituency as it is of the present one. The Dufferin-South Simcoe combination would place Alliston nearest the centre. Now, much though we may like glory and honor for Shelburne, we are not going to kick at the present proposal just because it would bring Fred Elliott's town in for the distinction that has been ours.

But we would feel that we had a very justifiable kick coming if Dufferin were to be blotted out entirely and cut up so that the pieces would have to be distributed among three or four constituencies, as in the olden days.

Surely the Redistribution Committee can work out a plan by which none of the County names will go into the discard. No scheme they can hit will of course satisfy everybody.—Economist.

NEW LAMP BURNS 95 P. C. AIR

BEATS ELECTRIC OR GAS

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 per cent. air and 6 per cent. common kerosene (coal oil.)

The inventor, F. N. Johnson, 246 Craig St. W., Montreal, is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him to-day for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.

COUNTY FINANCES

County Treasurer Wheelock States That Dufferin is in Good Financial Shape.

The following is the text of the financial statement submitted to the County Council at its January session by County Treasurer C. R. Wheelock:—

Treasurer's Office, County of Dufferin, Orangeville, Jan. 22nd, 1924

To the Warden and Council of the County of Dufferin.

Gentlemen,—

I am pleased to report the financial condition of the County in good shape. The statement of assets and liabilities, as at the 31st of December last, shows the Current Assets to be $49,715.72 and Current Liabilities $21,514.45, leaving a surplus of $28,201.27 to carry forward to the credit of the new year. Of this surplus $20,893.28 will be credited to the County Roads account and $7,307.99 to the General Account.

The sums borrowed from the Bank during the year for current expenditure amounted to a total for the General Account of $7,000 and for the County Roads Account of $47,500. These loans were all repaid by December the 18th. The funds to the credit of the Roads Account were not sufficient to meet the obligations and $20,000 was transferred from the General Account to enable us to repay the Bank in full. This sum has not yet been transferred back to the General Account, but balances between the two accounts will be adjusted when the Government subsidy, which is estimated at $33,500, is received.

You will note that the statement of Current Assets and Liabilities does not include the County's liability for construction work on the Provincial Highway as a "Current Liability." The last statement received from the Department of Highways is for the year 1922. It shows the amount due by the County of Dufferin for construction work to be $34,186.58 and for maintenance $679.20. The latter sum is included in "Current Liabilities," but as the County Council had authorized debentures to be issued to raise funds for the payment of the previous bill for Provincial Highway construction, I concluded that the same course would probably be followed in the present case. I may say that no provision could be made in the estimate adopted by the Council last June to cover expenditure on the Provincial Highway, as the statement of the amount due by County was not received from the Government until the following November.

The actual expenditure in connection with the County Roads System for the year 1923, as shown by my books, was as follows:—

For ordinary County Rds.	$38,701.11
Provincial County Roads	28,375.24
County Roads under the supervision of adjoining counties	909.61
New machinery, tools, repairs, etc.	2,088.28
Salaries, Solicitor's fees, stationery, travelling expenses, etc.	2,684.10
County Rds. Committee	514.65
Interest on loans	735.18
Grants to Urban Municipalities	3,868.56
	$77,876.73

As the expenditure in 1922 amounted to $127,612.38 you will see by the above statement that last year's expenditure was very much reduced.

I am, Gentlemen,
Your Obedient Servant,
C. R. WHEELOCK,

Your share in 1924

Will you get a bigger share of business in 1924?

Many more people learned how to get the most out of their Local and Long Distance in 1923 than ever before. Our study of their business enabled one concern to increase its sales by telephone from $200 a month to over $8,000.

Will you not give this subject of properly organized and properly manned telephone equipment serious consideration? Ask us to help.

At Grand Lodge last year Sister Tate was elected District Deputy Grand Mistress for Dufferin. The True Blues had a successful year and sent quite a sum of money to the True Blue Orphanage at Richmond Hill; a beautiful new home last year. At present there are one hundred and sixteen little ones in the home. It is quite an undertaking, but in unity there is strength and we are proud to do our part. We also wish to thank all who donated to the Orphanage at Christmas time.

MOTHER OF LARGE FAMILY

Recommends Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to Other Mothers

Hemford, N. S.—"I am the mother of four children and I was so weak after my last baby came that I could not do my work and suffered for months until a friend induced me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Since taking the Vegetable Compound my weakness has left me and the pain in my back has gone. I tell all my friends who are troubled with female weakness to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, for I think it is the best medicine ever sold. You may advertise my letter."—Mrs. GEORGE L. CROUSE, Hemford, N. S.

My First Child

Glen Allen, Alabama.—"I have been greatly benefited by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for bearing-down feelings and pains. I was troubled in this way for nearly four years following the birth of my first child, and at times could hardly stand on my feet. A neighbor recommended the Vegetable Compound to me after I had taken doctor's medicines without much benefit. It has relieved my pains and gives me strength. I recommend it and give you permission to use my testimonial letter."—Mrs. IDA RYE, Glen Allen, Alabama.

Women who suffer should write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Cobourg, Ontario, for a free copy of Lydia E. Pinkham's Private Text-Book upon "Ailments Peculiar to Women." C

SCOTCH MACAROONS

One cup sugar, one tablespoon butter, two eggs, one half cup rolled oats, two teaspoons vanilla, two teaspoons baking powder. Beat eggs, add sugar, and continue beating until light and fluffy. Sift baking powder over oats, add to first mixture, and mix well. Add melted butter and vanilla. Drop in teaspoonfuls on greased tin, making the drops two inches apart. When baked remove very quickly from pan.

WESLEY GALLAUGHER'S SUCCESS

Another of Mansfield's young men has swung onto the main line of the highway to success. This time it is Wesley Gallaugher, who a couple of years ago gave an entertainment in town, in which an educated pony Prince Leo, was the big attraction. The little horse was a wonder then Since that time Mr. Gallaugher has trained him to do more surprising feats and some time ago the pony and his owner were entered for examination before the board in Chicago which selects attractions for the best circuits in the United States. Mr. Gallaugher and Prince Leo emerged from the trial appearance with merit marks well up in the eighties and Gallaugher's marvellous horse was at once put on one of the best vaudeville circuits in the States. Mr. Gallaugher sends a friend clippings of newspaper advertisements which feature Prince Leo as a headliner and as a special extra. Mr. Gallaugher writes that he is enjoying the life; the one unpleasant feature being the moves every week-end between Saturday night and Monday afternoon. There is often a long distance to cover and the hours cannot be stretched. But writes the Mansfield footlights man the big money is ample compensation for the inconveniences of moving.—Alliston Herald.

HIS NOM DE GUERRE

The man who is taking statistics for the new city directory approaches a mover's home in the suburb. At the doorway stands a stout determined lady.

"Madam," he says, "my call is official. I am compiling statistics on the inhabitants of this part of our city. Might I ask what your name is?"

"Duffy—Honoria Duffy."

"And your husband's name?"

"Naturally it's the same as me own—Duffy."

"I mean his full name."

"Well, when he's full he thinks it's Jack Dempsey, but when I lay me hands on him it's still Duffy."

LEMON MINCEMEAT

Cut two juicy lemons in thin slices cover with boiling water, cook until the fruit is tender and chop fine. Add six peeled apples, chopped, half a pound of minced beef suet, one and a half cupfuls of brown sugar a quarter of a teaspoonful of salt one pound of currants, half a pound of seeded raisins, two ounces of shredded citron and sufficient of lemon water in which the fruit was cooked to moisten. Season with half a teaspoonful each of cinnamon and nutmeg and use as the filling for two large pies.

Pte. Walter Garnet Hicks, of North Amaranth, who attended a Provisional School of Visual Telegraphy at Niagara Camp from June 5th to 13th last, has been granted the qualification of "Signalman" and received his certificate from headquarters of Military District No. 2 at Toronto last week. The certificate was accompanied by a bonus of $8.00 for proficiency.

1923 was by far the heaviest year in the Orillia Division Court. 938 suits were entered, amounting to an aggregate sum of $39,924.62; and of these 205 cases were for amounts under $10. Only thirteen committals were issued from the court, and none of these were actually put into force. $18,097.29 was paid direct to the different plaintiffs, making a total of $28,840.63.

Creemore Star remarks that a freak in the form of a pig was born on the farm of Norman Lott, Avening. The little porker had a double shoulder, the front legs coming out of the body immediately in front of the hind ones. Finding locomotion somewhat awkward, the little fellow gave up the fight after an existence of two days.

At the last session of the old Chesley Council, held in the afternoon of January 14th, the members of the old Council, the municipal officers and the public utilities commissioners took ex-Mayor Gray quite by surprise when they made him the recipient of a gold-headed cane, suitably inscribed, accompanied by an address.

CALEDON COUNCIL

Council Chamber, Caledon, January 14th, 1924.

The following members-elect, having subscribed to the statutory declaration of office, took their seats as Council for the year 1924, viz.: Jas. F. McDonald, Reeve; Wm. J. Wilson, Deputy-Reeve; John McBride, W. J. Trathen and R. J. Speers, Councillors.

The Reeve addressed the Council, congratulating the members on their election by acclamation, and asked their co-operation in the management of the affairs of the township.

Minutes of last regular meeting and special meeting held on December 10th, read and adopted.

Communications were read as follows:—From Ontario Good Roads Association, re membership and to appoint delegates to convention on February 27, 28 and 29 at Toronto; J. A. Carroll, Agricultural Representative, re better bull campaign; I. Sargent and four others, asking to be transferred from S. S. No. 12 to S. S. No. A.; Toronto General Hospital, re Bertha Gooderham; W. S. Morphy, re account of Miss M. Henry; Sick Children's Hospital, re grant; Orangeville Hospital, re admission of Chas. Amos; H. Hepworth, re land purchased at tax sale; P. Yuill, re income taxes.

Messrs. J. Proctor and A. McElwain addressed Council and asked for a grant towards Caledon East Community Hall.

Messrs. Dr. Thomas, E. E. Wilson, W. Stubbs and C. McFetridge addressed Council and asked that lights be placed on the Streets of Caledon village.

Mr. Wilson moved, seconded by Mr. McBride, for leave to introduce bills appointing auditors, local Board of Health, to regulate the running at large of dogs, appointing collectors, fixing the salaries of the township officers for 1924. Leave granted. The several bills were read a first and second time and referred to a Committee with Mr. Wilson in the chair. Committee rose and reported bills with the blanks filled, when they were read a third time and passed:—Board of Health, J.F. McDonald, Dr. J. T. Thomas and R. T. Nesbitt; Collectors, west, Geo. Alce, east, A. B. Smith; Auditors, C. H. Limebeer and C. Dodds.

Moved by Mr. Speers, seconded by Mr. McBride, that W. Martin, Jas. Warnock, L. H. Lemon and S. McEachern be appointed Sheep Valuators for 1924.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. McBride, seconded by Mr. Speers, that W. G. Morris be appointed Sanitary Inspector for the year 1924.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Speers, seconded by Mr. Trathen, that the following named members of Council be appointed Road Commissioners in their respective divisions:—North, W. J. Trathen; East, John McBride; South, W. J. Wilson; West, R. J. Speers; and Townline, J. F. McDonald.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Wilson, seconded by Mr. McBride, that David Patterson be appointed Caretaker of the Township Hall for the year 1924 at a salary of $50.00.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Speers, seconded by Mr. Trathen, that the time for returning the Collectors' Rolls be extended until Monday, Jan. 28 next.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Trathen, seconded by Mr. Speers, that McGuire & McKitrick be awarded the contract for township printing for the year 1924 for the sum of $185.00, this sum to include all printing usually required.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Speers, seconded by Mr. Trathen, that no account for snow shovelling will be paid unless authorized by the Commissioner for the division.—Carried.

Moved by Mr. Trathen, seconded by Mr. Speers, that H. Hepworth be refunded the sum of two dollars overpaid in taxes.—Carried.

MONO MILLS

A meeting of Ward 4 Conservatives will be held at the home of Mr. John A. Vance on Thursday evening of this week, Feb. 7 Full attendance is requested.

Over one hundred of the friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Rawn gathered together on Thursday evening last to spend the evening with them and their estimable family at the fine new house they recently built on their farm on the 5th line, Caledon. A unique feature of the occasion was the fact that the date, Jan. 31, marked the 100th anniversary of the day when the great-grandfather of the present owner took out his deed from the Crown. Another remarkable fact in connection with the property is that the farm across the road on the Albion side is now occupied by the 5th generation, the deed having been taken out by Jacob Rawn, the great-great-grandfather, in the year 1814. Needless to say it was indeed a pleasure to meet with the descendants of these worthy old pioneers and to congratulate them upon their many years of prosperity and to accept of the splendid hospitality extended to all. Among those present were a large number of young people who enjoyed the evening in music, dancing and games until the small hours, when every one joined in wishing the present owner of the home, Mr. Roy Rawn, who is one of our finest young men, many more years of happiness and prosperity.

The 15th annual meeting of the Mono Mills Telephone Co. was held last week and passed off very quietly indeed. Reports submitted show the business to be in a very satisfactory condition, with a number of new subscribers added during the past year. Considerable money is being spent in repair work in an effort to meet the constant deprecation inseparable from all telephone systems and to keep the service as satisfactory as possible. The old board of directors were re-elected: Wesley Kee, W. A. Donaldson, Isaiah Hammond, Robert Rawn, John Moon and T. E. Holmes.

—Thursday next will be monthly fair day.

COUNTY L.O.L. MEETING

About seventy-five representative Orangemen attended the annual meeting of Dufferin County L. O. L. on Tuesday. Considerable business was despatched under the direction of County Master J.J. White who occupied the chair. Last year's officers were re-elected with the exception of the Chaplain, Rev. J. Aquila Evans, of Erin, being selected for that office. The officers are:—

County Master—J. J. White, Orangeville.
Deputy Master — R. H. Wansbrough, Laurel.
Chaplain—Rev. J. Aquila Evans, Erin.
Rec.-Sec.—S. Island, Orangeville.
Cor-Sec.—W. J. Lanktree, Laurel
Treasurer—Geo. Holmes, Orangeville
Lecturers—J. Varey, Mono Mills; Henry Duck, Campania.
D. of C.—Jas. A. Patterson, Orangeville.

RAISED $448

Dufferin County Tuxis Boys and Trail Rangers scored a pronounced success in their campaign to raise funds for their fourfold development work for the next twelve months. The amount raised in the county was $448, considerably more than the objective set at the beginning of the campaign. Details follow —

$800,000 Offer for Control Declined by Shareholders

Recently large U. S. mining interests made an offer of $800,000 for controlling stock interest, which was over 50c a share, but on the advice of Manager Cooper, shareholders declined the offer.
This shows the confidence of the management and shareholders in the big future for Rouyn Gold Mines.

Rouyn Gold Mines, Ltd., owns over 1,000 acres of the choicest mining ground in the Rouyn gold area of Quebec. This district has been pronounced by eminent engineers the biggest discovery in Canada since Porcupine. Some of the largest mine operators in America are interested in this section. On present showings several big gold mines should develope, and among these will be Rouyn Gold Mines, Ltd., we fully believe.

LARGE PROFITS

are promised to those who buy shares in this company at the present price, around 33c a share. The stock is bound to increase in value as the property approaches the production stage. Fourteen strong gold veins have been uncovered and are being developed.

Fill in the coupon and mail at once for a free booklet on Rouyn Gold.

W. C. T. U. REORGANIZES

Orangeville Branch of the W. C. T. U., which disbanded a few years ago, was reorganized at a largely attended meeting of the ladies of the town in the Library Auditorium last Thursday afternoon. Mrs. A. E. Annis presided and the meeting was addressed by Miss Rosamond Duff, of Toronto, Provincial Organizer for the W. C. T. U. Miss Duff discussed the growth and present standing of the temperance movement in informing manner, gave some interesting information about the activities of the W. C. T. U. and advanced a number of cogent reasons why the women of Ontario should be organized and active at the present moment. Officers of the reorganized Branch were elected as follows:—

President, Miss Lottie Bell; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. W. M. Green; Recording Secretary, Mrs. Chas. Kerr; Treasurer, Mrs. B. McCaw. Twenty ladies enrolled as members and prospects are bright for a large increase of membership in the immediate future. The Society will meet regularly on the fourth Monday of each month.

While in town Miss Duff made a visit to the High School and addressed the students of that Institution on Thursday morning. The organizer had planned to also address the Public School students, but the month-end examinations made this impossible.

STANDING COMMITTEES

During its January sitting the Dufferin County Council appointed the following Standing Committees for the year:—

County Roads—Hammond, Gillespie and Henderson.

Roads and Bridges—Noble, Hammond, Dean, Reith, Parks, Heath Bruce and Gillespie.

Finance—Dean, Hammond, Noble Parks, Bruce, Reith, Gillespie, Heath, Oldfield, Parkinson Reid, Fines and Whaley.

Assessment—Parks, Dean, Hammond, Heath, Oldfield, Bruce and Gillespie.

Printing—Bruce, Parkinson, Fines Whaley, Noble and Reid.

Education — Reith, Parkinson Whaley, Reid, Fines, Dean, Noble.

County Property — Parkinson Parks, Reith, Whaley, Oldfield and Noble.

Legislation—Heath, Oldfield, Reid Dean, Gillespie and Reith.

The member, who is first named is Chairman in each instance.

The Daughters of the Empire are presenting the Orangeville Public School with a number of fine war paintings. The pictures are now on exhibition in the Adamson Hardware Co.'s window, where they are attracting much attention and favorable comment.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mrs. E. Wilson, of Toronto, visited Mrs. E. Field and daughters West Broadway, last week.

Mr. A. L. Hemstreet, of Milton, returned home last week after a visit of two weeks with his daughter, Mrs. J. D. McKenzie, First St.

Mrs. W. H. McGuire, West Broadway, will be At Home on Tuesday, February 12th, from 3.30 to 6 o'clock, and afterwards on the second Tuesday of each month.

Mr. Emerson Reid, of the Evening Telegram reportorial staff, who accompanied the Old Orchard skaters to town Friday night, was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. R. Reid over the week-end.

Mrs. John Lennox and her daughter, Miss Lily, formerly of the local Bell Telephone Co. staff, left on Monday morning for Areata, Cal., to join their husband and father, Rev John Lennox formerly of Temple Hill, near Markdale. Mr. Lennox has accepted the pastorate of a Methodist church at Areata.

Mr George Nelson, of Mono Road, was a visitor in town on Friday.

Mr R J Potter of Erin, spent Friday in town. Mr Potter is looking well and appears to be enjoying life in Erin.

Mr William Brydon, of Toronto, visited Orangeville friends for a few days last and this week. Our former townsman is looking well.

Mr J H. Wylie has just returned to Wychwood Park, Toronto, after spending a week with his daughter, Mrs. E. H. Delaney, of Melville.

Mr. Wm. Lovell, of Waldemar, was a visitor on The Banner on Friday. Mr. Lovell had a slight stroke a few weeks ago, but is recovering from its effects.

—Don't fail to hear Rev Stanley Annis at the Methodist Church on Monday night.

Misses Nicholl and Millken, of the Public School staff, spent the week-end in Toronto.

SLEIGHING PARTY

The Orangeville Baptist Young People's Union held a sleighing party and social evening on Friday night, Feb. 1st. Through the courtesy of Mr. Hayward the young people enjoyed "the fun it is to ride in a two-horse open sleigh." After that there were refreshments and games at the home of Mr and Mrs. E. Mason, Mill St. During the evening Miss Lillian Lennox was presented with a beautifully bound Scofield Reference Bible, accompanied by an address of appreciation and good wishes. She has been president of the Society, but is now on her way to California. Despite the bright cast on the gathering by the thought of the loss of one of the most important of the number, the young people felt that they had had a very enjoyable evening.

—The Aeolian Entertainers will be heard in the Opera House on Monday night.

—The Girls' Junior Auxiliary will hold a Homemade Baking Sale and Tea in the school room of the Presbyterian Church on Saturday, February 16th, at 3 p.m.

—William McKenzie Baker, who will be heard in the Opera House Monday night has been soloist in Bloor St. Presbyterian, St. Paul's Anglican and the Metropolitan Methodist—three of Toronto's leading churches.

—Mr. and Mrs. Edward Willard of Stratford, have been engaged as choir leader and organist respectively of Brampton Presbyterian Church

—See the big window of pure castile soap, 7 bars for 25c, at Grosskurth's, Laurel

—Rupert Lucas, baritone, is recognized as one of the very best artists in Canada. Hear him in the Opera House Monday night —At its January sitting Peel County Council passed an account of $2817.59 in favor of Orangeville High School for Peel County pupils.

—Agnes Adie, one of Canada's foremost sopranos, will be heard in the Opera House on Monday night.

—Anonymous correspondence travels to the waste basket by the shortest route. If you have anything worth printing, sign your name to it —Music lovers will hear a rarely good programme of solos, duets, trios and quartettes in the Opera House on Monday night.

—Don't buy your Laundry Soaps until you get a coupon from Grosskurth's, Laurel, and you will get 5 bars for 25c.

—The Banner has received a budget of unsigned correspondence from Caledon. The writer will understand that we must have the name before we can publish correspondence.

—Mr. J. J. Sommerville's Auction Sale in Adjala on Tuesday of last week was quite successful. A large crowd attended, bidding was brisk and Mr. Sommerville realized satisfactory prices for nearly everything offered. The dwelling house in Hockley was bid up to $1500, but not sold.

—Grosskurth, of Laurel, is selling New Shirtings and Cinchams away below to-day's prices. Come and see them.

—Peel County Council had a stormy sitting last month. The distribution of Good Roads money was one of the burning issues. As usual Brampton representatives took the ground that the county town was not fairly treated by the rural members. There has been the usual talk of secession from the county but the trouble bids fair to end in larger road grants to Brampton and the other urban municipalities.

—Members of the northern municipalities of Peel are becoming annoyed over the dominance of Toronto township in the deliberations of the County Council. At the recent January session Reeve McDonald, of Caledon, expressed himself pretty freely on this subject. Toronto township has three representatives and Port Credit and Streetsville one each. The five men are usually a unit on any question that affects the interests of the south end of the county.

FANCY SKATING

Skaters from the Toronto Skating Club have consented to give an exhibition of fancy skating in the Orangeville Arena on Friday night, February 15th. The visiting skaters, who are coming for the benefit of the Orangeville Boy Scouts, will include Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Sifton, Miss Jean Burritt and Mr. David Blain, the club entry for four at the Canadian events on February 23rd, Miss Evelyn Darling and Mr. Hugh Tarbox, the club entry for pair, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Suckling, also a club entry for pair, and Miss Janet Rathburn and Mr. M. Moira. Posters will be issued shortly giving particulars of the program.

Why Ford Predominates

The Empire Builders

From time immemorial, Britons have gone forth and pioneered the remote corners of the earth.

In the face of seemingly insuperable difficulties they have built up a world-wide trade—trade that grew and flourished in spite of the limitations of those primitive burden-bearers, the native carriers, the mule train and the camel caravan.

Ford carries the burdens of Empire trade on the hill-trails of India, on the African veldt, on the sheep-stations of Australia and New Zealand, on the plantations of Ceylon and Burma, on the rubber estates of Malaya and on the jungle-paths of Borneo.

Universal usage under all these conditions has stamped the Ford as dependable transportation.

Made in Canada for the Empire

The Ford car is completely made in Canada with the exception of parts to the value of $15.02.

RANCHERS HARD HIT

Prices For Farm Products Are Low in British Columbia.

Another Interesting Letter from John G. Keefer, Oldtime Amaranth Resident.

Mr. T. F. Reid, John St., has received the following well-written and interesting letter from his old-time friend, Mr. John G. Keefer, of Vancouver, B. C., formerly of Bowling Green, Amaranth township. Mr. Keefer, the writer, is now 84 years of age:

Rosedale, B. C., Jan. 12, 1924

My Dear Tom,—

You wished to know something of this country here. I am at present in in the north end of the Fraser Valley, close to the mountains, with Chilliwack as the county town. It is a fine farming country, though but little grain is raised for sale. The main thing is dairying and poultry. About every rancher has a silo and puts up Indian corn, roots etc., and ships his milk to the city of Vancouver. There are two railroads running through, so that we are pretty well served as regards transportation. The ranches are all organized in Associations for the sale of their produce, with president secretary, etc., who handle the money and report to their members every month. There is a milk stand at every gate and a big truck pick up the cans every morning and delivers them to the railway company at Chilliwack. Then the milk is taken to the city, where it is either delivered as milk or sent to the creamery to be made into butter. Even the eggs and small fruit are handled by an Association. They are generally sent to the prairies. I must tell you that the ranchers are in a bad way now. Everything they have to sell is very cheap and what they have to buy is away up in price. Beef and pork are also very low. I know of one small fruit raiser here, who had to pay his strawberry pickers out of the money he got from last year's crop, and when Hugh came down on the last boat with eleven carcases of beef he had to take about what I used to get in the old times in Ontario. Do you remember the beechnut pork of ancient history and the prices to match it? You see that history repeats itself. Those good flush times of the war have gone forever. Kiss them good-bye, say I. The C. P. R. is piling it on to this Province very heavily in freight chrages. We have called on the Government for relief and the battle is now on about the matter. Freight, boxes and picking charges leave the small fruit man in the hole quite often. I know one lady here, who, after shipping all her fruit to the prairies, got at the final settlement a bill of $16.00, and a rancher, who sold a fat hog to a butcher, buying back the two hams, and found at the wind-up that he was in debt 75c. I have also seen at the store here fancy cakes made from Canadian wheat shipped to and ground in England and sold here at lower prices than the same stuff made in Canada. I have been told, too though I cannot vouch for the truth of the statement, that you can buy B. C. canned salmon cheaper in Ontario than we can in British Columbia.

I cannot tell you much more about the Japanese earthquake, but it was far worse than was at first reported. A missionary, writing home to his paper, tells of seeing 5000 dead bodies piled up in the streets of Yokohama to be burned for fear of a pestilence, and no time or no people to bury them. Our Tom has now been in Vancouver for a month loading lumber and logs to build up the ruined cities of Japan. It is easily the worst thing that has happened this old world for some centuries. People in British Columbia are beginning to think that it has deflected the warm Chinook wind, which is the reason that this coast has had a milder climate than the eastern side of America. Anyhow we are having a very hard winter here, though there is but little snow. Occasionally there is quite a fall but along comes the Chinook and takes it all away.

I think The Banner must travel far for I have had letters from Owen Sound and Michigan from old friends who saw my last letter to you in it. You may give this scrawl to The Banner if you like. It may interest some of the oldtimers to know that one of the 9th line blazers is still in the ring. Now as ever,

Don't Let Housework Ruin Your Hands

TO heal chafing, soreness or that harsh chapped feeling of the skin caused by housework, Zam-Buk is invaluable. This herbal balm soaks through the pores, soothing and purifying the whole tissue, killing and removing poisonous disease germs, and renewing the skin.

There are soothing, healing and germicidal virtues in Zam-Buk, never found in ordinary fatty ointments and salves. That is because Zam-Buk is a highly-concentrated medicinal preparation of unique herbal origin.

Zam-Buk is proved equally good for ending attacks of eczema, ulcers, ringworm, blood-poison or piles, it quickly soothes and heals all cuts, burns, chilblains, etc., and clears the skin of pimples and blotches.

FREE BOXES!

We will gladly mail any reader, Free and Post-Paid, a small sample box of this famous herbal healer for trial purposes. Send your request for one on a postal, address d The Zam-Buk Mfg. Co. Toronto. Note the effect of Zam-Buk on any Cut, Burn or Sore.

FOURTEEN HUNDRED COLORS

It hardly seems possible, but the Society of Dyers and Colorists, of Bradford, England, has lately issued an international color-index, and in it are displayed fourteen hundred different colors, representing the productions from dye-makers all over the world. The different countries sent in specimens from the best dye-makers, and the entire lot was carefully examined to see that no two were alike, so that the index gives no duplicates. To those who are not familiar with delicate shades and tones, there are scores that look just alike, but light tests prove differently.

WARDEN'S ADDRESS

The following is the text of Warden Henderson's address to the County Council at its meeting here last week:—

Orangeville, Jan. 24, 1924.

Gentlemen of the County Council,—

Permit me to express my sincere thanks for the confidence you have reposed in me by electing me to the highest position in the gift of this our beloved County of Dufferin. Your generosity, I assure you, is deeply appreciated and the Township of Mulmur, which I represent, will, I feel sure, share with me in accepting the honor gratefully.

Allow me to congratulate the several members of the Council on their election in their respective municipalities, and to extend to the new members a most cordial welcome to the County Board. I feel satisfied that they are men who will discharge their duties in a most creditable manner to themselves and the different municipalities they represent.

The Council is to be congratulated on the splendid financial standing of the County. The Treasurer's statement shows that the year 1923 was ended with a substantial surplus of over $28,000 to our credit. The year's expenditure in connection with County Roads amounted to about $79,000 and the Government subsidy which the County will receive on this expenditure is estimated at $35,500. After paying all liabilities there will be about $20,000 cash on hand to commence this year's work on the roads. There is also a surplus of nearly $8,000 to the credit of the General Account, and all loans from the bank for current expenditure were repaid before the end of last year.

The cry for retrenchment in public expenditure is in the air and this Council was not slow in catching the first whisper, as may be seen by the reduced expenditure for last year. My policy will be for continued economy in connection with the affairs of the County, and I feel confident that I will have the assistance of every member at this Board in exercising the geatest economy consistent with efficiency and good management.

You may be required to provide for payment to the Province of Ontario of $34,186.58, being the expenditure for construction work on the Provincial Highway for the year 1922, and also for the expenditure for 1923 for which the bill has not yet been rendered. This expenditure is made by the Province and is not under the control of the County Council, and as it amounts to a large sum it will probably be necessary to issue debentures. The Province has been asked to assume the entire cost of Provincial Highways, but I understand nothing has yet been done. I do not suppose it will be necessary for you to take any action in connection with the matter at this session and by next session we may have further information.

There seems to be some doubt as to the liability of the County in connection with some of the accounts charged up to us by the Department of Highways and it might be to our advantage to appoint a small committee to go into the matter with the Department.

We had a bountiful harvest last year and although prices have not been as satisfactory as desired it is encouraging to note that there exists among all classes of our citizens a most hopeful spirit. The removal of the British embargo on Canadian cattle it is hoped will have a good effect upon our stock market, especially if we provide for the Mother Country the class of stock which that market demands.

Since the adoption of the straight County Road System considerable progress has been made in the way of construction. I should strongly advise that an efficient system of patrol or other means be employed to protect and maintain the mileage already constructed, as you will agree with me that it would be folly to allow roads already built to deteriorate. I would also advise that the usual County Roads Committee be appointed and that they inspect the road as early in the Spring as possible, and that a one-day session be held to present the report of the inspection.

Arrangements have been made to have an illustrated lecture on reforestation and I trust that a special committee will be appointed in this connection, and that they will be able this year to recommend something in keeping with the importance of this worthy cause.

You will agree with me, I am sure that the worthy cause of allowance to needy mothers, as provided by the Act, deserves our hearty endorsation and the measure of relief afforded in this way fully justifies the necessary expenditure.

In conclusion I again thank you for the honor you have conferred upon me, and I beg to remind you that you have also placed upon me a great responsibility and I respectfully ask your co-operation in transacting the business of the County for the year 1924.

JAMES HENDERSON,
Warden

J. J. Hunter, editor of the Kincardine Reporter, gets off a good one in his paper. It's a story of a hold-up in that town. "Hand over your money or I'll blow your brains out," was the demand. "Blow away," was the calm reply, "you can live in Kincardine without brains, but you must have money."

FIVE YEARS' AGONY ENDED

When He Took "Fruit-a-tives" For Rheumatism

The Medicine Made From Fruit

There can be no doubt that "Fruit-a-tives" is the long sought remedy for Rheumatism and Lumbago. From all over Canada come letters testifying to this fact.

Mr. John E. Guilderson of Parrsboro, N.S. writes: "I suffered badly with Rheumatism for five years—tried different medicines—was treated by doctors in Amherst—and here at home—but the Rheumatism came back.

In 1916, I saw an advertisement for "Fruit-a-tives" and took a box and got relief, so I took them for about six months and the Rheumatism was all gone and I have never felt it since".

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. At dealers or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa, Ont.

SKINS WERE DELAYED

Inexcusable Hold-up by Postal Authorities in Toronto.

Ask James Dargavel, of Rock Mills, what he thinks of the postal authorities and Fish and Game Department and you will likely be treated to a choice sample of indignant criticism, to put it mildly. Before Christmas Jimmy posted two parcels of silver fox skins to the London market for the January sale of furs. The other day he received notice that one of these insured parcels was held in Toronto because a permit for export had not been attached. An affidavit had also to be secured that the skins were raised on his own ranch here. This notification came one month or more after the furs had been mailed, and they lay in Toronto all the time.

As a result Mr. Dargavel missed the January sale, where prices ran higher than they will at any other sale during the year. The second parcel evidently went through without being detained by the postal and customs authorities. The parcels were insured for $100 each. A delay of this kind is certainly enough to make a man angry.—Flesherton Advance.

After a long illness the death occurred on Tuesday morning, Jan. 22nd, of Mrs. John Muthall, of Flesherton, at the age of sixty-five. Her husband predeceased her nine years ago.

Human Sympathy
on a Scientific Basis

SENSATIONAL cases of tragedy and distress receive publicity in the newspapers, and from their outstanding appeal are made the beneficiaries of charitable funds and public subscription lists. But how little does charity avail! How pitifully inadequate unorganized public sympathy almost invariably proves. A few hundred dollars, perhaps, and then—forgotten!

Mutual Life Insurance is organized human sympathy. Each Mutualist protects his own loved ones by combining to protect the loved ones of others. Mutualists are not exploited for the profit of outsiders, nor do they attempt to make profit out of one another.

Let our nearest agent explain the Mutual principles of life insurance. Write to our Head Office for a copy of "Life Insurance at Cost".

CALEDON

The people of this neighborhood were very sorry to learn of the death of Miss Netta Atkinson, daughter of the late Mr. John Atkinson, C. P. R. agent at Caledon for a number of years. The sad event occurred at her home, 270 George St., on Thursday, February 7th, her death occurring very suddenly from heart collapse. Deceased spent her early life in this village, where she was known and respected by everyone. She had a pleasing personality and was devoted to her parents and home. She had lived in Toronto for a number of years. She is survived by her mother, who is still a resident of Caledon, and one brother, Mr. W. J. Atkinson, of Toronto. These have the sympathy of many friends in their loss. The remains were brought to Caledon by C.P.R. on Saturday morning, the funeral taking place from the home of Mrs. Atkinson to the Forest Lawn Cemetery, Orangeville, on Sunday afternoon. Rev. T. W. Mills conducted a short service at the house and also officiated at the grave. The pallbearers were Messrs. John and W. J. Warnock, Jas. Hillyard, Albert B. Smith, M C. Hillock and E E. Wilson.

Mrs. Robert Johnston, an old resident of Caledon township, passed away at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Hobson, 7 Sasex Ave. Toronto, on Thursday last at the age or 73 years. Mrs. Johnston's death took place quite suddenly and the news of her unexpected demise came as a shock to her many friends and neighbors here. Her death was probably hastened by the ill effects of an accident from which she had not fully recovered. Mrs. Johnston had only gone to Toronto a short time ago and was planning to go to Detroit for the remainder of the winter when death intervened. She is survived by a family of four sons and three daughters, namely, Noble, living in West Toronto; Jack and Mrs. W. Haslam, of Markdale; Mrs. Palmer, living in Detroit; Robert, of Inglewood; Frank, of Caledon, and Mrs. Hobson, of Toronto. The funeral was held on Monday afternoon, interment taking place in Prospect Cemetery, Toronto.

Mrs. Robt. Rayburn, Harold Chambers, Geo. Laughlin, Geo. Emack, Mr. and Mrs. J. VanWyck, Mrs. W. S. Gibson and Miss Isabel Hillyard were among the Caledon friends who attended the funeral of the late Mrs. Robert Johnston in Toronto on Monday.

The Short Course still continues to attract much interest. Interest is particularly keen in the Ladies' Courses and especially in the Dressmaking, which is proving a popular feature.

The petition in favor of making Caledon a police village has been circulated and we understand that a sufficient number of signatures were secured without any great difficulty.

The Warnock L. O. L. No. 250 intend holding a Box Social and Dance on Friday night, February 22nd.

The recent snowstorms have made the roads very heavy again. There are some very high snowdrifts at certain places on the roads. One man reports snow twelve feet deep in a cut on the 1st line, east.

Last Tuesday night, Feb. 5th, the Y. P. S. was favored with a very interesting Paper by Dr. Thomas. Miss McIntosh also favored the Society with some helpful pointers. The meeting was under the direction of the Missionary Committee. Next Tuesday night will be a social evening. Do not forget it.

The young people are getting up a Play entitled "Valley Farm," which they intend to present in the near future. It is quite a while since Caledon has had a home play. "Valley Farm" is a good one and we are looking forward with interest to the announcement of the date.

Caledon Short Course is doing fine. Mr. Whitelock deserves much credit for the way he has managed the Class. Last Wednesday they had a debate, "Resolved that the Tractor is a Profitable Investment for the 100 acre Farm." The affirmative was upheld by Currie Pinkney, Lamont Laughlin and Bert Rayburn, and the negative by Clifford Bowes, Bert Akitt and Edwin Akitt. The negative won out. Mr. Lee acted as the judge.

STORMY WEATHER HARD ON BABY

The stormy, blustery weather, which we have during February and March, is extremely hard on children. Conditions make it necessary for the mother to keep them in the house. They are often confined to overheated, badly ventilated rooms and catch colds which rack their whole system. To guard against this a box of Baby's Own Tablets should be kept in the house and an occasional dose given the baby to keep its stomach and bowels working regularly. This will not fail to break up colds and keep the health of the baby in good condition till the brighter days come along. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers, or by mail, at 25 cents a box, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

NEW C. P. R. AGENT

Mr. James Cassie succeeds Mr. H. A. Hannington as C. P. R. Agent at Orangeville. The new Agent, who entered upon his duties last week, is very well known to quite a number of our citizens, as he has been C. P. R. agent in Shelburne for the last seventeen years. The esteem in which he is held by the people of Shelburne is shown by the following article from last week's issue of the Free Press:—

"We regret to learn that James Cassie, C. P. R. Agent in Shelburne for the past seventeen years, has been appointed to fill the vacancy at Orangeville caused by the removal of H. A. Hannington to West Toronto. He entered upon his new duties on Monday of this week. Mr. Cassie, we learn, received the appointment because of his seniority of service with the Company. The duties of the new position are not so arduous or varied as at the Shelburne station, and it was with these facts in view that Mr. Cassie accepted the appointment. Orangeville citizens and the travelling public will find Mr. Cassie a very obliging and courteous agent, and while the citizens of this town sincerely regret his departure they are pleased to learn of his promotion. Mrs. Cassie and family will not be leaving Shelburne until spring."

The Economist says:—"Shelburne will be sorry to lose Mr. Jas. Cassie, the popular C. P. R. Agent, who will go to Orangeville. 'Jim' will be specially missed in Masonic circles and with the curlers."

THE TOWN COUNCIL

Orangeville Council passed the following accounts at last regular meeting on Monday night, February 4th:—

E. C. Clark, $6.00; Orangeville Hydro Commission, $28.50, $3.86, $2.61 and $314.80; George King, $5.00 and $4.00; W. A. Clowes, $7.20; Oliver Carpenter, $3.75 and $2.40, bill for the latter, which is for snowshovelling at the corner of Mill and Church Sts., to be rendered to the Orangeville Hydro Commission; Bell Telephone Co., $1.54; J. Kearns & Son, $13.35; Municipal World, Limited, $26.45; Adamson Hardware Co., $16.18; W. Watt and W. M. Green, $25.00 each, for services as auditors; Wm. Collister, $5.10; H. B. Church, $89.60; Fred Doherty, $3.55; C. C. G. Hannah Estate, $30.55; Jas. Thompson, $4.00.

The referred accounts were:—Geo. Allen, $47.80, to T. P. Com. to adjust and pay; Bell Telephone Co., $2.25, to T. P. Com.; Bell Telephone Co., $2.50, to F. & W. Com.

W. T. Collister wrote the Council that he intended to hold the municipality responsible for injuries to his wife. He attributed the injuries to a defective culvert on Mary and Sarah Sts.

The Auditors' report was submitted to Council and referred to the Finance Committee.

The Clerk was instructed to write the Provincial Health Department asking them to send a representative to Orangeville to look over the proposed alterations to the waterworks reservoir with a view to giving necessary information so that the proposed work will comply with the regulations of the Board of Health.

The Deputy-Reeve and Councillors McBride and Matthews and the members of the F. & W. Committee were appointed a Special Committee to look after the proposed work in connection with the reservoir.

J. Blake addressed the Council in behalf of the C. M. Petrie Cream Seperator Co. Mr. Blake asked the Council to prepare and submit to the property owners a by-law providing for a free site for the plant the Company proposes to erect in Orangeville and a fixed assessment of from $3,000 to $5,000. Mr. R. D. Gardiner, Manager of the Orangeville Creamery, also addressed the Council on the merits of the Petrie cream separator, which he stated he had used and found very satisfactory. The whole matter was referred to the Industrial Committee. This Committee has since conferred with the representatives of the Company and we understand that a draft agreement is now under consideration.

ST. VITUS DANCE

Shows Through a Twitching of the Muscles of Face and Limbs.

Chorea, or as it is more generally known, St. Vitus dance, is a trouble that usually attacks young children, though older people may be afflicted with it. Its most common symptoms are a twitching of the muscles of the face and limbs. As the disease progresses the twitching takes the form of spasms in which the jerking motion may be confined to the head, or all the limbs may be affected. Frequently the patient is unable to hold anything in the hands or to walk steadily. In severe cases the speech is often affected. The disease is due to debility of the nerves and relief comes through an enriched blood supply, which feeds and strengthens the nerves. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have been most successful in reaching this trouble through their specific action on the blood, which it enriches and purifies. The following instance will show what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills can do in this trouble. Mrs. S. E. Makins, Parry Harbor, Ont., says:—"As a young girl I was badly stricken with St. Vitus dance. My parents tried several medicines but without avail. I was steadily growing worse and could scarcely walk without falling. I had to quit school and had no control of my nerves or actions. Finally a neighbor advised the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and the use of these for a couple of months restored me, and I have had no attack of the trouble since. I have, however, taken the pills at different times since, when I felt out of sorts, and find them all you claim for them if given a fair trial."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine, or by mail, at 50 cents a box, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ontario.

CALEDON GAS AND OIL WELLS

New Company Started to Drill Above Inglewood.

A new company has taken over the options of the Dover Oil Company in Caledon and they are not going to ask the public for funds.

Messrs. Sparks and Anderson, of Oil Springs, are the men who have undertaken to carry on the search for oil. They have begun a bore on the farm of Mr. John Graham, lot six, above Inglewood, and announce that they will go as far as the granite before they quit. They have a crew of four men working days.

There are three wells on various farms in the vicinity put down by the two or three companies that have been prospecting.

All these wells have yielded gas but not oil. Good luck to the new company. May they strike oil.—Brampton Banner.

THE LATE JOHN PURDON

The death of Mr. John Purdon on Saturday morning came as a great shock to his many friends in Tottenham and Adjala. While he had not been in good health for quite a while, he was able to be around and on Friday appeared to be somewhat better than usual, but early Saturday morning he passed peacefully away to his reward. The late Mr. Purdon was in his 61st year and was a native of Mono township, where he resided for some years. Shortly after his marriage he moved to the 2nd line of Adjala, where he lived until he moved to Tottenham about a year ago. He was an indefatigable worker and a good farmer and he deserved the reward of his industry. As a neighbor he was always ready to lend a helping hand to those in trouble or adversity. He had few, if any enemies, but his friends were legion, not only in the community where he spent the greater part of his life, but he made many friends since coming to town. In religion he was a member and a staunch supporter of the Anglican Church. He is survived by his wife, one son, Lenward, on the old homestead, and two daughters, Mrs. Firth, of Shelburne, and Miss Beryl, at home, also two grandchildren. One brother, Edward who resided with him on the farm, and five sisters, viz., Mrs. Robert Speers, of Albion; Mrs. David Lee and Mrs. Wm. Speers, of Connor; Mrs. Garbutt, of Edmonton, Alberta, and Mrs. Bonney, of Eden, Man., also survive. The funeral was held on Monday, service being conducted at the home by Rev. A. C. McCollum, of Alliston, assisted by Rev. A. P. Kennedy and Rev. J. N. McPaul, after which the remains were conveyed to St. John's Cemetery, Mono, for interment. The floral tributes were beautiful and numerous. To the sorrowing family we extend our heartfelt sympathy.—Tottenham Sentinel.

HUSBAND AND WIFE DIE

The death of Mr. James Thompson, a well-known resident of the Caledon East neighborhood, took place at his home near that village on Sunday night, February 3rd. One week later, early on Monday morning, February 11th, Mrs. Thompson followed her beloved husband to that bourne, whence no traveller has returned. The late Mr. Thompson was in his 76th year and Mrs. Thompson was in her 75th year. Both were widely known and held in the highest respect by the community and their removal within such a brief period of time has caused general sorrow and widespread sympathy for the bereaved family and relatives. They are survived by a family of two sons and four daughters, twenty grandchildren and twelve great-grandchildren. The sons and daughters are James, of Three Rivers, Que.; and William, at home; Mrs. W. Bell, Georgetown; Mrs. John Devoy, Britannia; Mrs. Milton Young and Mrs. W. A. Scott, Brampton. Mrs. White, of St. George, Ont., Mrs. Uren, of Paris, and Mrs. Harrison, of Guelph, are sisters of Mr. Thompson. The late Mr. Thompson, who was a large, powerful man physically, had spent the greater part of his life farming, from which he only retired a short time ago. He was a staunch Conservative and a member of the Orange Order. Mrs. Thompson, whose maiden name was Esther Ann Little, was a member of a well-known Chinguacousy family and was a kindly, warm-hearted woman, who enjoyed the goodwill and confidence of all her neighbors. The funeral of the husband was held from his late home, lot 4, con. 5, Caledon, to Brampton Cemetery, on Tuesday, Feb. 5th, Rev. Holden, of Caledon East, and Rev. R. W. Allin, of Brampton, conducting the services. The funeral of Mrs. Thompson was held from the home of her brother-in-law, Mr. Stewart Little, Caledon East, to Brampton by C. N. R. train on Wednesday, Feb. 13th, at 10.30 a.m. Rev. Holden conducted service at the home at 9.30 a.m. and Rev. Allin officiated at the grave.

AN OLD NEWSPAPER

Mrs. H. A. Dorrance has in her possession a copy of the Mount Forest Examiner of Thursday, June 7th, 1866. The Fenian Raid was then in progress and the paper contains over three columns of despatches, extracts, etc., narrating the progress of the Raid and reporting some of the engagements between the invaders and the Canadian Militia. Capt. Alexander Godfrey, grandfather of Mrs. Dorrance and father of the late Mrs. G. A. Campbell, was the Captain of the Mount Forest volunteers, who had just been ordered to Guelph in readiness for active service. The Examiner contains a very interesting account of the mustering and departure of the Company, which numbered some fifty men. Journalists were plain spoke nin those days and the Editor states bluntly that "all the men—with one pusillanimous exception, John Hacking by name, who was on the previous day found to have taken French leave—responded to the call."

Along with other Veterans of the Raid Captain Godfrey's services were eventually recognised by the grant of a location certificate entitling him to possession of 160 acres of land situated in the twp. of Chamberlain in Northern Ontario. The certificate which was issued in May, 1907, over the signature of Hon. Frank Cochrane, then Minister of Lands, Forests and Mines, recites that the land grant is in consideration of Capt. Godfrey's services as Captain of the Mount Forest Rifles on the occasion of the Fenian Raid.

WALDEMAR

(Intended for last week)

Mr. Wm. Boyle has been again elected Mayor of our village by acclamation. Mayor Boyle has now held this responsible office for eight years and has given the people of the village excellent service.

Miss Shaw, of this place, spent Saturday and Sabbath as the guest of her mother in Mount Forest.

Mr. Alex Talbot, of Valley Dale Farm, East Luther, paid our burg a flying visit on Sabbath evening last.

Mr. George Johnston, of Melville, paid a very pleasant visit to the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Black, Amaranth and East Luther townline, on Sabbath last.

We think we can hear the faint tinkling of wedding bells to the west of our village. Unless we are mistaken the happy event is scheduled to take place in the very near future.

Mr. Walder, our section foreman, has been confined to the house with a very severe cold. We hope to see him out again shortly.

All the people here admire The Banner. It is a clean and interesting paper. More success to it, we say.

Mr. Morrison, of Mr. Reid's bakery, is delighted to have his wife home from the hospital. A fine boy. Congratulations.

We wish Alton Citizens' Band was reorganized.

Dr. Caldwell visited Caledon East Epworth League on Tuesday, Feb. 12th, to give a lecture on Volcanoes and Earthquakes.

The Epworth League held a very interesting meeting on Monday evening. Mr. C. Lowe was in charge. Talks were given by Mr. Geo. Presley and Mr. C. Lowe on missionary work. The programme also included a reading by Miss B. Lowe and some singing by Mrs. Lowe, Miss Lowe and Cecil Lowe.

ALTON

Dr. Caldwell's sermons on Sunday, Feb. 17th, "The Terrible Plagues in Egypt—the Frogs, Gnats, Beetles and Murrain on Cattle—Jehovah's Power and Man's Weakness."

We are glad to state that Mr. Richard Thomas is steadily improving. Mr. Wm. Shaw is also on the mend. James Meek, unfortunately, is in the hospital again. Mrs. Russell Jenkins, we regret to learn, is also on the sick list.

The Methodist Church Epworth League is holding interesting meetings and is having an increased attendance. Everybody is welcome.

Dr. and Mrs. Caldwell entertained the Ladies' Aid Society of the Methodist Church at the Parsonage on Thursday last. It proved a delightful meeting. New members were added and a pleasant social time was spent.

Considerable stir is going on here with a view to strengthening the Orange Lodge.

THE MAPLES

The last meeting of The Maples Women's Institute was held at the home of Mrs. William Carroll on Thursday afternoon, January 17th, at 2.30 o'clock. After the business on hand had been transacted the afternoon was spent in sewing. The roll call was answered by a verse. Instrumental music was rendered by Misses E. Lightle and L. Carroll.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. William Morrow on Thursday afternoon, February 21st, at 2.30 o'clock. The program will consist of choruses by the Institute members, a Paper by Mrs. David Trimble, music by the Misses Trimble and Prust and a reading by Miss H. Bramble. Roll Call answered by exchanging books. Meeting will be taken by Mrs. J. Menary. A good attendance of the members is requested.

ANOTHER REFERENDUM

There is much talk and agitation in some quarters of another vote upon the prohibition issue in the Province of Ontario. Clamor, however, often is deceptive, and agitation sometimes unreasonable.

The action of Alberta and Manitoba is quoted as a reason for another referendum in Ontario, though a careful examination shows a radical difference between the situation in these provinces.

Prohibition came into force in Manitoba on June 1st, 1916; in Alberta on July 1st, 1916; and in Ontario on Sept. 17th, 1916. In all these provinces it was understood that after the law had been given a reasonable trial, another vote would be taken. Such a vote was taken in the Province of Ontario on Oct. 20th, 1919, when the people said by a vote of 792,942 to 369,434, a prohibition majority of 423,508, that they wanted the O. T. A. sustained. The vote in Alberta and Manitoba did not take place until this year, when voters in these provinces said that they desired to replace the measure of prohibition they enjoyed by a system of government sale of liquor.

Prohibition was fairly tred out in all these three provinces. Ontario reaffirmed it, Manitoba and Alberta repealed it, and there the situation rests.

The fact that the verdict in Alberta and Manitoba was different from that in Ontario, is no reason for Ontario voting again. The fact that the Farmer-Government of Ontario was defeated is surely no reason why the Farmer governments of Manitoba and Alberta should resign and go to the country.

History shows that Ontario has voted probably oftener than any other Province in Canada. There was first the Mowat Plebiscite of 1894, the Dominion Plebiscite of 1898, the Ross Referendum of 1902, the great Local Option campaigns of 1905 to 1916, the Referendum of 1919, and the vote upon the question of prohibition of importation in 1921.

Upon no issue has the public mind been more frequently or more clearly expressed, and every time it has been emphatically in favor of the strongest measure of prohibition which the people had the power to vote for.

Of course the liquor interests desire to weary the people with much voting, but the whole trend of modern civilization is toward prohibition. Why should Ontario listen to the cries of the reactionaries?

It would be good business for the Province of Ontario to consider the question as settled and settle itself to the establishment, improving, and enforcing of the law. Certainly the country should not be thrown into another campaign, upon the say-so of a few booze favoring politicians who are really more noisy than numerous.—The Pioneer.

CO. MASTER'S ADDRESS

W. Bro. J. J. White Discusses Important Matters in Address to Dufferin Orangemen.

The following is a verbatim copy of County Master J. J. White's address to Dufferin County L. O. L. at the annual meeting held here on Tuesday of last week:—

Orangeville, Ont., Feb. 5, 1924

Officers and Members of Dufferin County Loyal Orange Lodge.

Brethren,—

It is a great pleasure to meet again at this our annual county meeting and I tender you all a most warm and cordial welcome. It is gratifying to see such a large representation from the different lodges throughout the county and it must prove an inspiration to each and every one of us. I trust our deliberations will be conducted in a brotherly spirit which will enable us to reach wise conclusions upon all matters submitted and when this meeting is over may we return to our homes with renewed vigor, to take up the work of our several lodges for another year, well satisfied with good work well done.

Since our last annual meeting we have been face to face with the great scythe of time which has cut the brittle thread of life and has taken from our fraternity friends and associates of former years. Their names are Bro. Joseph Island, Wor. Master of Purple Valley L.O.L. 84. Bro. Island was with us at our last annual meeting but died suddenly a very few days afterwards. He was a faithful and loyal member of our association. Another who took a very deep interest in our county and the dominion was our late brother John Best M.P. He was a very loyal member of our society. Also Bro. Tiny Montgomery, Worshipful Master of L.O.L. 22, Garafraxa and Bro. James Ewing of L.O.L. 427, Orangeville.

Our orphanage at Richmond Hill has been completed and is an honor to our society and I am glad to say is doing a noble work for our order and a number of our lodges have been doing good work for this institution. At the Sunday services before the Twelfth of July last and at our celebration at Erin, July 12th last about One Hundred and Twenty dollars was secured and sent to this splendid institution.

I attended Grand Lodge at Owen Sound last March and while have attended many grand lodge meetings before this was the best meeting I ever attended. There was a very great interest taken in this meeting by all who attended. The reports of the different committees were very interesting, especially the committee on legislation. Our order has a very able brother at the head of this committee in the person of Wor. Bro. Loftus H. Reid. For the benefit of every primary lodge I would like to see the Wor. Master of every lodge in Dufferin County attend our next Grand Lodge meeting which meets in the city of Brantford on Wednesday, March 12th next.

I am especially pleased to see the increase and splendid progress of many lodges of our county during the past year. In my own lodge we have had an increase of twenty-five new members and very encouraging reports have come in from several other lodges in the county. I am also glad to state for the information of our brethren throughout the County of Dufferin that our present representative for Dufferin County in the Ontario Legislature, Bro. C. R. McKeown, is not only a very enthusiastic Orangeman, but is also a member of the Royal Black Knights of Ireland, so we, as Orangemen feel that we have in our worthy representative for Dufferin County an Orangeman who will see the Protestant principles will be well looked after in the Ontario Legislature.

As your County Master I have had a very busy year with county matters. The union of the two Orangeville lodges, our 12th of July celebration at Erin, and our grand celebration in Orangeville on the 11th of August last by the Royal Black Knights of Ireland, and which I am glad to say was the greatest and most successful celebration of it kind ever held in this part of the province.

In conclusion I wish to thank every officer in the County Lodge for their splendid assistance, and also to the Masters and members of the primary lodges throughout the county for their kindness and assistance in helping me during the past year.

Yours fraternally,
J. J. WHITE,
County Master

INTERIM-MODERATOR'S WORK APPRECIATED

On Friday evening last, Waldemar Presbyterian congregation invited Rev. S. Lundie and Mrs. Lundie to a social, which was quite largely attended, and gave the jovial Irish pastor a pleasant surprise. During the long and trying vacancy in this congregation following the resignation of Rev. J. Ross, Mr. Lundie had more than the usual trouble in securing supply and eventually a pastor for the new united field. The Waldemar people apparently appreciated this for they made a very handsome recognition in the shape of a purse running up into three figures, besides a kindly worded address, read by Garfield McBride; the presentation being made by Mr. Albert Reid. Rev. Mr. Webster, pastor, presided, adding his words of congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Lundie. Mr. Lundie made a characteristic and suitable reply for the very handsome recognition the congregation thought his actions merited.—Star & Vidette.

"We got our Exercise at the Wood Pile"

IN the good old days when we were boys in the country there was no lack of exercise.

When other jobs ran out there was always wood to be cut and there is no denying that pushing the buck saw and swinging the axe are real exercise.

Rosy cheeks and sparkling eyes told of pure blood and an active liver. There was no lack of appetite those times and no complaints of indigestion.

But wood piles are not so plentiful now as they used to be and the tendency to avoid exercise is continually on the increase.

For this reason it becomes absolutely necessary to resort to other means of keeping the liver active and the bowels regular.

Particularly in the cold season when we live so much indoors with too little pure air to breathe and too much artificial food to eat do we require the use of medicine to regulate the vital organs.

In the great majority of homes Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills are constantly kept on hand for this purpose because they have proven to be the most dependable regulator and suitable for all the family.

Neglect to keep the liver, kidneys and bowels in healthful activity is only courting trouble from such ailments as appendicitis, Bright's disease of the kidneys, diabetes, high blood pressure or other dreaded diseases.

By the use of one pill a dose at bedtime once or twice a week you can be sure of the healthful action of these eliminating organs and the prevention of such ills as naturally develop in a poisoned system.

Please note that while the price of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills is increased to 35 cts. a box the number of pills in a box is increased in the same proportion. Edmanson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto.

Mrs. Small and her son, Wilbert, have sold their grocery and confectionery business in Erin village to Mr. R. T. Elgie, of Grand Valley, who is now in possession.

An attempt is being made to organize a new lacrosse association in Western Ontario independent of the Ontario Amateur Lacrosse Association. According to a Chatham despatch, the new association will include among other places, London, St. Thomas, St. Mary's, Sarnia, Wallaceburg, Chatham, Blenheim, Tilbury, Petrolea, Windsor, Stratford, Woodstock, Ingersoll, Hanover Wingham, Chesley, Mitchell. The St. Mary's club is sponsoring the project, and several clubs have already endorsed it.

A Wonderful Convenience

Getting out of a warm bed, to go downstairs and answer a telephone has its drawbacks. An extension telephone alongside the bed saves many a man or woman that unpleasant necessity.

Extension telephones cost only $1.24 a month! The charge for installing is only $1.00! They are a wonderful convenience.

Save your "better half" many fatiguing steps. Business and professional men find them indispensable in homes and offices. Let us talk it over!

NO MORE SUPPLEMENTALS

Hon. Howard Ferguson, Minister of Education, announced that the system of holding supplemental examinations would be discontinued. In next years it has been customary to hold supplemental examinations in September, at which pupils who had been unsuccessful in June could again try. But from this on there will be no examinations following the one in June. However, if a pupil should fail in a subject that paper will be carefully re-read at once, and if it is still marked a failure the pupil's record during the year will be considered and due allowance made. For instance, if a pupil failed by a few marks in a certain subject and yet had stood well in it in the term work, he would be allowed that paper.

Owen Sound Orange Lodges have already commenced arrangements for this year are Sept. 17, 18 and 19. gest Orange celebrations on July 12th next that Owen Sound has ever seen.

NEWS NOTES

Peter McCuaig, for 24 years a resident of Fort William, formerly in the employ of the Hudson's Bay Co., is dead.

Owen Sound committee is planning to fit out the curling rink and other large buildings as temporary restaurants for guests at Presbyterian Assembly next June.

A very pleasant event took place at the home of Wm. Beattie, 71 Alice street, Guelph, on Wednesday evening, January 30th, when their niece, Miss Nora Mourrahan, was presented with a beautiful crepe-de-chene blouse and also a fountain pen and chain from her friends upon her leaving them and entering the Royal Alexandra Hospital, Fergus, as a nurse.

A monster elm log, the biggest delivered in Dundalk in a great many years, was landed at Howes' Mill recently by Lew. Moore, of Badjeros, who says there is still some good timber in this district. The log, which was fourteen feet long, represented a measurement of one thousand and seventy cubic feet.

The recent snow storm caused the collapse of part of the roof of Knox Church shed in Grand Valley. Apparently the rods from the roof to the beam below became lose, allowing the upright to become displaced and when the wind came, the roof buckled in. Just as this happened a man was backing his team out, escaping by feet.

A few weeks ago thieves broke into the Conservator office in Brampton and stole a new electric heater and a number of electric bulbs. No trace of the culprits has been found. Recently the lock was taken off the back door and on Sunday last the office was again entered. The thieves evidently becoming alarmed left hastily, leaving the door open.

At Winterbourns, William Veitch, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Veitch, lost an arm while operating a corn cutter on his father's farm. Mr. Veitch, in company with his father, was cutting hay and straw and, in the process of feeding it into the machine, his arm was caught in the rolls and drawn under the knife, which severed it just below the elbow.

Messrs. Arthur Hart and Robert Sargent, of Hillsburg, spent a recent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John Hart, of Shelburne. They motored up in a sleigh car, the alterations and adjustments necessary to the vehicle to conform to the narrow sleigh width being made by the two passengers. They made the trip to Shelburne in 90 minutes.

The vote on Church Union by two churches in the Milton district shows an overwhelming majority against Union, as follows: At St. David's, Campbellville, the vote was 117 against union to 49 for, and at the Presbyterian Church, Nassagaweya the vote stood 163 against and 29 for.

In order to provide an additional water supply, the Woodstock Water and Light Commission has purchased five acres of swamp, including springs, with an estimated output of one million gallons per day, near Sweaburg, from Ernest Thornton. The price paid by the Commission was $1525.

Miss May Julian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Julian, Castlemore, was surprised by eighty members of the community a fortnight ago, and presented with two upholstered rattan hairs, by Mrs. James Duncan and Mrs. J. A. Kellam, in appreciation of her services in the church and community.

The death of Dr. J. G. Hutton at Durham has removed a figure widely known in this section of the province. The doctor practiced at Priceville for many years and 20 years ago moved to Durham. He was a member of the Masonic Order, the Oddfellows, Foresters and Sons of Scotland. He was a staunch Liberal and in religion a Presbyterian. The [illegible] held on Monday to Durham Cemetery under Masonic auspices.

To Soothe & Heal Those CHILBLAINS

Apply ZAM-BUK at night and the pain goes.

Whether your chilblains be on the toes, fingers, nose or ears, nothing else will soothe and heal the itching, inflamed or broken places so quickly as Zam-Buk. Owing to its refined herbal character Zam-Buk soaks through the tiny pores, deep into the tissues. By stimulating healthy activity of the skin Zam-Buk enables it to throw off poisonous secretions that are impeding the functions.

Mrs. A. J. Underhill, of Rutledge, Minn., writes:—"For many winters my chilblains were so bad that I could not wear shoes for days together.

Zam-Buk

"To my great delight Zam-Buk gave the lasting relief which I had previously sought in vain. Whenever my feet feel in the least sore a little Zam-Buk soon puts them right. I have also found it a soothing remedy for chapped hands, cold-cracks, etc." Get a box to-day!

CHAIRMAN P. S. BOARD

Mr. E. J. Cobean, a former Dufferin County boy and well-known in Orangeville, Mono and Shelburne, has been appointed Chairman of the Chesley Public School Board for 1924. Mr. Cobean is a jeweller and ranks as one of Chesley's successful business men. The Chesley Enterprise devotes a half column to the new Chairman's qualities as a citizen and a public man, concluding its appreciation with the following verses:—

As an infant Ed scrambled on Shelburne's board walks
With the dust of the streets on his pinnies and frocks,
And when growing up all bad habits he'd ban
For Eddie Cobean was a model young man.

When to Chesley he came twenty-five years ago
In fussin' or business he never was slow,
And, as time flitted on, took a town girl to wife,
And Ed settled down for contentment in life.

In affairs of the Band he has handled the mon',
And music enjoys as he does heape of fun.
But the climax of glory of late he's attained
As Public School Chairman, a verdict unfeigned.

Alex. McLean, Bentinck, had occasion to go to Egremont recently, remained all night with friends and came home on one of these Arctic days. On the way, even with double mitts on, his hands became so chilled that he drove up to a home to get some relief. The owner came to the door and did not seem to care to offer succor, so Mr. McLean turned his horses round and strange to say he got warmer at once. The blood was up.

J. J. Still Reports Beautiful Weather in Letter From Los Angeles

Mr. J. B. Irwin has received the following letter from our townsman Mr. J. J. Still, who is sojourning in California for the winter months:—

114 Araphoe Street,
Los Angeles, Cal.,
January 24, 1924.

Dear Mr. Irwin,—

I have been wondering how you are. I have got down to the south. I am well and the weather is fine. Just beautiful sunshine all the time until to-day. It is raining for the first time since last winter. I am having a good time. My cold and rheumatism have left me, so I think I will be helped by my visit here. I have been down to Mexico for a while. It is nice there, but an awful place for booze and rowdyism. The fruit is very plentiful here. I never saw such a crop of oranges in my life—miles and miles with nothing but oranges and grape fruit. I have 17 nice orange trees on my place and they are loaded. If the express was not so high I would send you a barrel. I hope you are all well and that you still have nice sunshine with you. It was nice all the way out. There was just a little snow in the mountains, but it was raining in British Columbia and Washington.

A PIONEER OF PROTON

At the age of 83 years Mrs. Jacob F. Merklinger passed away after a few days illness at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Kramp, Hanover, on Jan. 31st. The deceased was born in Wellesley Township and there married the late Mr. Merklinger in 1856. They resided for some time in New York City and came to Proton upwards of 50 years ago, where they farmed on the 2nd concession, later taking up the homestead on the 5th concession. They endured the hardships of pioneer life and succeeded against many privations. Mr. Merklinger passed away fifteen years ago, since which time Mrs. Merklinger has lived with members of her family.

There were fourteen children, nine of whom survive, namely: Mrs. Robt. Hillard, Hanover; Mrs. M. Wagner; Jacob, at Riverview; Mrs. John [illegible], Hanover; Martin, in Proton; David, at Ardill, Sask.; Mrs. James Small, Hamilton; Mrs. T. Bruce, Luther, and Mrs. A. Corbett, Riverview. There are also forty-six grandchildren and twenty-three great grandchildren. In religion the deceased was a member of the Lutheran Church.

The remains were conveyed by C. P. R. from Hanover on Saturday to Dundalk, thence to the home of Martin Merklinger, con. 6, Proton, from where the funeral was held on Sunday afternoon to Kingscote cemetery. Rev. G. W. Rose, of Corbetton, conducted the services. The pallbearers were: Robt. Dunn, Joseph Thompson, S. Gamble, John Stewart, John Francis, D. Quarrier.

Beautiful flowers were on the casket, including a pillow from members of the family and sprays from grandchildren.—Dundalk Herald.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Brought Relief When Other Medicines Failed

Port Mann, B. C.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound because I was tired and run-down. I had headaches and no appetite and was troubled for two years with sleeplessness. I tried many medicines, but nothing did me any real good. While I was living in Washington I was recommended by a stranger to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I am stronger and feel fine since then and am able to do my housework. I am willing for you to use these facts as a testimonial."—Mrs. J. C. GREAVES, Port Mann, B. C.

A PRESENTATION

On Friday evening, Feb. 8th, about one hundred of the friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Keyes met at their corner home, lot 7, Prince of Wales Road, Mono, which was kindly loaned for the occasion by the new owners, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Reid. The evening was most agreeably spent, the merrymaking lasting right into the wee sma' hours. The gathering came to order about nine o'clock, when Mr. Oliver Sproule was appointed chairman for the evening. A speech from Mr. Sproule is always good and the chairman's address was no exception to the rule. The following address was then read by Mr. Arthur Shirley:—

Orangeville, Ont., Feb. 8th, 1924.

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Keyes,—

We, your friends and neighbors, knowing that you are about to leave us, have met here this evening to wish you every success and happiness in your new home. We need hardly say how sorry we all are to lose you from amongst us, but what is our loss will be someone else's gain, and after you are gone you will long be remembered amongst us.

We would like to say to you, Mr. Keyes, that you will be remembered as a man who was always ready and willing to help his neighbors. A neighbor never went to you, Sir, and asked for help at any time but you gave it to him ungrudgingly and freely, and many a time, when you have seen one of us behind with our work, you have come along, without being asked, and have helped us out. A good name is better than many riches, and when you get settled in your new home, you may look back with pleasure on the time you spent in thineneighborhood and know that your name still lives amongst us, and is esteemed and respected by all.

We would like to say to you, Mrs. Keyes, that you will be missed by the ladies of the neighborhood just as much as your husband will be missed by the men, and we know that no ladies ever appealed to you for help in vain. Along with your name, too, we would like to couple that of your daughter, Vera, who has just gone from amongst us, and wish her much happiness in her new home.

As a small token of our esteem we wish to present to you, Mr. and Mrs. Keyes, this purse, which, although not very large, we hope you will accept in the same spirit as that in which it is given, in a spirit of friendliness and good-will.

Signed on behalf of your friends and neighbors—Oliver Sproule, Joseph Dermott, Arthur Shirley.

Mr. Jos. Dermott then presented Mr. and Mrs. Keyes with a well-filled purse. After the presentation Mr. Keyes thanked the neighbors for their kindness and generosity and said he would always look back with pleasure to the time he had spent in Mono. Short addresses were afterwards delivered by Wallace Brett, Josiah Marshall, Jos. Jackson, Alex. Porterfield and others. Everyone then joined in singing "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow," which seemed just the right thing to do at that particular moment. A vote of thanks was then tendered to Mr. and Mrs. Reid for their kindness in throwing their house open for the evening. The music the assorted and for the next hour or so until a halt was called for refreshments the dance was in full swing. Following the intermission dancing was resumed and continued until an early hour in the morn. The calling off was efficiently done by Mr. Hoare and Mr. Nicholson. Excellent music was supplied by Mr. Gillespie, Mr. Cruikshank and Breedon brothers.

REID—PETERSON

A quiet wedding took place in Chalmers' Presbyterian Church, Toronto, on Wednesday, January 30, 1924, when Miss Agnes Peterson, youngest daughter of Mr. Benj. Peterson of Shelburne, became the bride of Mr. Clifford M. Reid, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. E. Reid, of Melancthon. Rev. Stanley Owen, pastor of the church, officiating. The bride wore a French gown of grey embroidered georgette, with hat and shoes to match, and a corsage bouquet of orchids and lilies of the valley. After a short honeymoon the happy young couple will reside near Shelburne.

HIGH SCHOOL BOARD

Orangeville High School Board for 1924 held its organization meeting in the office of the Secretary-Treasurer on Wednesday evening of last week. Last year's officers and committees were reappointed as follows:

Chairman—Dr. T. H. Henry.
Vice-Chairman—Albert Walker.
Secretary-Treasurer—W. C. Hopkins.
School Attendance Officer—Thos. Portland
Property Committee—J. H. Hulse, S. H. Rutledge, Dr. Price.
Education Committee—Albert Walker, W. G. Kearns, A. D. McKitrick.
Finance Committee—W. G. Kearns, Dr. Price and A. D. McKitrick.

The Board decided to sanction the sending of a choir from the High School to compete in the Musical Festival in Massey Hall the beginning of May.

FOR SALE BY TENDER

TENDERS will be received by the undersigned up to two o'clock in the afternoon on Tuesday, the 26th day of February, 1924, for the purchase of the coal and wood business and farm produce business belonging to the estate of the late C.C.G. Hannah, as follows:—

PARCEL No. 1—Coal and wood business, including coal sheds, scales, stables, span of horses, wagons and sleighs, the lands on which the buildings are erected, consisting of Lots 31, 32 and 33, according to registered plan 249 of the Town of Orangeville, in the County of Dufferin. There is a complete equipment for coal and wood, also the office equipment, and the stock consisting of coal and wood, coal to be sold by weight and the wood by measurement.

PARCEL No. 2—The farm produce business, including Grain Elevator and Potato House on the C. P. R. lands, and full equipment for handling grain and farm produce.

Tenders will be received for the two parcels en bloc or separately, and in case the business and property may be sold more advantageously en bloc than separately, such tenders may be accepted.

Tenderers are required to state the amount apportioned by them for each parcel.

Tenders are to be addressed to Mrs. Mary Jane Hannah, Administratrix of the Estate of C. C. G. Hannah, c-o J. L. Island, Solicitor, Orangeville, Ontario, and each tenderer must give his Postoffice address.

TERMS OF SALE—50 per cent cash; balance payable in one month if satisfactory security be given for payment.

A marked cheque, payable to the order of Mrs. Mary Jane Hannah, Administratrix, for 10 per dent. of the amount of tender must accompany each tender, which cheque will be returned if the tender is not accepted, and forfeited if the tender is accepted and not completed by the purchaser.

The highest or any tender not necessarily accepted.

The above business and property must be sold in order to wind up the estate of the late C. C. G. Hannah.

The above business and property may be inspected at all reasonable times on application to Mr. W. G. McBride at the office of the late Mr. Hannah, Broadway, Orangeville, Ontario.

The tenderer, on notification of the acceptance of his tender, must sign an agreement to complete the purchase. Such notification may be given by registered letter addressed to the purchaser at Postoffice given in his tender.

For further particulars and conditions of sale apply to the undersigned.

J. L. ISLAND,
Orangeville, Ontario, Solicitor for the Administratrix.

THE PIONEER IN CANADA

Thirty-two years ago the now famous "SALADA" Tea was placed on the market in metal packages. "SALADA" was the pioneer package tea in Canada. Immediately its superior flavour and purity won for it a great popularity that has been growing ever since. It is still a little different and a little better than ordinary tea.

CATARACT'S ANNUAL

The annual meeting of the Cataract Electric Company, Limited, took place at their office on Broadway, January 31st, 1924, where a very pleasing report was presented to the shareholders, and for the first time in the history of the Company, a dividend was declared to shareholders of rank, amounting to seven per cent.

During the year, the Manager pointed out that the Company had steadily grown and the number of customers being supplied by the Company's energy was largely increased. A scheme of general rehabilitation of the system's old lines was outlined and met with the unanimous approval of the shareholders, as it was pointed out that the system must have a first-class line to supply a first-class service.

The Directors and Officers were elected as follows for the ensuing year:—Mr. F. G. Lee, Toronto President and Treasurer; Mr. R. G. Lee, Vice-Pres. and General Manager; Mr. J. N. McHolland, Toronto, Barrister-at-Law, Directors; Mr. F. L. Ireland, Barrister-at-Law, Sec'y.

POLICE CONCERT

Mr. W. E. Capps, musical instructor in the Orangeville public school, was one of the artists who contributed to the program at the recent police concert in Massey Hall, Toronto. Of him The Globe says:—"W. Edmund Capps was called back again and again, his rendering of 'Songs of Araby' proving particularly popular." The Evening Telegram says:—"Mr. Edmund Capps did some most beautiful singing, his pure, true, smooth tones—whose production seems to get easier the higher the range—carried the message of a number of sympathetic lyrical ballads right into the hearts of his hearers. Amongst his programme numbers were Geehl's 'For You Alone' and Clay's 'I'll Sing Thee Songs of Araby.' It is a joy to hear him enunciate. There is no mouthing or straining for effect. Every word comes across clear and musical."

HOSPITAL NOTES

The Daughters were reluctantly forced to cancel the concert in the Opera House on Monday night. On Friday morning word was received from the booking agency, that the Aeolian Entertainers, who were to furnish the program, had disbanded and would not be able to fill their engagement in Orangeville. Under the circumstances there was nothing to be done except call off the concert and refund the admission money to those who had bought tickets. The cancelling of the concert was a big disappointment to the Daughters and to local music lovers.

PUBLIC LIBRARY BOARD

Orangeville Public Library Board held its organization meeting on Monday night. The officers were appointed as follows:—

Chairman, W. C. Hopkins; Vice-Chairman, Dr. T. H. Henry; Chairman Property Committee, Dr. T. H. Henry; Chairman Book Committee, C. A. Lamon.

The Board decided to discontinue the practice of reserving books.

CURLERS AT ERIN

Three rinks of Orangeville curlers visited Erin on Friday and played morning and afternoon games. In the morning the visitors were down three shots. They fared better in the afternoon, securing a lead of 7 shots, which gave them a margin of 4 shots on the day's play. The players who made the trip were:—

Joshua Reid, Logie Bell, J. E. Smith and E. G. Bingham, skip.

E. H. Sproule, Jas. Duncan, S. H. Rutledge and Judge Fisher, Skip.

J. A. McBride, J. J. Smith, Chas. Gillespie and W. C. Hopkins, skip.

FARMERS' SOCIAL

The Rich Hill Farmers' Club is planning to hold a Box Social in the Orange Hall on lot 20, 2nd Line, Amaranth, on Wednesday night, February 20th. A good program is being prepared. Admission, 25c and 15c. Ladies bringing Boxes admitted free. No auction. Accommodation arranged for horses.

DR. MATTHEWS LEAVES TOWN

A few of the intimate friends of Dr. G. S. Matthews spent Monday evening of last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Goodeve, First St. A very enjoyable time was spent, cards occupying the attention of the gathering during the early part of the evening. Later on a tasty lunch was served by the hostess. After lunch Mr. Ross Curry expressed for the company its regret at the Dr.'s departure from town and presented him with a fountain pen by way of a remembrance from his friends and chums. The Dr. replied briefly, stating how he had enjoyed his three years in Orangeville and expressing the belief that he had been fortunate enough to make some very warm friends here. After spending an hour pleasantly in dancing the company dispersed, first wishing Dr. Matthews the best of success in his new home in Renfrew.

Nothing added, nothing removed from the wheat berry

MOST of the so-called "whole-wheat" flour sold is not genuine whole-wheat flour.

Practically all such flour has certain important elements removed from it in the milling process, so that it will "keep" longer.

That is why, even when you bake your own "brown bread" you are not assured of getting genuine whole-wheat bread.

ARTHUR MURPHY

Another of the first generation who peopled this part of the province of Ontario has passed away. Mr. Arthur Murphy, after an illness extending over a period of about four years, died at his home, Wellington street, Thursday, the 24th ult. Though Mr. Murphy's illness had been due to heart trouble the immediate cause of death was a general breakdown. Up till the time of his illness Mr. Murphy had never been attacked by any ailment or disease and was known as one of the strongest men physically in the district. The same might be said of his mental qualities, for he became settled in his convictions very early in life and never wavered. He was born on the old Murphy homestead in Tossorontio in 1847 and when a young man commenced to farm on his own account not far from his father's place. From that time till he retired he lived on the Adjala side of the townline between that township and Tossorontio. He was a successful farmer and a highly respected resident of the neighborhood in which he lived. From early childhood he was a member of Trinity Anglican Church and one time and another filled every office in the church which could fall to a layman. Mr. Murphy was an enthusiastic member of the Orange Order and knew its history and principles throughout. All his life he was a member of L. O. L. No. 9, Rosemont, and for thirty years was treasurer of the lodge. He never aspired to municipal honors, but for years was trustee in the school section in Tossorontio in which his property was located. A Conservative whose party fealty was formed in the stormy days immediately following confederation, he never wavered and never failed to exercise his franchise and render his party any service possible. Mr. Murphy was twice married, frst to Jane Innes, who died in 1886. Thirty-seven years ago he married Ann Downey, who survives, together with four daughters: Mrs. Sam Parsons, Tossorontio; Mrs. Frank Field, Toronto; Mrs. Thomas Cooper, Elmvale, and Mrs. George Carruthers, Ivy. One brother, Thos. Murphy, of Dunrea, Man., and one sister, Mrs. John Graham, Alliston, also survive. The funeral took place Saturday afternoon. Rev. A. C. McCollum, assisted by Rev. G. L. Gray, conducted service in St. Andrew's Church, which Mr. Murphy has attended since coming into town seventeen years ago. Despite the bitter cold prevailing, a large number of friends accompanied the remains to the Union Cemetery, where they were interred with Orange honors.—Alliston Herald.

Robert's Syrup of the Extract of Cod Liver & Tar for COUGHS, COLDS and BRONCHITIS

Seventeen carloads of hay and two carloads of turnips left Arthur station for different centres in the States. The price paid to the farmers for the turnips was 18c per bus.

COUNTY COUNCIL NOTES

The Council decided to pay the annual membership fee of $15.00 to the Ontario Good Roads Association and also to defray the expenses of the Reeves of the municipalities and Messrs. Wheelock and Christie to the annual meeting of the Association on February 27, 28 and 29.

The County Property Committee was given authority to call for tenders for repainting the exterior of the county buildings.

The Finance Committee recommended payment of accounts of $423 and $199 to the Mothers' Allowance Committee. Committee also reported in favor of payment of the following grants: Sick Children's Hospital, $10.00; Orangeville, Shelburne and Grand Valley Agricultural Societies, $250 each; H. A. Dorrance, $100 for school fairs; Lord Dufferin Hospital, $1000; Children's Aid Society, $1000, to be paid as required; Orangeville, Shelburne and Grand Valley Memorial Committees, $50 each for 1924.

The Education Committee recommended payment of accounts as follows: Laurel Continuation School, $607.97; Shelburne High School, $4169.51; Dundalk High School, $1,324.54; Alliston High School, $773.04; Orangeville High School, $5,376.78; Creemore Continuation School, $835.84; Grand Valley High School, $3794.67. A grant of $100 was made to the Dufferin Teachers' Institute for 1923 and 1924. The Committee also recommended a grant of $50.00 to Inspector Liddy for the purpose of procuring a Circulating Art Library for the use of the schools of the county. Committee also approved of the employment of a county nurse for the schools and instructed Inspector Liddy to ascertain if the present system of township medical inspection could be dispensed with if a nurse were employed.

Appointments were made as follows—Board of Criminal Audit, D. E. Dean and T. F. Simpson; Trustee Orangeville High School, Dr. W. J. Price; Trustee Shelburne High School, J. Albert Hand.

The Chairman of the Committee the Warden and County Engineer were appointed a Committee to inspect all county bridges as early as possible in the spring and report to the Council at its June meeting.

The Committee on Legislation recommended that while attending the meeting of the Good Roads Association the Reeves of the municipalities interview the Minister of Public Highways re the proposed change in the licensing of autos and the tax on gasoline.

The County Roads Committee expressed its hearty appreciation of the excellent work of the County Roads Superintendent, Mr. U. W. Christie.

The Clerk was instructed to write the Department of Game and Fisheries requesting the Department to continue the close season for deer in Dufferin County for anothr three years.

Messrs. Macdonald, of Orangeville and Reburn, of Shelburne, addressed the Council re the maintenance of the Soldiers' Memorials of the county. Mr. G. B. Hayes presented the Auditors' report for 1923 and Mr. H. F. Tuck reported for the Children's Shelter and the work of the Children's Aid Society.

Mr. W. R. Liddy, Inspector of Public Schools, submitted a lengthy report on school work and conditions throughout the county. The Inspector reported the erection of a modern brick school house on a three acre site in S. S. No. 1, East Luther at a cost of $6000. In this connection the report suggested that the Education Department might with advantage engage the services of an efficient school architect, with an office staff, to make suitable plans for rural and urban school buildings, make out bills of materials and visit school buildings three or four times while in course of erection. S. S. No. 19 Mono, installed chemical closets and if these prove satisfactory it is likely that others will be recommended. During the year 12 rural and 3 urban school rooms were equipped with single seats and there are now 26 rural schools so equipped. 44 schools in the county are now teaching agriculture. Salaries of teachers increased slightly during the year. In the rural schools there was an average increase of $5.00, from $1004 to $1009, in village schools an average increase of $25 from $944 to $969, and in towns the increase averaged $32, from $1005 to $1037. The Inspector expressed the opinion that it was the duty of every county to establish and maintain at least one room devoted to methods of pedagogy, to which the minds of abnormal and mentally retarded children will respond. General grants to the schools of the county for the last year were:—Legislative, $31,407.25; Equipment $921.22; Library, $139.63. In addition there are household science and agricultural grants not yet reported. The registered attendance of school children in the county was 2853, a decrease of 151, and the average attendance 1873, a decrease of 168. Mr. Liddy advocated the introduction of a county circulating library of pictures as a means of promoting the love and knowledge of art among the children. There should, he suggested, be nine such libraries, one for each municipality.

MRS. HUGH CURRIE

After an illness of short duration from heart trouble, which ended in a sudden seizure from a paralytic stroke about 6 a.m. on Monday, the 4th inst., Mary Ferguson, beloved wife of Mr. Hugh Currie, passed peacefully away. Mrs. Currie was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Ferguson, and was born in Scotland, coming to Canada with her parents when a child, who, after taking some time, finally settled on lot 17, con. 6, Caledon, west. Thirty-six years ago she joined in matrimony with her bereaved husband, Mr. Hugh Currie, when they settled on lot 19, con. 6, Caledon, west. To this union was born two sons and one daughter, John and Peter, and Margaret, all at home. She is also survived by six brothers and one sister: Charles, Alexander, James, in Caledon; John, Malcolm and Donald, at Joliett, Ill., and Mrs. McDowell, in Erin.

Mrs. Currie was a member of Burns Presbyterian Church and was a kind and loving wife and mother.

The funeral took place from the family residence on Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 6th, when a large concourse assembled to pay their last respects to a departed friend. The interment took place at Erin Cemetery, when her pastor, Rev. John Lindsay, conducted the services at the home and graveside.—Erin Advocate.

STILL DOING GREAT WORK FOR WOMEN

What Mrs. Vaillancourt Says of Dodd's Kidney Pills.

She had suffered from Rheumatism, Sciatica, Gravel and Backache, and found relief in Dodd's Kidney Pills

Dill Siding, Ont., Feb. 18 (Special)—One more tribute to the great work Dodd's Kidney Pills are doing for the women of Canada comes from Mrs. Frank Vaillancourt, well known and highly respected here.

"I have suffered for 14 years from a complication of kidney troubles and have never found any remedy that has done me as much good as your Dodd's Kidney Pills have. There was a friend of mine who was feeling very poorly and I told her of the good Dodd's Kidney Pills did for me. She used three boxes and is feeling fine now."

Dodd's Kidney Pills are a kidney remedy. They relieve the work of the heart, by putting the kidneys in shape to strain all the impurities out of the blood. Pure blood carried to all parts of the body means new health all over the body.

After an illness extending over several weeks, Dr. Charles M. French passed away a week ago Sunday morning at his residence in Brampton. He was 63 years of age. He is survived by his widow, one son, Dr. George French, of Niagara Falls, and two daughters, Mrs. (Dr.) H. C. Ross, Weston, and Mrs. F.H. Blakely, of Toronto.

On a recent Saturday afternoon, while a flock of sheep were being driven down Main St. in Brampton a ewe ran into a plate glass window in Wonge's Cafe and smashed it. Small boys, interfering with the sheep, are said to have been the cause of its bolting. The glass is valued at $70 and was insured. The sheep belonged to Mr. L. J. C. Bull.

A new kind of wild rabbit is making its appearance in the east part of Chinguacousy. Some call it the English hare. It is much larger than the ordinary hare, weighs from 15 to 18 pounds and does not change to a white color in the winter time. The new hare is said to be particularly destructive to the growing of fall wheat during the winter, burrowing under the snow and eating the green foliage of the plant.

As the result of live cartridges exploding in the cook stove, Mrs. Clarence Fisher, of Trafalgar township, received injuries which may result in the loss of her right eye. Mrs. Fisher was cleaning out some boxes which she thought contained only old papers. She threw the contents on the fire, and later explosions commenced. It was learned that shells containing shot were among the rubbish. The stove was wrecked.

Dredging operations of considerable proportions in the St. Mary's River this year are under consideration, and the expenditure will probably amount to well over $100,000, says W. J. Fuller, District Engineer of Public Works of Canada. A new slip for the Spanish River Pulp and Paper Mills, Limited, is proposed, and there will be other harbor improvements. Last year the expenditure at this port for public works of Canada was $60,000.

Section Foreman Lee, of Orangeville, was severely injured about the face and hands while operating a snow-plow. Something went wrong with the air apparatus that is used for working the wings and nose of the plow and he was struck by a piece of metal.

The trustees of the police village of Rockwood, Messrs. Wm. Harris Robert Thatcher and Fred Smith waited upon the Agricultural Society and presented a suggestion to consider the advisability of offering the Exhibition Park as a camping place for the accommodation of motor travellers on the new highway, to lunch and rest. The suggestion was carried unanimously.

The barn and contents of Harry Cook, living on the Burnhamthorpe Road, one miles north of Cooksville were destroyed by fire on Monday of last week, when a lantern, which was turned too high, ignited the beam on which it was hanging. Mr. Cook and a neighbor had gone to the barn to catch some chickens about 8.30 when they noticed the flames but they were beyond control. The damage is estimated at $4,000, partly covered by insurance.

Two weeks ago J. Tilley, a young farmer of West Garafraxa, received a blow on the head with a pick while working in a gravel pit in that township with three other men. Tilley did not complain much of his injury at the time, but took his team and drove home. Later he was removed to Aexandra Hospital, Fergus, where he was operated on after it was discovered he was suffering from a fractured skull. Tilley died and Coroner Dr. Kyle, of Fergus, ordered an inquest. Tilley and a neighbor named William Hammond were picking frozen gravel on the side of the pit. Two other men were working on the level below. Tilley suddenly dropped to the ground unconscious.

THE TOWN COUNCIL

Payment of the following accounts was authorized by the Town Council at Monday night's meeting:—

Dominion Express Co., $1.15; R. Fairbairn, 45c; Canada Brass Co., Ltd., 60c; J. D. McMillan, $2.00; Fred Doherty, $12.76; Sam Street, $5.40; W. Collister, $4.80, ordered paid with $2.00; D. Nicholson, $5.55; Northern Electric Co., $5.00.

Garnet Sanderson's account of $14.50 was referred to the Streets Committee with authority to pay if found correct.

Mr. Logie Bell addressed the Council re the purchase of oil for street oiling purposes. Mr. Bell advised the Council to buy now as the price would probably be higher later on and offered to protect the corporation in the event of a drop in price. After listening to Mr. Bell, Council authorized the Streets Committee and Mayor to make arrangements for the purchase of two small carloads of 50 per cent. asphalt road oil, to be delivered by the Imperial Oil Company when required.

The Bell Telephone Co. asked leave to erect three poles on Victoria St. Members of the Council seemed hazy as to the location of the street mentioned, but permission was nevertheless granted.

A communication from T. J. Hannigan, of Guelph, asked the Council to pass a resolution endorsing the action of a delegation, which interviewed Premier King at Ottawa on January 11th in regard to the development of power on the St. Lawrence by the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission. The matter was referred to the Streets Committee for report.

The Finance Committee recommended that the Council accept the Auditors' report and have it issued in printed form.

The Town Property Committee was instructed to have two lights installed at the north and south sides of the upstairs room of the Opera House.

The F. & W. Committee was instructed to make provision for having some of the fire hose mounted on a light sleigh for winter use.

Councillor South gave notice of a Builders' Bylaw, which he intends to introduce at next Council meeting.

On motion of Councillors South and Dalgleish the Clerk was instructed to write the C. M. Petrie Cream Separator Co., Ltd., and state that unless they are prepared to comply with the requirements of the Industrial Committee within three days no further action will be taken upon their request. At last meeting of the Council representatives of the Company asked for a free site for a factory and a fixed assessment of from $3,000 to $5,000. Council referred the application to the Industrial Committee, which has been endeavoring to negotiate an agreement with the Company. Dilatoriness or unwillingness to get down to business on the part of the Company prompted the motion put through by the Council on Monday night.

WAS JEW TIPPED?

Inspector Reevely, of Brampton, Had Long Wait at Alton Station For Toronto Booze Runner.

At Alton station this week Inspector Reevely waited until he was tired for a Toronto Jew to come forward and claim a trunk that had been received there off a train from the city. Finally the Inspector seized the trunk, within which was found forty bottles of booze. The owner had evidently been tipped off that it would be dangerous to claim the trunk. Where was the leak? It is currently reported that a Jew driving a truck visited Alton vicinity regularly last summer with a truck peddling booze. Since the roads became impassable for wheels, he has been sending along his trunk by railway.

Yesterday Ed. Gracey and his two stepsons, Robt. Fleming and Willis Fleming, appeared before P. M. Crawford on a charge of stealing coal from Arthur Lovell, coal dealer at Alton. The evidence of a young man named McIntyre, Constable Alexander and the coal dealer, was that the old man or his boys had been seen frequently early and late at night lugging bags supposed to contain coal stolen from Lovell. No witnesses had seen the contents of the bags. The explanation was that they were carrying blocks of wood and shavings in the bags. The Magistrate dismissed the case for lack of evidence.

Willis Fleming, known as Dutch, immediately after the coal case was finished, was arrested on a warrant and sent to jail. It seems there is a two years' old O. T. A. charge lying against him. An officer took him to Orangeville to face his trial there.—Brampton Banner.

EXTINGUISHED DRURYISM

Under the caption "Men Who Extinguished Dryryism" the Toronto Telegram has been publishing a series of pen sketches of the Conservative members of the Ontario Legislature. Charles Robert McKeown, M. L. A. for Dufferin, was the subject of the sixth article of the series, which appeared in last Friday's Telegram. The following extracts from the sketch will serve to give our readers an idea of the writer's estimate of Mr. McKeown's ability and his standing in the councils of his party:—

"Charles Robert McKeown is back again in the Ontario Legislature as representative of the County of Dufferin and everybody is glad.

"Charles R. McKeown, a native of Orangeville, a lawyer by profession, had twelve years of good service as member of the Legislature to his credit. Sir James Whitney had such confidence in him that he appointed him Government whip. He held this office for eight years and carried ou the duties with distinction. As a debater he ranked with the best. As the representative of all the people of Dufferin County he was always alert and on the job.

"The electors of Dufferin County are in the main strongly Orange in their sentiments. It therefore went very much against the grain with them when they found that the Drury Government was catering very much to the Roman Catholic Church when it paid into court the sum of $95,000 under the stated case for the Separate Schools. That was one real reason why Thomas Kerr Slack was shown the back door.

"Furthermore, Dufferin is an extremely temperance riding. The electors came to the conclusion that the record of the Conservative party on the question was such that they might be relied upon to uphold the Ontario Temperance Act much better than a government which had only exploited the Act as a means of persecution."

C. N. E. DINNER

The following were among the guests at the annual complimentary dinner given by the Canadian National Exhibition, Toronto, to the live stock breeders and exhibitors: W. H. and Bryson Hunter, W. P. Dodds and H. A. Dorrance, Orangeville, and Geo. A. Cameron, Alton. This year's dinner was given in the Crystal Ball Room at the King Edward Hotel and was attended by about five hundred guests. Among the speakers were Premier Ferguson, Hon. W. R. Motherwell, Hon. John S. Martin and Lt.-Col. Hatch.

NERVOUS INDIGESTION

Some of Its Causes and How Relief May be Obtained.

Many people suffer from nervous indigestion. The commonest causes are worry, over-work, lack of exercise, or a general run-down condition of the system. It is a disease of the nerves rather than of the digestive organs, and is corrected by giving needed nourishment to the nervous system and building up the blood.

The treatment consists largely in rest, recreation and the use of a true tonic such as Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. In addition, the patient should follow a careful diet, and avoid coffee and stimulants, these being unsuitable for nervous people. As one's nerves rely for nourishment upon the blood, the latter must be built up and made rich and pure, which is just what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do. If there is loss of weight and pallor, Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are especially helpful. Mrs. Adolphus Villeneuve, R. R. No. 2, Apple Hill, tells as follows how she obtained relief:—"I was so bad with nervous indigestion that I could not digest anything I took, and as a consequence was a great sufferer. I doctored for four months, but seemed to be getting worse instead of better. I lost strength to such an extent that I could hardly go about. Then my mother came to see me, and urged me to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I followed her advice and got a supply at once. After taking a few boxes I felt my strength returning, and I continued their use, until at the end of a few months I could eat anything I desired, had regained my old time health and strength, and was in every way a well woman. I am so thankful for what Dr. Williams' Pink Pills did for me that I always advise their use when any of my friends are run down or ailing."

You can get these pills from any medicine dealer, or by mail, at 50c a box, from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

FESTIVAL OF MUSIC

On Thursday evening, February 28th, there will be a Festival of Music in St. Mark's Church. Members of the Orangeville choirs numbering between forty and fifty voices will sing the "Gloria in Excelsis" from Mozart's Twelfth Mass, as well as a number of well-known hymns. A tenor solo, "The Day is Ended," with violin obligato by Miss C. Hulse, will be given by Mr. W. A. Clowes, with Mrs. J. Z. Henry at the organ.

The Organ Recital will be in the able hands of Mr. H. G. Langlois, B. A., Mus. Bac., organist of All Saints' Church, Toronto. Those who heard his recital last year are looking forward to the visit of Mr. Langlois with great pleasure.

CALEDON

On Wednesday evening, February 13th, the people of Caledon and the surrounding country enjoyed a real treat in the form of an entertainment given by local talent under the appelation of the Mythimist Minstrels. The hall was filled beyond capacity and some eighty people were turned away. It is to be hoped that those, who were disappointed through not being able to secure seats, will have another opportunity of hearing the Minstrels in the near future. At 8 o'clock sharp the hidden chorus sang, "You Can Hear Those Darkies Singing," after which the curtain was raised, revealing to the audience some seventeen colored faces. The audience was first greeted by a chorus, "Good Evening, White Folks," which made everybody feel they were welcome. Then the centre man, Dr. Thomas, made a very appropriate speech, introducing the supreme sextette and the remainder of the troupe. The singing in choruses, solos, duets and quartettes, the jokes, oratorical sketches and instrumental music on the banjo, guitar, mandolin, saxaphone, piano and paratom were as the posters stated "Non Secundus" (second to none). We must not forget Uncle Ned's birthday by Dr. Wm. Stubbs in a typical old southern scene. The Minstrels are to be congratulated upon the success of their performance. Congratulations are also due Prof. E. V. Mowat for the ability he displayed as director of the production. After the singing of the National Anthem several invitations were extended to the Manager, Alfred Harrington, to give the show in neighboring towns. The first place to be favored is Erin, the date fixed being February 29th. We wish you all success, boys.

LAUREL

Owing to the heavy snowfall the attendance at the church services was very small on Sunday afternoon and evening.

Miss Elizabeth Ewing, of the staff of Lord Dufferin Hospital, Orangeville, spent the week-end at her home here.

Mr. Joseph Richardson and son, Lloyd, formerly of Corbetton, now of Alberta, are visiting the former's sister, Mrs. Albert Trimble, and other relatives at this place.

The Play, "The Old Fashioned Mother," was presented at Whittington recently before a full house. This Play is always well received. Many are familiar with it as it was given in moving pictures in Toronto for quite a time under the title "Over the Hills to the Poor House."

We are always thankful for improvements. We had hoped for a new station at Laurel. However, we got a new door for the present building. In the aforementioned building there are some metal remains. Some of our oldest inhabitants recall that these were originally parts of a stove.

Farmington Dramatic Club held a delightful and successful social evening in the Town Hall here on Friday night. The affair was well attended. Music was provided by the Laurel orchestra. The entertainment for the evening included a lunch and dancing.

RECOGNITION OF HEROISM

"THE story of the Japanese earthquake disaster made appeal to Canadians for many reasons, and the Government of this Dominion did not hesitate to lend practical aid to the sufferers in stricken Japan, which staggered under one of the worst disasters in history. A ceremony the other day in New York, which gave recognition to Captain Samuel Robinson, who was in command of the Canadian Pacific steamer "Empress of Australia," which happened to be in the harbor of Yokohama at the time of the disaster, is particularly interesting, bringing to light the fact that this gallant officer of the mercantile marine was instrumental in the rescue of approximately three thousand persons. Honor to whom honor is due has been worthily and fittingly done in the presentation of the C.B.E. by the British Consul-General at New York, in the presence of a distinguished gathering, which included Mr. E. W. Beatty, Mr. Grant Hall and other high officials of the C.P.R. Canadians cannot help feeling a thrill of pride when reading the odyssey of Captain Samuel Robinson. The spirit which inspired Columbus and Vasco de Gama and M. Gerbault pervades the officers and the men of the British mercantile marine, and the gallantry of Canadian sailors today is not altogether different from what imbued those old seamen—Phoenicians, Vikings, Portuguese, Italians—who risked their lives in the earlier days. The world, we sometimes lament has no more mysteries left and nothing more for explorers to do. From China to Peru, from Pole to Pole, all is known and mapped and even photographed. But we need not fear that British seamen will lose their gallantry and daring of past history because there are no more worlds to conquer. How many Canadian boys growing up today will read with a thrill of pride of the achievements of the officers and men of the good ship Empress of Australia in a time of great trial and difficulty in the burning waters of Yokohama—and will want to grow up and, if the occasion demands it in the days of the future, go and do likewise.

The old famous sea captains, Columbus and Drake, and all the rest who are gone "to the haven under the hill" did their work nobly, manfully and well, with their crews to help them. Captain Robinson's heroic endeavor will stand out as a bright, particular page in Canadian Pacific steamship history, where, taking immense risks, the morale, courage and proud sea history of the men of the mercantile marine were again exemplified in their brightest colors. It is well for the world that there are men of the Captain Robinson type in command of those great ships flying mercantile marine flags on the seven seas. The Government of Japan will take a suitable opportunity to give due appreciation of the valuable help rendered by the C. P. steamships and their officers for a service gladly rendered in token of our friendship and our common humanity. However clouded the outlook may be in other quarters, we have always been able to see a patch of blue sky over Japan, whose friendship is doubly precious to us in these days. If we reflect upon the possible consequences of a serious earthquake in our houses and streets in Montreal, we can form some idea of what happened in Tokio and of the dreadful devastation wrought in a few hours. The stoutest heart must have quailed in that Inferno where human beings were perishing by hundreds of thousands—so that we offer to Captain Samuel Robinson the heartiest of congratulations for his share in a noble work—nobly performed."

The foregoing tribute to Captain Robinson appeared as an editorial in the "Montreal Gazette," and is but one of many recognitions of his heroic actions. The passengers of the "Empress of Australia" have presented to the Pacific liner a tablet which commemorates the part she, her captain and crew took in the relief and rescue work at the time of the disaster, and prior to the sailing from New York on January 30 of the "Empress of Canada" which he now commands on world cruise, the American Metropolis honored the intrepid Commander at various luncheons and dinners, and demonstrated that his heroism has won for him universal respect and admiration. Canadian boys may, indeed, read with a thrill of pride of the achievements of the officers and men of the "Empress of Australia."

'Mountie', A Husky Veteran of the Trail

VISITORS to the Chateau Frontenac at Quebec and especially those who patronize the Winter Carnival there in February have a treat in store for them—that of driving behind a real northern dog-team, led by one of the greatest huskies "in the business," Mountie, the latest acquisition to the team.

In November it was found necessary to secure a new leader for the Chateau Frontenac huskies. It was decided that none but the very best available would do. Wires and letters were sent broadcast throughout the Canadian sub-Arctic to Edmonton, Le Pas, Fort McMurray, and Peace River; in fact, to every point whence a husky of suitable standard might be secured. It was only after a three weeks' search by many authorities on huskies that Mountie was eventually secured at Le Pas, Manitoba, the price paid greatly exceeding that usually given.

It was a real stroke of luck which secured this splendid animal, for he is a veteran of the northern trails and, more than that, as his name implies, has done practically all his service with the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. Hailing originally from [illegible] he was broken by [illegible] very young. His training was carried out by the Sergeant and so well did he acquit himself later that the Mounted Police wrote of him: "He has never missed a patrol or been a day off duty since we have had him."

So he is a real Policeman and no mere movie hero, co-worker for years with the comrades of such men as Dempster, FitzGerald and other heroic trail-makers of Canada's glorious corps, a comrade grown old in battling through snow and storm on the King's business for the maintenance of the right.

Mountie, as one of the finest huskies ever kept on the books of the Police, is a magnificent-looking fellow, a dark grey giant with shining, slit eyes, pointed ears and muzzle, thick fur and gleaming fangs. There is about him more than a breath of the keen, romance-laden Arctic winds and one is not surprised to learn from the Mounted Police that "he has always been admired wherever he has been, both from appearance and capabilities."

The work at the Chateau Frontenac will be puppy's play to Mountie after the desperate toil he has known in the far North. But he deserves well of the people of Canada and has nobly earned his rest and the com-

MRS. ANDERSON TELLS WOMEN

How Backache and Periodic Pains Yield to Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Leslie, Sask.—"For about a year I was troubled with a distressing downbearing pain before and during the periods, and from terrible headaches and backache. I hated to go to a doctor, and as I knew several women who had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound with good results, I finally bought some and took four bottles of it. I certainly do recommend it to every woman with troubles like mine. I feel fine now and hope to be able to keep your medicine on hand at all times, as no woman ought to be without it in the house."—Mrs. OSCAR A. ANDERSON, Box 15, Leslie, Sask.

Mrs. Kelsey Adds Her Testimony

Copenhagen, N. Y.—"I read your advertisement in the papers and my husband induced me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to get relief from pains and weakness. I was so weak that I could not walk at times. Now I can do my housework and help my husband out doors, too. I am willing for you to publish this letter if you think it will help others."—Mrs. HERBERT KELSEY, R.F.D., Copenhagen, N. Y.

Sick and ailing women everywhere in the Dominion should try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound before they give up hope of recovery. C

THE MAKING OF CRIMINALS

(Dr. J. G. Shearer)

The public not only of Canada but of the continent has been regaled ad nauseam with the career, the capture under gun-fire, the speedy trial, the life sentence plus thirty lashes, the re-incarceration in a solitary cell in Portsmouth Penitentiary of the life-long and notorious criminal "Red" Ryan. He evidently had considerable ability with cleverness and cunning that is rare. He has robbed numbers of people, held up bank and other institutions, fooled detectives, broken out of the supposedly most secure prisons and not unlikely has taken lives though murder has not been brought home to him.

It is not his personal career with its sad ending that we are concerned with. It is not even the causes in general or particular of crimes like his that are holding the thought of the writer. It is the effect upon young people, particularly well-grown boys, of reading of the exceptionally clever, daring and succesful exploits of any notorious criminal. Is it not certain that their hearts will be fired with admiration for these heroic deeds in spite of or perhaps because of their lawlessness? How splendid to be able to fool the police, even the clever detectives, the prison guards and who not!

While thinking of this case and the publicity given to it there has fallen into my hands a magazine published in New York claiming a circulation of between one and two millions, found on all the news stands of Canada, which seems to me much more dangerous in the hands of our young people than the story of Red Ryan or his like. It is full of stories interestingly written that glorify crime of all kinds with shameless vice and loose living, and lawless adventure. For example in one story the hero is a criminal with a long record, but he is manly, respectable in manner and appearance, a real hero. He is clever, courageous, ingenious, resourceful! He lives without working and in mysterious ways replenishes his financial resources from time to time and lives a perfectly "ripping" life as the English say. The heroine is young, beautiful, married, about to be divorced, loose, out for adventure flush with money.

They meet on the open street, make up, take a suite of rooms in a high class hotel, are arrested by detectives, with extraordinary cleverness overpower their captors, gag and tie them, escape and go the rounds of the high and low grade resorts of the great metropolis, one of which is raided while they are there. They escape again almost miraculously by their cleverness, recover lost jewelry, meet and beat up (the hero does) the heroine's deserting husband and away they go madly in love with each other after a picked-up acquaintance within a few hours.

What is the inevitable effect on youngsters of both sexes of reading matter of this kind?

The movies are immaculate compared with this magazine filth, flowing over the border. During 1923 many of these wretched publications have been driven off the news-stands and barred entrance to Canada. This particular one will follow. There is need for reason and broad-mindedness in censoring literature as well as films, but there surely is no room for doubt about such stories as the one outlined and the public might well co-operate with the Social Service Council in protecting our young people against unwittingly drinking in this mental and moral poison that ultimately will ruin the character and wreck lives of not a few young folk and add to the population of our reformatories and penitentiaries. They that poison the mind of boys or girls, are they less guilty than murderers?

Joseph Rogers, 30 years old, a former Hillsburg boy, died at the Isolation Hospital in Regina a week ago Sunday morning, after a brief illness. Death was caused by small-

STRANGE CRAFT

Oliphant and Howdenvale Residents Mystified by Airship Carrying Red Lights.

Residents of Oliphant and Howdenvale are at a loss to know just what was the strange air-craft that passed north along the Lake Huron shore flying low, and slow, about 9 o'clock on a recent Thursday evening. The aircraft was of a peculiar shape, and carried red lights, and when it was last seen, it disappeared behind Barkley's Point, not far from Howdenvale. Just what the craft was, or what was its business in that section of the Lake Huron shore, at mid-winter, could not be determined.

The strange aeroplane was first seen by Messrs. Reid and Clemens, at 8 o'clock on Thursday evening. This was at Oliphant. They state that the craft was moving slowly through the air, and was very close to the ground. It was distinguished by red lights. Later some people of Howdenvale saw a machine answering the same description.

The aeroplane was apparently following the east shore of Lake Huron. Thursday night the air was quite free of snow, and while there was no moon, air navigators would have no difficulty in following the shore line, if they were flying as low as reports from the Lake Huron shore say they were. Just what was the business of such a craft so far away from any known aeroplane base is not known. It is certain that there is no place along Bruce peninsula where an airship could land during the winter.

It has been suggested that the aeroplane was sent out by the United States from Detroit, or some other centre, in search of a lost ship, but there has been no report of any ship being adrift in Lake Huron. Those who saw the aeroplane are anxious to ascertain its mission.

WILLIAM C. GREER

Following an illness of over a year from heart trouble, William C. Greer, a former resident of Shelburne, departed this life at the home of his sister, Mrs. Geo. Carson, 147 Brock Ave., Toronto, on Sunday morning last. The deceased was 56 years of age and had made his home with Mrs. Carson since leaving Shelburne about nine years ago. He was a stonemason by trade and unmarried. He was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charlton Greer, of Mansfield, and is survived by one brother, Samuel E. Greer, West Toronto, and seven sisters, Mrs. Silas O'Brien, Coboconk; Mrs. John Mallion, Cleveland, Ohio; Mrs. Jas. Isaac, Corbetton; Mrs. Robt. Bailey, Violet Hill; Mrs. Geo. Carson, Toronto; Mrs. Wm. McGhee, Toronto; Mrs. Bert Pellow, Marquette, Mich. The remains were brought to Shelburne on Monday evening's train and interment took place in Shelburne cemetery on Tuesday afternoon. Service was held at the home of deceased's niece, Mrs. S. Crombie, Main St. east, conducted by Rev. A. E. Owen, of the Methodist Church.—Free Press.

DOING ITS DUTY

The Cathedral had been gayly decorated for the Christmas services and two Irishmen were visiting it. One was from the country, and had been taken there by his friend who wished him to be duly impressed by its grandeur. As they came out, the resident of the city said:

"Well, Mike, and phwat do you think of it? Isn't it grand?"

"Pat," said the one from the country, "It bates the divil!"

"That," said his friend, "was the intintion."

GRADING DUFFERIN COUNTY HOGS

The table below gives the statement of the grades of hogs shipped from various shipping points in this county, for the period shown. This report gives the highest percentage of select hogs that has been shown since the reports have been compiled. A study, however, shows that farmers are shipping too many hogs to market that are not in proper condition. This is indicated by the large number of shop and light hogs, while a farly large number have been held too long, as shown by the number graded "heavy." A noticeable feature is the number of sows going to market. This usually occurs when hog prices are on the down trend and, if this is general, it gives an indication of what may logically be expected next fall. As has always been the case, the man who sticks to his line is, usually, further ahead than the one who is in and out. Canadian bacon is in better favour overseas and Canadian farmers can help this by continuing to produce a larger number of select hogs.

$50.00 AND COSTS

One evening a week or so ago Chief Arnott received a tip that a quantity of contraband goods might arrive at the station on the evening train. Accordingly he appeared as a reception committee of one and asked the Colonel to step around the corner of the station and open up the suit case, as this would prevent undue publicity, if a formal arrest or inspection was made at once. The two went around the west end, and when the Chief put down the suit case the Colonel executed a flank movement and disappeared in the darkness with the evidence. He disregarded the bombardment of the Chief to stop and soon beat a safe retreat. The matter came to the attention of the Provincial police who had a charge laid against the Colonel for interference with a police official in the discharge of his duties. Police Magistrate Falconer, of Shelburne, heard the case here on Friday, which attracted a large audience. Crown-Attorney Island prosecuted and H. B. Church put up a good defence for the Colonel, but the Bench decided a straight case had been proved and imposed a fine of $50 and costs or three months in gaol. The money was paid over in the course of an hour. —Star & Vidette.

LIFE BURDENED BY DYSPEPSIA

Health and Happiness Came With "Fruit-a-tives"

Made From Fruit Juices and Tonics

"Fruit-a-tives", the wonderful medicine made from the juices of apples, oranges, figs and prunes, is one of the greatest means of doing good that this country of ours has ever known.

"Fruit-a-tives" is bringing health to hundreds and hundreds of people who suffer with chronic Constipation, Biliousness and Dyspepsia.

Mr. Frank Hall of Wyevale, Ont., says, "I purchased a box of "Fruit-a-tives" and began the treatment. My condition improved immediately. The dyspepsia ceased to be the burden of my life as it had been, and I was freed of Constipation".

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. At dealers or sent by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa, Ont.

Here and There

Manitoba is perhaps the most marrying province in Canada. For instance, in Ontario, there were 24,871 marriages in 1921, a rate of 8.5 per 1,000, while in Manitoba it was 9.7 per 1,000 of its 610,000 population.

Eastbound steamship travel from Canadian ports via Canadian Pacific steamships is heavier at the present time than for several years past at this season, a recent report declares. Bookings in some instances have run as high as 70 per cent increase over those of last winter.

According to a recent official compilation, out of every 100 people in Canada 51 live on farms. The 70,000 farms in Canada represent a gross worth of $700,000,000 or about $10,000 per farm, and produce an annual revenue of nearly $1,500,000, an average income per farm of $2,000 yearly.

From the opening of the crop year, September 1st, to the official closing of navigation, December 12th, the Canadian Pacific Railway reported the heaviest marketing of grain since the inception of the road. Cars loaded by the company also created a record for the season, having numbered 116,282. Grain marketed topped the 200,000,000 bushel mark.

Thirty-seven per cent of all automobiles in Canada are owned by farmers. Ownership of the balance, according to recent statistics, is made up as follows: business men and brokers, 16 per cent; salesmen and travellers, 16 per cent; professional men, 8 per cent; laborers, 4 per cent; contractors and livery men, 3 per cent each, and miscellaneous and no occupation stated, 16 per cent.

When the Canadian Pacific liner "Empress of Canada" left New York on January 30th for her great round-the-world cruise, she was the first Canadian vessel ever to commence such a voyage carrying a regular bookstall in the charge of experienced attendants, in addition to a free library. The stock includes many excellent recent books on travel, which will enable passengers to prepare themselves for the foreign lands they will visit, as well as a large number of novels by the best-known authors.

Of the total wheat exported from Canada in November, amounting to 64,196,903 bushels, by far the greater proportion went to the United Kingdom, which took 43,815,391 bushels. The United States was second largest importer of Canadian wheat, taking 9,610,143 bushels. Italy came next, taking 4,013,152 bushels, and Greece next, with 2,066,450 bushels. The exports of Canadian wheat to France during this period amounted to 1,323,368 bushels and to Belgium 1,075,216 bushels. Those to Germany totalled 129,320 bushels.

In the keenest competition, embracing entries from all important agricultural districts of the North American continent, Alberta farmers won 43 prizes at the recent international stock and grain show at Chicago. Two grand championships—wheat, Major G. H. L. Strange and oats, J. W. Biglands—went to the province. Major Strange was also first with white field peas and Nunemaker Brothers, of Brooks, first with red clover seed. Major Strange's success is especially remarkable as he has only been a farmer four years.

The latest statements of the earnings and expenses of the Canadian Pacific Railway show that the strong position of that organization has been well maintained, and that a steady improvement has been achieved, in spite of the difficulties of the past few years. The figures for December show gross earnings of $19,136,674, working expenses of $15,180,546, and a net profit of $3,966,127, an increase of $491,322 over that of December, 1922. The 1923 totals show gross earnings of $195,837,089, working expenses of $158,358,079 and a net profit of $37,479,010, an increase of $1,177,819 over the total earnings of the road in 1922. Net earnings for this year were the highest since 1917 and gross earnings the highest since 1920.

Special Menus For Children

On Canadian National Diners

A special menu for children will be introduced on dining cars of the Canadian National Railways this week. The menu, the first of its kind ever used on a railway in Canada, was conceived by Mr. Walter Pratt, General Manager of the Sleeping, Dining Car and Hotel Department of the National System, and it is designed to so add to the dining car service of the System that every juvenile passenger will be catered to in the most satisfying manner.

In the compilation of the menu, Mr. Pratt sought and obtained the collaboration of one of Canada's foremost dietitians specializing in selecting food for children. The result is a menu that will not only provide a correct guide to the proper food for children of all ages up to 10 years, but it is also so attractively decorated and written that it will be a source of entertainment to the children during the journey.

The children's menu has been developed as the result of close personal investigation by officers of the Dining Car Department of the Canadian National Railways into ways and means of further improving the service. It was found that many parents travelling on all railways were feeding their children food bought prior to the journey, rather than make use of the dining car service, there being a more or less general feeling that it was a difficult task to choose from the regular menu, proper food for the child. In some cases there was also a feeling that prices charged in the dining cars were disproportionate to the amount of food a child requires.

These objections are overcome by the children's menu. For each meal, breakfast, dinner and tea, there are four combinations of fare; breakfast ranging in price from 40 to 60 cents; dinner from 50 to 85 cents, and tea from 35 to 65 cents. As the dining car steward passes through the cars, announcing the calls for meals, he distributes a menu to each passenger travelling with a child so that the parent or companion has time to decide upon the choice of food and knows the sum it will cost before going into the dining car. It is felt that this menu will accordingly prove a real boon to passengers, accompanied by children.

The artistic features of the menu, which contains eight pages, are most attractive. In addition to the menu proper, there are pictures printed in blue and brown and verses that are certain to appeal to the childish fancy. The verses tell a story and the pictures illustrate it. The menu, itself, occupies the two centre pages, the reading matter being bordered by a series of children's blocks, each block bearing a letter which spell out, "Menu for little boys and little girls." The new children's menus go into service immediately on all dining and parlor-café cars over the entire system of the Canadian National Railways.

NEWSPAPER ADVERTISING

That the newspaper is the best advertising medium for merchants and other business men is recognized by experts who have studied the situation. The fact has been impressed upon advertisers in the domestic field repeatedly, and its truth is demonstrated by figures showing the steady increase covering all kinds of commodities, including national as well as local merchandising. The value of the newspaper is demonstrated most conclusively, however, in the British field, which is just beginning to respond to the stimulating influence of western methods. The transition period naturally would be marked by a searching examination of the media available to the manufacturer or merchant in presenting the merits of his particular commodity to the public. The conservatism which has marked British advertising in the past would discourage excursions into an untried field.

The advantages of newspaper advertising have been acclaimed by Sir Charles Higham, the prominent British advertising expert, who arrived in America recently to address a number of professional organizations and to launch an ambitous advertising campaign. Newspaper advertising is the most economical means of reaching the greatest number of people, Sir Charles asserted, and it also is the most profitable. The visitor announced plans for a general publicity campaign in American markets in behalf of the India tea industry. The India tea growers have arranged with the Government to levy a tax on exports of their commodity, the proceeds to finance their advertising campaign on this side. That campaign will probably be the entering wedge for a general advertising movement in behalf of British industry throughout the world.

Even though some differences may exist between Britain and American merchandising methods, the problem of interesting the public through advertising is essentially the same and the British response to the newspapers verifies the soundness of the American and Canadian point of view.

Canadian National Dog Team

TO MONTREAL CARNIVAL DERBY.

The Canadian National Railways have entered a team in the Montreal Winter Carnival's Senior Dog Derby, which is to be run in Montreal on Saturday, February 9th. The team is composed of three Denes and two Mastiffs and they will be driven by Jack Dooley, a former resident of Labrador and now a clerk in the Canadian National Railways Shops at St. Malo, Quebec. The dogs are the property of Patrick Nolan, foreman of the Blacksmith Shop of the Canadian National Railways at St. Malo. In a trial run this dog team has covered 35 miles in three and one-half hours. The course of the Montreal Derby covers 30 miles. The photo at the top shows the team ready to start in a trial run. In the oval is seen Jack Dooley with "Jack," the leader of the team. At the bottom Mr. Joseph Samson, who has been Mayor of Quebec City for [illegible]

CHILDHOOD INDIGESTION

Nothing is more common in childhood than indigestion. Nothing is more dangerous to proper growth, more weakening to the constitution or more likely to pave the way to dangerous disease. Fully nine-tenths of all the minor ills of childhood have their root in indigestion. There is no medicine for little ones to equal Baby's Own Tablets in relieving the trouble. They have proved of benefit in thousands of homes. Concerning them Mrs. Jos. Lunett, Immaculate Conception, Que., writes: "My baby was a great sufferer from indigestion, but the Tablets soon set her right, and now I would not be without them." Baby's Own Tablets are sold by medicine dealers, or by mail, at 25 cents a box, from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

—The children are looking forward to a big time at the Children's Carnival at the Arena on Friday night.

COOPER—In Amaranth, on February 7th, John Cooper, formerly of Waldemar, aged 94 years.

BRYAN—In Brampton Hospital on February 9th, Emily Brown, wife of Jesse Bryan, and daughter of James H. Brown, formerly of Colbeck, aged 23 years. Remains were taken to Grand Valley for interment.

IN MEMORIAM

In loving memory of our dear father, Joseph, beloved husband of Orminda Island, who departed this life February 23rd, 1923.

A light is from our household gone,
The voice we loved is still,
A place is vacant in our heart
The world can never fill.

Just a thought of sweet remembrance
From memory fond and true;
Just a token of affection,
Just to show we think of you.

There is someone who misses him sadly,
And finds the days long since he went,
There is someone who thinks of him daily,
And tries to be brave and content.

When we think of all the changes
That this year has brought,
We are glad the world he has gone to
's the world that changes not.

ALTON

Dr. Caldwell's sermon at Alton for Sunday next will be on the theme "The Third and Fourth Plagues of Egypt—the Hebrew plural, 'Kinnim' or gnats, wasps, flies, hornets and mosquitoes." In Caledon at 2.30 p.m. Dr. Caldwell will speak on "Moses and the Burning Bush—Before Pharoah, the Nile."

Mrs. John M. Dods and Miss Margaret spent the week-end in town.

The regular monthly meeting of the Senior Women's Institute will be held at the home of Mrs. John Lovell. It will be a joint meeting with the Junior Branch, who will provide the program for the evening. Miss McIntosh, Secretary of Peel Women's Institute, is expected to be present at this meeting. A good attendance is requested.

Miss Margaret Delaney spent the week-end with friends in town.

Miss Winnifred Lowe, of Snelgrove, was the guest of Miss Hope Barber.

The Amusement Club is giving a Euchre in the Club Rooms on Friday evening, Feb. 22nd.

The Alton U. F. O. and U. F. W. O. held a very successful joint meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Geo McClellan on Thursday evening, February 14th. The two organizations conducted profitable business meetings, after which the members listened with pleasure to addresses by Mrs. Norman MacLachlan, President of the Peel County U. F. W. O., Mrs. Albin Lemon, Secretary of the organization, and Mrs. H Castor, of Inglewood, District Organizer. Their addresses were helpful and encouraging. The speakers predicted a bright future for both the U. F. O. and the U. F. W. O. Mr. A. Lemon favored the gathering with some humorous readings, after which the ladies served refreshments. The remainder of the evening was spent in music and dancing.

The Alton Methodist W. M. S. held their regular monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Joyce McConnell on Thursday, February 14th. The President, Mrs. L. Lemon, read the Scripture lesson, followed by the Lord's Prayer. Mrs. McConnell took charge of the Study Book, after which Mrs. Yokom and Mrs. W. Shaw sang a duet. Mrs. Dr. Caldwell made a very impressive prayer, which was followed by a Paper by Mrs. Lemon. After the close of the meeting the ladies spent a pleasant social half hour together.

The Alton Amusement Club are holding a Progressive Euchre in the Club Rooms on Friday evening, Feb. 22nd. Come one, come all, and spend a pleasant evening. Admission 25c.

BRAKEMAN KILLED

George Henderson Fell Under Train in Brampton Yard.

George Henderson, aged 35, of High Park Avenue, Toronto, a brakeman on the C. P. R. "moonlight" freight train running between Toronto and Orangeville, was instantly killed at Brampton Saturday morning about 4 o'clock, when he fell beneath the train and the whole series of cars passed over him.

His body was found directly opposite the station by John Wilson, of Toronto, another brakeman. No one saw the accident, but it is supposed that the young man lost his footing on one of the frost-covered cars and fell beneath the wheels. It happened when a number of cars were being released from the train at Brampton. Henderson's lantern was found swinging on the car from which it is thought he had fallen.

Dr. D. L. Heggie, of Brampton, was summoned, but found life extinct. The body was taken to Torrance & McClure's undertaking parlors and later Coroner Dr. J. A. Lawson empanelled a jury and viewed the remains, which were afterwards taken to Toronto for interment. An inquest was held at Brampton Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Henderson had been married only a short time. His parents live in Arthur, Ont., in which town he was born.

LOCAL NEWS

—"Old Fashioned Mother" in the Town Hall, Alton, on Tuesday night, February 26th.

—Township Clerk W. A. Henry, of Mono, reports that there were 42 births, 16 marriages and 18 deaths registered in that municipality in 1923.

—Friends of Mr. Robert Simpson, of Marsville, will be pleased to learn that he is making an excellent recovery after a serious illness from pleurisy.

—Mr. A. J. Dean, of the Orangeville C. P. R. telegraph staff, has been acting as relieving C. P. R. agent at Shelburne, since Mr. Jas. Cassie's appointment as C. P. R. agent here.

—Mr. Nevan McQuarrie has sold his 150 acre farm near Caledon East to Mr. David McMullin, one of his neighbors. We understand that the purchase price is $12,000. Mr. McQuarrie is retiring.

—Thos. Smith will hold his postponed Auction Sale on lot 10, con. 7, Mono, on Friday afternoon, February 22nd. Paste the date in your hat.

—Harley Crawford, Peel's representative in the Boys' Parliament of Ontario, had the misfortune to fall and break his leg above the ankle while skating at the rink in Brampton one night last week.

—Mr. E. A. Hanley, District Underwriter of the Sun Assurance Co. of Canada, has taken up his residence in Orangeville and will have charge of local agents and organization work for his Company in this district.

—At its last meeting Mono Township Council passed a resolution opposing the continuance of the Mono Mills Division Court. This is the oldest Division Court in this district and was the scene of the trial of much litigation in the early days.

—Laurel Dramatic Club will present their Play "An Old Fashioned Mother" in the Town Hall, Alton, on Tuesday night, Feb. 26th. The performance will be under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid Society of North Erin Presbyterian Church.

—Miss Madeline Bell, of Toronto, a gifted city soloist, will sing in St. Andrew's Church at the services next Sunday. Miss Bell is a niece of Mr. and Mrs. Logie Bell and a granddaughter of Rev. and Mrs. J. R. Bell, of Toronto, formerly of Laurel.

—The many Orangeville friends of Mrs. C. A. Wray, of Rodney, Ont. (nee Miss S. J. Cobean) will learn with regret that she is ill in a hospital in London, Ont. We are pleased to be in a position to add the good news that Mrs. Wray is now convalescing.

—J. J. Sproule, Black's Corners, a brother of E. H. Sproule, Orangeville, had the misfortune to have the main bone of one of his legs fractured one evening recently. The injury was caused by a kick from a cow. Drs. Fallis and McLean, of Shelburne, set the broken limb.

—While L. J. C. Bell was driving a flock of sheep to the C. N. R. station in Brampton one day last week one of the animals mistook the window in Wong's restaurant for a door and dashed right through the plate glass, smashing the glass badly. The animal was not injured to any extent.

—Mr T C Glassford has sold his 150 acre farm, lot 22, con. 2, east, Caledon township, to his brother, Mr W E Glassford, who will get possession about April 1st. Mr. Glassford is giving up farming and will hold a Clearing Auction Sale of his Stock and other Effects on Thursday, March 6th.

—Ed Carson, of Cheltenham, was before P. M. Crawford, of Brampton, the other day, on a charge of beating his wife. The magistrate found him guilty and sentenced him to three months with an indeterminate sentence of two years less one day. The offence occurred on January 31st. Mrs. Carson told the Court that her husband dragged her into a bedroom and threatened to finish her with a knife. Her cries for mercy finally caused him to change his mind.

—A representative of the Provincial Board of Health visited Orangeville last Friday and inspected the waterworks reservoir and springs. The town council was responsible for his visit. Council thought it wise to consult the Provincial Board regarding the proposed improvements to the reservoir rather than run the risk of objections after the work has been done. The conclusions of the visitor and his suggestions will be embodied in a report to the Council.

—Old time residents of Orangeville will be interested in the death of Mr Geo. A. Howell, which occurred at his residence in Toronto on Friday 8 January 15th. Deceased was a clerk in the late John Green's dry goods store in Orangeville many years ago. His family living on John St. occupied the house now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Huston. He was quite prominent in Toronto, being a member of the President of the Grip Engraving Co., one of the organizers of Toronto's Canadian Club and President of the Howell Warehousing Limited, Howell Forwarding Co. and Howell Trading Co. He was a Regarian and a social worker of prominence.

Mr Elmer Irwin, drug clerk in C. R. Reid's, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs R. J. Irwin, of Colgan, over the week-end.

TORONTO CLUB SKATERS

Fine Exhibition of Fancy Skating at the Arena on Friday Night.

A large crowd assembled at the Arena on Friday night to witness the exhibition of fancy skating by members of the Toronto Skating Club, who had generously agreed to come to Orangeville and give the exhibition for the benefit of the Orangeville Boy Scouts. The program, which consisted of singles, waltzes, pairs and ten steps, some twelve numbers altogether, was greatly enjoyed by the spectators, who applauded the skaters in enthusiastic manner at every opportunity. The visitors are numbered amongst Toronto's most expert skaters and it is quite safe to assert that Orangeville has never before had the opportunity of witnessing so much graceful and skilled skating. In the waltzes the movements were executed with a grace and seeming ease that was fascinating. The fancy skating in the singles was also particularly good and was followed with keen and appreciative interest by the large gallery. The visitors, who were a fine bunch of young folk, found the ice and the large space of the Arena greatly to their liking and seemed to enjoy their visit to Orangeville very much. Following the skating they were entertained to luncheon in the Assembly Room, where a delightful social time was spent. The visiting skaters were Misses Kirkpatrick, Horrocks, Janet Rathbun and Evelyn Darling, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Suckling and Messrs. Hugh Tarbox, O. U. Scott, Rice and Mains. Miss Darling and Mr. Tarbox and Mr. and Mrs. Suckling are the Toronto Skating Club's entries for Pairs in the Canadian Championship events on February 23rd. It is to be hoped that this is only the forerunner of similarly pleasant visits from these skilful exponents of one of Canada's popular winter pastimes. Orangeville Citizens' Band furnished music for the skating. The program was varied by an amusing balloon race, run off in three heats, in which a number of local skaters competed. The winners were Miss Ruby Allen and Jack M. Aiken.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mrs. Alex. Walker, Church St., is visiting with Hamilton friends.

Mrs. Harold Watson, of Caledon, visited friends in Toronto last week.

Mrs. S. Wallace, of Toronto, is visiting Mrs. W. J. Mills and other friends in town.

Mr. Lester Cooper, of Caledon attended the big Shorthorn sale in Toronto last week.

Miss Edith Simpson is visiting at the home of her uncle, Mr. W. J. Bell, of Kemptville.

Ex-Reeve John Wilson and Mr. Thos. Wilson, of Erin, were Fair Day visitors in town.

Miss Cora B. Rowan, of Toronto, visited at her parental home on John St. over the week-end.

Mr. G. M. Cruikshank, 2nd line, west, Mono, is spending a few days with Toronto friends this week.

Miss Pearl McCannell, of Collingwood, spent the week-end with Miss Birdie Curry, Prince of Wales St.

Mr. J. D. Torrie spent part of last and this week visiting his daughter, Miss Muriel, and his son, Arthur, in Toronto.

Mrs. Robt. Cooper, 2nd line, west, Mono, visited her daughter, Mrs. Norman M. Robinson, Toronto, over the week-end.

Mrs. E. C. and Miss Isabel Connop, Margaret St., spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Connop, West Toronto.

Misses Ina Jackson and Louise Simpson, of Toronto Normal School, spent the week-end at their respective homes here.

Miss Brooks, of Bobcaygeon, formerly a milliner in Orangeville, has been visiting Mrs. H. A. Dorrance since Friday.

Miss Dorothy Briant, of Toronto formerly of the Orangeville P. S. teaching staff, visited friends in town Friday and Saturday.

Mrs E. A. Menary will be at home on Friday, February 22nd, from 3.30 to 6 o'clock and afterwards on the third Thursday of each month.

Mrs. Melvin Vrooman, of Fergus, visited with Mrs. W. T. and Miss Tilt last week. Mrs. Vrooman has just recovered from a long and serious illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pierson, of Fergus, returned home on Tuesday after spending a week with Mr. and Mrs. Irad Allen and other Mono relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Holland and family, of Richlea, Sask., are spending the winter with Mono and Adjala friends. Mr. Holland was a visitor in town last Thursday.

Messrs. Arch. McKinnon, of Hillsburg, and James Young, of Erin, longtime subscribers of The Banner, favored this journal with friendly calls while in town for Thursday's fair.

Mr. Rich. Partridge, of Brampton, Governor of the Peel County House of Refuge, was in town last Thursday. Mr. Partridge has 53 inmates under his charge at present, the largest number in the history of his institution.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Mackechnie, of Mission City, B. C., are the guests of Mrs. W. T. and Miss Tilt at present. Mr. and Mrs. Mackechnie, who have been in B. C. for several years, have decided to make their home in Ontario.

Mr. Thos. McKitrick, of Toronto visited Orangeville and Shelburne friends last and this week. Mr. McKitrick was greatly interested in the Orangeville Soldiers' Memorial, which he viewed for the first time. His son, John, is one of the Dufferin boys, who made the supreme sacrifice, and his is one of the 144 names of fallen heroes inscribed on the Memorial.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE

The Orangeville Women's Institute will hold its next meeting at the home of Mrs. Oliver Cooney, West Broadway, on Tuesday afternoon, Feb. 26th. The programme will include a Paper by Mrs. McNaughton on a selected topic, a Reading by Mrs. T. G. Legate and a Question Drawer.

WHAT THE PACKAGE DOES

Tea growers have found from experience that it is necessary immediately to pack tea in air-tight metal lined chests to preserve the flavour and goodness of the leaf. Equally so is an air-tight package necessary for the small lots of tea for individual consumption. Bulk tea is always inferior tea because it is exposed to air. The "SALADA" air-tight aluminum package is the most efficient way of preserving tea known.

LIBRARY BOARD OFFICERS

Officers of the Orangeville Public Library Board for 1924 are:—Chairman, W. C. Hopkins; vice-chairman, Dr. T. H. Henry; secretary and librarian, D. Macpherson; chairman of property committee, C. A. Lamode; chairman of book committee, E. Hackett.

SKATING CLUB

A meeting will be held in the Public Library at 7.30 o'clock on Saturday night for the purpose of organizing a Skating Club. All young people and citizens generally who are interested in fancy skating, are invited to attend.

Residence Service

CATARACT customers do not pay floor space on their residence service.

WHY SHOULD YOU?

Floor space, in our opinion, is a charge where service is not rendered.

WHY not use CATARACT service and save this?

The Cataract Electric Company, Limited.

DRAMA AT LAUREL

The Farmington Dramatic Club intend to present their Play, "The Trials of Mary," in the Town Hall, Laurel, on Monday night, March 3. A musical programme will be provided before and between acts. Admission, 35c and 25c. Further particulars next week.

POSTPONED SALE

Owing to the storm and blocked roads, Mr. Thos. Smith, east half lot 10, con. 7, east, Mono Township, was obliged to postpone his Credit Auction Sale advertised for Wednesday afternoon, Feb. 20th. The Sale will now be held on Friday afternoon, Feb. 22nd, when everything will be disposed of as originally advertised. Jas. A. Patterson, Auctioneer.

A YEAR OF PROGRESS

ORANGEVILLE HYDRO COMMISSION SUBMITS EXCELLENT REPORT FOR 1923.

Gross Receipts Show Increase of Almost $3000—Commission Says Decrease of Rates Probable in the Near Future.

The audited statement of the current receipts and expenditures of the Orangeville Hydro System for 1923 is here presented and should afford considerable satisfaction to all Hydro Customers and to our town people generally. For the purpose of comparison the amounts of similar items for the preceding year are also published:

	1923	1922
Receipts:
Domestic Lighting	$ 5162.41	$ 4207.55
Commercial Lighting	5015.83	4231.79
Power, Commercial	5956.94	4871.52
Power Municipal	342.00	342.00
Street Lighting	3865.40	3844.10
Surplus on Sale of Supplies	207.23	83.27
	$20549.81	$17580.23
Expenditures:
Power purchased	$13084.01	$10886.16
Line Maintenance	1357.47	1418.54
Street Lighting	293.92	303.61
General and Office Expenses	689.80	592.24
Debentures and Interest	3132.49	3250.26
Depreciation	925.00	866.00
Surplus	1067.12	263.42
	$20549.81	$17580.23

That the affairs of our Municipal Electric System are in excellent financial condition is evident. The audited statement of Assets and Liabilities for 1922 showed a total of Assets in Local Plant and Orangeville's share of the Eugenia development system of $144321.79 with Liabilities consisting of Unpaid share of Eugenia System outstanding debentures and accounts payable amounting to $128901.08, leaving a surplus of assets amounting to $15410.71. Since that time the direct payment of local debentures and interest and the proportion of the power bills which apply to the payment of the provincial bonds, through which the development system is financed, have reduced our liabilities. The amount expended upon new material for the extension of our local system has added just that amount to our assets. The annual depreciation charge is being allowed for, so the surplus of assets at the end of 1923 should be in the neighborhood of $20,000.

The matter of rates is probably the one of most interest to our citizens and is determined by the cost of power purchased from the Ontario Commission at the sub-station in Orangeville. The cost of this power is fixed according to the cost of generation plus the cost of transmission. When Orangeville first received Hydro power the price estimated by the Ontario Commission was $35 per H. P. During the war when the wages and the prices of materials of all kinds and particularly electrical goods went soaring that price was increased to $55 and then to $65 per H. P. Everyone felt sure, however, that this condition was only temporary and none of the Hydro Municipalities made any considerable increase in rates preferring rather to operate at a loss until a return to normal conditions should rectify matters. This course was adopted by the Orangeville commission and in the past two or three years a considerable deficit caused by this loss and also by the unpaid balance for the construction of our local distribution system due also to increased war prices has been wiped out.

The Eugenia system is now developed to its full capacity and recently has been connected up with the Severn System. Was della Falls and Niagara and an interchange of power arranged whereby the Eugenia system will profit enormously. The item of transmission for an increased load would also be in our favour as with our present equipment 500 horse power can be transmitted as cheaply as the 250 which we are at present taking so as our load increases the cost per H. P. for transmission automatically decreases.

Last year the rate per H. P. was dropped to $60 and as the returns from the Ontario Commission show this power cost slightly over $50 another decrease is expected in the near future.

This decrease together with the surplus of the local system must result in a reduction of rates as according to the policy of the Hydro no municipality is allowed to accumulate profits and the rates must be reduced until they are just sufficient to meet expenses. This satisfactory condition of affairs has been attained only by the splendid co-operation of the Hydro customers. They have recognized the great benefit Hydro has been to Orangeville generally from the beginning it cut the rates of the old companies almost 50%, it has given the town excellent service, has kept the factories running, giving steady employment to many of our citizens and the fact that Orangeville is a Hydro town assures any manufacturers who contemplate locating here, an unlimited supply of electric energy.

The following table will show just how our citizens have appreciated Hydro and why they may soon expect a reduction of rates:

Customers	Domestic	Commercial	Power
1917	144	82	4
1922	265	101	12
1923	306	115	18

The present charges are somewhat misleading as the customers sometimes forget to take the average cost per K. W. as the rate at which they pay for their electricity and not realize that it is the second and third rates to commercial and power customers which substantially reduce their average cost:

For instance, Account No. 152, Amount burned 180 K. W. Hours.

21 K. W. @ 10c.	$2.10
49 K. W. @ 5c.	2.45
110 K. W. @ 1c.	1.10
	$5.65
Less 10%	.56
	$5.09

Average cost, 2.80c. per K. W.

In 1922 the average cost per K. W. Hour was as follows:

Domestic	Commercial	Power
5.6	5.4	22.67 per H. P.

The figures for 1923 are not available but with the greatly increased consumption should be even lower. These are cheap rates for electricity about half of what Orangeville paid the private companies. They are surely and steadily decreasing and the loyal support of the present Hydro customers, together with the added assistance to be expected from the many others who understand and believe in the public ownership of public utilities will soon bring our rates down to the level of those enjoyed by our neighbours in Fergus, Brampton, Georgetown, Hanover, etc.

MRS. ROBT. JOHNSTON

It is with sincere regret that we find ourselves called upon to record the death of Mrs. Annie Johnston, beloved wife of the late Robert Johnston, of Caledon. Mrs. Johnston, who was born in Ireland 73 years ago, came to Canada about 45 years ago and lived nearly all her lifetime on the old homestead on the 1st line, west, Caledon. She was a cheery, kindly woman and a devoted mother, who will be greatly missed in her home community, where she had a host of neighbors and warm personal friends. While visiting with her daughter, Mrs. Hobson, 77 Essex Ave., Toronto, Mrs. Johnston had the misfortune to meet with an accident while out walking on January 24th, when she slipped and fell, fracturing her left leg. She was making satisfactory progress toward recovery, when on Thursday, February 7th, she suddenly succumbed to an attack of heart weakness, from which she failed to rally. The late Mrs. Johnston was a member of the Methodist Church Caledon, and a woman of fine Christian character. She leaves to mourn her loss a family of four sons and three daughters, namely, Noble Johnston, of Toronto; John, Markdale; Frank, of Caledon; Robert, of Inglewood; Mrs. W. K. Palmer, of Detroit; Mrs. G. H. Haslam, Markdale, and Mrs. John Hobson, of Toronto.

The funeral was held from the home of Mrs. Hobson to the family plot in Prospect Cemetery, Toronto, on Monday afternoon, February 11, and was attended by many old neighbors and friends of the family. The funeral service was conducted by the Rev. T. G. McAteer, pastor of Epworth Methodist Church, Toronto, assisted by Rev. W. E. Wilson, pastor of King St. Methodist Church. The pallbearers were her four sons and two sons-in-law, W. K. Palmer, of Detroit, and G. H. Haslam, of Markdale. The floral tributes, which were numerous and beautiful, were:—Gates Ajar, Mrs. W. K. Palmer and Mrs. John Hobson; wreaths, Mrs. G. H. Haslam and Frank Johnston, Messrs. Noble and John Johnston and Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Johnston; spray, Mr. and Mrs. N. Kelly, Toronto; wreath, Mr. and Mrs. H. Greenis, Toronto; spray, Mr. and Mrs. J. Garrity, Toronto; wreath, Girls and Boys of the Caledon Club; spray, Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Hobson, Toronto; spray, Mr. Allen Palmer, Detroit; wreath, Mrs. Eccleson Campbell; sheaf, Mrs. Heisdrich and Miss Higgins, Detroit; spray, Mrs. Josephine Irwin, Markdale; crescent, Mr. and Mrs. Law, Toronto; spray, Mr. and Mrs. Cowley, Toronto; basket of roses, Mrs. Burrows, Toronto; spray, Mr. and Mrs. Songhurst, Toronto; wreath, Mr. and Mrs. Doyle, Toronto; spray, Mrs. Goringe, Toronto; spray, Misses Watson and Mr. Mandley, Toronto; spray Mrs. Gordon, Toronto; wreath, Mr. and Mrs. Manuel, Toronto; spray, Mrs. Blythe and Mrs. Mellick, Toronto, and a spray, Mr. A. Morris, Detroit.

MRS. JOHN W. SPARKS

Roberta Margaret Sparks, wife of John Wesley Sparks and youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Still, died at her father's residence in Toronto on Sunday, February 3, at the age of 24 years and 9 months. Mrs. Sparks had been ill for several months with peritonitis. Born and reared at Glencross, in the township of Mono, deceased moved to Toronto with her parents a number of years ago. She was married on November 28th, 1922, less than eighteen months ago. She leaves to mourn her loss her husband, father and mother, two sisters, Mrs. J. N. Ellah, Toronto, and Miss Elva, and four brothers, Lisle, Jack, Walter and Donald, all at home. The funeral took place from her parents' home to Park Lawn Cemetery on Tuesday, February 5th. The pallbearers were her two brothers-in-law, Joseph Ellah and Ed. Mason, Nelson Reynolds, Ted Mainprize, Harry Greenshaw and Lisle Still. The floral tributes were numerous and included: Gates Ajar from the husband; pillow, the family; basket of roses, Sparks family; sheaf of roses, Aunties and Uncles in Western Canada; spray of lillies, Mr. and Mrs. Alex. and Dave Still; sprays, Mr. and Mrs. J. M Still, Mr. and Mrs. Alf. Still, Mr. and Mrs. C. Moffatt, Mrs. Bagnell and family; wreath from the T. Eaton Company; wreath from Zeta Lodge, Royal Arch Masons; wreath from the Robt. Simpson Co., wreath, Mrs. T. Walton; wreath, Sidney and Violet; sprays, Mr. and Mrs. Mainprize, Mr. and Mrs. Deverall, Mr. and Mrs. Daley, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Mr. and Mrs. Balmer, Victoria Girls' Bible Class, Elsie Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Hayes, Room 21 Annette St. School, Mrs. Grimshaw, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Ward, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Stonman, Mr. and Mrs. T. Lodham, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Woolner, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Brown; sheaf of roses, Geo. Brown and family; sheaf of roses, Nelson and Verda, and anchor, Martin Florists.

Rev. D. T. McKerroll, pastor of Victoria Presbyterian Church and a very dear friend of the departed woman, preached a very impressive service, referring in the course of his remarks to Mrs. Sparks' recent marriage, her removal almost on the threshold of womanhood and the beauty of her character and life. Orangeville and Mono friends of the family join in extending their sympathy.

Miss Myrtle Marshall, Camilla, was the guest of her sister, Mrs. F. Island, 2nd St., for a few days last week.

JAMES SAWDEN

Another of the well-known and respected residents of Melancthon has passed to the Great Beyond in the person of Mr. James Sawden, who departed this life on Sunday, February 10th, at his late residence, Melancthon Station, at the age of 55 years. Deceased had been in failing health for some time and about ten days before his death contracted a cold, which later developed into pneumonia. On Sunday, February 3rd, his physician, Dr. McLean, of Shelburne, was called in and continued to attend him daily until his death. Dr. Fallis was also summoned for consultation the day before he died, but the united efforts and skill of the two medical men proved powerless to save his life and he passed away at noon on the 10th, Dr. McLean being with him at the time. The late Mr. Sawden was born and raised on the old and familiar Sawden homestead on the Gravel Road, Melancthon village, being a son of the lat eJames Sawden, the veteran English carpenter and cabinet maker of Melancthon's bygone days. From his father, the subject of our sketch learned the trade of carpenter, although he followed the vocation of a farmer. Deceased leaves a widow and six young children, also two brothers, Albert Sawden, of Melville Cross, and S. Sawden, of Toronto, to mourn his departure. The funeral, which was largely attended, considering the cold weather and drifted roads, took place to Shelburne Cemetery on the following Tuesday, Rev. G. H. Pogson, B. A., pastor of the Gravel Road Methodist Church, officiating. The pallbearers were all his former neighbors, James Brown, Thomas Sanderson, George Barrett, William Barrett, Samuel McComb and John Oliver. Relatives from a distance were Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sawden and son, Elgin, of Melville Cross S. Sawden, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sawden and Mrs. H. W. Arnold, of Toronto.

The Healthful Walk

WHAT is more pleasant and exhilarating than a brisk walk in the crisp, fresh air.

You breathe deeply. The blood is purified. The circulation is quickened. The bloom comes to the cheeks and you feel fine.

The vital organs are put in fine condition by walking and many ailments can be relieved mainly because the liver action is aroused.

And yet we do not walk.

It is so much easier to ride in an auto or street car that walking is becoming a lost art.

Since we do not take the necessary exercise to keep the liver active and the bowels regular it becomes necessary to resort to other means.

The most popular family regulator is Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, for by use of this medicine once or twice a week you can be sure of the healthful action of liver, kidneys and bowels.

Our greatest danger in this age of sedentary habits is from overeating and neglecting to pay attention to the regularity of these eliminating organs.

Most of our ills come from this condition. For proof of this statement you need only enquire at the hospitals where there is always a rush of appendicitis and liver and kidney cases after the holiday season and during the winter months when we use so much artificial food and live cooped up in houses from which fresh air is carefully excluded.

You will notice that while the price of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills has been increased to 35 cents, the box now contains 35 pills instead of 25 as formerly.

Likewise Dr. Chase's Nerve Food is 60 cents a box of 60 pills, instead of 50 cents a box for 50 pills. Edmanson, Bates & Co., Ltd., Toronto.

SEE THE POINT?

Son—What is a roost, father?

Father—A roost is a pole on which chickens roost at night.

"And what is a perch, papa?"

"A perch is what chickens perch on at night."

"Well, papa, couldn't chickens roost on a perch?"

"Why, of course."

"And couldn't they perch on a roost?"

"Certainly."

"But if the chickens perched on roost, that would make the roost perch, wouldn't it?"

"Oh, yes, I suppose so."

"But, if after some chickens had perched on a roost and made it a perch, and other chickens came along and roosted on the perch and made it a roost, then the roost would be a perch and the perch would be a roost, and some of the chickens would be roosters and the others would be perchers, and—"

"For goodness' sakes, Susan, take this child to bed at once!"

DEATH OF MRS. WM. HARPER

Elizabeth Arthur, relict of the late Wm. Harper and one of the pioneer or early settlers in the vicinity of Rosemont, was taken very sick on Wednesday, the 30th ult., and died on Saturday, 2nd inst. She had naturally a very vigorous constitution, but had been failing gradually for some years. The immediate cause of death was not a paralytic stroke, as reported in some quarters, but rather a physical breakdown or collapse, her strength and vitality having been practically exhausted before her last sickness came. She was conscious of her surroundings, could speak and move the different parts of her body until Friday morning, having passed into unconsciousness during the night. The late Mrs. Harper was born in Enniskillen, Fermanagh County, Ireland, in 1840, and came to Canada in company with her aunt, Mrs. Robert Maguire, when sixteen years of age, spending six weeks in making the passage across the ocean in a sailing vessel. She settled in the vicinity of Rosemont and in 1866 was married to Mr. Wm. Harper, of the same place. From the time of her marriage 57 years ago she resided on lot 29, on the town-line between Mono and Adjala, until she and her husband retired to Alliston in 1915. The remaining members of the family are her two sons, Wm. T., Alliston, and R. J., on the homestead, and her granddaughter, Mrs. Herman Swaffield (nee Mae Wright), who lived with her from earliest infancy. She leaves a number of grandchildren and one great-grandchild, Vera Elizabeth Swaffield. Rev. A. A. Wall conducted the funeral service at the home and interment was made in the Alliston Union Cemetery.—Alliston Herald.

Palmerston Continuation School has bought a phonograph for use in the school, also a medicine case to be used in first aid work.

T. J. Harkness, a highly thought of Owen Sound resident, dropped dead on the street from heart failure. He was 60 years of age.

AMARANTH MAMMOTH

The Amaranth mammoth relics which were the sensation of these parts back in 1889-90, were found on the farm of W. B. Jelly, lot 9, con. 7, Amaranth, in August, 1889. Mr. Jelly had come upon a couple of large ribs in the summer of 1888, in a wet piece of land on his farm. Early in August of 1889 the late John Jelly, of Shelburne, was visiting at the farm and was shown the ribs. On August 12th John Jelly, David Hoey and John Anderson, of Shelburne, went to the farm to make a real search. The result of their digging was that many bones of the mammoth were found, among them being: A horn or tusk, eight inches in diameter at the butt and twelve feet eight inches in length, weighing over 200 pounds, with evidence of a piece at least eighteen inches long having been broken off the tip; a tooth weighing 16 3-4 pounds; portions of the vertebra measuring 16 1-2 inches across; thirty-one ribs, fifty inches in length. One of the ribs gave evidence of having been broken during the animal's life—possibly in conflict with some other monster. It was estimated that when the mammoth was alive it must have been at least two feet high. The place where the bones were found had been a pine ash swamp. This had been cleared up and burnt over. The top soil was a black muck, varying from two to three feet in depth. Below this was a bed of white marl from three to four feet in depth. In the marl were to be seen thousands of small shells of various shapes, and it was in this marl that the mammoth bones were found.

The bones of the mammoth (or "Adam's off ox" as many jocularly called it at the time) were exhibited at several of the fall fairs in 1889. On December 19, 1889, the Economist said:—"Last Monday evening Messrs. John Jelly and David Hoey returned from Owen Sound, where they had been exhibiting the remains of the mammoth found in Amaranth some months ago. The bones were left in Owen Sound, a three-fourths interest in them having been sold to Messrs. Horton and Harrison of that town, for the handsome sum of $3,000.00 cash. We have always claimed that there was money in those bones."

The bones that were taken on a tour by John Jelly in the fall of 1890, accompanied by "The Bones Band," (of which Joe T. Park, now of Dundalk, was leader, and "Hud" Webster, of Shelburne, was bass drummer) were not those of the Amaranth mammoth, but were the 157 pieces of the remains of a mastodon unearthed during that summer near Highgate, in Kent County, and which were purchased by John Jelly and W. A. Hillhouse. The Highgate animal when alive had quite evidently been smaller than the Amaranth one, as the tusk, while eight inches in diameter, was only nine feet eight inches long.—Economist.

An important business change took place on February 1st when Athol McQuarrie, for the past two and a half years managing editor of the Goderich Signal, resigned. Wm. H. Robertson, a former editor of the paper, and president of the Signal Printing Company, has assumed control as manager and editor.

While working in his bush, getting out timber for the barn he proposes erecting, Mr. John Gorrett, of Arthur, was overcome by a stroke. He and his sons had been working together. The boys had gone up to the house and when they returned they found their father in an almost helpless condition, his left side being paralyzed.

Alfred Brandenberger, at one time proprietor of the Commercial Hotel, Arthur, died suddenly in Stratford on Saturday, February 9. He was stricken while going about his duties as a tinsmith at the C. N. R. shops in that city and died in the arms of a fellow employee. A short time before he was working and joking with his associates apparently in the best of health.
